

The Game 371

Chapter 371: I Don't Even Dare to Criticize Them Now! I Don't Know Where to Start!

This kind of sponsorship information was usually updated in time.

Yu Sheng quickly saw the latest news that Qinglin Tea was sponsoring the national team's Asian Games.

When he really saw this news, Yu Sheng knew that things were going to be bad.

He shouted in panic at the subordinate who had contacted the Weibo verified account and the short video blogger, "Stop quickly. Don't post those messages."

What a joke. The national team had designated the sponsored drink, so it must have been tested by many parties and there was no problem. At this time, what news was there to slander Qinglin Tea for having exciting substances? Was he questioning the officials, the International Olympic Committee, or organizing an association in Asia? Or was he implying that the official national team was using illegal substances?

No matter what, it was a dead end.

Once public opinion was aroused, it would not matter if the officials really investigated. At that time, he did not know if Red Bull would be implicated. As the general agent of the Southern District, he would definitely be finished. Moreover, his outcome would be very tragic.

Seeing Yu Sheng's nervous expression, the subordinate hurriedly said, "Boss, it hasn't been sent yet."

"Phew!" Yu Sheng heaved a sigh of relief when he heard this. He was really frightened.

The subordinate asked again, "Boss, should we inform Pulse Tea and East Roc Special Drink?"

"There's no need," Yu Sheng said directly. He was even looking forward to it. If someone from those two families made a move as promised, there would be a commotion. He might even be able to fish in troubled waters.

As he thought about it, he looked forward to getting his subordinates to pay attention to this news.

Unfortunately, he waited. He didn't see the brand's general agent from the Southern District make a move.

Clearly no one was a fool.

In the end, Yu Sheng could only sit back in his office chair helplessly and call the Red Bull headquarters.

In this situation, there was such a huge difference in the quality of the products, and they could not use dirty methods to deal with Qinglin Tea. It was no longer something that could be resolved by marketing.

Think about how the number one phone brand had quickly collapsed to the point that no one cared about it now. Didn't it have marketing methods and business methods?

Without these methods, they would not have been able to become number one in the past. It was just that other companies had refurbished an era in technology. No matter how they marketed or used business methods, it was useless.

Because the technology era had changed, unless they also upgraded their technology.

Before that, the so-called functional drinks were actually more or less the same effect. No one was stronger. What everyone made at most was a change in taste before continuing to sell for money. Everyone was on the same level. They compared brands, marketing methods, and business methods.

Qinglin Tea seemed to be a product of the refurbished era on this functional drink. The brands they represented were like the phone company in the past, their technology quality was inferior.

In this situation, they could only rely on upgrading the quality of the products.

Fortunately, this was only a beverage product. With the funds of the brands they represented, it should not be difficult to crack the imitation.

However, before this, he could only watch as Qinglin Tea wantonly occupied the market for functional drinks.

At that time, Qinglin Tea would probably be an unshakable brand of functional drinks. It would be impossible to kill it again.

At the same time, the general agent for the Southern District of East Roc Special Drink and Pulse Tea reported the same news as the head office.

After hearing the news from the head office, they all verified Qinglin Tea overnight.

On this night, many of the upper echelons of these beverage brands would not be able to sleep at night.

This was because they had all verified the effect of Qinglin Tea. However, Qinglin Tea was already unstoppable on the Internet and had become a sponsored drink for the national team of the Asian Games. They did not know where to start.

This situation was extremely uncomfortable.

Now, all they could do was start the meeting overnight. Then, like the top 10 ketchup brands, they would urgently throw a large sum of money to the laboratory and start the cracking of Qinglin Tea.

During this period, they could only watch as Qinglin Tea occupied the functional drink market.

Chapter 372: You're Worse Than a Dog! Liu Yi's Request!

Early in the morning.

The atmosphere in Qinglin Villa was very lively before the tourists arrived.

Because today was the day to move the dormitory.

After so long, the dormitory could finally be checked in.

Before the tourists arrived, those who applied for a dormitory could go to the HR department to collect their keys and check the location of their dormitory.

Although many employees had families in the county city and were more willing to receive housing subsidies and go home after work, there were also many employees whose families rented houses in the county city and were already waiting to live in dormitories.

Therefore, they went to their dormitory early in the morning to see who their roommates were.

The dormitory was built according to the structure of a famous university's new era dormitory. It was divided into four people and six people according to the size of the room. There was an air conditioner, a water heater, and a separate bathroom. The environment was very good.

Gao Yaoyao entered the dormitory immediately after obtaining the key and walked towards the stairs on the right.

The left and right sides of the dormitory were separated. The male dormitory area on the left and the female dormitory area on the right.

As she went upstairs, she saw the employees chatting happily as they cleaned their dormitory. The dormitory was clearly much better than the place they had rented. They were all very satisfied.

Gao Yaoyao arrived at her dormitory on the third floor.

She lived in a large single room for supervisors. She was equally satisfied with the environment.

This was many times more luxurious than the previous small dormitory.

Qin Lin did not pay much attention to such a small matter like moving the dormitory. He only saw the announcement sent by the HR department backstage yesterday and approved it.

He moved the items from the game to the villa early in the morning and returned to his office to check the order for Qinglin Tea.

After Qinglin Tea became the designated sponsored beverage for this year's Asian Games, Wang Yang's orders increased overnight.

The market in the provincial capital of Min Province should be ready to take down soon.

When all 40 new production lines from Ning City's factory were in place, he would be able to choose one or two agents in other areas.

After checking the situation of Qinglin Tea, Qin Lin looked at the game on the screen in his mind. He caught 35 fish today and cut down all the trees that spawned today.

Today was another day without high-quality trees and mountain goods.

After doing this, Qin Lin picked up his phone and checked the popularity of Qinglin Tea today.

However, he had just scrolled to the first video when he couldn't help but curse. "F*ck, what's this Starbucks?"

He could not be blamed for cursing. The video was posted by an official news account:

The Chinese police officers did not have time to eat on duty. In order to save time, they bought lunch boxes and ate them outside Starbucks. Unexpectedly, they were chased away by the Starbucks staff and even took photos to complain that they had affected their brand image.

As expected of a product from Country M. They didn't even know whose country this was anymore, but it was still affecting their brand image? How ridiculous.

They still wanted a brand image?

Qin Lin couldn't help but leave a comment on the video: If Starbucks doesn't close down and apologize, all the people from their country will be responsible.

He was not an angry youth, but this kind of thing was really annoying.

Fortunately, all the netizens in the comments section had a scale in their hearts and no shepherd dogs appeared.

Qin Lin scrolled through some more videos and saw a few videos about Qinglin Tea. Moreover, there were also sports celebrities who posted videos saying that they were looking forward to Qinglin Tea.

This meant that Qinglin Tea was very popular. It was a good thing, but when he saw a national football star, the one who did not move at all while the Nation Y player dribbled the ball past him, he said that with the help of Qinglin Tea, he would definitely achieve good results in the Asian Games.

When Qin Lin saw this video, he almost said, "Don't. If you still stand still after drinking it, people will misunderstand that Qinglin Tea is ineffective."

However, there was no choice. After all, the national football team was also a member of the Asian Games.

Woof, woof!

Wang Cai's barking sounded outside the office. There was even a knock on the door. From the sound, he could tell that the dog was knocking on the door.

Qin Lin got up and walked to the door to open it. He saw the dog raising its claws to knock on the office door again.

When the dog saw the door open and Qin Lin appear, its claws stopped and it grinned at him fawningly.

Qin Lin saw that there was also a QR code on the dog's neck. Moreover, the QR code was much bigger than the squirrel's red fur.

Could this be the same trick played by the multimedia department again?

The effect of creating a separate number for Red Hair was not bad. Although it could not compare to those pet Internet celebrities with tens of millions of fans, the little squirrel was cute and lively. It would even find lucky people to give gifts and had earned millions of fans in a short period of time.

Therefore, the dog became Lin Lanzi's second target and also created a certain account for it.

Looking at the QR code, was he going to let the dog take advantage of the popularity of Qinglin Tea to open for business?

But wasn't this kind of QR code cliché?

Moreover, the dog had never learned the pet skill of finding lucky people to give gifts. Could this work?

As Qin Lin was thinking, he saw that the dog had already bitten the QR code and was looking at him expectantly.

"..." Qin Lin understood what he meant. He took out the QR code and scanned it.

However, the information that popped up stunned him. It was not the same delivery routine as the little squirrel. Instead, it was a payment QR code and a payment notification:

Chapter 373: You're Worse Than a Dog! Liu Yi's Request!

"The dog is called Wang Cai. It quarreled with the boss and doesn't want to eat the dog food given by the boss. It wants to earn its own dog food. Pay it a penny and you can take photos with it!"

This dog wanted money.

But what did it mean by the dog arguing with the boss?

When had he argued with the dog?

Would he go and argue with a dog?

However, looking at the dog's expectant eyes, it was clearly having a good time.

The dog naturally did not understand what it meant by asking for money. However, after teaching it, animals like dogs would like to be involved in some things.

The smarter the dog, the more it would like to play and would often pester its master to play with it.

This was also why many people liked dogs to learn to carry slippers to their feet. To the dog, it was actually playing with its master.

As a reminder, once a husky was discovered to be tearing down the house, it had to be hit hard.

If it was just scolded and not hit hard, it would think its owner was playing with it.

Therefore, in the eyes of the husky, demolition = the owner will play with it.

While Qin Lin was in a daze, the dog saw that he had already run out happily after scanning the QR code. Soon, he found the little squirrel, Red Hair.

Red Hair was holding the QR code and giving gifts to the two girls.

Seeing this, the dog bit the QR code on its neck and ran over.

The two girls scanned the little squirrel's QR code with their phones and jumped up happily a moment later because they were lucky.

The little squirrel had given them two Beauty Eggs today.

The two girls were happy when they suddenly realized that a dog was squatting in front of them. It was also biting a QR code.

The girls' eyes lit up. Was there any other animal that would give gifts?

One of the girls immediately took out her phone and scanned the QR code in the dog's mouth expectantly. Then, the scene that popped up stunned the two girls.

This was a payment QR code with a payment notification: "The dog is called Wang Cai. It quarreled with the boss and doesn't want to eat the dog food given by the boss. It wants to earn its own dog food. Just pay it a penny and you can take photos with it!"

This notification wanted Qin Lin to complain, but it was very interesting to the tourists. They could even imagine a cartoon of a dog arguing with its master and going out to beg.

"The dog is so pitiful. It actually wants to earn its own dog food." A girl was actually sympathetic and directly gave the dog 50 yuan.

"Can we take a photo with it now?" the other girl asked.

The two girls tried to crouch down on either side of the dog to take selfies, but to their surprise, the dog was surprisingly cooperative. It showed flattery, silliness, stupidity, and all kinds of cooperation to the camera.

This surprised the two girls.

After all, cooperating with the photos was the dog's ability. Back then, when it had just been adopted, it had captured its mistress and became her new favorite.

It was only during this period of time that the dog opened for business. Lin Lanzi had also asked Lin Fen to help teach it these things. The dog was very obedient to her. In fact, Lin Fen was in charge of the money the dog received.

After all, this was money her daughter had earned.

When the two girls saw how magical Wang Cai was, they immediately became excited and took many photos with the dog. They had the urge to buy a pet dog.

A moment later, the dog escaped the girls' clutches and quickly left to find another couple holding Chihuahuas.

When she saw a big black dog running over, the female tourist holding the Chihuahua puppy was a little anxious. She was afraid it was coming for her Chihuahua.

After all, her Chihuahua was a beautiful little princess. She had been targeted by many dogs when she went out.

However, as soon as the woman picked up the Chihuahua, she realized that the big black dog did not have any ill intentions. Instead, it bit a big QR code and looked at her and her husband.

She even saw anticipation in the black dog's eyes.

She asked curiously, "Hubby, did he ask us to scan the QR code? I heard that there are small squirrels giving gifts at the villa. Does this dog also give gifts?"

The man took out his phone and scanned the QR code expectantly when he heard his wife's words. Then he looked stunned.

Seeing that he was strange, the woman asked curiously, "Hubby, what's wrong?"

The man smiled and handed the phone to his wife.

When the woman saw the notification on it, she cursed, "How can the owner of this villa be like this? How can he argue with his dog alone? He even forced it to earn money?"

"..." The man wanted to cover his face when he heard his wife's words. This was clearly written by the villa. He actually took it seriously.

Seeing that his wife had actually paid the dog 100 yuan sympathetically, he shook his head. Who asked him to like such a silly and sweet wife?

After paying, the woman hugged the Chihuahua and wanted to take photos with the poor dog. Wang Cai cooperated and leaned forward again.

The woman was surprised. Was this dog so smart? She also realized that it could grin at the camera. It was too smart.

The woman tried a few more poses, but the dog actually cooperated. It felt like it was about to become a spirit.

Woof! ~

When Wang Cai saw that the woman was still taking photos, it cried out a moment later and ran away from the woman's clutches to look for the next tourist.

The woman was clearly unsatisfied. She looked at the photo she had taken. The dog was really smart and obedient. How could the villa owner bear to quarrel with it?

Chapter 374: You're Worse Than a Dog! Liu Yi's Request!

Then she looked resentfully at her Chihuahua. "Why aren't you so smart?"

The Chihuahua clearly did not understand what was wrong with its master. It looked at her innocently.

In the end, the woman could only carry the Chihuahua and her husband to the Sea of Flowers. No matter how stupid her dog was, it was hers. No matter how smart someone else's dog was, it was not theirs.

Not long after.

However, Lin Fen went to the multimedia department to look for Lin Lanzi in fear. “Xiao Lin, look, the money for this account has been increasing. It’s already so much. Will there be a problem?”

Lin Fen took out her phone and showed Lin Lanzi the receipt of an account.

This account was the one connected to the dog’s QR code.

Received 50 yuan.

Received 100 yuan.

Received 10 yuan.

Received 20 yuan.

Received 5 yuan.

...

Lin Lanzi was stunned when she saw the payment messages.

She had gotten someone to specially write a penny on the QR code notification because she was afraid that if the tourists gave too much, people would think that they were using dogs to earn money.

Who knew that this tourist would pay so much money for scanning the QR code?

Furthermore, there were nearly 20 QR code-clearing messages.

As she was thinking, her phone rang again.

Received 30 yuan.

Received 20 yuan.

“...” Lin Lanzi was stunned.

This dog was actually so efficient?

Counting carefully, the dog’s income was almost 400 yuan.

Received 30 yuan.

Another message.

Okay, it had already earned 400 yuan.

Even if it was just 400 yuan a day, wouldn’t this dog be able to earn 12,000 yuan a month?

The point was, how long had it been?

What was her salary?

As Lin Lanzi thought about it, she suddenly realized that her mentality was about to collapse. She could only say enviously, “Aunt Fen, it’s fine. Just treat it as Wang Cai’s private money.”

“My dog earns so much in a day?” Lin Fen found it unbelievable even when she heard Lin Lanzi say that. “Doesn’t it earn more than my salary in a month?”

“...” Lin Lanzi really wanted to say that at this rate, it would earn more than everyone in the villa.

Under the popularity of Qinglin Tea, the dog’s act of riding on the popularity was undoubtedly successful.

As it excitedly looked for more tourists to scan the QR code, someone posted this scene online in surprise.

The video about the ‘fight between the boss of Qinglin Villa and his dog, Wang Cai’, easily became popular.

This was naturally the result of Lin Lanzi and the multimedia department.

Many people commented excitedly when they saw this popular video:

“I didn’t expect the boss of Qinglin to be such a boss. He actually quarreled with a dog.”

“Who has seen a boss who quarreled with a dog? Only the boss of Qinglin Villa can do so.”

“...”

As Wang Cai became popular, many tourists even searched for this dog that had quarreled with the villa’s owner in the villa. Then, they scanned the QR code for it to buy dog food.

Anyone who could come to Qinglin Villa to play would have a monthly income of more than 5,000 yuan, right? No one cared about 10 or 20 yuan.

Wang Cai’s account followers were also growing as quickly as the squirrel.

An Internet celebrity dog was born just like that. In the future, it would become a kind of Easter egg program in the villa like the little squirrel. The tourists who came to the villa would not mind taking photos with the dog with a hint of anticipation.

In the evening, someone came to Qin Lin’s office.

Gao Yaoyao walked into the office with Liu Yi. “Boss, Mr. Liu is here.”

“President Liu, please sit.” Qin Lin welcomed Liu Yi to the tea table and sat down. Then, he took a bag of tea leaves and took out a little to make tea.

The other party was also a tycoon. Last time, at the villa’s Supreme Set Meal, he had bought three spots from those who had won the prize. After the first time, there were still two spots that had not been used.

When the other party suddenly came to the villa to see him, he could not not give him any face.

Qin Lin made a pot of tea and poured a cup for Liu Yi.

Liu Yi politely picked up the cup of tea and took two sips before saying in surprise, “President Qin, your tea is delicious!”

Qin Lin smiled and asked, "President Liu, why are you here this time?"

Only then did Liu Yi get down to business. "President Qin, I'm here today to ask you for a favor. Didn't I still have two slots for the Supreme Set? I want to use them tomorrow."

"I know that after your stipulated event, I need to inform you in advance if you want to use the quota again, but I really have no choice this time. President Qin, please make an exception."

His attitude was clearly very amiable, even a little pleading.

After all, President Qin's status was not lower than his.

It was true that his group's market value was higher than the other party's, but he knew that with Qinglin Ketchup and Qinglin Tea, he, Chen Shengfei, and Ma Liewen would probably be surpassed by President Qin soon.

Qin Lin would still give face to a tycoon like Liu Yi. He said, "President Liu, it's still early if you tell me a day in advance. I'll get the kitchen to prepare it for you tomorrow!"

When Liu Yi heard Qin Lin's words, he immediately said gratefully, "President Qin, thank you very much. I owe you a favor this time. If you have any instructions in the future, I'll definitely help you."

When Qin Lin heard this, he said curiously, "President Liu, from the looks of it, you should be treating someone important to this Supreme Set meal, right? Do I need to pay attention to anything?"

Liu Yi said in frustration, "President Qin doesn't need to specially prepare anything. He's just an evil guest. I was tricked by Old Yang this time."

"Old Yang? President Liu, what's going on?" Qin Lin was even more curious.

He naturally knew about Old Yang. He used to hold a Red Gate Feast in Ming City every year. His culinary skills were astonishing. Countless rich people in Min Province fought to attend this Red Gate Feast every year.

It could be said that this Red Gate Feast was the highest threshold of food in the entire Min Province. Old Yang was also the ceiling of culinary skills in the Min Province.

Now that Liu Yi said that he had been tricked by Old Yang, it should be because he wanted to use the Supreme Set meal once.

When Liu Yi saw Qin Lin ask, he sighed and said, "President Qin, I'm in the business of importing and exporting food materials. I've always been working with a foreign Bilis Corporation. The other party is also the largest supplier of Michelin restaurants."

"We've always worked well together. After signing the contract, the other party's boss suddenly suggested letting his son cook a meal to celebrate."

"I have to say that the son's cooking is very delicious. The key is that the other party's rich second-generation heir is actually a Michelin three-star master chef. There are less than 10 three-star masters in the world. It's really not inferior to the few delicious dishes of your villa's Supreme Set."

"It's just that the other party is too arrogant and thinks that his culinary skills surpass any Chinese chef. I'm a Taotie to begin with. How can I tolerate it if he says that Chinese food is inferior to their Western food? He must say that we have better Chinese food."

"After all, I've eaten at the Red Gate Feast before. I know Old Yang's culinary skills. They're not something this Michelin three-star master can compare to. I'm in the food and materials business and have a relationship with Old Yang, so I invited him to do it."

"Old Yang clearly promised to compete with the other party. Who knew that Old Yang would trick me and actually let his son fight? He wants his son to defeat this Michelin three-star master and become famous and revive the Red Gate Feast."

"But Old Yang's disciple's skills didn't pass, and his son's skills didn't pass either. Old Yang can look down on less than 10 three-star Michelin masters in the world, but what right does his son have?"

"In the end, Old Yang's son suffered a crushing defeat and was mocked until he couldn't raise his head. Old Yang was so angry that he was hospitalized with a cerebral hemorrhage."

"It wouldn't have been like this if he had appeared himself, but didn't he cheat me? Now, the son of my partner is preparing to go back and announce that he has defeated the most powerful Chinese chef and made himself famous overseas."

"If the other party really publicizes it like this, I won't have any face left. Therefore, I can only beg Boss Qin to use the Supreme Set for once and let the other party try it."

He had eaten the Supreme Set meal of Qinglin Villa and the culinary skills of the other party, who was a three-star Michelin master. To be precise, the few delicious dishes cooked by the chef of the villa were on par with the other party.

That was enough.

As long as the two sides tied, the other party would not have the face to say that he had defeated the best Chinese chef.

Moreover, it was not embarrassing to tie. After all, a three-star Michelin master was an elite among three-star Michelin chefs. There were less than 10 in the world.

It was also the top level in the world.

After all, not every Chinese chef was Old Yang. He could ignore these top Western chefs in the world.

Now that Old Yang had been hospitalized with a brain hemorrhage, no one in the entire Min Province knew when such a chef would appear.

Chapter 375: Is This Wine Magical? How Can There Be Such Cooking?

After Liu Yi received Qin Lin's answer, he thanked him solemnly before returning to Ming City. Then, he immediately went to the famous Lanhui Hotel in Ming City.

His foreign partner was staying at this hotel.

When they arrived outside a presidential suite in the hotel, Liu Yi was welcomed into the suite by a middle-aged white man with a face full of stubble.

The other party was his business partner, Douglas.

As soon as he entered, he heard a young man video-chatting with a blond woman. "Liz, you have to believe me. All that publicity in Chinatown is fake. Chinese food really isn't that good. The food made by their best Chinese chef is too different from what I make."

"Liu, I'm sorry. Lasda is too full of himself." Douglas apologized, but he was clearly smiling.

For someone like him who dealt in food materials, his son's identity as a three-star Michelin master was a big plus.

After all, there were only a few Michelin three-star masters in the world.

And defeating the most powerful Chinese chef could also increase their reputation. It was also beneficial.

After all, Liu Yi had personally found the most powerful Chinese chef and said it himself.

Liu Yi frowned and said, "Douglas, this is nothing. However, before you leave, I want to treat you to another delicious meal tomorrow."

Douglas smiled. "Your enthusiasm is hard to refuse, Liu. I'll look forward to tomorrow's delicacies."

After Liu Yi informed Douglas, he left the hotel again.

After Liu Yi left, Lasda smiled and said, "Father, it seems that your Chinese friend is indignant about his previous failure and thinks that a Chinese chef can defeat my culinary skills. He has found another chef, right?"

Douglas nodded. "I'm not stupid. Naturally, I saw what Liu was up to. Then tomorrow, I'll show your skills and make Liu give up completely."

"Don't worry!" Lasda said with a smile. "After all, there are only about 10 three-star Michelin masters like me in the world."

...

The next day.

Liu Yi made arrangements for the company in the morning and went to the Lanhui Hotel to pick up Douglas and Lasda. Then, he spent some time at Qinglin Villa.

The car stopped.

Liu Yi got out of the car with Douglas and Lasda.

As soon as Lasda got out of the car, he made a strange surprised sound. "This seems to be a scenic spot. Uncle Liu, the delicacies you mentioned can't be in this scenic spot, right? Then I might be disappointed."

“Real gourmet restaurants never appear in scenic spots. Besides, scenic spots are not a good environment to eat in. Scenic spots have always been the first place to exclude top-notch Western food.”

“Red wine, steak, foie gras sauce, booths, candlelight, light music... The environment, the taste, the wine, the mood. For a good restaurant and good food, nothing is missing. It’s the essence of food that has to have it all.”

Liu Yi did not refute. It was true that Western food was more stylish, but they were also a group of barbarians pretending to be gentlemen. Moreover, after being tricked by Old Yang, he was in no position to refute now.

Old Yang’s son’s face was about to swell from being slapped.

He believed this old fool.

In the original hall of Qinglin Villa.

Master Lin looked at the wild goods, bass, and loach in front of him and said nervously, “Boss, that’s a three-star Michelin master. You won’t ask me to cook this meal, right? I can’t do it. You have to do it yourself.”

After knowing that he was going to cook for a Michelin three-star master today and educate him, he did not want to ruin the villa’s reputation.

After all, he was a three-star Michelin master. Although Chinese and Western chefs had always not gotten along, as long as he reached world-class culinary skills, he was really not someone a chef like him could compare to.

He knew his limits.

“Master Lin, you have to believe in yourself. What kind of culinary skills does he have?” Qin Lin was not worried at all.

Since Liu Yi could come looking for him for help, it meant that the culinary skills of a Michelin three-star master would not be better than the dishes made by Master Lin with Tasty +2 ingredients.

After all, Liu Yi had eaten Master Lin’s Supreme Set meal before. He must have a comparison in his heart.

If Master Lin could not compare to the other party, Liu Yi would not have thought of looking for them.

As they were talking, Liu Yi arrived and walked in with two foreigners.

Douglas followed Liu Yi into the hall with his son, Lasda. He frowned at his surroundings. His first thought was that this place was too lousy.

Lasda frowned, but said boldly, “This doesn’t even look like a restaurant. Is there really any good food in a place like this? If the standards of good food are so low, doesn’t that make anyone a chef?”

Most importantly, he said this in Chinese that he was not familiar with. Qin Lin and Master Lin could hear the contempt and provocation.

They both frowned at Lasda.

Master Lin whispered, "Boss, this foreign young man is too arrogant."

"President Qin." Liu Yi hurriedly walked to Qin Lin's side and said, "I want to entertain Mr. Douglas and his son, Lasda. Sorry to trouble you."

Chapter 376: Is This Wine Magical? How Can There Be Such Cooking?

He clearly emphasized the last few words, "Sorry to trouble you."

Qin Lin nodded and said to Master Lin, "Help me entertain President Liu and the others."

With that, he carried Quality 2 fish, loach, and bass into the kitchen.

Initially, he only wanted Master Lin to take action. Now that this foreigner was so lacking in education, he would just educate him.

Master Lin heaved a sigh of relief when he saw that his boss was going to take action personally. Then, he smiled at Liu Yi and said, "President Liu, please sit here. Wait a moment. My boss will prepare the meal soon."

"Your boss cooks?" Liu Yi was subconsciously shocked when he heard Master Lin's words. "Master Lin, didn't you cook?"

He remembered that the Supreme Set meal he had eaten previously was made by Master Lin.

If Master Lin didn't do it now, would President Qin do it himself?

How could a boss like him know how to cook?

Liu Yi inexplicably felt a little flustered.

Could President Qin be tricking him like Old Yang?

No way.

However, at this moment, he couldn't ask President Qin not to do it. If he let Master Lin do it, it wouldn't be worth it if President Qin was unhappy.

Knowing that President Qin's future achievements would surpass his, he didn't want to have any unhappiness with him.

Why had he suddenly entered a dilemma?

After Liu Yi, Douglas, and Lasda sat down, Master Lin walked toward the bar.

The Supreme Set had Qinglin Medicine Wine.

Qin Lin had already prepared the bottle of wine for Liu Yi's Supreme Set meal and placed it on the bar.

After Douglas and Lasda sat down, they looked at the rough tablecloth on the table with disgust.

Douglas frowned. "Isn't this tablecloth so rough, Liu? Are you sure this is a restaurant?"

Lasda was even less polite. "In our field of Western food, such an environment doesn't even meet the basic standards of most restaurants."

The pride and arrogance in those words could not be concealed at all.

Liu Yi was in no mood to explain. He only hoped that President Qin would not cheat him.

At this moment, Master Lin also took out a bottle of Qinglin Medicine Wine and handed it to Liu Yi. "President Liu, this is the medicinal wine for the Supreme Set."

Now Douglas and Lasda were attracted to the wine.

After all, Quality 1 imitation wine bottles had the attributes of beauty +1, simplicity +1, artistry +1.

Father and son had to admit that the wine bottle was very artistic and exquisite.

"Douglas, try this wine. It's very good." Liu Yi's eyes lit up when he saw the Qinglin Medicine Wine. The father and son had definitely never drunk this medicinal wine.

He opened the bottle and poured a glass for father and son.

Although Lasda admitted that the wine bottle was very good, when he saw Liu Yi pour the wine, he said, "Uncle Liu, good food and wine go together. Red wine is the classic. Red wine represents nobility and romance. It marks a state of life. Red wine for good food is like beauty for women. It matches well and can bring out an alluring charm..."

Liu Yi listened to Lasda's proud tirade again and said directly, "Lasda, this wine can strengthen the body and nourish the kidneys. It's very good for men. Even if you have three girlfriends, can you satisfy them in one night with this wine?"

"What?" Lasda was stunned by Liu Yi's words.

Although he did not have three girlfriends, he understood what Liu Yi meant. This wine could make men very powerful when dealing with women.

Douglas looked at the glass of wine in disbelief. In addition to his wife, he had a secretary and a singer friend. He was also old enough to be helpless. The effect of the wine had clearly attracted him.

At the end of the day, Western men were stronger in the attributes of simsps than Eastern men. After all, they were very chaotic in this aspect.

Douglas couldn't resist taking the glass of wine to his mouth and drinking it. Almost instantly, he felt the warmth flow to his waist, making him feel very comfortable. He couldn't help but murmur.

When Liu Yi saw this, he smiled and asked, "How is it, Douglas?"

As he spoke, he picked up a glass of wine and drank. He was very confident in the Qinglin Medicine Wine. With the effect of strengthening the body and nourishing the kidneys, any red wine would have to stand aside.

Douglas couldn't help but say, "This is unbelievable. Oh my, that warmth at my waist and the blood in my body seems to be flowing smoothly. This wine seems to have magic."

This was naturally the effect of replenishing blood, circulating qi, and strengthening the kidneys +2.

This foreigner had never experienced this before. Wasn't it magic to him?

Beside him, Lasda was eager to try.

He had originally looked down on this wine and thought that red wine was the classic accompaniment.

But he had never expected this wine to have such an effect.

He couldn't help it. He picked up the glass and drank. It was also no more than a moment before he felt the warmth flowing directly to his waist.

There was also the feeling of blood flowing all over his body and his fur bulging.

He understood what his father meant by magic.

There was such a magical wine in the world?

Why didn't the other wines have such an effect?

"Uncle Liu, I didn't expect there to be such wine in the East. I wonder where I can buy this wine?" Lasda couldn't help but ask. In front of such an effective wine, he could put aside the red wine he admired for the time being.

Liu Yi smiled and said, "Lasda, this wine is not as good as those red wines. If you want to drink, I can buy a few bottles of aged red wine for you to bring back."

Chapter 377: Is This Wine Magical? How Can There Be Such Cooking?

"..." Lasda was instantly depressed.

He didn't want red wine now. He wanted this kind of wine.

"Lasda, tell me what red wine you want? Uncle will contact it for you now." Liu Yi looked at his partner's son teasingly again.

Little guy, no matter how proud you are, can't I control you?

Lasda really felt aggrieved. He wanted the wine, but he did not want to admit that the red wine he believed in was not as good as the wine of the East. He could only say with a hint of defiance, "Uncle Liu, this wine is only an ingredient in good food. It doesn't make it better. Good food still depends on cooking."

It meant that he was unconvinced and would not compete with him in wine. Anyway, no matter how good the wine was, his culinary skills were only so-so.

At this moment, Qin Lin walked out with a basin of fish soup.

This pot of fish soup was Quality 2 wild fish + system culinary bonus = Taste +3, Delicious +3, Appetite +1.

This attribute was not something Master Lin's Supreme Set meal could compare to, nor was it something this foreigner's three-star Michelin master culinary skills could compare to.

Moreover, because of the system's fish culinary skills, Qin Lin's fish soup was also delicious.

When Liu Yi saw the fish soup put down, he could not help but take a few more glances. At least President Qin's fish soup looked very appetizing.

At this moment, Master Lin smiled and said, "President Liu, you're really lucky today. Our boss rarely cooks. His culinary skills are much better than mine. I can say that no one in Min Province can cook better than our boss. I'll help you get fish soup."

With that, Master Lin got a bowl of fish soup for Liu Yi and the other two.

Liu Yi's eyes lit up when he heard this.

He knew about Master Lin's culinary skills. The Supreme Set meal he made last time would not be inferior to the culinary skills of Lasda, a three-star Michelin master.

Now that Master Lin said that his culinary skills were inferior to President Qin's, wouldn't Lasda's culinary skills be far inferior to President Qin's?

What...

"This fish seems to be doing a good job." Lasda looked at the fish soup and began to comment confidently again. "However, many chefs pay too much attention to appearance and neglect the texture and deliciousness of the fish itself. Let me try it and see what level this fish soup has reached."

As he spoke, he had already picked up the fish soup and taken a sip. However, as soon as he took a sip, he looked stunned.

This texture, this delicacy...

How was that possible?

Lasda himself was a chef. He was well aware of his culinary standards and even more aware of how incredible the taste and delicious the fish soup was.

He felt his appetite stir.

Could this fish soup have been enchanted?

This was not a delicacy that his culinary skills were capable of making.

Douglas picked up a piece of fish and put it in his mouth. He was also a gourmet and had a deep understanding of delicious food.

Similarly, after taking a bite of the fish, his eyes widened in shock. "This fish..."

He was sure he had never eaten such delicious fish. As for the fish his son had cooked, he knew from the expression he looked at him.

He really could not compare.

After Liu Yi ate the fish, his expression was the most incredulous. "This taste, President Qin. Is... is this fish really made by you?"

This taste was comparable to Old Yang's Red Gate Feast.

He couldn't believe it.

Everyone was rich. Why could he cook better than Old Yang?

One had to know that Old Yang had studied culinary skills for decades. He could only make that Red Gate Feast in his late 50s and become a legend in Min Province.

But President Qin's age...

What a monster.

Qin Lin smiled when he saw Lasda's expression and walked into the kitchen.

Quality 2 wild fish + system-given culinary skills. You're a Michelin three-star master. There are only 10 in your world, so you have to cook obediently.

When he returned to the kitchen, Qin Lin made the rest of the fish, eel, and loach and brought them to the table.

This could be considered an all-fish banquet.

As the dishes were served, Liu Yi became more and more excited and incredulous. This was definitely not inferior to the Red Gate Feast. He even vaguely felt that it was superior.

If those rich people in Min Province knew that there was still a place to eat the Red Gate Feast, they would probably swarm over, right?

Unfortunately, they might not be able to eat it.

They could spend money on other chefs, but President Qin had Qinglin Ketchup, Qinglin Tea, and Qinglin Villa. Everyone knew his future potential. Which tycoon was qualified to make President Qin cook?

Douglas had already lowered his head and was eating silently. Even if his son was a three-star Michelin master, he had never eaten such delicious food.

Such a powerful chef was actually hidden in such a place.

On the other hand, Lasda's expression darkened with every dish he ate. He realized that if he had made these dishes himself, he would not have been able to make such delicious food.

This shouldn't be happening.

Didn't Uncle Liu say that the previous one was the best Chinese chef?

Then what was this now?

Liu Yi looked at Lasda's expression and said, "Lasda, what do you think of these dishes?"

Lasda was silent, his face thick with embarrassment.

If he couldn't make such delicious food, what was the point of commenting?

Liu Yi continued to ask, "Lasda, don't you really want to defeat the best chef in Chinese cuisine? Why don't I arrange for you to invite gourmet chefs from all over the world?"

"..." Lasda was depressed. Was there no end to this?

If it were anyone else, he would have accepted the challenge. But he was not a fool to compete with an impossible chef. He would not embarrass himself.

"I'll make this competition more grand and contact the gourmet of the world to be the judge." Liu Yi pretended to pick up his phone and make a call.

"Uncle Liu, I sprained my hand last night. I won't be able to compete for a while," Lasda said anxiously, his face already burning.

All the contempt and smugness earlier seemed to have turned into a heavy slap.

He secretly vowed to study it when he returned this time. He had to make this delicious taste and texture.

Seeing that his son was avoiding the battle, Douglas could only say shamelessly, "Liu, he really sprained his hand last night."

"That's really a pity." When Liu Yi heard this, he smiled and put down his phone.

Douglas was his partner, after all. He couldn't be too ruthless. A little education would do.

It was time for Lasda to learn to be more humble when he came to the country in the future.

Thinking of this, he could not help but secretly give Qin Lin a thumbs up.

He rarely admired people. Today, he really admired President Qin.

He now knew why Chen Shengfei and Ma Liewen wanted to befriend President Qin.

The other party was really an extraordinary person.

Chapter 378: Convinced by These Culinary Skills! Despairing SMA Disease!

After the meal, Liu Yi and the other two enjoyed it. Even Lasda, a three-star Michelin master, was completely convinced.

Although he was arrogant with the arrogance of a Westerner, he also knew his limits.

"President Qin, thank you very much for this meal." When Liu Yi left, he thanked him sincerely. "In the future, if President Qin has any instructions, I'll definitely get them done as quickly as possible."

It was also his promise.

Moreover, he hoped that President Qin would look for him for something. There was definitely no harm in befriending such a person. He was afraid that he would not look for him if something happened.

After all, there were still Chen Shengfei, Ma Liewen, Li Qing, and the others. It would not be his turn first.

Qin Lin didn't think too much about it. He smiled and said, "President Liu, you're too polite."

"Mr. Qin, it's really an honor to taste your food. You're a chef who knows magic," Douglas said seriously and bowed slightly to Qin Lin.

He was already impressed by the meal.

After tasting this delicacy, even the most arrogant person had to show the respect they deserved.

Lasda bowed heavily to Qin Lin, which stunned him.

What was this guy doing?

Liu Yi was stunned.

Was this arrogant guy bowing to President Qin?

However, Ladas said, "Sir, thank you for letting me know a higher view of cooking. You're good at it, but I'll devote myself to studying it. I'll definitely defeat you."

He would not be stingy with his contempt when facing people whose culinary skills were weaker than his, but when facing people who were stronger than him, he would show the respect he should show until he defeated them.

"..." Qin Lin looked at Lasda speechlessly.

To be honest, he could not figure out what was going through the other party's mind.

Besides, he couldn't be bothered.

A moment later, Liu Yi left with the two of them. Master Lin said excitedly, "How arrogant was this foreigner when he came? He thought that he was a three-star Michelin master. Boss, you're the best. You put him in his place immediately."

...

The next day.

Qin Lin went to his office and dealt with the fish, trees, and mountain goods that had refreshed in the game today.

There were still only three ornamental fish.

He also gained nothing from the trees today.

On the other hand, the mountain goods had actually refreshed another batch of cherry blossoms and myrtles today.

This could brew another batch of medicinal wine.

Qin Lin did not hesitate and left the villa directly. He went to the wine factory's wine cellar to get a batch of 20-year-old wine and left. Then, he went to the warehouse and brought it into the game.

As for the wine container, he had already bought a lot of it in the storage room of the game for his needs.

If he bought more of these things, it would be convenient for him to use them in the future.

After brewing this batch of medicinal wine, Qin Lin exited the game and returned to the villa.

As soon as he arrived at the office, he received another thank-you message from Liu Yi. It should be that the other party had sent the two of them away today and did not cause any more trouble.

He did not care much about it. He simply took his phone and went online to watch short videos about Wang Cai.

The dog had also been extremely popular for the past two days. It and Red Hair were about to be called the animal twins of Qinglin Villa by fans of the villa's official account.

However, when he saw a video, Qin Lin frowned slightly.

"The dog in Qinglin Villa has been very popular these past two days. I believe many tourists have scanned the payment code for that dog, right? Through the video statistics sent by online tourists, basically every tourist has paid more than 10 yuan, even 100 yuan."

"I've calculated carefully. There should be more than 3,000 tourists a day in Qinglin Villa, right? Even if only 100 of them scan the QR code for the dog, the dog's daily income should be at least 1,000 yuan. In fact, there will definitely be more."

"If an ordinary person had such a dog, they could do nothing and let a dog accumulate money."

This video was clearly seen by many people. The people in the comments section also sighed with emotion that they were more miserable than a dog.

However, Qin Lin accurately noticed the word 'accumulate money'.

Although the video did not say that they relied on dogs to earn money, and the villa did not have that intention, because there was no need to earn this bit of money at all, and the goal was only to increase an interesting Easter egg event, if there was really a brainless person who deliberately found fault, seizing this point would also be troublesome.

He simply called Lin Lanzi and instructed, "Supervisor Lin, set the upper limit of Wang Cai's QR code!"

Lin Lanzi's voice also sounded. "Boss, we've already set up that we can only sweep 1 cent. Today, some provocative comments appeared in the comments section of Wang Cai's account."

"Okay." Qin Lin hung up and continued watching the video.

There were all kinds of people online. Even if Qin Lin didn't do anything, some unrecognizable jealous people might come looking for trouble. All he could do was try not to give the other party a chance.

After scrolling through a few more videos, he actually saw another video about Starbucks.

It was also an official video: About four police officers had been coordinated to leave after Starbucks had probably chased the officers away. Starbucks still hadn't apologized. The key is that Starbucks stock has risen.

"..." Qin Lin sighed.

This was a very unreasonable phenomenon, but it also meant that some citizens were really a little numb and still made this Starbucks business popular, right?

If Starbucks wasn't in a hurry to apologize in two days, it meant that business was still booming and they didn't care at all.

Chapter 379: Convinced by These Culinary Skills! Despairing SMA Disease!

If he was really in a hurry, he would definitely apologize as quickly as possible.

Three years ago, Starbucks' business had plummeted because it had chased away two black people. In the end, the CEO had personally come forward to apologize for the emergency closure of 8,000 Starbucks stores to train their employees.

Although these were two different things, it would be quite sad if the end of this matter was that four police officers were coordinated to leave.

However, he could not interfere. After all, he was not the savior.

As he was thinking, his phone rang. It was Chen Shengfei.

After Qin Lin answered the call, he left the office and went to the original hall to see Chen Shengfei.

He was sitting by the window, facing a middle-aged man in a suit.

Seeing that Qin Lin had arrived, Chen Shengfei also stood up and pointed at the man in the suit. "Qin Lin, this is President Shen Li. He's also the laboratory person-in-charge that 'Virtue and Benevolence' has hunted for our laboratory. He was once in charge of product promotion at the North Desert Laboratory."

"As you know, the forest in the North Desert Laboratory is related to Boss Ma. After his accident, many of the sovereignty of the companies under his name was divided. These related companies are naturally implicated."

"If not for that, we wouldn't have been able to poach President Shen. However, President Shen also has his requirements for joining Qinglin Laboratory. Qin Lin, you have to make the decision."

Qin Lin nodded.

Most people knew about Boss Ma, but they did not expect him to have the chance to poach Boss Ma. However, the other party had already stepped down, so he should not be considered to be in the other party's corner now, right?

With that in mind, he looked at President Shen. "President Shen, nice to meet you."

Chen Shengfei also introduced, "President Shen, this is the chairman of Qinglin Laboratory, Mr. Qin Lin."

"President Qin, nice to meet you." Shen Li shook hands with Qin Lin in surprise.

He was too young.

However, he did not dare to underestimate him. After all, to be able to make a tycoon like Chen Shengfei run errands meant that he was capable.

After Qin Lin sat down, he said to Shen Li, "President Shen, tell me your request to join our Qinglin Laboratory."

Shen Li also said bluntly, "I want an equity reward. When the laboratory develops to a certain scale, I want to be a member of the board of directors according to the industry rules."

When Qin Lin heard this, he glanced at Chen Shengfei, who nodded at him.

"Alright, I agree to President Shen's request." When Qin Lin heard this request, he smiled and agreed.

If the company wanted to develop and recruit top talents, the equity reward was inevitable. It could also stimulate work enthusiasm and efficiency.

After the food company told Deng Guang about the equity reward, how hard was the other party working now?

However, the equity rewards varied.

If he wanted to get this reward, how much he could get depended on his ability. It depended on how big he could develop the company.

As for the individual rewards of the higher-ups, they were also different because of the special nature of the industry. According to the industry rules of the laboratory research company, Shen Li had a chance to get the highest 5%.

Naturally, if he really had the ability to get this 5%, every boss should decisively give the other party 5% of the shares as a reward.

If such a talent was forced to leave to his opponent, it would be a disaster.

Naturally, there were some bosses who took the shares very seriously and did not understand this logic. Such companies were often the favorite targets of headhunting companies.

Seeing that Qin Lin had agreed, Shen Li smiled and extended his hand again. "President Qin, I hope we can work well together in the future."

"We'll definitely work well together," Qin Lin said with a smile.

It was much more troublesome to sign a contract with Shen Li. First of all, the option reward needed Chen Shengfei and Ma Liewen to sign it. In addition, he had to sign a contract with the 'Virtue and Benevolence' headhunting company.

If he hired Shen Li, it meant that the other party had succeeded in the headhunting. He had to pay the other party the corresponding reward.

In addition, the housing and car had to be prepared for Shen Li.

When he signed the contract, Qin Lin also saw Zheng Qiudong, President Zheng of the 'Virtue and Benevolence'. As expected, he looked very similar to that big celebrity, Immortal Sword Beard.

Next, Shen Li officially took over the matter of Qinglin Laboratory.

...

Three days later.

In Qinglin Villa.

When Li Kai arrived at Qin Lin's office, he saw that Qin Lin was already making tea. He immediately sat down and asked, "Brother Qin, why did you call me over?"

Qin Lin smiled and explained, "President Shen is coming over later. He wants you to confirm some things."

"Okay." Li Kai nodded.

He naturally knew that President Shen was poached by Chen Shengfei. He had stayed in Brother Qin's laboratory and was now in charge of laboratory research. He would have to interact with President Shen in the future.

Shen Li arrived quickly. As soon as he sat down, he handed Qin Lin a document and said, "President Qin, I've already found out about the laboratory's situation in the past three days. There are three things I need to deal with immediately."

"Firstly, it's to recruit people. I'll poach some former laboratory employees first. When the time comes, President Qin will have to sign the treatment."

"Second, the laboratory is about to be established. Third, the laboratory has a new watermelon promotion plan. President Qin, I have to say that President Chen also used this new watermelon to impress me previously."

"This document is the plan for the watermelon promotion. After President Qin confirms it, I'll immediately contact Youcheng County and implement it as soon as possible."

Chapter 380: Convinced by These Culinary Skills! Despairing SMA Disease!

As Qin Lin listened to Shen Li's report, he picked up the plan document and looked at it.

The plan document was neatly written and very detailed. It had even been planned for the sale of the new watermelon.

This professional top talent was indeed different. If he had to do it himself, he would definitely take it one step at a time and explore it slowly.

There was no problem with the proposal. Qin Lin signed it and handed it back to Shen Li.

After Shen Li took the document, he took it and began to talk to Li Kai. They were probably asking Li Kai some questions about the watermelon promotion planting and how to deal with it.

After the two of them finished talking, Shen Li said to Qin Lin, "President Qin, you still need to give me a batch of seeds first. The specific geology and environment of the towns in Youcheng County are also different. When I cooperate with Youcheng County, I need to try planting to check the situation first before planting them."

Almost all the seeds that had been cultivated previously had been planted in the 100 acres of land, but he had also kept some for emergencies. He did not expect to really use them.

He handed those seeds to Shen Li before he left in a hurry.

Li Kai praised, "Brother Qin, President Shen is very capable. The questions he discussed with me are also on point."

Qin Lin smiled and nodded.

As they were chatting, there was another knock on the door. When they opened it, it was actually Qin Ren with a document in his hand.

"Da Ren, come in quickly." When Qin Lin saw Qin Ren, he immediately invited him in.

After Qin Ren sat down, he handed a document to Qin Lin. "Didn't you want to find a doctor with good medical skills and trustworthy skills for the villa's medical room? I brought you the information."

He and the county had been preparing for the application for a 4A scenic area at Qinglin Villa. They had already passed in all other aspects and there was no problem with any review. The only thing missing was a medical room that had not been perfected.

According to the current scale of Qinglin Villa and the number of daily guests, they had to apply for 4A. The medical room also had to have a doctor in charge and two rotation doctors, as well as two rotation nurses. They had to ensure that a doctor and a nurse were on duty at all times.

Qin Lin naturally did not have any connections in this aspect, so he asked Qin Ren's fiancée, Liao Li, to help inquire about it first.

Liao Li was originally a nurse and was in contact with this industry. She would always have some news about doctors. She did not expect to really find a suitable candidate.

Qin Lin took the document and looked at it. "Tang Xiuwan, 34 years old. She even graduated from Xia City University's medical school. Is she that good?"

“Tang Xiuwan...” Li Kai subconsciously stood up when he heard this name, but he pretended to be nonchalant and went behind Qin Lin to secretly read the information.

Qin Lin looked at Tang Xiuwan’s information and said in surprise, “She’s a doctor from the county hospital. She’s only 34 years old, but she’s already a candidate for the chief physician. Why would such a person come to my villa’s small medical room?”

Qin Ren explained, “Under normal circumstances, Dr. Tang would naturally not agree, but something happened to her. I think she got a divorce.”

“How did the divorce happen?” Li Kai asked inexplicably.

“Brother Li, it’s not like you’re the one getting a divorce. Why are you making a fuss?” Qin Lin looked at Li Kai in confusion before asking Qin Ren, “Do you know why the other party got a divorce?”

Since he wanted to find the person in charge of the medical room, he had to figure it out. Nowadays, many women are divorced for strange reasons.

No matter what profession this woman was in, there was a problem with her quality.

Qin Ren explained, “I heard something. It seems that the child was diagnosed with a rare illness that requires a very high medical fee. The key is that it might not be treated well.”

“The other party’s husband wasn’t responsible and didn’t want to treat him. Dr. Tang didn’t want to give up on the child, so he divorced his husband and split the assets. He wanted to use his share to treat the child.”

“Back then, Dr. Tang’s conditions were actually better. It was also because her husband returned to Youcheng County Hospital to work. It could be considered a mistake. Moreover, recently, Dr. Tang seems to have missed the opportunity to be the chief physician because of his child’s illness.”

“Apparently, that’s also an excuse for the county hospital. Someone took her place.”

“In a time like this where she needs money to treat her child and is disappointed in the hospital, Lin Zi, your villa has a high chance of hiring Dr. Tang.”

At this moment, Li Kai said anxiously, “Brother Qin, I think you should poach her over. A mother who doesn’t give up on her child must be very ethical as a doctor. That man who can give up on his child is not a good person.”

Qin Lin looked at Li Kai again. “Brother Li, you’re a little angry.”

Li Kai said awkwardly, “Everyone should despise such a scumbag.”

After Qin Lin looked at Dr. Tang’s information, he felt that he could interact with him first. “Da Ren, let’s go to the county hospital to interact with Dr. Tang first.”

“Okay!” Qin Ren nodded and stood up to leave with Qin Lin.

“Brother Qin, I’ll follow you to take a look.” Li Kai immediately followed.

Qin Lin asked in confusion, “Brother Li, when did you become so interested in our villa?”

Li Kai hurriedly said, "Brother Qin, that's not right. I've always been concerned about you, okay?"

The three of them quickly arrived at the county hospital. When they arrived at Tang Xiuwan's department, they saw Dr. Tang Xiuwan's consultation room.

The door to the consulting room was open, but there was no one inside.

However, a medical document on the doctor's seat attracted Qin Lin's attention because it said: "SMA Disease Information".

Qin Lin seemed to understand a little. He knew what illness Dr. Tang's child had and why his husband had chosen to give up treatment.

SMA was not a condition that a county hospital could treat. It was a rare disease in children. It was spinal muscular atrophy, a neuronal degeneration disease.

This was probably what Dr. Tang's child had, right?

And this disease was a terminal illness for many children.

Children with such an illness were equivalent to being targeted by death.

This was because this SMA illness required 700,000 yuan to treat each injection. It required three injections a year, and the kind that took effect with one injection required more than 13 million yuan.

This was almost not something an ordinary family could afford. No wonder Dr. Tang's husband chose to give up.

It was a rational choice, but few people could stand by and watch their children die morally.

This illness had once caused a very strong social discussion online. This was because some netizens had discovered that treating this illness in Australia only cost 204 yuan. Why was a needle in the country so expensive?

Actually, there was no choice because the Australian SMA treatment was included in health insurance.

Naturally, there were also madams who asked why China did not include this SMA in health insurance.

Actually, it was because he was helpless. Because there were too many people, there were more than 20 million people in the country with all kinds of rare diseases, and the per capita treatment fee for all kinds of rare diseases was 80,000 yuan a year. If it covered so many rare diseases and health insurance, the medical expenses needed to be covered every year were 1.4 trillion yuan, and the national basic health insurance fund was only about 3 trillion yuan.

In other words, even if it covered all the rare diseases, it would not last for two years. This would also reduce the health insurance of 1.3 billion other people.

In the end, it was actually because there were very few rare patients.

For those pharmaceutical companies, it was not a money-making disease. No one was willing to spend a huge sum of money to study cheaper drugs. It was almost difficult for rare drugs to recoup their costs at a cheap price before the patent protection period ended. They could only be sold at a high price.

Another reason was that substance-factor herbs that contained activation, repair, and strengthening of neuronal cells were very rare.

Even if China wanted to crack its own production, they had to find other substitute medicinal herbs for patent reasons.

However, this kind of substitute medicinal herbs were equally rare. Some of them even grew in environments that were as harsh as Xiangshui Tribute Rice.

If he wanted to change this situation, he would have to find someone who could solve it.

If such herbs could be easily planted, there would naturally be no problem.

Unfortunately, no one in the country could solve this problem at the moment.

As Qin Lin was thinking, he heard footsteps at the door. He turned around and saw a female doctor in a white coat. She was not a beauty, but she had a strange temperament and looked gentle and graceful.

This was Tang Xiuwan. One could clearly see the haggardness on her face.

“Senior Brother Li?” Tang Xiuwan walked into the consultation room and looked at Li Kai in surprise.

“???” Qin Lin subconsciously looked at Li Kai.

Did they know each other?
