

The Girl CB 1251

Chapter 1251-There was admiration showing in Vernon eyes: "I really didn't expect Miss Swift to be so excellent! The talented girl who took the college entrance examination at the age of fourteen and got perfect marks in all the subjects turned out to be Miss Swift!"

"And in the joint examination this year, Miss Swift got perfect scores in all subjects again! Miss Swift's IQ is so high. Apart from her, I have never heard of another person who used to get perfect scores in all the subjects!"

No one can get perfect scores in all the subjects even when the test is easy, let alone the tests this year and four years ago are not easy at all.

Speaking of English alone, even if she got all the other answers right, no one could get perfect marks in essay.

No matter how great the article she wrote is, she will get one or two points deducted.

Those who can even get perfect marks in essay questions can't be considered as generally excellent! They are simply prodigy!

Since Vernon has a boss who is so powerful as Sheehan, he rarely admires anyone else, because he feels that no one can be as excellent as Mr. Lambert.

But now, he really admires Nikita. He admires her a lot.

Nikita may be the only one who has an IQ higher than Mr. Lambert.

Sheehan narrowed his eyes. He remained in silence for a while and didn't say anything.

Even though he had guessed that Nikita's zero scores couldn't represent her true level, he was still surprised by her perfect scores in all the subjects.

In particular, when he got to know that Nikita was actually Autumn, the top student in the college entrance examination four years ago who also got perfect scores in all the subjects. This is far beyond his expectation.

His little girl really has been hiding her light in the bushel.

“How did you know about this? Did Miss Swift tell you this?” Sheehan looked down at his phone again. But there were still no new calls or unread messages coming in.

“No, Miss Swift didn’t tell me about this. I saw it on Facebook myself.”

“On Facebook?”

Vernon nodded. He told Sheehan every detail which was exposed on Facebook. Nikita got perfect scores in the joint examination. Then she was questioned. Someone suspected that she cheated in the exam and made such a big scene out of it that even the Education Bureau went to the school to investigate. As a result, the result of the investigation showed that she actually participated in the college entrance examination four years ago. And she also got the perfect scores in all the subjects at that time.

“I originally wanted to report this matter to Mr. Lambert. But I didn’t expect Miss Swift to solve it by herself so soon.”

Well... Sheehan didn’t blame Vernon for not telling him about this until now.

He is aware of Nikita’s capability.

She’s capable of dealing with such a situation.

However, Sheehan still felt a little helpless in his heart. When such a thing came up, his little girl solved it by herself without saying a word. And she never had the intention to ask him for help from beginning to end.

As her boyfriend, he really had little sense of existence.

When it comes to something related to his girlfriend, he still needs his assistant to fill him in.

“Mr. Lambert, what do you think Miss Swift was thinking? Since she is such an excellent student, why did she always get zero points in her previous exams?”

Since she can get perfect scores in all the subjects, zero score definitely doesn't represent her real level.

So she must be deliberately getting zero points.

Vernon just couldn't understand why someone would deliberately get zero points?

Sheehan didn't say anything. He just turned to walk out with his phone.

Seeing that he was about to leave the office, Vernon was stunned for a second. Then he quickly followed him up. “Mr. Lambert, the Songwon Group sent someone over to talk about that piece of land in the suburban area. Later, you still need to...”

Sheehan walked out of the office without looking back and went straight to his exclusive elevator. “That will be your task.”

Chapter 1252-Vernon was stunned again. “My task?”

He is just an assistant. And that is a serious business negotiation.

Is it really appropriate for him to handle such a huge project?

“Yeah. Call the vice president and ask him to join you.” Sheehan pressed the button of the elevator. After the elevator door was opened, he stepped in. “I have already settled down most of the things with the president of the Songwon Group about project in the suburbs. All you need to do is to confirm some details with him this time. Just check it with the vice president.”

“If there are some parts you don’t feel sure about, call me.”

Strictly watched the elevator door close slowly. He stood at the elevator entrance for a while, sighed and then turned to find the vice president of the company.

He didn’t need to guess. He knew exactly where Mr. Lambert was going.

Alas... Since Mr. Lambert fell in love, his dedication to work is getting worse and worse every day. And he has devoted himself to his little girlfriend.

He never skipped work before. But now skipping work has become a common occurrence for him.

He really didn’t expect that Mr. Lambert, who used to be known as being abstinent, would now become a simple boy in love who couldn’t wait to be with his girlfriend 24 hours a day.

Fortunately, Miss Swift is not a clingy girlfriend.

Otherwise, Mr. Lambert will have to skip work every day.

Nikita got perfect scores in all the subjects. And then she was questioned and reported to have cheated in the exams. It caught so much attention that even the Education Bureau went to her school to investigate. Not only did it cause a sensation on Facebook, but it was also well known to everyone. Even Margot and Patrick, who don’t spend time on Facebook at ordinary times, knew about this.

It’s just that this matter caught too much attention. Many media have reported it. Even though Margot and Patrick don’t use Facebook, relevant news will automatically pop up on their phones for them to see.

When the couple learned about this, they all felt particularly ashamed.

Although Nikita has cut off relations with them, so generally speaking, she has nothing to do with the Swift family anymore.

They still feel quite ashamed.

Even though their nominal kinship is broken.

They are still bonded by blood. And it can never be broken.

“Her cheating is well known all over the country and even alarmed the Education Bureau. They specially sent a team to investigate.” Margot threw her phone aside with disgust and disdain showing in her eyes. “Fortunately, we have severed our relationship with her. Otherwise, others will laugh at our Swift family for a lifetime because of this.”

At this point, Margot still felt thankful.

Fortunately, Nikita has cut off relations with them.

Otherwise, she would be so ashamed now.

It’s shameful enough to get zero marks in the exam. And now, she even begins to cheat!

And she actually let everyone in the country know about her cheating!

She and Patrick both have good genes. How can their own daughter be so bad?

Patrick’s eyes also showed some disdain at this moment. He also felt particularly humiliated about Nikita’s cheating. And he was also secretly gloating that fortunately, they had severed the relationship with her. Otherwise, he and Margot would never be able to hold their heads up high in front of friends and relatives in the future.

"I don't believe Nikita ever cheated in the exam."

Nathan was also at home and saw the relevant news. Seeing his parents' words show a lot of disdain to Nikita, he said with dissatisfaction: "It is almost impossible to cheat in the joint examination."

"I also took the joint examination in those days. And the monitoring was very strict. So it was impossible to cheat. The current invigilation system is much more advanced than what we had at that time, so it is even more impossible to cheat."

"Besides, she got perfect scores in all the subjects. Whoever cheats will never be able to accomplish that."

Chapter 1253-"Well, it is just because she got perfect scores in all the subjects that I can be sure that she cheated!" Margot sneered. "With her previous scores, how can she be able to get perfect scores in all the subjects?"

"She is really that excellent. She has long been admitted by good schools. How would she stay in that poor township to study for a long time? The reason why she could get perfect scores by cheating is that she must have got the test papers in advance."

Margot used to investigate on Nikita.

She knew that Nikita was a bad student. And that's why she didn't take her back.

As for the reason why she took her back later, it was because she wanted to bring luck to the Swift family. Otherwise, why would she take a bad girl home who is hated by everyone?

"The test papers of the joint examination are sealed in the safe before the exam. Moreover, only relevant personnel have the key to the safe. Even if the test papers are leaked, how can Nikita get to see it?"

Nathan has had enough about Margot's prejudice against Nikita. His face darkened down. And his tone couldn't remain nice anymore. "Mom, even though you don't like Nikita and have prejudice against her, you can't frame her like this."

"Besides, the result of the Education Bureau's investigation hasn't come out yet. But you are so sure that she cheated. I can see why Nikita wants to sever relations with us, and why she would rather be alone than stay with us, her so-called relatives."

"If I were her, I wouldn't want such a family and such parents, either!"

"Nathan, how could you say that? Are you accusing me and your father?" Margot also got upset. Her face darkened down. "What have we done that wronged her? We are kind enough to take her back and send her to the best school. And we never mistreated her."

"It's she who is too petty and always feels that we wronged her."

Nathan shook his head: "You did take her home and send her to the best school. But you can't call that never mistreating her. Those are your obligations and responsibilities as her parents."

"You never treated her as your own daughter from beginning to end. In your eyes, she is always an outsider. Dad, Mom, let me ask you. You also offered me the best life and let me grow up happily in this family. Do you think it is a natural thing for you to be good to me? Or did you offer all those things to me as a gift?"

The couple was immediately froze.

Nathan continued: "You don't think it's a gift, right? And you never thought about whether you have been mistreating me. Isn't it an obligation for parents to be good to their children?"

"But why do you think it is a gift for Nikita if you treat Nikita nicely?"

Margot and Patrick's face changed slightly. And neither of them could come up with a word to retort him.

Because, they realized that what Nathan said was true.

They really didn't regard Nikita as a family in their heart.

Margot was silent for a long time. And she finally came up with some words to retort him. "After more than ten years of separation, it takes time to build up the bond with her. Besides, we are talking about Nikita's cheating. Why did you suddenly change the subject?"

"Cheating?" Nathan said in a certain tone: "I believe Nikita did not cheat."

"Nikita didn't cheat? So do you mean that she got perfect scores in all the subjects all by herself?"

Nikita went silent for a while.

Nikita's score in the exam is astounding.

But no matter what, he still felt that Nikita didn't cheat.

"Wait, Margot! Nikita really doesn't seem to cheat!" Patrick casually glanced at his phone. And he saw the newly released news.

A piece of news that completely took him by surprise.

Chapter 1254-"About the affair that Nikita, a student in Class F, Grade 3, the First Senior High School in N City, cheated in the exam, after receiving the report, the Ministry of Education arranged professionals to investigate. After investigation, it is confirmed that Nikita did not cheat. Her results of the joint examination are true and effective. In addition, in the investigation, we learned that the talented girl who got perfect scores in all the subjects in the college entrance examination four years ago was also Nikita..."

Patrick read out the contents of the news word by word. And when he read the sentence that Nikita was also the top student in the college entrance examination four years ago, he suddenly lost his voice.

He held his phone and widened his eyes in shock.

“What did you just say?” Margot thought she had misheard.

“Nikita... She... She...” Patrick seemed to have lost his voice. After stammering for a long time, he still failed to finish his sentence.

Margot grabbed his phone impatiently.

After a few seconds, Margot’s face gradually froze. And her hand with the phone trembled, as if he couldn’t hold it still.

The corners of her mouth also trembled lightly: “How can this be true...”

Not only Nikita’s scores are true, but she was also the top student in the national college entrance examination four years ago!

She still remembers that four years ago, when Margot knew that there was a top student who got perfect scores in all the subjects in the college entrance examination, she was so envious that she bluntly said that this student’s ancestors must have accumulated several lifetimes of blessings in order to raise such a brilliant descendant in this generation.

But the genius girl who made her envy turns out to be Nikita!

It is not the blessings accumulated by ancestors in other people’s families for several lifetimes, but the blessings accumulated by ancestors in her family!

Such a great blessing, which she didn't even dare to think about, was actually pushed out by herself?!

Margot felt her chest was stuffy, as if she were short of air. Her face turned green and pale in turns. And she felt a severe pain in her heart.

Patrick also felt extremely depressed.

At this moment, he couldn't be more regretful.

With perfect scores in all the subjects, she can even be admitted to HF University!

There hasn't been such a brilliant student ever in the Swift family!

Yvonne's grades are already very good. But she only got 705 points in this exam, which is at a completely different level from the full scores of 750 points.

Nathan also saw the relevant news. He felt shocked too. But at the same time, he slowly picked up a smile. And there was joy showing on his face. "I knew that Nikita definitely did not cheat!"

Compared with Nikita's good mood at this moment, Margot and Patrick's mood has never been worse, especially Margot, who is immersed in the mood of great regret, great chagrin and great affliction.

Four years ago, Nikita was already the top student in the college entrance examination!

She clearly made her investigation about Nikita. But why did she miss this?

If she knew this earlier, she would have taken Nikita back earlier. And she wouldn't have been so cold and indifferent to Nikita like she used to be.

If she knew about this in advance, the treatment that Yvonne has would have been offered to Nikita, too. And maybe her treatment would have been better...

In that case, Nikita wouldn't have severed relations with them.

If Nikita were still staying in the Swift family, how glorious they would be now.

But the things in the past can't be changed...

Nikita has severe relations with them.

Thinking of this, Margot felt more pain in her chest. And there seemed to be some air stuck in her throat tube. She couldn't swallow it down or breathe it out.

At this moment, Zoey brought the freshly cooked tonic soup over, which Margot drank every day to improve her health condition.

Chapter 1255-But now, she has no appetite.

"Madam, the tonic soup is ready. Drink it while it is still hot." Zoey sent the tonic soup to her.

Margot stretched out her hand and pushed it away. "Take it away. I don't want to drink it."

She covered her face with both of her hands and repeated one sentence in a low voice over and over again. Her voice was full of chagrin and regret: "How can it be Nikita? How can it be Nikita?"

At this moment, the Garrett family.

Today is the day for the Garrett family to hold a family dinner once a month. The so-called family dinner is held for closely related family members getting together once a month.

Old Mr. Garrett sat on the main seat, which was next to Cathleen. On the left side of Cathleen sat Rosa and Corley, as well as Corley's uncle's family.

Halfway through the family dinner, Felicia, the daughter of Corley's uncle, suddenly exclaimed, stared at the screen of her phone and spoke up in surprise: "Wow, Miss Nikita is really excellent! I really didn't expect that she is not only good at playing games, but also has such perfect grades in school!"

"She got perfect scores in all the subjects! Awesome! She is simply awesome!"

Nikita?

Hearing this name, a group of people, who were originally focusing on their dinner, all stopped eating and looked up at Felicia.

Even Old Mr. Garrett put down his chopsticks and looked at Felicia.

"Nikita? Felicia, is she your classmate?" Corley took a sip of soup and asked curiously.

"If only I could be a classmate with Nikita's. Brother Corley, you also know her. She is the magical doctor who cured your legs!"

Corley's leg was cured by Nikita. Felicia heard of this from her family.

After knowing this, she admired Nikita even more. And she has long been regarding Nikita as an example and idol for her to learn.

Corley was stunned for a second. The light in his eyes slightly flashed. "What do you mean by getting perfect scores in all the subject just now?..."

"I'm Nikita's scores in this joint examination results. Brother Corley, Nikita is simply awesome! She actually got perfect scores in all the subjects!"

“And have you heard that there was also a prodigy who got perfect scores in all the subjects in the college entrance examination years ago? You can never guess this. That awesome prodigy is actually Nikita!”

“God! How can she be so awesome!”

Felicia couldn't admire her more. “How can there be such a perfect person in this world? She is very good-looking. Her academic performance is very good. She is good at e-sports. And she has excellent medical skills. And she also writes songs!”

“Sister Rosa is already very excellent. But she is even more excellent than Sister Rosa!”

Felicia didn't notice that Rosa's face suddenly darkened down. And she was still praising Nikita: “If only I were a boy! If so, I would definitely pursue Nikita!”

“The man who can have Nikita as his girlfriend must be the happiest man.”

With a bang, a porcelain bowl in front of Rosa fell to the ground.

The crisp sound of broken porcelain made everyone next to her turn to look at her.

And Felicia finally noticed that Rosa's face darkened down. And she couldn't look more gloomy.

She blinked and asked with a puzzled face: “Sister Rosa, are you feeling some discomfort? You don't look good.”

Old Mr. Garrett naturally knew what's wrong with his granddaughter. But he pretended to know nothing and said with concerns: “Rosa, if you feel some discomfort, I'll call the doctor over to check on you.”

Rosa pinched her fingers and forced herself to pick up a stiff smile. “Grandpa, I am fine. I am not uncomfortable at all. So you don't need to call a doctor over.”

Chapter 1256-“Are you sure?”

“Yes, I’m sure.” Rosa smiled again. And her smile couldn’t look more unnatural. “I am really fine.”

“That’s good.” Old Mr. Garrett nodded, “If something is wrong, don’t endure it. If you suffer some illness, the last thing you want to do is to suck it up in your heart and do nothing about it. If you keep it in your heart for a long time, small problems will develop into some serious illness.”

Old Mr. Garrett’s words had a double meaning.

Cathleen and Corley both understood the profound meaning.

Rosa is not stupid. So she also knows what Old Mr. Garrett was talking about.

About her and Sheehan, Old Mr. Garrett specially talked to her before. He asked her not to hold any hope for Sheehan and let go of him as soon as possible.

She knows his words actually make sense. But how can she be willing to give up like this?

And why should she be the one who gives up?

Clearly, she met Sheehan earlier. And her love for Sheehan is definitely much deeper than Nikita’s. She is the most suitable person for Sheehan.

Nikita is just a passer-by in Sheehan’s life.

She doesn’t believe Sheehan can really marry Nikita.

As long as she doesn’t give up, as long as she continues to wait, she believes that Sheehan will understand her love. And the person who eventually gets to be with Sheehan will definitely be her.

“Felicia, did you just say that Nikita is the national champion of this year’s joint examination? And she also got perfect scores in all the subjects?” Compared with his granddaughter’s emotional problems, Old Mr. Garrett was obviously more interested in this matter.

He has always liked Nikita.

Before, he also intended to let Nikita be his granddaughter-in-law.

But it’s a pity that Nikita is not interested in his grandson at all. And she actually has eyes for that boy in the Lambert family.

But to be fair, that boy in the Lambert family is really excellent. If he makes a serious comparison between them, his grandson is inferior to the other party in all aspects.

What’s more, with the current situation, even if Nikita has a crush on his grandson, they still can’t be together.

Old Mr. Garrett learned from Cathleen that Nikita turned out to be his grandniece, so Corley is actually Nikita’s cousin. Of course, they can’t be together.

“Yes, Grandpa. Nikita is really awesome! In the future, I will take her as an example for me to learn. I hope I can be such an excellent person as Nikita!”

“No, I can’t be greedy. If I can be one tenth as excellent as Nikita in the future, I will be satisfied!”

Old Mr. Garrett nodded and praised without stint: “Nikita is really an excellent person. You are right to take her as your example. Grandpa also hopes that you can become an excellent person like her in the future.”

“Yeah! Grandpa, I will try my best!”

Old Mr. Garrett turned to look at Cathleen with a smile who had been sitting beside him: "Cathleen, Nikita is really the young version of you. This child is talented. And she will definitely achieve something big in the future."

Among all his brothers and sisters, Cathleen is the cleverest and most capable one.

When Cathleen was young, her academic performance was also particularly good. And she also skipped grades when she was studying in high school.

Although she never got perfect scores in all the subjects, she was definitely the top one among those children who had the same age as her. And no one could surpass her.

Later, Cathleen got married and gave birth to a daughter. She thought that her daughter would get her smart mind. But unexpectedly, her daughter is much inferior to her in every aspect.

And her daughter even ran away from home and eloped with a man, which made Cathleen so mad that she was ill in bed for a long time.

Chapter 1257-Some of Cathleen's plans are unknown to others. But Old Mr. Garrett knows a thing or two about them.

Since the early years, Cathleen has started to select her successor, trying to cultivate an heir who could take over her career. But she never found the right one.

Now, it seems that the successor she wants has been found.

Since Nikita is her own granddaughter, and she is also very clever and very independent, there are no more candidates who are more suitable than Nikita.

Cathleen was also smiling. She said with joy and pride: "I think Niky is very similar to the young me. No. Actually, this child is much promising than I used to be when I was young."

"I didn't expect her to do so well in the exam."

This is a great surprise for Cathleen.

She actually got perfect scores in all the subjects!

Since her granddaughter can get such a score, how high will her IQ be?

She didn't live up to expectations and gave birth to a daughter who only knew how to anger her. Originally, she thought her life would be like this until it ended. And there was nothing to look forward to. But unexpectedly, God actually blessed her and gave her such an excellent granddaughter!

"That boy in the Lambert family is really lucky." Old Mr. Garrett said with pity. "With such an excellent granddaughter-in-law, I think Old Mr. Lambert will be very proud."

Hearing him say so, Cathleen was not very satisfied. She retorted: "Niky is still young. It's too early to talk about her being someone's granddaughter-in-law. Who know what will happen in the future?"

"At her present age, her mainly task is studying. Other things can be put aside first, especially romantic affairs. I think it is more appropriate to start a relationship when she gets older."

In fact, Nikita's thinking pattern and insights are much more mature than those of her peers, so people can't judge her based on her real age. But Cathleen still doesn't agree her to fall in love too early.

Although Sheehan is one of the best young talents in the circle of rich and powerful families, circles, and the Lambert family clearly has a high status background is quite good, and her granddaughter will definitely not suffer any loss as his girlfriend, Cathleen still doesn't want Nikita to get married too early.

Even though the man she will marry is Sheehan in the Lambert family, Cathleen doesn't want Nikita to marry him too early.

In her opinion, her granddaughter will definitely achieve something big in the future. And she thinks Nikita should value her career more, not her love life.

Otherwise, her super high IQ will go waste.

Once a girl gets married, she will have children soon. And once she has children, she will basically devote herself to her children.

“Why? Do you think that boy in the Lambert family is not good enough to be your grandson-in-law?” Seeing that Cathleen didn’t seem happy to talk about this, Old Mr. Garrett deliberately teased her.

Cathleen smiled and said confidently: “He is the boy from the Lambert family. So what? No matter how perfect he is, my Niky is good enough for him.”

Cathleen really thinks so.

How excellent her granddaughter is! She is a genius who can get perfect scores in exams. She is good enough for the most perfect man in the world.

“That’s true.” Old Mr. Garrett did not deny this. He said with a smile: “Girls in the Garrett family are always very excellent, who can be good enough for any perfect man.”

“Girls in the Garrett family? Grandpa, do you mean that Nikita is related to our family?” Felicia heard the conversation between the two and asked curiously.

Old Mr. Garrett nodded: “Yes, Nikita is my sister’s granddaughter. So... she should be your cousin.”

“Nikita is my cousin?!” Felicia couldn’t be more surprised. “Grandpa, are you serious?”

“Of course. It’s true.”

“That’s great!” Felicia couldn’t be more excited. “Then the top student of this joint examination and the college entrance examination four years ago comes from our family?”

Chapter 1258-Old Mr. Garrett thought about it for a little and nodded. "You can say that."

Nikita also has the blood of the Garrett family.

Therefore, what she said was true.

"Sister, your granddaughter really brought honor to our Garrett family!" Old Mr. Lambert's sister-in-law had the intention to please Cathleen. So she also began to praise Nikita. "Rosa was also an excellent student when she was studying in the school. I didn't expect that there would be a person more excellent than her. It seems that we have a lot of talented people in our family."

As she just finished saying so, Rosa threw her chopsticks on the table and made a big sound. She pushed her chair and stood up.

Old Mr. Lambert's sister-in-law turned to look at her in amazement.

"Enjoy your dinner." Rosa said so with a cold face. And then she directly turned around and walked out of the dining room.

After a short time, there was a crackling sound coming from upstairs.

Even though it's a little far away from the dining room, the sound was pretty loud.

Old Mr. Lambert's sister-in-law turned to look at him with a puzzled face. And she couldn't help muttering: "What's wrong with Rosa? Did I say something wrong? Why do I feel that she seems to be angry with me?"

Old Mr. Garrett, who knew the inside story, calmly said: "Don't worry about her. Let's go back to our dinner."

"Yvonne, even though Nikita got perfect scores in all the subjects, she still can't compare with you."

Seeing Yvonne look extremely gloomy, her desk-mate thought for a long time and finally came up with a word to comfort her. "She just did well in this joint examination, but you will be Aroma's disciple soon!"

"Yeah, she did do well in an exam. So what? Compared with ranking first in the joint examination, I certainly prefer to be Aroma's disciple!"

"You have a promising career and a bright future. She can never surpass you."

Yvonne has been feeling depressed for a long time. Hearing her say, she finally felt a little better. And the serious expression on her face eased a little, which didn't look as gloomy as it used to be.

Yes! Even though Nikita got perfect scores in all the subjects and ranked first in this joint examination, so what?

When she becomes Aroma's disciple, her future career will definitely be better than Nikita's.

No matter how good her scholar performance is, her final goal is to have a good career in the future.

But as long as she thought of Nikita's proud and hateful face, she couldn't help feeling a little unconvinced.

Nikita! This bitch has to steal her thunder every time, always trying to take something away from her!

She doesn't believe Nikita can still compete with her to be Aroma's disciple!

However, Aroma told her before that she needed a few days to consider it. Now that several days have passed, Aroma still hasn't contacted her yet. What's going on?...

Yvonne suddenly felt a little flustered.

Compared with the results of the joint examination this year, she is more concerned about Aroma's final reply to her.

These days, Aroma has never contacted her. Should she take the initiative to make a phone call to her?

While Yvonne was still hesitating, there was news popping up on her phone. She looked down and checked. And her face suddenly changed.

The title of the News was "Yvonne, the champion of the National Youth Piano Competition, is suspected of plagiarism. Her entry in the competition is quite similar to one of the works published by a netizen."

At the moment when she saw the news, Yvonne felt that something in her brain seemed to explode.

There was shock showing in her eyes. And she immediately clicked into the news and read it carefully.

In the news, a netizen said that she accidentally discovered a piece of music which was almost identical to Yvonne's entry. And that piece of music was published before Yvonne participated in the piano competition.

Therefore, netizens thought that Yvonne was suspected of plagiarism and found relevant news media to contribute.

"If I misunderstood her, I am willing to stand out and apologize to her in public. But if she really plagiarized, she has to stand out and apologize to the original author. And the organizers of the competition should also cancel her championship."

Chapter 1259-"Besides, I heard that Aroma, the international piano master, would take her as a disciple because she was moved by her entry. If that song is copied from someone else by her, she is not qualified for being Aroma's disciple."

In the news, there was also an audio of the contributor being interviewed.

The speaker is a girl. And her voice sounded quite young. But it is a very strange voice. Yvonne can be sure that she doesn't know this girl.

After reading the specific content of the news, Yvonne looked paler.

How can this happen!

Annoyed Mary Sue is not a big celebrity on the Internet. And she has few fans following her. She thought it would be very safe for her to copy her work.

No one will know about this but herself.

But how could she be reported for plagiarism?

Did Annoyed Mary Sue discover her plagiarism and report her?

Yvonne thought about it for a long time and believed that this was the only possibility. Or maybe Annoyed Mary Sue saw the relevant news and then discovered her plagiarism.

Since Annoyed Mary Sue was also in the music industry, she must know Aroma.

She may have been paying attention to the related topics of Aroma taking a disciple and then discovered the plagiarism.

Yvonne never thought that her plagiarism would be discovered some day.

As she was feeling extremely flustered and didn't know what to do, a shadow cast in front of her eyes. Lanny walked to her desk and said coldly: "Yvonne, President Dylan wants to talk to you. He asked you to go to his office."

Yvonne raised her head. Lanny saw her flustered look.

Seeing her like this, Lanny picked up a mocking smile: "By the way, let me kindly remind you that I was at President Dylan's office just now. And I heard someone call him. It seemed to be a reporter, calling to talk about something related to you."

"But I don't know any details."

In fact, Lanny already knew.

On his way back, he saw the news that Yvonne was suspected of copying a netizen's work.

And it wasn't because he was kind that he reminded Yvonne. He did it on purpose.

As expected, he saw Yvonne's face getting longer and longer. And her eyes looked more and more flustered.

Lanny didn't say too much to her. Since he had sent her the message, he turned around and returned to his seat.

On her way to the principal's office, Yvonne met some students.

Seeing her, the students had different expressions. They gathered in small groups, lowered their voices and discussed something while looking at her.

Some of their discussion fell in Yvonne's ears.

"Do you think Yvonne really plagiarized others' work?"

"I just heard the work published by the account called 'Annoyed Mary Sue', which is almost the same as Yvonne's original entry in the competition. Only the last two parts are different. Except for these two parts, everything is completely identical."

“In fact, I have long discovered that something is wrong. When Yvonne plays the piano in school, those so-called original works of hers are quite ordinary. But every time when she participates in a competition, she plays so much better.”

“Speaking of this, I feel the same way! I also think that the songs she usually plays are quite ordinary. But the works she used in the last competition and this competition are very amazing.”

“If the works she played in the competition were copied from others, it would be disgusting.”

Yvonne clenched her fists and took a deep breath to hold back her impulse to rush over and quarrel with those students.

Because she had no confidence.

She did copy others' works.

Although this matter has not been finalized yet, she has no confidence to argue with those students at all.

Chapter 1260-Outside the principal's office.

The door was not completely closed. Yvonne stretched out her hand and knocked on it. She heard Talbot's voice coming from inside: “Come in.”

Yvonne pushed the door and went in.

After entering the office, she saw that her class teacher was also there.

Both Talbot and her class teacher looked gloomy.

Seeing this, Yvonne's heart trembled. She bit her lips and pretended to be calm. Then she spoke up: “President Dylan, Miss Green.”

She looked at Talbot. And the light in her eyes flashed. "President Dylan, what can I do for you?"

Talbot didn't beat around the bush with her. He directly asked her: "Yvonne, someone told on you, saying that the work you played in the piano competition was copied from others. Do you know about this?"

Yvonne's heart trembled severely. And her eyes looked more flustered and guilty. She bit her lips tightly. After a long time, she stammered: "President Dylan, I don't know who I have offended. I'm being framed. I really didn't plagiarize."

"If you didn't plagiarize, why is your song so similar to the work of a netizen named 'Annoyed Mary Sue'? Do you mean that netizen copied your work?"

Yvonne's mind was messy. Being questioned by Talbot like this, she couldn't come up with a word to explain.

She felt flustered with her nails pricked into her palm. Seeing Talbot's strict eyes which seemed to see right through her, her eyelashes trembled. She looked down and felt so guilty that she didn't dare to look him in the eye anymore.

Talbot saw her reaction.

But he didn't say anything else. He just picked up his phone and turned on the speaker.

A beautiful melody rang. Hearing this familiar melody, Yvonne's face changed again.

The music played by Talbot is the one played by Annoyed Mary Sue.

"This song is a work published by Annoyed Mary Sue." A moment later, Talbot picked up his phone and pressed the pause button. "Compared with your entry, at least two-thirds of your two's works are exactly the same."

“So either she copied you, or you copied her.”

“If you don’t have a reasonable explanation, according to the release time of you two’s works, I would say you copied her work. Once it’s settled you did plagiarize, you should know how serious the consequences are.”

After saying so, Talbot narrowed his eyes. And his eyes became sharper and sharper. “If you have any strong evidence that can prove your created this work before her, the school will help you clarify immediately.”

“Yes, Yvonne, if you have any evidence, take it out immediately.” The class teacher naturally doesn’t believe that her students copied some other person’s work. Besides, Yvonne is such a good student at ordinary times. She actually believes Yvonne on this matter.

“Whether it is a digital document on your computer, or a handwritten music score, it can be used as evidence. As long as it can prove that you created this work earlier than her, it will be okay.”

Yvonne bit her lips. And there were cold sweats slipping down from her forehead drops by drops.

How can she have any evidence?

“Yvonne, say something.” Seeing her remain in silence, her class teacher said in an anxious tone: “If your manuscript is left at home, I will give you a leave. You should go back to get it as soon as possible.”

“Don’t think this is an insignificant little thing. If it is confirmed that you cheated in the competition, not only will your championship be canceled, but the school will also punish you.”

Hearing that the school will also give her a punishment, Yvonne immediately raised her head: “What kind of punishment will the school give me?”

“For students with misconduct, the school will give them a demerit and make them drop out of school.”
