

The Girl CB 271

Chapter 271 He almost threw up.

If you need my help, you can always come to me. "Lanny blushed after saying this sentence, ignoring Samuel who had been staring at him.

with hostility behind him, turned and quickly walked out of the classroom.

Samuel gasped, "Is the top student in the top class great? How arrogant he is!"

Tobin patted him on the shoulder sympathetically: "Let's face it, the top student in the top class is really great.

He is a curve wrecker, while we are just study slag. He is qualified to be like that."

Samuel was even angrier: "What's the big deal? No matter how good his grades are, he is just a nerd.

Sending notes? I think he has bad intentions!"

"Nikita, you mustn't pay attention to him." Samuel was jealous. He couldn't get good grades and couldn't send notes. If Nikita liked someone who had good grades, Lanny's advantage was much greater than his.

Jealousy changed people completely into another one. Samuel said sourly, "Lanny is like a central air conditioner, who is so kind and considerate to all girls.

If you want a boyfriend, don't look for this kind of man, or you'll be easily cheated. "

"In fact, someone looking honestly may be instead the most irresponsible one.

On the contrary, something looking casual is actually very devoted." Samuel didn't forget to raise himself when he stepped on others.

Nikita smiled and looked at him meaningfully: "Oh?

So you mean I should be looking for someone like you?"

Samuel was in a daze, looking up at her dark eyes that seemed to have seen through everything, and his face and ears burned up. He shyly turned his eyes, twisted his fingers, pressed his lips and said nothing.

Tobin:

Shit, he almost threw up.

If he hadn't known Samuel for so many years, looking at him like this, he would have thought he was an innocent boy in seed of love who had never been in love.

The bell rang for class.

Nikita ignored them, turned around, and slowly walked back to her seat to sit down.

Felton stood in place for a few seconds, and slowly walked to his position.

The news that Nikita could cure people soon spread./

As soon as the first class was over, a group of people in Class A hurried upstairs.

Besides the students in Class A, many students from other classes ran upstairs as well.

Yvonne stood in the corridor, looking at the classroom that was half empty, and her face was pale.

The college entrance examination was coming soon.

Usually, even after class, the classroom was full of people, racing against time to take out books to review lessons.

But now...

She thought these people in her class were just crazy.

Nikita could treat an illness?

Nikita was just a hillbilly who had transferred here from the countryside. She had never seen the big world. What illness could she treat?

People who believe that she could cure they must have something wrong with their brains.

“Yvonne, will the adopted daughter of your family really cure people?”

“According to them, she seems very powerful.

It is said that she just massage others causally, and she could treat cervical spondylosis, arthritis or something else.”

“My neck is so sore and uncomfortable these days.

If she can really solve it, I also want to ask her for help.

The two girlfriends beside Yvonne watched another group of people running upstairs, with a little desire in their eyes.

Although they didn’t believe that hillbilly could really cure people.

But quite a few students said she was really powerful.

Besides, even Una went to beg Nikita to cure her.

Maybe, she would really know something useful.

Chapter 272 Nikita Did it on purpose.

Aren’t those so-called remedies only appear in rural areas?

There are no scientific evidence, but they also work. Maybe Nikita’s alternative treatment might work.

“If you are not afraid of being mistreated by her, go ahead.” Yvonne was surprised to know that her best friend actually wanted to see Nikita. She was very upset. She said coldly, “She doesn’t know any medical skills at all. It’s true that she treat some people. So what? It’s just a shot in the dark, a coincidence!”

“It’s stupid that so many people believe she can cure diseases!”

The two besties of Yvonne immediately shifted their stances after seeing Yvonne frowning: “We are not going to see her. How dare her to cure others while she hasn’t got a medical certificate? She has gone too far.”

“Yeah. How can a riffraff cure people? She must be lying. I’m surprised that someone would believe in her

I think she did it on purpose. Knowing that her grades were poor and couldn’t compare with Yvonne’s excellence, she wanted to arouse other people’s attention by these tricks.”

“Well, it must be so.

What a shame!

Even if she really knows medical skills, so what? As a student, grades are the most important. Her grades are so poor that she is not qualified to carry shoes for Yvonne! ”

The two besties despised Nikita, and praised Yvonne.

In this way, Yvonne felt slightly better.

She also thought Nikita did it on purpose.

The contest of campus belle was about to begin.

Did Nikita want to boost her popularity in this way?

She also knew that she couldn’t compare with herself in her academic achievements, so she thinks about other things, thinking that she can surpass herself!

“By the way, I heard that Lanny is still going to chase after Nikita.

He went up to send his notes for Nikita but was refused.

Lanny’s conditions are so good but Nikita refused him again and again. I’m afraid she’s playing the ‘hard to get’.”

“Hum, she is very scheming. No wonder she’s from a village.

I don’t think she is playing the ‘hard to get’, but indeed she has greater ambition.”

“What ambition are you talking about...”

The two besties looked at Yvonne at the same time.

“Yvonne, that ruffraff must be fall in love with Felton.

Why is she so shameless? She wants to rob everything from you!

You go to the English competition, so does she. Knowing that you like Felton, and she then seduces Felton!

Your family picked up an ungrateful person!”

Hearing the name of Felton, Yvonne frowned again.

That bitch Nikita!

She could tolerate other things, but she absolutely can't stand Nikita taking Felton away from her!

apter 272 NIKITA D

upuse.

She pinched her phone in her pocket.

When the birthday dinner was over, she would let Felton know that Nikita is a gold-digger who can sell everything for money!

When the time comes.

Felton will never be interested in this kind of gold-digger again.

"All her efforts are useless. Felton's taste is far better than choosing her." Yvonne sneered with disdain. After thinking about it, she took out her phone and sent a WeChat to Samuel.

She could contact both Samuel and Tobin.

She could also contact Felton. At first, she sent an invitation to Felton and Felton agreed.

When she first chased after Felton, she sent him many WeChat messages every day.

Later, Felton thought she was annoyed and deleted her.

If she sends another invitation again, he might not agree.

The atmosphere in Class F was very lively.

Samuel was stunned to see the student from every class flooding in to let Nikita see them.

Chapter 273 A Hundred Million for One Person

“Damn, what’s going on?”

Nikita can cure people?

Why all of a sudden so many people came to see her. “Samuel thought Nikita’s influence was terrifying. Someone might think she’s a celebrity who came to visit their school.

In the back row.

Felton looked at a group of people rushing over crazily, frowning.

These people were really too noisy.

He couldn’t sleep well.

His hands smashed the table, looking up, because he didn’t sleep well, his eyes were full of bloodshot. He then tonelessly said: “Shut the fuck up! Get out of here if you make any noise again!”

So you are letting Nikita treat you. How much treatment fee would you give her?”

These shameless people want to take advantage of Nikita without paying.

Treating his grandfather, Nikita got luxurious mansion and car, and these are not included the diagnosis fee!

His grandfather gave her extra fee.

It is said that the Garrett family paid two hundred million dollars to ask Nikita to treat them!

How could they ask Nikita treat them without paying a single penny?

Just because they're classmates?

Before that, no one took Nikita seriously. When Nikita was in the police station, many people were gloated!

Now how could they shamelessly ask Nikita to treat them?

After hearing Felton's words, the noisy classroom suddenly quieted down.

A lot of people were stunned by Felton's words.

"Fee...Fee?" They probably never thought of giving medical fee at all. They were stunned when being asked.

Looking at this group of students who really plan to be treated without paying, Felton sneered: "Can you go to the hospital without paying the doctors?"

Tell me which hospital would give free treatment. I would like to go there as well."

The shameless people suddenly went silent: "..."

Of course, you need to pay when seeing a doctor!

However, Nikita was their classmates instead of a doctor.

They are classmates. Asking her to treat her doesn't require paying.

However, looking at the gloomy face of Felton, no one dared to say this.

"Well, can we give Nikita money and ask her to treat us?" Someone courageously murmured.

The students in No.1 Middle School are well-off.

Parents usually give them a lot of pocket money.

They can pay if being asked to pay.

"Of course." Felton turned and looked at the girl next to him. Without asking for her consent, he agreed for her 'Nikita treated the Garrett family and received a 200 million medical fee. When she treated my grandfather, she received a several-millions medical fee."

"Since we are all classmates, I think a 50% off discount will do.

Then... 100 million for each person, pay on site, line up and come one by one. If you have enough money, she'll treat you If you don't, get out.”

After saying that, Felton turned and looked Nikita in the eye, he smiled:”Nikita, I think the charging fee makes sense.

I think it’s reasonable to have a discount, don’t you think?”

Nikita looked at the young man who smiled like a fox, and smiled back She nodded, as if she were thinking seriously. After a few seconds, she nodded and said, “Well, it is reasonable.”

She had treated others twice.

Unexpectedly, it got her into troubles

Now a bunch of people flooding in, and they wanted her to treat them. Nikita was troubled by those people. Suddenly, Felton helped her with his words and solved her problems. She was thus willing to cooperate.

Chapter 274 This is too outrageous, isn’t it?

Shocked, every one looked at these two people.

100 million dollars per one person?

Are they robbing their money?

Even it’s robbing money, it’s too much.

Some people were not satisfied and whispered: “The best doctor in the world would not charge this much.”

100 million?

This is too outrageous.

It's just to relieve the neck and shoulder's pain. If she doesn't want to, then don't do it. Is it necessary to charge this much?"

"That's right, why don't she rob it?"

"Is she crazy about money?"

Hearing the whispers, Felton smashed the math book he previously used as a pillow on the table with a cold face. "Pop!"

Frowning, he squinted. Glancing at those people, he didn't want to save their faces: "Then why are you still standing here? Get out!"

"You want others to treat you for free, no way! Go home and find your mothers."

"What are you looking at? Shameless! Get out now!" The young master of the Garrett family clenched his hands. With a sense of warning in his eyes, he would force them to get out by his "fists."

The people were stunned. Without saying a few words, they ran away, afraid of being punched.

If being punched by Felton, they must end up in the hospital for several days.

Soon, they ran away like escaping from some kind of danger.

The rest of people who wanted Nikita to treat them also knew that the hundred-million fee was just an excuse.

So they won't stay around to make fun of themselves.

It's only within a minute.

The originally bustling, crowded classroom suddenly emptied, and all the people who came to see Nikita went away.

Felton gently scoffed: "Look, when you are charging the fee, all of them are gone.

I just know that these people wanted free treatment."

Samuel: "..."

Tobin: "..."

I mean, bro, no one could afford that amount of medical fee.

Even if the students in No.1 Middle School are well-off and have pocket money, they don't have a hundred million dollars.

Of course.

Except for Felton.

The money in the Lambert family can be seen as paper.

But Felton drove people away by this method, they felt much quiet now. Finally, no one would bother them to sleep.

And Felton just said that Nikita treated his grandfather and cared for his family. Is this true or false?

Curious, Samuel asked directly: "Felton, did Nikita really treat your grandfather?"

Ulpiya 274 11113 15 100 vulayevus, 15111 ILE

They all know that old Mr. Lambert had been in the vegetative state in bed for many years.

The Lamberts are not short of money. They invited best doctors around the world to cure old Mr. Lambert but failed.

Felton himself told them that his grandfather might have to lie in bed all his life.

"Of course it's true." Felton remembered that he had not told Samuel that he awoke, and then said, "Thanks to Nikita, Grandpa is awake now."

"Damn." Samuel shocked way, "Felton, you, what did you say?"

Grandpa Lambert is awake?

Tobin was also surprised: "Grandpa Lambert woke up?"

When did this happen?"

"Just two days ago." With a pair of long and narrow beautiful eyes, Felton looked at the girl beside him, with gratitude in his eyes.

Chapter 275 He felt that he couldn't match Nikita.

"Nikita is a magical doctor. So many doctors can't wake Grandpa up. She just gave Grandpa an acupuncture and then Grandpa woke up."

Samuel was stunned again.

"After an acupuncture...grandpa Lambert woke up?" She is not a magic doctor but a fairy!

He was in the vegetative state!

Felton nodded.

"That, that you just said a 200 million fee..." Samuel was stunned.

Is it true that she receives a 200 million dollars medical fee?!

Isn't it made up to make the shameless people retreat?!

"Of course it's also true." Speaking of the 200 million medical fee, Felton was very envious. "Nikita is now richer than all of us."

And she earned the money by herself.

Unlike them, they still rely on their families to get money.

Except for his brother, Felton didn't sincerely admire anyone.

But now, he really admired Nikita.

At the same age as them, she grew in the environment which was far inferior to them, but now, she was better-off than them in everything.

Samuel: "!!!"

Therefore, Nikita, the adopted daughter adopted by the Swift family, was thought to be poor and requiring financial support. In fact, she's a billionaire?

Moreover, according to the fact that she receives hundreds of millions of medical fees when she treats peopleShe may possess more than hundreds of millions.

Samuel suddenly felt that he was not qualified to chase after Nikita.

He doesn't deserve it!

He thought he would have no problem raising a beautiful girlfriend with couple hundred-thousand dollars of pocket money a month.

But now...

The girl he wants to chase has money many times more than him, and his hundreds of thousands are not as high as her bank interest every month!

“So, Nikita is actually a billionaire?” Tobin was stunned to look at the girl who was reading a book devotedly and didn’t say a word. At that time, he was confused as well.

Isn’t it said that Nikita is a poor student funded by the Swift family?

But she is so rich, does she still need financial support?

Tobin was a little skeptical about the so-called subsidy. Is it true?

The rich billionaire felt being observed by several people, she put down the book in her hand, looking up at the handsome boys.

“Well, I do have some money.

Do you have any que

Some?

Samuel’s mouth twitched.

Many people couldn’t possess her “some” of money struggling throughout their lifetime, even ten lifetimes.

“Nikita, do you have any mate selection criteria?

What is your ideal type of men? “Samuel asked in a decadent voice.

The girl’s face is extremely delicate. The eyes, the nose, the mouth, everything is perfect and eye-catching.

This kind of appearance is born to attract attention.

Samuel felt that if Nikita went to enter the entertainment industry, even if she knows nothing, she would go viral just with that delicate face.

When he chased after Nikita, he thought he had some advantages.

For example, he has a good family condition.

If Nikita is with him, he can give Nikita a good life.

But after knowing that Nikita had more money than him, Samuel suffered a big blow, and he felt that he couldn't match Nikita.

Nikita raised her eyebrows: "Mate selection criteria?"

"Yeah." Samuel looked at her nervously. "What kind of boys do you like?"

Felton listened carefully and quietly.

Nikita was asked about the mate selection criteria for the first time. She thought about it seriously. After a few seconds, she lazily replied: "I like good-looking and smart men."

Good-looking?

Chapter 276 Are we familiar?

The smile on Samuel's face didn't hold up one second when he heard "smart". His facial expression of excitement suddenly disappear and turned into sadness/

Felton was upset as well.

He suddenly remembered what Sheehan said to him: Smart people like to play with smart people.

Samuel suddenly withered down, like a balloon that was released. He felt hurt. How does he feel that Nikita's mate-selection standard was talking about Lanny?

Good-looking and smart, Lanny met these two standards.

The more Samuel thought about it, the more sad he was. He was prone at his desk and had no mood to play games.

The mobile phone buzzed twice.

He took it out and glanced listlessly.

Yvonne: Samuel, can you tell Felton? I have something very important to tell him.

Tell him I'll wait for him downstairs after school at noon.

If at ordinary times, Samuel would definitely turn to Felton.

But he was in a bad mood now.

When you are in a bad mood, you want to find someone to vent.

Just in time, Yvonne's WeChat let him vent.

He typed a line, frowning, and sent it directly.

Song: Why can't you say to him on your own?

Why should I convey it?

Who am I?

Do we know each other?

The other side.

Yvonne sent a WeChat message, and after a while, her cell phone.

rang.

She looked at the reply.

After a few seconds, she was extremely upset.

She couldn't believe what she got and looked through the reply once again. And she clicked into the profile of Samuel to check whether he sent to the right person.

But...how could Samuel talk to her like that?

She chased after Felton for two years. Although Felton has always been cold to her, Samuel and Tobin are accessible Every time they see her, they will take the initiative to greet her, saying a few words with her or joking.

Before, she wanted to get along with Felton, she sent WeChat to Samuel or Tobin, asking them to convey the message.

They never said anything.

But why this time...

Samuel actually said they were unfamiliar.

Yvonne suddenly remembered that someone told her before that Samuel was also interested in Nikita.

So, it was because of Nikita that their attitude became so bad?

Yvonne pinched her mobile phone.

Nikita again!

Why is she so shameless?

Hooking up with Felton, hooking up with Samuel, and hooking up with Lanny, but all the boys with excellent conditions in the school were attracted by her.

What a coquette!

After school. Noon.

Jade was waiting for Nikita in the office.

She kept looking at the outside of the office for ten minutes. After seeing Nikita walking near, she stood up. Not until Nikita walked in the office, she strode out.

“Nikita.”

Nikita just walked to the door, and Jade also came out.

When Jade saw her, her eyes lit up: “Are you hungry? Shall we go to the restaurant now?”

Nikita nodded: “Hmm.”

Jade booked a restaurant near the school campus. After leaving the school, it took about ten minutes to walk.

Jade attached great importance to this opportunity to eat.

Therefore, she chose a very high-end restaurant, which she was reluctant to spend on herself at usual.

They arrived at the restaurant

Chapter 277 It's not bad to realize now.

Nikita looked up at Jade and said: “Miss Sue, in fact, you don't have to spend so much money.

We can find a common place to eat.

This restaurant costs four or five thousand dollars per person.

For Jade, a high school teacher, to eat a meal that cost one third of her salary, was definitely a big expense.

Nikita didn't care much about these formal things.

For her, as long as it is clean and hygienic, she won't mind where to eat.

Jade smiled: "Nikita, you know, in fact, I want to come to this restaurant for a long time."

Nikita paused.

Jade smiled again, and her eyes were full of bitterness: "But I'm also reluctant. A meal costs thousands of dollars.

With these thousands of dollars, I can buy a better suit for my husband.

He often told me that when a man negotiates business, it is difficult to do it without paying attention to clothes and accessories."

"So, everything he wears and uses are expensive.

As for me, I can use less expensive things. Anyway, I am a woman, and what I'm using is not so important. "Having said that, Jade smiled again, but her eyes were full of irony.

She lived frugally and gave her husband the best.

But in the end, what was the reward?

Her husband cheated on another woman.

He wanted her to leave the marriage with nothing!

She won't be so stupid now!

She wanted to live for herself!

If Nikita can treat her, she can let her live another ten years, she wanted to use these ten years to live her own life.

Going to this restaurant that she had been longing for a long time was the first step for her to change herself.

"Now I have figured out that I shouldn't sacrifice my own interests to be kind to others. I can obviously treat myself better than others.

If people don't know how to love themselves, others would be less likely to take them seriously."

"So this time is my treat. Not only for you, but also for my little wish in a long time."

"I see." Nikita listened and nodded. "Then let's eat here."

Nikita had seen many women like Jade.

She devoted herself into everything for the whole family. Her husband and children use the best things, but her own food and clothing were the worst.

As a result, in the end, her husband cheated on her. And her children were not close to her and hold gratitude for her.

And then she suddenly realized that she needed to treat herself well.

But.It's not bad to realize in time.

Some women can't realize this idea throughout their life. They live their life like a tragedy.

The restaurant was quiet and elegant. After taking a seat, the waiter brought the menu. After Jade took it, she handed the menu to Nikita.

"Nikita, please order.

You can order whatever you like."

"Miss Sue, you should order.

Just give me a glass of lemonade. "Although Jade decided to be nice to herself, Nikita could figure out that she must be very nervous now. And her husband spent all her money. There won't be much left after paying for this meal.

"Nikita, you don't have to be so polite..."

"I'll have a dessert." Nikita's slender fingers gently knocked on the table twice. She looked up and asked the waiter on the side, "Is there ice cream?"

The girl was wearing a fat school uniform, and her fair skin looked very young.

Chapter 278 Taking the Pulse with both Hands

But her aura was extremely sufficient.

The waiter bowed his head to the girl, and his attitude was more respectful than that of others, and his tone was somewhat respectful: "Yes, there are.

There are vanilla flavor, strawberry flavor, chocolate flavor and mango flavor. What flavors do you want?"

"Strawberry, then." Nikita finished ordering the ice cream. She turned to look at Jade, "Miss Sue, I finish ordering.

Please order the rest. I won't pick. I can eat anything."

"You like ice cream?"

Is one enough?

Would you like another one?"

"Then..." Nikita hesitated, "then add a mango one."

Jade smiled: "OK, then add another mango flavor."

It seems that she really likes dessert.

Although she likes desserts, she doesn't get chubby.

Thinking that she didn't dare to touch sweets in order to lose weight at usual, but her weight still rose uncontrollably, Jade envied her a little.

After ordering, the waiter left with the menu.

Jade couldn't wait to talk to Nikita about how she could cure her disease, how long she could live, and how is the chance to keep her baby.

But she thought it would be impatient of her to ask now.

They hadn't even eaten yet.

She should wait until they finish eating.

Nikita sat opposite her, seeing her hesitated to ask something, she smiled: "Miss Sue, I'm wondering whether you want to ask me if I can treat your disease."

Jade suddenly looked up: "I..."

Nikita raised her eyebrows: "Give me your hand, and I will take the pulse for you."

"Oh, good!" Jade paused for a few seconds, then immediately let her take the pulse.

"I need to take the pulse of both hands."

Both hands?

Jade paused again. And she let her take the other hand's pulse.

Nikita's slender fingers pressed on the wrists of her hands at the same time.

Jade widened her eyes, froze.

Pulse with both hands at the same time?

She had never seen it.

If someone else takes her a pulse like this, she would definitely think the person is a liar.

But this person is Nikita, although she was also very surprised, she felt secure.

Nikita is not a common person.

So it is normal that she treats others differently.

Moreover, the more special her treatment was, the more Jade felt safe.

Special treatment can show her medical skills.

Nikita took about a minute to take the pulse.

After finishing her pulse, she let go of Jade's hands.

Jade immediately asked nervously: "What do you think?"

“It’s better than I thought.” Nikita withdrew her hands. She directly told her the diagnosis result. “Your cancer can be cured. Through my treatment, it is no problem for you to live for more than ten or twenty years.”

“If you pay attention to yourself in the later period and take good care of it, it is also possible not to relapse throughout your lifetime.”

Even though Nikita told her at school that her illness could be cured, at this moment, after listening to Nikita firmly saying that it could be treated and prolong her life for more than ten or twenty years, Jade was still excited, and her eyes turned red uncontrollably.

“Enough, enough!” Jade choked with satisfaction. “I am very satisfied to live for more than ten years.”

According to the doctor, she can only live for two or three years at most.

Chapter 279 Nikita must be the valuable acquisition in her life.

Nikita can let her live more than ten years.

For a patient with advanced cancer, she had nothing to be dissatisfied with.

This was already an unexpected surprise.

“Well, what about my child?” Jade knew that she was a little greedy, wanting to live a few more years, and wanting to keep her child. There was no such good thing in the world.

But she still hoped that the child can stay.

“You can keep the baby, but there are risks.” Nikita thought for a moment and said, “If you insist on having this child, it will affect the treatment in the later period and may reduce your original life span.”

“Without the child, I’m sure you can live for twenty more years.”

“If you insist on keeping the child, you may only live ten or fifteen years.

But if you are lucky enough, it may not make any difference.

So, it’s up to you.”

“If I want to keep that child, I can still live for ten or fifteen years?” Jade couldn’t believe her ears.

She thought that Nikita would say that if she keeps the child, she could only live two or three years.

“Hmm.” Nikita nodded.

“So, my risk of keeping this child is that it may cost me a few years to live?”

“Hmm.”

“I choose to keep the child!” Jade made the decision without hesitation. “Nikita, I want to keep this child!”

She could keep the baby.

She could live for more than ten years.

She couldn't believe that she had such good luck.

Nikita must be the valuable acquisition in her life.

But at the beginning, she actually felt that Nikita was a fraud who played tricks.

She was ashamed of her previous opinion.

"Nikita, I'm sorry, you kindly reminded me at that time, but I still didn't believe you.

Also..."Jade ashamed can't go on.

"Now you believe in me?"

"I believe in you, of course!"

"Not afraid I'm a fraud?"

"You're not afraid that after treating by me, and you will get worse?"

"Not afraid." Jade wry smile, "I am already in the middle and advanced stage of cancer. And doctors say that I can live two or three years at most.

How bad can it be?"

"Yes." Nikita calculated the time and said, "Then we'll start the treatment within three days."

At that time, she almost finishes treating old Mr. Lambert.

"Within three days?" Jade was stunned, and she curiously said, "Why three days? Is it the effect after three days better than now?"

"I have patients right now." Nikita said tonelessly, "Your treatment has to be arranged in three days."

Jade paused again.

Besides her, Nikita has other patients?

So Nikita privately, still often treat others.

Jade suddenly remembered that Nikita's family conditions were not very good. She heard that if it weren't for the support of the Swift family, she couldn't come to N City to study in a high school at all.

Does she treat people to earn money to study?

That would be the case. Although she had the support of the Swift family, the money was limited after all.

She knew medical skills, and her medical skills are very good.

She can earn some money through treating others and save it, so that when she needs money, she doesn't have to ask the Swift family for anything.

After all, it must be hard to ask people for money.

Thinking of this, Jade took out her mobile phone: "Nikita, I will pay you.

I don't have much money on me now, so I can only give you 4000 dollars. I will be paid you at the end of the month, and then I..."

"No, I'll treat you for free.

Chapter 280 She is really single-minded to felton.

Nikita smiled.

Four thousand dollars?

Her initiate price of treatment starts from four million dollars.

For families like the Garretts and the Lamberts, who are not short of money, her initiate price is hundreds of millions.

Jade thought Nikita was embarrassed to accept it, so she had to take out her mobile phone and transfer money to her: "Nikita, you'd better accept it.

As a teacher, I can't take advantage of you as a student. "

"Miss Sue, please put away your mobile phone." Nikita didn't want to talk about the four thousand dollars. She lightly said something to let Jade stop talking about the medical fee.

"I'm afraid Miss Sue can't afford the price I ask.

If you really want to pay me, add three zeros to four thousand.”

Three zeros after four thousand?

Jade silently counted. Stunned, she silently took back her mobile phone.

Forget about the fee.

She felt that she might have misunderstood this Nikita.

If she charges four million for treating people Then isn't it she not only not poor at all, but extremely rich?

Jade noticed at this time that Nikita was not like a girl who had lived in the countryside for more than ten years and came to live in the city for the first time.

Even if she was sitting in such a high-class restaurant at this time, she didn't show any discomfort or curiosity.

Her posture can be called graceful.

Even she took a water cup seemed to have been trained professionally on etiquette. Her every move was full of elegance and aristocratic demeanor.

Jade looked at the girl with outstanding appearance and temperament, and couldn't help but wonder if all the information they got was false.

A girl who grew up in a remote mountainous area can treat others, do Fengshui and speak French. She is elegant and noble, and even the real rich and powerful girls can't compare with her.

Did she have any other identities?

And her present identity was to hide her true identity?

After school, Yvonne stood at the intersection where Felton had to pass every day, waiting for him.

Students came out of the teaching building one after another.

Yvonne waited for almost ten minutes before she saw Felton coming out slowly.

He was followed by Samuel and Tobin.
