

The Game 1231

Chapter 1231 The Magical Constant Temperature Grass! Innocent Victim \(1\)

[tree: normal]

[it's just an ordinary tree. it doesn't look like anything special!]

[wisteria: normal]

[it's just an ordinary wisteria. It doesn't look like anything special!]

Qin Lin stepped forward and touched the flowers and trees around him. Because this was the game world, as he touched them, a series of notifications appeared one after another.

Whether it was a shady area, a pond, or a place under the sun, it was strange that the temperature could be maintained at 25 degrees at the same time. It was affected by something.

In a game like the story of ranches, the first thing he thought of was plants.

after all, he had obtained too many strange plants in the game.

However, what he was touching now were just ordinary flowers and trees. It was impossible for them to have such an effect on the surrounding environment.

Then ...

A cluster of strange grass attracted his attention.

the clusters of grass looked like turtle-back bamboo.

Turtleback bamboo was a plant that could climb up shrubs. Its leaves had a strange shape and were in the shape of cracks. It looked very much like the back of a Turtleback, hence its name.

Moreover, the Turtleback bamboo's stem was thick and strong, with dark brown aerial roots crisscrossing like wires. It had wide leaves and was green all year round. Its stem was thick and was often used as a pot. There were even rumors that the Turtleback bamboo could lower the temperature.

Naturally, no one had confirmed this.

The potted Turtleback bamboo could be divided into small, medium, and large.

The grass in front of him was equivalent to a medium-sized Turtleback bamboo.

however, there were many differences.

This was because these grass bunches were not of one color, but two, one blue and one fiery red.

This was very strange.

qin lin subconsciously felt that the abnormal temperature of the surroundings was related to this thing.

After all, only these Turtleback grass-like grass clusters were peculiar.

As soon as he touched these grass clusters, Qin Lin saw the remarks of these grass clusters:

[temperature-maintaining grass: mysterious!]

[this is a special kind of grass cluster. It's a kind of Turtleback bamboo that a tribe that once existed in the mountain of goddesses prayed for a better living environment for their tribesmen and a mysterious mutation. It's harmless!

[special effect: constant temperature +2 (can maintain the temperature within a certain range of space. Suitable temperature is 22-28 degrees!)] [growth rate +2]

Qin Lin saw the note and roughly knew what the temperature around them was.

It was probably due to the +2 temperature of the constant temperature grass.

That was why the temperature around them was so low.

Moreover, the attributes were a little awesome.

It could precisely control the temperature to 22-28 degrees Celsius. Wasn't this the most suitable temperature for humans to live in?

or rather, this temperature should be the most suitable and favorite temperature for the constant temperature grass.

Moreover, it was no wonder that the constant temperature grass grew so much like the Turtleback grass.

this was because this was a mutated plant from the turtleback grass.

Thinking of this, Qin Lin took the thermometers back and walked away.

He tried it in a place without constant temperature grass, and sure enough, there was no special temperature environment.

This was unbelievable.

After all, human beings had to rely on advanced technology to control the temperature. In hot and cold days, human beings still had to rely on air conditioning to control the temperature.

Now, these temperature-maintaining grass could actually do it.

Thinking of this, Qin Lin went back the same way he came and went to the mountain road in game.

He exited the game with another thought.

Back in the office, he went out immediately, found some transplant tools and empty flower pots, and went to the work room in the inner area of the manor.

after locking the door, qin lin took out a thermometer to measure the temperature of the work room.

due to the climate change in you city, it was warm in winter and cool in summer, so the temperature wasn't high or cold.

For the sake of the test later, Qin Lin deliberately set the air conditioner to a very high temperature, to 33 degrees.

After he was done, he entered the game again, bringing the tools and empty flower pots with him.

When he returned to that area, he began to dig and transplant the constant temperature grass.

Because this area wasn't in the game map, he couldn't bring the temperature-increasing grass out of the game with a single thought.

He could only carry the constant temperature grass to the location of the game mountain road. Then, with a thought, he could bring the constant temperature grass out of the game.

This constant temperature grass was the size of a medium-sized Turtleback bamboo. After it was dug out and transplanted, it would also be very heavy.

If not for the two fruits of the tree of strength, this was really not something that humans could do.

Back in the workshop, with the air-conditioning set, the entire workshop was already very hot. The temperature on the thermometer had reached 33 degrees.

Qin Lin put down the pot of constant temperature grass.

It was obviously unable to affect the temperature since it had just been taken out. The temperature on the thermometer was still 33° C.

He entered the game again with a thought.

He went to the same area again, excavated and transplanted the greenhouse temperature grass, and then carried the new pot back the way he came.

He took a new pot of temperature-maintaining grass out of the game. When he returned to his work room, Qin Lin found that the temperature had changed from 33° C to 30° C.

this meant that the effect was very fast.

qin lin put down the new pot of constant temperature grass and walked over to the previous pot to check. he found that the blue leaves of the constant temperature grass were actually densely packed with small beads of water, as if something was happening.

The moment his palm touched The Blue Leaf, he actually felt a burst of cold feeling.

This kind of coldness was like the coldness of a leaf when the air conditioner was blown by cold wind.

This was very magical.

qin lin entered the game again to dig for the eternium. when the third pot of eternium was taken out of the game, the temperature in the studio had dropped again to 27 degrees.

After that, he transplanted the fourth and fifth pots of constant temperature grass.

By the time there were five pots of constant temperature grass, the temperature of the working space had dropped to 22° C.

Moreover, at this time, Qin Lin continued to move the everlasting warmth grass out, and the temperature in the work room no longer dropped.

The temperature was indeed 22° C, and it was well controlled.

The temperature would not drop any further once it reached this point.

In other words, with the space of his work room, he only needed five pots of constant temperature grass to control the temperature in the room.

as for the temperature between 22° c and 28° c, he could control it by adding or deducting a pot of constant temperature grass.

His workshop was not small, and it was no smaller than a normal house with three bedrooms and one living room.

In other words, five pots of constant temperature grass were enough to meet the temperature requirements of a normal family.

Qin Lin looked at the game in his mind and controlled the game character to go back to the farm. Then, he moved the warming grass back into the game.

He still needed to do another experiment.

just now, he had taken the constant temperature grass out of the game in pots. because the effect of the constant temperature grass alone was limited, the temperature had also dropped step by step.

Therefore, he wanted to see if taking out several pots of constant temperature grass at once would have any effect on temperature control.

as the temperature-maintaining grass was moved away, the temperature in the workshop began to rise rapidly under the effect of the big 4P air-conditioning.

However, Qin Lin picked up the remote control of the air conditioner and started to set the temperature to the lowest, 17° C.

Under the air-conditioning of the 4P, the temperature on the thermometer was dropping rapidly.

not long after, the temperature on the thermometer dropped to 17° c.

Qin Lin also felt the slight coolness, so he entered the game and took out the warming grass again.

after a short while, qin lin brought out the five pots of constant temperature grass from the game.

The five pots of constant temperature grass were effective at the same time, causing the temperature of the entire workshop to rise again.

The temperature on the thermometer began to rise rapidly from 17 degrees Celsius to 22 degrees Celsius.

This speed was not any slower than the effect of an air conditioner.

Qin Lin once again walked to the front of the constant temperature grass.

This time, he found that the blue leaves of the everlasting warmth grass were not moving, but the red leaves were starting to produce small drops of water. When he reached out to touch them, he felt a warm feeling.

This immediately made him feel wonderful, as if he had also guessed the profoundness within.

The blue leaves must have taken effect when the temperature was about to drop on a hot day.

And when it was cold, it was the red leaves that were effective.

It was as if there was a program to this. It was too magical.

However, there must be a reason for this effect. He might have to test the genes of this constant temperature grass to find out the reason.

However, he couldn't suddenly take out the temperature-maintaining grass to Linlin's laboratory for testing.

First of all, he had to find a proper opportunity to bring the constant temperature grass to reality.

In the past, it would have taken him some time to come up with new things.

Now that he had the title of a plant geneticist, it wouldn't be so troublesome to produce any plants.

This constant temperature grass was a mutation of the turtleback bamboo.

He could say that he was lucky to have cultivated the finished product from the seeds of the turtle back bamboo.

After all, with so many things that had happened before, no one would doubt this. They would only think that it was natural.

When the finished product was out, Linlin's laboratory would be able to find out the reason.

Qin Lin once again controlled the game character to go to that section of the mountain road, then entered the game with a thought. After some time, he once again came to the ruins full of everlasting warmth grass.

Naturally, he was looking for the seeds of these everlasting temperature grass.

Since the constant temperature grass was a mutation of the Turtleback bamboo, it must have seeds like the Turtleback bamboo.

Soon, Qin Lin found the everlasting temperature grass and collected many seeds.

The seed of the constant temperature grass was about the size of a soybean, but its outer skin was black and it had a strange smell.

[seed of warming grass: mysterious!]

[this is the seed of the everlasting temperature grass. After planting it, you can grow everlasting temperature grass that can be controlled at an extremely fast speed.]

after qin lin saw the note, he hastened to collect the seeds. it didn't take long for him to collect a bag of warm-temperature grass seeds.

When he felt that it was enough, he carried the bag of seeds back to the mountain path in the game and exited the game with a thought.

When he returned to the workshop inside the manor, the temperature on the thermometer was already maintained at 28 degrees Celsius.

The air conditioner was still working hard, and it showed 17 degrees Celsius.

this also meant that even in cold weather, five pots of constant temperature grass could keep the temperature at 28 degrees celsius.

If the constant temperature grass really appeared, the air conditioning industry would probably feel a huge sense of crisis.

After all, air-conditioning was cool, but it could easily cause many problems. For example, long-term use of air-conditioning could easily cause respiratory diseases, disturb the balance of the human body, lead to joint pain, cause obesity, and so on.

Even though this was not absolute, the WHO did not encourage long-term use of air-conditioning.

On the other hand, this constant temperature grass was not harmful at all.

Therefore, once the constant temperature grass was introduced, the air conditioning industry would be in trouble.

qin lin just realized that all the products released by games would cause an earthquake in a certain industry.

Ketchup made those foreign ketchup products withdraw from the market.

The Cola fruit immediately made the Cola brands from two beautiful countries lose their popularity.

if the mingming white ginseng came out, it would destroy the profession of myopia glasses.

he felt sorry for all this, but he would not apologize. he could only feel sympathy in his heart.

after all, it was impossible for him not to take out the good stuff, right?

The rise of these companies 'products also meant that they had to step on other companies or other products.

Qin Lin took back his thoughts, opened the door, and took the plants to the rooftop of the manor. He had to sun the seeds of the warming grass first. Otherwise, they were all green seeds, and he couldn't plant them.

in the main hall.

Zhao mochen and Lin Fen came up from below.

"lin lin's workshop is open. is he working there?" lin fen asked, puzzled.

Zhao mochen carried little Qin Feng and walked towards the workshop. As soon as he entered, he found the constant temperature grass in the workshop.

Although she rarely entered Qin Lin's workshop and did not disturb Qin Lin's research, she had a good memory and knew that these potted plants did not exist in the previous workshop.

Then, she felt that the temperature in the workshop was a little abnormal.

because of today's weather, it wasn't as hot outside. it was only about 24 degrees celsius, which was a pleasant temperature.

it was obviously hot inside.

However, when she looked at the air conditioner, she realized that something was wrong. It was actually 17 degrees Celsius.

this was completely wrong.

"lin lin, is the air conditioner in your workshop broken?" Lin Fen came in and noticed that something was wrong, so she asked curiously.

"It should be," zhao mochen frowned and nodded, then complained, " "didn't huaxin air conditioner say that it was going to surpass meide and gri? How did it break down so quickly?"

It was her decision to use the Huaxing air-conditioner. Furthermore, Linlin Manor was using the Huaxing air-conditioner to advertise for the other party. But why was the air-conditioner so disappointing now?

After all, the air conditioner in the manor was specially installed by her, and now it was broken in such a short time? Anyone would be in a bad mood when they encountered such a thing.

If it was an ordinary person, they could only be patient and wait for the other party to send a technician. Sometimes, the technician came slowly and dragged on for a day or two. Then, they deserved to be hot for a day or two.

However, she was different from Qin Lin. She couldn't take this.

If it didn't work, he would change.

Obviously, she didn't know that this had nothing to do with the air conditioner, but she couldn't have known about the constant temperature grass.

Who would believe that a plant could have the same effect as an air conditioner?

mom, carry little Qin Feng. I'll get someone to change the air conditioner. Return this one to Huaxin. zhao moyu said as he handed little qin feng to lin fen. then, he took out his phone and made a call to inform the engineering department of linlin villa.

She even specially got someone to change the brand.

Chapter 1233 Not Afraid Of Linlin's Laboratory's Wrath!

Following Zhao moyin's call, the engineering department's people arrived shortly after.

they changed the air conditioner in qin lin's work room and replaced it with a beautiful one.

However, when they changed the air conditioner and started to test it, they felt a little strange.

The temperature parameters in Chairman Qin's workshop were different from the ones they had adjusted before. Or rather, they didn't match at all, as if something was affecting them.

they didn't know that it was because of the constant temperature grass.

Moreover, this was Chairman Qin's research Workshop. They didn't dare to touch anything, not even the shovel in the corner.

They only dared to change the air conditioner carefully.

Although the debugging parameters were a mess, the good thing was that after they set the air conditioner to 22 degrees Celsius, the temperature of the entire work room dropped to 22 degrees Celsius. It was no longer the same as before when the air conditioner was 17 degrees Celsius and the room was still 28 degrees Celsius.

therefore, they did not probe further.

This also meant that the air conditioner and the grass were used at the same time. As long as the temperature of the air conditioner and the grass were within the right range, the effect would not overlap.

otherwise, these people would have definitely noticed something unusual.

when the engineering department brought out the old air conditioner, zhao moyin also instructed, tell the purchasing department to return this Huaxin air conditioner. Also, tell them that if such a situation happens again, Linlin villa and Linlin company will no longer use any Huaxin air conditioner.

If there was a problem with one air conditioner, she would naturally be worried about a second one.

Every corner of Linlin villa and the bridal room used the same air conditioner.

If there was a problem, the experience given to the visitors would be different.

Therefore, even though this matter seemed small, it had to be taken seriously.

"Okay, President Zhao!" The engineering department's people also said immediately. Then, they began to pack the old air conditioner.

On the rooftop of the manor.

Qin Yu felt that the seeds of the temperature-maintaining grass were almost dried out, so he put them away, put them back into the bag, and went downstairs.

Drying the seeds once wasn't enough. He had to do it two times in a row.

Seeds like this usually needed to be dried three times.

When he arrived at the hall, he was stunned to see the engineering department leave with the air conditioner. He asked Zhao Moyi, who was standing beside him, "Mo, what's wrong? is the air conditioner broken?"

"??? "zhao moyu was also stunned when he heard this. he asked, "Hubby, didn't you go out for some fresh air because the air conditioner in your work room broke? the air conditioner is clearly on at 17 ° c, but the temperature inside is so hot."

"??? "Qin Lin immediately understood what had happened. It was because of the constant temperature grass, not the air conditioner.

In other words, the air conditioner had been unjustly attacked.

However, Zhao Mogan didn't know about the constant temperature grass. Moreover, he didn't know how to explain the constant temperature grass, so he might as well not say anything.

besides, zhao moyin was just concerned about him. he changed the air conditioner for him, so it didn't matter if it was because of the air conditioner.

Zhao mochen's intention was the most important.

"daddy, daddy, hug!" Little Qin Feng was obviously a little happy to see Qin Lin and reached out to him for a hug.

Qin Lin looked at his son, smiled, and hugged him, teasing him.

although this little guy had hindered his and zhao moyu's training time, he was still his son, so they were naturally close.

In the next two days, Qin Lin quietly brought the warming herbs from the work room back to the game.

on the internet, there was a piece of news about linlin villa that made it to the hot search.

This was news about an air conditioner brand, and it was one of the reasons why it was trending.

Huaxin air-conditioning had been doing very well in the past two years and was about to surpass beautiful and Gerri air-conditioning.

moreover, their business capabilities were very strong, otherwise, they would not have been able to occupy the market so quickly. zhao moyin also decided to let linlin villa use huaxin air conditioner.

This time, Huaxin air conditioner released a piece of news.

It was an apology and an apology from Linlin villa.

due to Huaxin's own fault, a problematic air conditioner was provided to Linlin villa. We apologize to Linlin villa for this. We will strictly control it in the future and continue to pay attention to quality.

This news immediately became a hot search. After all, it involved Linlin villa. With Linlin villa's popularity, it was hard not to be on the hot search.

Qin Lin walked out of the workshop with the seeds of the everlasting warmth grass in his hand.

Now that the constant temperature grass could be planted, he naturally had to find time to plant it.
as soon as he reached the hall, he saw the angry zhao mochen.

"What's going on?" Qin Lin asked, puzzled.

zhao mochen handed him a mobile phone and said, "Honey, look at this news."

Qin Lin was puzzled. He took the phone and looked at it.

It was the news about Huaxin air conditioner's apology.

After reading the news, he frowned.

there was nothing wrong with the news itself.

It was normal to apologize when there was a problem with the product.

The key was that there was a problem with the news comments section.

no wonder Huaxin air conditioner is getting bigger and bigger. It's a responsible company!

"Huaxin air-conditioning has always been good. My house uses Huaxin air-conditioning,"

"We'll use Huaxin air conditioner too, huhu."

Linlin villa is making a mountain out of a molehill. It's normal for an air conditioner to have a problem, but they're actually forcing an apology!

Huaxin air conditioner is a kind air conditioner. I'll like it if it's corrected in time. I hope Linlin villa can understand each other.

"....."

All of them were good reviews.

This was abnormal.

Qin Lin naturally saw the traces of the Internet Water Army, and the key point was that some of the comments were obviously related to Linlin villa.

Chapter 1234 Not Afraid Of Linlin's Laboratory Going Crazy!

He understood that this was a scam.

After all, even if Linlin villa had informed them about an air conditioner problem, there was no need for the other party to come out and apologize. Besides, most companies would try their best to cover up their product problems.

Huaxin's main purpose of doing this and hiring a water Army was to extort Linlin Manor.

The purpose was probably to gain popularity.

Therefore, there were times when the business world would resort to all means.

Zhao mochen said, " this Huaxin is still a distance away from surpassing beautiful and Gerri's air-conditioner. This is obviously trying to create popularity. It's a scam. If I had known earlier, I wouldn't have returned the air-conditioner even if it was broken.

Qin Lin shook his head.

Even if you knew what was going on, and even if many people on the internet knew about it, you couldn't say anything.

so, it was quite disgusting.

Suddenly, Qin Lin laughed.

This was because the next popular video he saw was very interesting.

The video was posted by an analysis blogger.

The so-called analysis blogger was the kind of person who analyzed an incident from the beginning to the end.

Some of these people would only make a belated effort to analyze the situation after the result was out.

this kind of analysis was the most common.

The other was to be able to analyze the whole story before the result was out. It was already very powerful to be able to roughly analyze the whole story without much deviation.

The blogger said, " it's normal to apologize if the product is wrong, but it's a little disgusting to deliberately use an apology to scam others. Huaxin air conditioner is a little anxious. It's suspected of using an apology to scam others.

the thing is, isn't huaxin afraid that the linlin laboratory will be unhappy and develop something to counter the air conditioner?"

If it was in a different situation, this video wouldn't have attracted much attention. How could something that could be used to deal with air conditioning be so easily researched?

But it was a different story when Linlin's laboratory was mentioned.

After all, Linlin's laboratory had produced more than one or two magical items.

The key was that Linlin laboratory still had little Qin and professor Li Kai, two great gods.

if huaxin air conditioner was really here to scam them, the boss would be unhappy. with a wave of his hand, he approved the project and let these two great gods study it. they might really be able to come up with something to counter air conditioners.

Huaxin air conditioner would really bring harm to the entire air conditioner industry.

This was self-destructing for the sake of his own development, dragging his peers down with him.

however, no one knew if such a scene would happen.

Therefore, the comments for the video were extremely lively.

f * ck, now that the blogger has said this, I'm looking forward to it.

" actually, i can tell that huaxin air conditioner is trying to scam us. after hearing the blogger's words, i'm also looking forward to it. "

666, if it's really as the blogger says, then it's very interesting.

" i'll keep it as evidence. i hope there'll be a chance to whip his corpse. "

"....."

Huaxin air conditioning unit was located in the Eastern Province.

with the development of the past two years, it had occupied more and more of the air conditioner market and was gradually approaching beautiful and gerri air conditioners.

This made Luo Sheng, the owner of Huaxin air conditioner, a little impatient.

After all, he would be at the top of the mountain, looking down at the other mountains.

If there was a chance, every boss wanted their company to stand at the top of the industry.

luo sheng felt that it was possible for his huaxin air-conditioner to be improved. whether it was gerri or mei de, their management was already a little rigid, and they were even struggling with their progress.

And Huaxin was full of vitality.

Therefore, when he accidentally found out that Linlin villa had returned a computer and issued a warning, he knew that this was an opportunity to hype up the matter. As long as the Internet Water Army controlled it well, it would be able to make this matter a favorable condition, and then it would become a terrifying hot topic.

just as luo sheng was looking through some documents, his secretary suddenly ran in and reported, "boss, there's a video on the internet. take a look!"

Luo Sheng looked at the video with confusion.

The video was from the same blogger, who said that Linlin's laboratory was researching on air conditioning products.

a moment later, he laughed, "isn't this a joke?" I admit that little Qin and professor Li Kai are amazing, but the two of them study plants. They have nothing to do with air conditioning. Are you kidding me? Don't mind him, he's just a guy trying to ride on the popularity."

"En!" The Secretary nodded and did not say anything else.

as a secretary, she was only responsible for reporting. as for how to judge, that was the boss's business.

At Linlin Manor, Linlin returned the phone to Zhao Moyi.

They couldn't be bothered with the Huaxin air-conditioner's scam. Whatever reaction they gave would be in line with the other party's wishes.

On the other hand, the blogger's video was interesting.

It would be interesting when he made the temperature-maintaining grass out in the open. He wondered how the people from Huaxin air conditioner would react.

Qin Lin walked out of the inner area with the bag of warm-temperature grass seeds. When he arrived at the manor's Hall, he saw Yuan Shan reading some information in the pavilion, so he deliberately called Yu Shui.

"Chairman Qin, what's your order?" Yu Shui's voice came through the phone.

"Bring me some flower pots and special fertilizer for planting," Qin Lin deliberately said loudly.

"Alright, chairman Qin." Yu Shui expressed that she understood and hung up the phone.

naturally, Qin Lin was deliberately making a big fuss. If he wanted others to know, it would be best if he had a witness.

He raised his voice on purpose, and Yuan Shan noticed it. He immediately walked over and asked curiously, "Boss Qin, what do you want to plant this time?"

"I just got some Turtleback bamboo seeds. I'm trying to plant one," Qin Lin said with a smile.

Turtleback bamboo! This is a potted decoration! Yuan Shan was a little curious. Logically speaking, a plant researcher at boss Qin's level should be researching something more advanced.

Researching and cultivating the turtle back bamboo did not match boss Qin's status.

There was no use in researching potted plants.

Qin Lin didn't explain. When the constant temperature grass came out, Yuan Shan would know what it was. At that time, he would have to be a witness again.

Not long after, Yu Shui brought some people over with some flower pots and fertilizer.

"Chairman Qin, I've brought the thing."

put the soil into the flower pot. I need it.

"Alright," he said.

After Yu Shui replied, she led the others to fill the flower pot with soil. For them, this was a familiar task, and they quickly filled the flower pot with the fertilizer soil.

After that, Yu Shui also left with his men. He knew what he was doing. He knew that Linlin Manor was not a place they could stay for long.

Qin Lin also took out the seeds of the turtle back bamboo and began to plant them.

Yuan Shan went back to the pavilion to look at the information after a while. Li Kai arrived shortly after.

Now that the matter of the mutant rice had been settled, he could relax a little during this period. He just had to wait for the seedlings of the mutant rice seeds to grow and then plant them in batches.

Li Kai entered the manor and saw Li Kai planting seeds. He asked, "Old Brother Qin, what new thing did you come up with this time?"

As he spoke, he opened the bag of seeds. "Is this the seed of the turtle Back bamboo?"

As a true expert in Botanic studies, Li Kai's knowledge was very broad. This constant temperature grass was a mutation of the Turtleback bamboo, but the seeds were the same.

Qin Lin's eyes brightened when he saw Li Kai. Although it wasn't a big deal for him to create the everlasting warmth grass, he was now a plant geneticist.

However, if he could make old brother Li the scapegoat, it would be different. He could save a lot of time and effort.

Thinking of this, Qin Lin turned to Li Kai and said, " "Old brother Li, this is just some random special soil. I don't know what will happen in the end. Help me plant it and take it back to Linlin's laboratory to help look after it."

"What a coward!" Li Kai subconsciously wanted to go to the side to get a small shovel, but just as he reached out, he stopped in shock. He thought of something and immediately said, " "Brother Qin, I'm really sorry about that. I still have my own experiments to do, so I might not be free for a while."

qin lin frowned when he heard li kai's words.

He even wanted to reach into his pocket for his phone. As long as brother Li took the bait, he could take a video and let the media department of Linlin villa post it.

even if old brother Li didn't want to, he had no choice.

Qin Lin was thinking about it, but he turned his head and showed a stunned look.

Old brother Li was holding his phone and taking pictures of him.

Chapter 1235 The Power Of Imagination! Tea Leaf Thief! 1

"Old brother Li, what are you doing?" Qin Lin asked helplessly as he looked at Li Kai's phone.

take a video and post it on your WeChat moments. Say that you've started researching on Turtle Back bamboo again, and I'm looking forward to it! Li Kai said with a smile. then, he really logged into wechat and started a circle of friends.

this matter definitely had to be confirmed first.

hehe, " Qin Lin could only sigh with emotion. The same move was indeed not that easy to use. The key was that someone had learned the same move after using it a few times.

This was a pain in the ass.

After Li Kai posted on his moments, he sent a video to a special APP group, and people immediately came out to discuss it.

This was a research group, and it was Minister Lu who had pulled him in. When he joined, he had to go through a special data review.

It was a group of top scientific researchers in the country.

Minister Lu also pulled Brother Qin over, but Brother Qin was too lazy and didn't do it.

of course, he didn't know that qin lin was afraid of being exposed.

after li kai posted the video of qin lin planting the turtle back bamboo, there were people discussing it in the group.

First, Minister Lu asked, "why did boss Qin go to study the turtle Back bamboo?" Which expert knows what's so special about the turtle Back bamboo?"

Many experts who had not done any research immediately spoke up, "

"Turtle-back bamboo is actually edible except for decorations. Is that the reason why Boss Qin's cooking is so good?"

" even if it's for food, there are many things to eat. there's no need for it to be only the turtleback bamboo. "

"That's not for sure. Some foodies can be very persistent for something."

that's true. I heard that little Qin's cooking skills are ranked first in the cooking world.

if they weren't in this group, who would have thought that a group of top scientific researchers in the country would flood the group like ordinary people?

This was actually a misunderstanding by ordinary people.

The reason for the misunderstanding was that he didn't understand the principle that birds of a feather flock together.

different people had different circles of friends. many people would only talk about it in their own circles of friends because they had common topics.

just like these experts, they would not talk about ordinary people, nor would they pay attention to scientific research accidents.

However, for a young scientific genius like little Qin, who had achieved much more than them, it was a different story. This was their topic.

In addition, these top experts had a lot of free time to rest when they had no tasks or research on hand.

"Hey, are there any other possibilities?"

He could only sigh deeply when he saw these words.

Why would boss Qin cook?

What a waste of talent.

he felt an inexplicable heartache.

When the experts heard Minister Lu's words, someone said, "the turtleback bamboo actually has a slight cooling effect. I accidentally saw some people on the internet saying that the air conditioner company is trying to extort Linlin Manor. Aren't they afraid that Linlin's laboratory will develop a product to counter the air conditioner? Otherwise, it would be too much of a coincidence."

"He shouldn't have such a bad temper, right?" someone else said.

"Not necessarily," someone said, "the owner of Linlin Villa can build such a big business, how can he not have a temper?" otherwise, it'll only get more and more disgusting if anyone tries to scam us."

That's true. But when the boss of Linlin Villa gets angry, little Qin will study it. It seems like they have a good relationship. They obviously didn't know that little Qin was the boss.

When Minister Lu saw this, he felt that it was more likely. At least, it was more reliable than researching the Turtleback bamboo for the sake of eating it.

This also prompted him to check the news online and found out about Huaxin air conditioner.

He could only sigh. If that was the reason, and boss Qin had developed something new, then Huaxin air conditioner was asking for it.

Linlin Manor.

Li Kai put away his phone in satisfaction when he saw the experts' heated discussion. He then walked over to Qin Lin and squatted down. "Old Brother Qin, let me help you."

In any case, he had struck first and gained the upper hand, so he didn't have to worry anymore.

He couldn't always be the only one to blame for this special soil.

If you want to carry it, carry it together.

Qin Lin was helpless and could only say, "Old brother Li, then help me plant half of it!"

"Alright!" Li Kai said in a very good mood.

The two of them worked together and quickly planted the everlasting warmth grass seeds into the flower pots.

After that, the two of them watered the seeds.

Li Kai put down the watering can and suddenly said, "Brother Qin, I've been having a hard time recently. I've been working on Linlin rice in the laboratory and my back is aching. Even your sister-in-law is looking down on me. Sigh, it's been hard on me, Wanwan."

As he said that, Li Kai even put on an expression that said, "I'm suffering, you have to take pity on me."

"That's why I'm giving you some Linlin medicinal wine to help with your back, so that you won't be despised by me, Dr. Tang," Qin Lin said.

"Brother Qin, you're so understanding," Li Kai laughed.

"Then, do you want me to get you some sea cucumbers and okra?" Qin Lin teased.

"That's great. Thank you, Brother Qin." Li Kai agreed without hesitation, full of joy.

Men always found it hard to resist these things.

qin lin didn't expect old brother li to agree to his request.

Wasn't he just being rude?

The key was that old brother li had really become smarter.

He wouldn't be stingy with sea cucumbers and okra.

I'll just find time to go into the game and get some later.

"Old Brother Qin, let's go to the wine cellar!" Li Kai said impatiently.

Chapter 1236 The Power Of Imagination! Tea Leaf Thief! 2

qin lin nodded and brought li kai to the wine cellar.

Li Kai's face was filled with anticipation.

Moreover, how could he not be looking forward to it?

Everyone in the wine industry knew that there was a wine cellar in Linlin Manor. Previously, at the International Wine tasting conference, Li Qing had taken two bottles of hundred-year-old Linlin wine, which established the status of white wine.

at the same time, it also made linlin wine famous, surpassing maotai and fen wine.

The wine experts in the wine industry also knew about the wine stored inside. There was hundred-year-old wine, decades-old wine, and everything one could find.

In fact, there was a saying in the wine industry:

If you want to see the spectacular collection of wine, please find Linlin wine cellar.

If you're looking for rare wine, please look for Linlin wine cellar.

If you want the best wine in the world, then it's in Linlin wine cellar.

Unfortunately, everyone knew that the wine from Linlin's wine cellar was not something anyone could ask for.

You want to use money? don't be embarrassed, she's richer than you.

You want to use your connections? 'Not good' meant that he would not be worse than you.

you want to use power? Hehe, then this kind of person was purely an idiot, and he would not have much power.

Therefore, only a few people could enter the Linlin wine cellar. The outside world didn't even know much about the cellar, only that it was very mysterious.

Qin Lin opened the wine cellar's door, and Li Kai eagerly followed him in. A strong aroma of wine wafted out.

even people who didn't drink often would be intoxicated by this wine fragrance.

The longer the wine cellar was, the more fragrant it would be.

It was about how once there was wine in the wine cellar, the longer the wine was stored, the more intoxicating the wine fragrance would be.

For some wine lovers, even visiting this kind of wine cellar was a form of enjoyment. Therefore, there were many reasons why overseas wine cellars that had been around for decades were still popular.

although qin lin's wine cellar had not been built for a long time, the wine stored in it was really good.

Entering the wine cellar, there were many more wine racks than before. They were all quality 2 yellow Rosewood wine racks, filled with all kinds of wine.

The surroundings were also filled with sealed barrels of wine. The wine barrels were all made of old oak, and the wine inside was also old, at least decades old.

For a long time, the daily task of cutting down trees would always yield yellow Rosewood and oak. Mountain products would also spawn mountain products such as golden Sakura and peach Aurelia.

When there were more things, they had to be put to good use. Therefore, the wine cellar became more and more abundant.

According to the outside world's valuation of Linlin wine, it could be said that this wine cellar was actually a treasure trove of gold and silver.

However, the expensive wine in the outside world was worthless to him. There was too much of it.

It was just like money, when there was too much, it was just a number.

This wine was the same. If there was a large amount of good wine crazily pursued by outsiders, what difference would it be from water?

qin lin walked to a wine rack, took two silver bottles of linlin wine, and handed them to li kai.

"old brother qin, you're really interesting." Li Kai's eyes lit up.

he knew that the linlin medicinal wine was divided into different grades. he didn't know how to taste wine, but as long as the effect of the wine was good, he would be satisfied with a bronze bottle of medicinal wine. after all, there was no difference in the efficacy of the wine.

He didn't expect Brother Qin to give him two silver bottles.

it was always better to have better things.

It was just like how you originally wanted to find a girlfriend like Sister Feng, but you ended up finding a girlfriend like Reba. It would be strange if you were not happy.

after leaving the wine cellar, qin lin told li kai to go to the manor to make some tea. then, he found a place to enter the game alone and took out some quality 2 okra and leftover 2 okra.

In the evening, Qin Lin asked Master Lin to cook okra and sea cucumber together for Li Kai.

Quality 2 sea cucumber + quality 2 okra + quality 2 Linlin medicinal wine. No one had ever tried this combination before.

When Li Kai saw the sea cucumber, he said in surprise, " "Old Brother Qin, this sea cucumber is a Little Big."

"It's not big enough!" Qin Lin said with a smile.

When Li Kai heard this, he immediately got excited.

He poured the Linlin medicinal wine and ate okra and sea cucumber in big mouthfuls.

When he finished the okra and sea cucumber with the Linlin medicinal wine, he felt three warm currents around his waist.

When these three warm currents gathered together, he felt that something was wrong with his entire body, and his face began to heat up.

Soon, Li Kai even felt his mouth and tongue go dry.

He had never felt this way before, and it even made him a little restless.

"Old Brother Qin, there seems to be something wrong with this thing today. I'll take my leave first for that Yingluo." As Li Kai spoke, his expression turned strange. He wanted to walk out of the hall, but he suddenly thought of something and entered the manor's recovery room.

A moment later, he was seen holding Tang xiuwan's hand and leaving the hall.

Qin Lin was stunned by this scene.

Why was he in such a hurry?

...

The next day.

Qin Lin got up as usual. After breakfast, he went to water the seeds of the warming grass he had planted yesterday and then went to the place where the night Queen was planted.

After the night Queen harvested the seeds, she was no longer restricted by the seasons because of the low-temperature genetic technology. She immediately planted and cultivated the second batch.

after this batch of seeds was harvested, they could be brought to fairy tale mountain to plant.

At that time, the night Queen and the mutant vines would bring a shocking effect to the entire fairy tale mountain.

When Qin Lin squatted down in front of a Night Queen plant to check, Zhao moyin came and said, " " hubby, sister xiuwan asked for leave today. she said that professor li kai was admitted to the hospital, but she didn't say the exact reason. she seemed to be a little embarrassed. "

Chapter 1237 The Power Of Imagination! Tea Leaf Thief! 3

"Eh!" Qin Lin subconsciously thought of the okra, sea cucumber, and Linlin medicinal wine from last night.

The three of them wouldn't be so powerful when used together, right?

Old brother li was in the hospital?

Or was it because old brother li was too weak, and his weakness couldn't be replenished?

That was really possible. After all, old brother li often held his waist.

he immediately felt that it was good to be young.

After that.

Qin Lin returned to his office and looked at the screen in his mind to complete his daily tasks for the day.

after that, he took out his phone and scrolled through the news.

Huaxin's air conditioner was still very hot.

this time, the other party's scam had clearly been very successful.

If this went on, Huaxin air conditioner might really surpass Midea and Geri to become the top in the industry and reach the peak.

In addition, the news about the new rice, sweet and sour rice, and the three-colored watermelon were still very popular.

It could be said that they were all news related to Linlin villa.

After scrolling through a few videos, a piece of news caught his attention.

This was a popular video: " the newly released World Tea sales value ranking. We should wake up. This is the real situation.

Qin Lin's interest was piqued when he saw the title.

Although he didn't like to drink tea, he had good tea. He was still cultivating tea leaves that could treat cancer.

Moreover, this tea leaf had always been one of the cultural heritages in China. Moreover, tea leaves occupied a high space in history.

it could be said that if they claimed to be the best tea leaves in the world, no one would dare to claim to be second.

However, when he clicked on the video, the content of the video completely subverted his understanding.

Other than our current number one tea production, we're actually not as good as other countries in other aspects.

"I'm sorry, everyone thinks that we are a country with a lot of tea leaves and tea leaves are our culture. Unfortunately, I have to tell everyone a cruel truth:

other than the number one in tea production, we're not one of the top tea country's rankings. Moreover, we're only ranked 5th in terms of tea sales!

In other words, the tea leaves that represent our culture and the heritage of the ancient people are already starting to lose to others.

this was a very sorrowful matter, and it was also caused by the history of the braid country.

in 1848, when the english saw the benefits of tea leaves, they sent the royal gardener, robert fortune, to steal the tea leaves from their country.

In may 1848, Fu Qiong arrived in Shanghai. She put on her coat, shaved her head, and even sewed a fake braid. She learned a few China words and followed a tea merchant, Wang Mo, to the tea garden in Mount pinecone. She learned the tea-making process for a long time and bought a large number of tea seeds and seedlings.

More than 20 years later, they grew the Darjiling black tea and openly had their own tea leaves. They also slandered the tea leaves in the country for containing harmful substances and even poisons. They used this method to squeeze the domestic tea market.

in that period of history, in addition to england, there were also many countries such as india, kenny, vietnam, and xuanji, which had the idea of obtaining tea leaves. they also obtained their own tea species by stealing and improving their tea leaves."

Qin Lin was a little surprised to see the news video.

He did not expect tea leaves to have such a history and to be in such a situation now.

Previously, he had also thought that tea leaves were unique to China, but he seemed to be a little confused.

There should be many people in China who were like them.

This caused him to frown and his expression to turn slightly serious.

This situation happened because we were not aware of it, and we were deceiving ourselves from top to bottom.

The tea industry was really deep, and there were many causes and effects.

People wanted healthy tea, but they were unwilling to give the tea industry a healthy way of survival. This was the biggest contradiction in the development of the tea industry.

Perhaps, this was also giving the tea thieves a better opportunity to do as they pleased.

Qin Lin's phone suddenly rang.

It was Minister Lu.

He hurriedly answered.

Minister Lu's heavy voice was heard, "Boss Qin, did you see the news today? It's about tea leaves."

"Yes." "I didn't expect the tea leaves to be so complicated," Qin Lin nodded.

Minister Lu sighed. After those countries obtained tea, they actually wanted to completely eliminate the domestic tea industry. Many domestic tea companies and tea bases have already been controlled by the capital of these countries.

We've even received news that when the value of the world's tea leaves was announced, they were planning to hold an international tea culture Festival to exclude us, the true ancestors of tea leaves. Now, they're trying to use this method to destroy our tea culture.

"Boss Qin, I'm afraid you'll have to do something this time. Don't let them hold this tea culture Festival. They'll be too embarrassed to hold this Festival."

Chapter 1238 Late-Stage Cancer, Good Tea

"I understand, Minister Lu." Qin Lin knew what Minister Lu meant when he heard him.

Was there any way to make these tea thieves too embarrassed to hold a tea cultural festival?

Weren't tea merchants from these countries best at slandering their tea leaves? Other than this, what else could he do?

In any case, you can just slander me. In the future, my tea leaves have the ability to treat cancer.

Do you drink this tea that can cure and prevent cancer?

Do you want to drink?

That depends on whether I'm willing to let you drink it or not, and whether I'm willing to give it to you.

Especially these tea leaf thieves.

Qin Lin hung up the phone. Not long after, Yuan Shan, the academician, came over. "Boss Qin, this is the clinical trial report and data that Minister Lu asked me to print for you."

Qin Lin understood what he meant. The experimental report and data would be more convincing to the public.

Academician Yuan, have those clinical patients been cured?" Qin Lin also asked curiously.

He did not pay much attention to the clinical trial.

Because he knew that the +2 cancer prevention attribute of the mutated tea tree could cure those patients, it was only a matter of time.

he's basically fully recovered, " Yuan Shan explained. he'll just have to look at the latest test results in two days.

"En!" Qin Lin.

Two days passed by quickly.

You City County hospital's quarantine area was already in a tense atmosphere.

especially the director and the deputy director, who had rushed to the quarantine area early in the morning to personally draw blood and send it to the test.

It was no wonder the two of them were like this.

They all knew what Yuan Shan's clinical trials meant.

therefore, they paid attention to every examination of the five cancer patients and watched the five patients get better one by one.

This might be the last inspection.

If all the data was normal, it meant that all five of them had been completely cured.

These five people were all in the final stage of cancer.

The two of them knew what this meant. As a place for clinical trials, it would bring great benefits to you City Hospital. It would even be beneficial to their resume as the Vice Director and Deputy Director.

Yuan Shan naturally arrived at the clinical trial area early.

The reason why he stayed in you city was to be in charge of this.

He was also looking forward to the results of the five patients 'examination today.

As long as the five people were completely cured, the clinical trial would be a complete success. At that time, the value of the two mutated tea trees that boss Qin transplanted would be incalculable.

Similarly, the five patients who were being treated by Zhao Chunhe were also looking forward to it.

Zhao Chunhe couldn't describe how he was feeling right now. After he was diagnosed with late-stage cancer, he had already made up his mind to wait for death at home because his family had no savings.

Who knew that someone would suddenly come to his door and ask him to participate in a clinical treatment trial that could treat his cancer, and they even wanted him to sign a confidentiality agreement.

He was already waiting for death, but now that such a thing had happened, he decided to participate as if he was holding on to the last straw.

At first, when he was sent to you City Hospital, he was very disappointed and felt that he had been cheated.

After all, you City Hospital was only a small hospital in the county. It wasn't even a tertiary Grade A hospital, so how could it treat cancer?

after that, the medicine that the nurse gave them made them even more determined. they felt that the so-called clinical trial was nonsense, because the medicine that the nurse gave them was tea.

He had grown up drinking tea all his life.

Could drinking tea cure his late-stage cancer? Then he should just stay at home and wait for his death. What was the point of waiting for death at home?

However, he was soon shocked to find that the tea leaves seemed to be different from what he had thought.

This was because after drinking the tea, he could feel a very comfortable feeling.

Even after drinking tea for the first time, the pain that was common in the final stage of cancer did not appear again.

Moreover, in the following days, as he drank the tea, the longer the days passed, the more comfortable he felt.

finally, after the first examination, he was informed that his cancer data had declined and improved.

At that moment, he really couldn't describe his feelings.

First, he was saved. This clinical treatment experiment could really cure his late-stage cancer.

secondly, they were shocked that the tea really had an effect. if they didn't experience it for themselves, who would believe that tea could cure cancer?

It wasn't until later that he found out that the tea leaves were actually cultivated by Linlin company. He finally knew the reason.

As someone from you city, he naturally knew about Linlin company.

This magical company had not only made the people of you city rich, but it had also produced magical products more than once.

Compared to other companies, it was more acceptable to say that Linlin company had developed tea leaves that could treat cancer.

After that, he accepted the treatment with a peace of mind. Moreover, the results of each examination increased his hope.

Every time he went for a check-up, he would get a lot better, and it also made him believe that his illness could be cured.

Now, this examination might mean that he was about to recover. How could he not be excited?

The other four players also had the same mentality.

Because they had signed a confidentiality agreement, they could not contact the outside world. Only their family members who took care of them knew about this.

They also wanted to be discharged from the hospital as soon as possible and tell their friends and family that they had completely recovered.

Now, all that was left was to wait.

Time passed.

While waiting, Zhao Chun and the five of them finally got the results.

When Yuan Shan saw you City hospital's director and Vice Director enter, he immediately asked, "What's the result?"

the two deans were both excited. "

"academician yuan, this is unbelievable. the five of them have fully recovered."

that's right. When they first came in, no one would believe that they could recover. Now, these tea leaves have done it.

The two of them knew that there was going to be another storm in the medical world.

the whole world would be shocked by this tea.

"i'm fine, i'm really fine." When Zhao Chunhe heard the news, he couldn't hide the excitement on his face. He hugged his wife who was taking care of him.

then, he hurriedly shouted to yuan shan and the others, " thank you, thank you!

The other four also followed suit and thanked him. Besides, they had no other words to say.

"It's good that you're done!" yuan shan also heaved a deep sigh of relief.

with this, his mission was completed. at the same time, it also proved the terrifying effect of boss qin's tea leaves.

Yuan Shan asked someone to do a few more examinations and a series of registration for Zhao Chunhe and the others. After that, he asked you City Hospital to wrap up the matter.

Three days later.

Zhao Chunhe followed his wife out of you City Hospital. The moment they stepped out of the hospital, Zhao Chunhe felt that the whole world had changed.

in other words, he felt like he had welcomed a new life.

After that, the couple went shopping in a hurry because their family had already cleared out the things they needed. They wanted to buy what they needed and go back to the village.

Keng TOU village was not famous in you city.

However, with the planting of Linlin watermelons, the people in the village were getting better and better.

The rise of you city's Linlin watermelons also meant that the villagers of you city were getting better and better.

however, there was one thing in the village that was worth gossiping about.

It was about Zhao Chunhe.

Someone in a village was diagnosed with late-stage cancer. At that time, he was extremely weak after a few days.

This would always attract the attention of the villagers, causing them to discuss and sigh.

Those with bad characters had even started to discuss how many people would share a table.

don't think that there are no such people. the more rural you are, the more such people there are.

This was not discrimination, but the current situation to a certain extent.

At the entrance of Kengtou Village.

Today, there were still many bored villagers gathered around the buzz-cut man.

"Have you heard? Last night, Zhao Chunhe's house was being cleaned up!"

" yes, i saw it. zhao chun and his old belongings have been thrown out. "

"i heard that zhao chunhe was only a few months away from being diagnosed, right? the time has already passed."

Zhao Chunhe never came back after he was taken away by the ambulance. Even his wife, who went with him, never came back.

" he's definitely treating his illness. moreover, it's impossible to cure his illness. he was already on the verge of death at that time. now that we've thrown away his things, it seems like he's already dead. we're preparing for his funeral. it's time to prepare for the banquet. "

"....."

For a moment, the atmosphere seemed to be a little awkward. The others subconsciously took a second look at the person who spoke.

It was also at this moment that everyone saw a car driving in from the village entrance.

Someone must have returned to the village. Besides, it was not strange for the villagers to drive small cars.

the car stopped.

Seeing Zhao Chunhe get out of the car, everyone was surprised.

"it's actually zhao chunhe."

"it's really him. he didn't die?"

"Then he's not dead? does he look like someone with terminal cancer?"

Everyone was shocked when they saw Zhao Chunhe carrying all sorts of things in the trunk of the car. Wasn't she supposed to be on her last breath?

after zhao chunhe got out of the car, he paid the driver. then, he saw the people at the village entrance.

He immediately took his report and ran over to those people happily. "Everyone's here? Long time no see."

This made the villagers even more surprised. Zhao Chunhe was running with so much energy that they felt like he was in a better state than them.

What kind of joke was this? how could a late-stage cancer patient be like this?

One of the villagers could not help but ask, "Chunhe, aren't you sick?" It seems quite serious."

This was a more tactful question.

" that's right, " zhao chunhe said with a smile. " he had late-stage cancer. at that time, he even wanted to wait for death. "

"Then what are you doing now?" Another villager asked.

"I'm fine now," Zhao Chunhe explained, "do I look like I'm sick?"

"ah, it's cured?" " that's the final stage of cancer! " a villager exclaimed. " how much does it cost to cure it? "

This caused everyone to look at Zhao Chunhe.

Indeed, how much money would it take to cure late-stage cancer?

In other words, in their eyes, it was impossible to treat late-stage cancer. Everyone knew about Zhao Chunhe's family situation and they did not have the money to treat late-stage cancer.

Zhao Chunhe continued to explain, " there's no need to spend money. I participated in a clinical treatment trial. I signed a confidentiality agreement before this, so my family can't tell anyone. Now that the trial is over, it's fine.

"free of charge? chunhe, you're so lucky." another villager exclaimed.

That was indeed the case. Wasn't he lucky?

otherwise, who would have such a good thing happen to them when they were on the verge of dying from terminal cancer? they even treated their terminal cancer for free.

"chunhe, can you tell me how you cured her? what medicine did you use?" The first villager who spoke asked. He was very curious about this. After all, it was a drug that could cure late-stage cancer.

with the existence of this medicine, anyone would be curious and want to know more.

zhao chunhe pretended to be mysterious. " you guys definitely won't be able to guess how i cured late-stage cancer. can you believe that i cured my cancer by drinking tea three times a day? "

As soon as he said that, all the villagers looked at him in shock.

"wanwan" villager (1)

Wanwan " villager 2.

Wanwan villager (3)

...

Late-stage cancer, drinking tea?

was this a joke?

Chapter 1239 Cultivated In Linlin's Laboratory! The Sinister Intentions Of The Tea Thief! 1

Drinking tea to cure late-stage cancer?

Who would believe such a thing?

"Chunhe, did you really drink tea to cure your late-stage cancer?" someone asked.

Zhao Chunhe nodded in confirmation. yes, it's indeed good to drink tea. I didn't believe it at first, but this tea was cultivated by Linlin's laboratory.

With that, the surrounding villagers began to clamor.

"It's Linlin laboratory!"

"If it's the tea cultivated by Linlin's laboratory, then it's possible."

"Did Linlin's laboratory manage to cultivate this magical tea again?"

At the mention of Linlin's laboratory, these people were all a little interested.

most of them relied on linlin's laboratory to grow watermelons to make money, especially those three-colored watermelons, which allowed them to make even more money today.

Therefore, they paid a lot of attention to Linlin's laboratory. They also knew that Linlin's laboratory had developed many products that had caused a great sensation.

This was something they were proud of.

First, Linlin's laboratory was in you city.

Secondly, they would also proudly say that they worked for Linlin's laboratory, or directly say that they were employees of Linlin's laboratory.

After all, they were indeed planting melons for Linlin's laboratory, and it was Linlin's laboratory that paid them.

This was the same as many employees of Ali's outsourcing companies, who were only slightly related to Ali, would also claim to be Ali's employees.

This was because this was indeed something that would catch the attention of most people.

It was as if Ali's employees could bring them the glory of many kills.

Clearly, Linlin's laboratory had a similar attribute now.

Chunhe, is your cancer really completely cured? "

"that goes without saying. i have the test report."

As Zhao Chunhe spoke, he took out his examination report and even took an X-ray.

from the data, the size of the malignant tumor could be clearly seen at the beginning. later on, the tumor gradually disappeared until it could not be seen.

after confirming that this was zhao chunhe's medical report, the villagers couldn't hold it in any longer. they took out their phones and started taking pictures of zhao chunhe and the medical report.

This kind of thing was too shocking for ordinary people like them. They definitely had to take a picture of it and post it on their WeChat moments. They had to promote it in various groups and show off their awesome source of news.

this scene was not only happening in kengtou village, but also in the other four places.

A person who was supposed to be in the final stage of cancer and should have died suddenly returned and even treated the final stage of cancer. It was hard not to cause a stir in the neighbors.

therefore, it didn't take long for someone to post on the internet that these people had cured late-stage cancer by drinking tea.

In particular, some of the content mentioned Linlin's laboratory, which made some of the videos trending.

at the same time.

In a Castle in England, a group of people in suits and leather shoes gradually gathered.

If anyone who knew them was here, they would know that these people were the world's largest tea producer.

The tea leaves that they had were basically stolen from the eastern country and then cultivated for research.

they had gathered in england to discuss the international tea festival.

Their family relied on tea leaves to become an international celebrity and became a top figure.

However, there was one thing that couldn't be washed away, because their tea leaves were indeed stolen. Even in some countries, there were still records of their ancestors stealing tea leaves from Eastern countries.

This made them, who had become famous, not allow such a stain to exist, and they also wanted to wash away the stain on their families.

The best way would be to let the tea leaves from that Eastern country stink and be worthless in the International market.

For this reason, they had done a lot of things in the dark.

in recent years, although their tea production was not as good as that eastern country, the sales value of their tea leaves still exceeded that of that eastern country.

Therefore, he had to go one step further and completely wash away the stain of being a thief.

He would organize an international tea culture Festival and exclude that Eastern country. Then, he would use some tricks to completely destroy their tea culture.

When their country's tea culture Festival was deeply rooted in the hearts of the people and became internationally recognized as the mainstream, this was their tea culture.

No one would ever mention the tea culture of the eastern countries again. They were nothing.

there was naturally a reason why they had gathered in England.

Firstly, the Robert family was the one who had suggested the International Tea Festival.

secondly, it involved the Robert family.

During the war, the person who discovered the magical effects of the tea leaves and stole them was called Robert Fortune.

It was the other party who had stolen the tea leaves and planted tea leaves in England's colonies all over the world, which started the trend of tea theft and made tea leaves popular all over the world.

It was also at that time that the tea production of the other countries far exceeded that of the eastern countries.

The other party had also spent more than 130 years of effort before they could surpass their tea production again.

However, it was obvious that they would not allow anything else to happen.

They only wanted more of the treasures and wealth that they had obtained. They didn't want to lose them.

It was precisely because of this that the Robert family was also the vanguard in targeting the tea leaves in the eastern countries. The English times did not launch the most frequent attack on the tea leaves in the eastern countries.

the Robert family's castle was even obtained by stealing tea leaves from eastern countries.

Chapter 1240 Cultivated In Linlin's Laboratory! The Sinister Intentions Of The Tea Leaf Thief! 2

therefore, after everyone knew the purpose of the international tea culture festival, the Robert family was the host.

The current head of the Robert family was called Robert reg.

Regl was a very business-minded person.

Due to his family's heritage, he was naturally very good at tea leaves. He even developed fruit tea in the new era to further reduce the living space of Eastern tea leaves.

Moreover, the effect was very good.

At least, the younger generation preferred fruit tea over old time tea.

With his many years of hard work, many people's expressions changed when they talked about tea leaves from Eastern countries.

This was a good influence.

However, it was still not enough.

When their country obtained a place during the colonial period, if they wanted to completely control that place, they had to destroy its culture and create their own culture to replace it.

this was what he wanted to do now. he wanted to create a tea culture that would replace the tea culture of the eastern country and eliminate it humanely.

Frey was sitting in his office chair and looking at a picture.

It was a sales map of the distribution and output value of tea leaves. His plan was being completed step by step.

Back then, his ancestors were the first to steal tea seeds and planting techniques from that Eastern country, which led to the current prosperous tea culture in the world.

the robert family had the right to enjoy the highest benefits of tea leaves.

As for the tea leaves from the eastern country, sorry, that was the market.

just as robert fury was thinking, his blond secretary rushed in. " "Sir, there's something I need to tell you. After you announced that you were going to hold an international Tea Festival, didn't you ask us to pay attention to the reaction of that Eastern country?"

" there really was news about tea on the internet. i got someone to translate it. it seems that there's a man from the eastern country who had terminal cancer and recovered after drinking tea. "

"This trick again?"

Regarding this, he really didn't want to say much, because he didn't believe it.

In the past, whenever they slandered the tea leaves of the eastern countries for being poisonous, they would always retaliate.

for example, the rumor that tea could cure cancer was spread by people in eastern countries.

it was a pity that many western laboratories had tested and proved that the tea leaves in the eastern country had no effect on cancer.

moreover, if there was, their tea leaves came from the other party. how could they not know?

This also indirectly caused the International reputation of tea leaves in that Eastern country to plummet. It was like shooting oneself in the foot.

now that he was going to discuss the international tea culture festival, the other party actually released the news that tea leaves could cure cancer. it was really ridiculous.

it was no wonder that he couldn't keep his tea leaves and that they were stolen by his ancestors. the tea leaves were then scattered around the world and developed to their current state.

continue to pay attention. If they continue to use this excuse, they'll just shoot themselves in the foot. Frey said as he stood up and walked out.

Those international tea merchants had all arrived.

As the host, he should go out and receive them.

when he arrived at the castle's living room, he saw the international tea merchant.

seeing robert fury come out, the tea leaves all greeted him, "

Mr. Fury, we meet again. This time, your suggestion for the International tea culture Festival was very good!

"yes, i'm honored to be invited by mr. fury."

"Mr. Fury's Castle is very well-known. I believe that after the International Tea Festival, our tea leaves will also become very well-known."

"..."

Many of these tea merchants were more powerful than the Robert family.

But they were still very polite to Frey.

Firstly, they were guests.

Secondly, it was also because fory was the vanguards for the tea leaves from that Eastern country, so they could just hide at the back.

No matter how well their tea business was doing, they could not avoid the problem of source. They also wanted to eliminate the source and make themselves the source.

Fury sat down and greeted them, " the fact that everyone is able to come to my Castle shows how important the International Tea Festival is. We can first discuss how to prepare for this cultural festival.

Then, these people began to discuss.

I think we should limit the number of seats available, " someone immediately suggested. some tea leaves from some countries should not participate.

The discussion was actually just nonsense. Everyone understood the purpose of this tea cultural festival, but they also had a tacit understanding.

Therefore, everyone knew who should not be participating.

These people immediately agreed, "

" i agree with this suggestion. it should be restricted! "

"That's right, I agree!"

"i agree!"

frey laughed. although the tea festival was still in the works, it was a good start.

At this moment, his blond Secretary came out in a hurry. Mr. Fury, there's new news from that Eastern country. It seems that they really have tea leaves that can treat late-stage cancer.

These words shocked everyone in the company.

Tea leaves that can treat late-stage cancer?

If there really was such a thing, what was the point of playing?

the first thing that fu rui did was to question his secretary, " "Who asked you to say all this? they've been using this to promote themselves in the past, and it's already been proven to be fake."

It was only then that the other international tea merchants remembered this and heaved a sigh of relief. They had almost taken it for real.

However, before they could even catch their breath, the blonde secretary added, " Mr. Fury, it's the Linlin laboratory that released a detailed announcement, saying that they have cultivated tea leaves that can treat late-stage cancer.

and they've already completed the clinical treatment. The person they said on the internet that cured late-stage cancer by drinking tea was a patient in their clinical trial.

The words "Linlin's laboratory" made the International tea merchants "breath get stuck in their throats.

That was Linlin's laboratory.

Even internationally, many people knew of the Linlin laboratory's reputation.

Regardless of whether it was the White ginseng for improving eyesight, the hot spring powder, the purifying grass, or the animal plague medicine, they were all products that made people feel incredulous.

These products even made people feel that they shouldn't have existed in this era.

But Linlin's laboratory had managed to produce these things.

The Linlin laboratory was also very despicable. Every product that was developed had been restricted to their country and banned from being exported.

If it was just news of tea being able to cure cancer, they wouldn't have cared.

however, if linlin's laboratory had developed tea leaves that could treat cancer, they couldn't ignore it.

After all, it was Linlin's laboratory.

One of them couldn't help but ask, "could this be true?" Can their tea really cure cancer?"

"If that's true, then it's bad," said the other man with a frown.

Someone else said anxiously, "that's right, then why are we still holding an international Tea Festival?" We should think of what to do."

When Frey heard this, he glared at his Secretary and hurriedly said, " "everyone, don't be anxious. we can't let the other party's news affect us and mess up our plans."

" besides, the news hasn't been proven to be true yet. maybe the eastern country heard about us and wanted to protect their tea culture, so they deliberately used the reputation of linlin laboratory to do this. "

" the other party just wants us to be in a mess and not have the mood to prepare for the tea culture festival. if that's the case, we'll have fallen into their trap. "
