

The Girl CB 741

Chapter 741

Speak of devil, she is here.

Is that doctor girl really that charming?

Is she a goddess?

“Yeah, she is still a student indeed.” Old Mr. Garrett also got the message and didn’t mention Rosa again. He nodded and said: “She is in the third grade of high school. And she will attend the college entrance examination soon.”

Cathleen was even more surprised: “She is still a high school student?”

While speaking, she couldn’t help looking at the Old Mr. Lambert.

No wonder he said it would still take a few years for his grandson to marry her.

If she is still a high school student, there are a lot of uncertainties indeed. How can a girl at such a young age consider getting married?

If she goes to college in a different city, they will be separated geographically. Then wouldn’t it become a long-distance relationship?

The long-distance relationship is the most unreliable.

Most of the long-distance relationships don’t end up well.

Although Cathleen thought so in her heart, she didn’t say anything out loud.

If she told the truth, she's afraid Old Mr. Lambert wouldn't like to hear it.

"She has reached 18 years ago." Old Mr. Lambert seems to be deliberately emphasizing something. "When the college entrance examination is over, she will be a college student."

Cathleen:

Old Mr. Garrett: "

"Old Mr. Lambert, will this girl doctor with magical medical skills attend the party tonight?" Cathleen smiled gracefully and said: "In fact, to tell you the truth, I want to ask the doctor for help. Since she and your grandson are lovers, it should be much easier for me."

"Oh?" Old Mr. Lambert was stunned. "You need Niky's help? Is it also a physical problem?"

"It is indeed a physical problem. But it is not me who is sick." Since Cathleen was the one who asked for help, she told the truth. "I felt ashamed to say this. But now, I can't care that much."

"I have a daughter who was ignorant in her early years. She met a poor boy and fell in love him. Then she even eloped with him and never came back for more than 20 years. Recently, this unfilial daughter got in touch with me again because of some affairs."

*She is sick now. And it's quite serious. There is no cure in the hospital. I almost broke my heart for her illness. I have been inquiring around and then found out the whereabouts of this magical doctor. And I knew that she had been to the Lambert family."

"Old Mr. Lambert, since she only gave you an acupuncture once before she saved you from coma, her medical skills must be quite good. I think if she is willing to treat my unfilial daughter, maybe she can have a few more years to survive."

"I hope that Old Mr. Lambert can help introduce me to her. I really don't want to watch my daughter die."

While Cathleen said so, her eyes turned red.

She stretched out her hand and wiped the tears on the corner of her eye. And her voice sounded choked: "Although she is an unfilial daughter, she is still my only daughter. I really can't bear..."

"Sister, don't cry. Judged from the relationship between our family and the Lambert family, Old Mr. Lambert will definitely help you." Old Mr. Garrett took out his handkerchief and handed it to Cathleen. He comforted her with a warm voice. "Niky is a very good girl. And she will definitely help you."

"I just called Sheehan half an hour ago. He and Niky will be here at any minute. This problem shouldn't be difficult to solve. Don't worry. When they are here, I'll talk to Niky."

As soon as Old Mr. Lambert finished saying so, there was a knock on the door outside the tea house.

Fabian's respectful voice sounded outside the door: "Old Mr. Lambert, Young Master and Miss Swift are here."

"You see! Speak of devil, they are here" Old Mr. Lambert smiled.

Chapter 742

She turned out to be her granddaughter!

At the same time, the door of the tea house was pushed open.

Cathleen hurriedly wiped the tears at the corner of her eyes and looked up at the door of the tea house

Outside the door.

Sheehan carefully led Nikita in full dress and walked into the tea house

When they were crossing the threshold of the tea house, he thoughtfully warned her in a low voice: "Be careful"

Nikita was wearing a dress and high heels. And the skirt was long

She didn't walk unruly and carelessly as usual. Instead, she walked in small steps, which made her look like an elegant lady. With the dress she was wearing today, the whole person looked noble and elegant, like a stunning queen coming out of an old castle

It's very different from her usual image.

It's like two different people.

So, when she walked into the tea house with Sheehan, all the people in the room, except her and Sheehan, were all stunned. Old Mr. Lambert was so shocked that his eyes widened.

For a long time, he couldn't recognize her.

Or he just didn't dare to confirm.

"Hello, Grandpa" Sheehan led Nikita to the front of Old Mr. Lambert. Seeing Old Mr. Lambert's shocked appearance, he picked up a smile and said: "Grandpa, why are you looking like that? You can't recognize Nikita, can you?"

Nikita looked at Old Mr. Lambert, sipped her lips and greeted him just like Sheehan: "Hello, Grandpa."

When she saw Cathleen with her peripheral vision, who was sitting on the side, she narrowed her eyes slightly.

It's not until he heard Nikita speak up, was Old Mr. Lambert sure that this beautiful girl in front of his eyes is his future grandson's wife!

He didn't mistake her for someone else!

“It’s really Niky!” Old Mr. Lambert suddenly patted in his thigh hard and couldn’t be more surprised. “You usually don’t dress up like this. Once you do, you look really... really...”

At that time, Old Mr. Lambert couldn’t come up with a word.

He didn’t know how to describe it.

Nikita originally is very beautiful. One of the reason why Old Mr. Lambert would take a fancy to her is because of her good look.

She is already very good-looking at ordinary times when she is not dressed up.

After wearing some makeups, styling her hair and putting on an evening dress, she looks so beautiful that people are afraid to approach her.

Because they feel themselves unqualified to get close to her.

Old Mr. Garrett was also surprised. He couldn’t help sighing with emotions: “I was wondering why you looked so familiar. It turned out that you are really Niky. Don’t blame Old Mr. Lambert for not recognize you at the first time. I didn’t recognize you just now either. I was worried that might call the wrong person.”

“You look so perfect tonight.” Old Mr. Garrett looked at the girl who looked like a fairy and then saw Sheehan and Nikita hand in hand in an intimate way. He couldn’t help feeling jealous again.

Such a beautiful little girl.

If only she could be his granddaughter-in-law!

In the future, the gene of the Garrett family in terms of good looks can be upgraded by several grades.

Alas... Unfortunately, the little bastard in his family is really disappointing.

If he knew this earlier, he should have been keeping an eye on him. He wouldn't allow that little bastard to mess around outside, so that he wouldn't have such a bad reputation now and be despised by others!

Now, such a perfect girl is going to marry that little bastard of the Lambert family!

"Hello, Old Mr. Garrett." Nikita turned to greet Old Mr. Garrett in a neither humble nor pushy way.

She saw Cathleen with her peripheral vision again and noticed that Cathleen was looking at her in shock.

Nikita narrowed her eyes and looked up at Cathleen.

There was incredible look showing on Cathleen's face, as if seeing Nikita here was a very surprised and unexpected thing for her.

As a matter of fact, Cathleen was really shocked at the moment.

Chapter 743

Despises Her Even More

The skilled doctor she was looking for turned out to be her granddaughter?!

The magical doctor turned out to be Nikita?!

This is what she didn't expect anyway!

Old Mr. Lambert asked Sheehan and Nikita to take a seat.

“Niky, you are so beautiful tonight. Even Grandpa was amazed by you.” Old Mr. Lambert let Nikita sit beside him. He turned to look at her over and over again and smiled lovingly. “You seem to be a little uncomfortable in such an occasion. Do you feel difficult to get used to this?”

Nikita nodded.

“If you’re not used to this, you don’t have to stay at the party. You can just show up and leave later. Fabian has prepared clothes for you to change earlier. When the time comes, you can ask Sheehan to take you to change your clothes and wear what you like”

Seeing Old Mr. Lambert doting on Nikita so much, Old Mr. Garrett was a little surprised.

He spoils her even more than spoiling his own granddaughter.

Obviously, he really likes Nikita.

“Thanks, Grandpa” Nikita was really not used to be dressed like this. So she didn’t refuse his kindness. She planned to change the evening dress and the high heels after showing up at the party.

Old Mr. Lambert chatted with her for a while.

He asked whether she was used to her school life, whether she had a lot of schoolwork and how she got along with her classmates.

He had a lot of questions like that.

Nikita quietly sat next to him. As Old Mr. Lambert asked her a question, she answered obediently.

It seems that she is quite clever and sensible

Her sitting posture was not as loose and casual as usual. She put her knees together and slightly tilted her legs with her hands overlapped on her legs. When Old Mr. Lambert spoke up, she listened carefully and looked polite and well-educated. And her words and deeds were elegant and generous.

The people in this room are all important people with valuable status.

Many people of the same generation will inevitably be nervous and uneasy when they see Old Mr. Lambert and Old Mr. Garrett, let alone she is a younger generation

They will worry about a lot of things in her heart.

But she, a young girl who is only eighteen years old, doesn't have stage fright at all.

No matter in the face of Old Mr. Lambert or Old Mr. Garrett, she was neither humble nor pushy.

She could remain calm.

Her aura seemed to even have the tendency to suppress Old Mr. Lambert and others.

Cathleen quietly observed her. She was surprised. And at the same time, she couldn't help showing appreciation and love for her in her eyes.

This is what Cathleen's granddaughter should look like.

This granddaughter bonded with her by blood is different indeed. That lame and fake one can never be compared with her.

Seeing her granddaughter with elegant and noble manners and aristocratic temperament, and then thinking of Yvonne's timid appearance, Cathleen, who originally doesn't like Yvonne, despises her even more. After all, no contrast, no harm.

She even began to regret bringing Yvonne here tonight.

It was Margot who begged her over and over again. So she reluctantly agreed.

But she only promised to bring Yvonne here, and nothing else.

So Yvonne was wandering alone in the banquet hall at the moment.

“Oh? Niky also participated in the Greek league today?” Old Mr. Lambert was surprised to hear Nikita talk about participating in the Greek league in the afternoon. “Niky, are you really that awesome? Is the Greek league you were talking about the annual National Greek Competition?”

“Hmm.” Nikita nodded.

“Only those who can speak Greek well can take this exam, right?” Old Mr. Lambert seemed to be quite attentive to this matter.

This National Greek Competition is quite authoritative.

Chapter 744

Consider this as my gift for you at our first meeting.

If she can get a good ranking, she can get extra points in the college entrance examination.

Old Mr. Lambert knows Nikita academic performance is not very good. So when he suddenly heard her mention taking part in the National Greek Competition, he felt very surprised.

“I think so.” Nikita’s tone sounded casual

“Then how do you think you perform in that exam?”

“Not bad.” Nikita seriously thought about it for a while and kept it a low profile.

Cathleen also looked at Nikita in surprise.

She had someone to investigate the information of this granddaughter.

She knows how Nikita performed in those exams.

She needs to meet the relevant conditions before she can sign up to take part in the National Greek competition.

Is the information she got earlier wrong?

“You can already learn a lot by participating the competition. And being able to participate is also a way to prove your ability. Whether you can get the prize is not the most important thing. Niky, don’t care too much about the ranking. Grandpa thinks you are already great.

No matter what the final result is, my Niky is the best!”

Nikita was just being modest. But Old Mr. Lambert thought she didn’t do well in the competition.

So he actually began to comfort her in a warm voice.

Nikita was stunned. Hearing Old Mr. Lambert’s words, she felt something was wrong.

She wondered if Old Mr. Lambert had misunderstood something.

She didn’t care about the ranking at all.

Because she doesn’t need to care at all.

To her, this kind of exam is like a child play.

“Ahem...” Seeing Nikita didn’t say a word, Sheehan thought she might not do well in the exam. So he covered his lips and faked a cough. Then he quickly changed the topic. “Grandpa, the banquet is about to begin. Should we go out now?”

Old Mr. Lambert came to his senses and immediately nodded. “Yes, that’s right! All the guests should be here now. Let’s head out quickly.”

“Oh, I almost forgot!” Old Mr. Lambert seemed to remember that he still had something to say. He turned to look at Cathleen and said. “Niky, I forgot to introduce you. This is Grandpa’s friend and Old Mr. Garrett’s sister. You can call her Grandma Cathleen.”

Nikita turned to look at Cathleen. She politely greeted her: “Nice to meet you, Grandma Cathleen.”

Cathleen was so excited that her hand trembled. And she almost knocked over the teacup on the table.

She reached out and took off a jade bracelet on her wrist and handed it to Nikita: “Good girl. I have nothing else on me that is suitable for you. This bracelet is a good one. And it will look good on a young girl like you. Consider this as my present for you at our first meeting.”

Nikita took the bracelet which was handed over and then took a look. She couldn’t help being stunned.

The rest of the people also looked at Cathleen in surprise.

Old Mr. Garrett was even more surprised. He couldn’t help but whisper: “Cathleen, isn’t this bracelet your dowry? How could you....”

“I like this girl as soon as I saw her.” Cathleen smiled and said to Old Mr. Garrett: “I like her. So it’s normal for me to give her something as a present.”

Old Mr. Garrett opened his mouth.

When it's a present selected out from her dowry, things are totally different.

Regardless of how much this bracelet is worth.

The point is that the meaning is different.

He has watched Cathleen wear this bracelet for decades.

How important is one's close-fitting things? How can she give them away so casually?

"Is this from your dowry?" Nikita looked at the jadeite bracelet in Cathleen's hand. Its condition looked perfect, which means this is the best jadeite. It can be said that the jadeite with such a good condition is rare to see now.

Nikita used to do a little research on jadeite and jade.

Therefore, she knows very well how precious this jadeite bracelet sent by Cathleen is.

In terms of its price alone, it is at least worth of hundreds of millions.

Chapter 745

I wonder what you want from me.

Old Mr. Garrett just said that this is one of her dowry.

She never had any connection with her. Why did she send her such an expensive gift at the first time they met?

Unless Cathleen already knew something.

Nikita narrowed her eyes and didn't reach out to take it. "This gift is simply too much. Sorry, I can't accept it."

When Old Mr. Lambert came to his senses, he also felt it a little inappropriate. "How could you send out your dowry as a gift? She is a just child. You don't need to send such a valuable gift. Take it back quickly."

Nikita looked at Cathleen and spoke up again: "This gift is really too much. Please take it back."

Cathleen hesitated. After thinking for a few seconds, she nodded and put the bracelet back on her wrist. "Okay. Since you insist, I won't force you. I will prepare a suitable gift for you another day. But by then, you can't refuse me again."

Anyway, she is her own granddaughter. So there will be plenty of opportunities for her to give her this bracelet in the future.

"Don't you have something to ask Niky for help?" Old Mr. Lambert thought for a while and said: "Sheehan, go out with me to greet your uncles. Since Niky doesn't like this kind of occasion, she doesn't have to come with us. She can show up later."

"Your Grandma Cathleen happened to have something to talk to Niky. After we leave, it's more convenient for them to talk."

Sheehan was slightly stunned. He turned to look at Cathleen: "Grandma Cathleen, do you have something to say to Niky?"

Cathleen nodded: "Yes. It's private affairs. And I want to ask her for a favor."

Sheehan seemed to understand the situation.

No wonder Cathleen would like to send Nikita a gift. And the gift is so valuable.

It turns out that she wants to ask for Nikita's help.

However, even if she wants Nikita's help, she doesn't need to send out her dowry

In any case, Cathleen's attitude towards Nikita is somewhat strange.

He feels there must be some other reasons for this.

"I'll go out with you two. I haven't seen some of those old friends for a long time. I can take this opportunity to catch up with them"

Old Mr. Garrett put down his teacup, tidied up his appearance and stood up with Old Mr. Lambert family.

Sheehan let go of Nikita's hand and touched her head intimately, completely ignoring the other elders at presence. He spoke up in a low and gentle voice: "Then I will go out with Grandpa first. I'll come back to you later."

"If you need anything, just tell Fabian. Don't be too polite. Just think of it as your own home."

Nikita leisurely nodded. "Okay. I see."

Sheehan gently patted on her head again: "See you later."

Moments later, Cathleen and Nikita were the only two people left in the tea house. Everyone else left.

The maid brought up the tea just brewed. And her tone was very respectful: "Miss Swift, please enjoy the tea."

Nikita looked at the steaming tea. She picked up the teacup and shook it gently. But she didn't drink it. Her dark and indifferent eyes were half narrowed. And her voice sounded faint and calm. No one could tell whether she was in a good mood or not. "Old Mrs. Garrett, I wonder what you want from me."

Her tone sounded polite but with some obvious alienation.

Nikita had guessed what kind of favor Cathleen would ask her.

She doesn't feel surprised.

Margot is Cathleen's only daughter.

Even if there is some estrangement between the mother and the daughter, Margot has cancer now and will not live long. Cathleen naturally feel distressed for her daughter and doesn't want her daughter to die. She will definitely try every means to save Margot's life.

She cured Old Mr. Lambert and Corley

Chapter 746

She wants to officially recognize this granddaughter as soon as possible.

Cathleen will find out about her sooner or later

Cathleen noticed at first time that Nikita changed her way to call her.

She called her Grandma Cathleen just now But now, she calls her Old Mrs. Garrett.

Cathleen was very clever And soon, she guessed what it was about.

“Niky, you have already known what I want from you, right?” Cathleen looked at the girl in front of her who looked elegant and calm, indifferent and generous. The more she looked at her, the more she appreciated her Cathleen picked up a smile and spoke up in a gentle tone. Then you should also know that I am your grandmother”

The teacup was filled with water.

Nikita swayed it lightly. But there was no water splashed out. She lowered her eyes and spoke up in a faint tone “Grandmother” Old Mrs Garret, you should also know that I have severed my relationship with your daughter”

“Well I know that Cathleen didn’t plan to recognize her on such an occasion. Her original plan was to pick another day to officially meet with Nikita and talk about this. Then they can talk about recognizing her as her granddaughter in a formal Way

But after seeing Nikita in the Lambert family, Cathleen liked her very much. So he couldn’t wait to recognize her

She wants to recognize this granddaughter as soon as possible

“I won’t interfere in the affairs between you and her. I won’t stop you if you don’t want to recognize her anymore, or if you don’t want to have anything to do with your parents anymore. But I’m different from them. Even though you cut off relations with Margot, I will still be your grandmother”

Nikita was stunned. She narrowed her eyes and slightly raised her eyes

Cathleen looked at her and smiled “My daughter and that son in law really have problems on their brains. They are silly enough to give up their own daughter and treat other people’s daughter as precious.

They don’t use their brains when they make decisions. But I’m not like them. There is nothing wrong with me. I won’t do those silly things. Of course, I prefer the child in my own bloodline How can that lame girl compare with my own granddaughter?

Niky. I didn't say so because I'm asking you a favor. Even if you refuse to help, Grandma's attitude towards you is still the same. You are on the bloodline of the Garrett family. Since I know your existence, I will not ignore you.

Whether you recognize me as your grandmother or not, I will definitely take you as my granddaughter."

Nikita

She thought that Cathleen would speak for Margot.

But it seems that she is different from what she imagined.

Nikita narrowed her eyes and went silent for a while. Then she didn't express her opinion on this. She just said in a faint tone: "If you are asking me to treat Margot, I'm sorry. I can't help you."

Cathleen was not surprised that Nikita refused her.

Since she has severed her relations with the Swift family, she must have experienced some difficult times with them.

"Niky, the Swift family really owes you a lot. Margot and Patrick... have really gone too far. If I were you, I would definitely make the same choice I would give up on such parents too.

At the beginning. Margot insisted on marrying Patrick despite my resolute opposition. In a fit of pique, I severed the mother daughter relationship with her. Now, you have also severed your relationship with her."

While saying so, Cathleen couldn't help sighing She was angry about her daughter's life choices. "Obviously, she can never think it through And she is not a smart one. No wonder the company which was originally in good conditions can almost go bankrupt under the couple's operation.

She is not like my daughter at all"

However, Nikita's temper is similar to hers.

Her gene may probably pass on to her granddaughter through Margot

Chapter 747

If an apology can always help with situation, why do we need the police?

Although Cathleen dislikes Margot for not inheriting her excellent genes, she is glad in her heart when she thinks of Nikita.

At least, she has a granddaughter who is very similar to her.

Although her daughter is not promising, she likes this granddaughter.

"At the beginning, she was insisting on being with Patrick. And she did not hesitate to sever ties with her family. I was so disappointed with her at that time that I told myself I never had this daughter. It has nothing to do with me whether she is in a good condition or not in the future.

But now, seeing her like this, I couldn't help feeling distressed for her. She is my daughter after all. And I can't really ignore her when she is in a life danger."

Speaking of this, Cathleen paused for a while. Seeing Nikita remain an indifferent look on her face, she went silent for a few seconds before she spoke up again: "She did do a lot of wrong things. But she carried you for ten months and gave birth to you after all...*

"You..."

"She brought me to life indeed "Nikita, who had been silent, spoke up and interrupted Cathleen's words. "So, I have already repaid her for that."

Cathleen was stunned.

Nikita looked at her indifferently and continued: "I checked on her illness. And I can cure her. I can let her live for another five or ten years. If she is lucky enough, it's impossible for her to be cured for a lifetime without relapse."

Cathleen was stunned again and began to look excited: "Then..."

"But she thought I was a liar who deliberately gave her a poisonous prescription to harm her. Seeing Cathleen's happy and excited eyes, Nikita picked up a mocking smile. "Since she thinks I am a liar who wants to harm her, then she doesn't need me to treat her illness.

After all, I am not qualified to cure her as a liar. Don't you think so, Old Mrs. Garrett?"

Nikita still called her Old Mrs. Garrett

Which showed that she didn't recognize Cathleen as her grandmother.

Only Cathleen unilaterally recognized her as her granddaughter.

Hearing her words, Cathleen's face immediately changed.

Nikita used to treat Margot's illness?

But Margot didn't believe her and thought she was a liar?!

So, the reason why Nikita is not willing to treat Margot now is because it was Margot who drove herself into a dead end.

At that time, Cathleen was so furious with her stupid daughter that her chest began to hurt. And she couldn't wait to slap her daughter's face to vent her anger,

She used to have a silly head. And over the years, she never gets better.

She has been stubborn on driving herself into a dead end. And she never had a clear knowledge of everything.

What exactly did she do that made her deserve such a silly daughter?!

“What a moron!” Cathleen was so angry that her face turned green. “It turned out that there was such an incident. If you didn’t tell me, I would never know. Niky, this must be her fault. She wronged you. Let me behalf of her and apologize to you.” Nikita’s tone sounded leisure and careless. “It’s not you who wronged me. Why do you need to apologize to me?”

Cathleen said in a serious tone: “She is my daughter. As the saying goes, a child is better unborn than untaught. I failed to educate my daughter well. So I need to take some responsibility in this. Since she did something wrong. I should apologize for her.”

“No matter she apologizes or you apologize.” Nikita’s voice sounded careless. And there was coldness showing in her eyes, “It doesn’t make any differences to me. Old Mrs. Garrett should have heard a saying, if an apology can always help with the situation, why would we still need the police?

Chapter 748

She has never felt so inferior in her whole life.

If anyone can solve the problem by apologies after say the wrong words or doing some wrong things. The cost of making mistakes is too low

My answer to you is still the same I can’t cure her illness. I wont treat her

Nikita put the teacup in her hand on the table and got up slowly. “Old Mrs: Garrett, excuse me. I have other plans.”

At the Banquet Hall in the Lambert Mansion.

The party is about to begin

There are already many people gathering in the hall

Men and women were all dressed up exquisitely, which made them look very noble.

This group of people who were standing in the hall, talking and laughing, all have extraordinary identities. Regardless of their gender, each of them is a big shot who ordinary people can never get in touch with.

They are all celebrities with good family backgrounds.

In a corner of the hall.

Yvonne has never been so embarrassed and inferior in her whole life.

Before coming to the party, she couldn't be more excited. She was really looking forward to it.

She knows there will be many big shots showing up tonight who she can't get to meet at ordinary times.

And among them, there are many noble and unmarried young masters of aristocratic families.

So before coming, she specially dressed herself up.

Margot also intended to let her stand out at the dinner party. So she did not hesitate to spend a lot of money to buy her an expensive evening dress. And she even took out a set of expensive jewelry at the bottom of her closet and let her wear it.

Then she begged Cathleen to bring her to the Lambert Mansion to attend Old Mr. Lambert's dinner party.

This is Yvonne's first visit to the Lambert Mansion.

It was also her first time to attend a banquet with such high specifications and grades.

In the past, she despised those students with ordinary family conditions in her class. She feels that those people are ignorant bumpkins. But now She realized that she was also inexperienced and ignorant

Yvonne has been feeling shocked since Cathleen's car drove into the Lambert Mansion.

She always felt that the villa of the Swift family was decorated luxuriously enough.

A villa which costs 10 million dollars can be considered as a bad one, even though there are a lot of wealthy families in N City.

Ordinary people can't earn so much money even if they try their best.

And she has always felt that the Swift family could be considered as a wealthy family in N City

Among all the students in her class and all her friends in her social circle, her family condition can be considered as good.

But now, she realizes she is just a person with a limited outlook.

Compared with the Lambert Mansion, the villa of the Swift family is like nothing. The Lambert Mansion directly occupies floor space of a whole mountain. After the car drove into the gate of the Lambert Mansion, it even drove in the mansion for more than ten minutes before arriving at the main house.

Along the way, there are countless expensive plants planted at random.

There are security personnel everywhere. And there are countless maids shuttling back and forth in the house.

Thinking of the four or five maids in the Swift family, she realized that the Swift family had no qualification to be mentioned.

She always knows that the wealthy families in N City are divided into different classes. The top giants like the Lambert family, the Garrett family and the James family are at the top class

While the Swift family can barely rank medium class

But it's one thing that she is aware of the gap between different wealthy families. It's the other thing to witness the differences with her own eyes

Not to mention that she has always a sense of superc in school

Because Yvonne usually shows off her good family conditions. And she is always flattered by a group of boy in formal or private occasions They actually call her goddess.

So she thought that she must be the one who could shine brilliantly and attract all the people's attention at the banquet tonight

She even imagined how great she would feel being surrounded and flattered by a group of celebrities and noble young masters

Chapter 749

No wonder she is the most beautiful lady in N City.

But now, she has been slapped in the face.

In the hall, with all the people coming and going, no one paid attention to her.

She thought those celebrities and ladies had no temperament. And she would definitely be more eye-catching than them. But each of them actually was dressed up much more exquisitely than her. And they completely crushed her in terms of the temperament. Her weak and delicate temperament is only popular among little boys in school. But when it comes to a social occasion with a group of grown-ups, no one showed any interests on her who looked too simple and boring.

She was wearing a long dress with a tube top.

But because she doesn't have a body which is sexy enough to fit in this dress, the chest area of this dress looked weird.

Yvonne bit her lips tightly and covered her chest with one hand. She looked at those elegant ladies in the hall who had curvy bodies and wore the evening dresses that were specially designed. Then she took a look at the dress on her which she had spent more than 100,000 dollars. Her confidence and superiority completely disappeared.

She was only overwhelmed by a sense of inferiority which was growing stronger and stronger.

She, the so-called princess, is like a joke in front of those real princesses.

Nobody paid any attention to her.

Even though there were some people coming to chat with her, they all found an excuse to leave after asking about her family background.

Clearly, they didn't take a fancy to her..

At this moment.

Yvonne really felt weak and helpless. The Swift family which she thought was rich and powerful, was actually nothing in the circle of those wealthy families.

If Cathleen hadn't brought her here.

She is not even qualified to attend such a party.

Originally, she thought Cathleen would take her to meet some bog shots.

Although others may despise the Swift family, no one dares to despise the Garrett family.

Unexpectedly, after Cathleen brought her to the banquet, she abandoned her and completely ignored her.

And she seemed to have no intention of introducing her to others at all.

"Is that Miss Rosa from the Garrett family?"

"No wonder she has the title of the most beautiful woman in N City. She looks so beautiful."

"The dress she is wearing... seems to be specially designed by Brand C. And it has just been displayed on the catwalk a few days ago. God, that evening dress is so expensive. It costs more than one million dollars. And the set of jewelry she wears seems to have a value of tens of millions of dollars."

"The haute couture of Brand C is super difficult to borrow. Many people have tried to borrow this one. But they all failed. Unexpectedly, she can actually borrow it to wear."

"When it comes to the princess of the Garrett family, people always make exceptions. However, only she can make such expensive evening dresses and jewelries look more noble. The brand didn't allow their clothes to be borrowed only because they were afraid of lending their clothes to inappropriate people, which would make the brand value fall.”

At the entrance of the banquet hall.

Rosa was dressed in a valuable evening dress, which made her look delicate and elegant. With a group of people sighing because of their admiration and envy, she slowly and gracefully walked into the center of the banquet hall with a smile. She has outstanding appearance. And she is recognized as the most beautiful woman in the upper-class circle of N City Tonight, after dressed up carefully, her beauty looked more arrogant and wanton.

With the red tube top dress on her beautiful body which looked as fair as white jade, her skin looked more tender and delicate. Her red lips looked very charming.

All the men were looking at her with obsession.

While all the women are envious and jealous of her. They all want to look as good as her.

It's really irritating.

As long as Rosa shows up in a banquet, she always made a big splash. And all the men will be flattering and serving her.

And all the other women will become foils in front of her!

But despite all the jealousy and dissatisfaction they hold in their hearts for her, they all rushed to please Rosa when they saw her: “Oh, my god! Rosa, you are really beautiful tonight. Those men were completely stunned by your good look.”

Chapter 750

The Only Female Disciple of Malcolm

“Every time when Miss Garrett attends a party, she is always the one who attracts the most attention. She really deserves the title of the most beautiful women in our circle.”

*Rosa, you are wearing the latest haute couture of Brand C, aren't you? The dress looked more beautiful on you than that model on the catwalk. This dress is hard to borrow. And only you, Miss Garrett, can borrow this dress to wear”

“Indeed’ The brand never hesitate to refuse us when we went to borrow the dress.”

A group of ladies gathered around, chattering to flatter her. And their words showed their envy and jealousy.

But when they thought of Rosa's conditions in different aspects, they had to show some respect.

Rosa has surpassed all of them only in terms of the family background.

Not to mention that Rosa herself is pretty excellent

She became the only female disciple of Malcolm.

And now, she is a famous pianist in the world.

In the field of fashion design, she got some good results too. She just won the top ten designer award in an international fashion week competition.

They can't have such achievements even if they are jealous of her

In the face of a group of women's flattery, Rosa looked calm. She slightly raised her chin. There was superiority and arrogance showing between her eyes.

Her smile looked faint. But she spoke up in a modest gesture: "You flattered me. I can never be the most beautiful woman in our circle. Don't talk nonsense. Others will make fun of me." "We were not talking nonsense. Your title as the most beautiful woman in our circle is recognized by all of us."

"Indeed. Everyone in our circle knows that. Look around. Can you find anyone at this party who is more beautiful than you? You deserve that title."

Rosa sipped her lip and picked up an elegant smile.

She looked around and saw several acquaintances surrounded by a group of women.

"I need to go to greet some of my friends. We can chat later."

Rosa said to several ladies beside her. And then she carried her dress and turned around to find Sampson and Harrell under the gaze of other people.

Sampson, Harrell and Yates and all popular bachelors in their circle, which are the hunting targets of many ladies at the party. As soon as they arrived at the venue, they were surrounded by a group of women with obvious intentions.

Seeing Rosa coming, Sampson acted like seeing his savior. He said to the woman who was pestering him: "Sorry, my friend is here." Then he walked towards her with a glass of champagne.

"Rosa, long time no see! You looked even more stunning now." Sampson walked to Rosa's front, stopped his steps and looked up and down at her, with appreciation showing in his eyes.

Rosa also took a glass of champagne from a waiter and cheered with him. "So Is Young Master James! You are so charming that you have a group of beautiful women surrounding you."

Rosa took a look at those women who was just pestering Sampson and teased him with a smile.

Sampson's gentle, elegant and handsome face looked a little helpless: "God! Help me!"

"Gee! Miss Garrett looked amazing tonight." Harrell also came up with a glass of champagne.

He was dressed in a suit and tie tonight. With the neat and formal clothes, he looked quite noble and elegant, which was quite different from his usual playful and flirtatious appearance.

He looks like a handsome and elegant gentleman with great manners in this way.

The people who don't know about his romantic history, will definitely be fooled by his look.

Then Yates came up too.

"As soon as Miss Garrett appeared, all the men's eyes at this banquet were focused on you alone.' Yates teased her with a smile. "You really push us under great pressure by looking like this."

"Pressure? What kind of pressure?"

"Of course, this pressure comes from the hostile eyes of those men who adore you."

Rosa stared at him with a smile.
