Chapter 3531

The air formed a vacuum around them. Even if others wanted to interfere, they could do nothing.

Meanwhile, the space between the two began to collapse. These two were too strong, so the space could no longer withstand their fight.

At this moment, the heavenly general said to Philip with a smirk, "I have to admire your courage. You dare to challenge me with your eight-star energy level!"

Immediately after, dragons appeared above the heavenly general's spear one after another. Those were dragons made of energy.

Philip's expression changed slightly. He was surprised that the heavenly general actually had extra energy to conjure dragons to attack him when vying with energy against him. The attack came so fast that Philip could not react at all.

When the dragons pounced on Philip, the shadow of the flying snake flashed behind Philip.

The flying snake opened its mouth wide and swallowed the dragons made of energy. The shadow of the flying snake appeared more solid after that.

Fierce sword energy suddenly erupted from the Caelum Sword.

The heavenly general's arms and legs were pierced through. He never imagined he would end up this way someday.

"Do you think you have the right to negotiate with me?" Philip's expression suddenly calmed down with not a ripple across his face.

The calmer he was on the surface, the more his heart fluctuated.

"Tell me why you want to capture me and the details of that person you mentioned. Do that and I'll end this quickly for you. Otherwise, I don't mind letting you suffer a fate worse than death!"

Hearing that, the heavenly general suddenly laughed.

After saying this, his eyes narrowed slightly as he looked at Philip sharply.

In fact, regardless of today's result, whether Philip defeated the heavenly general or vice versa, it was the same for the fire phoenix general.

He could find an excuse to mess with Philip.

Conlay stood forward and said coldly to the fire phoenix general, "Fire Phoenix General, don't think that I don't know what you're up to. You just want to use this opportunity to attack my desert oasis. However, you need to ask if the people in the floating city agree!"

As soon as Conlay said that, the entire floating city roared again. It was the best consent and response to Conlay's words.

The fire phoenix general was prepared for this. At his command, the fire phoenix guards and fire phoenix battalion behind him roared in response.

With a chorus of shouts, the fire phoenix guards and fire phoenix battalion stepped in front of the fire phoenix general.

Lights exploded from their bodies.

Conlay roared, "Philip, the fire phoenix general can use the power of the totem to transform into a fire phoenix!"

However, before Conlay's warning could take effect, the fire phoenix general seemed to grow flaming feathers from his flesh. He really looked like a soaring phoenix on fire.

The fire phoenix general rushed toward Philip like a meteor falling from the sky. His falling momentum caused the air to explode.

People of the fire phoenix royal family cheered for the fire phoenix general.

The phoenix formed by the cumulative military power seemed alive again, and the flames on the fire phoenix general seemed more solid.

Philip merely narrowed his eyes at him. Even with the help of the totem and military power, the fire phoenix general's fire element only reached the peak of level 5S.

The flaming chimeras bared their fangs wide open and spat out the flaming spears that they swallowed earlier. The speed was faster than before, and the flame elements were more powerful too.

The fire phoenix general's expression changed drastically. He never thought that Philip had such means!

Seeing the countless flaming spears coming at him, the fire phoenix general spat a ball of flames from his mouth without even thinking about it.

The ball of flames spun around and engulfed the flame spears.

Philip stomped on the ground forcefully again, and almost everyone felt the ground tremble at that moment. He jumped up high. His two chimera claws were like huge blades grabbing the spinning ball of flames.

Seeing this scene, the fire phoenix general flapped his wings frantically.

The flames became more solid, but even so, they did not block Philip's chimera claws.

The next second there was a loud explosion.

The ball of flame exploded, and Philip's chimera claws grabbed the two wings of the fire phoenix general at the same time.

Conlay was shocked at this scene. He did not expect this battle to have such a big impact on Philip.
Leopard was the first to run forward. His eyes were full of tears as he jumped out of the floating city.
He ran up to Philip.
"Boss, are you okay?"
Leopard almost forgot that jumping out from the floating city would hurt him. He carried Philip on his

At this moment, a woman's voice sounded. "If you don't want him to die, put him down now!"

Seeing that Leopard was still hesitant, Blossoms Fairy snorted coldly. "Since you don't believe me, I'll show you my skills."

Blossoms Fairy pointed to Leopard and said, "When you fell from that great height just now, all your internal organs have suffered a shock. If you don't believe me, you may try and sense it."

Leopard allowed his energy to wander in his body.

He found that the problems were far worse than he had imagined. Not only were his internal organs injured, but even his bones were broken in several places.

Before he could react, Blossoms Fairy waved her hand, and another green light covered Leopard's body.

It did not take long for Leopard's injuries to heal completely.

His jaw dropped open, and he was unable to utter a word. He had seen powerful people who could destroy the opponent with one move, but it was simply surreal that someone could heal all sorts of injuries just by a wave of the hand.

"After entering Blossoms Valley, don't walk around on your own or speak casually," Blossoms Fairy said.

"The people here are not as easy-going as the people outside."

As if afraid that Philip would mess up, Blossoms Fairy warned him again before leading him into Blossoms Valley.

As soon as he arrived, Philip saw that the so-called Blossoms Valley was surrounded by huge trees. The size of these trees was simply unheard of and formed a valley in this barren land.

Philip was a little puzzled. By right, such a place should be very obvious within the territory of the fire phoenix royal family. Moreover, with his heritage of the mighty being, it should not be difficult to find this place. However, before Blossoms Fairy appeared, he simply could not find this place.

Suddenly, a possibility occurred to him. This huge Blossoms Valley might actually be concealed by a formation.

With that thought in mind, Philip was about to ask Blossoms Fairy if his guess was correct when he saw her turn around nervously. She made a shushing gesture to him.

Hearing Philip's remark, Blossoms Fairy said, "A misunderstanding? If I knew you were here for the Multidew Herb, I wouldn't have brought you in at all."

"But..."

Philip was about to explain when a voice rang outside Blossoms Fairy's room.

"Blossoms, are you there?"

Hearing this voice, Blossoms Fairy panicked.

She opened her closet door and pushed Philip inside.

However, she did not close the closet door properly in her haste, and Philip saw another older woman walk in through the gap.

"You're already the Blossoms Fairy in Blossoms Valley. Why are you still in such a fluster?"

"Blossoms, even if you deny it now, things will be exposed one day," The senior said to the Blossoms Fairy, but the latter clearly did not take it to heart.

The rivalry between the two had never stopped.

Blossoms Fairy said, "It doesn't matter whether I deny it or not, but I'm afraid you'll have to explain yourself, Senior."

Blossoms Fairy closed her closet door and said, "I'm sure you're very clear about the rules of Blossoms Valley, Senior. You should be thinking about your explanation now."

Facing her senior, Blossoms Fairy was not courteous or hesitant at all.

Hearing that, the senior could no longer remain in her room.
