

The First Heir 781

Chapter 781

Had Philip gone mad?

How could he say such words?!

He could help them?

What could a piece of useless trash like him do?

Jacey and Seth also looked at Philip blankly before they sneered, "Philip, what right do you have to speak here? What do you mean you can help? What can a good-for-nothing like you do?"

Jacey's gaze was sullen. She was wishing that she could give Philip a big slap right now.

This guy actually dared to speak out now?

Was he showing off just because his wife was the chairman of a big company?

"Hehe, his wife is in a big position and he thinks he can brag about it." Seth mocked dispassionately. He stared at Wynn pointedly as if he could see through her clothes.

Seth had coveted Wynn for a long time but had no chance to act on it.

Now, when he imagined a woman like Wynn betraying her body for status, he was both angry and excited!

Wynn was such a b*tch!

Kirk could tell that Wynn was in a difficult position, so he suggested another alternative. "Wynn, if you really can't help us, can you help us contact the person in charge of Milanelson Angel Investment Group? I think, with your connections, you can help us get an investment of ten million, right?"

Kirk's plan was very meticulous.

Seth agreed excitedly. "Yes, Dad is right! Wynn must know the person in charge. Let alone ten million, even 100 million won't be a problem! Right, Wynn?"

Seth deliberately dug a pit for Wynn.

Once she agreed, she would be humiliated if she could not get an investment of 100 million.

Jacey also jumped in. "Wynn, our whole family is begging you for help. Just say the word if you're willing to help us."

Wynn was in a pickle. On the other side, Kirk's wife spoke to Martha.

Martha could not withstand the pleas from the relatives. She pulled Wynn and said, "Wynn, just help them out."

Having said that, Martha looked at Kirk and continued, "However, I must say this in advance. Whether the Milanelson Angel Investment Group decides to invest in your company, that has nothing to do with Wynn. We're only responsible to contact them for you, and the rest is up to you."

She was trying to make everything clear between them.

“What? You want to see me kneel down and apologize?”

Seth deliberately raised his voice, looked at Philip amusedly, and poked him on the chest rudely with one finger. He said, “Philip, do you have a screw loose somewhere? How dare you say such words?”

Philip grinned broadly. “Very soon.”

Very soon?

All the relatives were confused by Philip. They had no idea what he was talking about.

“Philip, are you done humiliating yourself? It’s really my bad luck to have a son-in-law like you!”

Martha got up, pointed at Philip, and began to swear unscrupulously, “Get lost, get lost at once!”

Martha really hated Philip for embarrassing her. She was finally able to brag in front of her relatives, but Philip ruined it for her.

She loathed him!

Fortunately, the brat had signed the agreement. Otherwise, she would be at a loss.

Following Martha's scolding, the relatives also added their two cents' worth.

Seth chuckled and patted Philip on the shoulder as he said, "What did you mean by that just now? Is it possible that you can help us solve the shortage of ten million?"

Wynn also looked at Philip doubtfully. Just as she was about to speak, her phone rang.

On the other side, Seth eagerly said, "Hahaha, don't forget we have someone by the name of Clarke here too, right, Philip?"

The crowd immediately turned unfriendly eyes toward Philip.

Him?

How could he ever be the billionaire Mr. Clarke?

What a joke!

"Hehe, if Philip is that Mr. Clarke, I'm most willing to kneel and apologize to him," Jacey said contemptuously, her eyes full of disdain toward Philip.

"You really do have to have to kneel down and apologize," Philip said indifferently, a trace of chill in his eyes.

"What? Did I hear it wrongly? Do you really think you're that Mr. Clarke? Rubbish!"

Jacey immediately jumped to her feet, pointed at Philip's nose while cursing. She was even about to hit him.

Seth also defended his wife. He pushed Philip and chastised, "Worthless bum! Stop being so shameless. Wynn is the one who helped us on this matter. What has anything got to do with you? Besides, can you be that Mr. Clarke? That person is worth hundreds of billions of assets, and every hand is an investment worth a hundred million. Do you have that kind of money?"

Seth felt very scornful toward Philip's patronizing attitude.

Wynn watched as Ian trotted over while sweating profusely.

It seemed as if he was about to meet someone important.

Furthermore, at this moment, Ian actually reached out his hand to Philip. With a face full of utmost respect, he said, "Mr. Clarke, I'm finally meeting you. I rushed here especially for this."

Mr... Mr. Clarke?

Wynn's jaw dropped open as she stared at Philip incredulously!

What was going on here?

Ian Sawyer was known as the person in charge of Milanelson Angel investment Group. Now, he was actually speaking in such a respectful manner to Philip.

Moreover, he referred to Philip as Mr. Clarke!

"Phil... Philip, what's going on here?"

Wynn was flustered, and her eyes were wide in shock.

Ian quickly greeted Wynn, "Madam Johnston, hello, I'm here to see Mr. Clarke. The 100 million investment for Seaton Trading Company was agreed by Mr. Clarke just now."

It really was him!

Wynn could no longer stay calm. She stared at Philip with bright eyes and asked, "Philip, what exactly is going on here? Are you that Mr. Clarke?"

Seth also laughed as he said, "Jacey, let's go. Why are you wasting time with people like this? They're just making a fool of themselves."

Ian was livid! He had never met anyone like this before. They dared to treat President Clarke and himself so rudely!

"Hold it right there!" Ian roared, pointing at those people. He then shouted, "Apologize to Mr. Clarke at once. Otherwise, I'll make you understand the consequences of offending Mr. Clarke!"

Ian was very angry. He had observed Philip's expression right from the start, and he showed no signs of stopping his actions. That meant tacit approval.

Besides, there was also anger burning in Philip's eyes.

He had tolerated enough.

Jacey and her family were too impudent. They needed to be taught a lesson.

"Apologize? You're asking us to apologize to this piece of trash?" Jacey turned around and asked quizzically.

That look in her eyes was as if she was looking at an idiot.

"Do you know who I am?" Jacey continued asking with a triumphant look.

After all, she had just received 100 million worth of investment from Milanelson Angel Investment Group.

That meant she would soon become a billionaire and step into the upper echelons of Riverdale.

Therefore, she naturally looked down on Philip even more.

"Who are you?" Ian asked coldly.

Philip looked at the complicated expressions on everyone's faces and grinned broadly. "Initially, I didn't want to say anything, but since things have progressed this far, there's no need to hide it any longer. That's right. I'm the President Clarke you're talking about, the big boss behind Milanelson Angel Investment Group."

Uproar!

Philip's words were like an explosion that set off stormy waves in everyone's hearts!

He was that President Clarke!

He was worth hundreds of billions!

Holy crap!

Wynn looked sideways at Philip, her mind full of questions.

Philip was actually the big boss behind Milanelson Angel Investment Group.

What else was he hiding from her?

On the other hand, Jacey, Seth, and the rest were stunned silly. They were at a loss about how to respond.

They felt constipated.

A good-for-nothing toad had transformed into a prince sought after by everyone!

This was f*cking inconceivable!

Jacey was in total denial and disbelief.

However, the reality was right before her eyes!

At this moment, Martha had lost her arrogance.

She never dreamed that Philip would be the big boss of Milanelson Angel Investment Group.

He was worth hundreds of billions!

Mamma mia!

Was her son-in-law really that rich?

His family had gone bankrupt, right?

What the hell was happening now?

At this time, Amelia nudged Martha in the arm and whispered, "Martha, no wonder Philip didn't care about the villa. So it turns out that he's this rich?"

Martha was also very nervous and puzzled. She dared not look at Philip.

Philip smiled coldly, glanced at the crowd, and said a few words to Ian next to him. He then left with Wynn.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief after Philip left.

The atmosphere just now was too oppressive.

Everyone chose not to mention what happened just moments ago. As for dinner, no one was interested anymore.

It was just too shocking!

Philip sneered internally as he noticed Martha’s impatient look.

What a true display of familial emotions indeed.

“Hey, stop playing hard to get and just tell me.”

Martha could hardly wait to find out.

“What if I say I have trillions?” Philip said with a half-smile.

Trillions?

Martha was startled for a brief moment before her expression chilled.

What did Philip mean?

Was he taking her for a fool?

Trillions of bullsh*t!

However, Martha could not display her impatience. After all, sitting in front of her was the big boss of Milanelson Angel Investment Group.

Even if he did not have hundreds of billions as rumored, he must have at least tens of billions, right?

This kid was actually so rich!

“What nonsense are you talking about? Tell me honestly, how much do you really have?” Martha patiently asked.

Philip chuckled as he got up and said, “I have something else to do.”

After that, he turned around and went out.

Chapter 790

A deep voice sounded behind Martha. She got such a fright that she choked on a mouthful of water, coughed violently, and stood up in a panic while asking, "What... What's the matter?"

Standing at the top of the stairs, Philip walked down and stared at Martha coldly. He asked, "Did you enter my bedroom just now?"

Of course, Martha would never admit it. She said, "No, of course not. Why would I enter your bedroom?"

After that, she abruptly raised her voice and said, "Oh, I think Anne went into your bedroom this morning for cleaning duties. What's wrong? Did you lose something? I already told you that Anne isn't a good person. She stays here and lives off of us. Now, she's even resorted to stealing!"

Martha tried her best to put all the blame on Anne.

Philip glared at Martha before turning around and leaving.

Taking advantage of the time when Philip was upstairs, Martha quickly ran into Anne's room to find a place to hide the jade ring.

After thinking about it, she placed it on the desk instead. It was more conspicuous that way.

She breathed a sigh of relief after doing that. She ran out of the room and continued sitting in the living room, eating leisurely.

Philip was extremely agitated now. He had lost the Sovereignty Seal!

How could that be possible?

However, he had turned the whole bedroom upside down but just could not find it!

It was all his fault. He had left such an important item in the bedroom.

It was also at this time that Anne returned with Mila.

Martha intentionally tried to stop Anne from returning to her room, so she deliberately shouted, "Oh, Mila's home. Here, come to Grandma. I have cake for you."
