

The Girl CB 641

Chapter 641 I don't like Yvonne.

Yvonne gently chewed on her lip, and her eyes flashed timidly. "Dad, I saw an old woman in the room. Is that Nanny?"

Patrick's face suddenly changed, and he quickly took steps forward to look into the ward.

In the ward

Margot was lying in bed with liquid transfusion.

There was still a person sitting beside the bed.

It was an old lady with exquisite clothes, gray hair and elegant manners.

She was wearing a dark purple silk cheongsam, with expensive jade jewelry on her wrist and neck, her skin very white. Although she was already in her sixties, it was easy to know that she was definitely a beauty with exquisite complexion when she was young.

And her face was similar to Nikita.

Actually, Nikita was closely similar to her.

When he saw the old lady sitting by the bed, Patrick also stood stiff at the door and did not dare to go in.

Previously, Margot fell out with her family for marrying him.

So he was guilty when suddenly seeing his mother-in-law.

Margot found her husband and daughter standing at the door and said, "Patrick. Yvonne."

“Mommy.” Yvonne called sweetly, walking into the room.

Patrick also walked into the room, burying his head.

Seeing him, Cathleen sitting by the bed turned indifferent.

She bridled at this man who stole her daughter and made her keep her distance from her family.

She didn’t like him at the beginning.

She still disliked him now.

Then, she looked up and down at Yvonne sharply and emotionless.

“Mom, this is Yvonne.” Margot held Yvonne’s hand and winked at her. “Yvonne, this is your grandmother. Call her quickly.”

Yvonne felt Cathleen was surveying her, so she raised her eyes at this lady, whose eyes were sharp and keen, as if she could see through her heart. Yvonne’s heart skipped a beat, and her face changed slightly.

She was somewhat guilty, and then she looked down nervously.

She had a sweet tongue and good academic performance, so she was always spoiled by her elders.

But she could feel that the grandmother didn’t like her very much at the first sight.

Cathleen was still staring at her, not looking away.

Yvonne felt nervously. She bit her lip and then said gently. "Grandmother."

Her voice was soft and weak.

Cathleen did not answer.

"Mom, Yvonne called you." Margot saw Yvonne's timid appearance, so she reminded.

"Fine." Cathleen answered coldly.

"Yvonne, take a cup of water to your nanny." Margot saw that Cathleen disliked Yvonne very much, so she patted her gently and gave her a wink.

Yvonne got the hint, nodding and standing up immediately.

"No need." Cathleen's voice was cold. "I am not thirsty."

Yvonne was about to pour water.

Hearing Cathleen's words, she stood still embarrassingly.

"Grandma, I'll peel an apple for you." Looking at Cathleen's cold look, Yvonne chewed her lips, took a deep breath and turned to take an apple out from the basket.

"I just had dinner and wasn't hungry." Cathleen refused coldly once again.

Yvonne's face turned stiff, squeezing the apple in her hand.

Chapter 642 Yvonne's trick didn't work on Cathleen.

"Mom!" Margot said in grievance.

Cathleen toned down her mood. "Peel an apple for your mom. My stomach's vulnerable, so I can't eat too much at night."

"I forgot your grandmother had a stomachache." Margot echoed, "I want to eat fruit. Yvonne, just peel one for me."

"Fine." Yvonne answered gently, walking to sit down by Margot, and peeled the apple in her hand.

She looked like clever and lovely, her eyes gloomy.

Cathleen looked at Patrick who stood aside silently, sneering. "You stole my daughter to deliver children for you. But you're even dumb in front of her mom?"

Patrick raised his head nervously. "Mom."

Cathleen sniffed at him and turned his head, snorting coldly.

This son-in-law doesn't meet her standards at all.

He is so timid and indecisive.

He was only handsome when he was young, so that her daughter was coaxed by him into breaking up with the family.

It is also because they raised their daughter so carefully and preciously.

So Margot became an innocent woman who only cared about love.

Otherwise, how can Patrick marry her daughter?

So she disliked Yvonne's timid look just now.

She is independent woman good at work.

She also does business in her husband's company

That the company became so big is also attributed to her efforts.

She is in the high position, and her employees men or women, are capable, so she dislikes vulnerable women most. If Yvonne was her employee, he would be fired by her.

Yvonne always pretended to be vulnerable to get others' pity.

Her tricks always worked on others.

Unexpectedly, this tactic didn't work on Cathleen.

Not only did Cathleen not like her, but also she was disgusted with it.

Cathleen set store by kinship, knowing Yvonne was not Margot's biological daughter, so she disliked her. Hearing the reason why Yvonne was adopted previously, she was suspicious about this thing.

Although Margot explained Yvonne forgot her own biological parents for losing memory,

Cathleen felt that the thing was not so simple.

She secretly decided that she had to figure out the matter.

She was not so innocent as her stupid daughter and son-in-law.

“Mom.” Margot pulled Cathleen’s sleeve. “You said you won’t blame him anymore. He’s really nice to me, and I’ve been happy these years. Mommy, don’t blame him, please.”

*Forget it.” Cathleen sighed, looking at her daughter helplessly. “You married him and gave birth for him. Even if I disliked him, what else can I do? Ask you to divorce now?”

“I’m afraid you’re going to fall out with me again.”

Margot didn’t speak, pressing her lips.

Patrick also didn’t dare to speak.

“You said he asked that somebody? What’s up?” Cathleen frowned, looking at the timid son-in-law and asking

She still didn’t like this son-in-law,

Chapter 643 Have you asked what happened?

But as she said, her daughter married him and delivered children for him, so she couldn’t let them divorce.

What else can she do but accept it?

Margot fell sick now Cathleen only wanted to cure her daughter, without paying more attention to other things.

Patrick very respected his mother in-law “Yes, but ”

He frowned at the thought of what the doctor had said.

Margot saw his look, asking nervously "But what? Did the doctor say who somebody was? Can he cure me?"

"Director Daniel didn't say Patrick frowned, "He only told me that Malcom was indeed admitted to his hospital, and a very powerful expert operated on him However, the identity of that person is mysterious and is not allowed to be disclosed. If they leak the information of that person, they will be punished."

Yvonne who was peeling the apple raised her head.

Her face looked very surprised Dad, is Malcorn in this hospital now?"

Patrick nodded. 'I heard that he had a heart attack in the afternoon and was sent over

Inexplicably, Yvonne recalled when Nikita left in advance in the afternoon.

She got the news that Nikita didn't participate in two tests in the afternoon after she finished the exams.

Thinking of that she saw Nikita in the hospital building, her heart was racing, an idea flashing in her mind.

She couldn't calm down, raising her head, and asked with a weird face. "Did the doctor say when Malcom had a heart attack?

Patrick thought this question was strange, and looked at her. "I didn't ask this. It should be around three o'clock when he was sent here."

At that time, a group of doctors was rushing to the operating room.

It's quite noisy.

"About three o'clock..." Yvonne whispered casually.

When Nikita left school, it was almost three o'clock.

The school was close to the hospital, both in the center of the city.

That thought came into her mind again, her face black.

No, it's impossible.

She quickly denied her absurd idea.

Nikita only knew some local methods and prescribed some simple medicine. She is not a doctor. How can she be qualified to operate on Malcom?

Who is Malcom?

He is a person that Nikita can't get in touch with forever.

But why did she suddenly leave school and appear in the hospital?

It may be a coincidence

"Yvonne, what's wrong with you?" Patrick looked at her distracted look, frowning.

“Nothing” Yvonne reacted calmly, biting his lips and whispering. “I’m just surprised that nobody reported the news. Dad, what’s up about that person you said?”

Patrick said, “That person operated on Malcom. I wanted to inquire about the specific information of that master and him to see your mother. But now...”

He sighed heavily

The light in Margot’s eyes went out, and she said with a white face: “There is no way at af?”

“Not exactly.” Patrick said hesitantly. “Director Daniel said that although he can’t tell us, we can ask the Lambert family”

Chapter 644 She only wants the best.

“Ask the Lambert family?” Margot was confused. “What’s the matter with it?”

Yvonne also looked up at Patrick

“Old Mr Lambert was cured by the master Director Daniel said that the master was really capable and had extraordinary medical skills If Margot can be treated by him, a miracle may really happen.”

“Isn’t Old Mr. Lambert at a vegetative state?” Margot said in astonishment.

Five years ago, he got a strange disease and suddenly fell into that state.

The Lambert family invited many authoritative doctors across the country to check his disease.

They did much manual inspection and instrument inspection.

But they couldn’t find the main cause.

Several medical experts studied his illness for five years.

But they still failed to let him wake up.

Everyone said that he was already at the vegetative state, and he couldn't wake up forever.

But Patrick said that the master cured him.

What does he mean "cure"?

Old Mr. Lambert woke up again?

"He woke up not long ago. I also heard that it was the master that cured him. He has now recovered almost as same as the normal. The Lambert family will hold a banquet for him to celebrate after a period, and invitations have been sent out."

Cathleen said.

Few people knew about that Old Mr. Lambert woke up.

The Lambert family didn't disclose the news.

But due to relationship between the Garrett family and the Lambert family, the former knew the news.

She also knew it from her cousin, and the Lambert family would hold a banquet, so it also invited the Garrett family. Although she got married, she was also invited.

Margot's eyes turned bright again.

Old Mr. Lambert was at the vegetative state, but that master cured him, though authoritative doctors couldn't cure him.

The master also operated on Malcom.

It showed that the master's medical skill was really quite high.

Perhaps, she would really be cured by that master.

"Due to the friendship between the Garrett family and the Lambert family, it should not be difficult to inquire about the news of that doctor" Cathleen said, "Margot, you go to visit Old Mr. Lambert tomorrow with me."

Hearing Cathleen's words, Yvonne was also interested.

The Lambert family was out of reach for her before.

But she can touch it now.

She doesn't care about Nikita so much now.

Although the man Nikita knew came from the Lambert family, he must only be one of its relatives.

He is different from the Felton, real master of the Lambert family.

For the Swift family, even a relative of the Lambert family was superior to the Swift family.

But it's different now.

She needn't care about a relative of the Lambert family with the Garrett family as her backer.

Nikita only has a relationship with a relative of the Lambert family.

But she

Yvonne's eyes were full of greediness, ambition and confidence of definitely obtaining something.

She, Yvonne, always wants the best.

She looks down on that relative It doesn't matter that Nikita got him.

Nikita took out her phone after she left the hospital

Chapter 645 A Small Payment.

She didn't browse her mobile phone only for three hours. When she turned it on, she missed several calls and more than ten unread WeChat messages.

The missed calls were all made by Sheehan.

Several WeChat messages were also sent by him.

Sheehan: Why didn't you answer the phone?

Sheehan: Where are you? I'm at school.

Sheehan: Shall we have dinner together in the evening? Give me a reply when you see the messages.

Sheehan: Are you busy now? I'll wait for you to have dinner. Give me a reply after you finished your work.

There were also several messages sent by Hugh and Sexton.

Hugh wrote a new song just finished, which was the title song of his new album. He hasn't record it in the studio.

After writing it, he sent it to her first and asked her for comments.

Sexton sent a task just received by him to her, and asked whether he needed to check it.

Nikita gave replies on by one after browsing them.

She texted a message to Sheehan first: I was busy just now. I had no time to see your messages. I just got off work.

She clicked on Hugh's new song and listened to it once. She spent several minutes to shift it and then sent the adaptation back.

When she was about to reply to Sexton's message, a phone came in.

It was Sheehan,

Nikita saw the name on the screen, and answered after a few seconds.

His deep voice came out from the phone, as if he said to her ear. "Where are you? I'll pick you up."

She looked at the passing vehicles and pedestrians on the street, saying, "At the hospital."

"Hospital? What's wrong with you?" At the other end of the mobile phone, the man was nervous.

"I'm fine. I came here to operate on my friend." She said lightly.

“Are you still in the hospital?”

“Yeah, I just walked out of the hospital and was waiting for the car.”

“I’ll arrive there within ten minutes. Wait for me.”

Hearing his words, she heard the man said to the driver. “Go to the hospital.”

She looked at the App of pooling cars. The car she hailed was only ten meters away her.

She canceled the order.

After she hung up the phone, she clicked into WeChat again.

Hugh sent her an emoji of kneeling on the ground to worship: Master, in your adaptation, I feel my song becomes more valuable.

Nikita sent back an emoji of ‘A Piece of Cake!’

Hugh answered immediately: Master, then I’ll use this version. I just sent it to my agent. He thought this one was nice, without any change, and asked me to use this.

Nikita: It’s up to yourself.

Hugh: That’s settled then. By the way, your bank account number is still the same as before.

Nikita:?

Tn the next second, she received a message from the bank. He transferred over million dollars to her.

Nikita: Is it you that gave me the money?

Hugh: A small payment for your adaptation.

She looked at the balance displayed on the account: Over 32 million dollars.

The money was more than before.

She doesn't usually use money in this card, which was earned by doing tasks before.

The money given by Hugh was accepted by her.

Around one million dollars was not much.

It was the friendship price.

If she received money according to her standard, she would get more.

But she didn't make a living through this way.

Chapter 646 Tenfold

But it is quite good to have an extra income.

Nikita concealed the message from the bank and clicked into the messages from Sexton.

Someone wanted to get Yvonne's previous information

Hancock Boss, this person wanted to get information about your sister's biological parents. You knew who is interested in them? Can I accept this task?

Nikita was also unexpected.

Someone is investigating Yvonne's biological parents and even entrusted the task to the Misty Organization.

The price is not cheap.

At least over one million dollars

That person was even willing to spend such a large sum

Tut tut, it's interesting.

Nikita also wanted to know who that person was.

She replied. Of course.

No matter who wants to investigate them, it is foolish not to earn money.

She is not interested in Yvonne's background.

But she is not interested in earning the money.

Hancock: Boss, then I'll take it. By the way, the medicinal materials you got before have been auctioned, and the follow-up feedback effect was very good. Now they're waiting to buy the second batch. Do you think we should increase the price?

Hancock: It is understandable that the price is set at a low point. But if we sell the medicine at such price, we won't earn money

Nikita thought for a while, and replied: Fine, increase the price.

Hancock: Boss, how much do you think we should increase?

Nikita Tenfold.

Hancock Holy craps! Boss, will it be too high?

Nikita High? I'm so considerate without saying 'hundredfold. Set this price, in spite whether they would buy or not. Anyway, my medicine needs no cries.

Nikita developed a supplement which can prolong life before. The price of the first batch was not close to the cost, nearly 1,400 dollars

Many people bought it, and the feedback was good.

The first batch of medicines was sold out.

Now it was in short supply.

It can't be bought even in a high price.

She cooperated with Euston Pharmacy, which had many branches across the country. The medicine became a popular product within a month after it was into the market

After she replied to the messages, she stood by the street to wait for Sheehan,

After waiting for a while, she felt bored and logged into the game to start a match.

“Nikita” A hoarse voice suddenly came behind her.

Nikita frowned, turning around unhappily.

Behind her, Nathan’s handsome and delicate face looked haggard and tired. If he was i

Seeing her turn around, he called her again hoarsely. “Nikita”

She didn’t speak, keeping indifferent as before.

Nathan smiled sadly, and asked hesitantly. “Nikita, I heard what happened in the afternoon from Mom. What’s the matter about the prescription?”

He felt the girl standing in front of him turned chilling.

Her cold eyes turned more indifferent.

Nathan felt nervous, saying, “I didn’t doubt you. I just wanted to figure out what happened. I know my parents must have misunderstood you, but as long as you explain it clearly, they won’t...”

Chapter 647 Another One Came

“Who do you think you are?”

Nathan was interrupted by the girl’s cold voice

When he raised his head, he saw a pair of chilling eyes

Indifferent and impatient

The indifferent and impatient look

"I don't care about you" Seeing Nathan's embarrassed look, she said coldly "What do you want to figure out? Did I poison you on purpose? Yes, I did. You have long annoyed me so I did. Anyway, you can't find it

"Are you satisfied with this answer? Get away"

Nathan's face turned white "Nathan, don't say it on impulse I know you won't do this."

"I won't?" She raised her eyebrows, sneering at him. "How dare you say I won't? I said I did What will you do? Call the police of sue me?"

Looking at the aggressive girl, he can't speak a sentence. "You

"Nikita, how dare you? You really did it. Another voice suddenly came angrily

Nikita squinted and sneered

Another annoying person came

They are about cure her on after one?

It's quite interesting

"Yvonne, why are you here? Nathan looked at Yvonne with a funous face “Brother I came out to buy something. When I saw you here, I came over Yvonne stared at kita angrily.

“I didn’t expect to hear her say that my mother was poisoned by her Nikita, how can you be so vicious”*

“Yvonne you misunderstood. She said it on impulse “Nathan frowned. “You go back first I will figure out the fact

“Misunderstanding she was jealous in her heart for Nathan still stood up for Nikita She admitted it by herself, but you said she didn’t do Brother she wants to poison our mother Why do you still stand up for her?”

“Don’t forget She has cut off relations with the Swift family

At this moment, Yvonne was very glad that Nikita had broken up with the Swift family

Otherwise, Nikita would be a threat for her, as long as Nikita still stayed at home.

Nathan likes her now.

She also can make Cathleen like her

It doesn’t matter whether Margot and Patrick like her or not. In case that Cathleen like her...

Fortunately, Nikita had broken up with the Swift family

She never knew what she lost forever.

Nathan said deeply “Well, Yvonne, I know how to deal with this matter. You go back.”

“Nathan Yvonne stamped angrily

Nikita looked at them coldly and smiled ironically

Nathan stood up for her as if he believed her

But he was still suspicious of her in his heart.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have asked her.

She was not interested in watching them quarrel, and saw a familiar silver-gray Rolls-Royce ahead. She walked toward it slowly, her eyes warmer

Chapter 648 But someone believed it.

"Nikita, don't leave. You can't leave, for the fact is unclear."

Yvonne chased to grab Nikita's arm when seeing her leave

Nikita had her back to Yvonne

As if Nikita had eyes on her back. Before Yvonne's hand touched her skirt, Nikita quickly turned around and grabbed her hand in midair

Yvonne's face suddenly turned white, and she frowned due to pain.

She felt as if her wrist was broken

"Ouch!" Her forehead sweated for pain, so she struggled to free herself from Nikita's hand

But it was useless.

Nikita's fingers looked like a soldering iron welded on her wrist, and no matter how she struggled, she can't break free.

Her eyes quickly turned red. She turned her head, saying in grievance. "Brother, it's painful."

Nathan frowning stepped forward and said "Nikita, you let go of her

Looking at him emotionless, and then looked at delicate Yvonne, Nikita threw her hand away, sneering.

She didn't push heavily, but Yvonne staggered backwards and fell down on the ground.

There were fine pebbles on the ground

When Yvonne fell on the ground, her hand pressed on a small stone, and her tender palm was punctured by a sharp stone. Suddenly, it was bleeding, and the blood dripped to the ground along her palm.

Yvonne held the bleeding hand, crying bitterly

"Yvonne Nathan's face turned anxious. He strode forward and squatted down to survey her bloody palm. Seeing her injured hand, he turned angrily

"Brother, I really don't know what I did wrong" Yvonne plunged into Nathan's chest and cried bitterly, "Why did Nikita do this to me? It's painful

Her palm was punctured by a sharp stone

The blood dripped to the ground along her palm continuously

Her palm was bloody, looking terrible

Probably because she was frightened and shed much blood, she looked paler than before

Her eyes were red and swollen with tears, and his face was full of wet tears.

Nathan has always been very fond of Yvonne, reluctant to let her suffer from grievance.

Seeing her bloody hand and her burying her head in his chest, he looked at Nikita furiously, his eyes red.
"If you're dissatisfied, you come to me. She's innocent"

Yvonne in his chest provoked her

Her lips moved silently

She said stentily Nikita Nathan cares more about me

From beginning to end Nikita looked at them indifferently, only hooking her lips.

An old fashioned way of smearing her

But someone believed it

Seeing Yvonne i provoking right, Nekita squinted and then stepped forward to pull Yvonne up from Nathan's chest.

She moved extremely fast

Yvonne was dragged up by her before she could react

"Nikita, what do you want?" Yvonne looked at her frosty eyes in horror.

Chapter 649 Nikita, you really went too far.

Sneering. Nikita pushed Yvonne to the ground heavily.

Yvonne let out a scream of horror

And then she fell heavily on the ground

Her fall was completely different from her last one

She fell on the ground severely this time, and she even can't react

In summer, the school uniform was short-sleeved

Yvonne loved beauty so she wore a plaid pleated skirt

Her exposed arms and legs were pierced by stones on the ground, her delicate skin scratched burning with pain. Yvonne raised her head in disbelief. After a few seconds, she burst into tears again.

Her tears dropped along her face

She was really painful this time

Nathan was also incredible, looking at Nikita shockingly, his face black looked at them arrogantly smiling ironically if I want to push someone, I won't be as gentle as just now I only do things above the tal you want to smear me. I won't agree *

Nathan froze

After he reacted to her meaning, he looked down at Yvonne, who was lying on the ground and crying bitterly, her body bloody

Looking at her, he was suspicious, frowning

Yvonne was 'y proud girl.

She just meant

› deliberately pushed her and caused her to down.

“Brother, I’m painful Lying on the ground, she cried bitterly, her face white She struggled to stand up, but her foot injured.

She cried Brother my foot hurt. I can’t move is my leg broken? Brother, I am so scared, I am really scared”

Nathan looked down at her doubt was immediately dispelled

Instead, he was so furious.

Yvonne has delicate skin.

With this fall several exposed places on the arms and legs were scratched.

Nathan squatted down to check her legs.

One foot was sprained, and it was swollen

Nathan touched it gently, and she cried immediately. “Ouch”

Looking at her red and swollen ankle, he became more distressed.

The more distressed he felt about Yvonne, the more furious he was at Nikita. "You're so vicious"

In these days

He was always guilty and regretful in his heart.

He felt that it was their bias that hurt Nikita's heart, so that she felt disappointed and broke up with them

No matter how indifferent and inhuman Nikita was, he was patient and inclusive

But this moment

He felt he was wrong.

No matter how patient they were, people, such as Nikita, won't be thankful.

She was deliberately targeting Yvonne.

Nathan pulled Yvonne who was crying all the time to his chest and reassured her. "Don't worry. Your foot was injured. I'll take you to see the doctor soon. You'll be all right."

Yvonne buried her head in his chest, crying silently and trembling.

Chapter 650 I was wrong.

Nathan embraced her in distress and held her up in his arms.

Nikita looked coldly and sarcastically.

Nathan looked at Nikita's cold face in disappointment with Yvonne in his arms. "As you wish, we won't bother you again."

"I thought..." He shook his head and laughed mockingly. "Forget it, I was wrong. I shouldn't have forced it."

He would rather they should never found her.

His sister left them forever over a decade ago.

The environment really mattered for a person.

Nikita is his sister.

But she was not the one he wants.

She's changed a lot.

Except for a kinship with the Swift family, she is really like a stranger.

He won't require her to change anymore

Then Nathan left with Yvonne who cried and trembled in his arms.

From beginning to end, Nikita showed no expression on her face.

She just looked at them indifferently

When Nathan left with Yvonne carefully holding her, Nikita's eyes turned gloomy.

When they just left, a silver-gray Rolls-Royce stopped beside her.

The door opened.

The man sitting on the back seat slowly got off the car.

He was slender and high in a black suit, looking abstinent and noble.

Few buttons of the shirt at the neckline unlocked again, his collarbone was shown, which was quite sexy

The contradictory mixture looked like extraordinarily enchanting.

There were pedestrians passing by.

Both men and women would look at him.

Because...

Just because the man was too handsome and outstanding.

After getting off the bus, the man with long and slender legs went toward the girl standing on the street with the same excellent appearance.

He stopped in front of her.

He said in a low voice. "Niky."

She raised her head, her eyes still suffused with indifference.

He patted her head with his big hand, rubbing it. "What are you thinking? So serious."

She even didn't notice his approaching.

She was usually alert.

"Nothing" She shook her head. Although she was still not used to his touch, she did not dodge.

Sheehan didn't inquire.

After touching her head, he held her hand naturally and then pinched her palm, saying gently. "Are you hungry? Let's have dinner."

Niky recalled his message sent to her.

She squinted. "You haven't eaten yet?"

"Yeah." Sheehan pulled her toward the Rolls-Royce standing aside. "I'm waiting for you."

She narrowed her eyes again. "You can eat first."

He smiled lowly. "It pains you?"

Nikita, "..."

A driver stood next to the Rolls-Royce. He opened the door for them when seeing them approach.

After they approached, he called her respectfully. "Miss Swift."

After getting on the car.

Sheehan still didn't let go of Niky's hand, despite being hot.

"What do you want to eat?" He asked the girl beside him in a gentle voice.
