

The Girl CB 1621

Chapter 1621-Think more about us.

After dinner, Nikita and Nacy went to different destinations.

It was late at night, but Sampson insisted on taking Nacy to the hospital for an examination, saying that he was afraid of the potential effects on Nacy's health because of drinking cold juice.

The juice taken away by Sampson was drunk by Nacy quickly when he went to the restroom.

Although Nikita has told him that drinking something cold to a suitable extent won't be that serious for pregnant women, Sampson was still quite nervous, he couldn't get relieved until getting the results of Nacy's physical examination.

Nikita didn't need to intervene the matters between Sampson and Nikita. So they went to different places after dinner, Sampson took Nacy to the hospital, but Nikita and Sheehan decided to wander around.

At night, the river view in the center of N City is very beautiful, the wind at night is also gentle. Nikita and Sheehan walked by the river like ordinary lovers hand in hand.

From time to time, passers-by looked at them, but they have got used to such a situation, so they were quite calm.

Nikita was still confused and shocked.

She didn't even respond to Sheehan's words.

Sheehan turned to look at her. Seeing that she was in a daze, Sheehan guessed and asked, "Are you thinking about the matter of Nacy and Sampson?"

Nikita said: "Yes"

Sheehan smiled: "You seem to be surprised because they have been together" "Surprised? No, I am shocked!" Nikita was still confused, "They mocked each other whenever they met before, they also disdained each other. I haven't expected them to be together at all, let alone getting married or giving birth to a child." "So do you think it's a good thing or a bad thing for them to be together?" "I don't know." Nikita thought and said, "Although they have been disdaining each other, I know Nancy clearly. If she doesn't want to be together with Sampson, she won't marry him simply because of her pregnancy." If Nancy doesn't want to be together with him, she will abort.

She is not a person who will marry someone for the sake of pregnancy.

"Perhaps they don't disdain each other, but like each other." Sheehan analyzed, "This is just a special way for them to express their love for each other.

Moreover, when we had dinner just now, I could tell that Sampson didn't disdain your friend at all" "If he disdains her, he couldn't have taken care of her like that." "Sampson is reliable, it is also a good choice for your friend to marry him."

Although Sheehan is not close to Sampson, he can tell Sampson's qualities well.

Moreover, people's comments on Sampson in this circle are also great, he almost has no rumors.

"Sampson is reliable." Nikita has also known Sampson for a long time, she also knows well about him. If Nancy marries Sampson, he will be a qualified husband.

In the future, he will also be a qualified good father.

"Don't think about your friend, you should think more about us." Sheehan pinched her soft palm.

"Hmm? Us?" Nikita blinked, 'About what?'"

Sheehan looked down at her: "Do you have any thoughts about our engagement banquet?"

He has announced his engagement at the birthday party, but the engagement banquet hasn't been held yet.

Chapter 1622-Her life is over.

Sheehan wanted to make up the engagement banquet for her as soon as possible.

"I have no idea, you can arrange it at will" Nikita said casually.

Sheehan felt speechless.

Nikita's indifferent attitude made Sheehan feel complicated.

Other girls will definitely have many expectations and ideas for their engagement banquets and wedding ceremonies, and they will also be willing to participate in the process of preparing. However, Nikita was just talking about their engagement banquet indifferent, as if it had nothing to do with her.

It seemed that she had no expectations for the banquet.

She didn't want to participate at all.

Nikita asked him to deal with all the matters, she could be free from the preparations, but Sheehan felt a little depressed.

"Don't you have any ideas?" He asked reluctantly.

"What kind of ideas?" Nikita asked.

Sheehan said: "For example, what style of banquet do you like? Or, where do you want to hold it? N City, or other places? Do you have your preferred places?"

Nikita didn't know how to answer.

She hasn't thought about these problems.

She felt indifferent about such matters, and she decided to follow everything arranged by Sheehan.

However, Sheehan seemed to hope that she could have her own thoughts?

"Are these ... important?" Nikita thought for a few seconds and asked.

Sheehan sipped his lips tightly for a few seconds and said helplessly: "Niky, although engagement is not as important as marriage, it is also a very important ceremony. For me, I think it is very important." [hope you also feel that it is important and can participate in it personally] "Well, let me think about it." Hearing Sheehan's words, Nikita thought seriously for a short while and said: "I prefer the traditional style, so perhaps we should hold the banquet at a traditional building." It was rare for her to talk about her own thoughts, Sheehan said quickly: "OK, let's hold a traditional banquet."

As for the place to hold the banquet, the manor of the Lambert family is the best choice.

No place can be more suitable than such a building with a history of hundreds of years.

After being detained for some time, Yvonne and Costello were judged.

Generally speaking, for ordinary cases, from arresting the suspects to judging them will cost a long time, the suspects won't be sentenced soon after being arrested.

The sentence of some cases may need to wait for a long time, even several years.

However, the trial of the case of Costello and Yvonne was judged quite fast, it only took less than a month for them to be sentenced from being arrested.

Kidnapping and intentional homicide are quite serious, even if the kidnapping has failed, the sentences for them would still be serious.

In addition, this case is in charge of the top lawyer team of the Lambert Group, the sentence will be serious to the extreme.

If the limit is three to seven years, they will be sentenced to jail for seven years, if the max limit is ten years, then they will be sentenced to jail for ten years.

When it comes to kidnapping cases, the suspects will be generally sentenced to fixed-term imprisonment of more than ten years or life imprisonment.

Costello was finally sentenced to fifteen-year imprisonment.

Although Yvonne was not involved in kidnapping, she has hired Costello, so she was sentenced to jail for five years in the end.

On the court...

After the judge pronounced the sentence, Costello lowered his head in depression.

As for Yvonne...

She got fainted immediately after hearing that she was sentenced to jail for five years.

Although 15 years were longer than five years, Costello has been accustomed to the life in jail, as long as he wouldn't be sentenced to death, it wasn't serious for him.

But five-year imprisonment was different for Yvonne.

She knew that her life was completely over.

Her life was over.

She couldn't suffer such an end, hearing "five years" said by the judge, she got fainted with a pale face on the court.

Chapter 1623-This is god's punishment for them.

Nathan has been concerned about Yvonne's case.

So he knew the sentence for Yvonne.

Thinking that Yvonne has lived in the Swift family for more than ten years as their family member, Nathan told Patrick and Margot about this.

Knowing that Yvonne was sentenced to five years for hiring someone to kill Nikita, Margot said coldly after being silent for a short while: "Things in genes can't be changed. Fortunately, we have driven her away, otherwise, we will be ashamed because of her crime."

Margot's words about genes were because Yvonne's biological father, who had been sent into prison for crimes.

Margot's feelings for Yvonne were based on her obedience, cleverness, and outstanding performance, which was because Margot thought that Yvonne deserved her education.

In the past, Yvonne made Margot satisfied in all aspects.

But now, Yvonne is a criminal's daughter, and her life will also be bad after being released from the prison in five years.

For such a daughter who has called her as mom for more than ten years, Margot wasn't sympathetic at all.

She even regretted adopting Yvonne for so many years.

The training and education these years, the money, time, and energy these years... they were all in vain.

Hearing this, Patrick was also silent for a while, then he sighed, no one could tell his mood from his tone:

“Yvonne chose to do this by herself, no one could be blamed. Although we chased her away, it was because of her lying before. We have adopted her and given her good living conditions for more than ten years, we didn’t do anything wrong to her.”

“By the way,’ Patrick remembered something and asked Nathan: “I have read that Nikita has got engaged with the master of the Lambert family from the news report, is that true?”

Nathan nodded: “It’s true.”

Margot sipped her lips and felt uncomfortable.

She felt Nikita was useless, so she didn’t even think of taking her back. She just educated Yvonne carefully, thinking that Yvonne deserved to be their daughter and make the Swift family honored.

But now...

The daughter she thought to make the Swift family honored became a criminal.

The daughter she thought to be useless became a genius known by the whole world. Nikita will even become the hostess of the Lambert family, which they don’t even dare to talk to.

Ironic.

Perhaps, this is god's punishment for them.

The god is punishing them for treating a stranger who has no blood relations with them so well and being cold for their biological daughter.

They are being punished as vain and irresponsible parents.

All of them were silent, thinking of their own affairs.

A phone suddenly rang, which stopped the silence.

It was Margot's phone, she picked up the phone and took a look, seeing that the caller was Cathleen, she answered immediately.

Patrick and Nathan saw that Margot's face turned pale immediately.

"OK, I'll be right there."

After hanging up the phone, Margot's eyes turned red, she almost cried.

"What happened?" Patrick asked.

Margot cried and said, "Mom had a car accident. Her assistant called me and said that she is still under salvage."

In the hospital.

When Nathan and others arrived at the hospital, Cathleen had just been pushed out of the operating room.

She has woken up from the coma.

In front of the bed...

Cathleen looked quite pale, and she was talking painstakingly with Nikita while holding her hand.

Chapter 1624- Is she really so confident in herself?

Nikita was stunned. After a few seconds, just as she was about to speak, she heard Cathleen's weak voice again. "Niky, don't refuse me. I know that Margot has done something to hurt you, and you no longer recognize her as your mother, let alone me as your grandmother."

"But even if you never recognize me, it cannot stop me from loving you in my own way as your grandmother. I know your capabilities very well, and I trust you to take over the company. Only by handing it over to you can I rest assured."

"I was seriously injured in this car accident, and although I managed to survive, it is unknown how long I will live. Please... accept my dying wish. I'm just a pitiful old woman."

Cathleen was indeed seriously injured in the car accident. Nikita had already spoken to Dr. Davis about it. With her current condition, she could no longer manage the company.

Due to the injury to Cathleen's brain in the car accident, although she appears normal now, her brain has been affected to some extent. Even if she recovers in the future, it will not be as good as before when it comes to matters that require thinking for the company management.

Nikita was not surprised that Cathleen would hand over the company to someone else. However, she did not expect that Cathleen would give the company to her.

Cathleen had built a large business empire, which was not much different from the entire Garrett's, with the company's assets conservatively estimated to be over 100 billion. Transferring the company and its shares should be a very cautious and important matter for her.

Is she really so confident in herself? Is she not afraid of ruining Cathleen's decades of hard work?

If this is Cathleen's wedding gift, then it is too precious and valuable for Nikita to take over.

Nikita thought about it seriously for a few seconds and firmly refused her: "I'm sorry, this wedding gift is too precious, and I cannot accept it"

"Moreover, I am really not interested in managing the company. You should find someone else who is suitable to take over. I am not the right person for the job."

"Your daughter Margot should be a good businesswoman, it is best to hand over the company to her."

After being refused by Nikita, Cathleen's eyes dimmed, and her weak voice revealed her unmasked disappointment: "I did consider Margot, but she's not capable. Nikita, you are the only one I'm satisfied with.

Only your abilities can put my mind at ease and help the company develop better."

"I can't exactly twist your arm if you're not into it. But I really hope you won't shoot me down right off the bat.

Can you take some time to mull it over?"

Cathleen thought it through. Handing over the company to Nikita was definitely the best choice.

Nikita's own abilities, as well as the backing of the Lambert family, were something that Margot could not compare to.

Although Margot was her biological daughter, she had never thought of handing the company over to her in the future.

Her daughter was a love-struck fool. The foolish things she did in her early years had already disappointed her to the core.

“Mom, have you lost your mind? Do you even know what you’re saying?” The door to the hospital room was pushed open, and a sharp and angry voice sounded outside. Margot stormed into the room.

She had heard everything that Cathleen said to Nikita just now, and she couldn’t believe it. She was so angry that she felt dizzy.

Her own mother was ready to hand over the company, but had never considered handing it over to her. Instead, she wanted to give a company worth billions of dollars to a stranger.

Chapter 1625-What’s wrong with her?

Yes, Nikita had already cut off all ties with them. So now, she’s just an outsider.

Why can’t she get the company?

She’s been running the Swift family business for years and she’s been keeping it ship-shape. Although it was not as famous as some of the top companies, it was still listed on the top 100 companies in N City. Even if she’s not the best, she had years of experience in managing a company. But what about Nikita?

She had never managed a company before and was completely clueless about how to run and manage a company.

Cathleen didn’t want to entrust the company to her own daughter, who had experience, instead of an inexperienced person. This was beyond ridiculous!

Was she out of mind?

Margot suspected that Cathleen was in an incoherent state and had no idea what she was saying or doing.

Cathleen had just woken up from surgery, and her head was still heavy and uncomfortable. When she heard Margot’s angry outburst, she immediately frowned and said in a displeased tone, “I can hand over the company to whoever I want. I am very clear about what I am doing. If you are here to make trouble, you can leave immediately”

“Mom, you just had surgery, and your body is still weak. I asked the doctor, and he said that you have suffered some brain trauma, so you may not be in a clear state of mind. You don’t even know what you’re doing,” Margot said.

“The transfer of the company is not a trivial matter, and it cannot be decided in just a few words. You should take good care of your body and talk about it when you are almost recovered’ Cathleen replied, turning her head to look at Nikita with a cold expression, “You don’t have to take what my mom said seriously.

She is still not in a clear state of mind, and her words cannot be taken seriously”

Nikita looked at her with a sneer, her eyes devoid of any humor, and said in a cold tone, “Mrs. Dan, you don’t have to worry. I am not interested in your company. If you heard the conversation between Mrs. Garrett and me, you should have heard that I recommended you to her, but she said you were not good enough.”

Margot’s face sank, “Bullshit!”

Nikita stood up, her expression indifferent, “I’m not going to stick my nose in your family drama. Mrs. Garrett, take care of yourself. I gotta go, got some stuff to do.”

With that, Nikita turned around and headed out of the room.

Patrick and Nathan, who had come along with Margot, watched her leave with a frigid expression on her face.

“Mom, the company’s affairs are really not trivial. How can you entrust it to Nikita so easily? She has no experience managing any company. It’s ridiculous to hand over the company to her. I am your own daughter, and you should trust me. I have experience in managing companies. If you really want to retire, you can hand over the company to me, and I can help you manage it”, Margot said as she sat down by the bed, still talking about the company’s affairs.

“Yes, mom,’ Patrick added, “Margot is your daughter. You should entrust the company to her. Nikita has cut off all ties with us, and she is no longer a part of our family. If you entrust the company to an outsider, aren’t you worried that she will ruin your hard work?”

Since the heavy blow, the Swift Group has not been able to recover to its former glory, and the Swift family is no longer what it used to be. They had planned to push Yvonne to be Sheehan’s girlfriend so they could climb up the social ladder through the Lambert Family, but after Yvonne’s scandal, it was naturally impossible.

Chapter 1626

Malice and Prejudice towards Nikita Patrick and Margot were still thinking about how to persuade Cathleen, when suddenly Cathleen exploded in anger and pointed at them, shouting, “I don’t want to see you! Get out, all of you! Leave immediately!”

Cathleen was extremely disappointed and furious. When she got into the accident, her daughter and son-in-law’s first reaction was not to inquire about her well-being, but to worry about her giving away the company. No one cared about her. Cathleen felt that her daughter was a disappointment and a waste.

This only strengthened her resolve to not hand over the company to Margot, even if Nikita refused. Even if Nikita didn’t accept the company, Cathleen wouldn’t give it to Margot.

“Mom, you...” Cathleen suddenly became angry, startling Margot, whose face changed. Margot said, “Mom, don’t be so excited. You just woke up from surgery, and your emotions shouldn’t be too intense.” “Get out, I don’t want to see you! Did you come to care about me or to upset me?” Cathleen shouted.

“We...” Patrick was also taken aback.

He was about to say something, but the door of the hospital room was pushed open. Cathleen's assistant walked in and politely said to Margot and Patrick, "Mr. and Mrs. Swift, madam needs to rest. Please leave."

Margot's face changed slightly.

Cathleen didn't even look at her and closed her eyes, saying, "Let them go. I don't want to see them."

The assistant spoke again, with a colder tone, "Since madam doesn't want to see you, please leave as soon as possible. Don't disturb her rest."

Exiting the hospital room, Margot's face was still grim. "What does Mom mean?"

"I'm her biological daughter, and she wants to give the company to Nikita? And Nikita, I never thought she was so calculating. Even if she marries into the Lambert family, she's not satisfied and still wants my mom's property!"

"In the time before we arrived, what did she say to Mom?" Margot continued. "In any case, I won't let her have her way. I'm Mom's only heir, and she can't take what's rightfully mine!"

Nathan frowned at Margot's prejudice and malice towards her. "Mom, Nikita isn't that type of person. She's already very capable and doesn't need to covet anyone's property.' Marrying into the Lambert family might be a dream come true for many women, but Nikita was not one of them.

Nathan was clear that Nikita was too proud, and she had made it clear that she had cut ties with them. No matter what they did to make amends, Nikita wouldn't give them another chance.

Moreover, although Cathleen wanted to hand over the company to Nikita, she had already clearly refused.

Margot's prejudice and malice towards Nikita had never changed, and Nathan finally understood why Nikita had so decisively cut ties with them. If it were him, he wouldn't want such a family or such relatives.

“The assets under Mom’s name are not a small amount, and even if she marries into the Lambert family, they won’t give her half of the property. But if she takes over Mom’s company, all of Mom’s assets will be hers, Margot said, her face cold.

“She refused, so what?” Margot continued. “It’s just a facade. I don’t believe she really isn’t tempted.”

Chapter 1627

Rosa’s Mental Problem

“Nathan, you’re also her grandson, and the eldest one. Why didn’t your grandmother think about handing over the company to you? You’re here helping Nikita speak up for herself. If you were as cunning as she is, you wouldn’t be left with nothing!”

Nikita furrowed his brows again. “It’s not like that. The money belongs to Grandma, and she can give it to whomever she wishes.”

Margot glared at him discontentedly. “Do you know how big your grandmother’s business is? Do you know how much money she has? Can she just give her money to whoever she wants? Anyway, I won’t let her give it to Nikita. She’s confused right now and doesn’t know what she’s doing. I’ll come to the hospital every day to take care of your grandmother. I have to keep an eye on her so she doesn’t do anything foolish.”

Most importantly, she must stop Nikita from getting an opening.

Margot believed that Nikita would definitely come to the hospital again to manipulate Cathleen. She had to keep a close eye on Cathleen.

After leaving Cathleen’s ward, Nikita walked out of the hospital building and saw a crowd of people sitting in the green area downstairs.

Cathleen was staying in the VIP ward, and everything here was like a vacation resort, with large trees and flowers planted downstairs, as well as artificial streams and pavilions. It was a good place to relax and unwind during normal times.

Nikita was originally just glancing at the side when she saw a familiar figure.

She squinted her eyes and stopped walking.

She stared at the familiar figure for a while, then looked away, but suddenly heard a voice from beside her.

“Nikita?”

The man’s voice seemed uncertain.

Nikita turned her head and saw Corley standing behind her.

“It’s really you.” Corley looked at her, his gaze flickering a few times. After a few seconds of silence, he said with a complicated expression, “Are you here to see your grandmother?”

Cathleen was in a car accident, and Corley came to the hospital to see her.

Nikita nodded. “Yeah.”

“I’m here to see my grandmother too.” Corley pursed his lips. He looked past Nikita and towards Rosa, who was standing not far away. After a few seconds of silence, he said in a low voice, “Did you see Rosa? Her situation isn’t very good right now.”

Nikita glanced at him but didn’t say anything.

Of course, she noticed that Rosa wasn’t right.

When she saw Rosa just now, Rosa also looked up at her, but her reaction was very calm. There was no ripple in her eyes, as if she was looking at a stranger.

Moreover, Nikita could tell that Rosa wasn't pretending.

She wasn't interested in any of this, though.

What happened to Rosa had nothing to do with her.

Seeing that Nikita didn't speak, Corley continued, "Rosa doesn't remember anything now. She doesn't even recognize anyone from the Garrett family."

"She has even forgotten her own name."

"Moreover, her intelligence seems to have been affected, and she's exhibiting many abnormal behaviors."

"The doctor said that her condition may have been caused by a blow to the head, or it may be something she chose to forget. And, it's possible that she may never remember her past again."

"Oh, really?" Nikita was still very indifferent.

"Nikita, Rosa doesn't remember anything now, and she won't affect you and Sheehan in the future. Can you give her a break?" Corley hesitated for a moment, then smiled bitterly and said, "When she recovers, I'll send her abroad.

She won't come back.'

Chapter 1628

Really Stupid Nikita lifted her gaze, her deep eyes looking cold. She said indifferently, "Does it make any difference whether I release her or not? She has a mental problem now and won't be subject to criminal punishment anymore."

If Rosa really had a mental problem, Nikita couldn't even sue her if she wanted to.

Corley fell silent again.

"Brother." At this moment, Rosa, who had been standing there staring at the fish swimming in the pond, suddenly walked over. When she saw Corley, she looked very happy and took his arm, pouting and coquettishly asking, "Did you come to see Rosa?"

Corley didn't speak to Nikita anymore. He lowered his head and glanced at Rosa, revealing a gentle smile. "Are you good today? Did you listen to the doctor and the nurse?"

"Rosa was very good today." Rosa's face showed a naive expression that didn't match her age, and her voice had a childish tone. "Brother, you said if Rosa was obedient, you would buy cake for Rosa to eat. You didn't lie to Rosa, did you?"

"Of course not." Corley touched her head and showed her the bag in his hand. "I bought your favorite cake. You can eat it later when we go back, okay?"

"Okay." Rosa took Corley's sleeve and looked like a obedient and cute little girl.

But she was already in her twenties.

Her current state and behavior were obviously abnormal.

"Brother, who is she?" Rosa saw Nikita and looked afraid, with a scared expression on her face. She half-hid behind Corley.

Seeing her like this, Corley pursed his lips. "She became like this after waking up. I'm not trying to help her escape anything. The doctor said that if her condition is bad enough, she may be like this for the rest of her life." Leaving the hospital, Nikita made a call to Dr. Davis to ask about Rosa's condition.

Although she could tell that Rosa was not pretending, she still wanted to confirm it.

“Miss Rosa did indeed suffer a blow to the head, but her brain problem isn’t very serious. After testing and analysis, we speculate that she must have encountered some kind of shock and received a great deal of stimulation, which caused her mental problems.’ After a moment, Nikita hung up the phone.

It seemed that Rosa really did have a mental problem.

As for what kind of shock and stimulation she had encountered, it should be related to the banquet that night.

Nikita had never thought that some people would take love and affection so seriously that a perfectly good person would become mentally unwell just because they couldn’t get what they wanted.

In the eyes of many ordinary people, Rosa was a winner in life. She was born into a good family, grew up in a very privileged environment, was beautiful, and had her own abilities. From any point of view, she was an enviable and desirable existence.

Her life was almost perfect.

Except for her love life.

For Nikita, love was only a part of life, not everything, and certainly not the most important thing.

She would also cherish her relationship with Sheehan, and Sheehan had an important place in her heart. But no matter what, she would never go crazy for a man.

No matter how much she liked someone.

Nikita and Sheehan attended Una’s wedding.

Their attendance, as expected, became a hot topic at the wedding.

Una's was overjoyed, and during a break, she pulled Nikita aside and whispered, "Nikita, thank you so much for coming to my wedding. I'm so honored. I just share the news that you and Mr. Lambert came to my wedding, and everyone in my circle is so jealous."

Chapter 1629

What's up with you today?

"For the first time in my life, I got thousands of likes on my Twitter"

"Mr. Lambert is very kind. I can tell he likes you a lot. You must cherish this opportunity. I'm looking forward to attending your wedding. Don't forget to invite me then."

It wasn't just Una who shared the news on her social softwares.

The other guests who attended the wedding also took photos of Nikita and Sheehan at the wedding and shared them.

Naturally, this matter became a hot topic on Facebook.

On the day of the wedding, Nikita dressed quite low-key. She wore a simple striped dress, with her hair casually draped and light makeup on her face.

But even so, she was quite outstanding among the crowd.

"Ah, Nikita is so beautiful. I've only seen her photos before and was amazed by how stunning she looked. I thought the photos must have been photoshopped to look so beautiful, but I didn't expect her to be even more beautiful!"

"She stood right next to me, very close to me. Her skin is really flawless. Ah, if she were in the entertainment industry, I would become her fan right away."

“And I can tell that Sheehan really likes her. When she talks to others, Sheehan’s eyes are always glued to her.

It’s the kind of deep affection that he cherishes her only in the world. Ah, when are they getting married? They are really a perfect match.”

Nikita and Sheehan didn’t stay at the wedding for too long.

When the wedding was halfway over, Nikita and Sheehan they both left after teeling Una.

A few days after the wedding.

Sheehan said he was going abroad to discuss a new energy development project. He didn’t take Nikita with him because he would be very busy with many things after he arrived.

Just as he left, Nacy called Nikita and invited her to dinner that night.

Nikita didn’t have anything to do, so she asked for the address and drove there by herself at night.

The restaurant was a private club in the city center, next to the river, where the guests could eat while enjoying the evening river view.

After parking the car, Nacy walked towards her with a smile, “Niky, you came in this outfit?”

Nikita looked down at her outfit. It was just a sportswear suit she usually wore, nothing abnormal. She raised her eyebrows, “Is there a problem? How else should I dress if not like this?”

Nacy looked at her again and shook her head disapprovingly, “Tsk, you didn’t even put on makeup.”

Nikita was speechless.

Is it necessary to dress up just to have a meal?

“Forge it.” Nancy stepped forward and hugged her, “You’re just relying on your good looks, that’s why you’re so ‘casual”

Nikita: “...”

“Eat or not?” Nikita was impatient, “What’s up with you today? Don’t I always dress like this? Is it the first day you’ve met me?”

“Well.” Nancy smiled, knowing that this little princess in front of her has a bad temper, and quickly coaxed her, “My Nikita is naturally beautiful, no matter how you dress, you look good. You can wear makeup or not.”

“Let’s go in first.”

Nikita felt that Nancy was a bit strange, she squinted at her, but all she saw was Nancy’s smiling eyes

Chapter 1630: Proposal

Nikita was only a few seconds slow to react. She pretty much guessed what was going on and looked at the sea of white flowers in front of her. “Did Sheehan set this up?”

Nancy neither confirmed nor denied. “Well, I’ve completed the mission someone arranged for me. As for the rest, if you’re curious, you can ask him personally. I’ll leave you two alone, to not be a third wheel and interrupt you.”

“Follow this flower path, someone is waiting for you ahead.”

With that, Nancy turned and left.

Nikita stood there for a few seconds before she looked up and stepped onto the petal-covered path, heading forward.

After a while, she found an elaborately decorated glass house with petals and lights. Beside it stood a tall and handsome man, holding a large bouquet named "Wedding Path". With a soft smile and a deep gaze fixed on her.

Seeing Sheehan, Nikita didn't show any surprise. She raised an eyebrow as she looked at the bouquet in his hand. "Weren't you going abroad for a business trip?"

Sheehan let out a low, soft chuckle. "Although this proposal ceremony is a bit cliché, I spent a lot of time setting it up myself. I don't ask you to like it, just hope you won't mind."

"Did you really set this up yourself?" This time Nikita was genuinely surprised.

Sheehan nodded. "These white roses are called Wedding Path, symbolizing loyalty to marriage and love, devotion, and a beautiful and happy marriage."

Nikita, before I met you, I never thought I'd long for marriage and love, just like everyone else. I even thought I might be alone in my whole life."

"If it weren't for you, I really might have been alone until the day I die."

"Nikita, what I really want to say is, would you marry me and be my wife, so we can spend the rest of our lives together?"

Sheehan suddenly went down on one knee and handed her the bouquet.

Nikita's gaze fell on his handsome face, slowly swept across his deep brows and eyes, then his tall nose, thin and sexy lips...

No matter how much time had passed, his face still appealed strongly to her.

And had not lost its freshness because of the passage of time.

On the contrary, this relationship, which she originally thought would last no more than two or three months, not only persisted until now but also made her want to marry a man.

Nikita cannot guarantee that her ideas won't change in the future.

She cannot give Sheehan any guarantees about the rest of their lives.

But at this moment, she truly wants to marry him, be his wife, and accompany him in their remaining years together.

Nikita accepted the flowers.

Sheehan reached into his suit pocket and pulled out a silver velvet box.

The box opened, revealing a dazzling diamond ring inside.

The diamond was not excessively large, and the overall design was simple and elegant. The main diamond was a pink one, shining brilliantly and crystal-clear, not only far from tacky but also an extremely rare cherry blossom pink.

"Nikita, marry me." Sheehan took out the ring, holding it up with a sincere expression. His usually cold and indifferent eyes were filled with affection, his gaze focused and tender, as if Nikita was his whole world.
