

The First Heir 951

Chapter 951

Al immediately stood up, pointed at Philip, and complained. "He made the first move! Look at this! It's his shoe print! He dares to beat people in Phoenix Pavilion. He's too bold and simply doesn't take the rules here into consideration! You must seek justice for me!"

At Al's righteous words, the two security guards immediately turned their heads to look at Philip sternly. "Did you make the first move?"

Philip did not deny it, nodded, and said, "I did."

At this moment, Al immediately rejoiced and exclaimed ecstatically, "See, he admitted it! Arrest him quickly and wait for Mr. Phoenix to make his decision!"

Hahaha!

Al was overjoyed.

Everything was not in vain.

His little trick worked on Philip.

Sure enough, tourists from other places were unaware of the rules here.

Philip only had himself to blame!

The two security guards did not bother to say anything else. They stepped forward to grab Philip and said, "Please come out with us."

Philip's expression was cold. With his hands behind his back, he emanated a slight coldness all over his body as he asked, "Why don't you ask me why I did that?"

The two security guards both frowned as one of them said impatiently, "Regardless of the reason, fighting in Phoenix Pavilion is a violation of the rules. Naturally, we have to deal with it. Since you're tourists from other places, you just need to pay a fine of 5,000."

When Al heard this, he immediately said indignantly, "Only 5,000? Shouldn't you break both his legs?"

One of the security guards slapped the woman's face and warned. "Presumptuous! Miss Zander is a distinguished guest. How dare you threaten to teach her a lesson!"

A... distinguished guest?

Suddenly, Al Gator, the woman, and the people around were all dumbfounded!

The meaning was too obvious.

In other words, Melody should be sitting in the main hall instead!

Everyone sitting in the main hall was either a big boss or a member of a wealthy family with a worth of hundreds of millions!

They were actually VIPs!

Ba-thump!

Before the two security guards could say anything, Al already knelt on the ground and begged for mercy. "Miss... Miss Zander, please forgive me. I know my mistake. I shouldn't look down upon others. I deserve to die!"

Philip nodded and hung up the phone.

At the same time in the auction, an endless stream of important characters entered the main hall.

"Holy sh*t! Look! That seems to be Ken Cooke of Ceylon Society, the largest force in the South River District! Master Cooke!"

With the shouts from someone in the outer hall, the crowd's eyes gathered at the entrance of the main hall in an instant.

Sure enough.

A group of eight bodyguards in black suits entered the main hall imposingly. They were guarding a man who appeared to be about 40 to 50 years old.

Ken Cooke!

He was the largest force in South River District and the president of Ceylon Society!

For decades, no one dared to rock his position!

He had nearly 100 turfs under his hand and 400 to 500 men at his disposal.

Yana smiled, approached Ken’s side, leaned close to him, and whispered in his ear.

Then, she looked at Ken with a smile and said, “I hope you’ll consider it. This is also an opportunity for you.”

After that, Yana gave a slight bow before walking forward.

Ken frowned and looked serious. He looked at Yana who was seated in the front row and found it difficult to make a decision.

This woman was really not that simple.

More and more VIPs entered the venue.

In the center of the main venue, the emcee stood on the podium and shouted with excitement, “A warm

All of a sudden, the audience was ecstatic.

Rachel Clarke!

Wynn’s best friend who returned from abroad!

How could she be here as a mysterious guest of Phoenix Pavilion?!

Who could she be?!

At this moment, Philip’s mind flew in different directions, and his emotions were extremely complicated.

It seemed that he had overlooked something important.

Melody was also taken aback by Philip’s sudden reaction. She glanced at the woman who was greeting everyone in the main hall and deliberately said with jealousy, “Philip, is she really that beautiful? Why are you so excited? Sit down quickly. Everyone is watching you.”

Philip came back to his senses and saw everyone around casting strange glances at him. After sitting down again, Philip crossed his arms over his chest and stared at Rachel Clarke in the main hall.

This woman was really the focus of the audience, sitting directly in the first row with the four Phoenix brothers, Ken Cooke, and Yana Young.

However, it was obvious that Rachel's seat was in the middle—the spot with the best view.

All this was overheard by Philip who was sitting not far away!

Right now, his whole body was taut and his pupils were constricted!

He was trembling slightly from the excitement!

His mother's belongings!

It was actually his mother's jade and gold phoenix!

Philip took a deep breath and felt a slight sadness.

He clearly remembered that he used to play with that jade and gold phoenix when he was young!

Unexpectedly, more than ten years had passed and he had come across his mother's belongings again today!

What a surprise!

Philip never imagined that he would be in Phoenix Pavilion and would soon see his mother's relics!

At that moment, Philip's eyes sparkled coldly as he stared at the auction booth in the main venue.

The auction was well underway by now.

“Dear guests from afar, as well as all the visitors, let us now invite the finale of the night, Cleopatra’s Jade and Gold Phoenix!”

Following the shouts of the master of ceremonies in the booth, two pretty ladies dressed in gowns walked into the venue while holding a high-end brocade box

It was here!

The moment everyone had been waiting for!

The people in the audience started breathing rapidly, countless eyes locked fixedly on the brocade box.

Many prominent figures at the scene had already received advanced notification.

Tonight, the jade and gold phoenix of Cleopatra had already been reserved for the mysterious guest and only that person could get it!

Therefore, they were merely here for the excitement. After all, the four golden phoenixes of Phoenix Pavilion had said the word, so they could only abide.

Wallace had made arrangements for some people in the crowd to act as bidders to drive up the auction price. In this case, even if others followed suit, no one could top the final transaction price.

After all, a transaction price of 300 million was not something most people could afford.

The crowd suddenly became excited.

“20 million!”

Sure enough, Conrad, who was sitting on the chair calmly, ate the grape that the beauty stuffed into his mouth while the other sexy lady beside him started bidding!

Conrad, still dangling his propped leg, seemed very relaxed and at ease.

“Wow, this is the life of the rich. He’s raised the price to 20 million already!”

“I’m so envious. The rich young master is so straightforward. He added five million just like that!”

“Well, in their eyes, money is nothing but numbers. What about us? We work our *ss off but are still desperately struggling to survive. The gap is too big.”

After hearing Conrad’s bid, many tourists in the outer hall started talking about it.

They were envious and jealous, even expressing their hatred for the rich.

Unfortunately, society had forced them to be like this.

Of course, with the bidding in the main hall, the entire auction venue became lively.

Naturally, the price was hiked up all the way.

Wallace sat next to Miss Clarke merrily, looking like he was sure of winning.

“Miss Clarke, don’t worry. Everything has been arranged. Just wait for the final bid.”

Wallace said to Rachel respectfully. His eyes fell on Rachel's devilish figure, and naturally, there was also a trace of desire.

With cold eyes, he sat on his seat and raised his right hand before shouting, "250 million!"

He raised the price again!

Everyone at the auction got a shock! Whether it was Melody next to him or the prominent figures in the main hall, they were all stunned!

Everyone exchanged sideways glances.

He was a very young man but was dressed quite shabbily.

250 million?

What a joke!

"Where did this idiot come from? How dare he make a random offer like that? Doesn't he know that each bid is recorded in Phoenix Pavilion?"

"Haha! He's just a show-off! Just look at him! What a d*ck!"

"How dare he make a bid against Second Young Master Kingsley. I'm afraid he doesn't even understand the concept of 250 million!"

In the outer hall, there were naturally a large group of people who did not know Philip.

After all, the previous conflict with Al Gator had not spread around.

The two security guards stood beside Philip with serious expressions.

The people around who did not know Philip gloated.

Philip handed the admission ticket to the security guard indifferently.

The two security guards took a few glances and carefully confirmed with the service staff in the front hall that the admission ticket was not a fake.

Then, they looked at each other and said coldly, "Sir, I'm sorry, your admission ticket is fake. Please leave the venue now!"

A fake?

This was twisting the facts around!

Philip frowned and looked at the two security guards beside him. He said with dissatisfaction, "Are you sure this is a fake?"

Interesting.

They were trying to kick him out.

When the tourists around heard what the security guards said, a look of realization crossed their faces. They then started to mock and taunt.
