

The Girl CB 1321

Chapter 1321-Sheehan noticed that Nikita had been in the bathroom for a long time.

He felt it a little abnormal. So he went to Nikita's bedroom, stretched out his hand and knocked on the door.

He didn't get any response from inside.

Sheehan knocked on the door again. "Niky?"

There was still no sound inside.

He stopped hesitating. After opening the door, he hurried in.

The bathroom door was not completely closed.

There was white water vapor diffused from the crack of the door. And the air was filled with a sweet fragrance of flowers.

Sheehan hesitated when he was close to the bathroom door. He spoke up to the bathroom: "Niky, are you all right?"

There was no sound in the bathroom.

Sheehan realized that something was wrong. So he didn't care whether it's inappropriate or not and strode to the bathroom door. After pulling the door open, he went in.

The bathroom is quite big.

With the water mist everywhere, he stepped in. And everything looked white.

Sheehan took a few steps in. And then he couldn't help but pause.

In the white bathtub, there was a layer of red rose petals floating on the water. The girl put both of her hands on the bathtub with her head on her arms. Her eyes were closed, as if she were asleep.

On the delicate white face, the long and thick eyelashes cover the eyes, and the black eyelashes with distinct roots are stained with water vapor, which condenses into small water drops after a long time. At first glance, it looks like shining broken diamonds are inlaid on the eyelashes.

The girl's skin is so fair that it seems to glowing. With the red rose petals in the bathtub, her skin looked more tender and delicate. And it has no flaws.

Her wet hair was scattered on her shoulders, dripping water.

There were also water drops falling down from her forehead, sliding down along the outline of her face...

At the moment when Sheehan's eyes fell on the girl in the bathtub, the eyelids of the girl who seemed to be sleeping suddenly moved. Then the girl slowly opened her eyes.

Their eyes met in the air.

Sheehan's tall and straight figure seems to freeze for a second.

"Sheehan, why are you..."

Nikita just woke up. And she has completely come to her senses yet. Seeing Sheehan standing by the bathtub, she seemed to be stunned for a while. Then she looked around. After realizing that she was still in the bathroom, she subconsciously shrank into the water.

She always has great courage at ordinary times. And it seems that no one can scare her.

And she can still remain calm even when the whole world is about to collapse.

But no matter how mature and calm she is, she is still a young girl who has no experience in love.

Under such circumstances, she feels uncomfortable sharing a room with the opposite sex, even though the opposite sex is her boyfriend.

The man looked at her deeply. And there seemed to be something flowing very fast in his eyes.

He took a deep breath, turned to look away and spoke up in a hoarse voice. "I knocked at the door just now. But I didn't hear a sound in here. Since you are okay, I will go out."

"Don't take a bath for too long. It is not good for your health."

When the man finished speaking, he turned around and quickly walked out of the bathroom.

His pace was in a hurry, as if he was running away from something.

The moment when Sheehan walked out of the bathroom.

He only had one thought in his mind.

His little girl seem to have grown up.

The red Ferrari sports car drove into the manor.

The housekeeper of the manor has been waiting outside the castle since earlier.

As Glenn and Pollard just got off the car, they saw the old housekeeper coming towards them with a straight face.

“Young Master, Master Pollard.” Seeing the two people who didn’t come back until late at night, Wade, the housekeeper, didn’t look nice. “Master Pollard, Duke arranged you to keep Young Master company to supervise and protect him and protect him, not to cover him up all day and take him outside to fool around with him!”

Chapter 1322-Pollard spread his hand and looked innocent: “Uncle Wade, you misunderstood me. Young Master is not a little child. He wants to go outside and have a look. I can’t stop him.”

“Besides, we didn’t go out to fool around. How dare I take the young master out to fool around!”

“Save your quibble!” Wade stared at him with a straight face. “Before you came, the young master was fine. After you came, the young master went out every day. Do you dare to say that it has nothing to do with you?”

“Enough, Uncle Wade. I was the one who wanted to go out. Pollard was only ordered to accompany me. He can’t control my thoughts.”

Glenn interrupted Wade’s words. “Since I have come back, don’t lecture him.”

Wade has been the housekeeper of this manor for a long time.

He has been working in this manor for more than 30 years. And he has a lot of qualifications here.

At ordinary times, when the Duke is away, he has the final say in most of the things in the manor. So people who work in the manor hold a lot of respect and fear for him.

Only Glenn and Pollard are not afraid of him.

Glenn is the youngest son of the Duke and the young master of this manor. If there is no accident, he will become the heir of the Duke in the future.

Therefore, Wade is also very respectful to this young master.

As for Pollard...

Pollard also comes from an aristocrat family. Although his father's position is not as high as the Duke, his status is also prominent. Besides, he doesn't work for the manor, so Wade doesn't have rights to set up rules for him either.

"Young Master, don't come back so late in the future." Wade followed them to the castle and earnestly advised him. "In a few days, the Duke will come back. If you run out all day and come back late at night like this, I'm afraid the Duke will be angry."

Glenn turned his head and slightly raised his eyebrows: "Isn't my father coming back next month? Why is he going back early?"

"I'm not clear about the specific reason. However, I heard that there was a big shot coming from A Country. And the royal family specially prepared a dinner party for that man. The reason why the Duke came back in advance should be for this matter."

"A big shot from A Country?" Glenn narrowed his beautiful and charming eyes. And a tall and thin figure naturally emerged in his mind.

Nikita also came from A country.

"Yes. I heard that he has great power in A Country. And his family is as rich as a country."

Glenn nodded with little interest. "It turned out to be like this."

"That's why I've been telling you..." Housekeeper Wade earnestly advised him again. "Young Master, you'd better behave these days. Don't run out at will, in case that the Duke can't see you after he comes back..."

“All right. I see.” Glenn waved his hand at him, as if he was being bugged by him. “I promise you I won’t go out again. Okay?”

Housekeeper Wade immediately looked at him with relief.

Although Young Master has a strange temper, he is still able to take his advice seriously.

The next day.

After Nikita woke up, she went downstairs and saw Sheehan coming out of the kitchen with a sandwich.

Seeing that she got up, Sheehan put the plate on the table and asked her to come over for breakfast.

“What a rich breakfast! What time did you get up?”

Seeing the delicate breakfast which was placed all over the table, Nikita took a look at the man on her side, who seemed not to sleep well and looked a little tired.

Sheehan handed her a glass of warm milk: “I got up an hour earlier than you.”

“Actually, you don’t have to get up so early.” Nikita took a sip of milk. “I can deal with my breakfast myself. You don’t have to get up so early to cook for me.”

Chapter 1323-“I have already been used to that. Originally, I also want to get up early. Fortunately, there are all kinds of ingredients in the refrigerator, and it is more nutritious to make it by myself.” The man handed her a bowl of gruel.

Nikita took another sip of milk, turned her head, supported her chin with one hand, and swept her eyes from the man’s deep eyes, his high nose bridge, to his beautiful and sexy lips and glamorous jaw line.

He was exactly the man who could make her fall in love with at first glance.

Even though she had been in relationship with this man for so long, and had been looking at this face almost every day, but she was still not tired of that. Every time she saw him, she still thought he was so handsome.

This face, this figure, and his whole person were of ultimate beauty.

He was so good-looking, who was also good at making money, cooking, and was so obedient to her.

Obviously, she really had a good taste.

Sheehan noticed her eyes, turned his head, seeing that she was staring at him intently. He couldn't help but smile: "What are you looking at?"

Nikita also smiled: "Look at you."

"Hmm?" The man raised his eyebrows. "Look at me? What happened to me?"

Nikita: "Nothing. I just feel you are so good-looking that I want to have more looks at you."

Sheehan felt that he was being teased.

After meal.

Sheehan took the bowl to the kitchen, cleaned it up, and went upstairs to change his clothes.

Nikita sat in the living room waiting for him.

The man changed into a dark gray highly customized shirt, and a pair of suit pants which were also dark gray, all of which were in dark gray, just similar to the color of the dark gray sportswear on Nikita.

When they stood together, it seemed as if they were wearing lovers' clothes.

Nikita was going out.

Sheehan offered to send her.

"Where are you going? I'll send you."

The villa was in the suburban area, and Nikita didn't drive herself. It could only be Sheehan who would send her to the crew.

She told Sheehan the address of the crew.

"Are you going to act in the play?" Sheehan was quite surprised to know that she came to F country to do a guest appearance in a TV series.

He knew that Nikita was able to do many things.

But she didn't expect her to act.

"Hmm." Nikita nodded. "Just help to do a guest appearance, and there are not many scenes, so the shooting time should not exceed half a month."

Of course.

She was not completely act because of friendship.

The guest appearance's reward given by Xavier was quite attractive.

She would be paid 20 million dollars just for this appearance.

She could both pass the boring time and also get such a high pay, so she naturally wouldn't refuse.

"Have you ever been in a play before?" Sheehan seldom watched movies or TV dramas at ordinary times. Before he had relationship with Nikita, he spent most of his free time exercising and reading books.

However, if it was a TV series played by his girlfriend, he would be very interested.

If Nikita had acted in any TV series before, he decided to find it out and have a look.

"No." Nikita shook her head and told the truth, "This guest appearance is my first time to act."

Nikita also had no confidence that whether she could do it well or not.

Anyway, Xavier told her that acting was quite simple. Let her try it first. If it didn't work, it also would not be a big deal, and he would just find another actor to shoot again.

Nikita thought even Xavier was not afraid of losing money, so how could she be afraid? Plus, the reward was very attractive. She just had nothing to do, so she agreed.

"It is also good to try new fields, which can also be a new challenge." Sheehan was very supportive of her. "Then you just enjoy yourself in acting and wait for me to visit the crew when I'm free."

Chapter 1324--"Are you going to come to meet me when I am filming?"

Sheehan looked at the girl in front of him, with his eyes a little deep, and asked in a warm voice: "Can I?"

It seemed that he was asking about visiting crew.

In fact, he was caring about another thing.

Although he and Nikita had already been in relationship, their love affair had not been officially made public.

He was testing her attitude by visiting her crew.

If she was willing to let him visit, it would mean that she was willing to publicize their relationship.

Nikita did not think as much as Sheehan in her heart. She just nodded at will: "Of course."

Then she saw the man's dark eyes suddenly light up, with a smile also appeared in his lips.

Nikita: "..."

Did her willing to let him visit her crew deserve such pleasure of him?

It took almost an hour from the suburbs to the filming place of the crew.

The driver of the pick-up and drop-off was the driver who had sent them to the villa yesterday.

"Mr. Lambert, Miss Swift." The driver saw them and greeted respectfully.

The driver was arranged by JM Consortium for Sheehan and was responsible for all his trips in F country.

After they got in the car,

Sheehan told the driver the address of the crew.

That place was a famous film shooting base.

Knowing that Nikita was going there, the driver couldn't help but ask curiously: "Is Miss Swift an actor?"

No wonder she was so beautiful.

Actresses in the entertainment area were all very good-looking.

According to the degree of beauty, the driver thought Nikita should be a very popular actress.

The popular actress and the president of a consortium were indeed an ideal couple.

"She is not in the entertainment area. She just came here to help her friend to do a guest appearance." Sheehan answered for Nikita.

"So it is." The driver nodded and glanced at the girl's delicate and perfect face in the rearview mirror. He couldn't help but praise, "Miss Swift's condition is so good that she must be popular in the entertainment industry. I think even Karina is not half as beautiful as Miss Swift. If Miss Swift comes to be an actor here, even Karina has to give in to you."

Hearing that, Nikita curiously asked: "Who is Karina?"

The driver smiled: "Karina is the most beautiful and popular actress in the entertainment area in F country. They all say that Karina is like the fairy. In the whole F country, there is no more beautiful woman than Karina.

While I think the people who said these words must have never seen Miss Swift. If they meet Miss Swift, they will know what the fairy exactly looks like."

Although because of Sheehan, these words were somewhat deliberately complimented.

But it was also from his true heart.

Karina was beautiful enough.

But in front of this Miss Swift, she was too inferior.

Whether appearance or temperament, she was all far behind.

Thinking of their boss's plan to bring Mr. Lambert and his eldest daughter together, the driver felt that it would definitely fail.

Mr. Lambert already had such a beautiful fairy-like Miss Swift around him, how could he take a fancy to his boss's daughter?

Apparently, she was also a beauty.

But compared with Miss Swift, the so-called beauty was not enough. Miss Swift's beauty could directly kill her.

Listening to the driver's compliment, Nikita could not help but smile: "Thank you."

There was no woman who didn't like being praised for her beauty. Even Nikita was the same.

Chapter 1326—"If there is anything I can do for you, just say it. As long as I can help, I will definitely help you."

Not far away, in a nanny van.

"Henrietta, is the newcomer the one brought by Mr. Blake? It's true that she looks beautiful, but it is still far from you."

Hui Lin sat in the nanny van for breakfast, with her assistant sitting next to her.

The assistant looked at the girl who left side by side with Seymour not far away, feeling kind of stunned by the girl's beauty, but she was still saying something different from what she thought.

Last night, someone was saying that Xavier brought a newcomer who had an unusual relationship with him. It seemed that he was ready to help the newcomer be popular.

Although she didn't know whether it was true or not, such rumors had made many people panic.

Henrietta was one of the celebrities of Xavier's company at present. Accordingly, all kinds of resources in her hands were the best, but the best resources in the circle were fixed, so and the resources assigned to everyone were limited.

If Xavier really had new people to help, it meant that the resources of some celebrities like Henrietta had to be given to them.

But who would be willing to bear such results!

What's more,

It was heard that the relationship between the newcomer and Xavier was also very unusual. Xavier was very protective of her. Last night, he even made Henrietta lose face because of protecting her.

When Henrietta returned to the hotel last night, she totally lost her temper. Everything was all thrown on the floor by her.

With Henrietta for so many years, the assistant had watched all kinds of tidbits of Xavier, but she hadn't ever seen Henrietta really care about that, but this time, Henrietta was so angry.

This could only explain one thing.

That was, the relationship between the newcomer named Nikita and Xavier was indeed unusual.

No matter how exciting the tidbits were, they were all false, so Henrietta never cared.

This time, it was true.

Knowing that Henrietta cared about the newcomer, the assistant naturally wouldn't say anything that would make her unhappy.

Henrietta said in a cold voice with her serious face: "But even the director thought she is very beautiful, and young, and also said that the role of Fair Luna was like tailor-made for her."

Fair Luna was a stunning beauty, being regarded as the first beauty in the play.

Saying that this role was tailor-made for Nikita, definitely meant that she was also a stunning beauty. "The director is also for Mr. Blake's sake. How can he dare to not praise the person recommended by Mr. Blake? She is just an innocent young girl, who has no femininity at all. How can she compare with you?" The assistant unscrewed the thermos cup, poured the cubilose inside into a small bowl, took a spoon and handed it to Henrietta. She flattered with a smile: "You don't have to care about this small role." "You are the heroine, and no one can steal your limelight." "She is a newcomer to play a guest role, and there are not many scenes of her. The audience will not take her seriously." Henrietta took the bowl, took a sip, and looked out of the window. She looked at Nikita, who had gone far, and sneered: "Yes, she is just an innocent young girl, and she does not have the ability to play any tricks!" Nikita had better to be quiet, and did not have any thoughts that she shouldn't have. Otherwise, she would be taught a lesson! It was Nikita's first time to come to the crew. However, the whole crew seemed to already know her. When Seymour introduced her to the makeup artist, the makeup artist had a clear expression which seemed to say that "You are Nikita".

Chapter 1327-The attitude towards her was also polite.

"Miss Swift, do you have any special requirements for cosmetics? I mean, whether you can use any brand of cosmetics, and whether you will have allergies or not."

Some actresses were just limited to using a certain brand of skin care products and make-up.

If being changed to something else, they would be allergic.

The makeup artist knew all the other actors in the crew very well, but Nikita was coming for the first time, so she asked in advance before making up.

Nikita sat in front of the dressing table, looking at the skin care products and make-up on the eye table: "I don't have any special requirements."

Skin care products and make-up used by the crew were all top brands.

The bottles of skin care products placed in the most conspicuous position were LY's high-end brand series.

A set of water cream would cost tens of thousands.

Seeing Nikita looking at the most expensive set of skin care products on the dressing table, the makeup artist picked up one of the bottles of water and said with a smile: "The crew so generous that all the skin care products and cosmetics we use for actors here are the best."

"For example, I am reluctant to buy this LY high-end series of skin care products for myself. But honestly, it really deserved that price. I had once bought two sets. After using for less than a month, my skin indeed has improved significantly."

"I heard that the top series of ladies' products of LY have a unique effect that people who have used them all say that they are extremely useful. However, I can barely use two sets of high-end series, and I really can't afford the top series, which cost hundreds of thousands of sets, and are also limited."

"What's more exaggerated is that there was a lady who spent millions specially customizing a set. OMG! A set of skin care products costed millions. I really can't imagine what effect it will be. Can it make people ten years younger?"

Nikita silently listened to that.

The lady mentioned by the makeup artist should be the second lady in the Lambert's family.

She remembered that Mrs. Lambert had spent 5 million to make an appointment with her to customize a set of skin care products.

Originally, the customized series of LY was not so expensive, and even the most expensive set of customized skin care products she received was 1.2 million.

The five million dollars spent by Mrs. Lambert was purely because she was so rich and willful, and she insisted on spending millions more to advance the appointment time by two months.

However, the Lambert family were indeed so rich and willful to do that.

If there was a person at home who can make a large amount of money, let alone spending 5 million on a set of skin care products, there would be no pressure to even spend a trillion.

"Miss Swift, your skin is really excellent." The makeup artist poured moisturizing water on the cotton pad and wiped Nikita's face. She said with admiration in her eyes, "I have done made up for many actors, also including a lot of actresses in the same age as Miss Swift. But Miss Swift's skin is the best among all actresses I have ever seen."

It is so white and delicate, which can be broken even by blowing bombs, and there was no flaw on the whole face. Looking closely, she still couldn't see any pores. The skin care products used on her face seemed to be redundant. It was said that Henrietta's skin was one of the best among all the actresses. According to her, Henrietta was far from the little girl in front of her. Henrietta's good skin quality was because of the Beauty Clinic. Moreover, her so-called natural look at ordinary times was actually a fake natural face made by applying a thin layer of foundation and blush. While this little girl's skin was really excellent, which was fresh and moist. This natural beauty's effect could not be achieved by any Beauty Clinics. "Miss Swift, your facial features are really well proportioned." "Miss Swift, your hair is so smooth. What shampoo do you usually use?"

Chapter 1328-During the whole makeup process, the makeup artist's praise had never stopped.

Because Nikita had an excellent foundation, it also spent a few time doing makeup and modeling her. The makeup and shape which always took other actresses' three or four hours to finish was only finished in one hour for her.

"Miss Swift, I have done made up for so many actors, and you are the first to finish all the makeup in less than an hour." The makeup artist looked at the girls who had done all the made up and had been made a full set of shapes, with her eyes full of amazing look.

How beautiful she was!

She was so beautiful that the artist couldn't describe it in words.

Even the fairies might just as in the same beauty with her.

The role of the first beauty in the world was really suitable for Nikita.

Makeup artists were so experienced that she had done makeup for countless actors, but it was the first time that she was so excited after finishing makeup modeling for an actress.

She looked at Nikita, as if looking at the most perfect and most proud work in her life.

"You are so beautiful." The makeup artist couldn't help but praise again and again. "Miss Swift, this set of makeup is too suitable for you. When you stand here, I feel as if I saw Fair Luna coming out of the book."

Nikita's TV series was an adaptation of a particularly classic novel.

It was said that in order to get the shooting copyright, the director personally had gone to the original author several times, guaranteed that the original work would not be destroyed, and gave the original author certain casting rights before the original author promised to sell the copyright.

Therefore, the director attached great importance to this TV series adapted from the novel.

All the leading roles and supporting roles had been personally selected.

Male and female actors he chose were not only the hottest celebrities in the entertainment area, but also the actors with good reputation in terms of both appearance and acting skills.

The original author also forwarded the cast on Facebook, expressing his agreement on casting.

However, some people said privately that the original author was not very satisfied with the hostess, thinking that Henrietta's appearance was too charming, which was not in line with the hostess's deserted and refined temperament. However, because they couldn't choose a better and more suitable person than Henrietta for a while, he could only reluctantly agree.

The makeup artist felt that if the original author saw Nikita, he was absolutely satisfied.

The Fair Luna played by her really made people unable to pick out any shortcomings.

Nikita walked to the mirror, looking at the girl in red, whose black hair only pulled with a red hairpin to form a crescent bun, hanging down to the waist, and her dark eyes narrowed, with coldness and ruthlessness in her eyes.

Behind her.

The makeup artist picked up her mobile phone and took a picture of Nikita standing in front of the mirror.

The look of Nikita just now was absolutely charismatic. She was indeed the Fair Luna! That kind of characteristics of the role, which were cold, cruel and indifferent to anything, were completely interpreted by her look. Was her really just a newcomer? The makeup artist looked at the picture just taken in her mobile phone, and then looked up at the girl in red standing in front of the mirror, suddenly giving birth to a premonition. At present, this newcomer may become an instant hit with this TV series. "Director, Miss Swift's makeup is finished. Do you need to have a look?" The director said hello before. After Nikita's modeling was finished, he should have a look first. So after putting on makeup, the makeup artist went to the director with Nikita.

Chapter 1329-The director was still talking to the male title role of the crew, who was Joslyn, a popular celebrity in the entertainment area. In terms of popularity, although he was slightly inferior to Hugh, he also possessed the status of top male celebrity with numerous fans.

Moreover, he had been well-known for his performance in the ancient idol dramas, whose appearance and temperament were also very suitable for ancient costume modeling.

He played the role of emperor in the play.

“Joslyn, if you continue to act in this scene with your state yesterday, it won’t work. You have to...”

The director was talking about the plot when he heard the makeup artist’s voice, raised his head and looked at it at will, and then lowered his head to continue teaching Joslyn.

“We continue...”

The director just said two words, like a sudden reaction, fiercely raised his head and looked at Nikita.

Then, he was totally stunned.

Joslyn, like the director, was originally glancing at it at will, but the look had deeply amazed him.

Last night, he had something to do, so he didn’t attend Xavier’s reception banquet.

But he heard other people in the crew talk about it, saying that Xavier had brought a very young girl this time, and the girl would play the role of Fair Luna.

He also said that the girl was so beautiful that she would be the rare kind of beauty in the whole the entertainment area.

Joslyn originally felt that these people were exaggerating and didn’t believe it very much.

The entertainment area was the place where there was no shortage of beautiful women.

No matter how beautiful the woman was, he had all seen before.

How could she be more beautiful?

But at this moment, Joslyn just knew that it was not others' exaggeration, but she was really such a rare beauty.

Even in the entertainment area with numerous beautiful women, such beauty was rare.

No, it should be said that up to now, he had never seen a more beautiful girl than the girl before him.

The girl wore a red dress with a ribbon of the same color at her waist, which was slender and soft, as if it could be completely encircled with one hand.

This gorgeous red color, could hardly be well-dressed, let alone a young girl like her.

But she was not only well-dressed, but also controlled it very easily, as if she was born for such gorgeous colors.

And the girl's face was so beautiful that it made people feel amazed.

Such extreme eye-catching beauty couldn't be described in any language.

Joslyn couldn't help but see two words in his mind: Unsurpassed Beauty.

The makeup artist looked at the stunned director and Joslyn, and coughed lightly: "Director Chaucer, Miss Swift's makeup has been completed. How do you think about that? Is there anything that needs to be modified?"

The makeup artist could fully understand the reaction of the director and Joslyn.

With such a stunning beauty stood in front of her, every one would get confused when seeing her.

Even she was fascinated by the girl, let alone the men.

The director came to his senses, but his eyes were still full of amazing expressions. He looked at Nikita over and over again and nodded while looking at it: "It is so good."

"This is exactly the feeling I want!"

"This is the Fair Luna I have always been looking for!"

Before putting on makeup, the director thought Nikita was very suitable.

Now that Nikita had finished being put on makeup and modeling, he was even more satisfied.

The director stood up excitedly: "Miss Swift, you..."

"Director, just call my name." Nikita said coldly.

Chapter 1330-"OK, I'll call you by name," The director was also a frank person. He smiled and said, "Nikita, you and Joslyn have two scenes today. You have just met and are not familiar with each other. Do you want to try a play first to see how tacit you are?"

Nikita looked at the boy standing beside the director. He was around twenty-four or five years old, who had clear eyes and handsome appearance. He was quite good-looking.

She nodded: "Yes."

She had never acted before and had no experience in acting.

It was not bad to try the play before the formal shooting.

In case she was really not cut out for acting, she could leave early, so as not to waste other people's time and energy.

"Joslyn, what do you think?" The director turned his head to ask Joslyn's opinion.

Joslyn was still watching Nikita. When the director talked to him, he took his eyes back. He smiled gently: "Of course no problem."

"OK, then you can try this play."

The director arranged a play for them to improvise.

In this play, Fair Luna was recruited to serve the emperor to sleep. Other concubines were carried to other places when they were asked to serve the emperor. Only Fair Luna served the emperor in her own bedroom, and the emperor went to find her.

Other concubines were envious of her being favored by the emperor, but she herself was dismissive of it.

Every time the emperor went to her palace to find her, he would be treated indifferently.

Originally, the previous script was that every time the emperor passed, Fair Luna, would always serve his bed even was reluctant.

Because of Nikita's proposal last night, the director asked the screenwriter to change the script overnight. Now, every time the emperor passed, he would just sit in Fair Luna's place without touching her.

Because the emperor wanted Fair Luna to follow him willingly.

He wanted to conquer Fair Luna with his personal charm.

So before that, he wouldn't touch Fair Luna.

This story was the third time that the emperor went to find Fair Luna, and then he was treated by Fair Luna indifferently once again.

"Nikita, do you remember the lines of this story?" The director asked Nikita.

"Yes." Nikita nodded.

"Well, then you don't have to read the script anymore. After I count one, two, three, you can start performing."

Joslyn and Nikita looked at each other and nodded.

Although Joslyn was an idol, his acting skills were also quite good. He had won the Newcomer Award at a film festival before, and improvisation was not stressful for him.

He heard that Nikita was still a newcomer and didn't have much performance experience. He thought that she would be nervous and not used to such impromptu performance. So he was just about to say some words to appease the other party's nervous mood, when he turned his head seeing the girl stood there leisurely with an indifferent look, without any sign of tension or stage fright.

Joslyn was slightly surprised.

He had come into contact with many new people.

Especially for newcomers at the age of teenagers, few people could have such a stable mentality at this time.

“Three, two, one, action!”

As the director released the signal, Joslyn immediately put away other thoughts, seriously entered the plot, and walked past Nikita, who played his concubine.

“Fair Luna, I just went back to Hall of Mental Cultivation. When I passed by you, I wanted to see you.” Joslyn played the emperor with his hands behind his back and his brow in the expression that the king was dignified, pacing slowly towards Fair Luna.

At this point, Fair Luna was holding a book in her hand and sitting by the window reading it.
