

The First Heir 3571

Chapter 3571

As soon as he finished speaking, a ray of light suddenly flashed in the Great Preceptor's hand, and it soared into the sky.

The sky rumbled. A cloud of fire enveloped the imperial city of the fire phoenix royal family.

Seeing this scene, Philip secretly speculated about the Great Preceptor's strength.

Judging from the situation and his methods, the Great Preceptor should have reached the peak of nine stars.

"What other proof do you need? Isn't it proof enough that the murderer is now in the imperial city of the fire phoenix royal family? Do you need me to capture the murderer, Great Preceptor?" the seventh prince said at this moment.

Compared to the sixth prince's elegance, he was more frivolous. Only the eighth prince remained silent, but he tightly held his spear in his hand.

The soldiers of the fire phoenix royal family behind him watched his movements closely. At his command, they would rush into the imperial city of the fire phoenix royal family without hesitation.

"Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Princes, the Phoenix Tribulation is coming. Stop messing around. You should know that the Phoenix Tribulation affects the next generation of our fire phoenix royal family. If it really delays the inheritance of the phoenix totem, will you be able to bear the responsibility?"

At this time, a man in his 30s appeared beside the Great Preceptor.

Conlay turned to the second prince who spoke to him and said, "I was framed by a villain back then and had to leave the imperial city of the fire phoenix royal family to live in a quiet corner of the desert oasis and keep myself away from worldly affairs."

Then, Conlay turned around abruptly, looked at the sixth prince and the others, and said, "But not long ago, the fire phoenix general actually led his troops to the desert oasis to kill me. So you tell me, should I have killed the fire phoenix general?"

Hearing this, no one in the imperial city spoke.

It was well known within the fire phoenix royal family that Conlay was driven out of the imperial city in a scheme. Even those living in the imperial city were well aware of this.

Seeing that Conlay had entered his role, Philip walked to Conlay's side and said, "I was with the ninth prince during the incident back then, and the fire phoenix general also died in my hands. I'm here with the ninth prince today to seek justice for him..."

"He's no longer interested in participating in your struggle for imperial power, but someone wants to wipe him out."

While he spoke, Philip unleashed his aura.

"Purgatory!" Conlay's heart sank hearing this.

Purgatory was the fire phoenix royal family's final judgment on treason. Once a person entered purgatory, he was as good as dead.

Conlay fell silent.

The Great Preceptor said coldly, "Ninth Prince, since you can't make up your mind, why don't you let me help you?"

As he spoke, his hand moved slightly. The fire cloud in the sky began to move. The scorching temperature shrouded the imperial city of the fire phoenix royal family.

"Please enter purgatory, Ninth Prince!" The Great Preceptor suddenly shouted, and the fire cloud in the sky produced a strong suction force at this time, trying to pull Conlay into the air.

At the Great Preceptor's sudden attack, Philip also made a move.

To Philip's surprise, the sixth and second princes approached him not long after Conlay entered the cemetery.

Seeing the expressions on their faces, Philip knew that they were trying to win him over.

The sixth prince was the first to speak. "I think there must have been a big misunderstanding when you fought against the fire phoenix general earlier, but seeing that my ninth brother has someone like you by his side, as his elder brother, I feel relieved."

Philip said nothing. The sixth prince's opening remark was not interesting.

The sixth prince glanced at the second prince and continued, "But with your talent, don't you think it's a waste to stay in that desert oasis?"

Philip understood the sixth prince's meaning very well. He wanted to arouse Conlay's ambition to come back and fight for the throne.

The second prince spoke at this time, "Conlay is back to atone for his crime. You haven't given him an explanation about the fire phoenix general yet, but you're already trying to poach his people."

However, Philip quickly realized that the man was not trying to harm Conlay but helping him instead.

At this moment, Conlay actually started to engulf those white flames. On top of that, the phoenix totem on his body also turned red-white.

Philip was relieved and sat down cross-legged again.

When he looked at this middle-aged man, Philip was thoughtful.

By right, the fire phoenix royal family should be full of experts. However, even though Philip made such a big commotion before, only the Great Preceptor made an appearance. This was quite unusual.

Including the scene on the street today, although those princes seemed very interested in the throne, they did not seem to have many trump cards or bargaining chips in their hands.

When the middle-aged man finally stopped all movements, Philip walked over and asked, "Are you the emperor of the fire phoenix royal family?"

Hearing this voice, instead of being surprised, the middle-aged man seemed as if he had expected it.

"First, you harmed your eldest brother, and then your third and fifth younger brothers. Do you know I never confronted you for this?" The middle-aged man's voice was very even and calm.

The second prince was solemn upon hearing that.

"I only thought you were clearing the obstacles for your ninth brother, but I overlooked your ambition."

At this time, the Great Preceptor said, "Second Prince, if we make a move now, I can guarantee nothing will go wrong."

The second prince nodded without a word.

The Great Preceptor started chanting under his breath. Following his chants, energy spells enveloped the whole cemetery. The cemetery was like a cage, and the red-white flames scurried around.

Philip transformed into a giant, and the energy spells fell on his huge body.

The source of life continuously replenished the energy in Philip's body. When the green source of life made contact with the energy spells, it seemed to neutralize the raging energy.

Seeing this scene, both the second prince and the Great Preceptor showed panic on their faces.

"How is this possible? My energy spells don't affect that guy at all... How did he neutralize the energy spells?"

The Great Preceptor did not know that the source of life was simply a high concentration of energy. The so-called energy spells simply arranged the energy in a certain order, so the logic was the same as a snowman melting under sunlight.

The second prince said, "Since you can't control him, order the fire phoenix royal family's battalion we deployed earlier to raze this place to the ground."

Hearing that, Conlay said coldly, "Second Brother, do you really think you can mobilize the battalion now?"

Chapter 3578

Conlay's heart dropped at this scene. He never imagined that his second brother would die right before his eyes one day.

Although he had already made up his mind to make a clean break with his second brother and his past, when things really happened in front of him, his heart ached painfully.

On the other hand, Philip sighed softly at this scene.

Everyone was different, after all.

At the last moment, Conlay wanted to give the second prince another chance. On the contrary, the second prince was thinking about how to kill Conlay.

Conlay looked at the limp body of the second prince and asked, "Did I make the right decision or not?"

Conlay's voice was a little hollow. In the entire fire phoenix royal family, apart from the second prince, he felt no affection for anyone else.

Therefore, Philip wanted to take advantage of this time to see if he could further improve his flame element.

However, he had to make sure he was in peak condition. After all, this purgatory that everyone feared was not that easy to handle.

Conlay's life was not in danger earlier because the flame element had been isolated by the emperor of the fire phoenix royal family with his phoenix totem.

At this moment, Conlay carried two phoenix totems on his back. That was why Conlay was so calm in the face of adversity, while Philip had to rely on the source of life in that purgatory.

Without this source of life, Philip would have died long ago.

The advancement of the level of the fire element was something one could only hope for, so how could he give up this opportunity?

After preparing himself, Philip slowly walked into purgatory.

Chapter 3580

At this moment, Philip had reached the pseudo realm of the other shore, which was equivalent to nine stars in this world!

The moment he broke through, he suddenly felt the surrounding energy pouring into him as if a dam had broken. An apocalyptic scene appeared in purgatory!

A new place spawned inside his body. Energy gathered there and formed a vortex like a black hole.

After he broke through, the flames on his body also turned red-white. The flames had upgraded to a new level too.

Only a mighty being could possess a level 7S flame element. After all, to ordinary people, being able to obtain a level 5S flame element was already amazing!

A flame element at level 7S was simply surreal.

Before Philip could rejoice, he heard the rumble of gunfire.
