

The Game 1771

Chapter 1771 Linlin Scenic Area's Investiture Of The Gods! Boss Qin's Own Power! 3

Seeing this, the plum ball King's face turned a little ugly, but he tried to cover it up. He whispered into the watch on his wrist, "the situation doesn't seem right. That hover car seems to be real. This Eastern country's people aren't scamming people with scientific research.

At the same time, on the other side.

In a Department codenamed 007 in the country, a few people had grave expressions.

The reason why they had captured the plum King and sent someone to impersonate him and go to the eastern country was to expose the other party's press conference and let everyone know that the other party was just making a scientific research scam.

However, the report they had received now said that the hover car was not a scientific scam. This was not part of their plan.

Could it be that the eastern country had really developed a hovercar?

That shouldn't be the case. Hover car research was clearly their country's Forte, and that Eastern country's technology had always been behind their country's by many years.

The current situation was a little unreal.

"We have to confirm if the hover car is real or not!" One of them immediately ordered.

They knew very well that if that Eastern country could develop the technology of hovercraft, why couldn't their country, which had the lead in this area, develop it?

It could only mean that the Department was slacking off in this area of research, or that there were some cats in it.

This required a reorganization, and the person in charge should also be changed.

Obviously, they didn't know that they had fallen into a trap because this was the purpose of the scientific research war.

As long as they were in a mess, it would delay the research of this project.

If they were to reorganize or change the person in charge, it would take more time. After all, the reorganization would cause panic and no one would be able to study at ease. Changing the person in charge would disrupt the pace of the research and disrupt the research plan.

In your city, the hover cars were moved into the closed Street.

Avril and the others were also invited to the front with faces full of disbelief.

They had actually built so many hover cars.

ladies and gentlemen, please come this way. I'll now bring you to experience the hovercar. One of the people in charge walked up to Avril and the others to guide them.

The other Street was naturally for the celebrities in the country.

They were brought to the hover cars.

After the celebrities and celebrities understood how to use the hover car through the explanations of the professionals, they started the hover car with the accompaniment of a staff member who was already familiar with driving the hover car. Then, they saw a shocking scene appear in the sky above the two streets.

One by one, the hover cars began to take off from the ground.

In the beginning, they were flying at a low altitude. When they started to get used to it, the hover car started to take off with the help of the accompanying members, flying higher and higher.

They also saw the road in the air through the display screen and began to fly along that road.

For a moment, it was the scene in the movie.

All the tourists and pedestrians around them took out their mobile phones to take pictures. At this moment, domestic and foreign reporters also aimed their cameras at the hovering cars flying in the sky.

The plum King's face became more and more unsightly. He knew that all this was true when he was flying in the air.

This country had really developed the technology for hover cars.

At this moment, everyone who was watching the live news or video was shocked into silence.

Although sci-fi products like Transformers and big white had already appeared before, this sci-fi product that could be promoted as a daily product was even more shocking than the hover car.

Everyone knew that they had really entered the era of science fiction, and all countries were silent at this moment.

Was that Eastern Kingdom really capable of doing this?

The leader and Minister Lu felt their blood boiling when they saw that scene. They were even more emotional.

This was a Grand scientific occasion created by boss Qin's hard work.

Chapter 1772 Super Soldier Unit! Making Batmobile! 1

After Avril and the others got familiar with the hover car, they became more and more excited and energetic.

It was the same for the celebrities in the country. As the first batch of people to experience a hover car, they felt that it was an honor. Perhaps this moment would be recorded in history. A few decades later, there might be people who would find the video and watch it.

At the same time, as the news video spread around the world, the news that the hover car had really been developed was quickly known to the world.

This news was too shocking, and it also made more and more people in the West doubt their own country's technology.

After all, they liked to boast about their own technology.

However, the eastern country's technology seemed to have exploded in recent years, and they had already surpassed them in various fields.

First was the Transformers, then da Bai, and finally the hover car.

Other than that, they also had many magical products, such as grass that could purify the air, plants that could control temperature, floating duckweeds that could treat the environment, and even ginseng that could treat myopia.

These things were really amazing and could improve the life of their entire society.

It was a pity that these things were only being promoted in that Eastern country, and there was no intention of promoting them to other countries in the world.

Therefore, even if they were very envious, they had no way to buy these products.

Unless they had spare money or time to travel to that Eastern country, they would not be able to buy it.

Or there were special agents who could pay for the items from the eastern countries.

Under such circumstances, they really couldn't believe that their country's technology had really surpassed that of the eastern country.

Even a discerning person could see that their country was lagging behind.

Avril and the others stopped their hovercars on two of you city's closed streets and got off. Although they still wanted to experience it and drive a little longer, they were invited here, after all, so they had to follow the rules.

There was a time limit to this experience. Next, he would have to give it to the ordinary lucky tourists.

There were many tourists who were invited to you city to experience the hover car.

The tourists were more excited to experience the hover cars. Furthermore, they didn't have to care about their manners like celebrities.

After they got into the car, they started shouting like crazy.

He didn't even try to hide his excitement.

This scene would make many tourists envious.

After all, they also wanted to get an invitation to experience those hover cars.

After Ai Wei'er and the others finished their experience, they were brought to the scenic Area by the guide to enjoy lunch.

After all, he had to be perfect when he invited someone to experience the hovercar.

The plum ball King went to the bathroom immediately and reported to the watch on his mobile phone, "I'm sure you already know that this hovercar technology is real. It's not a scientific scam. So, what we've done this time is useless. There's no need to go through so much trouble to capture the plum King and make me pretend to be him.

"..The other side was silent and agreed with this point of view.

Perhaps they were also shocked by the hovercar technology.

come back quickly, " the other side said after a while. the plum King still needs to think about how to solve this.

As soon as he said that, intense gunshots and sounds of battle were heard.

The plum ball King's face changed instantly. Obviously, something had happened over there.

He hurriedly walked out of the toilet and was about to pack his things when he suddenly realized that there were already a few people standing in the room, staring at him coldly.

One of them was MA Hong. Sir, you've been acting for so long. You can come back with us and have a good talk. The other side should have rescued the real plum King by now.

The plum King's face instantly turned ugly. "You ... How did you guys know? my appearance and body shape are 99% similar."

that's because you've underestimated our skills, " MA Hong said coldly. we knew you were a fake the moment you got on the plane.

These words were said with confidence and pride.

After all, this kind of crushing technique was really cool.

It was very easy to find out that the plum King was a fake. The higher-ups would naturally make protective preparations for inviting these international celebrities.

It was da Bai's scanning technology, which had been extracted by a few seniors from the Chinese Academy of Sciences and modified into a special security scanning technology.

These people had been scanned several times by the scanning technology without them knowing.

And they all knew the information of these international celebrities.

After the plum ball King finished the scan, the conclusion was that the blood type, bones, and internal organs were completely different people.

Without a doubt, this person was a fake.

"This ..." The plum ball King took a step back in shock.

At the same time, in another hidden place, the real plum King was also taken off its blindfold with a face full of fear.

He had heard gunshots and sounds of battle.

He didn't know what had happened, and he couldn't help but feel afraid.

Chapter 1773 Super Soldier Unit! Making Batmobile! 2

And what appeared before him was a team of people in full combat suits.

He couldn't see the faces of these people clearly. He could only see the corpses on the ground around him. They were the people who had kidnapped him. They had been crushed and destroyed.

A golden-haired man knelt on the ground, clutching the wound on his chest. He said with an ugly expression, ""Who are you? how dare you attack our 007 Department? Aren't you afraid of being investigated?"

The man threatened, but he couldn't help but show a trace of fear on his face.

He clearly remembered that his men didn't even know how these people appeared before they were attacked.

They suddenly appeared, rose up, and launched an attack.

Moreover, their reaction speed, marksmanship, and speed far exceeded theirs. Even if they were in close range, the other party's strength could easily kill him in an instant.

This really made him shocked and terrified.

The people in Department 007 were all elites.

Even if he was facing an elite special Forces soldier, he could deal with them alone. Now, facing these people, he could only kill them in seconds.

The key was where did the other party come from and where did he appear from?

Did their country have such power?

He had no idea.

A moment later, a gunshot was heard, and the blonde man went to see the king of hell.

Only the plum ball King was still in a daze.

These people also quickly left.

No one knew that they were from that mysterious Eastern country, wearing special combat uniforms and using body-strengthening potions.

This was a special operation unit. With these equipment, ordinary guns could not penetrate their combat uniforms, and the impact of bullets would not cause them any harm.

As long as they could finish off the enemy quickly, they could even sneak into any country and carry out any operation.

No one could stop them.

Moreover, before the people from those countries could react, they must have completed their mission and escaped.

At the current stage, no country would believe that there was such a super-soldier team.

Their mission was to rescue the plum King. They believed that the plum King was not a fool. After rescuing him, he would definitely have a way to save himself.

After all, the commercial value that the other party represented was too great.

If the 007 Department still dared to make a move, the capitalists would not agree, unless they were determined to kill the plum King to vent their anger.

However, this was not something they could control. After all, a country could not possibly be a nanny for a star player all the time.

In the Linlin Scenic Area.

The fake plum King saw that he was surrounded, but he was not in a hurry.

After all, he was sent here because he was too outstanding. He was the most powerful elite in the entire Department 007.

Therefore, the other party had underestimated him by only sending these few people.

However, the other party's technical advantage had discovered him, so they had underestimated him.

With this thought in mind, the plum ball King also quickly launched an attack.

He had to end the battle quickly and get rid of these people as soon as possible. He couldn't wait for the other party to take out their weapons, or he would be in trouble.

The plum King's target was MA Hong. He could naturally tell that MA Hong was the leader of these people.

As long as he held MA Hong hostage, these people would definitely be afraid, and that would be his chance.

However, MA Hong's attack didn't slow down at all. He even sneered at his opponent, and when his opponent got close, he threw a punch.

It was just a simple punch.

This was because when one's strength, vitality, and speed could suppress the opponent, there was no need for too many tricks. The simplest attack could often display the greatest and fastest power.

The plum King couldn't react in time to the punch. When he tried to Dodge, he found that he couldn't keep up with his opponent's speed and was directly hit in the face.

" ? ? "The plum ball King fell down with a face full of doubt. The force directly hit his head and caused a sharp pain. Then, he lost all his strength to resist.

He simply couldn't believe that he was actually instakilled by someone.

He was the most powerful person in the entire 007 Department.

Even a few Special Forces soldiers wouldn't be a match for him?

What kind of monster was the other party?

take it away, " MA Hong said disdainfully. The people around him also went forward and lifted the plum King.

All in all, apart from these interludes, the hover car launch experience was a success, and the leader's goal was completely achieved.

After the conference, Minister Lu called Qin Lin excitedly. When the call went through, he said, " boss Qin, I have good news for you. The hovercar release experience was a complete success, and it ended perfectly. The hovercar you created shocked all those people ...

Qin Lin wasn't very interested in the news because he had experienced too much. Minister Lu had to tell him good news like this every time.

He was already in jinglin's laboratory, directing the production line set up by the car technicians.

This was arranged according to the mold made from the design of the Batmobile.

Now that the production line had been established, the next step was to study the material needed for the Batmobile, which was Nord steel.

It was because of this Norde steel that Batman's Batmobile could be so successful that even rockets and howitzer could not do anything to it.

Unless they used weapons that were extremely powerful and limited to use in the city, or weapons that were made in science fiction like those in DC movies, they would not be able to deal with the Batmobile.

It would be even scarier if it was made of the materials used to make the Batmobile, which was the movie version of Superman.

After all, it was a car that could fight against a terrifying person like Superman.

Although it could not cause any damage to a character of that level, most of the small fries sent by the villain were eliminated by the Batmobile.

Furthermore, the Batmobile had four terrifying cannonballs that could destroy the target as easily as crushing dry weeds and smashing rotten wood.

It was a pity that this Batmobile was only a part of the rise of the dark Paladin and did not have such terrifying power.

But even so, in reality, this steel was still very terrifying.

Chairman Qin, now that the production line is set up, do we need to prepare the steel for production? "

A car technical person in charge came forward and asked.

He could also tell that this car was not an ordinary car, but a Batmobile like in the movies.

Some of the structure of the car was too obvious.

He didn't expect his boss to make such a car.

However, that was a Batmobile. As a man, who wouldn't want one?

"There's no hurry. I need to research a Special Steel. After that Special Steel is produced, you'll be in charge of making those parts," Qin Lin said immediately.

The person in charge of the automotive technical department was stunned and a little surprised. After all, it was just a Batmobile. They could totally make it with the steel they had.

After all, it was just a model. Did he want to make the batcar as powerful as it was in the movie?

However, his boss actually wanted him to research a type of steel for this Batmobile.

This didn't seem to be simple.

After all, everyone knew how powerful their boss was.

Anything that could make the boss personally study it was not simple.

Qin Lin had already called Shen Li.

Although he had obtained the complete technical information of Nord steel, he was not in the mood to make steel himself.

This kind of brainwork was better done by coolies!

He had looked through the information of the various departments in Jinglin's laboratory. Jinglin's laboratory already had a special metal Development Department. He could just call this Department 'Nord steel'.

When Shen Li received the call and heard Qin Lin's request, he was very surprised.

Why did his boss suddenly want to research steel again?

However, he immediately arranged what his boss wanted to do. Soon, the people from the metal Research Department arrived at the car production line.

Minister Lu naturally received the news very quickly.

The first thought that came to his mind when he received the news was that boss Qin was going to personally research and produce a type of steel!

Boss Qin was going to personally research and produce steel!

Boss Qin was going to personally research and produce steel!

Boss Qin was going to personally research and produce steel!

That was definitely not simple!

Chapter 1774 Really Awesome \(1\)

After Minister Lu received the news, he rushed to the Linlin Scenic Area. In his mind, he had already solidified the idea that whatever boss Qin was researching would never be bad.

Moreover, it would definitely be more advanced than the research done by the academicians of the Chinese Academy of Sciences.

Minister Lu rushed to Linlin's laboratory and saw Shen Li leading a group of researchers to the automobile manufacturing department. Seeing this, he knew without a doubt that these were metal research personnel.

"Minister Lu, why are you here?" When Shen Li saw him, he immediately greeted him.

The two of them were very familiar with each other.

After all, there were many cooperative projects between the bamboo groove laboratory and the Chinese medical Academy.

Moreover, the two of them kept in touch often, especially when Qin Lin had new research projects. Minister Lu would ask Shen Li first when he got the news.

boss Qin is going to research something new, how could I not come and take a look? these researchers are also prepared for boss Qin, right? " Minister Lu said with a smile.

"Minister Lu, you know about it too?" Shen Li said with a smile.

"I'm also very concerned about boss Qin, okay? let's go together." Minister Lu invited Shen Li with a smile.

The two of them went to the automobile manufacturing department together and saw Qin Lin waiting inside.

Minister Lu immediately went up and said to Qin Yang impatiently, ""Boss Qin, you really know how to surprise people. The conference for the hover car experience has just ended, what kind of metal are you going to develop now?"

"It's because I want to make a special car that requires a special metal," Qin Lin said."Otherwise, ordinary metals can't meet the requirements of this car."

Minister Lu was even more surprised when he heard this. He asked anxiously, ""Boss Qin, what kind of car are you making this time?"

It was no wonder he was like this.

One must know that boss Qin dared to make a hovercar.

And now, he was being so serious.

To make a car, he had to study a special metal.

He had never been so serious in the hover car before.

In other words, the car he was about to make might be even more powerful than the hover car.

I'm planning to make a Batmobile. I've recently watched a Batman movie, and I'm suddenly in the mood. Qin Lin made up a story and handed the design of the Batmobile to Minister Lu.

Minister Lu was a little confused when he took the blueprint.

He was in the mood to make the Batmobile after watching the movie.

Mr. Qin, I've brought you all the metal researchers you need. When can they start working? how can they work with you? " Shen Li said to Qin Lin.

Qin Lin looked at the people behind Shen Li. The metal researchers were also looking at him with respect.

The researchers knew how powerful their boss was.

There was no one in Linlin's laboratory who didn't want to do experiments with this person.

His boss was not only amazing at his experiments, but he would also give other people opportunities and even give the honor to others.

Not to mention other places, just in terms of scientific research, their boss was a Saint.

you guys just need to help me produce this type of Nord steel according to this technical information. Take a look at this information first ... As Qin Lin spoke, he handed a document to one of the researchers.

After the researcher finished reading the data, he immediately started reading it with the others.

After the researchers read the material introduction on the first page, their expressions changed and they exclaimed.

"The hardness of this steel is too unbelievable."

"Do you really need this kind of material to make a car?"

it's unbelievable that it's so hard and flexible. Is this really ordinary steel? " how could it be ordinary steel? according to the technical introduction, the defense of this kind of steel can completely resist high-power weapons such as rocket launchers, mortars, and howitzers. Ordinary bullets can't do any damage to it at all.

"Yes, this kind of steel has a very strong resonance and can reduce external impacts through resonance. Even if the driver falls from a few floors, if he is strong and has a good physique, he will be able to escape. I don't know if anything will happen."

".."

Minister Lu was also shocked when he heard the exclamations.

Was this the steel that boss Qin wanted to research? Was boss Qin going to make a real Batmobile with this kind of steel?

He knew about the Batmobile.

After all, he had read Batman comics when he was young and knew that this was the superhero that young people talked about. His car was naturally the Batmobile, which was not a car that could be made in modern society.

Just the floating technology alone was not something that could be solved in the current society.

But when he thought of this, he was stunned.

It seemed that boss Qin had also taken care of the hover car.

Then, could this technology be used on hover cars?

"Eh!" Lu burang was even more shocked. He suddenly felt that this was absurd.

Boss Qin didn't research the hovercar to make the Batmobile, did he? Should we solve the floating problem?

If this was the case ...

Lu buchang thought of something and immediately asked Qin Lin, ""Boss Qin, don't tell me the Batmobile has a weapon attack system?"

"Eh, how did you know that, buzhang Lu?" Qin Lin asked curiously.

Chapter 1775 Truly Awesome \(2\)

".. "Minister Lu didn't know how to answer.

How did he know?

He wasn't a primitive man and he had seen movies before.

But then, he realized that boss Qin was going to make the real Batmobile in the movie, not just a model. The special metal and the hovercar from before were all to pave the way for the Batmobile.

Then, he realized that he was not going to watch a movie.

Boss Qin had suddenly become interested in making this Batmobile after watching the movie.

Then, should he treat his boss to more movies?

Or, he could ask the higher-ups to hire a few directors to shoot some movies that they needed.

For example, if their country lacked technology, they would make a film related to this technology. After the film was done, they would just let boss Qin watch it alone. The ticket sales were not important. The key was that boss Qin would suddenly be interested after watching it.

Wouldn't that mean that their country would be able to obtain a piece of technology?

Minister Lu felt that this was very reasonable. If they were lucky, it would be very feasible.

boss Qin, it seems that wandering Earth 2 hasn't been taken off the shelves recently. Why don't we go and take a look? " Minister Lu said to Qin Yang.

He remembered that boss Qin seemed to have asked the Chinese Academy for information about the space elevator.

There was a plot about the space elevator in that movie, right?

How could he not ask the boss to take a look?

"..Qin Lin looked at Minister Lu, not knowing whether to laugh or cry.

Why was this leader acting like a child? was he here to make a joke?

When Shen Li heard the researchers' exclamations, he naturally knew how powerful the steel was. He immediately said to the researchers, ""Hurry up after you've finished reading the information. If you understand, then make this metal."

The researchers nodded one after another, some of them even eager to try.

They hadn't seen the complete information yet, but just from the description of that technology, it could be said that metals would change the entire metal industry, even subvert it. Or rather, it could be said that it would be more convenient for many industries. The original metals and even aluminum alloys could be eliminated.

Some of the defensive capabilities on the battlefield could even be completely replaced with this metal.

Nord steel!

He just didn't know why his boss gave it this name. Did he have to have the same name as the movie when he watched the movie and studied food?

However, they didn't need to find out what their boss was thinking. What they needed to do now was to develop the technology.

After the researchers who studied Special Metals were escorted back to the special Metals Research Department by the security guards arranged by Shen Li, Minister Lu immediately said to Qin ran, ""Boss Qin, is there anything else that needs manpower for this Batmobile? The Chinese Academy of Medicine can do our best to help. You just need to ask as soon as possible."

If boss Qin really wanted to make a real hovercar, he knew very well that this car could play a big role. If this car appeared on the battlefield, coupled with soldiers who had used the liquid medicine, it would actually be equivalent to some movie versions of Batman.

If they wanted to be more mischievous, they could also make their combat uniforms look like Batman's combat uniform, which could be completely passed off as the real one.

At the thought of this, Minister Lu was eager to try.

Hearing Minister Lu's words, Qin Lin didn't hold back at all and immediately said, " Minister Lu, I need two parallel machine guns, and they need to be made according to my parts.

also, I need a 50mm caliber cannon. The shape and volume must also be made according to my requirements. In addition, I also need two light missiles!

".. "When Minister Lu heard the word " missile ", even if it was a light one, he couldn't remain calm.

However, he remembered that this was a Batmobile. There seemed to be a movie that had this. Was boss Qin really going to replicate it completely?

Since that was the case, he had to get it for boss Qin no matter what.

After all, they were the ones who benefited from boss Qin's car. This car could bring them many benefits, especially during Special Operations.

At the thought of this, Minister Lu dialed his superior's phone number and said, " leader, I need something. I'm afraid I'll need you to apply for it. I need to ...

He told her Qin Lin's needs.

After he finished his request, the leader was obviously stunned. "Little Lu, why do you want these weapons? There's been some progress in the research on the anti-weapon system."

Minister Lu immediately said, " it's what boss Qin needs. He's researching a kind of war chariot in the movie, and he needs these weapons. In addition, the hovercar was specially developed by boss Qin for the sake of researching this war chariot. The hovercar was just a foreshadowing!

"What?" The leader's voice was a few decibels louder, and he couldn't hide his surprise.

After all, he knew how powerful the hover car was. One of their leaders had personally gone to you city for it.

This hovercar was something that transcended the era.

Because of this hovercar, countless countries 'scientific research had been disrupted. They were now desperately researching hovercars.

What was he hearing now?

This hover car was actually just a Foundation for another type of tank?

The hovercar was already an epoch-making thing, so how amazing would the war chariot that boss Qin was going to make be?

He didn't even dare to imagine.

Thinking of this, he immediately hung up the phone and called a higher-up.

It was not easy to think of something like a light missile.

However, after hearing this, he had to help boss Qin get it.

Soon, the news was passed up level by level until it reached a leader with enough power.

The leader had been paying attention to Qin Lin for a long time, so he only asked one question. He wanted to know what kind of vehicle boss Qin was developing.

Soon, a Batmobile was sent up from Minister Lu's place to the leader.

When he saw the Batmobile, he was obviously stunned. The leaders who had seen the Batmobile were also stunned.

However, Minister Lu also mentioned the Batmobile in his introduction.

Then, the leaders began to watch the Batman movie, which was a rare thing for them.

They were usually very busy and had no time to watch movies.

However, after the leader finished watching Batman, he decisively issued a document to fully cooperate with boss Qin's research and send the weapon to boss Qin.

They didn't hesitate at all. After seeing the Batmobile's function, anyone who wasn't a fool would know how powerful it was. It would be of great use on the battlefield in the future.

In Linlin's laboratory.

Minister Lu also told Qin Lin the good news immediately. "Boss Qin, the higher-ups have agreed to your weapon request and will send it over soon. Boss Qin, do you need any help?"

Qin Lin nodded and said, "I also need some talents in computer technology. I need a special missile endurance system, an automatic navigation and driving system, and a weapon auxiliary system. All these systems need to be used on the Batmobile."

"Wait?" Minister Lu didn't react when he heard this.

This was because the Chinese Academy of Sciences needed to set up a separate Department to study these systems. The key was that although many systems were already in existence, they were not perfect enough and needed to be constantly researched and improved.

Now, boss Qin actually wanted to put these systems into the Batmobile. As expected of the war chariot in the movie, it was really awesome!

"Boss Qin, are you asking us to help you research these systems? Or do you already have a system for this?" Minister Lu looked at Qin Lin with anticipation.

As for what he was looking forward to, did it even need to be said?

Qin Lin smiled and said, "Minister Lu, of course, there is a complete ready-made technology. Just ask them to implant the program according to the complete technology on my side. Also, help me connect the system to a usable satellite.

When Minister Lu heard this, he couldn't hold it in any longer and said with surprise, ""Awesome!"

How could he not be awesome?

If boss Qin's system could make the Batmobile perform all the functions like in the movies, then these systems would be beyond the era.

Chapter 1776 Batmobile Appears In The World! Practical Test \(1\)

Minister Lu exclaimed.

He was really awesome.

How could he not be awesome?

There were so many departments in the Chinese Academy of Medicine that were in charge of one system.

There was no way to create such a system after so long, right?

From the movies, one could see how powerful the system that controlled the hover car was.

Just the auto-navigation was not something that the current AI technology could achieve.

In the movie, if Batman needed it, he could press a button on his belt, and the Batmobile could locate him at the fastest speed and drive to him on its own.

This made him freeze for a moment.

It seemed that this technology could be used on hover cars, and ordinary cars could also be used.

This, coupled with the automatic driving system, should be able to solve a lot of traffic problems.

Then, he realized the most important thing. He immediately took out his phone and called his leader.

After the leader received the call, he said, " don't worry, don't worry. There's already news. The weapon will be approved immediately and will be transported to your city.

Minister Lu immediately said, " leader, that's not what I wanted to talk about. Your city needs support again. Try to transfer as many computer technology researchers as possible from the Chinese Academy of Sciences to your laboratory in your city. Also, I need a satellite here. Boss Qin's system will need it.

"..The leader was obviously stunned.

They had just applied for weapons, and now they were going to apply for satellites?

Did boss Qin make such a big deal this time?

If it was someone else who wanted to apply for weapons and satellites, he would have sent someone to control the other party and investigate.

But this was boss Qin. The first thing he thought of was that the bigger the project, the more powerful the research would be, and the more they would gain.

They had no doubts about boss Qin.

After all, boss Qin had already contributed a lot of technology to them.

Those technologies were almost epoch-making, and they even started to transform the outer planets, and the transformation was very smooth.

If there was a need to be suspicious of such a person, then they should be suspicious of themselves.

Therefore, he immediately made phone calls to inform the various departments.

If boss Qin wanted to do something big, then he had to help with these things.

He was even looking forward to it. He wanted to know what boss Qin was going to do.

In just two days, the leader had arranged everything and told Minister Lu the news.

Minister Lu immediately told Qin Lin the news.

At the same time, he also contacted the Chinese People's Hospital. With the approval of the leader, he transferred all the computer researchers from the systems Research Department to you city.

This also made the heads of those departments very unhappy.

Their system was at a critical moment in its research, and they had actually transferred all their people away.

What's the meaning of this on TV? even they are going.

Did he think that their research was not important? He had still underestimated them.

They had to go to you city to ask Minister Lu.

They had also heard of boss Qin. Although they knew that boss Qin was very powerful, they also wanted to see what kind of system he was studying to make such a big scene.

It didn't take long for the heads of the computer Research Department to arrive at you city.

They immediately found Minister Lu and asked, "

"Minister Lu, is our research not important?"

"That's right, are our eyes not important? My satellite positioning System has already entered a critical stage, yet you actually called us over here."

you have to know that we can't slack off on our research. If we slack off, the progress will be very slow, and we might even lose all the original inspiration.

".."

Although the people in charge of the research department said it as a form of inquiry, their words were full of complaints.

Minister Lu naturally knew what these people were complaining about.

He didn't say much and directly took out a USB flash drive and handed it to the heads of these departments. "Take some people to take a look at the system here, then get them out and input them into specialized equipment. The equipment will be provided to you later. In addition, you have to input the satellite part.

The head of research was stunned as he held the USB in his hand. What did he mean?

Did Minister Lu not hear what they said?

How could a leader be like this?

However, since Minister Lu had said so, they could only do as they were told.

Linlin's laboratory had already prepared the relevant equipment for them, all of which were the best-performing scientific research-grade computers.

The head of research brought their own researchers to the device with the USB drives and began to mobilize the people before work.

your mission this time is nothing much. It's just to find a loophole in the system in this USB drive. If you find out the building number, you will be rewarded. We have to clear our name. After all, the system we are studying is very important.

The research heads of these departments all had this thought in mind.

Their System Research was still very important. Now that the leader had transferred them over at a critical time, it was disrespectful to their research.

Chapter 1777 Batmobile's Appearance! Practical Test \(2\)

Therefore, they naturally wanted to find the loopholes in the system.

With this goal in mind, the researchers also started to research the system.

However, as he studied it ...

The expressions on the faces of the research heads became weirder and weirder, and then they turned into shock and disbelief.

"This ... How is this possible?"

"Eh. It's exactly the same as what we've studied, but he's actually already completed it. "

"I suddenly feel a little ashamed, so embarrassed!"

The person in charge of the research and the smoking experts were obviously in disbelief.

They thought that their leader had brought them here to disrespect their research. Who knew that they already had the complete system technology that they had researched, and it even far exceeded their options.

Especially the researchers who were researching positioning and automatic stance technology. They couldn't believe what they were seeing.

It must be noted that the direction of their research in the beginning and the results of their predictions could not reach the level of the system in the USB drive.

This was the technology that boss Qin came up with?

This was probably the reason why they were ashamed.

Just now, they were still trying to find a loophole in the system. Who knew that as they searched, they would find out that they were useless.

Now, they knew why Minister Lu had such an attitude. He knew this from the start, so he was giving them face.

Otherwise, no matter what they said, it would only be a slap in the face.

The leader had really put in a lot of thought.

For a moment, these people were grateful to Minister Lu.

"Hurry up and analyze the system and do what the leader has ordered."

"We can't affect academician Qin's research!"

"We have to do our best to help academician Qin do his research well!"

".."

For a time, they seemed to have completely become Qin Lin's fans, and academician Qin was very respectful.

In the field of research, as long as one had the ability, they would be more respected.

This also meant that these people were pure researchers.

Because there was a ready-made system and it was a source code system, the researchers quickly understood the system. They easily followed Minister Lu's request and connected the system to the approved satellite.

In this way, the satellite could send out signals directly. The Batmobile had a very powerful technical function. Even in places with signal interference, the Batmobile had the relevant technology to be immune to signal interference and receive instructions.

As for the special equipment to enter the system, it had not been produced yet. They had to wait for the special metal to be produced, and then the automobile manufacturing department would produce the equipment.

As the days went by, the news about the hover car became more and more popular.

Everyone knew that the hover car was a complete success.

Many countries were asking if they could authorize or train the technology for the hovercraft, or even exchange it with related technology. This was because after they understood the situation, they realized that the hovercraft researchers in their countries couldn't develop such hovercraft in a short time.

Instead of waiting for them to waste their money on research, it would be better to buy directly from this Eastern country. This way, it would be faster.

Of course, China had no intention of licensing or selling this technology now. They used the excuse that the conditions were not ripe.

In the future, if they wanted to buy it, they could only wait. They would definitely have to wait until their own people had popularized it.

The leaders of the relevant parties were in a very good mood during the discussion.

After all, there were not many opportunities to reject other countries like this.

In the past, when they bought technology from these countries, they had the same attitude.

This could be considered as the Wheel of Fortune turning.

Naturally, while hover cars were popular, Batmobile was also being manufactured quickly.

The various parts were produced by the automobile manufacturing department, and the related technology was also arranged by Minister Yulu.

Linlin's laboratory should spare as many people as possible, and those without relevant talents would be transferred to you city by the Hua hospital.

With such cooperation, the Batmobile was quickly manufactured.

Linlin laboratory, car manufacturing department.

Qin Lin looked at the two Batmobile he had built with curiosity on his face. He couldn't help but touch the body of the car and check the information of the Batmobile with the Jade of truth.

He couldn't help but smile when he saw the remarks.

This was because the remarks were exactly the same as the ones in the game. It was a one-to-one copy of the ones in the movie.

In other words, this Batmobile had the same functions as the one in the game world.

Minister Lu looked at the Batmobile in front of him. Even if it hadn't been painted, he could still see its shape. His mind had already filled in the information.

At the same time, he was also very excited to know the functions of the bat car.

After all, he knew that there were four light missiles installed in the car.

Other than that, there were also machine gun and artillery facilities.

These were all powerful weapons.

If it was aimed at an ordinary car, it would be blown up into a hornet's nest in a short time.

There was an old man next to Minister Lu. This old man was not simple. He was a leader from the higher-ups, different from the one who came to the city to lead the release of the hovercar experience.

This leader was the person in charge of combat preparation from the special case Department.

After all, the Batpod had used so many weapons, including missiles and even satellites. It was obviously not simple. It was no longer a car, but a strategic weapon.

Therefore, he had to come down personally to take a look at the situation.

Minister Lu had reported to him that the car's functions were exactly the same as those in the movie.

He even went to watch the movie and knew that if this thing was put into the battlefield, it would be unimaginable.

However, the leader still respected Qin Lin's opinion very much, so he asked Qin Lin, " boss Qin, now that the Batmobile has been manufactured, we must test its functions. I wonder how you will use it? "

Qin Lin had already experienced the functions of the Batmobile. Since the leader had come down in person, he naturally knew how to behave. He said, " leader, there are so many weapons in this car. I want to test their power, but I can't do it here. So, leader, can you make some arrangements? "

These words were said very artistically.

The leader also said happily, " since boss Qin has given us instructions, we'll follow boss Chen's instructions and help boss Qin test it out. It just so happens that we have a place here where we can test out the Batmobile. We can watch the specific results of the experiment through the satellite broadcast.

Qin Lin's eyes lit up when he heard this.

He naturally knew that since the leader had said so, the place he was going to take the Batmobile to must not be simple. Otherwise, there was no need to go out of his way to explain it.

The leader immediately took out his phone and made a call.

There was indeed a place where he needed the Batmobile. It just so happened that the place was very chaotic and needed to be dealt with by the special Forces.

He asked the special Forces to bring the Batmobile along so that he could see the power of the car.

It didn't take long for a specialist to arrive in you city. After the handover, the Batmobile was equipped with a Special Defense escort vehicle and transported away.

After that, the Batmobile was transported to Beijing through the airport. It stayed in Beijing for a while and then was transported to the direction of Pakistan through the Beijing International Airport. The relationship between Pakistan and China was quite good.

They were officially going to pass through BA country.

After arriving in Pakistan, the Batmobile and the special Forces that were carrying out the mission headed to an area that was not controlled by any of the other countries.

There was a place called Dara town in this no man's land.

A group of forces selling weapons gathered here.

The key was that these guys were actually targeting the country. Some of them had already scattered some weapons at some parts of the border.

This was not allowed.

This time, they were here to deal with the people in Dara town.

The Batmobile could be used.

Chapter 1778 There's Really Batman!

A lot of people had gathered in a multimedia conference hall in Linlin laboratory.

These people were Qin Lin, Minister Lu, and the leader.

Naturally, the researchers who were involved in the production of the Batmobile were also gathered here.

In front of them, there was a variety of instruments.

These instruments were all connected to the equipment in the multimedia Hall.

Since they were going to experiment with the Batmobile, they naturally had to monitor the various data during the experiment.

On the wall of the multimedia Hall, a huge LCD screen was also turned on.

The LCD screen was playing an image.

The scene was being broadcasted by the satellite.

Through the image, he could see that it was a mountainous area, and from the architectural style that occasionally appeared in the surroundings, it should not be in China.

A moment later, a figure appeared on the broadcast screen.

The other party was wearing a special combat suit, his entire body wrapped inside, so he couldn't see his face.

Seeing this, Lu Feng naturally knew what the other party was wearing.

After all, he was the one who provided the fabric for this special combat suit, as well as the color-changing and invisibility technique. It seemed that those who could wear this combat suit had also used body-increasing liquid. In other words, the body-increasing liquid that this person used was also given by him.

When the leader saw this person appear, he also pressed the call button.

", We're ready for the Batmobile experiment. We can start at any time." The special warrior in the video immediately reported.

The leader also said immediately, "let's do it now. After we're done, send the Batmobile back as soon as possible. This thing will definitely attract the attention of foreign forces. Don't let any accidents happen.

"Alright," he said. yes! the special Forces soldier replied immediately.

At the same time.

At the border area of Dara town, a team dressed in special combat uniforms and fully wrapped in armor was already making preparations.

They could see a special vehicle placed in front of them.

It was the Batmobile.

There were also trucks transporting the Batmobile. They were obviously covered with canvas as a cover. Their mission today was to test the Batmobile in this no man's land.

To be honest, if someone had told them about Batmobile or super soldiers a few years ago, they would have thought that it was nonsense.

But now, they knew that this was not a joke.

First of all, they had come up with a special medicinal liquid, so they had selected elites from all over the country. They had only had the opportunity to use this medicinal liquid because they had broken out of the selection.

When they first found out about the effects of the body-strengthening medicinal liquid, they were already very anxious.

The strengthening effect of their physique made them unable to stop. They had also gone through a long period of tough training, and with the help of the body increasing medicinal liquid, they had broken through the limits of the human body to obtain their current strength.

To be honest, they were originally the most elite special Forces, and after using the body-increasing liquid medicine, their strength was even more powerful.

The same elite special Forces could be ko-ed in an instant in front of them.

After that, the higher-ups specially allocated special combat suits for them. The combat suits' defense was strong enough to block bullets, and they could also change color and become invisible, allowing them to move around in certain environments like ghosts.

Now, he had actually created this Batmobile. They had already known the functions of the Batmobile in the capital.

That was extremely terrifying.

It was just that they didn't have the opportunity to use the bat car's function in the capital, so they had to specifically find this no man's land. It just so happened that they were going to deal with the forces in Lev town.

Therefore, the Batmobile experiment task was handed over to them.

One of the soldiers had already started to make preparations.

He was wearing a special combat uniform, which looked like the Batman uniform in the movie.

It was obviously specially made.

In the multimedia Hall of Linlin's laboratory, Qin Lin saw this scene and looked at Minister Lu in surprise.

Minister Lu obviously knew why Qin Lin had such an expression. He smiled awkwardly and said, ""This is the leader's idea. He made the arrangements."

The leader smiled and said, it's a rare prank. I'm bored with work so I'm looking for some fun. Naturally, it's to disrupt the hearing and hearing.

Qin Lin could only smile at this.

That's right, what's wrong with occasionally having a bad taste?

Wouldn't it add some fun to his boring life?

As for disrupting the public's hearing, it was probably made up by the leader.

As soon as the hovering function of the Batmobile came out, everyone could guess who had made it.

After all, no one had the technology to hover cars anymore.

Moreover, he could imagine the expressions on those people's faces when they reported that they were attacked.

He said he was attacked by Batman?

No one in their right mind would believe you.

Soon, the warrior changed into Batman's combat suit and entered the Batmobile.

The Batmobile started, and after making a special motor roar, it quickly darted out.

In the Batmobile, the soldier was also looking at the screen. There was a navigation dynamic map on it, and there were road signs pointing in the direction of Dara town.

Dara town was very famous in this no man's land.

The reason was simple.

Because there were weapons for sale here.

It must be known that the countries around this area were very chaotic. Many people in the underworld were invading each other, so they would come to Dara town.

Chapter 1779 There Really Is Batman!

The ruler of Dara town was called bark son. He had founded the Kodar family here and formed an Army.

This unit was equipped with weapons and could suppress all those who did not follow the rules.

Therefore, the people of the martial world who came here were all well-behaved, and no one dared to cause trouble.

Seeing the guards on high alert around the town, he knew that the kudaré family would definitely launch a ruthless attack if he disobeyed them.

On a Sentry tower in Dara town, a few guards were smoking and chatting happily when one of them pointed into the distance. "What car is that? it's so fast."

The other guards also looked over.

They saw a black car driving quickly towards them, and the shape of the car was very strange.

One of them immediately picked up a telescope and looked at the car.

This telescope was prepared by the Kudaré family for the sentries. As long as they found something, they could use it to observe the situation.

The man saw the car through his binoculars and said in surprise, ""That looks like a Batmobile. Is there something wrong with this person? Only a rich man with a hole in his brain would drive a Batmobile to a place like this. I just don't know who he is."

"Send a message to the other party and tell them to stop the inspection," the other person immediately said.

Someone immediately picked up a flag and waved it at the Batmobile.

This was also a hint for the Batmobile to stop and check.

It was a pity that the Batmobile ignored their warning and accelerated again.

"Damn it, is there something wrong with this guy? Attack him as a warning." The person next to him did the same and immediately shouted.

In an instant, these people launched an attack on the Batmobile.

However, to their horror, their attacks did not cause any damage to the Batmobile.

The guards were all terrified.

One of them immediately took out a walkie-talkie and said, " damn it, there's a strange Batmobile. Our weapons can't hurt it!

When the man reported, the Batmobile had already arrived.

Almost at the same time, the Batmobile attacked. The special bullets landed on the Sentry tower in a frenzy. Almost instantly, the air-fuel of the Sentry tower was penetrated and shattered. The guard inside also fell down, covered in blood.

The Batmobile didn't stop at all and quickly sped inside.

This completely shocked the guards of Dara town, and the warning line sounded.

In a moment, Dara town fell into chaos. All the guards were moving in one direction. The people who came to Dara town were all in disbelief.

Someone actually dared to cause trouble in Dara town?

More importantly, the commotion seemed to be huge.

Soon, the Kodar family saw the Batmobile and they shouted, "

"I've found it. It's here. Gather and kill it!"

"The Batmobile is here. It's coming at us."

"Attack, attack it!"

For a time, the shout was accompanied by the sound of attacks. Countless attacks landed on the Batmobile. There were even cannonballs that hit the surface of the Batmobile.

However, no matter if it was a normal attack or an artillery shell attack, after the artillery shell exploded, it did not cause any damage to the car at all.

This ...

Everyone was shocked.

"How is this possible?"

"Damn it, is this a real Batmobile?"

"Which damn guy did this?"

".."

Not only the kurda family, but even the people of the underworld who had gathered in Dara town were shocked by the scene.

What kind of car could be so awesome?

Even a bulletproof car would have been destroyed by the impact of the Cannonball.

At this moment, something even more shocking happened. The secret compartments on both sides of the Batmobile suddenly opened, and two large-caliber weapons extended out.

In that instant, flames were spat out, and the Kodar clansmen were cut down like wheat.

It was as if there was no need to aim at all, as if there was an automatic aiming system.

Many people who had watched Batman movies inexplicably thought of the plot of the movie.

It seemed that the Batmobile in the movie also had such a function.

Perhaps in response to their thoughts, the Batmobile's window lowered as if it was deliberately done.

Inside was a figure wearing a bat armor.

"This!"

Many people subconsciously took out their phones and started filming Batman.

That scene was extremely shocking to them.

The Kodar family also saw this scene, and were all shocked.

Batman?

Are you kidding me?

The Batmobile exterminated a group of Kodar family members and continued to move forward.

Very quickly, two terrifying cannon shots were fired.

Those were IFVs. The Kudar family actually had such things.

Two even more terrifying cannonballs bombarded the Batmobile, and the violent explosion hit the Batmobile. However, when the smoke and fire dissipated, the Batmobile was still parked there steadily. Even the Batman was not injured at all.

At this time, the special warrior in the Batmobile was also a little surprised. The resonance technology of the Batmobile was really amazing. It had dissipated all the impact force.

Then, without hesitation, he pressed a button in the Batpod.

The Batmobile stretched out and a shocking thing appeared.

There were four light Batpod in the Batpod, and this was one of them.

The next moment, the light Artillery fired out, and hit the 2 IFVs. The next moment, the IFV was directly flipped over and rolled over, turning into a sea of fire.

All the Kudar family members were killed.

This terrifying scene scared the people of the martial world. They were all scared out of their wits. Many of them hurriedly called for their people to leave.

In this situation, the Kudar family might be finished. If they stayed here, they might be mistaken as Kudar's family by this terrible 'Batman', which would be terrible.

What had happened in Dara town naturally spread to everyone very quickly.

At this moment, Bark son was doing some indescribable things in his Manor and was startled by the noise in the town.

At the same time, one of his men ran over in a hurry and reported, ""Sir, bad news, bad news ..."
Someone has attacked the town!"

When he heard this news, he immediately asked, ""Who dared to do that? How many people did the other party kill?"

It's Batman, " the man explained hurriedly. as long as there's someone!

"What? Say that again!" Hearing his subordinate's report, he was stunned.

He wanted to kill this man because he felt that the other party was joking with him. F * ck Batman, is there such a thing?

It was more like he had watched too many movies.

The subordinate was obviously quite smart. He seemed to have guessed something when he saw Bark son's expression. Sir, I'm not lying. It's really Batman. He's driving a Batmobile, and we can't stop it.

"Damn it!" f * ck! Bark son cursed, not at his subordinate, but at the sight of a Batmobile floating in the air and shooting at the enemy.

He could even see the miserable state of his subordinates on the ground.

'This ...' Did such a thing really exist?

While he was still in shock and anger, the Batmobile had already driven over to his position. This was because the Batmobile had a special system that was connected to the satellite.

The satellite directly captured bark son's location and transmitted it to the Batmobile.

Soon, the Batmobile arrived directly in front of vison. Seeing the flying Batmobile, the people of Dara town became even more panicked.

Only a real Batmobile could fly.

Soon, the Batmobile was floating above feisen's head. At this time, the " Batman " came out of the Batmobile and pounced directly at feisen.

what? " bark son's eyes widened in shock. He took out his weapon and shot at the Batman a few times, hitting the 'Batman' in the chest.

But to his shock, Batman was hit a few times and fell to the ground, but he was fine. Then he turned around and ran directly to barking.

This scene scared bark Sen, and so did his subordinates. They were so frightened that they began to flee, not even having the courage to resist.

The man in front of him was really Batman.

If he wasn't Batman, how could he not be afraid of bullets?

"You ... You ... Who is it?" ah! bark son retreated in fear, the panic on his face unconcealed.

Chapter 1780 The Third Fruit Of Power!

.. Fei Sen was completely shocked by the scene in front of him.

Moreover, an impenetrable racing car with a bullet-proof batman inside, what would you do if this combination appeared in front of you?

How could he not be dumbfounded?

Anyone would be dumbfounded, alright?

However, the special warrior in the batman uniform ignored Fei Sen and said, ""Justice will not be late!"

Then, under Fei Sen's dumbfounded gaze, he fired a few more shots and killed him.

The people of the Kudal family who were scared silly did not dare to attack at this time, afraid that they would become the next target.

The special warrior did not care about these people anymore. He pressed a button and the hover car automatically landed beside him.

He got back on the Batmobile and activated the hover function of the hover car again. He flew out of Dara Town in front of everyone.

He was not a bloodthirsty person, and his mission was only to destroy the Kudal family.

Now that the leader, Fei Sen, was dead, the Kudal Family would be replaced immediately.

A new force would appear in Dara Town.

Moreover, it was Fei Sen who was staring at the border of their country.

If the leader of the next force wasn't stupid and knew how to investigate, he would probably know why the Kudal Family and the Weisen Family were seeking their own deaths.

He probably wouldn't dare to have any ideas like Fei Sen.

Naturally, if there were still such people who were courting death, he would just do it again. This was not a problem.

" Mission completed. " The special warrior reported from inside the Batmobile.

At this moment.

In the Jing Lin Laboratory, the people in the media hall were all watching the satellite broadcast in amazement.

The researchers also reported seriously.

" Under this assault, the attacks and artillery fire didn't damage the Batmobile's defense layer. "

" Yes, the Batmobile's overall performance isn't damaged. It only suffered a slight impact damage. It just needs a little repair. "

" This defense is too terrifying. After all, it was attacked by an IFV, but it was still safe and sound. Even the driver inside didn't suffer too much impact. "

However, even without the report of the researchers, Minister Luo and the leader knew how awesome the hover car was.

It could be said that when this thing was put into use, it would definitely be a terrifying killing intent.

If they were to encounter them on the battlefield, no special forces of any country would be able to resist them.

Presumably, it wouldn't be long before some people would also receive this news. They would probably be panic-stricken.

Qin Lin looked at the broadcast and thought of one thing. The scene of the special warrior killing Fei Sen and returning to the Batmobile was no different from the real batman, right?

Would he look more like a batman if he wore the clothes and the batcar?

After all, he had consumed two fruits of the Tree of Strength, and his physique, strength, speed, and agility were much better than those warriors who had consumed the body strengthening potion.

Therefore, he could totally be a superhero.

In the movies, the physical strength of the batman might not be as strong as his.

Most importantly, he was also very rich. Even Batman might not be richer than him.

This really proved that losers relied on mutation, while rich people relied on technology.

He had both technology and wealth.

However, when he thought of the saying that the rich relied on technology, he thought of another thing.

Compared to the Batmobile, would Iron Man be more awesome?

The key was that Iron Man could fly.

As humans, who didn't fantasize about the sky?

Who hadn't thought that they could fly freely in the sky?

Although in terms of status, means, and intelligence, Batman was a little more powerful.

After all, he could deal with all superheroes, and he knew the weaknesses of all superheroes.

However, in terms of coolness and functionality, Iron Man was still better.

Thinking of this, he immediately thought of the gnome Elba!

After all, if he showed the video of Great White to Elba, his father, the number one goblin craftsman, would be able to get Great White out.

What if he gave Elba the video of Iron Man?

Thinking about it, Iron Man's energy battery shouldn't be so easy to make. When Elba's father came up with a Goblin Rune version, it would be a pain in the ass.

Thinking about it, he could make a video of a falcon flying, Elba.

At that time, whether it was the Falcon's flying device or the steel armor, it seemed to be very good.

This could satisfy his desire to fly in the sky.

Thinking of this, Qin Lin hurriedly left Jinglin's laboratory and returned to Jinglin Manor.

As soon as he entered his office, he took out an unused iPad and searched for videos about Falcon and Iron Man.

Marvel movies were so famous. There were also many videos of Falcon and Iron Man on many nights.

Because he quickly downloaded a lot of videos related to Falcon and f * ck you, and then edited them into the iPad!

Then, he locked the office door and entered the game with a thought.
