

The Girl CB 1181

Chapter 1181-Sheehan knew that Nikita didn't care much about studying, and he had already thought about it. No matter whether Nikita did well or not, he didn't care if she could be admitted to university.

If she wanted to continue studying, he would spend some money and send her to a better university.

Although it couldn't be Peking University, other universities could be achieved by any means.

If she didn't want to study, then it depended on her. She could do whatever she liked in the future, like playing games, giving medical advice to people, or creating music, as long as she would be happy.

What's more...

She may no longer need the diploma.

Aroma, the famous professor at St. John's College of Music and international music master. She had achieved it. And such fame was what the others cared most.

Sheehan didn't even understand why Nikita went to high school in First Senior High School.

But now that she was still a student, he had to ask about such an exam.

"Yes." Nikita nodded.

"Are you confident about it?" Sheehan just finished asking, without waiting for Nikita to answer, and said, "Don't have any pressure, just play at will. Good or bad scores are not the only criterion to measure one's excellence. Every profession produces its own topmost masters, and your excellent place can't be compared with others."

Was he comforting her in advance for fear that she would not do well in the exam?

Nikita smiled, turned her head, looked at the handsome man who owned perfect outline, and raised her eyebrows: "Sheehan, if I don't do well in the exam and my score is low, what do you think?"

"What do I think?"

"Well, do you think I lost your face?" The girl's lips were bent again. "The straight A student who graduated from HF University has found a study slacker girlfriend. Will others think that you have no vision and are a superficial man who only pays attention to the appearance and does not value the inside?"

"Study slacker girlfriend? No vision? Only pay attention to the appearance and not value the inside?" Looking at the girl's dark and smart eyes, Sheehan bent his sexy thin lips, and his voice was low and provocative. "That's because others don't know treasures, and they mistakenly regard pearls as fish eyes. I don't care what such people think.

Besides, in front of you, I have already been a superficial man."

Otherwise, he wouldn't fall in love with her at first sight.

He was frank and open, not hiding his thoughts at all.

Nikita showed a faint smile, noncommittal.

On the matter of superficiality, they had quite a consensus.

Think of herself, didn't she also take a fancy to his face and promise to associate with him?

At that time, she didn't pay attention to what was inside him.

On the other side.

Talbot received a phone call from his teacher Maddox.

Listening to his obviously suppressed voice of excitement from the mobile phone, Talbot asked with some confusion: "Teacher, I know that Sweet Uncle will take the joint entrance examination tomorrow, but isn't this just a normal thing?"

There was another sentence that Talbot didn't dare to say: Do you need to be so happy?

It was normal for students to take the joint entrance examination!

It was really unnecessary to call him specially and tell him this thing like good news.

"It is really normal for others to take the joint entrance examination. But do you know what your Sweet Uncle's going to take the joint entrance examination means!"

Talbot really didn't know.

He asked modestly: "Teacher, what does it mean that she is going to take the joint entrance examination?"

Chapter 1182-Maddox was beaming: "This means that the top student in the national joint entrance examination is none other than our First Senior High School students."

The overall comprehensive strength of First Senior High School was the strongest, and the enrollment rate of famous schools in the college entrance examination every year was also the highest.

However, the students who could get the highest scores were not necessarily in First Senior High School.

For example, in the last national joint entrance examination, the top scholar was not in their First Senior High School, but in a Foreign Language School.

Although the top comprehensive score was still in First Senior High School.

But the No.1 scholar was not in his own school, so there had always been some regrets. Although Maddox was already in a retired state, many things in the school were no longer managed by him, but he was still very attentive to the two major events, the joint entrance examination and the college entrance examination.

Having listened to Maddox's words, Talbot still didn't ponder over it.

How did Nikita take part in the joint entrance examination mean that the champion of the joint entrance examination would be in their school?

Was there any necessary connection between them?

Talbot asked: "Teacher, what do you mean..."

Maddox's tone was very certain: "Nikita will be the No.1 scholar of this national joint entrance examination."

Talbot was surprised.

Nikita?

No.1 scholar in the national joint entrance examination?

The next day, Sheehan got up earlier than usual.

He cooked hearty breakfast. Then after watching the time, he went to Nikita's room and knocked on the door.

After waiting for several minutes, Nikita rubbed her eyes and yawned to open the door.

She just got up, sleepy, with her hair disheveled, and even her voice was low: “Why are you so early today?”

He used to wake her up.

But today was half an hour earlier than usual.

The appearance of her disheveled hair reminded Sheehan of the big orange cat in the garden of the old house, but Nikita was much cuter than the big orange cat.

Sheehan couldn't help rubbing her hair, and his voice was very gentle: “You are going to take an exam today, so get up early and get ready. So that you won't be in a hurry. Go to wash, and then come to have breakfast.”

“Okay.” Nikita nodded, turned around, and slowly leisurely toward the bathroom.

Looking at her in no hurry, Sheehan smiled, and turned back to the room.

Nikita washed well and went to Sheehan.

Seeing a large table full of breakfast, she stunned for several seconds and turned to look at the man beside her: “So rich?”

What was it for?

Benefits of exams?

Sheehan pushed away the dining chair next to her, leading her to sit down, and then sat beside her.

He uncovered the purple clay pot which was used for cooking gruel, filling Nikita's bowl, and put it in front of her: "Breakfast is very important and must be eaten well. Try how this seafood fish gruel tastes. It is a little hot, so eat slowly."

The freshly cooked gruel was simmered in an insulated purple clay pot. At the moment when the lid was opened, the delicious taste suddenly overflowed the whole living room.

Nikita smelled the aroma of it and immediately moved her index finger.

She bowed her head, eating a mouthful of gruel.

The fish fillets were tender and slippery, and almost melted at the entrance. Seafood such as abalone and crab meat and scallops were added to enhance the delicious flavor. When she ate them in one bite, she felt that her tongue would even melt away.

She felt that with this gruel, she could never break up with Sheehan.

Otherwise, if she couldn't eat such delicious gruel in the future, she would definitely think about it for a lifetime.

"Is it delicious?" Sheehan put a soup dumpling in the plate next to her.

Nikita then ate another mouthful of gruel, and raised her head with her dark clear eyes satisfied. She looked at the man who was seriously setting out the food for her, and thought for a few seconds. Then she seriously asked a question.

Chapter 1183-"Sheehan, will you cook for me forever?"

The man clipped a plum ribs into her plate again, looking at her with dark and deep eyes, and his thin lips slightly evoked: "If you like to eat, I will always make it for you."

The girl looked at his deep eyes, silent for a few seconds, and asked: "Even if to do it...for a lifetime?"

This time, Sheehan didn't answer her question immediately. The man's eyes flashed a few times, and some emotion flashed in his eyes. After a while, he replied in a serious and solemn tone: "Yes, for a lifetime."

At this moment, it was the first time that Sheehan had confidence and security in his relationship with Nikita.

Before that, he was always swayed by considerations of gain and loss.

She just said "for a lifetime".

He was always willing to cook for her all her life as long as she liked it.

After dinner, Sheehan sent Nikita to school.

"Do you want to check again? Have you brought everything you need?" Before going out, Sheehan looked at the girl who was not nervous at all, but with lazy and indifferent expression, and reminded her.

"Well, I brought them all." Nikita one-handed carrying her black backpack, shouldering a slung casually. Such action was so natural and unrestrained that it didn't look like going to take the joint entrance examination at all, but like going for a wild trip.

Looking at her inattentive look, Sheehan didn't say anything.

It was normal not to pay attention.

If you were too attentive, it would not like the Nikita he had known.

Both of them were quite calm about this joint entrance examination.

On the contrary, Old Mr. Lambert specially called and told Nikita repeatedly, showing much more attention and nervousness than the examinee who was about to go to the examination room.

“Niky, don’t be too nervous, just treat this exam as a usual small test, and your mentality must be good. Don’t be afraid, and don’t panic.”

Nikita: “...”

She was not nervous, nor panic, and had nothing to be afraid of.

For her, this kind of exam was no different from a small test.

Anyway, this was also Old Mr. Lambert’s concern and kindness, and she politely replied: “Well, thank you grandpa. I know that.”

“Come on, take a good test! When you finish the test, come back with Sheehan, and Grandpa will ask someone to offer you some delicious food!”

Nikita sipped her lips and smiled: “Got that.”

Just having hung up Old Mr. Lambert’s phone, Nikita found her cell phone ringing again.

She looked down. It was Maddox this time.

Why did Old Man Wei call her?

Was to make sure she would take the exam or not?

When Nikita picked up the phone, he heard Maddox’s warm call: “Niky.”

Nikita had no interest to chat with him, so she went straight to the point: "Just say what do you want to talk about?"

Maddox: "Oh, it's nothing. Niky, I just want to ask if you are up now."

Nikita: "Yes, I'm on the way."

She knew that he was afraid that she would change her mind temporarily.

After all, she used to stand him up, so he was psychologically afraid of her.

"Oh, that's fine! Be careful on the road. Then I wish you a victory and everything goes well!"

After Maddox took reassurance from Nikita, he didn't talk nonsense and quickly hung up the phone.

Less than a minute after Maddox's call ended, Nikita's cell phone rang again.

This time, it was a strange number.

Chapter 1184-Nikita took a look, waited for a few seconds, and then picked up.

"Nikita, it's me, Nathan."

In the mobile phone, Nathan's voice sounded.

Not waiting for Nikita, Nikita then said in a hurry: "Don't hang up, I will just say a few words, which won't delay you too much time."

Nikita was silent for a few seconds, and asked in a cold voice: "What is that?"

Nathan was also silent for a while, and then replied in a kind of hoarse voice. "I heard that today is the national joint college entrance examination. This examination is very important, which is no less than the college entrance examination. Many universities will enroll students in advance according to the results of this examination."

"You should... take it seriously."

"If there is anything you need, just tell me. As long as I can do it, I will do it for you."

These words sounded very sincere.

Nikita also believed that at this moment, Nathan said these words from the heart.

However, she didn't need this late care and affection.

For her, it didn't make any sense.

She had always been a person who liked and hated clearly and could afford to let go. When she made up her mind to give up something, whether it was people or other objects, she really would never want to have it anymore.

In fact, Nathan didn't make any unforgivable mistakes. From his point of view, he lost his childhood feelings for his own sister who had been separated for more than ten years, and favored his non-biological sister who was not related to him but lived together for more than ten years. It was not a heinous crime.

People were selfish by nature.

Of course, you would unconsciously favor people closer to you.

She and Nathan had the closest blood relationship, but they didn't have the intimate feelings cultivated by getting along with each other for a long time. Even though she was the natural sister of him, they were still like strangers.

From the very beginning, she never thought that the Swift family would really accept her and treat her as a real family member.

It was just that no matter whether it was her biological parents or her biological brother, they all disliked her without any other emotions. She would rather not have such so-called affection.

"No need." Nikita's voice was very cold, from which even the slightest feeling couldn't be heard. After saying this sentence, she didn't give Nathan a chance to speak again, but directly hung up the phone.

Beside.

Sheehan could clearly feel that after Nikita answered this phone call, the overall atmosphere became much colder and her mood was obviously not as good as before.

He guessed it was from the Swift family.

When Nikita was in a bad mood, it was all related to the Swift family.

His deep eyes fall on a milk-tea shop in the street and stopped the car.

"Just wait a second." After Sheehan confessed to Nikita, he opened the door and got out of the car.

In the milk-tea shop.

Sheehan walked into the store, looked at the order on the counter, and politely whispered to the clerk: "A cup of milk tea, micro-sugar without ice, plus a taro ball and a milk foam."

This was Nikita's favorite taste.

Sheehan often bought her milk tea and knew her preferences very well.

The shop was small with an area of several square meters, so there were only two shop assistants in the shop.

They were both girls in their twenties.

Two girls were debugging the new products in the store. Before they noticed someone coming to the store, they suddenly heard a very nice and provocative voice. They immediately stopped what they were doing and raised their heads.

When they saw a man standing in front of the counter who was extremely handsome and elegant in temperament, both of them opened their eyes wide with their faces uncontrollably flushed.

Chapter 1185-“S...sir, what kind of drink would you like?” One of the shop assistants came to her senses first, blushed, looking at Sheehan, and then lowered her head, which seemed that she was afraid to look at it again.

Another clerk also lowered her head, looking up from time to time, with her face even redder than the other clerk who had just spoken.

Sheehan repeated patiently and politely.

“Oh, yes, yes. Please wait a moment, sir. We'll make it for you right away.”

The two shop assistants turned around, went to the counter inside, and took out fresh milk and ingredients to make the milk tea.

They got together, bowed their heads and screamed excitedly, “Ah, ah, that man is so handsome. When he talked to me just now, my heart was beating so fast.” ...

“Me too!” Another clerk was also very excited. “Is it a star?”

“No, his temperament is not like a star, because star’s temperament is not so good. And if there is really one in the entertainment industry who has the appearance like this, it must have been popular for a long time, and it is impossible for us to have no impression of such a person.”

“That sounds reasonable. In that way, he should not be a star. However, I think he is more handsome than a star.”

Two shop assistants gathered together, excitedly discussed in a low voice for a long time.

The milk tea, which could be prepared in two minutes at ordinary times, had taken the time more than twice as long today.

After the milk tea was ready, the clerk’s face was still red, and she asked softly with a straw in her hand: “Sir, do you want to drink it now, or pack it?”

Sheehan: “Pack it.”

“OK, just wait a moment, please.”

The clerk packed the milk tea in a bag and handed it to him: “Sir, 18 dollars.”

Sheehan took the milk tea, took out his mobile phone, scanned the code paying for it, and then turned to leave.

Looking at the back of his departure, the shop assistants discussed excitedly: “He is really handsome and temperamental, and the dressing style is also tasteful. Just have a guess that did he buy the milk tea for himself or for his girlfriend?”

“It should be bought for his girlfriend. Few boys like to drink milk tea, and he just added taro balls and milk foam to his milk tea. So it must be bought for some girl to drink.”

While speaking, they saw Sheehan walking to a black Rolls-Royce parking not far from the shop, opened the door and got on it.

Although the door was closed quickly, it could still be seen that a girl was sitting in the co-pilot position.

“Wow, not only is he super handsome and super temperament, but is also super rich. The car he drives is actually Rolls-Royce!”

“I really admired it. The super handsome guy driving Rolls-Royce bought milk tea specifically for his girlfriend. How happy his girlfriend is, and what kind of fairy can get such treatment!”

In the car.

Enviied by two shop assistants, the fairy Nikita took the milk tea that the man had just bought, drinking it with the inserted straw.

“You just got out of the car to buy me the milk tea?” Milk tea with milk foam tasted full of milk flavor. Nikita squinted and felt a lot more comfortable after drinking a big mouthful of that.

“Sure.” Sheehan fastened his seat belt. “But drink less.”

He bought the milk tea just because he had seen Nikita was in a bad mood.

It was also very simple to make Nikita feel better. Eating a delicious dessert and drinking a cup of delicious milk tea could satisfy her.

People who didn't know her would think that she was grumpy, eccentric and difficult to get along with.

But only Sheehan knew that his Niky was actually very well-behaved. Even when she was angry, she only needed a cup of milk tea to be coaxed

Chapter 1186-Nikita took a big mouthful of milk tea and chewed the pearls and taro balls satisfactorily.

She was thinking that if this cup of milk tea was iced, it would be even better.

“Why did you suddenly buy me the milk tea?” Nikita took the half-drunk milk tea cup and shook it. The ingredients in this milk tea were added sufficiently. The mouthful taken just now had a strong flavor of milk foam.

Even the corners of her mouth were covered with milk.

She licked the milk foam on her lips.

Sheehan looked at the action of licking her lips, and his eyes darkened.

He held out his hand, without thinking that it might make his clothes dirty. He wiped the milk foam on Nikita’s lip angle directly with his shirt cuff: “Weren’t you in a bad mood? I wondered if you would feel better after drinking the milk tea.”

Nikita looked at the milk stains on his cuffs, took out the paper towel and pushed his hand away: “Sheehan, it makes your clothes dirty.”

“Hmm.” The man took back his hand indifferently, looking down at the cuff, and hooked his lips. “It didn’t matter. I’ll just go back and change one later.”

“How did you know I was in a bad mood?” Nikita looked at the man’s handsome face with deep outline and asked.

Sheehan smiled with gentle eyes: “Of course I can see it. Niky, do you know that when you are in a bad mood, it will become terrible.”

“Oh, yeah?” The girl raised her eyebrows and smiled. “Are you afraid of that?”

“I’m only afraid of one thing.”

“What?”

The man squinted, with deep and affectionate eyes, and he looked at her intently. His voice was low, but every word was very clear into her ears: “I’m only afraid you won’t like me anymore.”

Nikita: “...”

What he was afraid of was this?

“So, Niky, please don’t leave me. Always stay with me. Can you?” From the outsiders’ perspective, the man who was as noble as God was now as low as dust, throwing away all his self-esteem and pride, only asking his beloved girl to stay with him all the time.

In love, the one who was the first to be tempted, was actually the loser.

In a relationship, the more exporting party would always feel insecure.

Even a man like Sheehan who was strong enough in all aspects was no exception.

The examination room was not in First Senior High School, but in the downtown campus of Foreign Language School of N City.

After Nikita got out of the car, she looked at the crowds standing at the school gate, all of whom had just arrived like her. There were students wearing uniforms of Foreign Language School and many students from other schools.

This exam was an exchange of examination rooms.

For example, those from First Senior High School went to Foreign Language School for exams, and those from Foreign Language School went to First Senior High School. There were also students going to Second Senior High School and Experimental High School for exams.

Nikita was assigned to the Foreign Language School.

“Niky!”

A crisp and excited voice sounded behind her. Nikita turned around, seeing Tammy jumping down from a black Phaeton. Because of the hot weather, she also held a small flower umbrella and trotted to Nikita.

“Niky, we were assigned to the same campus!” Tammy was very happy to see that Nikita was also assigned to the Foreign Language School. She looked at the black Rolls-Royce which was still parked on the side of the road and waved to the people in the car at a distance, which could be regarded as greeting.

“It was Brother Sheehan that sent you!” Tammy winked. “He is really kind to you and picks you up every day.”

Tammy had never seen her big cousin being so patient with anyone.

Chapter 1187-His sending her every morning and picking her up every night really made her want to fall in love, thought she had not been in a relationship for really a long time.

“Hmm.” Nikita also followed Tammy’s eyes toward the black Rolls-Royce that had not yet driven away.

Sheehan had a habit.

Every time he sent her to a place, he would not leave until having watched her in.

Generally speaking, this kind of behavior was because the boy were worried about the girl’s safety.

So Nikita thought he actually didn’t have to do so, she was very safe.

But Sheehan insisted on this, and she couldn't control it.

"Let's go."

Nikita didn't want to let him wait too long, so she pulled Tammy towards the school.

After watching two people walk into the school, the black Rolls-Royce started slowly and drove into the vast traffic flow.

Just as the black Rolls-Royce was driving away, Yvonne, who was also assigned to the Foreign Language School, stepped down from a silver Mercedes-Benz.

Margot also got off the car with an umbrella.

"Yvonne, take this umbrella. It's sunny today, so don't get sunburned." Margot briskly walked to Yvonne's side with an umbrella, for fear that she would be sunburned, and quickly pulled her under the umbrella.

Patrick also got off the car and handed Yvonne a thermos cup: "Yvonne, drink some water. It is soaked with Cordyceps and Ginseng, which can refresh yourself."

Yvonne told Margot and Patrick about being recommended to Peking University yesterday.

Both of them were overjoyed.

Now Yvonne was a treasured baby for them. Even if she said she wanted stars in the sky, they would find a way to pick them off for her.

Yvonne didn't seem to hear what they were saying, but was looking in a certain direction with stunned eyes.

“Yvonne, what are you looking at?” Margot saw that she didn’t respond. She followed her eyes and looked down the street in front of him, but she didn’t see anything.

The black Rolls-Royce drifted away until it turned into the corner of an intersection ahead and was no longer visible.

Yvonne then listlessly and slowly took back her eyes.

She recognized that car.

That was Sheehan’s car.

He’s here for one reason.

Yvonne bit her lip, with jealousy could not help pouring out of her eyes.

Even though she had almost everything now, she was still jealous that Nikita could have such an excellent boyfriend as Sheehan. Why could she have the honor that Sheehan picked her up and dropped her off every day?

“Nothing.” Yvonne’s face was not very good. She looked at Margot and Patrick, who were standing in front of her, and said in a bad tone, “Mom and Dad, I’m going in. You can go back.”

Margot and Patrick saw their daughter who suddenly changed her face, exchanged eyes with each other, and didn’t dare to ask anything again.

Yvonne was promising now, but her temper was also worse.

The good daughter, who used to be clever and obedient in front of them, now held her own temper and no longer listened to them as before.

But Yvonne's honor today could make them proud, and even if they were dissatisfied in their hearts, they could only endure it.

Margot said with a smiling face, "Yvonne, then go in quickly. Your father and I will wait for you outside. This is the good luck amulet from the master I begged in the temple. Bring it, and it will bless you to get high marks in the exam!"

Margot took out a yellow symbol paper, folded into a small triangle and stuffed it into Yvonne's hand.

"Mom, what are you doing? I can't bring anything in the examination room. You brought this to me to get me checked out and charged with cheating!" Yvonne was still thinking about Sheehan, so her face was cold, and she badly threw the paper directly on the ground.

Chapter 1188-Margot suddenly froze, and looked at the paper thrown on the ground.

Yvonne didn't look at her, but walked away directly.

Margot was shocked.

After this piano competition, she found that Yvonne has changed a lot, not as good and obedient as before. However, she didn't do anything wrong.

She is now the promising figure of the Swift family. And she will bring more glory to them.

Margot thought it was acceptable for her to have a little temper.

Until Yvonne just threw the paper on the ground and accused her loudly, Margot realized that Yvonne's change was not a bit.

She changed too much.

Now she completely ignored them.

She never dared to do such a thing before.

Patrick was surprised as well. It took a long time for him to come to his mind.

He looked at Margot, hesitated, and said, "As the exam approaches, Yvonne may be under too much pressure. Let's not take it seriously."

But even himself didn't believe these words.

He also couldn't believe what Yvonne has done.

She has been very obedient for so many years. She never says no in front of them.

This is also what Margot and Patrick are most satisfied about her.

But now Yvonne is no longer listening to them.

Nikita and Tammy found themselves taking the exam in the same classroom.

"Wow, Niky, we are next to each other!" Tammy checked Nikita's seat number, and said excitedly.

Nikita looked at Tammy's number, which was really next to her position.

It says Tammy is behind her.

While they were talking, they arrived at the classroom.

There are already many students sitting in the classroom.

There are several invigilators standing by the door. Before entering the classroom, students have to hand in everything except stationery temporarily until they finish the exam.

Electronic devices such as mobile phones are to be handed in first.

In addition, there is a scanning instrument at the door. Before entering the classroom, students need to go through a body scan to make sure they don't carry anything that can cheat before entering.

This set of anti-cheating scale is generally used in the college entrance examination.

The usual process is not so strict.

Because the significance of this joint entrance examination is no less than that of the college entrance examination, invigilation is of great importance.

Nikita and Tammy walked into the classroom and sat down.

When they walked in, the students sitting in the classroom raised their heads one after another. They were surprised by Nikita's delicate facial features.

They just found Nikita looking amazingly beautiful.

The most important thing now is the exam.

Nikita and Tammy had just sat down for a while when they heard a surprised voice by the door.

"Tammy, Nikita, why are you taking exams here?"

Chapter 1189-Nikita looked up, spinning her pen.

The speaker is Yvonne's bestie who claimed that she would give Nikita one hundred bucks if she can be admitted into the top university in the country.

"Since you are here, we have the perfect reason to be here!" Tammy yelled at her angrily.

"Well, well." She went to the position beside Nikita and sat down.

After a while, almost all the students arrived.

Three invigilators also came into the classroom with the test papers.

In the morning, it's the mathematics exam.

Tammy is assigned to Class A. In fact, her grades are quite good. With her usual grades, it is no problem for her to enter a top-notch university, but at this time, she is still quite nervous.

She gently poked Nikita's back and asked in a low voice: "Nikita, we're going to take the exam. Aren't you nervous?"

Tammy is not good at Math. She never got 80% of the score in mathematics in her usual test scores.

Nikita held her chin, spinning pen, looking comfortable: "It's just an exam. Why so nervous?"

Tammy looked at her acting all casual as usual, sipped her lips. She didn't know what to say.

Undoubtedly outstanding people can hold on to this kind of situation.

Think about it. She coached a professional team and achieved championship when she's fourteen. If she didn't have a strong mind, she won't achieve it.

Compared with her previous brilliant achievements, such exams are really nothing to her.

If only she could have such a strong mentality. Tammy thought.

"Now, I'll distribute the test papers. Check if there's anything wrong if you get the papers. After writing your answers, do check your answers."

There was a straight-A student.

Once in the exam, the student was deducted by more than 30 points.

Fortunately, that exam was only a joint entrance examination, not the final college entrance examination.

But this case is so typical that every time there is an important exam, the invigilator will use it to remind students not to make the same low-level mistakes.

The invigilator told some things that need attention and handed out the test paper.

After Nikita got the paper, she began to answer questions slowly.

She had just finished answering two multiple-choice questions when she heard a sigh in the classroom.

"Damn it, why is it so difficult?"

"It's simply outrageous. Why would they do that to us?"

Behind Nikita, Tammy was also sighing: "Damn it. It's so difficult!"

Nikita listened to the whine around, silently finished another two multiple-choice questions.

Half an hour later, Nikita finished the test paper. She pressed the test paper with a pen. Then, she looked at other students who were still writing the test paper. After thinking about it, she put the test paper aside and fell asleep on her desk.

There are regulations in the joint entrance examination, that students could only hand in the answer sheets half an hour in advance. She only spent half an hour to finish the exam. She can't leave now, and she has no mobile phone to play, so she has to sleep.

Chapter 1190-An invigilator just walked by, she shook her head and sighed again.

This kind of student has no future.

They can tell their future at a glance.

In the future, there will always be times when she regrets, but at that time, it will be too late to regret!

Tammy sat behind Nikita, and naturally saw this scene. She was a little anxious and wanted to wake Nikita up, but she didn't dare to do it at this time.

Besides, she is busy taking care of herself now.

This test is much more difficult than she thought, and she is worried about whether she will fail this time.

Yvonne's best friend turned and looked at Nikita in disdain.

Nikita, a transferred student from a remote area, with previous scores of zero marks, should be like this.

Looking at her high profile yesterday, she even thought Nikita's somehow outstanding.

Now...that's it?

It's just half an hour since the exam started, she revealed herself.

Nikita slept until the end of the exam. Tammy woke her up.

She handed in the test paper with Tammy, and they followed the other students and walked out of the classroom.

"The test is so difficult. I didn't figure out many of the questions!" Going out of the classroom, Tammy couldn't help complaining.

Nikita silently listened, without speaking.

Other students around are also complaining about the test. After checking the answers with others, they sighed again.

"Is it? I thought it was the other answer. Damn it! What am I thinking?"

"I hope other subjects can be simpler. It can't be as hard as math exam, or else, I'll die!"

Tammy listened to the answers proposed by the students.

After listening for a while, she became more and more depressed, because she found that she thought the questions wrong.

"Nikita, wait for me, I'll talk to them about a few questions and come back soon!"

Tammy saw a classmate coming up and stopped the girl aloud.

“Hey, I wanted to ask you a question. Can I join you to check my answer?” Tammy felt insecure about her answer, so she tried to find someone to check.

The girl she stopped was excellent at Math.

“Sure.” The girl said with a smile, “I am also looking for someone to check my answer.”

Tammy told her some questions she was not sure about. After finishing the answers, she walked back to Nikita with a sad face.

“If I had known it, I shouldn’t have checked the answer.”

After finishing the answers, she felt that it was really possible for her to fail the math exam this time.

“I got several multiple choice questions wrong. I should have at least get one right.”

“You got three correct.” Nikita looked at her as if she was going to cry in the next second, so she could only comfort Tammy.

“What?” Tammy looked at Nikita as if she’s going to cry.

Nikita repeated: “You didn’t get all the five multiple-choice questions wrong. You got three right.”

Tammy paused.

Before she could react, Nikita’s next sentences stunned her directly.
