

The Girl CB 1291

Chapter 1291-Niky was her eternal god, who never let her down!

Having said to shut them up, Nikita immediately realized that.

It greatly worked off her anger.

Having completed her revenge, Tammy took screenshots of the reversed news, and sent the pictures into the school chatting group. After sending a link into the group, she mentioned Rosalia.

@ Rosalia, come to see who was the plagiarist! What do you want to say now!

After Tammy sending the screenshots, people in the group who were still chatting suddenly quieted down.

After a while.

“So, Yvonne really plagiarized? But also in order to be innocent, she deliberately slandered Nikita?”

“It is really unexpected that Yvonne is such a person. I thought she was really innocent, but I didn’t expect her to copy other people’s works! I usually thought that she had correct values. How could she do such shameless things as plagiarism?”

“Yvonne’s plagiarism was already an undeniable fact. It is Rosalia who still rumored that Yvonne was the plagiarist in the morning. Now that the truth is clear, should Rosalia come out and publicly apologize to Nikita?”

What Nikita posted were the relevant screenshots and analysis data of Yvonne’s background IP. Yvonne had messaged Nikita in order to buy the copyright. Now the alternative account had been exposed to have same address as her official account.

That was to say, the alternative account which had messaged Nikita was also used by Yvonne.

If Yvonne was the original author, she didn't have to buy the copyright of music by messaging Nikita.

It was an undeniable fact that Yvonne had plagiarized.

After Tammy mentioned Rosalia, Rosalia hadn't come out to speak, so Tammy mentioned her again.

@ Rosalia, come out to speak. Weren't you so active in the morning, saying that Niky absolutely was the plagiarist? Why don't you say anything now? Come out to refute me, and continue to stand for your Yvonne! Isn't your relationship quite good? Why are you so silent and dare not continue to help your best friend?

At that time in the morning, Tammy was almost angry with Rosalia.

But she couldn't do anything to her.

At the moment, she could finally fight back. Naturally, she wouldn't let go of Rosalia easily.

It didn't matter if Rosalia was still silent. Anyway, Tammy would not stop scolding her until she felt comfortable.

Tammy scolded Rosalia in the school chatting group for another three minutes.

During this period, Rosalia never appeared.

At the same time.

After Nikita posted those evident.

On Facebook, there were a lot of scoldings.

This time, netizens scolded even harder than before in Yvonne's comments section. In just ten minutes, there were tens of thousands of curse comments.

"OMG! Yvonne, why don't you go to be an actor? You are such a talented actor that you should be given an Oscar. I am afraid that the next Oscar for Best Performance will definitely be you!"

"It is so ridiculous! So, the account called 'Yvonne Love Berries' is Yvonne's alt? She intentionally opened an account to message Annoyed Mary Sue. If Annoyed Mary Sue agreed to sell her the copyright, she could confidently say it was her own work after getting the copyright, and then let Annoyed Mary Sue come forward to help her clarify the plagiarism scandal."

Chapter 1292-But she didn't expect that Annoyed Mary Sue still refused to sell her copyright at a price of 5 million dollars. After her wishful thinking failed, she wanted to ask netizens to attack Annoyed Mary Sue for her asking a price of 100 million dollars. Unexpectedly, netizens didn't believe her at all, and then she tried to slander Nikita who was in the same school with her.

But she didn't expect that the slander was not achieved successfully, but was fought back by Annoyed Mary Sue, which directly exposed the background IP addresses of both her alternative account and official account. This seemed to make her plagiarism an undeniable fact. She must be dumbfounded at the moment. She certainly didn't expect that Annoyed Mary Sue could get her background IP address! "

"Am I the only one who wants to know how Annoyed Mary Sue got Yvonne's background IP? After reading the screenshot of data analysis, I really shocked."

"I just want to know that if it is exposed that people who steal other people's works for profit not only don't repent, but also want to slander the original author, what is her school going to do! If the school still let this kind of corrupt students stay in school, is it unfair to other students who are always honest and behave according to the rules? I firmly insist that the school must give a statement to the netizens! "

“What does Yvonne mean? She didn’t dare to open a comment before, but when plagiarism had been a fact, the comment was opened. Did she realize that here is no chance of reversal after her plagiarism being a fact, so it is meaningless to close the comment, and she just chose to ignore it?”

There was a lot of noise on the Internet.

Tammy made another fuss in the school chatting group.

Yvonne had just walked out of the classroom door and was going to eat in the canteen when she saw Leon walk up to her with his mobile phone and asked calmly, “You said you didn’t plagiarize, and someone had deliberately framed you. Now, what else do you want to say?”

“What... what?” Yvonne was slightly stunned, blinked her eyes, with a trace of doubt in her eyes.

Obviously, she didn’t understand what Leon’s words meant.

Leon directly opened his mobile phone, clicked on the latest screenshot of Annoyed Mary Sue’s response, and enlarged it, raising his hand to her eyes: “Annoyed Mary Sue just responded to you, and the account you privately messaged her is the same IP address as the official account you usually use. Therefore, the person who privately messaged her to buy the copyright is you, and you are the same person as ‘Yvonne Love Berries’.”

“The original work you won in the competition was copied from Annoyed Mary Sue. Yvonne, I never thought you would be such a person. I always thought you were very talented in music, and all your excellent works were created by yourself. I admired you so much, and regarded you as a rare talented girl. But is that the source where your talent comes from? Does it come from stealing other people’s painstaking efforts and secretly taking them as your own? ! “

“I was wrong about you. You stole other people’s works and deliberately slandered Nikita. What you did was really despicable!”

“I really misunderstood you, so we don’t have to be friend anymore! I am not worthy of having such an ‘excellent’ friend!”

With the last sentence, Leon turned and left in great disappointment.

Around, a group of students stood watching the fun.

These students had already seen Annoyed Mary Sue's response.

All kinds of unpleasant voices came into Yvonne's ears from all directions.

Chapter 1293-"It is really impossible to judge a person simply from his appearance. She usually looks like a good student. I really didn't expect her to do such shameless things."

"I just saw someone found that the original song that Yvonne won the championship last time seemed also to be plagiarized from Annoyed Mary Sue."

"So, she copied others twice? OMG! It is such an outrage."

"It must be because that she has drawn benefits from that! She won the championship after plagiarism for the first time, which hasn't been discovered for so many years. This time, she still thought she wouldn't be discovered. While..."

"Then it is now a fact that she is a plagiarist? Will the school really cancel her quota and let her drop out of school?"

The discussion was getting hotter and hotter.

A group of people were talking about that.

Yvonne stood motionless on the stairs of the corridor, with her limbs stiff and her face pale.

She heard a lot of voices around, as if to talk about her or Nikita, but she couldn't hear clearly what were they saying.

Her mind was blank, and everything in her mind seemed to be emptied in an instant.

She couldn't think about any problem.

Those voices around her also couldn't be heard clearly. Only Leon's words circulated in her mind: Is this the source where your talent comes from? Does it come from stealing other people's painstaking efforts and taking them as your own?

You stole other people's works and deliberately slandered Nikita. What you did was really despicable!

At this moment.

The blood in her body seemed to be frozen. Her hands and feet moved stiffly, and she couldn't make any effort. Her legs were so soft that she fell directly to the ground, sitting powerlessly.

How could this happen?

She couldn't figure it out.

How did Annoyed Mary Sue find her background IP address?

"Rosalia, you must apologize to Nikita!"

"Yes, apologize!"

"Now there is evidence that the plagiarist is Yvonne, not Nikita. You must apologize for your remarks this morning!"

At this time.

Rosalia was blocked at the door of the classroom by a group of students from Class F.

At the front of the crowd were two boys, one is Samuel and the other is Tobin.

Samuel squinted, with a fierce look. Although he said lightly, it still sounded scary: "Rosalia, you are really daring! You dare to even frame Niky. Do you think that because Niky is absent, no one can punish you?"

Tobin also smiled and said in a low but alarming tone: "I haven't hit a woman yet, but I can also make an exception."

Having said that, he pinched his fingers and knuckles.

Hearing their words, Rosalia was scared to pale, with her lips trembling: "I, I, I didn't mean it."

"Not mean it?" Samuel sneered, "Then you are intentional?"

"No, no." Rosalia couldn't help but keep shaking.

"Don't you apologize?!" Tobin pinched his fingers again.

"Yes, I apologize!" How can Rosalia still dare to say anything! She desperately nodded and said, "I am willing to apologize. However, Nikita is not at school..."

"Then apologize publicly in the school chatting group, as well as on the forum, Facebook, Whatsapp, and all the social platform you use!"

Chapter 1294-"Also on the Whatsapp?"

She could apologize on all the platform.

Except for Whatsapp...

If so, all her relatives and friends would have seen it.

Then she would totally lose her face.

“Yes. You should allow everyone to see it.” Samuel told her to take out her mobile phone and kept staring at her. “Do it now. I want to watch you finish it. Otherwise, you won’t be allowed to leave today.”

Rosalia’s face changed to a terrible look.

“What are you still doing?” Samuel’s tone got terrible, and he became impatient. “Do it quickly! Also, don’t think you can cheat. After apologizing, you should give your mobile phone to me to check it again!”

“If we find out that you are cheating...” Tobin twisted his neck and shoulders like moving his bones and muscles, and pinched the knuckles of his other hand with a crackling sound.

Rosalia began to shake again.

Yvonne walked into the principal’s office.

There was not only Talbot, Maddox, and the head teacher of Class A was also there.

Una and Miss Morris were also in the office.

Two principals and several teachers were there. When Yvonne came in, they looked at her in a serious look.

When Yvonne saw this, her face became more pale.

After she stopped, she said hoarsely, "President Dylan, President Wilde."

Then she looked at Una and her class teacher sitting beside: "Teacher Sue, Teacher Green."

However, she didn't greet to Miss Morris.

Miss Morris didn't care that, continuing to bury herself in drinking her tea.

"Yvonne, you should know what you were called here for." Talbot said directly, "I have discussed with President Wilde and several teachers about your plagiarism of other people's works. The Ministry of Education also asked us about that. Now, we unanimously decided to cancel your quota of being recommended to Peking University. In addition, you will also be dropped out of school."

Before Yvonne came, she had already guessed the reason why she was called to come here.

However, when listening to the punishment of being dropped out of school and canceling the quota announced by President Dylan, she still failed to bear the blow, and her body shook like standing unsteadily, and then she suddenly collapsed on the ground.

Una sighed and went to help her up.

Yvonne immediately grabbed her hand, with tears suddenly flowing out. She cried and begged: "Teacher Sue, I am willing to accept the punishment of being canceled the quota, but I don't want to be dropped out of school!"

Although the cancellation of the quota of being recommended to Peking University had dealt a great blow to her, as long as she was not dropped out of school, she still had the opportunity to change the situation by the coming college entrance examination.

Even if she couldn't be accepted by Peking University, it was not difficult for her to go to other famous schools due to her excellent grades.

No matter which school she could be accepted by, it was better than being dropped out!

Once she was dropped out of school, she would be done.

She would be completely done.

Her whole life, her future, would all be done.

She would totally be a loser with nothing owned.

No, she couldn't be dropped out of school, definitely not!

Una wanted to help her up, but Yvonne sat down on the ground, refusing to get up. She cried and begged continually: "I don't want to be dropped out of school. I really don't want to be dropped out of school."

Chapter 1295-Una helped her several times, but she didn't success, so she had to let go of her hand.

Looking at Yvonne, who was kneeling at her feet, with her eyes crying to be red and trembling all over, Una shook her head and sighed angrily: "It's useless for you to beg me. I can't decide this matter."

Before this incident, Una actually had great affection on Yvonne.

This girl was usually obedient and skillful, whose academic performance was also excellent. She was a girl that would be very popular with elders. If it weren't for plagiarism, her future development would definitely be promising.

It was really a pity.

A momentary wrong thought ruined all her life.

Seeing that it was useless to beg Una, Yvonne immediately cried and climbed to Talbot's feet. She grabbed Talbot's bottom of trousers and cried, "President Dylon, I know that I did the wrong thing. Please, give me another chance, and I will never make such a mistake again in the future!"

Talbot looked down at her, and his eyes were sympathetic but indisputable. He also shook his head: "The fact is that you may never have the chance to correct your mistake, even though you have made an apology.

This time, there was so much public attention that really a large amount of people all over the country are focusing on it. It is impossible for the school not to punish you. Besides, this is not the first time that you have made such a mistake.

In the last piano competition, you also plagiarized, and this time you plagiarized again. If it is not discovered this time, will there be the third, fourth and countless plagiarism in the future?

If you still stay in school, isn't it telling others that our school condones such vicious behavior as plagiarism? Is this fair to the netizen who has been plagiarized by you?

You don't have to beg anyone else. It's useless to beg me or President Wield. The decision to punish you was not decided unilaterally by the school, the Ministry of Education also intervened. After a while, there will be relevant personnel guiding you to finish the procedures for dropping out of school. From tomorrow, you don't have to come to school again.

Although you are dropped out of school, you can also take the college entrance examination. If you really realize your mistakes this time and are willing to correct them, you will still have your chance in the future."

Yvonne froze, and looked upon at Talbot with red and swollen eyes.

"Yvonne, you..." The class teacher was heartbroken and disappointed. "You just... conduct yourself well in the future."

Maddox looked expressionless and turned his head to the class teacher and said, "Go to handle her to be dropped out of school."

Others might feel that Yvonne was a little pitiful more or less.

Originally, a student with good academic performance ruined herself because of a momentary wrong thought.

As a result, all these years of her hard work had been in vain.

But Maddox didn't feel pitiful for Yvonne at all, nor any sympathy for her. After all, she was the one who dared to steal his sister Niky's things and even wanted to slander his Niky. How could she be so daring?

She deserved such a punishment!

It was not worthy of sympathy at all!

This kind of corrupt student should not be kept in the school that he had worked hard for so many years.

Hearing that Maddox had sent someone to handle her to be dropped out of school, Yvonne was lying on the ground with a bloodless face in an instant.

At the same time, an announcement was posted on both the bulletin board of the school and its official account on Whatsapp.

There were two things stated in the announcement.

It was the final processing result of Yvonne's plagiarism.

Chapter 1296-First, after the unanimous decision of the school and the Ministry of Education, the quota of being recommended to Peking University of Yvonne, Class A, Grade 3, First Senior High School, was canceled.

Second, after the unanimous decision of the school and the Ministry of Education, Yvonne of Class A of Senior Three was given the punishment of being dropped out of school immediately.

After the school issued a penalty announcement for Yvonne's plagiarism, the official blog of the Ministry of Education also issued the same statement on Facebook.

A few more minutes passed.

The official account of the Piano Association also posted a clarification, claiming that they resolutely resist plagiarism, and they will permanently deprive Yvonne of her qualification to enter the Piano Association, and will permanently boycott her from participating in any official domestic piano-related competition.

Being cancelled the quota, being dropped out of school, and being permanently boycotted by the Piano Association...

Such punishments were very serious.

Netizens unanimously expressed that they were extremely comfortable with the punishment result.

"She deserves it! This is what the result of the plagiarists should be!"

"My friend is in First Senior High School, and I heard from her that the school handled it very quickly, and Yvonne had already gone through the formalities of being dropped out of school. At this time, she is probably not at school."

"I really want to praise her school, which handled very quickly, and did not give her a light treatment nor shelter her unjustly. We onlookers are very satisfied and relieved with the punishment results!"

"Yvonne is done. She was originally a winner of life that everyone envied, but now..."

“We don’t need to sympathize with her. She deserves it. She gained so many benefits and honors by stealing other people’s efforts. At that time, did she think about how much harm she did to the original author?”

At the First Senior High School at this time.

After seeing the report from the school, every class was very unsettled. After class, all of them were discussing Yvonne’s dropping out of school.

“Yvonne was really dropped out of school?”

“The school and the Ministry of Education have issued a formal notification. Can there be fake? The students in Class A said that her withdrawal procedures have been completed. She is packing up at the moment and will leave school soon.”

“Her walk quota has been canceled, and now she has dropped out of school. Can she still participate in the next college entrance examination?”

“She should still be able to participate, but as a social person. Her grades are quite good, and it is definitely no problem for her to enter a good university, but perhaps she couldn’t be accepted by Peking University. Moreover, she is now mortified. Even if she is admitted to university, she will definitely not be so easy to get along with other students in school in the future.”

“In fact, I think, is the school punishment too heavy? It’s okay to cancel the walk quota. At this time, she dropped out of school. What if she took this matter to heart and committed suicide? At that time, will the school have to shoulder the responsibility?”

Some students discussed felt that Yvonne deserved it, some felt that the school punishment was too heavy, and some felt that it was not enough to relieve their hatred, and she should be punished more severely.

There are all kinds of opinions.

Those who feel that the punishment is too heavy are all boys who have secretly loved Yvonne in the past, and they are all pitying her at the moment.

However, after helping Yvonne to say a few words, a group of boys who are sympathetic to weak girls were besieged by the girls in the class, and few people dared to say anything again.

Class A.

Yvonne, holding a pile of books and stationery, walked towards the outside of the classroom with a pale face under the gaze of a group of people.

She walks very slowly.

It seems that every step takes her a lot of effort.

Her deskmate, who has a good relationship with her at ordinary times, has never said a word to her after seeing the notification from the school and the Ministry of Education.

Chapter 1297-And her two girlfriends, who were good to her before, were silent, as if they were invisible.

Tammy took a photo of Yvonne leaving school with something in her arms and sent it to Nikita.

Tammy: Niky, Yvonne has been dropped out of school. Ha, ha, ha, I am so happy that I finally don't have to see her annoying face again.

Nikita received the photo at the airport.

She is sitting in the VIP lounge, and the person sitting opposite is Xavier.

Nikita magnified the photo and watched it, but there was no special emotion on her face. She looked quite calm and replied a word: Hmm.

Tammy is very excited: Niky, if only you were at school, we could go out to have a big meal and celebrate!

Nikita looked at her reply and showed a smile: Do you hate her so much?

Tammy: It's not that serious. I just don't like her! In the future, I don't have to see her anymore. It's so happy!

Tammy: By the way, Niky, I suddenly remembered something.

Nikita: Hmm?

Tammy: Niky, did you find out the IP address of Yvonne?

Xavier just got up and bought a bottle of yogurt. The man in black, who was cold, tall and handsome, was holding a bottle of pink yogurt bottle that didn't conform to his appearance and temperament. He went to Nikita and handed her yogurt.

Nikita took it. The bottle cap was already unscrewed. She opened it easily.

She took a sip of yogurt and typed slowly: Ah, it's me.

The understated reply made Tammy on the other side blindsided directly.

After being dumbfounded for a minute, Tammy came to her senses: Is that... is that Annoyed Mary Sue you?

Nikita replied the same one: Ah, it's me.

Tammy:...

Did Rosalia really guess right?

Annoyed Mary Sue and her Niky are the same person?!

Therefore, Yvonne's award-winning works for two consecutive years are all copied from Niky?!

So, Yvonne's success and defeat both because of her Niky?!

Thinking that Yvonne won Aroma's appreciation because she plagiarized Nikita's works, Tammy quickly sent a message on Whatsapp to Nikita.

Tammy: Niky, Yvonne got Aroma's attention because she stole your work. Since you are the original author, you can fight for it. If you become a disciple of Aroma, you will be so glorious!

When Nikita received her message, she didn't know how to reply.

She was appreciated by herself?

"It's almost the time, it's time to go to security check." Xavier carried Nikita's black backpack with one hand, took two people's air tickets with the other hand, got up and said to Nikita.

Nikita nodded and followed him: "Hmm."

On the flight to F country.

In first class.

Nikita and Xavier are next to each other. After sitting down, Nikita picked up her mobile phone and sent a message to Sheehan.

After sending it, she felt someone watching her.

Nikita raised her head and saw Xavier's complicated eyes.

"What's the matter? Why are you looking at me like this?"

Xavier showed a faint smile: "Are you sending a message to Sheehan?"

Chapter 1298-Xavier smiled again: "Tell him about making movies?"

"I don't tell him about it." Nikita looked down at the mobile phone, Sheehan hasn't replied to her.

"Then what did you say?" Xavier seems to be very interested.

Nikita felt his question a little inexplicable, but she still answered: "I just say I need to go to F country for a few days to deal with something."

"I guess..." Xavier squinted, put his hands behind his head, and looked lazy. "You certainly didn't tell him that you are with me now."

Nikita also narrowed her eyes: "So?"

Xavier smiled: "It doesn't matter. However, if he knew that we were together, he might be jealous."

"Jealous?" Nikita raised her eyebrows. After seriously thinking about this problem, she didn't take it seriously and said, "No, there is nothing between us. Why will he be jealous?"

She and Xavier are just friends.

Sheehan is not so narrow-minded.

When Xavier listened to her words, the expression on his face was complicated.

He stretched out his hand and rubbed his eyebrows. He tried to endure it, but he still asked: "Niky, you really don't know it, or..."

Nikita looked at him, emotionless: "Don't know what? Xavier, what do you want to say?"

Xavier: "..."

He could see that she really didn't understand.

That's why she thinks that he is just her friend.

He knew that she was very insensitive in emotion, and because of her age, he had been restraining his affection all these years, thinking about telling her everything when she grew up and when it was right.

He always thought that he didn't have to be so anxious, he still had a lot of time in the future.

Unexpectedly, Sheehan appeared.

In the past, Nikita had many pursues, but Xavier never took those so-called pursues seriously.

But this time it's different.

Xavier panicked when he learned that Nikita became Sheehan's girlfriend.

He knows Nikita too well.

Sheehan's face alone has a great advantage.

"Nothing." Xavier looked at the girl's delicate and beautiful facial features, and his thin lips moved slightly. He had a lot to say, but he didn't say anything in the end.

What else can he say now?

If he maintained the current situation, they could continue to be friends.

If he told her everything. With her character, although they can still be friends, she will definitely alienate him in the future.

Compared with the two results, he would rather have been able to find an excuse to meet her in the name of a friend when he wanted to see her.

Sheehan is negotiating a project outside.

Since it was involved in some trade secrets, during the conversation between several bosses, the mobile phones were handed over to the assistants for safekeeping.

Vernon and several other assistants are waiting outside the conference room.

The meeting lasted almost an hour.

After that, led by Sheehan, several business leaders came out of the office one after another.

Seeing Sheehan come out, Vernon immediately went forward: "Mr. Lambert, Miss Swift sent you a message on Whatsapp."

Sheehan held out his hand, and Vernon handed over his mobile phone.

After reading the message sent by Nikita, Sheehan called her.

Chapter 1299-However, the prompt sound shows that the other party has turned off.

Sheehan hung up the phone.

Nikita sent him a message, saying that she was going to stay in F country for a period of time to deal with something. She didn't know how long it would take, so she would tell him when she arrives here.

The message was sent half an hour ago.

Her phone turned off at the moment. It must be that the flight has already taken off.

Nikita never mentioned to him that she would go to the F Country.

Although she knows that she has strong personal ability and can protect herself and take good care of herself, Sheehan is still worried.

Country F is notoriously chaotic.

There are often various violent crimes.

Even if Nikita has a certain ability to protect herself, she is always alone and in a place where she is unfamiliar, so it is difficult to guarantee that there will be no accidents.

The more Sheehan thought about it, the more he felt uneasy. After entering the elevator, Vernon pressed the floor. Sheehan turned to him and asked: "What step have you followed up on the energy development plan that the Lambert Group negotiate with the JM consortium in F Country before?"

Sheehan asked very little about those unimportant cooperative businesses, which were handed over to his subordinates to deal with.

At the last step, he made a decision.

For example, this business with JM consortium in F country before.

As his special assistant, Vernon holds a lot of real power and can talk about cooperation with others on behalf of him.

When he heard Sheehan suddenly ask about this matter, he was a little surprised, but he still respectfully replied: "The cooperation between our company and JM consortium has been very smooth, and now it has reached the last step, only waiting for JM consortium to send someone to sign a formal contract at the end of the month, and then it will be completely implemented."

"Hum." Sheehan replied, lowered his eyes, fixing the platinum buttons on one sleeve cuff.

He said casually: "Book a flight to F country. Ask JM consortium to not send people here. We'll go to sign this contract in person."

Vernon stunned, then opened his eyes in surprise.

"Mr. Lambert, you mean, you want to go to F country to sign this contract in person?!"

"Hmm."

Vernon stunned again, and thought he was misheard.

This cooperation with JM consortium is not so important to the Lambert Group.

Does Mr. Lambert need to fly to sign a contract with them in person?!

You know, Sheehan doesn't care about this business, otherwise he won't ask an assistant to handle it with full authority.

In other words, this cooperation is very important to JM consortium, but it is dispensable to the Lambert Group!

Under such circumstances.

Mr. Lambert wants to go to F country to sign a contract in person?

Why?

Vernon thought for a while, but failed to figure it out.

Until he was booking a plane ticket, he suddenly saw the latest entertainment news popped up by a news APP on his mobile phone.

"According to the netizen's Revelations: Xavier, a big entertainment circle, was suspected of flying to F country with his new lover."

Vernon knows Xavier.

Even though he doesn't usually pay much attention to the entertainment industry.

Xavier is a big shot in this industry, so he knows him even if he doesn't pay much attention to the entertainment industry.

What's more...

The relationship between Xavier and Miss Swift seems to be very good.

He even posted a blog on Facebook before, publicly supporting Miss Swift.

Chapter 1300-Xavier didn't publicly help any opposite sex on Facebook, even if something happened to his own artists, he didn't help them to say anything.

When he saw the two keywords "Xavier" and "F country", he suddenly understood why his boss suddenly went to F country to sign a contract.

He's afraid that Xavier's so-called "new lover" is Miss Swift!

The flight time is close to ten hours.

After getting on the plane, Nikita has been sleeping. When she woke up, the plane was landing.

She covered her lips, yawned, rubbed her eyes, and turned to look out of the window.

"We have arrived in F country." Xavier was reading a fashion magazine. When Nikita woke up, he put the magazine next to him.

Nikita was still sleepy, and yawned several times, as if she hasn't slept enough.

Her voice is hoarse: "Do you know anything about this place? Is there a place to eat? I'm hungry."

Xavier couldn't help laughing: "I knew that you must be most concerned about eating and living. Don't worry, my princess, they have arranged for you long ago and will definitely satisfy you."

Out of the airport.

Xavier dragged his suitcase with one hand and Nikita's black backpack with the other.

Nikita was very comfortable. Except for her mobile phone, everything else is carried by Xavier.

There is already a driver waiting outside.

Seeing Xavier come out side by side with a girl who is buried in playing with her mobile phone, the driver immediately stepped forward. After seeing Xavier, he respectfully called: "Mr. Blake."

Xavier nodded slightly and handed his suitcase to the driver, but he still took Nikita's black backpack.

The driver picked it up, looked at the girl who was still burying her head in playing with her mobile phone, hesitated, and asked, "Mr. Blake, this lady is..."

"This is Miss Swift." Xavier didn't introduce her specially, in a very casual tone.

But the driver did not dare to cold-shoulder Nikita.

He looked at the black backpack that Xavier was still carrying in his hand. It was an ordinary bag, and the material looked a little old. Although he couldn't see anything from the style, he knew it must be a girl's bag from the capacity.

Then he saw the girl next to him didn't take anything.

It is very clear whose this bag is.

Xavier can't be so gentlemanly to anyone. Anyway, it's the first time he has seen that he helps a lady carry a bag.

“Hello, Miss Swift.” The driver guessed that Nikita’s identity was definitely not simple, so he greeted her very politely.

Nikita put away her mobile phone, raised her head and nodded politely towards the driver: “Hello.”

Nikita lowered her head just now, so the driver only saw her fair skin and soft black hair.

When Nikita looked up, the driver finally saw her appearance. Even if he saw many kinds of beauties, he was still amazed.

The girl wears very ordinary clothes, the most ordinary dark gray hooded sweatshirts and sweatpants, and her hair is tied casually, and there is no expensive jewelry all over the body.

But her temperament is very outstanding, and her appearance is beautiful enough to eclipse any female artist who is famous for her beauty in the entertainment industry.

The driver couldn’t help but look at her several times.

Until a joking voice sounded in his ear: “Uncle Lee, do you know her? Why do you keep staring at her?”
