

The Girl CB 1031

Chapter 1031 It seemed to be a tricky question.

There happened to be a red light ahead.

Sheehan then stopped the car, his deep black eyes watching the girl beside, with a kind of awkward look, he slowly opened his mouth, "You don't have to pay too much attention to the exam, just play at will.

Don't worry about school. I will help you to go to whichever school you like"

Nikita was stunned Looking at the man seriously and carefully, she couldn't help laughing, and her eyes bent with laughter: "Is this the thing that you want to tell

Sheehan sipped his lips and nodded seriously

The underachiever minded most when others mentioned learning things.

He was afraid that his lover would be unhappy when he talked about it.

While Nikita smiled again "Are you worried that I will fail the exam?"

This seemed to be a tricky question

Sheehan turned to silence with his thin lips tightened.

He was not worried about Nikita's test Fully knowing about her past records, it was not difficult to predict the results of her joint examination

"You just play normally, and don't have any pressure" After suppressing for a long time Sheehan said.

“Oh, I see” Nikita seemed to comprehend with a smile, and lazily nodded.

Sheehan thought it over and asked, “Is there any school that you want to go to?”

Before Nikita replied, he continued. “If you want to go to the Peking university, I can help you get the quota there”

“Peking university?” Nikita replied carelessly, ‘I have no interest

“Then which school do you have interest in Sheehan also smiled. I can also help you go to other schools as well’

Nikita turned on her mobile phone again, straightened her legs, moved down her body to a half-sitting posture “I am not interested in any one of them.

“Not interested at all?”

“Well, I do not plan to go to university

University was boring.

She was totally not interested in going to university again.

Listening to her answer, Sheehan sipped his lips and was silent for a few seconds. Then a smile appeared within his thin lips again. “If you don’t want to go to university, then just leave it.”

Nikita opened a game, chose an image, turning to look at him with a kind of smile: Then you don’t mind that?”

“Mind what?”

“If someone talks about it, the elder son of a family in such status has a girlfriend who is illiterate and only has a high school diploma. Don’t you feel shame of that?”

Sheehan smiled and reached out to touch her head. ‘Not at all. Instead, I am afraid that you will no longer like me

“I don’t like you?” Nikita felt curious, “Why do I dislike you?”

Sheehan replied with a rarely serious expression: “I’m afraid you dislike me for fm older than you.”

Actually, he was six years older than Nikita.

If three years made a generation gap, there would be two gaps between them.

If by any chance, she thought he was too old for her in the future and broke up with him to find a boy of the same age, he would have no idea what to do

Nikita ...

She never thought that Sheehan would worry about this matter

They arrived at school.

Nikita opened the door and got out of the car Sheehan sat in the car and didn’t drive away until having watched her walk into the school.

Nikita walked slowly, taking advantage of this time in the morning to wander in the campus.

As she walked, she felt there might be something wrong

The students passing by her looked at her with totally different eyes from usual.

And a group of people pointed at her, as if they were talking something about her

Nikita turned her head, looking straight at the group of male students pointing at her. With her dark eyes narrowed, she straight went towards the group of boys.

Chapter 1032 What do You like about her?

Just as Nikita walked to those students, the discussion stopped.

The group of boys all looked up at her with excitement and worship in their eyes which they never had in normal times.

“Ni, Nikita” The boy standing at the very front locked at her with his eyes shining and shouted excitedly. “Are you really YAN? The former coach of Manley’s team? Is it really you?”

The rest of boys were all in shiny, nervous and expectant eyes

“Yeah, yeah, is it true that you are YAN?”

“Is all that the news have leaked true?”

Nikita looked at the group of excited boys, stunned and frowned slightly Where did you hear about it?”

“On Facebook! Someone photographed you going to watch the competition yesterday, and that witness said you were definitely YAN. Many netizens in the comment area also said that you must be YAN Nikita, we are classmates in the same school. Can you tell us whether you are YAN or not?”

When Nikita was the former coach of RG team, she always wore a mask on any occasion

Although she had short hair at that time which was changed to long hair at present, she still was recognized. Even though she wore a mask to the competition yesterday, someone still took photos of her going to the game and sent them on Facebook under such circumstance

So far, that post had been forwarded nearly 100,000

A lot of YAN's passionate fans turned out YAN'S previous photos, and carefully compared with photos taken by that netizen yesterday After the identification and analysis of various professionals, it was unanimously determined that Nikita was YAN who had disappeared for a long time

There were also many netizens who asked Manley and his teammates and wanted to get a positive answer from them.

However, all the team members had not replied up to now

It was uncertain whether they had not landed their Facebook, or hadn't heard about this matter yet, or didn't want to respond to it after seeing that

At the beginning. YAN's sudden announcement of her departure from RG team raised a storm of conjecture.

The most speculation at that time was that there appeared to be contradictions between YAN and RG team members, due to which YAN was bitterly disappointed to the team members she had coached from the very beginning.

There was also a guess that YAN was seriously ill, so she quit the team to cure the disease.

But most people supposed that the first guess was the real reason for YAN'S departure.

Nikita looked at the group of boys waiting for her answer with full expectation. She was about to open her mouth when the mobile phone in her pocket vibrated a few times.

She took it out, opened the screen, and checked the message.

Coincidentally, it was a message from Manley

Manley: Boss, you came to our competition yesterday, and it seemed that you were recognized by your fans. Your fans sent us a lot of direct messages asking us if you are YAN or not. So I come to ask you how we could answer.

They had already seen those mentions and direct messages.

There had been no response, because they had to ask Nikita's opinion.

it depended on whether Nikita was willing to expose this identity

After all, the reason why she was wearing the mask all the time and didn't show her face was she didn't want to expose her true identity

Nikita didn't reply after reading Manley's message. After locking her mobile phone, she looked up at the boys who were still waiting for her answer

"Are you fans of YAN?"

They nodded, "Yes"

"What do you like about her?"

“She plays games extremely well’

Chapter 1033 Nikita was YAN.

One of the boys was very excited. “The reason why Manley plays the role of Mora so well in the game was the result of learning from her. Moreover, she made an unknown new team to have the opportunity to become the world champion, which is totally amazing! It can be said that without her, there would be no RG team today and Manley would not be as successful as today. If RG team is our faith, then she is the God of faith in our hearts”

When these boys were talking about VAN their eyes shined with different light

Just like a fire was blazing brightly in their eyes.

Nikita sipped her lips, keeping silent for a few seconds, and she said in a peaceful tone, “Well, I’m YAN

She said it so lightly that it seemed to be saying a very common thing

While all the boys standing in front of her were stunned, with astounded and incredible looks on their faces.

The reason why they came to ask Nikita was that they didn’t believe she was YAN

How could the legendary figures of KPL, who had disappeared for such a long period, be a classmate from the same school as them?

Wasn’t this too ridiculous?

No matter how powerful a person is, it was impossible to be the coach of KPL professional team at the age of thirteen or fourteen.

And that person was even a girl.

There were really rate girls who could play game well

“You, you, you are really YAN?’ The boy at the front was so shocked that he became stammered

The rest of the boys were stunned as well.

No one had ever thought that Nikita was really YAN.

Nikita did not answer the boy’s doubts anymore, but turned around and walked past them.

The boys still stood there in astonishment

Before the first class was over, Nikita’s admission that she was YAN had already been known to the whole school.

This incident was even more shocking and sensational than her winning the first place in the Greek League befor

After all, boys were in the majority in her school

And all these boys are fans of YAN

After hearing that their idol was in the same school as them who also was their newly elected school belle, all the boys were not calm.

Every one of them seemed to be even crazy. After class, they swarmed towards the third floor, causing the corridor outside the Class F so crowded that it was hard to even find a place to stand

Even the boys in Class A, who always focused on learning only, could not calm down to review and read books. They threw their textbooks away and all ran to the third floor to see Nikita

Nikita's popularity had never been so high, even compared with the time when she was newly elected as the school belle.

In Class A

Looking at the classroom that was mostly empty in an instant, some girls couldn't help exclaiming "Nikita's popularity is so high that nearly all the boys in the school go to see her, isn't it?"

"Almost I was standing in the hallway just now, seeing that all those boys ran to the third floor like crazy"

"I don't know much about it. So I wonder, is a coach of some game very powerful? Why does every one of those boys feel so excited?"

"I don't quite understand, too. But my brother has told me about YAN Anyway, as for my understanding after hearing from him, YAN is super powerful and awesome. Especially for boys who like to play games, YAN can be seen as the god in their hearts."

Yvonne's desk-mate listened to the discussion of the girls around And then looking at Yvonne, who had a terrible look at the moment she sipped her lips and whispered. "It is really unexpected that Nikita is their former coach."

Yvonne clenched her lips, with the pen in her hand which was cutting a hole in the paper.

Chapter 1034 Boom in Popularity

Yvonne's desk mate still wanted to say something While seeing Yvonne's sullen face and the temible expression, she immediately stopped thinking about that.

She thought Yvonne was kind of unlucky

Originally, Yvonne was popular in the school. But her family suddenly adopted a girl to be their daughter, who was much more beautiful and versatile than her

Now her popularity had been robbed, and everyone was paying attention to Nikita, and no one paid attention to her at all.

Even Leon, who had a crush on her, seemed to have gone to the third floor with other boys just now.

Maybe she didn't know about it yet

If she did know that, she would feel angry enough to vomit blood.

Now, the only thing that could make her beat Nikita was the joint entrance examination in the following days.

Although Nikita was quite powerful in other aspects, her academic performance was not that good. As long as Yvonne could crush her with the results of the joint entrance examination, she would be beaten.

In any case, for schools and students, academic performance was the most important thing.

Others were just icing on the cake.

What Yvonne's desk-mate could think of naturally could also be considered by Yvonne

She looked at the half-empty classroom, pinching her pen tightly

Even though Nikita was YAN, the former coach of RG team, so what?

She wouldn't lose to Nikita, never!

Manley specially post a Facebook to thank Nikita

And Nikita's identity as YAN was reinforced by the blog posted by him.

This matter, was then seen as a fact.

A great deal of discussion sprang up on Facebook. Almost all the top ten hot searches that day were various topics related to YAN

The students in First Senior High School were becoming crazy

The netizens on Facebook were also becoming crazy

"Oh my goodness! Manley admitted that the girl named Nikita is his former coach. Therefore, when YAN was the coach of RG team, she was less than fifteen years old"

"My God, this is too awesome. A fifteen year-old child can be the coach of professional game team?"

"When she was in her fifteen, she was both a legendary coach in the field of esports and a songwriter who made a famous song at a banquet. Thinking about our fifteen years old, I wonder why the difference between her and us is so huge

"After being compared, I feel that we are here to make up the number

"No wonder she wore a mask before, when attending the event. It must be because she is too young and afraid that others will think that she is not qualified to be the coach of the RG team."

In First Senior High School.

Looking at the crowds in the corridor and heard the boy's shouting "YAN", the teacher who went to teach class F was curious and surprised, without knowing what had happened at all

Because there were too many students, even the door of the classroom was blocked

The teacher couldn't get in, so he grabbed a student and asked, "What's going on? What are so many students doing outside the F class?*

"Teacher, don't you know? We are all here to see YAN."

"YAN, what is YAN?"

The teacher was confused and couldn't figure out the situation. At this time, a voice sounded in the crowd: "YAN is coming: YAN is coming

Hearing that, a large group of boys turned to look at the door of Class F.

The teacher also looked there.

Then they saw a beautiful girl with a black backpack walking out of the classroom slowly.

Those students who were blocked at the door automatically gave way to her

The teacher knew Nikita.

While seeing a group of boys shouting "YAN" at Nikita excitedly, he was even more curious because he didn't understand what happened to this group of boys.

After walking out of the classroom, Nikita saw the teacher standing in the crowd. She greeted politely and then went downstairs directly

Chapter 1035 She's mine.

The bell rang for class.

A group of boys wanted to chase Nikita, but when they heard the bell, they had to give up and went back to the classroom unwillingly.

The teacher still stood at the door with a face of stupidity, still not knowing what the situation was

He thought the boys in school are crazy. He has taught in school for so many years, and he has never seen these boys so crazy.

The Lambert Group

"Mr. Lambert, do you think that there are still some identities my sister-in-law have but we don't know?" Yates also just recognized that on Facebook, knowing from the hot search that Nikita was the former coach of RG team

Yates also played games in his spare time.

Although he did not play so well, he had also heard of YAN

So when he saw the trending topic on Facebook, Yates was also surprised. When he first investigated Nikita, he didn't investigate these identities.

This was hidden too deep.

Even such a professional private detective like him could not find out anything

Sheehan was dealing with the document. While looking at the document, he listened to Yates words. Hearing that, his hand stopped and looked at Yates: "What game coach?"

“Mr Lambert, don’t you know yet?” Yates had a gossip expression on his face. “You may not know much about it if you don’t play games. Your lover is a legendary person in e-sports. Anyway, she is very, very awesome in the game field”

“She can be a coach at only teenage years and bring her team to the stage of world championship. It can be said that she is a genius.”

“Mr. Lambert, I think she still has many identities that we don’t know.” Yates’ tone was very sure, and he guessed. “Maybe after a while, there maybe some other awesome identities of my little sister-in-law being discovered”

At first, Yates felt that Nikita was not good enough for Sheehan,

After all, except for her face, which is particularly beautiful, her advantages in other aspects are not obvious

But there are many visible disadvantages,

Now, he thinks he may misjudge.

After hearing Yates words, Sheehan kept silent for a moment, then bowed his head and took the document to continue reading. His voice was calm, “No matter what her identity is, I only admit her”

Yates said curiously. “Admit her? Admit what?”

Sheehan: “She belongs to me.”

Yates...”

Tut, the declaration of a domineering president?

Yates couldn't help joking when he heard his categorical tone: "Are you so sure? Aren't you afraid that your little wife will change her mind in the future? After all, the little girl's thoughts always change. She still loves you today and may not love you tomorrow."

In particular, Nikita is different from ordinary girls.

Other women will definitely try their best to cling to Sheehan, fearing that Sheehan will be tired of them.

But Nikita...

Yates thought that she was a girl who would indulge in love.

Sheehan's hand holding the pen stiffened After a long time, he wrote his name on the last tab of the document.

"I just need to love her, even if she doesn't love me." The man looked up. His facial features were handsome and deep, and his dark eyes lost his usual confidence, but his eyes were firm. "I will try my best to keep her by my side."

Yates paused. Sheehan's answer was beyond his expectation.

He has never seen such a humble side of Sheehan,

His love for Nikita is deep and real

Chapter 1036 He really fell in love.

Yates was afraid that Sheehan would change his heart in few days and hurt Nikita

But now he worried that Sheehan was so addictive to the relationship and that it was he who would be hurt by her

Nikita is so young

A young girl will easily change her mind, so she might have a crush on others soon.

Moreover, Nikita doesn't seem to marry him early

He has known Sheehan for a long time. In his eyes, Sheehan is a conservative guy who might want to marry Nikita earlier to stabilize their relation if he really loves her

But she hasn't reached the legal marriage age yet.

Sheehan has to wait for her at least for one or two years.

This time is not short, so it is unclear what will happen during this time.

The result of a relationship with a teen girl is unclear.

However, Sheehan must refuse to break up with Nikita now.

"Sheehan," said Yates sincerely after thinking for a moment. "I think Niky is different from other girls. She might not enter a marriage early. If you really want to marry her, you need to wait for her patiently.

You can't push her

Anyway, I think she won't get married at a young age. You have to prepare for it."

Sheehan narrowed his eyes up at Yates “As long as it’s her, no matter how long I should wait, I’m willing to do.”

Fine, he was really indulged in this relationship.

It is inconceivable that a sexless and arrogant ruler of the Lambert family was caught by a little girl.

Everything is in flux.

Maybe every hero has its foe

The girl from the Garrett family is also excellent and knew Sheehan earlier, but she failed to get Sheehan’s heart

When they were chatting, someone knocked on the office door, and Vernon’s voice came in. “Boss, Miss Swift’s coming”

After he said, the door was pushed open immediately

Sheehan threw away the pen in his hand, stood up at once, and strode toward the door

Nikita walked into the office from outside.

Sheehan walked to her side and led her in, holding her hand. “Is it hot?” “Do you want to drink something? I’ll ask Vernon to buy for you”

Before she answered, he continued. “Milk tea?”

Then he ordered Vernon "Buy a cup of milk tea, easy on the sugar ice-free. Also get some mango or strawberry dessert"

Vernon replied respectfully. "Yes, Boss."

After Vernon left...

Since Nikita came in, Sheehan's eyes have never looked away from her Seeing this scene, Yates had a mixed feeling

He thought Sheehan could not jump out of this love trap at all.

This young girl is quite crafty.

"Niky, now that you come, I won't bother you." Yates stood up, looking them hand in hand intimately and feeling sad and lonely

Chapter 1037 He only cared about this thing.

As a bachelor, he can not see such an intimate scene

Things changed

Even Sheehan who he thought might be single forever got a girlfriend, but he is still single, even without a woman-shaped figure around him.

Sheehan looked at him, without an intention of detaining him. "Fine, see you later"

It is time to have lunch. At least, Sheehan'd better invite him to eat together.

But he has no such intention at all

How urgent he is to drive him away?

Yates felt painful.

Nikita also looked up at him and nodded, without detaining him.

Fine, he'll leave

After he left, Sheehan held Nikita to the office table and sat down with her

Nikita was pressed by him on his lap. His slender and strong arm wrapping around her waist intimately, he touched her head with the other hand and laughed in a low voice. "You're a famous game coach? Niky, what other identity do you have?"

Nikita's eyebrows went up. "You knew these gossips?"

"Yates told me" "He said you're skillful. You're a genius in games." Sheehan looked at the girl leaning upon his chest. "I rarely heard his praises. He really appreciates you"

Im thinking, what new identity will you have next time?"

She raised her chin, looking into his deep eyes, and smiled, "Guess?"

"I don't know" He sighed, "You conceal your identities too well."

Previously, he could not get her identities

But now he doesn't want to investigate anymore.

Whoever she is, she is his girlfriend.

It is the only thing he cares about

As for other things, he doesn't care.

"Are you afraid of me?"

For what?"

I am a vicious guy, doing lots of terrible things" "if my true identity is a criminal, a villain, will you be regretful for being with me?"

"You won't" He deeply stared at the girl in his arms, without doubt in her eyes, and his tone was affirmative. "Niky, you won't be a criminal, I can be sure of this."

Nikita squinted lazily "Sure?" "What if I am..."

"You're not" He replied affirmatively. "If you really are, I won't be regretful." "And if there are some consequences, we can shoulder them together"

She kept silent for a while. "If you really want to know my other identities I have, I can tell you."

“I think it’s better and more surprised to discover them slowly by myself” He didn’t want to force her. He smiled and said, “Ok, forget it. Tell me where you want to go for dinner tonight’

He changed the topic, and she also thought of the place she wanted to go. “I want your cooking.”

To be honest, the dishes of those high-end restaurants outside are not as good as Sheehan’s

After eating the dishes cooked by him, others’ ones are only substitutes.

Chapter 1038 All is not as good as Sheehan.

Nikuta is very picky in eating. She has fasted the best and feels that everything else is boring.

She feels that the most important reason why she often doesn’t want to break up with him recently in that she likes his cooking if they break up, she won’t be able to eat his dishes in the future.

go to the mall first after work” “You order, and I cook”

There was a knock on the door

Vemon came back with milk tea and dessert

Pushing open the door and carrying two small bags into the office, he saw his boss embrace a little girl intimately

Seeing this intimate scene, he stood in a dilemma, leaving or staying

With a mixed feeling

if he did not see it with his own eyes, he would not believe that his boss had such a face

He is usually cold and strict in the company. But he is lovey dovey with his girlfriend in the office now.

It doesn't like the thing he would do at all

No matter men or women, once they fall in love, they will become different.

Seeing the refreshments in Vernon's hand, Nikita pushed Sheehan away without hesitation and walked toward Vernon

Sheehan

His charm is not as good as milk tea and dessert?

In the following time, Sheehan did his work, and Nikita played video games quietly with headsets. Nearly an hour later, he got off work early

After leaving the company, he drove directly to the nearest shopping mall

On Friday night, there were quite a lot of people going shopping in the mall

Both of them were extremely eye catching in appearance. As soon as they entered the mall, they attracted many people's attention.

Nikita saw the surrounding passers-by and turned to Sheehan, saying she wanted to buy some garments

After they stayed together, she almost never made requirements. Although Sheehan was a little surprised at her decision, he wished she could do more.

Instead of going to luxury stores, they chose a suit of hooded sportswear in a fair price store among those in the second floor. After she changed into the new clothes, she asked the worker to cut down the trademark

When paying. Sheehan consciously pulled out his black card.

Nikita also didn't rush to pay

When the cashier took the black card from the man's hand, she was obviously stunned with surprise

She secretly glanced at the handsome and noble man standing next to the cashier, muttering in her heart why such a rich man was so stingy.

He is so rich, with a black card, but he only buys his girlfriend a cheap suit worth only dozens of dollars.

And it is at a discount

After the discount, it's worth less than 30 dollars.

It seems that the richer the man is, the more throwd and stingy he is. Men spending a large sum of money for a beauty's smile can only be seen in novels.

Hakuta didn't know that buying clothes in a fair price store would make others feel that Sheehan was stingy

After they came out of the store

"Let's go to buy food" The vegetable and fruit stores were on the basement level 1, so after they walked out of the store, they went to the vegetable store

Sheehan looked at the girl who changed into dark gay sportswear and asked, "Don't buy anything else?"

He felt a little wronged for he only spent dozens of dollars in getting a suit for his girlfriend.

seems that a capable man can not show his ability

He hopes that Nikita can also, like other girls, ask for tangible things, such as bags, cars, houses, etc.

Chapter 1039 No Sense of Existence

He hopes that Nikita can also, like other girls, ask for tangible things, such as bags, cars, houses, etc

Otherwise, he felt that he had no sense of existence at all.

Nikita shook his head. No need

Sheehan kept silent for seconds and said, "If you want something else, we can have a look" "There are many stores upstairs. Do you want some bags?"

Harrell told him that women like bags and jewelry very much

But Nikita seems to have no interest in these

Sheehan has known her for a long time. She is very interested in food, and her mood will obviously become better after she eats delicious food

For this reason, he often doubts she likes him just because his cooking skills are great.

"Bag?" She was lack of interest I don't lack bags"

What else? What else do you like, or want to buy?"

She still shook her head

She bought a new suit, because she didn't want him to be despised by others.

She went shopping with him in school uniform, and he was inevitably discussed by others.

Sheehan had to give up persuading for the really didn't want to buy more

He'd better send gifts to her after he buys some by himself

She will not ask for things, but she also doesn't refuse his gifts.

After arriving at the basement level one, Sheehan went to get the cart and Nikita waited for him in place.

On weekends, there were many people in and he even needed to queue up to get a cart There were at least ten people in front of him.

The mobile phone in Nikita's pocket vibrated She took it out and unlocked it. Huge sent messages to her

Huge Master, the program asked us to rehearse in advance. Are you available tomorrow?

After reading the message, she spent a few seconds to the program he said

Three days later the National Youth Phang Competition

Huge hadn't suddenly mentioned it she would have forgotten it

Thinking of the piano competition a few days later, she thought for a moment. After sending a 'Ok' to him, she clicked into a Facebook account that she hasn't logged in for a long time

When Facebook was just launched, she felt fresh and registered an account.

After having it for a year or two, she felt more and more bored, so she hasn't logged in anymore

After she clicked into her account, she tapped to see her viewers and saw one user visit her homepage recently it showed that the user visited her page three days ago, a week ago, half a month ago and a month ago respectively

The user's account is "Princess".

Obviously, this name showed who the user is

As the game approaches, it seems that Yvonne is in a hurry

After all, a few years ago. Yvonne won the piano competition with a piece of music written by Nikita. The stolen music easily made her get enviable honors in this competition, she naturally wanted to steal another piece

Nikita only posted an original song in her account, and she hasn't updated her account for years

But Yvonne was still thinking of her

It can be seen that the song must have brought her a lot of benefits, so she wanted to repeat the same skills in this competition.

Chapter 1040 A Death Sentence on Margot

Now that she likes to take shortcuts so much, then she writes a new one for her

Nikita smiled ironically and finished a music score randomly in her account within a few minutes while waiting for Sheehan

These days, the atmosphere of the Swift family was not very good

As if it was shrouded in the dull rainy days, even the servants at home talked less than usual, for fear that they would be fired if they accidentally say something wrong

After returning from the police station that day. Margots face hasnt been happy anymore.

Patrick also frowned all day, without a smile on his face

All this was because of Margots illness

They went to find Dr Charles and Director Frank again Dr Charles diagnosed her disrase, but she cant accept the result

Because Charles bluntly said that he could not cure her illness.

He could only prescribe some medicine for her

“You have terminal cancer. What I’ll say may be harsh, but it’s truth. You’d better give up finding doctors and enjoy your rest life. Go to where you want to go. Do what you want to do Don’t leave regrets to your life”

As long as she thinks of what Charles said she feels desperate and afraid

Charles meant she can only live for a year and i

Shed better realize her wishes as soon as possible

He gave a death sentence on her

Dr Charles represented the National Hospital

But she couldn't accept it

at most

ch was equipped with the best medical skills if he said she couldn't be cured, it must be the truth.

She doesn't want to die

She still wants to live

So she begged Charles to cure her He can't, but he gave her a direction. He asked her to find a doctor

Your disease might be cured by one person. But her fee is so high, at least several hundred million dollars. And if she is in a good mood, also with enough medical Tees, she may be willing to have a try"

Later, he gave Margot a number

It's the doctor's cell phone number

"You mustn't say I gave you her number if she asks, you have to say that you have found it by yourself *

Actually, when she heard his suggestion, she had a bad feeling. After she got the number, she almost fainted

What he gave was Nikita's mobile phone number

Margot didn't expect that she still had to find Nikita

In the living room

Patrick was persuading Margot "Your life is more important than your dignity" "Margot, only Nikita can cure your disease We'd better beg her"

"You're her biological mother I believe she won't let you die" "At the beginning, she was also willing to cure you But because of our doubt, she was so angry that she turned indifferent"

She won't be so cruel after we coaxed her"

"I'd rather die instead of begging her," said Margot resentfully

"Margot, don't say this." "She is the only hope for you now. Just for your face, do you really want to give up your life

"You can't wait anymore, What if your disease turned more terrible?" "Listen! When we talk to her tomorrow, you need to have a good attitude to her, and don't annoy
