

The Girl CB 461

Chapter 461 Cut off from the Swift Family Completely

The man Tammy said is Sheehan.

Margot and Patrick thought of that young president of the Lambert family. His ruthless means were well-known in the business circle. They shuddered at the same time.

If the president of the Lambert really made a move.

Can they continue to stay in N City?

They thought of some terrible consequences. Their faces were more pale.

They can't even say anything.

They neither offend the lady of the Lambert family nor offend the current ruler of the Lambert family.

"And us."

Samuel naturally wants to support his goddess.

He looked at Margot and, who had been scared to pale and didn't dare to say a word again. His expressions were fierce. "If you two old guys dare to bully Niky again, the Garcia family and the Johnson family will not let you go easily!"

The Garcia family and the Johnson family?

Margot and Patrick got greatly frightened again.

Is it the Garcia family and the Johnson family second only to the four families?

Yes, it must be.

Those people who can play with Young Master Lambert must be rich and prominent.

For a time, Margot and Patrick were shocked greatly so many times in few minutes, which was more than they have ever been in their lives.

This group of people with Nikita.

Unexpectedly, all of them have extraordinary identities.

But Nikita hasn't studied in this school for a long time. How can she know so many noble students and become good friends with them?

These prominent and powerful children are all helping her out one by one....

These people threatened them one by one.

Margot and Patrick were stunned, angry and afraid. Both of them seemed to be about to collapse. Their faces were pale to death.

They are prominent in front of others at ordinary times. But now they could only be scolded by these teenagers. They dare not say anything.

Whether the Lambert family or the Johnson family, it is as easy to go against the Swift family as killing ants.

"Tomorrow, I will ask my lawyer to go to the Swift Group to talk with you about severing the parent-child relationship." Nikita, who has been silent without making a sound, said to them indifferently.

Margot and Patrick looked up at her in astonishment.

Until this moment, they believed Nikita really wanted to sever relations with them.

Instead of losing her temper.

She was waiting for them to coax her to go home.

She really wants to break away from the Swift family completely.

She would cut off from them completely.

Nikita looked at their incredible eyes coldly: "Miss Dan and Mr. Swift, are you free. tomorrow?"

When she called them Miss Dan and Mr. Swift, their faces became more and more pale.

Both of them sipped their lips tightly. Their faces were livid. They didn't speak anything.

Nikita also didn't want to wait for their answer. Said that, she turned around and walked into the elevator behind her.

"Let's go." Felton put his hands into trouser pockets. His eyes flashed across coldness. Before entering the elevator, he took a warning look at Margot and Patrick.

The rest of the people also walked into the elevator.

Soon, the elevator door closed.

Margot and Patrick were shocked and stood at the elevator for a long time.

Both of them look stupefied as if they were sleepwalking.

Until the staff in the banquet hall came to them and said that the guests were waiting here, so they'd come here quickly, they could come back to earth.

Thinking of the upcoming birthday dinner, Margot suddenly wanted to escape.

There are many big shots coming here tonight.

In the past, Swift family couldn't invite these big shots.

Chapter 462 They lost all hope.

This time, Margot released the news in advance, saying that Young Master Lambert and Yvonne were close, so he would attend Yvonne's birthday party tonight.

At the whole N City.

Everyone wanted to be linked to the Lambert family,

Some bosses of large enterprises who haven't got along well with Swift family before have come here, even if they were not invited by the Swift family.

Of course, these people didn't come here to attend Yvonne's birthday dinner.

They want to find a chance to meet the people of the Lambert family at the banquet.

But now...

Young Master Lambert wouldn't attend the birthday party tonight.

She released the news in advance and invited so many guests. Her purpose was telling everyone that the Swift family had a relationship with the Lambert family.

With this relationship.

No matter what the Swift family wants to do in the future, it will become very easy.

On the contrary.

If Young Master Lambert doesn't show up tonight, others will definitely suspect that she is lying. The Swift Group was negotiating with several companies about some projects that were very profitable.

These projects may be ruined because of it.

Margot thought of many terrible consequences.

Her face was getting more and more pale. She grabbed Patrick's arm with one hand and clasped her fingers tightly on his arm.

Patrick frowned because of pain.

"What should we do?" Margot murmured with a pale face, "Patrick, what should we do, what about the Swift Group?"

"We lose all hope."

Patrick's face was also pale.

Margot thought of those things, so did he.

Originally, the current predicament of the Swift Group has turned around.

Several banks have promised them, saying that they will give the Swift family a loan recently.

There are also several companies who take the initiative to meet them and want to cooperate with the project of the Swift family.

When Young Master Lambert showed up tonight, these things can be implemented.

They could completely settle the crisis of the Swift Group.

These days, they were relieved, so they could fall asleep in the evening.

They thought the loan and cooperation were certain things.

They didn't expect that Yvonne had lied to them.

"Don't worry too much, Margot.

Every cloud has a silver lining. There must be another way." Patrick comforted his wife in his mouth, but he had no way at all. He was also worried to death.

"What else can we do?!" Margot's eyes were red. She bit her lips tightly, growling, "Do you think that if Young Master Lambert doesn't attend the party tonight, we can get that two loans?"

And these investments, can we get it?

Patrick sipped his lips and could not speak anything.

If we can't get the loans, we can't achieve the turnover of capital in our company, which will lead to many projects not running.

If the projects are unfinished, the Swift Group will lose more money...

There are more and more losses, but they have no way to fill them. Then the Swift Group... "Is it necessary to continue the banquet tonight?" Patrick's voice is weak. "I think it is better to cancel it."

If Yvonne hadn't said that Young Master Lambert would attend this party.

They won't spend millions on this birthday party.

Tonight is Yvonne's birthday party, but in fact, they prepared this party for Young Master Lambert.

"No, we can't cancel it!" Margot immediately shook her head and said, "We have to continue this banquet."

"There are so many people invited tonight. If it is temporarily canceled, how can we explain it?"

"What can we say when they ask us?" Patrick frowned.

Margot turned pale and could not speak anything.

At this moment, her cell phone rang.

It's Yvonne.

Chapter 463 How Should I End Tonight without Losing Our Reputation!

Margot looked at the caller ID showing up on her smartphone screen. Her eyes were devoid of the usual gentleness and love. She pursed her lips tightly and picked up the phone with a bit of anger.

"Mom, my brother and I have arrived at the hotel." Yvonne's voice was soft and sweet. "We just went to the banquet hall. But we didn't see you and Dad. Did you arrive at the hotel? Where are you now?"

Thinking that Yvonne had caused all the troubles of tonight, Margot couldn't help but feel angry. She took a deep breath and said, "I'm in the lobby with your father."

"In the lobby? We are in the lobby now. Why didn't I see you guys? My brother and I will be right over!" Yvonne hung up the phone.

Looking at Margot's expression at the moment, Patrick hesitated and sighed, "Margot, when you see Yvonne later, you shouldn't be too harsh... There must be a reason for her to do so. Let's hear what she says first."

Margot pursed her lips and didn't say anything with a sullen face.

A moment later...

"Dad, Mom!" After seeing them, Yvonne walked over to them. She reached out to hold Margot's arm, as she usually did, and said affectionately, "What are you doing here?"

"Hello, Mr. Swift and Mrs. Swift." The two best friends of Yvonne greeted Margot and Patrick politely.

Margot nodded lightly at them.

“Patrick, take Yvonne’s friends there first. Take care of the girls. Yvonne and I will come over later.”

Margot’s voice was a bit chilly. And she didn’t touch Yvonne’s head like she usually did. Yvonne sensed something was wrong almost immediately. She held her head to look at Margot with some surprise.

Nathan also felt it was weird. He looked up at Margot with his long, narrow, dark eyes.

There was not a smile on Margot’s face. Her expression was sullen. She looked very different from usual.

“Sure. That’s okay.” Patrick nodded, then greeted Nathan, “Let’s go over first.”

Even Yvonne’s two friends felt that the atmosphere was weird.

Today was Yvonne’s birthday.

But Yvonne’s parents didn’t look happy at all. In particular, her mom had a cold face.

It was really strange.

Patrick took the other away.

Yvonne called out with some anxiety, “Mom, is there something you want to tell me?”

Margot had purposely asked the others to leave and let her stay.

So, she must have something to say to her.

Margot turned her head. Looking at her daughter’s perfect and obedient look, she did not have the usual gentleness in her eyes. Her gaze was filled with suppressed anger. She questioned coldly, “Why did you lie to me and your father?”

Yvonne froze instantly. Her heart did a complete somersault. She blinked and replied, “Mom, what are you... What are you talking about?”

Margot yanked her hand away and said angrily, “Your father and I are so embarrassed because of you. Why did you lie to us and tell us that the Young Master Lambert is close to you and will come to your birthday dinner tonight?”

Yvonne’s expression suddenly changed. Her eyes widened in shock.

“Mom, you...”

She hadn’t said anything yet. The birthday party tonight hadn’t even officially started yet. How could Margot find out...

“You want to ask how did I know? Your father and I met the Young Master Lambert you’ve mentioned. He told us.” Margot’s expression was terrible when she spoke of this, “Do you know how your father and I were mocked?”

“Why did you lie?” Margot said angrily, “Do you know how many people I invited tonight? Do you know how many of these people came here for the sake of Young Master Lambert? How should I end tonight without losing our reputation!”

Chapter 464 You Want Me to Beg Nikita?!

Yvonne’s face went white all of a sudden.

Her face turned pale as she looked at Margot, who looked a little grim and scary in her shocked anger. Her eyes were instantly red. She said in a lightly trembling voice, “Mom, I... I didn’t mean to do it. I was just afraid that if you and Dad found your real daughter, you wouldn’t like me anymore.”

“I want you guys to value me. I don’t want you to think I’m useless. I was afraid that you. would ask me to leave the Swift family because of Nikita.”

As Yvonne spoke, she cried. Her large teardrops fell on her fair and clear face. "I don't want to leave you and Dad. I was so afraid you would not want me anymore. The night you brought Nikita back, I had a dream. I dreamed that you and Dad didn't want me anymore, and then I was sent back to that remote, poor mountain area."

"I begged you not to kick me out of the Swift Family. Please don't send me back. But..." The more she spoke, the sadder she became. Her face was covered with wet tear marks, "Mom, I was really scared. I woke up in a panic. And when I woke up, I was so scared that the dream would become real."

"So, when you asked me if I knew Young Master Lambert and if I could invite him to my birthday party, I lied." Yvonne was crying so hard that her shoulders trembled, "I just wanted you and Dad to think I was useful. Then you wouldn't kick me out."

Margot was furious. But looking at Yvonne crying like this, her heart immediately softened. again.

For more than ten years, Yvonne had been living with the Swift family. Yvonne had always been a good girl, not letting her worry.

She lied this time because she cared for them too much and was afraid they would let her leave the Swift family.

Thinking that way, Margot eased her expression a bit.

But when she thought of the party tonight, her expression was still bad, "Even if you were worried and scared, you shouldn't have told a lie like this."

"I know I'm wrong." Yvonne bit her lip and showed a pitiful look. She reached out and gently tugged Margot's arm, crying, "Mom, I'm sorry. I know I'm wrong. I will never lie again."

"Mom, will you forgive me this time..."

She cried as if she was about to lose her breath.

Margot didn't make a sound.

Yvonne cried for a while. She almost cried her eyes out. Only then did Margot calm down. a little and said, "Yvonne, I can forgive you this time. However, many of the guests came here tonight for Young Master Lambert. If he does not attend, I think you should know what will happen to the Swift family in the future."

"If the Swift family can't get through this time, our group will face bankruptcy. Once the Swift Group goes bankrupt, all our assets will be liquidated by then, including all our real estate. Our whole family could be sleeping on the streets."

Yvonne looked up in horror.

Sleeping on the streets?

"So, no matter what, Young Master Lambert has to be present tonight."

"But..." Yvonne looked stunned. There were still tears on her face, "I invited him. He refused to come."

"So, you should find Nikita and beg her to do this favor now," Margot thought for a while. This was the only way. "She came to the hotel with Young Master Lambert. They should be close. If Nikita is willing to help, Young Master Lambert will come to our party for Nikita's sake."

"Mom, what are you saying? You Want Me to Beg Nikita?!" Yvonne thought she didn't hear Margot clearly.

Margot looked at her with a serious expression, "Yes, Yvonne. I know it won't be easy for you to do that. But for the sake of the Swift family, please go to Nikita."

Chapter 465 She Didn't Want to Lose Everything She Had Now

"No, I'm not going!" Yvonne bit her lips tightly and acted resisting. She shook her head and said very firmly, "I'm not going to beg her. The worst thing is, we'll cancel the birthday party now. I won't have this birthday dinner."

Let her beg Nikita.

She would rather die.

Margot instantly frowned, "It's not about your birthday party anymore. Yvonne, you've always been sensible. Can't you even do this for the Swift family?"

"Do you still want to go to college? Do you still want to go to St. John's College of Music as an exchange student?"

"Or do you want to see the Swift family go bankrupt? If the Swift family went bankrupt, would you still be able to live such a good life that is provided by our family?"

Yvonne's face turned pale.

She clenched her fists and gritted her teeth so tightly that a blood mark was made on her lip.

Certainly, she didn't want to lose everything she had now.

Her greatest fear was to go back to her old life.

When she thought of that poor mountainous area where nobody wanted to go and all the suffering, she had endured all those years. She was scared to death.

But she didn't want to beg Nikita either.

“Mom, isn’t there any other way?” She cried.

At that moment, the elevator door across the hall opened. A group of people came out from inside.

Seeing the group of people coming out of the elevator, Margot froze and changed her expression.

She froze for a few seconds, and then immediately walked over quickly.

“Boss Caleb, Boss Harding, Chairman Sung, where are you going?” Margot caught up with those people who were walking towards the outside of the hotel.

Hearing a voice behind them, the group stopped in their tracks.

Turning around and looking at Margot who had caught up with them, the man named Boss Caleb snorted coldly, with an unpleasant expression on his face and a rather nonchalant tone, “Boss Dan, you really could do anything to get investment for the Swift vant to Lose Everymung ane mau NOW

Group.”

Margot’s face changed as she was mocked. She said, “Boss Caleb, what do you mean by that? I don’t quite understand.”

“Well, Boss Dan, are you trying to fool us? Don’t you know that a lie will always be a lie and the truth will always be uncovered? I have to say, you are bold. You dare to fake your connection with the Lambert family and told it to the public.”

Boss Caleb paused and looked up at Yvonne, who was standing not far away and still had a pale, haggard face. He snorted mockingly, “Boss Dan, if you want to make a connection. with Young Master Lambert, you should be aware of your daughter’s quality.”

“Your daughter has a plain face. How could you have the nerve to say that Young Master Lambert likes her? Young Master Lambert has so many beautiful ladies around him. Those beautiful ladies are his types.”

Margot’s ears buzzed. Her brain went blank.

“The Songwon will cancel the cooperation with the Swift Group. Since we have not signed the contract yet, it won’t be considered as breaking the contract. The Swift Group doesn’t have to send anyone over to talk to us about this in the future.”

“Salsa will cancel the cooperation with the Swift Group.”

“Boss Dan, you are not honest. How could you fool us with such a lie? The Swift Group has offended a large part of the industry this time. If you want anyone to help you in the future, it will be impossible.”

After they sneered at Margot, they turned around and left in anger.

Margot hadn’t quite come back to her senses, another group of people came out of another elevator.

They were all guests invited by Margot tonight.

Two middle-aged women, dressed in expensive clothes, walked toward Margot with a contemptuous look.

Chapter 466 A sharp fall in the Swift Group’s share

“It’s so funny. She’s been telling people all day long that Young Master Lambert has a crush on her daughter. I told you, her daughter is not even good-looking. How could Young Master Lambert be interested in her daughter?”

“Some people just like to blow their own trumpet. Now everyone knows that Young Master Lambert doesn’t know her daughter at all. She tried to make a connection with Young Master Lambert, but she was exposed. It’s really humiliating.”

“You... What are you saying?” Hearing the sneering of the two, Margot was so angry that her body trembled.

“You still want to fool us around? Unfortunately, Young Master Lambert said that he didn’t know your daughter. So, you and your daughter should not try hard to make a connection with him.” The middle-aged woman spoke with contempt in her eyes, “There were so many people there. Everyone heard it.”

“Hahahaha, what a shame.”

Two women just came to mock Tang Man, several people usually accumulated resentment, this Tang Man is also deliberately invited them, want to show off.

But it turned out that Margot was humiliated instead.

These two women certainly want to take advantage of the opportunity to make a good mockery of Margot.

Seeing that Margot’s face was red and gloomy, and the veins on her forehead were jumping up, the two women smiled in satisfaction and turned around to leave arm in arm. “Boss Zoel, please stay.”

“Boss Shelton, the party is about to start. You should eat before you leave.”

“Manager Darwin, I thought we had a deal on the loan.”

Margot was confused when she saw Patrick coming out of the elevator and following a group of people with a careful, ingratiating smile on his face.

But no one paid any attention to him. The group walked out of the hotel without looking back.

Patrick stood in front of the hotel, watching that group of people get into their cars and leave. His shoulders crumpled helplessly. He looked exhausted.

After a few moments, he turned around and walked toward Margot with a haggard look on his face.

“Call off the party.” Patrick’s voice was hoarse, “The guests are all gone. Not a single one left.”

“What the hell is going on?” Margot’s voice trembled, “How did they know...”

“They ran into Young Master Lambert upstairs.” Patrick laughed bitterly, “A guest knew Young Master Lambert and went up to say hello, and then...”

Margot clenched her fingers. Her lips turned white, “Is the loan...”

Patrick’s voice was husky and tired. “Manager Darwin told us that we should wait. The loan won’t be given to us right away.”

Both of them understood what “wait” meant.

This was just a polite way of refusing.

“We won’t get the loan. The cooperation is over...” Margot swayed and felt dizzy.

The phone rang suddenly.

It was Margot’s smartphone.

It rang sharply like a bomb.

Margot picked up the phone. Seeing that it was a vice president of the Swift Group calling, she couldn't help feeling nervous. She picked it up immediately.

"Boss Dan, a sharp fall is happening in the Swift Group's share price..." From the other end of the line, the vice president sounded a bit panicked.

"I don't know what happened. Ten minutes ago, the Swift Group's stock price suddenly fell. And it's still falling. It has never happened before. It's horrible. And we can't find out the reason."

The vice president's voice was trembling. "Boss Dan, what should we do now? We can't afford our share being falling like this. If this continues, within half an hour, I'm afraid..."

Chapter 467 Her Birthday Party Was Cancelled

The Swift Group was about to go bankrupt

Margot's face turned pale in a flash.

She felt as if all her strength had been drained from her body instantly. She felt weak. She felt as if her feet were soft and weak, as if she were stepping on cotton, unable to find support. Instantly, she fell to the side.

"Margot!" Patrick exclaimed and caught her in time.

He looked down and found that Margot's face was as white as a sheet. Her lips were as white as a sheet. Her face was pale.

She leaned against Patrick and kept shaking. She felt a sudden blackness in front of her eyes. Her head spins dizzily.

“Margot, are you okay? Who’s calling? What happened!” Patrick was shocked by her look.

“Mom!” Just coming out of the elevator, Nathan saw Margot fall to the ground.

He rushed over to hold Margot. Seeing Margot’s face, he changed into a serious look.

He didn’t have time to think about it and turned to Patrick, saying, “Take Mom to the hospital right away.”

Just then, Nathan touched Margot’s hands.

Margot’s hands were as cold as ice, which was a frightening sensation.

It was summer. The weather was hot.

Margot’s lips moved. It looked like she wanted to say something. But she couldn’t make a sound.

A strong feeling of dizziness hit her again. She closed both eyes and passed out.

Patrick and Nathan did not dare to delay for a moment. Nathan carried Margot on his back and quickly walked out of the hotel.

Yvonne was still standing in the same place with a pale face. Her gaze was a little dull. She looked like a fool.

Her birthday dinner party was canceled.

It was a dinner party to celebrate her eighteenth birthday.

This dinner party was supposed to be a glorious event for her. She had been looking forward to it and preparing for it for so many days.

Now, it was canceled.

All the guests were gone.

On the opposite side, the door of the elevator opened again. This time, Yvonne's two friends came out from inside.

The two girls had just seen a piece of news on Facebook. When they came out of the elevator, they saw Yvonne standing a few feet away. She was looking at her feet motionlessly with a complicated expression.

What a world.

One moment before, they were envying Yvonne, thinking that Yvonne was a winner in life.

But the turn came so quickly.

Just a few minutes ago, they saw a piece of news about the Swift family.

It was released by the official account of a financial news outlet.

The Swift Group was now facing a difficult situation. Their share was falling sharply. And their market value had plummeted by hundreds of millions.,

And the falling of their share price was still going on.

According to this horrible situation, the Swift Group's share price would hit the bottom soon.

The two looked at Yvonne's disoriented look and thought she had known about it. After thinking about it, they still went forward and pretended to comfort her, "Yvonne, don't worry. It happens all the time. The share price going up and down is very normal. Although the falling of the Swift Group's share price this time is a bit terrible, it might be able to rise back soon, right?"

"Yes. The stock market is always like this, up and down. Now it's a scary falling, but it might come back up again soon."

"What? Share price?" Yvonne suddenly looked up at them.

Seeing this reaction, one girl froze, "You don't know that?"

"What?" Yvonne still had that bewildered look.

The girl took out her phone, found the news, and showed it to her, "Your family's business. The Swift Group's share prices took a sharp tumble. Look, this news was released five minutes ago."

Chapter 468 Be Counted as an Honorable End

The Swift Group's share prices took a sharp tumble?

Yvonne's expression changed drastically. She snatched the phone from the girl's hand. She looked down at the news. After a few seconds, when she looked up again, her face was as white as if she had been very sick.

Even if she didn't understand the stock market, she knew what a slump in the prices of stocks meant.

Thinking about what Margot said to her before that if the Swift Group went bankrupt, their family would have to sleep on the streets, and she might not even be able to go to college...

Yvonne's face soon went as white as a sheet. Her hand trembled as she held the phone.

No. She wouldn't accept this...

She didn't want to live on the streets...

She didn't want to be thought of as a wretch.

She had already left that poor mountainous area. Her current life was a life that many people envied. She didn't want to go back to the old days. She didn't want to be thrown back to what she used to be.

In a hall, an auction was going on.

"$7,000,000 once, $7,000,000 twice, any more callers?"

"Seven million dollars for the last time. Deal!"

The diamond necklace on the stage was carefully put away. Off the stage, there was a heated debate.

"Who is the buyer? Isn't the buyer too generous?"

"This buyer spent seven million dollars on this diamond necklace without a blink of an eye. Others would only call the price up by several hundred thousand, at most. But this buyer directly called the price up by about ten million. It's the first time I've seen someone spend money like this on an auction."

"He's so rich. Do you think he bought it for collecting or as a gift?"

“This is a female necklace. It should be a gift for his lady.”

“Well, I wish I could know who this lucky woman is. Spending millions just to win a smile from a beauty.”

In a corner of the auction hall, a man with a noble temperament and handsome looks raised his head at the moment the necklace was sold. He looked towards the auction stage with deep, cold eyes and quickly lowered his eyes. He continued to stare at his smartphone.

The man’s long and slender fingers clicked rapidly on the screen of the phone. A set of red numbers flashed on the phone’s pure black screen background. And after a while, a red wavy line appeared.

A few minutes later...

The man put away his phone and looked at the time. He got up and left before the auction was over.

Just as he walked out of the auction hall, his phone rang.

After picking it up, from the other end of the line came a lazy, sexy voice, asking curiously, “Mr. Lambert, the Swift Group’s shares suddenly plummeted. Did you do that?”

Sheehan got into the elevator and pressed B1.

The elevator door closed. But the connection in the elevator was still good. He leaned his slender, upright body in one corner. With his straight legs folded, he answered in a light voice, "Well, I did it to teach them a little lesson."

Yates on the other end, "

After a few seconds, Yates' surprised voice rang out, "You did it yourself?"

Sheehan responded with a light "hmm".

Yates, "Well, how could it bother you, the extinguished Mr. Lambert, to do it by yourself? No wonder the Swift Group's stock price fell so quickly. I knew it. If you had asked someone to do it, the Swift Group share price would not fall like that so quickly."

"Sure enough. When it is related to the girl you like, even the smallest thing will become a big deal to you, right? Mr. Lambert?"

Yates was impressed, "Be finished by you, a small group like Swift Group could be counted as an honorable end."

Chapter 470 It Will Only Be Her.

"After dinner, you should propose going out for a walk. Just take a walk around the mall. If she sees something she likes, you should buy it for her. I've heard that women think a man is most handsome when he's working hard and paying the bills."

"After shopping, you should suggest that there's a good movie recently. Invite her to go to the movies with you."

"It's dark in the movie theater when the movie is playing. Pretend you can't see and 'accidentally' touch her hand, or touch her face, to test her reaction. If she's not very resistant, you don't need me to tell you what to do next, do you?"

Yates sounded like he had a lot of experience.

After hearing this, Sheehan was silent for a few seconds and asked skeptically, "Are you sure this will work?"

"Of course, it will work!"

"The candlelit dinner and the violin, will she like those things?"

"Every woman loves romance. Especially for young women, it will be more important to them."

"Is that so?" Sheehan remained a bit skeptical.

These tactics would probably work with other girls.

But with Nikita, he had no idea.

"Mr. Lambert, trust me, it will work! It's getting late, so hurry up and do it. Nikita might be touched by you and agreed to be your girlfriend!"

Yates was confident, "If she really agrees to be your girlfriend, don't forget my benefit."

Sheehan pursed his lips and was pleased by the part about "girlfriend". He smiled, "If it works, I won't let you down."

"In that case, I want that limited edition Ferrari in your garage!"

"Help me get my girl, ten limited editions will be fine with me."

“Shit, ten limited editions! For your words, I’ll only take Nikita as my young sister-in-law!”

The title “young sister-in-law” made Sheehan more cheerful.

Even his eyes were smiling.

“Well, your future sister-in-law will only be her.”

After that, Sheehan hung up the phone.

18:01

“Mr. Lambert,” Seeing him, the two men in black suits waiting beside the sports immediately came forward and said respectfully, “This is the necklace you have auctioned. Please take a look at it. If there is nothing wrong with it, please sign it.”

In the box held by the man was the diamond necklace Sheehan had previously auctioned.

After the man finished speaking, another staff member beside him put on white gloves and carefully opened the box.

Then the staff carefully took the necklace out of the box.

“Mr. Lambert, please take a look at it.” Both of them were extremely careful. It was a necklace of seven million dollars. If something went wrong, they could not afford to pay for it for the rest of their lives.

Sheehan looked at it with downcast eyes, and after a few seconds, nodded, “Well, put it back.”

The staff carefully put the necklace back again and handed the box to Sheehan with both hands.

Sheehan got into the car and looked at the time.

By this time, Nikita had been out of school for some time.

He thought about it and sent her a message.

Sheehan, “Are you home?”

After waiting for about two or three minutes, the phone vibrated.

Nikita replied briefly, one word, “Nope.”

Sheehan quickly replied, “Where are you?”

After waiting for almost a few more minutes, he received a location message. She was at the Centre Hotel.

The man lowered his eyes and looked at the location information sent. He squinted and couldn’t help but ask, “Are you there alone?”
