

The Game 35

Chapter 35: The Stunned Zhao Moqing! 1

The entrance of the villa was connected to the intersecting road between Sand City and the city. A sign was also erected at the entrance. On it was a triangular advertisement photo of the Plum Sea. Cars passing by could be seen at a glance.

Because of the +3 entry attribute, the promotional photos produced by Qin Ren's studio seemed artistic and inexplicably attractive.

When the villa opened, Qin Lin did not play any fancy tricks because he felt that there was no need.

After entering the villa, Qin Lin drove the car to the hall. As it was opening today, Gao Yaoyao and the other employees were preparing.

Master Lin was already wearing a chef's suit. After all, he was a chef, and the maintenance of the triangular plum had been handed to the three landscapers.

"Chen Dabei, get someone to move the things in the car into the hall. I've written the price on it. Get Gao Yaoyao to mark the price," Qin Lin instructed Chen Dabei after getting out of the car.

"Okay, Boss!" Chen Dabei, the security captain, was already used to going forward to help when his boss arrived.

After moving the okra, strawberries, and watermelons down, Gao Yaoyao brought the girls and waiters over.

There were already a few shelves in the hall. They knew that the boss would transport things to place them and prepare to sell them to the tourists.

However, when Gao Yaoyao saw the price, she was stunned. "Boss, is this price wrong? The watermelon is 100 yuan per catty."

The other waiters were also surprised.

Not only were there watermelons, but there was also a small box of strawberries and okra marked with 200 yuan and 400 yuan respectively.

This must be a mistake. How could it be so expensive?

"There's no mistake. Sell it at this price," Qin Lin explained. Looking at Gao Yaoyao and the others' expressions, he instructed, "Master Lin, cut a watermelon and let everyone taste it."

Qin Lin's words made everyone a little incredulous. To be honest, commoners like them had never seen anyone dare to sell watermelons at such an expensive price.

When Master Lin heard the instructions, he picked up a watermelon and went to the kitchen to cut it. Then, he took it out and distributed it to everyone present.

Gao Yaoyao and the other girls picked up the watermelon and tasted it with mixed feelings.

After all, this was a watermelon that was sold for 100 yuan per 500 grams. They did not know how it tasted.

However, after taking a bite, Gao Yaoyao almost bit her tongue. It was too delicious.

“How can this melon be so delicious?” a waiter exclaimed.

“Yes, it’s so delicious. I almost bit my tongue.” Gao Yaoyao nodded crazily.

Deliciousness +2, sweetness +2, taste +2, and aftertaste +2 were no joke.

After tasting this melon, Gao Yaoyao and the others only had one thought. It seemed like they could sell this melon for 100 yuan per 500 grams.

Master Lin was already old, but he still ate like the other girls. He could not help but praise, “Boss, I’ve never eaten such delicious melons in my life. These shouldn’t be ordinary melons, right?”

Qin Lin nodded and said, “This is a special watermelon that has just been cultivated. It’s not available on the market now. I’m the only one selling it.”

This Quality 2 watermelon was unique. If it was not a special breed, what was it?

Gao Yaoyao thought of something after eating a piece of watermelon and asked, “Boss, aren’t you selling ordinary watermelons? Although this melon is extremely delicious and has a price tag, others don’t know. If a busybody takes a video and writes a title complaining about this astronomical price for watermelon, it’ll be a little troublesome if it’s posted online.”

These words reminded Qin Lin.

That was indeed the case.

Even if the price was clearly stated and the transaction was voluntary, busybodies could always complicate things.

However, it was not a problem. If he used two boxes to plant some watermelons of Quality 1, there would be a comparison between Quality 1 watermelons and Quality 2 watermelons. He could also add a batch of ordinary watermelons and raise the price of Quality 1 watermelons to 10 yuan per 500 grams.

There was also some ordinary okra. The quality was 15 yuan per catty.

After all, it was common knowledge that the prices of different fruits were different. If there were doubts, they would cut the watermelon in public and let others try it. The difference would be obvious. Even if there were busybodies, they could shut up. Otherwise, it would be unreasonable.

It was the same for strawberries. Some ordinary strawberries were sold for 25 yuan. Quality 1 strawberries were sold for 40 yuan, and Quality 2 strawberries were sold for 200 yuan.

At the thought of this, Qin Lin shoveled the two boxes of okra in his mind and planted watermelon seeds. Then, he drove the tricycle back to the county and went straight to the wholesale market to buy a batch of watermelons and strawberries.

He would do that for the time being and adjust it according to the situation after opening.

After settling everything, he went home to take a shower and went to a car rental shop to rent a car. He was going to bring his mother and Zhao Moqing to the villa today. The small electric car could not accommodate them.

When he drove the rented car back to the district, Lin Fen was already waiting with Wang Cai.

She had even dressed up meticulously today, which was rare. Furthermore, even Wang Cai had put on a pet shirt.

Qin Lin had been busy these past few days, so Lin Fen brought Wang Cai out for a walk and bought one for the dog.

This dog was very smart and knew how to please others. Lin Fen liked it very much.

After paying off the debt at home, she felt much more relaxed. Her son's business was opening today, and she only had happiness and pride.

"Woof!" When Wang Cai saw that Qin Lin had arrived, it cried out happily. As soon as the car door opened, it rushed in.

After picking up his mother, Qin Lin went to Zhao Moqing's district.

Zhao Moqing was already waiting outside the district. When she saw the car stop, she went forward.

Qin Lin had already told her the car plate number.

After she got into the car, she said to Lin Fen, "Auntie!"

When Lin Fen saw Zhao Moqing's smile, she was even happier. She was very satisfied with her son as her girlfriend.

Now that the debt at home had been paid, her remaining wish was for her son to quickly marry Zhao Moqing.

"Woof!" The dog also greeted her and rubbed its head against Zhao Moqing in a fawning manner.

"Wang Cai." Zhao Moqing also reached out and rubbed the dog's head.

The car started and left the county city to head to Qinglin Villa.

Along the way, Lin Fen was fine. She was just looking forward to what her son's villa was like.

However, as Zhao Moqing followed the car forward, a puzzled expression gradually appeared on her face.

Because she was familiar with this road. Wasn't this the way to Fuhai Villa?

As they got closer, Zhao Moqing was a little anxious. "Qin Lin, you got the farmhouse here? Don't you know that there's a Fuhai Villa here?"

She was really anxious. It was not easy for her boyfriend to leave some money to start a career. Even if she gave all her money to Qin Lin, it would be a waste to start a farmhouse beside Fuhai Villa.

After all, the new boss of Fuhai Villa had created such a beautiful sea of flowers.

However, when the car stopped in the parking lot of Qinglin Villa, Zhao Moqing was stunned.

Qinglin Villa?

Why was it here?

An unbelievable thought surfaced in her mind. Qinglin... Zhao Moqing, Qin Lin?

Was the tycoon who had bought Fuhai Villa really Qin Lin?

This thought made Zhao Moqing feel a little surreal. She knew her husband's family.

"Boss!" The security guard guarding the parking lot greeted Qin Lin respectfully when he got out of the car.

This confirmed Zhao Moqing's guess, and she could not help but open her beautiful mouth. "Qin Lin, what's going on?"

After Lin Fen got out of the car, she looked at the villa in front of her happily.

She clearly did not expect the villa her son had built to be so good. It far exceeded her imagination.

Hearing Zhao Moqing's words, she helped her son explain, "Moqing, Xiao Lin was lucky. He caught a wild ornamental fish and sold it for more than 600,000 yuan. Then, he sold it wholesale for a few days and opened this villa with the money he earned."

Zhao Moqing frowned because something was wrong. She knew that this villa auction alone had cost 1.2 million yuan. It would definitely cost more to build a sea of flowers.

However, looking at Lin Fen's happy expression, she did not express her confusion lest she worries.

"Auntie, let's go in and take a look!" Zhao Moqing held Lin Fen's hand and walked into the villa.

Lin Fen also placed her hand on Zhao Moqing's arm happily.

The two women were as intimate as mother and daughter, but Qin Lin suddenly seemed to be an outsider.

A moment later, the two of them were attracted by the beautiful triangular sea of plum blossoms not far away.

"Those are triangular plums? You planted so many?" Lin Fen said in surprise.

Zhao Moqing looked at the sea of flowers with a strange expression.

Previously, when she and her sister-in-law saw the promotional video, they were attracted by this sea of flowers.

At that time, Sister-in-law had even joked that Qin Lin was the one who opened Qinglin Villa and named it after them.

Sister-in-law definitely did not believe that this would happen, right? Her jaw would probably drop.

Then, Zhao Moqing thought of something. She remembered that back in the hotel room, she had casually said that if Fuhai Villa got a triangular sea of plum blossoms, it would definitely be popular.

Unexpectedly, Qin Lin actually remembered and really made a triangular sea of plum blossoms.

This made her turn to look at Qin Lin. Her eyes were watery as if she was feeling touched.

Qin Lin noticed Zhao Moqing's gaze. Her watery eyes were very charming. He considered eating some Quality 2 okra tonight and then booking a room at the hotel in advance.

The opening of the villa had to be celebrated in a special way.
