Chapter 3551

As the energy continued to surge, a giant marigold formed by the energy also appeared, and its roots fell on the bull-headed man.

Marigold looked at the senior and said coldly, "I thought you had a chance at redemption at first, but now it seems that I have to clean up this mess."

Although Marigold spoke harshly, there was a trace of sadness on her face.

The marigold that was formed from energy kept exploding without stopping, which was Marigold's attack method.

No matter which opponent she encountered, she would use this energy explosion method to attack.

At this time, Philip also discovered that the giant marigold formed by the energy paralyzed the bull-headed man with its explosions, rendering him motionless.

Philip knew that this was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, so he picked up the Caelum Sword in his hand. His flames gathered on the tip of the Caelum Sword.

Almost everyone in Blossoms Valley backed off. Of course, this included Philip and Marigold.

Just after the two got out of the way, they realized something was wrong.

Although the black lotuses had been engulfed by the flames and reduced to ashes, no changes came over Diablo Tower apart from some cracks on it.

Seeing this scene, Marigold frowned solemnly. "Oh no, Diablo Tower is about to open!"

As soon as she said that, stones started falling from Diablo Tower as if something was hidden in it and the seal had been broken.

At this time, Philip realized that Blossoms Fairy's movements seemed a little slower. He was surprised.

He hurried over to support Blossoms Fairy and pulled her into the distance.

Marigold added, "From today onward, Blossoms Valley will no longer exist within the fire phoenix royal family's territory. All students of Blossoms Valley may leave..."

Everyone in Blossoms Valley seemed to have expected this. When they heard what Marigold said, they bowed to Marigold and Blossoms Fairy and left.

Philip looked at Marigold in bewilderment.

"The source of life is divided into two parts, one is in the pill that you've consumed, and the other is Blossoms Fairy. Back then, I was selfish and wanted to keep my daughter away from this ancient fate, so I chose Blossoms to take on the position of Blossoms Fairy of Blossoms Valley and carry the fate of the source of life. But now it seems I was wrong..."

Philip thought of the senior of Blossoms Valley. It turned out that she was Marigold's daughter.

The pill he got from Blossoms Fairy turned out to be the source of life.

At this moment, Philip realized that there was such a filthy secret hidden in Blossoms Valley. formed a spell Blossoms Valley was to Philip, "Since you got the source of life, please help me give the indifferent just now. Right before Philip's eyes, the huge marigold fell on the bull-headed man.

An explosion sounded.

The bull-headed man had just received a body made of flesh and blood. After being attacked by the huge marigold's explosion, his body was immediately destroyed. Pieces of flesh and blood flew into the air.

The bull-headed man tried to escape but to no avail. However, Philip noticed that the marigold's color was getting darker.

Obviously, this attack would not last much longer. On the other hand, the bull-headed man's movements became bigger and bigger. He swung the ax in hand and cut off a petal from the marigold.

A mushroom cloud promptly appeared, followed by continuous explosions. They were accompanied by the screams of the bull-headed man.

Philip stomped on the ground, and flames swept toward the bull-headed man in an instant while he rushed at the bull-headed man through the flames. However, he did not use the Caelum Sword this time.

Philip was in no better condition either, which went to show how powerful the bull-headed man's soundwave attack was. His internal organs were severely injured, as well as his whole body.

Seeing that the bull-headed man had turned into a statue, Philip sat on the ground. His face was pale, and he gasped for breath.

The pill that he had swallowed and digested earlier glowed softly in his stomach, nourishing Philip's body. It was Blossoms Fairy's source of life.

Philip sighed, and the statue transformed into Diablo Tower at this time.

Suddenly, there was a spark in Philip's mind. He jolted. It was the great Astrum's heritage.

When the bull-headed man turned into a statue again, or perhaps when he got the power of the source of life, he activated part of the mighty being's heritage.

From the heritage, he learned that Diablo Tower was actually an entrance to another world.

Along the way, Philip recovered his energy while avoiding the scouts of the fire phoenix royal family. After all, Philip had fought against the fire phoenix general of the fire phoenix royal family in public.

Therefore, within the territory of the fire phoenix royal family, no matter how powerful Philip was, he could not fight against the entire continent by himself.

Although Philip moved cautiously along the way, his physical strength and energy were still recovering. At this speed, he should be at his peak condition when he arrived at the floating city of the oasis.

With the source of life, Philip's energy was more abundant, and the speed of his practice was also faster. However, to his surprise, when he arrived at the oasis, he found that the floating city had disappeared.

Instead, it was replaced by banners of the fire phoenix royal family.

Seeing this, Philip frowned.

Such a big change had happened during the short time he left. Although Conlay had his selfish desires, if Philip had not appeared, the balance between Conlay and the fire phoenix royal family would not have tipped.

In order for Conlay and the others to find him, Philip had to make as much commotion as possible. Even if he could not find them by then, they could find him.

Almost instantly, the aircraft of the fire phoenix royal family drifted over Philip like a dark cloud.

Instead of being nervous, Philip had a smile on his face. It was simply wishful thinking if they wanted to rely on these aircraft to capture him.

Philip sprang into action abruptly. He burrowed into the desert floor with the earth snake he conjured.

The moment he sank into the ground, artillery and gunfire exploded at the very spot.

A second later and Philip might be blasted into smithereens.

Philip promptly fled after setting the fire.

He was not stupid enough to stay where he was after setting the fire and wait for the fire phoenix general and the people from the fire phoenix royal family to catch him.

With the help of the earth element, he retreated while fighting the people of the fire phoenix royal family. This aroused their hatred for Philip. That was because Philip managed to kill countless soldiers of the fire phoenix royal family, but they could not do anything to him at all.

Philip tried to contact Conlay with his communicator, but the latter seemed unreachable.

He used the great Astrum's heritage to change his trajectory.

Due to this method contained in the memory of the great Astrum, he was able to accurately avoid the pursuit of the fire phoenix royal family battalion. However, a thought suddenly popped into Philip's mind.

When Conlay saw Philip, there was a look of surprise and excitement on his face.

He could not help but ask the other party, "How did you guess we were hiding underwater?"

Philip smiled at his remark. "Isn't the most dangerous place the safest?"

Leopard came over at this time and said to Philip with a smile, "As expected of the boss, you're much smarter than that so-called fire phoenix general."

Philip simply waved his hand and used his energy to dry his clothes.

He asked, "How did you trick the fire phoenix general?"

Philip had been wondering about this.

The size of this floating city was not small. If it really entered the water, it was impossible for the other party not to have noticed the commotion.

The heavenly general suddenly laughed. However, his laughter was extremely unpleasant to the ears.

It sounded like two pieces of metal clashing against each other.

"Philip, you'll never hear this secret from me. I won't tell you even if I die!"

Hearing that, Philip simply smiled. Although he had never interrogated anyone, he had seen enough in the ancestral land.

"I'll only give you one chance. You can either suffer a fate worse than death, or tell me who that person is and I'll make it quick for you."

Philip pulled out the Caelum Sword. With a slight flick of the blade, a piercing sword aura flew toward the heavenly general. A gash appeared on the heavenly general's body.

"Is this your version of a fate worse than death? Philip, are you really aware of your strength?" the heavenly general taunted.
