

The Girl CB 1001

Chapter 1001 Felton spoke for Niky in the chat group.

So, many people forget that he is still in the chat group.

At this moment, he suddenly says angrily, which makes all people silent. Although people in this group were chatting actively one second ago.

Everyone knows the bad temper of Young Master Lambert.

Suddenly, the group quieted down and no one spoke again,

Just now. those boys who shouted to let Nikita enter the group to apologize didn't say anything again.

Samuel looked at the group and looked up at Felton, who was sitting in the other corner of the last row. After a long time, he frowned and lowered his voice to ask Tobin: "Just now, Felton spoke for Niky in the group, What's the matter with him? He made up with Niky?"

Tobin looked at Samuel, as if he were looking at a fool.

Felton intentionally alienated Nikita, which didn't mean he didn't care about her.

He deliberately alienated her just because he cared about her very much.

He could alienate her and be cold to her, but he wouldn't bear others to bully Nikita.

Because of Felton's words in the group, many people started to guess whether Felton's relationship with Nikita had recovered.

Nikita knew nothing about this.

She slept until noon and woke up when she was hungry.

As soon as she opened her eyes, she heard the bell ringing.

Samuel admired her ability to wake up automatically on time.

The timing is perfect.

On the platform, the teacher announced that the class was over, then he walked out of the classroom with books,

The students below were just like birds coming out of the cages, rushing out of the classroom.

“Niky, will you go to eat with us?” Samuel looked at Nikita, who was rubbing her eyes and slowly taking the bag out of the drawer. He asked knowingly,

They used to eat together.

Now the relationship between Nikita and Felton is quite embarrassing. Of course, they can't have meal together as before.

Nikita took out her bag, raised her eyelids, and said faintly: “Well, you can go directly. I have something to do, I won't eat with you.”

Samuel said in depression: “All right.”

Nikita stood up with her backpack: “I'm leaving.”

She said and walked out of the classroom first.

Samuel sighed: "Hey, I really don't understand why Felton has to treat Niky like this, which is embarrassing for all of us."

Tobin still looked at him as if he were looking at a fool, "Your IQ... it is normal for you to be confused."

Samuel suddenly became unhappy: "Tobin, what do you mean? Don't pretend to understand the situation."

Tobin smiled: "Of course I understand."

After all, he has experienced a similar situation.

Finishing his words. Tobin turned to look at Felton, who was still sitting on his position. Felton was staring at the door, Nikita had just left from the classroom. "Felton, let's go to the canteen to have lunch? Or... let's go outside?" Tobin stood up, walked to the side of Felton, put one hand on his shoulder and pressed slightly.

Felton came to his senses. After looking back, he lowered his eyes and was silent for a few seconds. He picked up his mobile phone, got up and went out. His voice was casual: "Whatever."

After Nikita left the school, she went to the hospital to visit Gerda and her daughter directly.

Gerda was hospitalized for several days, she recovered very well.

Her injury was just trauma. Although it looked frightening, it was not quite serious. Moreover, the best experts have been treating her in recent days, so she has recovered quickly.

"Niky, aren't you at school? How can you be free and come to see me?" Gerda and Adele were eating, they were happy to see Nikita.

Gerda got up and took Nikita to the table: 'Have you eaten yet? I have just cooked something. If you are willing, sit down and eat with us.'

Chapter 1002 He owns his own business.

After Gerda let Nikita sit down, she asked Adele to go to the kitchen to get chopsticks.

Nikita didn't refuse, After sitting down casually, she held her hand on the table, supported her chin and slightly smiled. "It's not the first time to eat dishes cooked by you. Of course, I won't disdain. The college entrance examination is coming soon. The school allows us to arrange our study time freely. So I come here to visit you and Adele, I will go back soon."

Adele took a bowl and chopsticks from the kitchen, she filled the bowl with rice and handed it to Nikita.

There are several common home-cooked dishes on the table.

Nikita took over the bowl, ate for a while, and enjoyed the meal.

Gerda gave Nikita a bowl of soup, she said with hesitation after Nikita eating for a while: "Niky. I think I have almost recovered. I don't have to stay in the hospital, Living here is so expensive. I feel uneasy these days.

Besides, I still have a lot farm work to do at home. After delaying for so long, I'm afraid the crops will die.

Adele also needs to continue to study, I can't delay her study for too long."

Nikita drank the soup slowly. After Gerda finished her words. Nikita put the bowl on the table, wiped her mouth with a paper towel and looked up at her: "If you feel that you have recovered well, I will ask the hospital to give you an examination later. If there is nothing wrong, you can be discharged.

As for other things..." Nikita narrowed her eyes, thought for a few seconds, and said, "I thought, since you have come to N City, you'd better stay here. The educational resources here are the best, and you can transfer Adele to study here."

Adele was eating. Hearing Nikita's words, she looked up at Nikita with excitement in her eyes: "Sister, can I really study in a school here?"

People always want to be better. Everyone wants to have a better life.

"Hmm." Nikita held her chin with her fingers, she thought for another while and said slowly. "Well, before this, I have to find a teacher to teach you for a while, the process may be tired for you. Are you willing?"

"Yes!" Adele nodded heavily. "Sister Nikita, I am not afraid of being tired!"

"Well I will find a teacher to teach you first." Nikita smiled. "When your grades become better, I will transfer you to a new school. Otherwise, it will be hard for you to study with poor grades."

Hearing that they have decided this matter, Gerda was a little anxious: 'Niky...'

"Aunt Gerda, don't you want Adele to go to a better school and get a better education?" Before Gerda could answer, Nikita continued to talk about her arrangement. "In the past, Uncle George went out to work, because he wanted to earn more money and let you live a better life.

If staying here can make your life better, aren't you willing?"

"I'm not unwilling, but..." Gerda frowned. "In such a big city, the prices are high, doing anything may need money. You also know that I am not educated. So, it is hard for me to find a job. Even if I am willing to stay, I..."

“I’ve thought about all these things for you.” Nikita picked up the half bowl of soup on the table. After drinking a few mouthfuls, she said slowly, “My boyfriend has owned his own business and started a company. Their company is recruiting cleaners recently.”

“Aunt Gerda, if you don’t disdain, you can work in his company. As far as I know, the welfare of his company is great.”

Nikita skillfully took the car key to unlock the car, she stretched out her hand to open the door, and politely replied: "Thank you, I can drive myself,"

“All right” Vernon didn’t say anything again. After thinking about it, he took out his mobile phone and said, “Miss Swift, can you give me your phone number? It will be more convenient to contact when something happens.”

“OK.” Nikita said her phone number.

Vernon saved it and called her immediately. He hung up the phone after hearing the phone ringing.

“Miss Swift you can also save my phone number. If there is anything I can do for you in the future, just tell me.”

Nikita said ‘Hmm, then she look out her phone and saved Vernon’s phone number in the contact list.

It takes about two hours to get to the manor.

On the high speed, Nikita drove quickly, and it took only one and a half hours to arrive ahead of schedule.

Brett has arranged in advance. Nikita entered the manor smoothly. She drove to the white building and stopped.

Brett, with the doctors in the cabinet, was standing on the doorstep and waiting for her.

Dr. Charles and other experts of the National Medical College were also there.

Nikita parked the car and got out of it. Brett greeted her with a smile and a warm attitude: “Doctor, we have been waiting for you for a long time. The president has already prepared tea and waited for you in the tearoom.”

When those doctors from the cabinet saw Nikita, their facial expressions were complex.

However, no matter what their mood was, contempt and disdain in their eyes when they saw Nikita for the first time had disappeared.

After last time, no one dared to question Nikita's medical skills.

No one will treat her as an arrogant and ignorant young girl.

They were quite shamed before. They didn't want to be ashamed again.

When Dr. Charles saw Nikita, the expression on his face was more complicated. For many times, he wanted to say something, but he endured,

Hey, the people in the cabinet is really shameless.

They want to rob Nikita of the National Medical College,

If the cabinet forces them with power, the National Medical College can't stop the cabinet at all.

Why does president want to meet me?" Nikita asked.

Brett did not say clearly: "When you meet him, he will tell you in person."

Nikita did not ask again, a moment later, she walked into the white building with Brett. When she walked to the corner of the stairs, she saw the painting of YAN, an internationally renowned genius painter.

Brett noticed that Nikita was looking at the painting. He looked along Nikita's sights, then he smiled and said, "This painting is the beloved thing of the president. What do you think of this painting?"

Dr. Charles has already talked with Nikita about this painting before.

Nikita lowered her eyes, as if she were thinking. After a few seconds, she commented: "Not too bad."

Just 50 50.

When she painted this picture, she was not very satisfied.

Originally, she wanted to revise it again, but Nancy was in a hurry. Before she could revise it, Nancy sent someone to take the painting away on that day. Just on that day, the painting was sent to the auction site by a specially arranged plane, which finally got an unprecedented high price.

At that time, people who went to the auction site to bid were anonymous, and their personal information was well protected.

Therefore, even if the painting was bought, no one knew the purchaser.

Chapter 1005 Arrogant And Ignorant

Nikita can know the identity of the purchaser if she wants.

However, she also has professional qualities, she won't check this at will.

Besides, she is not interested in knowing the purchaser of her painting. The most important thing for her is getting the money.

Unexpectedly, this painting is bought by William, the president.

"Not too bad?" Brett was stunned. Originally, he wanted to say something, However, he thought that Nikita, such a young girl, might be not interested in art or similar things. She might haven't paid attention to these things.

So, she said 'Not too bad about this rare and classical famous painting.

"Well, not bad." Nikita didn't look at Brett's facial expressions at this moment, she commented seriously. "It is OK if you don't look at it seriously. If you look at it carefully, you can find many small shortcomings. At least, four or five places should be revised."

Brett

Several experts standing behind Brett: "

Dr. Charles and other experts of the National Medical College: "..

She is really a layman who doesn't know anything so she can say such arrogant and ignorant words.

"This magical doctor is very powerful in medicine, but in other aspects..."

"I'm afraid she doesn't even know who YAN is. so she dares to talk like this."

At this moment, several doctors who were ashamed they didn't even dare to say anything before seemed to be confident again because of Nikita's words.

After all she is young.

Her experience and knowledge are far from enough.

"Ahem, doctor, Mr. President is still waiting for you. Let's go up first. Brett also thought that Nikita said such words because she was young and ignorant. Although he felt that her words were ridiculous, his self-restraint and his demeanor made him controlled his impulse of mocking.

When he was young, he was also ignorant.

Therefore, he is quite tolerant of such a little girl

Nikita said 'Hmm., then she looked back and followed Brett to go upstairs.

After going upstairs, they walked for another while before arriving at the door of William's room.

"Mr. President the doctor has arrived." Brett stood at the door and said to the person in the room politely.

After a few seconds, a low, magnetic and dignified voice came out of the room: "Please ask the doctor to come in."

"Doctor, please come in Brett bent slightly and made an inviting gesture.

Nikita walked into the room.

After she entered the room, Brett and others behind them followed.

In the room.

The furnishings and decorations of the tearoom are very antique. As soon as someone walks in, he can see a screen embroidered with peony patterns. Next to the screen, there are rosewood chairs and tables. There is a set of tea sets on the table. In the teapot, that is freshly brewed tea, braving the white mist.

William poured a cup of tea with a teapot and put it on the opposite side. He raised his head and smiled to Nikita. He said gently. "Doctor, please sit down and taste the tea! made."

Nikita walked over calmly and indifferently, then she sat opposite William.

“Doctor, please check the president’s body first.” Brett said politely, standing beside William,

Several cabinet doctors who followed in suddenly looked gloomy.

They have examined William several times,

The examination results showed that William had recovered very well, and the congestion in his brain was getting less and less.

But at the moment, Brett asks Nikita to check William, he doesn’t believe them?

“Mr. President, give me your hand.” Nikita put one hand on the table and tapped the table with her white finger.

William stretched out his hand obediently.

Chapter 1006 Asking Exorbitant Prices

William stretched out his hand obediently.

Nikita gently pressed two fingers on William’s wrist. After feeling his pulse for about one minute, she asked William to change his hand.

After a short while, she moved her finger away.

“Doctor, how is my recovery?” William asked politely without any arrogance.

Brett looked a little nervous, he also looked at Nikita.

Although Nikita has said William's congestion in his brain has been cleared, which means there won't be any problems... William's identity is so special and noble. Of course. they will be nervous inevitably.

William was cured by Nikita.

They can completely rest assured after letting Nikita check him.

"You have recovered quite well," Because of 500 million, Nikita was quite polite, she answered the question directly. "If you want to recover faster, I can prescribe a few more medicines for you. Of course, if you feel unnecessary, you can stop taking medicine."

"Doctor, please prescribe some more medicine for the president Brett said immediately.

"500 thousand dollars for one dose." Nikita unzipped her backpack, took paper and pen from the inside, pinched the pen and looked at William. "President, can you accept this price?"

The patient is the president.

Of course, she will try to earn as much as she can.

The family behind William is quite wealthy.

Making high prices for him won't make Nikita feel guilty.

Brett " _ "

Others standing in the room:

The price made by this doctor...

Is quite high...

The President can certainly afford to eat doses of medicine at the cost of 500 thousand dollars for each, and his health is definitely worth this price. But isn't the prices made by the doctor so high and unreasonable?

What kind of panacea? 500 thousand dollars for each dose?

"Of course I can accept it. William smiled gracefully. "Please, prescribe the medicine."

Nikita smiled and started to write a prescription seriously.

Soon, she finished writing the prescription,

She handed the written prescription to William. When William reached out his hand to take it over, Nikita smiled again. There was teasing in her black and bright eyes, it seemed that she was smiling: "Mr. President don't you think I am taking this opportunity to blackmail?"

William's hands are very good-looking with long white fingers and clear bones. His hands are very suitable for playing the piano.

He took the prescription, looked down at it, and then handed it to Brett.

"Your medical skills are worth any price. William smiled slightly. "You can offer whatever price you want. You deserve this."

These words are great.

There is no deliberate compliment, but his words are praising Nikita.

Although Nikita doesn't like to be flattered, the compliment from the president still makes her feel comfortable.

Brett couldn't understand the strange words on the prescription. After taking the prescription, he handed it to the doctors of the cabinet.

After getting the prescription, several doctors of the cabinet immediately gathered together to see what precious medicinal materials are on this prescription worth millions of dollars.

500 thousand dollars for one dose.

Nikita made a prescription for four doses, one dose for one week.

So this prescription is worth two million.

Several doctors looked at the names of medicinal materials one by one, and the more they read, the more complex the expression on their faces was.

They thought that since this prescription is worth millions of dollars, the medicinal materials prescribed on it must be all kinds of extremely expensive medicinal materials, at least... some century-old ginseng century-old Ganoderma lucidum and so on... should be listed, right?

Chapter 1007 The Medicinal Materials Planted by Myself.

But, there were just common medicinal materials on this prescription, century-old ginseng? There are no such things at all!

Except for the last two medicines, which they had never heard of, the total value of the rest medicines won't worth more than 10 thousand dollars!

Those two medicines at the end of the prescription can worth 1.99 million dollars?

“Doctor, I don’t know if I can ask you a question.” After reading the prescription, a doctor couldn’t help but ask, “We have never heard of these last two medicines. I don’t know what they are, what effects they have...”

“Please, magical doctor, answer our questions.”

The doctor asked in a polite and humble tone.

But his sights were not that friendly.

Obviously, he was not sincerely humble while asking.

Dr. Charles had just read the prescription, he was curious about the last two medicines. He didn’t realize the hostility hidden in the words of the doctor from the cabinet. He thought that doctor was just curious like him.

He also asked curiously: “Yes, magical doctor, I have never heard of the last two medicines, What are they used for treating?”

“Of course, you haven’t heard of them,” Nikita put away her paper and pen. She picked up the teacup slowly, took a sip of the tea, and said slowly, “These are medicines grown by myself, you can’t find them anywhere else besides my pharmacy.”

Faces of doctors from the cabinet changed slightly.

“Medicines grown by yourself? You mean... you invented these medicines?”

“Hmm.” Nikita said casually, “Yeah, I invented them.”

“That is to say, these medicines have not been identified or tested by any authoritative professional organizations? You dare to prescribe them for the president?”

The doctor holding the prescription changed his face again, sipped his lips tightly, and his voice became serious: "Doctor, don't you know how noble the identity of the president is? How dare you let Mr. President accept your experiment! I there is anything wrong with his health after taking the medicine prescribed by you, can you afford to be responsible?*

As soon as the doctor from the cabinet finished his words, everyone felt that the temperature had dropped by tens of degrees in an instant. Suddenly they felt quite cold with goose bumps.

Even William could feel the sudden-occurred frightening aura of the girl.

Brett felt that something was wrong when he saw Nikita's face immediately became gloomy. He immediately turned to scold the doctor who spoke just now: "How dare you to doubt her medical skills? Have you forgotten that it was her who saved the president?"

"If it weren't for the magical doctor, with your medical skills, could you tell the possible situation of the president? If she really wants to harm the president, does she have to wait till now?!"

Brett has already known that this young doctor is proud and arrogant. She doesn't even take the president to heart.

Most geniuses are so proud of their talents.

Geniuses hate to be doubted the most

She has always been polite and maintained basic manners and etiquette.

But just now, after the doctor who didn't know the situation questioned her, her temper suddenly became bad. In front of the president, she showed her anger immediately without hesitation.

Brett was afraid that she would leave with at the next second, so he quickly reprimanded the doctor.

Mr. President wants to keep her in the cabinet.

If they make her leave with anger, all of them will be punished.

Chapter 1008 So quickly

Brett scolded directly. Those doctors from the cabinet changed their faces, bowed their heads, and didn't dare to make any other sounds.

The doctor who doubted Nikita just now seemed to want to say something. Brett looked at him with warning in his eyes, that doctor didn't dare to say immediately.

But he still looked unconvinced.

Obviously, he still had doubts about Nikita's expensive prescription.

"All right, you can go out." William waved his hands and said, "I don't need you here for the time being."

"Mr. President..."

"Can't you understand my words!" William's eyes showed majesty, and his voice became deeper.

Several cabinet doctors did not dare to say anything again. After answering "OK", they turned and walked out of the room.

Dr. Charles and other experts also turned and left.

Only Nikita, William, and Brett were left in the room.

“Doctor, Allen and others have been with us for many years. This is my exclusive private medical team. They are particularly concerned about my physical condition. Just now, they said some offensive words to you, please don’t mind.”

William’s tone is humble: “Since I have asked you to come, I will completely believe you, I will ask someone to buy the medicine according to your prescription.”

William’s words showed his attitude.

Although these doctors in the cabinet doubted Nikita, it had nothing to do with him.

He believed Nikita.

“Yeah, Alan and others are just too nervous about Mr. President.” Brett also tried to ease the atmosphere, “They have no hostility to you.”

Nikita’s face was still gloomy. Hearing this, she smiled. Although her black and cold eyes seemed to be smiling, it was not sincere. Her voice was light, but it made others panicked.

“Mr. President I have checked you and made a prescription for you. If there is nothing else, I will leave.”

“As for the bill, you can transfer to the previous account,”

She said slung her black backpack on her shoulder at will. Then she got up and was ready to leave.

When Brett saw that she was leaving, he stepped forward and stopped her: “Please stay here for another while, we have another thing to discuss with you.”

Brett stretched out his hand to stop Nikita in a hurry.

When his hand was still in the air, he saw the girl in front of him dodge his hand quickly and skillfully. He didn't even touch her clothes.

As William's assistant, Brett is well-trained.

But he didn't even see how Nikita dodged him clearly just now.

Her action was so fast.

Brett was stunned. When he looked up at Nikita, he looked surprised.

Nikita stopped, then she looked at Brett's surprised eyes expressionlessly: "What's the matter?"

Brett was stunned for a few seconds before he came to his senses. He said in a hurry. "Doctor, sit down, let's talk in detail"

"I don't need to sit down." Nikita frowned slightly, she looked impatient, she was also controlling her gloomy tone. "If you have something to say, say it quickly, I still have something to do. Hurry up, I have no time left."

She didn't want to have too much contact with William and his followers.

For her, the deal has been completed after she got paid for curing him.

After the deal, there is no need to meet again.

She has always disliked getting along with politicians.

Even though William has always been very polite to her, he is a politician. No matter how gentle and polite he is superficially, Nikita won't be so stupid to regard William as an elder who is easy for her to get along with.

Chapter 1009 Reject the Presidential

As a person who can be the president, he must be shrewd enough,

The impatience in the girl's tone is not hidden at all.

Brett's face changed slightly, he turned to look at William immediately. Unexpectedly, he saw that William was smiling. The president was not angry because of the disrespectful attitude of Nikita, he looked at her with admiration.

Brett was relieved.

Mr. President is always more tolerant of such rare talents.

In those days, he wanted to see YAN, that talented painter, but he was rejected. He chose to respect that painter's choice rather than force her to meet him.

"I appreciate your medical skills. Our cabinet has been short of talents like you. Therefore, this time I ask you to come here because I want to talk about asking you to join the cabinet of the presidential palace."

William said like this and winked at Brett.

Brett immediately said, "Yes, doctor, our presidential palace intends to invite you to join the cabinet medical team. Of course, you can tell us about all your requirements. We will try our best to satisfy you."

Brett finished his words and was ready to look at Nikita's surprised facial expressions.

However, her face didn't change at all. Her eyes were also the same as they were just now, as if they had just said ordinary words.

It seems that... this is not the personal invitation of the president for her to join the presidential palace.

She wasn't happy.

She wasn't flattered.

She was so calm as if they were playing a one-man show.

"Sorry, I'm not interested in joining any organization." Nikita directly refused William's invitation without thinking about it.

Her refusal made William and Brett stunned at the same time.

Neither of them thought that someone would refuse the invitation from the presidential palace.

This is the ultimate goal that many people have dreamed of all their lives.

What kind of place is the presidential palace?

What does it mean to be able to enter the presidential palace, enter the cabinet, serve the president as his personal doctor?

This is a great thing that others don't even dare to dream of.

But she refused!

She even refused it directly without thinking!

Did she know what she was refusing?!

“Doctor, I hope you can consider this matter carefully again,” After coming to his senses. Brett calmed down and persuaded her seriously. “You don’t have to answer immediately. Three days later, you...”

“No, as I said just now, I am not interested in joining any organization.” Nikita interrupted him without waiting for him to finish speaking. “I am just an ordinary student. I just want to take normal exams, go to college, and find an ordinary job after graduation,”

“The job in the presidential palace is too advanced for me. which is unsuitable.”

Brett...

William: “...”

This is her reason for refusing?

“Doctor...” Brett still wanted to persuade Nikita again.

He felt that Nikita must haven’t understood the meaning of becoming William’s personal doctor.

So, she refused so quickly.

When she understands this in the future, she will definitely regret!

“Brett, since the doctor is unwilling, don’t force her.” William looked at Nikita with dark and deep eyes. He looked emotionless, his voice sounded gentle. “I hope that the doctor can join us voluntarily, rather than be forced.”

Brett frowned and sipped his lips.

“Thank you, Mr. President, for understanding.”

Nikita carried her backpack, turned around, and walked out of the tearoom at a moderate speed.

Chapter 1010 He will definitely ask such a talent to join the president palace.

When she left, Brett frowned and said, “Mr. President don’t you want to let her join the cabinet very much? Why did you let her go like this?”

William picked up the tea and drank it in no hurry. “What else can I do? Force her to stay? What I want is to let her serve me willingly, not to stay reluctantly.”

“She will become my personal doctor in the future. If she is not willing to work for me, forcing her to stay will only be dangerous for me.”

Brett became silent.

Indeed, the president’s personal doctor is a special position. If that person is not willing to serve the president wholeheartedly, it will be dangerous.

In particular, this magical doctor is so skillful and powerful that if she wants to harm the president, no one will find out.

However, Brett’s mood was still quite complex.

Originally, he thought that this doctor would gladly agree to enter the cabinet to work for the president.

He didn’t expect the result to be like this.

No one has ever refused an invitation from the presidential palace.

This magical doctor is the first and only one.

She is really not interested in the presidential palace? Or... she is pretending?

In a word, she will definitely regret it in the future.

“Wait, be patient.” William showed a confident smile on his face. “Such a talent can only belong to our presidential palace. In a few days, you can talk to her in person. At that time, tell her directly about the benefits and treatment of joining the cabinet of the presidential palace.”

“When temptations are attractive enough, no one can refuse.”

She is just a teenage girl after all. How persistent can she be when she resists the temptation?

Brett understood what William meant. He thought about it for a while. Then he nodded and said: “I’ll talk to her a few days later. But is the Office of the President willing to meet any requests of her no matter how far she goes as long as she agrees to join the cabinet?”

William smiled again. And his tone sounded light and calm: “It’s up to you. As long as she is not challenging my bottom line, it’s okay.”

There is no shortage of talents in the Office of the President.

It can be said that the best talents from all walks of life in this country have gathered in the Office of the President.

But the Office of the President lacks of a talent like Nikita.

So in any case, he must recruit her.

"I see what you mean, President." Brett nodded. He looked down at the prescription in his hand and asked: "So do you want to try her prescription?*

William put down the tea cup, got up and said: "Trust the person in position. Just get the medicine according to the prescription."

Brett respectfully said: "Yes, Sir."

There are two medicines on the prescription they don't have here, so he had to go to ask that miracle-working doctor.

Several doctors in the cabinet left the tea house with a gloomy face.

They didn't dare to express their grievances until they went downstairs.

"Aren't our president and Assistant Brett holding too much belief in that miracle-working doctor? And we can't even question her, can we?"

"Indeed! Our president is such a precautionary person. I have never seen him trust someone like that. We never heard about the last two medicines on that prescription. So we asked about it based on our concerns about the president's safety. What's wrong about that?"

Several doctors in the cabinet feel wronged.

They were clearly very loyal to the president. But they still got scolded.
