Chapter 791 200,000 Yuan For A Pig! Industry Prospers The Country! 2

In addition, there would be an influx of tourists. A good scenic spot would have an influx of tourists. People would want to go again after going there once.

Linlin Manor and Linlin Ranch were such scenic spots.

Tourists who had been here once would definitely be attracted, and once they had free time, they would definitely come a second time.

Therefore, the more tourists that came to Linlin villa, the more tourists that returned.

Today, Qin Lin arrived at the area where the gym pigs were. Beside him was Yang Dong, who had been promoted to manager of the breeding Department.

The exercise pig show had long been a special feature of Linlin Ranch, and almost all the tourists who came to Linlin Ranch would come to watch.

This time, there were clearly more tourists around than usual.

It was because there was a mysterious event at the gym pig performance area today.

The ranch's fitness pigs were already running in the field.

After several expansions, the venue had become larger, the facilities were more complete, and the performance of the fitness pigs was more enjoyable to watch.

moreover, because of the +2 energy and +2 stamina and endurance attributes, these fitness pigs seemed to be tireless in their exercise.

This made many male tourists envious of the physical strength of these fitness pigs.

if they had this kind of physical strength, then wuwu naturally, the small trumpets on these fitness pigs still made hurtful remarks.

"We're working so hard as pigs, what right do you have to be lazy?"

"Could it be that you guys are not as good as us pigs?"

"Even pigs like us have developed muscles. Don't you feel embarrassed?"

"Your physical strength is not as good as us pigs, how can your girlfriend be happy?"

These words also made many female tourists pinch the men next to them, making the men suddenly look embarrassed. As the exercise pigs performed, the ranch workers were already setting up a stage.

in the internal office.

Yang Dong then turned to Qin Lin and said, "boss, we've produced 12 fitness pigs this time. Nine of them have been paired and kept to expand the scale of the ranch's fitness pigs. Three of them have been taken out for an auction event. Furthermore, we've already done something to them, so there's no way to breed them.

"It's just that after the modification, the fitness pig's energy and physical strength will decline. However, it's better for individuals to do it at home. After all, not every place has a large field like ours for fitness pigs to run."

"En!" Qin Lin nodded.

This was also the purpose of his visit today.

After all, the gym pigs were special animals that came out of the game. After such a long time, they had finally managed to cultivate a batch of them.

Now, they naturally had to see the enthusiasm of the tourists for the fitness pig.

The enthusiasm of the tourists determined the value of the fitness pig.

At this moment, a staff member from the ranch walked out with a megaphone. "Welcome to Linlin Ranch, everyone. Thank you for your love for our ranch bodybuilders."

As everyone knows, we have a special event today, and the event is an auction. There will be three young Mr. Bodybuilding for auction.

As everyone knows, the bodybuilders of our Ranch are very strong. They can train their muscles and are definitely good partners to accompany their owner in running and exercising.

The key is that our Mr. Bodybuilder is also very intelligent. He's not any less intelligent than a pet dog.

These words obviously attracted the attention of the tourists, and they all gathered around.

The gym pig had long been very famous on the internet.

However, there had never been any news about the sale of fitness pigs at Linlin Ranch. Today, three fitness pigs were being auctioned. It was hard not to be curious.

Very quickly.

The three baby pigs were brought out, and they were numbered 1, 2, and 3.

Baby healthy pigs were more toot than adult pigs, and they were more adorable. Most importantly, even if they were still baby pigs, they already had muscles.

The staff member with the megaphone had already started shouting again, "As you can see, our Ranch's Mr. Bodybuilding babies are very cute, right? Also, this might be the only batch this year, only three."

Next up, we will be auctioning Mr. Bodybuilding's baby No. 1. There's no base price, so everyone can start bidding now.

The gym pig was popular on the internet, so he was naturally not afraid that there would be no tourists to auction it.

As soon as the staff member finished speaking, a fat man shouted, "500 yuan!"

Well, he wanted to buy a fitness pig to exercise with him, but his girlfriend had just despised him.

However, he didn't realize that after he bid 500 yuan, his girlfriend looked at him with even more disdain, and even pulled a few steps away from him.

the next moment, a clear female voice suddenly sounded, "5000!"

This was a female tourist. She looked very valiant and seemed to be the sports type.

"Ten thousand!" A tourist followed closely behind.

It was a brawny man with muscles all over his body. He looked like he worked out.

"15000!" Another female voice was heard.

This female tourist was wearing a sports outfit, so it went without saying that she liked sports.

"Fifty thousand." The muscular man from earlier shouted again.

This price made the fatty who had called out the price of 500 a little embarrassed. His expression was ugly. He felt that these people were crazy. It was just a pig, yet they spent so much money.

"Sixty thousand!" The valiant female tourist who had bid at the start bid again.

But immediately after, the muscular man bid again, "Two hundred thousand!"

The price was raised to 200000 in one go, which made everyone clamor.

Chapter 792 200,000 Yuan For A Pig! Industry Prospers The Country! 3

No matter how amazing the gym pig was, it was still a pet. 200000 Yuan for a pig was really a sky-high price. If the price was always like this, only the rich could afford to raise these gym pigs in the future.

The price of 200000 also made the other tourists give up. After all, there were still two more, and it was not worth competing with this madman who did not care about moral values.

But then, this muscular man showed them what it meant to not talk about martial virtue.

As the staff began to announce the start of the second pig's bidding, the muscular man directly said, "Two hundred thousand!"

"....."

The few tourists who were preparing to re-bid were stunned.

The surrounding tourists were also in an uproar.

This was the first time he had seen someone buy two pigs for 200000 Yuan.

However, this muscular man told everyone that two was not enough. He wanted three.

The third round of bidding began. He once again called out a price of 200000 to make everyone back off. In the end, he spent 600000 to buy three baby pigs.

Yang Dong was very satisfied with the price. He smiled at Qin Yang and said, " " boss, it seems that the first auction for the construction pigs was very effective. at least for now, their price is 200000 yuan each. also, as long as we hype it up well, we can definitely stabilize the value of the construction pigs. "

"En!" Qin Lin agreed with Yang Dong's words and said, " "Get manager Lin from the media department to help you with the publicity."

If the value of the gym pigs increased, it would be more or less beneficial to Linlin Ranch.

Qin Lin returned to Linlin Manor after he was done with the exercise pig.

He was also wondering when the great artist, Wu Kai, would come.

He was still waiting to find out if the two paintings by Van Gogh and Picasso were authentic.

He had looked it up. The latest auction news for Van Gogh's paintings had a price of 85 million US dollars, and the rumored " sunflowers on the sea " that had sunk into the ocean would be even more expensive.

As for Picasso's paintings, they were worth 125 million dollars. I, the woman in the Golden Drum ", which was also rumored to have sunk into the sea, was one of Picasso's masterpieces and was equally valuable.

if these two paintings were proven to be authentic in reality, then it would be really awesome.

Moreover, in the future, when he dug out the shipwreck Treasure chest in the lake mine, he would definitely be able to get these items again.

The lake mine also had 255 floors. Wouldn't it turn into a Museum in the end? And it was a Museum of outrageously high standards.

After separating from Qin Lin, Yang Dong naturally went to look for Lin Lanzi and asked her to help create hype. However, before Lin Lanzi could start, the fitness pig had already become a hot search on the internet.

The video of the muscular man spending 600000 to buy three gym pigs was naturally taken by many tourists and uploaded to the internet.

once 600,000 yuan was linked to the three pigs, the attention was very high, and it even went straight to the hot search.

The auction price of the Jinlin Ranch fitness pig also shocked countless netizens.

pig: I never thought my value could be so high!

f * ck, this is new to me. 200000 for a pig. This is a noble among pigs, right? "

"I just want to ask if it will affect the price of ordinary pork. I'm afraid I can't afford to eat pork."

“.....”

Everyone thought that the muscular man was an idiot.

pA(nd)A no ve1 200,000 Yuan for a pig. If you like to buy one to keep you fit, you can do it. Buying three pigs is not like you have no money to spend.

not long after, there was a post titled " gym owner bought three gym pigs to attract customers and made millions in three days! ". When the news came out, these people realized that they were the fools.

...

You city.

After being modified by the purification grass, the air quality had been maintained at a very high level.

In a taxi, Wu Qian hugged her grandfather's arm and said, " grandpa, the air in you city is pretty good, isn't it?"

yes, the air is very fresh, " Wu Kai nodded. this should be the work of the purification grass, right? "

"Yeah!" Wu Qian said with a smile, " Grandpa, let me tell you. The air quality in Linlin Manor is even better. It's said that the AQI index of the air quality in Linlin Manor is in the single digits. Together with the beautiful scenery, it's like a Fairyland.

Old man Wu Kai was also looking forward to it. He felt the air around him and looked at the bustling scene outside the car window. He also sighed."The owner of this Linlin villa is really amazing."

After seeing the plants in the Linlin Manor, he decided to come to the Linlin Manor. Naturally, he also wanted to know more about the Linlin Manor, especially the boss behind it.

After all, if he wanted to spend the plants in Linlin Manor, he would have to get the approval of the boss behind it.

If the owner of the Linlin Manor didn't agree, he wouldn't be able to draw. So, he was eager to see the owner of the Linlin Manor and ask him to let him draw.

Of course, the old man didn't know that Qin Lin was also waiting for his arrival.

however, when wu kai got to know the owner of linlin manor, he was really shocked.

Although there was no specific information about the boss of Linlin company on the internet, the company's development track and what it had done could be seen on the internet.

Whether it was the construction of the scenic Area of Linlin villa, the development of Linlin laboratory, or the Linlin food company, they had all developed at an unbelievable speed, and the series of things they had done were also amazing.

Especially in the recent ketchup war, he felt very relieved as a painter to see two Hoshino brands suffer losses.

Moreover, it had been a long time since he had seen such an unbelievably developed company, or rather, it had been a long time since he had seen such an unbelievably developed industrial company. After all, the development of an internet company was an exception.

In the modern age of Internet Information, it was getting more and more difficult to do business.

However, compared to internet companies, industrial enterprises were more admirable, not to mention Linlin company, which was a firm enterprise that drove the economy of his hometown and had a strong sense of right and wrong.

There was a saying, 'industry brings prosperity to the country', which referred to companies like Linlin company.

As for those internet companies, although they were developing rapidly, they still lacked moral integrity and sense of right and wrong.

Cutting leeks was not something a human should do.

Chapter 793 The First Experience Of The Linlin Manor

Wu Kai arrived at Linlin Manor with high expectations.

He passed the security check and entered the parking lot of the manor. As soon as he got out of the car, he felt the high-quality air that was described on the internet.

Wu Qian was the most excited. She even took a deep breath after getting out of the car.

The descriptions of the Linlin Manor online were all conjectures, because it was impossible for those people to have been to the Linlin Manor.

They could only speculate that the air quality in Linlin Manor was definitely better based on the high quality of air in Linlin Manor.

However, now that she had experienced it for herself, she knew how good the air in Linlin Manor was. It was much better than what the people on the internet had described.

Wu Kai was a painter, so he had a different feeling from others. He was attracted to the bamboo, willow trees, and flowers around him.

The aesthetic, aesthetic, and attractive attributes seemed to be a special state in his eyes, which actually made him feel eager to try.

He had never had this urge to draw in the past two years. He was old and had little energy. His paintings seemed to lack inspiration and were difficult to complete.

However, when he arrived here, he had an inexplicable inspiration.

This was very magical to him.

He had to make the owner of Linlin Manor agree to let him draw here, even if he had to give the painting to him in the end.

At his age, he had left behind a lot of assets for his children. He had no intention of selling the paintings he had drawn. He only wanted to keep two more paintings that would satisfy him.

It didn't matter who had the painting.

"Grandpa, let's go register. It's almost noon." At this time, Wu Qian pulled Wu Kai and walked into the hall.

of course, it didn't matter if it was noon or not. what was important was that she had contacted the people of linlin manor and the first meal was the emperor's supreme set meal.

she hadn't tried the supreme emperor set meal before and couldn't wait to try it.

At this moment.

The manager of the manor's service staff had also been notified by the security guard at the entrance. He came out to welcome them and respectfully said to Wu Kai, " Mr. Wu, welcome to our Linlin Manor. We'll definitely provide you with the best service here, so that your trip will not be in vain!

as he spoke, the manager of the service staff welcomed wu kai and his granddaughter into the hall.

"Mr. Wu, we'll be doing the registration here!" as the head of service brought wu kai to register, he didn't forget to introduce him, " our villa has a hot spring fish therapy program, a hot spring Hair Growth Program, and a regular Emperor's Supreme medicinal cuisine, Linlin medicinal wine, and special medicinal cuisine.

in addition, our Manor has a special shop. There are some shops that are not available in the outside world. If Mr. Wu needs them, you can buy them from the shops. Naturally, these will be paid separately!

The Head of Service staff brought the grandfather and granddaughter to complete their registration. He also made arrangements for the grandfather and granddaughter and led them to a room.

because the rooms were all suites, they were accompanied by family members. wu qian could only stay in the family room, just like dr. duanmu who accompanied academician li.

He stayed with academician li in the family room for a while and was only transferred back after academician Li's health recovered.

Wu Qian, on the other hand, asked the head of the service staff curiously, " "I wonder if there are any other guests living in the manor. What taboo did the other party have? So that we won't disturb them?"

This question was very artistic.

She was actually curious about who else was living in the manor.

After all, her friend's father, the chairman of such a large corporation, had been rejected.

The head waiter said, " there's nothing to hide. You'll see them at the restaurant. There are three ladies living in the manor. They are the wives of our boss's friends. There are also three academicians from the Chinese Academy of Sciences. The three academicians are very friendly and not difficult to get along with.

It wasn't strange at all that the wife of the Linlin villa owner's friend was here on vacation.

However, the fact that the three academicians from the Chinese Academy of Sciences were recuperating here really surprised the grandfather and grandson duo.

They were all academicians, but it was completely different whether they had the Chinese Academy of Sciences.

Wu Qian finally understood why her friend's father was rejected.

by the way, " the head of the service staff said, " if you want to film the scenery or food of the manor, even the service items are fine. But please don't film the three academicians. Otherwise, you'll be on the unwelcome list.

These words were naturally meant for Wu Qian.

A young girl coming to this Manor would definitely be very active.

Therefore, he had to inform them in advance.

wu qian seemed to have realized that he was talking to her, so she nodded.

She was not stupid and would not do such a hateful thing.

The head waiter arranged their accommodation and went out to arrange for the emperor's supreme set meal for them.

Linlin Manor Office.

Qin Lin looked at the background information on the manor application page and found that the great artist, Wu Kai, had already checked in.

This made his eyes light up.

He was just waiting for this person to help him identify whether the two paintings by Van Gogh and Picasso were real.

Then, he left the office and went to the kitchen.

If you want to ask someone for help, don't you have to prepare some benefits for them first?

There's a saying that goes, "when you eat someone's mouth, you take someone's hand."

After Wu Qian and her grandfather, Wu Kai, settled down, she couldn't help but bring her grandfather downstairs to the shop in the manor out of curiosity.

Chapter 794 The First Experience Of The Linlin Manor!

When she heard that the shops in the manor had things that the outside world didn't have, she was very curious.

Wu Kai naturally knew that his granddaughter loved to play, so he could only go along with her.

The two of them entered the manor's shop, and what they saw were many goods, vegetables, fruits, meat, eggs, and so on.

Eggs?

Wu Qian was suddenly attracted by an egg.

She was very familiar with that egg. It was a high-quality cosmetic egg.

After she came to Linlin villa with her friend and found out about the beauty egg, she didn't get a spot for a high-quality beauty egg for three days in a row. Moreover, she wanted to buy it from the person who won, but the other party either didn't sell it or it was snatched away.

Therefore, she and her friends had never eaten high-quality beauty eggs before, only ordinary ones.

She didn't expect that there would be such a high-quality nourishing egg here.

Then, she saw the premium cucumbers for beauty, as well as many premium vegetables, which were all very expensive and needed to be snapped up at the Linlin Manor sales center.

Many people went to buy it early in the morning, but they might not be able to get it.

Soon, she saw all the snow and beef, as well as Xiangshui tribute rice.

she had eaten these luxury foods before, but they were very rare in the outside world. now, they could be bought in this shop, and in large quantities.

"Yi, this Fen wine is decades old?" Wu Kai, however, was still attracted by the wine on the wine rack next to him.

He still liked to drink some wine.

As a domestic brand, he often drank Fen wine. Moreover, the wine he drank was from a few years ago. His paintings were expensive and sold in billions. He didn't lack money at all.

But in Linlin Manor, a decades-old Fenjiu was being sold on the shelves just like that?

Furthermore, when he looked at the shelf, there were other brands of wine, and they were all decades old.

This was a little shocking.

wu qian looked over and said in surprise, " Grandpa, it's Linlin medicinal wine. It's even placed in a separate box. This is the best wine in Linlin Manor.

Wu Kai was attracted to this.

Brand wines that were decades old were already very rare, and this Linlin medicinal wine was even better?

This made him immediately decide to buy them all and try them, then compare them.

Wu Qian, on the other hand, couldn't help but take out her mobile phone and take pictures of those products. As a girl, she really wanted to take pictures of these products and upload them online to gain some attention.

After all, these items were things that money couldn't buy.

For example, she had saved up 3 million Yuan as pocket money. This time, when she helped her grandfather apply for a treatment quota at Linlin Manor, her grandfather had rewarded her with 2 million Yuan as pocket money. It would be difficult for her to buy these things with this money.

After shooting the video, she first posted it on her WeChat friend circle, " first shopping experience at Linlin Manor. then, she posted the video on TikTok with the same title.

And it was also during this time that her moments had started to show likes, which meant that this news was really attractive.

"Qianqian, how could you go? My father's application was rejected!"

This was her friend's comment, and there was a hint of envy in her words, which made her feel very good.

Old man Wu Kai had already started to take the bottles down from the wine rack, even though they were priced at 150000 Yuan each.

However, to someone whose painting was worth hundreds of millions, what was this?

Seeing this, Wu Qian immediately took the shopping basket and started to buy. The first thing was to get the high-quality beauty eggs and the high-quality beauty cucumbers.

He hadn't had snow and beef for a long time. There was also Xiangshui tribute rice, which he had to eat.

however, when it was time to pay, the shop assistant reminded, " "the first emperor's supreme set meal will be full snow and beef, xiangshui tribute rice, and linlin medicinal wine."

Wu Qian didn't mind when she heard this and said, " "It's okay. You can cook for us at night."

The shop assistant didn't say much. After paying for the two, she said, " the two of you, I'll help you send the vegetables, meat, and nourishing eggs to the kitchen and have the chef make them for you. As for the other fruits and drinks, you can take them with you.

In the end, Wu Kai and his partner carried a few bottles of wine and fruits out of the shop and directly sat down at a table in the hall.

Wu Qian went to the side to wash some fruits and ate them.

The grade 2 fruit was obviously very satisfying to her, because it was too delicious.

Wu Kai also asked the waiter to bring a cup and opened the bottle of Fen wine.

This Fen wine was 40 years old. He had drunk 40 years old Fen wine before, so after a small sip, his eyes lit up.

This was because Linlin Manor's Fen wine did not taste worse than the ones he had drunk before. In fact, the wine's fragrance was even more mellow than the ones he had drunk before.

It must be because the wine in Linlin Manor was stored better.

With the surprise of this Fen wine, he immediately continued to taste the other domestic brands of wine. Almost every brand's taste and aroma gave him a huge surprise. It was indeed a good wine that had been decades old.

What surprised him the most was the Linlin medicinal wine.

After he took a small sip of the Linlin medicinal wine, his face revealed a look of disbelief.

He had never drunk this kind of wine before.

This was the first time he had known that such a wine existed. The warmth around his waist and the feeling of his blood flowing through his body were simply too incredible.

At the same time, a video on the internet had gone viral. It was the video posted by Wu Qian.

However, the popular video wasn't filmed by Wu Qian. After all, she didn't have any fans and had little traffic in the early stages. Even if she entered the traffic pool, it was impossible for her to become popular so quickly.

It was a video that was accidentally seen by a blogger and reposted. This blogger had a lot of fans, so it became popular very quickly. The doctor even specifically @Wu Qian, indicating that she was the one who reposted the video.

After all, he was someone who could go to Linlin Manor, so the blogger couldn't just repost it openly.

This video was indeed a hit.

After all, Linlin Manor had been very famous on the internet for a long time. There were all kinds of rumors about it, but everyone only knew that the threshold to enter Linlin Manor for treatment was very high. No one knew anything about it except for the scenery and environment.

Now, the video revealed one side of the Linlin Manor, which was the internal shop of the Linlin Manor.

From the video, one could see the famous beauty eggs, beauty cucumbers, Linlin watermelons, and other things from Youli villa.

These things were very expensive in Linlin villa. Of course, the most important thing was that they were difficult to buy. Every day, countless women who loved beauty would rush to buy a beauty egg.

It was the same for the cucumber salad.

However, they might not be able to get it.

Now, these could be bought at the shops in Linlin Manor. The key was that there was no need to rush. Many people were envious and jealous as they watched the owner of the video slowly choose and buy.

In addition to these, the whole snow, beef, and Xiangshui tribute rice were also shocking.

amazing. This whole snow and cattle are so expensive. It costs more than 10000 Yuan per 500 grams. You can't even buy it. The Linlin Manor shop actually supplies so much.

"Don't say it. Xiangshui tribute rice is even rarer. I have some money and want to buy some to try, but I don't have any connections."

"these things that are rare in the outside world are actually being supplied by the linlin manor. it can be seen how high the grade of this linlin manor is."

"Upstairs, I can tell you that this wine is of the highest quality. Didn't you see the wine on the wine rack in the video? Other than the Linlin medicinal wine, the other brands like Fen wine and Maotai wine are all decades old, and none of them are less than 150000 Yuan a bottle."

I saw it too. It's hard to supply those wines of this year anywhere else, let alone with such a wide range of brands and years.

"The key is that this is only one aspect of the Linlin Manor. Who knows what other amazing things there are in other aspects? It must be an Emperor's enjoyment to be able to go to Linlin Manor once."

"....."

It could be said that with this video, the Linlin Manor's status had imperceptibly increased by a large margin.

This attracted the attention of countless wealthy people. For a while, the number of applications for Linlin Manor soared, and they were all attracted by those items.

Even if they were rich, they might not be able to enjoy those things, let alone enjoy them all at once.

Chapter 795 Why Are These Two Paintings? Why Do You Like To Eat Grass? 1

In the kitchen of Linlin Manor.

Qin Lin was holding a spatula and stir-frying the egg-fried rice in the pot. At the same time, his other hand was constantly shaking the pot to make the egg-fried rice in the pot more flavorful.

With the skill attributes and experience given by the system, his movements were very skillful and very enjoyable to watch.

The egg-fried rice was made from the quality 2-resonance water tribute rice. Once the pot of egg-fried rice was out, a very pleasant medicinal fragrance began to fill the kitchen.

The special medicinal fish in the pot had also reached a quality 3.

This was a benefit to the great artist Wu Kai. After eating his meal, he would be the one to benefit. It was not good to refuse to help him appraise the two paintings.

"Master Lin, get someone to send these dishes to the new Mr. Wu." Qin Lin instructed Master Lin after he was done.

Master Lin nodded and arranged for the dedicated food delivery man to serve the dishes.

Of course, not only was the boss cooking for Mr. Wu, but the kitchen was also cooking for the academicians and the three ladies.

Qin Lin went out of the kitchen and found the head waiter to ask about the great artist Wu Kai.

Soon, he also saw the great artist, old master Wu.

This person's status in the flower bed was higher than Leng Jun's. The price of his paintings was also higher than Leng Jun's. However, he kept a low profile, unlike Leng Jun who rarely appeared in the media.

Just like him, she didn't like to show off.

However, when he saw the old man, he was stunned. The old man's face was already a little red.

Seeing the opened vintage on the table in front of him, he obviously knew the reason.

Moreover, it looked like he had drunk more than a little.

"It's really good wine." Wu Kai was indeed a little tipsy.

He usually liked to drink some good wine, and the Linlin Manor sold good wine from many years ago. This Linlin medicinal wine was especially comfortable to drink.

Wu Qian, however, saw Qin Lin coming over and immediately showed a surprised expression. "Little Qin, you're little Qin?"

She was really surprised.

After she and her friends saw the video of little Qin riding a horse, they wanted little Qin to bring them for a ride. That way, they would wear ancient costumes and the video and photos would be very beautiful.

However, at the ranch, the person in charge of the race track said that little Qin didn't provide such services at all.

Now that she had met little Qin, if she tried to get close to him, she wondered if she could get him to fulfill her wish.

As she thought about it, she immediately ran to Qin Lin and said like a little fangirl, little Qin, your horse riding video was so cool. I admire you so much. Can I take a picture with you? "

Qin Yang looked at the girl in front of him, stunned. This was the first time a girl had asked to take a photo with him.

the head of the service staff immediately explained, " "Boss, this beautiful lady came with Mr. Wu."

These words obviously stunned Wu Qian, " "Boss Shao?"

She was suddenly dumbfounded.

Little Qin was actually the owner of Linlin Manor?

Wasn't the other party the boss of Linlin villa and Linlin company?

Heavens!

She seemed to have discovered a huge secret that no one on the internet knew about.

Everyone on the internet said that the boss of Linlin company was very powerful, especially after the last ketchup war. The online description of the boss of Linlin company was that he was resourceful, shrewd, good at strategizing, and a future Big Boss, Qianqian, and so on.

However, no one on the internet said that the boss of Linlin company was very handsome or good at riding a horse. Little Qin was the boss of Linlin company.

"I'm sorry about that referee!" Wu Qian suddenly looked at Qin Lin awkwardly.

If it was an internet celebrity, Xiao Qin, she would have tried to get close to him. But when she suddenly found out that Xiao Qin was the boss of Linlin company, she suddenly felt a lot of pressure.

On the side, Wu Kai heard the manager's words and looked up at Qin Lin in surprise.

This young man was the boss of Linlin company?

Even at his age, he still found it unbelievable. With his status, he actually knew a lot of rich people and many high-ranking businessmen.

Because he was a rich man himself, although it was not a lot, he had auctioned more than a dozen paintings, and he still had more than one billion in his card.

But even though he knew so many big shots, he didn't dare to think that the boss of Linlin company was a young man.

At such a young age, how did the other party do this? How could he toy with the two tomato sauce brands in the palm of his hand?

At this age, he was either a rich second generation under the protection of his parents, or he had just graduated and was working hard to become a full-time employee.

To say that such a young man already had the bearing of a Big Shot, it was either that the world had gone crazy, or that this young man was really too monstrous.

At this time, Qin Lin also smiled and greeted the great artist, " "Old master Wu, nice to meet you. I'm the owner of the manor, Qin Lin. Welcome to Linlin Manor."

"Boss Qin, you're too kind." Wu Kai also hurriedly stood up to shake hands with Qin Lin. After all, he couldn't treat him as a young man. No matter how young he was, he would still be a future Big Boss.

Even now, the other party's status should be higher than those rich people he knew.

However, he seemed to have wobbled a little from the alcohol and almost lost his balance.

Seeing this, Wu Qian hurriedly went over to help him.

Wu Kai also apologized to Qin Lin, " "Boss Qin, I'm sorry. Your wine is too good. I drank too much."

Chapter 796 Why Are These Two Paintings Here? Why Do You Like To Eat Grass? 2

Seeing this, Qin Lin also said to the manager of the service staff, " go to the yard in the inner area and get some leeks. Remember to wash them.

the head waiter didn't know about the chives, but he did as his boss told and trotted out.

Of course, Qin Lin wanted old man Wu to help him with the wine. He had prepared a sumptuous lunch for him, but he was already almost done with the wine.

After the alcohol was dispelled, he would let the other party enjoy the big meal, and then he would take advantage of the situation to mention it.

Soon, the head waiter came back with some leeks, which had been washed and handed to Qin Lin.

Qin Lin then handed the leek to Wu Kai and said, " old man, you can try this leek. It's our special leek that can dispel alcohol. It's very effective and tastes good when eaten raw.

"? ? ?" Wu Kai was a little stunned. After all, if someone were to suddenly give him some raw leek and let him try it, and eat it raw, he would think that there was something wrong with the other party's head.

However, considering his status, he was sure that he would not joke around with him. He also thought of someone who knew everything about Linlin's company before coming here. He knew that professor Li Kai was involved in this.

Professor Li Kai was much more famous than the young boss behind Linlin company, and he had been on the news more than once.

Everyone called professor Li Kai the son of an aristocratic family and treated him as a genius.

If boss Qin was a business evildoer, then professor Li Kai was a scientific research evildoer.

So, old man Wu Kai also tried to pick up two chives and put them in his mouth.

As soon as he chewed, his eyes lit up because it was really delicious.

It was indeed magical.

Wu Kai couldn't help but grab two more and stuff them into his mouth.

This made Wu Qian curious. She was at the age where she wanted to try everything. She also grabbed a chives and put it in her mouth.

Then, she expressed herself in a more direct way. "It's so delicious. Yingying, are you really chives?"

Because the taste was too good.

it was completely different from the leeks she had eaten before or the leeks she knew of.

If he didn't eat it himself, who would have known that leeks were so delicious when eaten raw? those fruits were even more embarrassing than this.

Wu Kai was even more shocked now.

As he ate the leeks, he could clearly feel the alcohol in his body disappearing quickly along with the warm current.

After a while, he felt that the drunkenness was completely gone. It was as if he had never drunk any wine.

"this ..." wu kai looked at the remaining chives in disbelief and said in surprise, " "This should be another new crop developed by professor Li Kai, right?"

Clearly, Li Kai had taken the blame once again. As his reputation grew, it seemed that he was the first person everyone thought of.

This was something Qin Lin was happy to see, so he didn't want to give any explanation.

Wu Qian looked at the remaining leek and grabbed it in her hand, putting it into her mouth one by one.

She was obviously treating the leeks as snacks. People who didn't know her might be confused. This young lady is so beautiful, why does she like to eat grass?

After that, the manager of the service staff also came forward and led Wu Kai and his granddaughter to the restaurant.

In the restaurant, the three girls, academician li, and the others had already eaten. Today, they had the emperor's supreme set meal.

In fact, they had already seen the dishes on the table next to them. From the smell of the egg-fried rice and herbal dishes, they knew that boss Qin had made them himself.

After all, he had eaten it many times, so he could always tell at once.

this also let them know that someone had moved into the manor again. at the same time, they were very curious who had the face to make boss qin cook for the other party on the first day.

So, when Wu Kai and Wu Qian came in, the three girls and academician li all looked at Wu Kai.

Wu Kai had seen a lot of the world, so he could deal with people's attention normally. However, this also depended on the person. Lin and Liu couldn't affect him, but the three Chinese Academy of Sciences were different.

Therefore, as soon as he came in, he politely smiled and nodded at the other three academicians.

Academician li, academician Hao, and academician Lin were just curious about who came, so they smiled and nodded in response to Wu Kai.

No matter who the other party was, if boss Qin allowed the other party to stay in the house, it must be boss pin's acknowledgment of this person. Since the other party nodded in greeting, they naturally had to respond politely.

He had to give boss Qin some face.

At the same time, the manager of the service staff invited Wu Kai and his granddaughter to take a seat and said, " Mr. Wu, this is the medicinal lunch that our boss personally prepared for you. Please try it.

As he said that, he politely ordered a small bowl of egg fried rice for the two of them.

Wu Kai and Wu Qian were a little surprised. They didn't expect boss Qin to cook for them, which was a bit flattering.

The main point was that the dishes on the table looked, smelled, and tasted great. The unique medicinal fragrance was very attractive, indicating that the medicinal cuisine was definitely delicious.

Wu Qian had already started to taste the egg fried rice.

The egg-fried rice with +3 deliciousness and +3 texture made her lose her composure. "What the hell is this egg-fried rice?"

Chapter 797 Why Are These Two Paintings Here? Why Do You Like Eating Grass? 3

All of a sudden, she stared blankly at Qin Lin, unable to hide the admiration in her eyes. Who would have thought that the boss of Linlin's company would be so handsome, so good at riding horses, and so good at cooking?

She was certain that she had never tasted such a delicacy in her entire life.

The simple egg-fried rice was actually more delicious than any exotic food she had ever eaten. If this got out, people would think that she was daydreaming, right?

Wu Kai couldn't believe that someone could make such a delicious egg-fried rice, but it was the truth. After that, he tried the medicinal fish, and the taste of the medicinal fish also amazed him.

he was already so old and had become famous in the painting world since young. he had really eaten everything. he had eaten the food made by many amazing chefs. however, the food he had eaten in his entire life was really not as good as the one in front of him.

Then, he thought of the Linlin medicinal wine and poured himself a cup.

The wine and the food were a perfect match.

After the meal, Wu Kai couldn't help but exclaim, "Boss Qin, you're really an amazing person. At such a young age, you've already achieved things that ordinary people can't reach. Who would've thought that your cooking skills would also be so superb? I think there's no one in the world who can beat you in cooking."

When Qin Lin heard this, he also took the opportunity to compliment, "Mr. Wu, I should be the one admiring you. After all, your painting skills are the best in the country. Someone even spent more than 300 million to buy your masterpiece paintings.

The two of them were complimenting each other, but their conversation immediately attracted the attention of academician Li and the other two. They were curious about this person's identity, and now they knew.

No matter if it was the top artist in the country or someone else seeking a painting for 300 million, it was undoubtedly an amazing achievement.

"Old Mr. Wu, if you're an expert in painting, I'm sure you have a lot of experience in appraising paintings," Qin Lin continued.

"I have done some research." Wu Kai nodded in response, but his mind was filled with thoughts. He was thinking about how to get boss Qin to agree to let him paint in the manor.

When Qin Lin heard Wu Kai's words, he struck while the iron was hot and said, " old Mister Wu, I have two paintings that I got by chance. I wonder if you can help me take a look? "

At this moment, the three girls and the three academicians suddenly realized why Boss Qin wanted to cook for Mr. Wu on his first day.

"Sure, I wonder what kind of paintings you want me to see, boss Qin?" Wu Kai didn't think too much about it. All he could think about was getting Qin Lin to agree to let him paint in the manor.

When he heard Qin Lin's request, the first thing he thought of was, " If I help boss Qin to appraise the painting, it will definitely be easier to talk to boss Qin about this.

Qin Lin also said, " one of them is Van Gogh's 'sunflower in the sea', and the other is Picasso's 'the woman holding the Golden Drum'! I don't know if these two paintings are real or fake, so I'd like to ask old Mr. Wu to appraise them."

"why these two?" Wu Kai was clearly stunned when he heard this.

It was because these two paintings were too famous, very famous in the entire painting world. Furthermore, it was rumored that these two paintings had sunk into the sea.

Although the rumor might not be true, it was possible that one of the two paintings was in the collection room of some rich man.

However, if this painting appeared in boss Qin's hands at the same time, it was basically fake.

He was now in a dilemma. How could he tactfully tell boss Qin that the two paintings were fake?

Chapter 798 These Two Paintings Are Actually Real

"Boss Qin, can you let me see these two paintings first?" Although old man Wu Kai knew that these two paintings were fake, he still said it tactfully.

Boss Qin had given him so much face, and with his status and identity, he had even personally prepared this medicinal meal for him. He couldn't just say that the painting was fake without even looking at it, right?

That would be embarrassing.

Later, he would have to pretend to appraise it.

"Then please wait for a moment, old master Wu!" Qin Lin smiled and also turned to the office to pick up the painting.

Academician Li, academician Hao, academician Lin, and Lin Liu, who was holding a child, were obviously attracted by the conversation.

It was purely because Van Gogh and Picasso were too well-known, and everyone could not get around them.

The textbooks had sections of " Van Gogh " and " Picasso " .

Some bad editors would even add a full recitation for you.

This was also something that made people very puzzled. Why did the textbooks have room for Van Gogh and Picasso, but not for Yue Fei, Wei Qing, Huo Qubing, Liu, Yang, Luo, and Qian, the heroes who had shed their blood for their people?

There were even celebrities and internet celebrities who openly entered the textbooks and became students 'learning objects.

It had to be admitted that some celebrities and internet celebrities had their own merits. There were some aspects that were worth learning from. One was afraid that they would suddenly screw up and create this and that door, hair washing, surrogacy, and so on.

That would be f * cking embarrassing!

Qin Lin quickly brought out Van Gogh's " sunflower in the sea " and Picasso's " the woman with the Golden Drum ", then invited Wu Kai to the main hall.

The table in the hall was a good place to unroll the two paintings and admire them.

Academician li and the other two also came out. They couldn't stop their curiosity if they didn't see what was going on.

Qin Lin took out the two paintings and handed them to Wu Kai.

the old man took the painting. at that moment, he was slightly surprised because the texture of the painting was not right.

As an artist of his level, he was very sensitive to things like paper. He could even easily judge the age of the paper.

The two paintings were obviously not framed by modern materials. He could roughly judge that one was 70 to 80 years old, and the other was more than a hundred years old.

What time is this?

Wu Kai's mouth was slightly agape, because this time was too coincidental. It was really the era where Van Gogh and Picasso lived.

Could it be that this was an imitation of Van Gogh and Picasso's paintings?

After all, this kind of thing was not uncommon. Piracy was also a way to make money. Imitating the paintings of contemporary famous artists could make a lot of money.

If that was the case, although the painting could not be compared to the paintings by Van Gogh and Picasso, it could still be considered an antique at this time.

Wu Kai immediately opened one of the paintings.

A painting of sunflowers on the sea instantly unfurled in front of his eyes. Seeing the scene of the painting and the technique on the painting, he was stunned once again. It was somewhat inconceivable.

Wu Kai quickly moved closer to the painting and looked at it more seriously.

this drawing skill, and his drawing skills are amazing! the more Wu Kai looked at it, the more incredulous he felt. He couldn't believe it.

He hurriedly opened another painting, and a Western blonde woman holding a Golden Drum in battle mode appeared in front of him.

A very advanced painting technique unfolded in front of his eyes.

He was sure that this painting skill and art skill was not something an ordinary artist could possess. In fact, he admitted that he was not as good as this painting.

There were no painters in modern society that could make him feel this way, and there were only a handful of them in the past.

This really shocked him.

If it was this kind of painting skill, he wouldn't even be sure if the painting was real or fake.

Yes, he could not be sure.

It was impossible for the two paintings to appear in the hands of the same person.

However, this drawing skill and art skill was something that not many people could achieve.

if a person had this kind of technique, he wouldn't need to imitate other people's paintings at all. he would definitely be a famous great artist.

"Boss Qin, I'm not sure if this painting is real or fake." "If you don't mind, I can find a few experts in this field to help me with the identification," Wu Kai said, a little embarrassed.

Although he had superb painting skills, he had experience in appraising such ancient paintings, but he wasn't an expert. Therefore, he could only find someone else to help him in this situation.

"Of course I don't mind. I'll have to trouble old Mr. Wu!" After hearing Wu Kai's words, Qin Lin suddenly felt more confident.

If the painting was fake in reality, the old man wouldn't have to be like this.

Since that was the case, it meant that the two paintings were real in reality.

In that case, the potential of the lake mine would be great. In the future, he would be able to dig out more treasure chests from sunken ships, and the International Museum would be ready.

If I were to build an international Museum in Linlin Manor, the collection would be as valuable as Van Gogh and Picasso. If you Westerners wanted to see the top antiques of your country, you would have to come to my Scenic Area. How impressive would that be?

Wu Kai didn't hesitate after hearing Qin Lin's words. He took out his mobile phone and seriously watched a few videos of the two paintings. Then, he opened a WeChat group and added the appraisers he knew.

The people he had added to the WeChat group were naturally the best appraisers in the field of art appraisal. Not only were they good at domestic paintings, but there were also people who were good at foreign paintings.

Chapter 799 These Two Paintings Are Actually Real 2

As soon as the WeChat group was created, it became lively.

"It's master Wu who created the group!"

"I wonder what instructions old master Wu has for me this time?"

"Old master Wu, did you release a new painting recently?"

"....."

Wu Kai didn't hesitate and sent the video he had just taken to the WeChat group.

As soon as the videos were sent out, the appraisers in the group immediately clicked on the videos.

Their first thought was that the painting in the video might be Wu Kai's new work.

A painting drawn by a great artist like Wu Kai would also attract a lot of attention.

However, these people were stunned when they saw the video.

Van Gogh's sunflower in the sea?

Picasso, "The woman with the golden drum"?

Seeing the two paintings in the video, the people in the WeChat group were stunned.

As people in this industry, they naturally recognized these two paintings. They also knew that these two paintings had never appeared in the world and had long been silent in the vast sea.

Now, the great artist Wu Kai had posted a few videos like this. Was he the one who copied these two paintings?

"Master Wu, what are these two paintings?" One of the appraisers couldn't help but ask.

Wu Kai also sent a message to the WeChat group, "I can't be sure about these two paintings. I only know that the material used was from 70 years ago and 100 years ago. They were well-preserved, and their painting skills and skills made me admit that I'm inferior."

That's why I'm not sure about these two paintings. I'd like to ask for your help to take a look.

This message stunned the people in the group.

They all understood what Wu Kai meant.

Could it be that this Master Wu thought that these two paintings were real?

However, according to Master Wu, Van Gogh and Picasso had lived for more than 70 to 100 years, and that was when their paintings were completed.

More importantly, his painting skills were even higher than Wu Kai's, which proved that these two paintings were not simple.

Could it be that these two words were genuine?

the people in the group all had the same thought.

Although he felt that the possibility of this was not high, people always had a slight possibility.

What if the painting was real?

"Master Wu, where are the two paintings now?" one of the artists asked.

"yeah, where is this painting? We can go over and help master Wu." The other appraiser said.

If someone else had sent this video over, they wouldn't even bother with it. They would definitely ignore it. It was definitely fake. How could these two famous Western paintings that had sunk into the sea appear in their country? The two paintings appeared at the same time.

However, it was sent by Wu Kai, and with what he had said before, they couldn't ignore it even if they wanted to.

Moreover, if these two paintings were true, it would definitely cause a sensation in the domestic art Circle, and even the whole world's art circles and collection world.

therefore, they naturally wanted to find out.

Wu Kai also knew that these people couldn't resist the temptation of this matter, so he sent a message, " I'm in you city. This painting belongs to the boss of Linlin company. Please help me invite two more foreign experts to verify the authenticity of this painting.

"The boss of Linlin company?" An appraiser sent out a surprised message.

After all, Linlin's company had been too famous recently.

The boss of Linlin company was a legend.

And now, these two paintings were actually from the boss of Linlin company?

If these two paintings were real, then this legendary scene would be even more legendary.

In just two days, the appraisers that Wu Kai had hired arrived. Among them was the most famous painting appraiser in the country, Zhang Yuanzhi, and the president of the appraisal Association, Zhu Sanqing.

The appraisers invited by Wu Kai, the top artist in the country, were naturally not ordinary people. They were all top appraisers. Moreover, there were also foreign appraisers, two white elders.

Moreover, these two people's background was not small.

One of them was a top-notch appraiser from the LAN, and the other was a top-notch appraiser from Xi Ban Ya. These two countries were the hometown of Van Gogh and Picasso.

This time, it was Zhang Yuanzhi who had invited the two of them. The two of them happened to be in Shanghai to participate in an international painting exhibition appraisal.

Furthermore, the two of them were experts in appraising the works of Picasso and Van Gogh.

These appraisers were all arranged to stay at the Zhong min hotel. Naturally, it was impossible to invite all of them to the Linlin Manor.

At this time, the appraisers were also discussing with Zhang Yuanzhi and Zhu Sanqing as their leaders.

"Master Zhang, President Zhu, do you think the two paintings in the hands of the boss of Linlin company are real or fake?" One of the appraisers asked.

"It feels a little unbelievable. It can't be true, right?" another person asked.

Another person said, "but from the time of that era that Master Wu Kai described, as well as that kind of painting skills, it seems that only those two had such an ability during that era. If other artists had such painting skills, they should have been very famous at that time. There was no need to imitate other people's paintings at all.

"We'll only know what's going on when we see those two paintings." Zhang Yuanzhi said. He was very clear that with the painting skills mentioned by Master Wu Kai, even if the other party imitated them, the skills would be even more famous. There should be traces of these two paintings in the world.

The two old men actually understood Chinese. One of them couldn't help but say, "Zhang, you don't really think that those two paintings are authentic, do you? That's impossible."

Another white old man nodded and said, "that's right, that's impossible. All of us in the Western world of painting and antique collectors know that these two paintings have sunk into the sea. This is recorded in history. Could our history books have deceived us?"

Chapter 800 These Two Paintings Are Actually Real 3

the two of them didn't believe such a thing at all. they even felt that the two paintings that these people were talking about were ridiculous.

The reason they came here was to expose this absurd lie and stop these people from having such unrealistic thoughts.

While the appraisers were talking, the door of the hall opened and a few people walked in.

Zhang Yuanzhi, Zhu Sanqing, and the other appraisers subconsciously looked over and saw Master Wu Kai walking in. There was a young man and a few burly men beside him.

the young man was qin lin, and the brawny man was the retired soldier that chen dabeii had brought with him.

Zhang Yuanzhi, Zhu Sanqing, and the other appraisers immediately went up to Wu Kai when they saw him.

"Master Wu Kai, you're finally here. Where are the two paintings?"

"Master Wu Kai, hurry up and let us see those two paintings!"

"..."

Qin Lin was ignored by these people, or rather, these people didn't even think that he was the boss of Linlin's company.

His age was the best cover-up for such an occasion. He gave Chen dabei a look, and Chen dabei brought two rectangular boxes to the table in the middle and opened them. Inside were the two paintings of Picasso and Van Gogh.

This scene attracted the attention of those appraisers. They all came forward and surrounded it. They knew that it should be these two paintings.

Seeing this, Wu Kai did not introduce Qin Lin. Instead, he walked to the table and picked up one of the paintings, then slowly unfurled it. Van Gogh's "Sunflower in the Sea" was displayed before everyone's eyes.

Then, he opened Picasso's painting, "The Woman Holding the Golden Drum."

"Everyone, please help me to appraise these two paintings," Wu Kai also said.

The appraisers had come for these two paintings. They immediately surrounded the paintings and lowered their heads to observe them carefully.

These people were very good at simple Transfiguration techniques. They didn't even need to use modern machines to identify the age of the painting like other appraisers. Therefore, after a while, these people's faces gradually became filled with disbelief.

"The material of this painting can't be wrong. It's the time described by Master Wu Kai. Moreover, this painting technique is amazing."

"His painting skills are superb. This 'The Woman with the Golden Drum' is indeed better than Master Wu Kai's!"

The key point is that the traces and trajectories of this painting seem to be very similar to the imitations left behind by Van Gogh and Picasso.

"This seems to be a real Kasaya."

The two foreign appraisers' faces gradually turned grave, and they didn't look good.

"How is this possible?!"

"Why did these two paintings appear here?"

They simply couldn't believe it.

With their experience, they could tell that the two paintings were real.

However, in their historical records, they had already sunk into the sea with the ship. So why would these two paintings appear here at the same time?

Could it be that they were all deceived by their own country's history?

He Lan's appraiser immediately said, "Who is the owner of this painting? I want to buy this Van Gogh painting from him. Please let me contact him."

these words undoubtedly indicated that the painting was real.

Wu Kai looked at Qin Lin, who shook his head. What a joke, how could this painting be sold? They could either use their country's national treasure to exchange for it, or they could build a Museum in Linlin Manor in the future and hang it in the museum for everyone to see, angering the other party.

After all, he LAN and Xi bangya were both members of the North Alliance, and they were also troublemakers.

wu kai turned to appraiser he lan apologetically. "Sir, I'm really sorry. I don't think the owner of this painting is willing to sell it, and he's even more unwilling to see you. His words made the he LAN appraisers' faces turn dark. They hurriedly picked up their phones and took videos of the two paintings.

He had sent the video to the head of the Amsterdam National Museum.

Van Gogh's painting was their national treasure.

The head of the Amsterdam National Museum could find a way to buy the two paintings back through official connections.
