

The Girl CB 1011

Chapter 1011 You guys are too shameless.

On the contrary, that little girl who was so arrogant and showed no manners in front of the president, was actually valued by the president.

“Alas no matter what, she did cure the president. Perhaps the president treats her as his lifesaver. And that’s why he trusts her so much. I heard that the president is planning to recruit her to the cabinet.”

“Is he really going to recruit a teenage girl to the cabinet and let her become our colleague? Isn’t this basically a joke? Even though she did cure the president, it doesn’t mean that she has such excellent medical skills that she can make the medical team in the cabinet! What if she was just lucky when she cured the president? We all passed a lot of tests before we got in the cabinet. Doesn’t she need to pass some tests?”

“It makes sense! I also feel that it’s just a shot in the dark for her to cure the president only by the acupuncture. She was just lucky. If she really wants to join in the medical team of the cabinet, she must pass all those tests just like we did!”

Several doctors in the cabinet were all indignant

They have spent most of their lives and paid so much effort before they stood out from thousands of people and finally got into the medical team in the cabinet. While they can actually make an exception for a teenage girl just because she cured the president this time, recruit her into the medical team in the cabinet and let her be on an equal footing with them

It’s not fair!

They can’t accept it!

We must talk to Assistant Brett about this.” The doctor who took the lead looked dignified and said: ‘We can accept to inject new blood to the medical team. And we don’t care how much younger this new talent is than us. But we can’t accept to make an exception for a single person.’”

“To be special to her is unfair to others”

“Hey you old guys are too shameless Dr Charles, who came out with those doctors in the cabinet, heard their conversation, stepped forward angrily, pointed to their noses and scolded them

“You, a group of old guys, don’t have the medical skills that are as good as that of a young girl. Instead of feeling ashamed, you actually speak ill of her behind her back like this. And you even said her curing the president was just a shot in the dark How cheeky you are to say such words!

It’s not shameful to admit that someone is better than us! But it’s shameful to speak ill of others just because they are better than us! You are so shameless! You brought shame to your families and ancestors!

If Nikita was just lucky to cure the president as you said, then what does that say about you guys who couldn’t cure the president? Doesn’t it mean that neither your medical skills nor your luck is good enough?”

Several doctors in the cabinet just focused on venting their dissatisfaction and forgot the existence of Dr. Charles.

At this moment when Dr. Charles came forward to scold them to their faces, they were all stunned

After they came to their senses, they all flushed in embarrassment.

It is really disgraceful to speak ill of others behind their backs

“It is our fault to talk about her like this behind her back. I admit that.” After remaining in silence for a while with a red face in embarrassment, a doctor sipped his lips and spoke up in an unwilling tone. “But we didn’t wrong her about the assessment. We all passed a lot of tests before we got in the cabinet. And so did you, Dr. Charles. It’s not too much for us to request her to accept the assessment, right?”

“Hey, we can always make an exception when it comes to the introduction of special talents. Dr. Charles disagreed with the talking doctor. He looked at him and said “As long as the president thinks she doesn’t need to be assessed, she can pass all that.

Besides, Nikita may not agree to join in the medical team in the cabinet!”

Chapter 1012 Rosa thought of someone.

In fact, when Dr. Charles said so, he was not sure about this, either

Although Nikita refused to enter the National Medical College, it is hard to say whether she will also refuse to join in the medical team of the cabinet

The National Medical College have a higher status in the international medical system. But joining in the medical team of the cabinet means to work for the president, who is more tempting for ordinary people.

Therefore, ever since Dr. Charles left the tea house, he has been feeling very uneasy

If Nikita agreed to join in the medical team of the cabinet, there must be no hope for the National Medical College to have her.

“It will be the best if she doesn’t agree to join in. We don’t want to be colleagues with a teenage girl!
The talking doctor was quite stubborn

“You...” Dr. Charles widened his eyes in anger. As he was about to point to the talking doctor and scold him, he suddenly saw two young women coming towards them. So he held himself back, although the swear words were just about to come out from his mouth.

The other doctors in the cabinet also saw the two young women coming towards them. When their eyes fell on one of the coming women, they immediately showed a respectful look.

When that young woman approached them, they bowed their heads slightly and greeted her in unison:
“Miss Irene”

Dr. Charles also greeted her politely. "Miss Irene."

Irene smiled at several people and asked politely: "Doctor Green, how is my father today? Is he all right now?"

The leading doctor looked respectful and replied: "The president recovers very well. And his mental state is also very good"

"That's great" Irene smiled again. And her voice was gentle and soft. Thank you for taking this time to take care of my father."

"There is no need to say that, Miss Irene. It is our duty to take good care of the President."

Irene is the youngest daughter of William. She has always been clever and beautiful since she was a child. She has her way to please William. And William dotes on this daughter very much.

Irene was attending a concert abroad before. And she just came back in a hurry yesterday.

"By the way, is that miracle working doctor still here?" Irene seemed to think of something. She raised her head and looked upstairs. "I want to thank her in person."

Before the leading doctor replied her, Rosa, who was standing beside Irene, frowned and turned her head. She couldn't help but speak up to ask first "Miracle working doctor? What miracle-working doctor?"

The title of the miracle-working doctor reminded Rosa of someone.

Although she knows it may not be so coincidental, and that little bitch is not qualified to get into such a place like the Office of the President, Rosa still felt a little uneasy.

She could only rest assured when she got a clear answer

“Rosa, I haven’t told you yet that it was this miracle working doctor to save my father this time” Irene took Rosa’s arm and told her what happened back and forth

If William were still in a coma, Irene wouldn’t have dared to disclose such a thing to anyone.

But now that William is fully recovered, she can talk about this.

“My father was in a very critical situation at the time. Thanks to that doctor who has excellent medical skills! She actually used acupuncture to cure my father.” While saying so, Irene patted her chest with the lingering fear. “So I must thank the miracle-working doctor in person.”

Rosa listened with great interest at first. But when she heard the latter part, her face suddenly changed severely

She grabbed Irene’s arm.

Chapter 1013 Can It really be Nikita?!

Irene frowned in pain. Seeing that Rosa didn’t look well, she asked with concerns Rosa, what’s wrong? Why do you suddenly look so pale? Are you feeling any discomfort? Since Doctor Green happens to be here, do you want him to check on you?”

Rosa is Irene’s bestie.

They studied in the same conservatory of music abroad. And their friendship was also established during their college years

After Irene returned the country, she called Rosa over to catch up with her best friend.

“Did you just say the miracle-working doctor cured the president by acupuncture?” Rosa bit her lips hard and buckled on Irene’s wrist tightly with her fingers with a gloomy face

Is it really Nikita, that little bitch, who they were talking about?!

How is it possible?

How can she come into contact with a big shot in the presidential class!

However, Nikita did cure Old Mr. Lambert and Corley by acupuncture. And Irene said just now that the miracle-working doctor also cured the president by acupuncture...

Only that little bitch likes to treat people with acupuncture

“Yeah” Although Irene didn’t know why Rosa suddenly became so strange, she answered her questions in a good temper. “She just pricked my father with a needle. And my father got recovered. She is so excellent!

And I heard that the doctor is also very young, much younger than us.” Irene smiled and asked the leading doctor for verification. “Doctor Green, you have seen that miracle working doctor. Is she very young?”

The leading doctor sipped his lips. Hearing Irene keep praising Nikita, he felt a little uncomfortable. He replied in a muffled voice: “Yes”

“I heard that she is also very beautiful, isn’t she? Irene asked again with curiosity showing on her face.

The leading doctor reluctantly answered again: “Yeah.”

That little girl is beautiful indeed.

She is actually much more beautiful than Irene, who is famous for her beauty.

She is very young, very beautiful and also known as the miracle-working doctor who likes to treat people with acupuncture.

Rosa's face darkened down little by little.

Can it be true? Is the miracle-working doctor who cured the president really Nikita, that little bitch?!

She actually gets in touch with people in the Office of the President?

"Then I must meet this miracle-working doctor" Irene seemed to be in high spirits. "Is she in my father's room now? I'll go and check on her!"

While saying so, Irene took Rosa's arm and walked upstairs: "Rosa, you come with me. Let's go and see what that miracle-working doctor looks like."

Irene has heard some maids chat privately about how beautiful the miracle-working doctor is. Those maids used Rosa as a comparison. And they claimed that the doctor is much more beautiful than Rosa.

In Irene's eyes, Rosa is already very beautiful, who is the most beautiful one of all the women she knows.

She really can't imagine what a girl who is more beautiful than Rosa looks like.

Of course, Irene won't tell Rosa about what those maids said.

After being friends with her for many years, she knows Rosa very well. Rosa has always been proud of her good look. If she knew those maids' words, she would be annoyed.

Rosa did not refuse Irene's proposal.

She also wanted to see whether the miracle-working doctor is Nikita or not.

The two people walked to the corner of the stairs. As they were about to go upstairs, Rosa's footsteps paused. When she saw the girl walking down leisurely from upstairs, her face suddenly darkened down.

It's really Nikita

Chapter 1014 Take a Blow

How can Nikita show up here?!

This is where the president lives!

Is it true that she guessed right? Is Nikita really the miracle-working doctor who cured the president?!

As if to confirm Rosa's deduction, seeing Nikita coming down from upstairs, Dr. Charles, who had been waiting for the result anxiously, immediately walked towards her. When he got to Nikita's front, he said in a slightly excited tone "Nikita, finally you are out! I've been waiting for you!"

Nikita saw Rosa who was standing on the stairs. Seeing her astonished look, Nikita remained indifferent. After a few seconds, she took back her sights calmly

"What?" Nikita lowered her eyes and looked at the old man standing in front of her. "Why are you waiting for me?"

Dr. Charles looked at her with a nervous and uneasy expression. It seemed that he wanted to say something to her. But he hesitated. After a while, he asked nervously: "Well... did the president mention to you about joining in the medical team of the cabinet?"

"Well, yes." Nikita's tone sounded indifferent.

“Then you.. Did you agree to his proposal?” Dr. Charles became more and more nervous.

“I’m not interested” Nikita remained a faint tone.

Dr. Charles was stunned for a second. Then there was a cheerful expression showing on his face. Clearly, he got excited: ‘So, you didn’t agree to join in, right? You won’t be a member of the medical team of the cabinet, right?

Seeing the excited old little man, Nikita saw through what’s on his mind at a glance and picked up a smile. I am also not interested in entering the National Medical College”

Hearing her words, Dr. Charles was not discouraged. He remained a smile: ‘It doesn’t matter. The door of the National Medical College is always open for you. Whenever you are interested, just let me know.

And you are very welcomed to come over and have fun with us when you get some free time. The National Medical College isn’t as boring as you think. You can also have a lot of fun there. Senously, I’m not lying to you!”

Anyway, for Dr. Charles, as long as Nikita didn’t agree to join in the medical team of the cabinet, there will still be a chance for their National Medical College!

In the hall.

Several doctors in the cabinet heard the conversation between Dr. Charles and Nikita clearly. And all of them showed an astonished expression.

This miracle-working doctor actually refused to join in the medical team of the cabinet?’....

Did they hear her correctly?

Since several doctors in the hall heard the conversation between Nikita and Dr. Charles clearly, Rosa, who had been standing closer to them, naturally heard it too

If it is already enough to shock Rosa after making sure that Nikita is really the miracle working doctor who cured the president, after hearing Dr. Charles say that the president invited Nikita to join in the medical team of the cabinet, but Nikita turned him down, Rosa can't express even her mood at this mood.

Something seemed to explode in her mind. With a bang, her brain went blank.

Rosa is very clear about the concept of working in the medical team of the cabinet

All the doctors in the cabinet are all personal doctors of the president. And they are all closely related to the president.

Once a person manages to join in the medical team of the cabinet, it means he even gets to speak to the president.

In other words, if someone in the Garrett family can work in the cabinet, even Old Mr. Garrett will feel proud. He will think it's a job that can bring honor to the Garrett" family.

Nikita, a hillbilly who came from the countryside, can actually have this kind of honor and get the appreciation of the president.

She also had the intention to enter the cabinet once. But she failed to make it.

In the terms of family backgrounds, she was born into a noble family. While Nikita, a country bumpkin who grew up in the countryside, couldn't compare with her at

Chapter 1015 Jealousy and Rumors

In the terms of the academic talents, she graduated from a world class university and studied from the musical master Malcolm. She just won a trophy in a foreign music competition not long ago No matter in which aspect, she can totally crush Nikita.

What does Nikita have that can compare with her?

But why even such a person like Nikita can get the qualification to enter the cabinet

But she can't!

"Is she the miracle-working doctor who cured my father? She is really beautiful. Besides, she is still a student isn't she? She looks so young." Irene exclaimed with admiration showing in her eyes. And she didn't hide the appreciation and praise in her words. This miracle working doctor is younger and more beautiful than I thought"

She is really much more beautiful than Rosa

She is simply too beautiful to be a real person.

Rosa is known as the first beauty in the circle of the noble families

If this miracle working doctor also comes from a noble family, it's estimated that Rosa's title of the first beauty will be replaced in the future.

Hearing Irene also begin to boast Nikita, Rosa's face turned even darker. She bit her lips tightly. And her voice was cold. What miracle-working doctor? She is simply a charlatan."

"Huh?" Irene was stunned. She turned to look at her and said in shock: 'Rosa, why would you say that? Do you know the miracle working doctor?"

Rosa sipped her lips tightly: "If you know her growing background, you won't think she is so amazing anymore."

Before Irene could speak up, Rosa sneered and continued: "She lived in a remote mountain village since childhood and grew up in the countryside. Before she came to N City, the best school she had gone to was the middle school in their town

She is quite famous in the village she grew up and the town she went to school. You can know what kind of person she is if you go to ask anyone in her hometown. She plays truant and fights with others every day. She always ranks the last in the exam every semester. And she even gets zero point in all the subjects. What kind of medical skills can she have? She just learned how to play tricks with people and fooled everyone around in the name of Chinese medicine. Thankfully, she knows her distance and didn't agree to join in the medical team of the cabinet. Otherwise, the cabinet would just recruit a black sheep!

A liar like her can only fool the people around her for a while. She will definitely reveal her true color when time grows. And that's also the reason why she doesn't dare to join in the medical team of the cabinet.

Even though Nikita cured Corley's leg, and Rosa knew very well whether Nikita was a liar or not, she just didn't want to admit that Nikita was amazing

And she doesn't want others to think Nikita is amazing!

"Is she really like that? I didn't see that on her at all." Irene was quite shocked. But at the same time, she felt confused. "But she did cure my father. And Dr. Charles also appreciates her very much. He even wants her to enter the National Medical College.

If she were really a liar experts like Dr. Charles would have seen right through her, right?"

Hearing her question, Rosa's expression froze on her face. After a while, she pouted, "She was just lucky. All the liars who claim they have Chinese medical skills are all like this. They can always get it right for one time after guessing one hundred times."

Irene frowned and felt dubious of Rosa's words.

Although she doesn't know much about Chinese medicine, here is the Office of the President. If she were really a liar, would she have been discovered long ago?

Besides, her father's condition was so critical at that time that even the experts in the cabinet and the National Medical College felt helpless. Can that miracle-working doctor really cure her father because of luck?

Why does she think it's impossible?

A real liar wouldn't come to the Office of the President to cheat, right?

Unless she doesn't want to live anymore.

Chapter 1016 This miracle-working doctor doesn't seem like a liar.

But it's Rosa who seems to have some hostility against the miracle working doctor And she kept belittling her in words.

Although Irene had some doubts, she didn't say it. What she thought was quite simple. No matter whether Rosas words were true or not, even though the miracle-working doctor was really a liar, she did cure her father. So she still wanted to say thank you to her in person.

Nikita walked downstairs while talking to Dr. Charles

When she walked to Rosa's side, Rosa's face was tightened. And she looked gloomy

But Nikita didn't even look at her. She directly walked past her

Rosa's face became darker. She bit her lips tightly. And her eyes looked gloomy

"Doctor, excuse me

Seeing that Nikita was about to leave, Irene hurriedly stepped forward to catch up with her

Dr. Charles lowered his voices and filled Nikita in. "This is the daughter of the president, Miss Irene. She was saying that she wanted to thank you in person for curing the president"

After Dr. Charles just finished introducing her, Irene walked to Nikita's side

"Doctor, I am the daughter of the president. My name is Irene. Thank you for curing my father Let me walk you out Irene's tone sounded polite. And her attitude was also very nice. She didn't really regard Nikita as a liar because of what Rosa said about her

She still trusts her intuition.

She doesn't think this miracle-working doctor is a liar.

"There is no need for that Miss Louis." Nikita looked a little indifferent. "You don't have to say thank you to me. Your father paid me a lot of money for his medical treatment I just did what I needed to do to earn the money"

After saying so, Nikita turned to leave.

Irene was stunned in place. After a while, she finally came to her senses.

This miracle-working doctor has quite a personality.

Irene didn't turn around to walk back to Rosa until Nikita and Dr Charles walked out of the hall. She said thoughtfully: "I think this doctor is not a liar."

"Irene, don't be fooled by her look! I know better than whether she is a liar or not! Don't you trust me?" Rosa bit her lips tightly and said angrily: "If you really mean well for your father you can't let her step in the Office of the President anymore.

Although she may look innocent and harmless, she is actually quite scheming And she is always good at seducing men. Your father is singer. What if she ..?"

"Rosa, don't talk nonsense!" Irene frowned and showed some displeasure in her eyes. "My father is not a man without self-control. He only has my mother in his heart. He had also sworn that he would have my mother as his only wife in his whole life

It is a bit disrespectful for you to say those words about my father."

Seeing Irene look a little upset, Rosa also realized that she had said something inappropriate. She hurriedly apologized to make up for it. "Sorry, Irene. I wasn't myself when I said those inappropriate words. I didn't mean that. And I'm just worried that your father may get fooled

Nikita is really scheming. Because you are my best friend, I wanted to remind you. And I really don't want you and your father to be fooled by her

Irene's mother died three years ago.

For the past three years, William has always been single.

When Irene's mother died, William declared in public that he would only have one wife in his life. After Irene's mother left him, he would never marry again in his life. This declaration touched countless people.

Everyone says that William is affectionate and a peerless good man.

And during the past three years, there were no women around William indeed.

Chapter 1017 You've gone too far

Rosa also knows about this. If it were at ordinary times, she wouldn't have shown no emotional intelligence like this. But when it comes to something related to Nikita, she always lost herself with anger. She just forgets what to say and what not to say.

Irene still looked a little upset. She frowned and said 'Rosa I remember you told me that your brother's leg was healed by a miracle working doctor too, didn't you?'

Rosa was stunned. Then she nodded: "Yes"

Irene asked out directly: Is that miracle-working doctor the same person as the doctor who cured my father?"

She remembers Rosa telling her about this at that time, saying that a miracle working doctor treated her brother with acupuncture and cured his leg

At that time, Rosa was still full of praise for this miracle-working doctor.

Rosa didn't expect Irene to ask about this Her expression froze on her face. After a few seconds, she said in an embarrassed tone: "It's her, but..."

"Since she cured your brother's leg, she can be regarded as a benefactor to you." Irene's tone suddenly cooled down You told me yourself that your brother's leg couldn't be cured. And he might be disabled for a lifetime in the future.

But after the miracle-working doctor cured your brother's legs, you didn't hold gratitude towards her. Instead, you actually said those things about her in front of me. Rosa, I don't know what happened between you and the doctor But I think you've crossed the line here.

"I have always felt that you are a very positive and upright person. But what you said just now really shocked me

Irene has always felt that she and Rosa are the same kind of people, so she became good friends with Rosa

She has known Rosa for several years And Rosa has always performed very well, which is an example for her to learn from.

She felt that she had found a lifelong confidant and was glad for it

But now, Irene feels that she doesn't seem to know Rosa as well as she imagined And Rosa doesn't seem to be as perfect as she imagined

Rosa sensed the coldness of Irene's attitude. And her face couldn't help changing: "Irene..."

*It suddenly occurred to me that I still have something to deal with Rosa, let's make an appointment another day." Irene did not give her the opportunity to explain. She directly called a maid over. You send Miss Garrett out."

After Irene made an order to the maid, she went upstairs directly.

Rosa sipped her lips tightly and couldn't look more gloomy

Although she and Irene are best friends, she is inferior to Irene in terms of their identities. Even if she feels angry in her heart, she can only suck it up.

She didn't expect that Irene actually began to speak up for Nikita after they just met once.

They've been friends for four years!

But she means less to her than a person who she met for the first time!

After coming out of the manor, Nikita checked the time and went to the gymnasium to watch Manley's game.

KPL actually lasts for a long time from the beginning to the end. It takes more than two months. Manley's team will only play a few games in N City. After playing finishing the games here, they have to go to another city to continue the competition.

At noon, Tammy sent her a message on WhatsApp, asking her if she would go to watch their competition today.

When she arrived at the gymnasium.

Nikita parked her car and took out a mask to put it on.

There are too many people in the gymnasium. In summer, the smell in the infield seemed to be a little pungent.

When she entered the infield, the game in the afternoon was already halfway through. There were excited cries from the audience, which was so loud that they seemed to be going to topple the roof.

Nikita found her own seat and sat down.

Samuel and others didn't come today. The joint examination is around the corner. Although no one in Class F cares about this at all, it is not so easy to get approvals when they ask for a leave during such a critical time.

Nikita didn't see Samuel and others. But she saw another acquaintance who sat in the seat separated with her by four or five positions.

Chapter 1018 Do you have a crush on me?

The teenage boy seemed to sense her sights. He turned around. And their eyes met in the air

When he saw her, the teenage boy was stunned. There seemed to be shock showing in his eyes. He didn't take back his sights until a few seconds later

Nikita also took back her sights and didn't pay attention to him again. He looked up towards the stage

Manley's team had two games in the afternoon. When Nikita arrived at the venue, they had already finished one of them. And the other one had also just started half an hour ago. After almost half an hour, the second game was also finished.

During the time when she watched the game, Nikita could feel that there was always a pair of eyes falling on her from time to time. After a short stay for a few seconds, they moved away again,

Someone peeked at her seven or eight times like this

After Manley's team finished their last game here, Nikita was ready to leave.

She got up and walked outward. When she walked past Felton, she paused and said to her "Felton, come out for a second. I have something to say to you."

After saying so, Nikita went out

While Felton was stunned in his seat for a long time And after he hesitated for a moment, he slowly got up and walked out.

After Nikita got out of the gymnasium, she found a shaded place to stand After waiting for almost ten minutes, she finally saw Felton's figure appear at the door The teenager boy stood at the door for a while. He raised his head and looked into the direction where Nikita stood. He stared at Nikita with his dark and beautiful eyes for a few seconds and slowly walked towards Nikita with his long legs.

When he came close to her, he stopped his step

"What do you want to say to me?" The teenager boy spoke up. And his voice sounded a little tight and unnatural

His dark and beautiful eyes were also lowered. He didn't dare to see the girl in front of him.

Compared with him, Nikita looked elegant. And she did not seem to feel embarrassed at all. She raised her eyes and looked directly at the young man's beautiful facial features and asked directly "Felton, do you have a crush on me?"

Felton suddenly raised his head and looked at the girl's dark eyes. He was stunned for a second. And there was panic showing in his eyes.

The girl's eyes are very dark and deep. And she seemed to be able to see right through him.

Felton's became more and more flustered. And the expression on his face became stiff. He clenched his fists and sipped his lips. It took a long time for him to find his voice: "What are you talking about? I can't understand"

Nikita didn't plan to waste more time on this. After thinking for a while, she spoke up in a flat tone. "You know what I'm talking about. If you don't want to be friends with me anymore because I'm dating your brother, I will respect your choice"

The reason why I asked you to go out is that I want to tell you I won't be in the First Senior High School for very long. I will leave in one month at most. After leave, everything will be back to normal."

Hearing her say "I will leave in one month at most", Felton's face immediately changed "You are going to leave the First Senior High School?"

"Yes" Nikita nodded.

"Where are you going?" Felton couldn't help but ask. "Are you leaving because of me? If it's because of me..."

"It has nothing to do with you." Nikita interrupted him in a calm and indifferent tone, which made him unable to tell her mood. "I didn't plan to study in the First Senior High School for a long time in the first" place. We are friends. So I didn't want your life to be influenced by me. When I leave, everything will be back to normal"

Chapter 1019 I don't need it anymore.

Mr Hall has found her

So she doesn't have to stay in the First Senior High School anymore.

The reason why she chose to go to N City and re-read Senior Three is to avoid the monitor of Mr. Hall

Now that Mr Hall has found her, there is no point in her staying in that school

Felton looked stunned. "What about my brother?"

The college entrance examination is just around the corner

After the college entrance examination, everyone will go separate ways. And it is only a matter of time before they are separated.

But after hearing Nikita say that she will leave in a month, Felton still felt like there were something pricking his heart constantly, which made him feel unspeakable pain.

Hearing his question, Nikita raised her eyes and looked at him with a smile I am leaving the First Senior High School. But what does it have to do with your brother? Even if I'm not going to study in the First Senior High School anymore, it doesn't influence our relationship.

Felton was stunned again. He sipped his lips tightly.

What Nikita meant was quite obvious. She won't break up with Sheehan. They will keep dating.

“But you will be leaving night before the college entrance examination... Are you not going to take the college entrance examination?” After a long time, Felton spoke up again to ask her with a tight voice

“College entrance examination? Nikita repeated the phrase in a meaningful tone. She picked up a subtle smile. “I didn’t need to take that since a long time ago.”

Seeing Felton’s startled and puzzled eyes, she didn’t explain much. “You can go in and continue to watch the game. I’m leaving”

After saying so, she turned around and left.

The girl put her hands into her pockets. And her pace looked idle. Soon, she walked away

Felton watched her gradually go away in a rakish gesture. He stood in place and did not move. Not until the slender and tall figure went far away, so far that he couldn’t see her anymore, did he finally take back his sights in a daze

He felt empty in his heart. And he wasn’t in a mood to continue watching the game. He stood in place for several minutes, feeling lost. Then he finally turned around and walked slowly towards the parking lot.

At the Office of the President.

Irene went to the outside of William’s room, reached out and knocked on the door gently.

A dignified and low voice sounded inside. “Who is it?”

“Father, it’s me.” Irene’s voice was soft and gentle “Are you having a break?”

“Irene? Come in.” Hearing the voice of his baby daughter, William’s tone instantly became much softer

Irene stretched out her hand to push open the door and went into the room.

William was sitting on the sofa, holding a book in one hand and holding a cup of coffee in the other to drink.

“Father, why are you drinking coffee? You have just covered Can you drink coffee now?” Seeing the cup of coffee in Wilhelm’s hand, Irene walked up to him, reached out and took away the coffee cup which only had half cup of coffee left.

She said with concerns: “How can you not take your health condition seriously like this? Even though you love drinking coffee, you should wait until you are fully recovered”

Seeing his baby daughter’s worried eyes, William smiled and put down the book in his hand. “How can I not take my own health condition seriously? I’ve checked with the doctor. The doctor said I could drink some, just not too much.”

“Really? Did the doctor really say that?” Irene put the coffee cup down on the table and sat next to William.

William smiled again. “Of course, why would I lie to you?”

“Which doctor have you checked with? Is it the miracle-working doctor?” Irene asked again.

William nodded. “Yeah. You also know about that doctor?”

“Of course. When I came back, everyone was talking about that miracle working doctor.”

Chapter 1020 Do You Like Her A Lot?

“Of course, I know When I came back, everyone was talking about the miracle-working doctor. And I even met her just then.” Speaking of Nikita, Irene seemed to have a strong interest, “Dad, I really didn’t expect that the miracle working doctor would actually be a pretty girl”

“She is young. But her aura is quite strong. And she is so prudent. She is completely different from girls of her age. “I feel like she is several years older than me when I faced her, even though I am several years older than her”

“Besides, she’s so pretty.” Irene spoke of Nikita with a great admiration, “She’s so beautiful, like a fairy I’ve never seen a girl as beautiful as her

William looked at his daughter’s excited look and asked, “Do you like her a lot?”

Irene nodded, “Yeah. I think she’s awesome. Also, she has quite a personality. “By the way, Dad, I heard that you wanted to recruit her into the cabinet medical team. But she refused. Is that true?”

“I did try to get her to join the cabinet medical team, but she refused” Speaking of this, William frowned, “She is the first person to refuse the invitation of the President’s Office. The girl indeed has quite a personality.”

Irene smiled, “Also the first person who dared to refuse you. Dad, is that right?”

William lifted the corner of his lips casually

“Then Dad, you are not angry with her, are you?” Irene looked at William. She was a little worried that he would have a problem with Nikita. She knew her father’s style. It would be bad for Nikita if she really pissed him off.

“I’m not so narrow-minded.” William again picked up the book thrown aside and flipped two pages, “Even if it is an invitation from the President’s Office, she has the right to refuse it

After hearing this, Irene was relieved

She liked that miracle-working doctor

“Dad, how are you feeling today?” Seeing that William look good, Irene thought he might have been recovering well.

“Well, I feel pretty good” Seeing Irene came alone, William smiled and asked, “You said you were going to bring your good friend along to see me Where’s your friend?

Over the years, the presidents office had dealings with the Garrett family and the Lambert family as well

William knew about Irene and Rosa’s friendship.

Speaking of Rosa, Irene changed into a gloomy look.

“What’s wrong?” William noticed that his daughter was not in the right mood and asked with concern

Irene hesitated. But later, she told William what had happened before. And she commented with a sense of loss in her voice, “I just feel that she is not like the Rosa!

know before”

“She would never have falsely accused and rumored people behind their backs like that before, nor would she have said those harsh words Irene bit her lip and said in an upset voice, “I don’t know how she became like this.”

William picked up the coffee on the coffee table and took a sip. After pondering for a moment, he said, “She hasn t changed. It’s because you never knew her well. enough “If you don’t think this friend is decent, you can just get away from her gradually

“Well, I was going to talk to you about this too.”

Irene was stunned, "Dad"

William changed into a serious look and said in a deeper voice, The Garrett family doesnt behave. They will be in trouble sooner or later in the future, you reduce the interaction with the Garrett family, to avoid making things difficult for me when the time comes."
