

The First Heir 3581

Chapter 3581

The temperature of these flames was much hotter than before.

When the woman riding the hoatzin saw this scene, she frowned.

“The information given to me is wrong. Didn’t it show that this kid only has a level 5S flame element? And according to the report, he should be an eight-star practitioner...”

Seeing the golden armored soldiers swarming up to him, Philip sneered and shouted, “You’re here just in time for me to try this boundless purgatory.”

As countless golden armored soldiers surrounded him, a burst of red-white flames suddenly erupted from Philip’s body.

Centered on Philip, the flames razed from the ground and pierced through the sky. Even the soil on the ground melted into magma.

Due to the scorching temperature in the sky, the space began to distort and deform. On top of that, the clouds in the sky evaporated. The red-white flames engulfed the golden armored soldiers.

only pools of golden molten iron scene, the woman had to make

Philip. This hurricane was extremely near this hurricane would course, Philip noticed the anomaly but was unconcerned. Although this woman was also at level 5S wind element, the same as him, her attack

Caelum Sword in his hand, Philip flashed in so fast. Of from hers. He shrouded himself with the wind seemed like it could pierce through the sky, and the sword intent could swallow

was Philip’s first full-blown attack after his level

out from the woman’s body, and wind element, and the two canceled each other out. However, Philip still