

The Girl CB 821

Chapter 821 The Fear of Being Dominated by the Boss

“Manley, why do I feel a little nervous?” The teenager sitting on the co-pilot seat looked young and handsome.

“Nervous? Of what?” The man sitting on the pilot seat at the exit of the school gate from time to time.

“Aren’t you nervous? It’s the feeling of expecting, nervous, and a little scared.”

“Because we’re going to see the boss later?*

“Yes. Aren’t you nervous? Didn’t you have the fear of being dominated by her? To be honest, I haven’t seen her for so many years. I really miss her, but I am a little scared at the thought of seeing her soon.” He is really nervous, with fingers. clenched.

He can’t help recalling the “devil training period” when he just joined the team.

It’s terrible.

What is terrible is not the training, but the person who train them.

“Look at you.” In the driver’s seat, the young man smiled. “It seems that your fear of our Boss is engraved into your guts.”

Another teenager sipped his lip, without saying anything.

It is, indeed.

They waited for a while, and a familiar figure came out from the gate.

“She’s here.” Another teenager let out an excited cry.

The young man in the driver’s seat took off his sunglasses and looked up.

Not far away, the girl was wearing a loose school uniform, with hands in her pockets unruly. She walked slowly towards them.

She has the momentum of a boss.

Compared with her a few years ago, the girl is taller, and her facial features are more delicate and beautiful.

At first glance, she is amazing.

A minute later, the girl stopped.

Two teenagers in the car put on sunglasses and got out of the car.

“Nikita, long time no see.” Manley looked at the old friend who had not seen for a long time, gently hugged her, and soon let go of her.

He hugged gentlemanly.

The teenager standing next to him did not dare to hug. At the moment he saw the girl, he was just like the student saw the solemn head teacher. He stood straight, didn’t dare to make a move.

He greeted “Boss.”

“You don’t worry about being spotted by your fans?” Niky looked at two people. Although wearing sunglasses, they’re quite easy to be recognized.

The boy standing next to Manley is also a professional player.

He’s quiet and clever.

They’re all popular players.

The teenager has a huge fan base of girls.

Manley is fancied by everyone

Manley smiled: “I am just an out-of-date professional player. What are I afraid of?”

Nikita raised her brows: “You are the most popular game professional players with huge commercial value. Are you out of date?”

Manley also raised his eyebrows: “Compared with you. I’m nothing.”

“Give me the stuff.” Nikita didn’t want to catch up at this time. “We can have a meal together when available”

Manley handed over a stack of tickets: “Sure, I’ll book a place in advance, and then we will have dinner together We miss you very much.”

Chapter 822 Come and Guide Us

“Miss me?” Niky looked at the shivering teenager next to Manley, gently raised her eyebrows, “Are you sure?”

She knew very well how she trained them.

The group of teenagers in the team called her “the witch” in private.

Manley also turned to look at the jittery and scared teenager: “...”

It’s a disgrace

Nikita left the team for several years. He was still afraid of her.

“Well, I’m going back to take my class.” Nikita folded up the tickets that worth hundred thousands dollars, and put them in her pocket casually. She lifted her chin slightly. “Well, you should go as well. The competition is drawing near Practice, don’t be lazy.”

Manley: “...”

Her words made him feel like he went back to the times when Nikita was training them.

“Sure, sure, sure. Miss Swift. We’ll go back to practice. It will be more than helpful if you could come and guide us before the competition. We will definitely win under your guidance.”

“Well, it depends.” Niky carelessly said, “If I am available. Well, I’d better get going.”

She went back unhurriedly

“Manley, isn’t the boss already graduated from high school years ago? I remember that she skipped many classes. When she came to our team as a coach, she had already graduated. Do I remember it correctly?”

“Well, you remember it right.”

“Then how did she become a high school student again?”

“She might feel bored and wanted to enjoy the years in school.”

Is there anyone who would like to go back to school?

Even if there is, the person might not choose to go through the senior year.

People who have experienced the devastation of the college entrance examination, knew it’s a devastating period.

But...

It seems that only ordinary people like them will have this kind of pressure.

With such intelligent, their boss would be care-free

Maybe, she could really enjoy the senior years in high school.

There is a huge gap between the ordinary people and their boss...

Alas...

They stood beside the sports car. After Nikita went back to school, they went back into their car.

Not far away...

A girl was so excited that she tweeted with the photos she had just taken.

Nikita took the tickets and returned to the classroom.

When she went back, the class had just finished.

Many students came out of the teaching building and saw Nikita. Several girls took the initiative to greet her "Hi, Nikita"

Before Nikita said anything, the girls looked at her and said excitedly. "You are so amazing. The teacher told us you won the first place with full marks."

"Even our teachers praised your intelligence!"

"Our school won the first place because of you. You don't know how the students from foreign languages school mock us every time when they won the contest in previous years"

"This time, see if they dare to show off again."

Another group of students came out of the teaching building.

Chapter 823 From a Friend

Another group of students came out of the teaching building.

When the younger students saw Nikita, they all greeted her

Some students in her grade also took the initiative to greet her.

Nikita looked at this group of students who took the initiative to come up, and was a little surprised.

This is the first time she has been so popular since she got to this school.

Because she won the first place in the contest?

But Niky also don't care about these. She nodded, and walked into the teaching building

On the second floor, Niky sensed something. She turned around.

Class A is next to the stairs.

Yvonne stood in the corridor, motionless, looking at her with a gloomy expression, as if she couldn't wait to kill her.

After looking at each other for a few seconds, Yvonne turned and walked into the classroom.

"Niky, why are you here? Did you come to see me? Tammy came out of the classroom. She immediately ran to her happily and took her hand. Her eyes were shining "I was just about to go upstairs to find you"

"I just went out to grab some stuff Nikita said, and then took out the crumpled tickets from her pocket to Tammy

"What is this?" Tammy took it curiously She widened her eyes in disbelief.

"Niky, this, this is.

It's actually a ticket for the VIP zone of the LPL World Competition three days later!

Tammy pinched the ticket, with her face blushed with excitement. She looked up and was surprised “Niky, where did you get this ticket? Didn’t Samuel say he can’t even buy a ticket far away from the stadium now? Why do you have...”

First row, with the best view

The infield can accommodate 50,000 people

There are only less than 100 people for the VIP seat.

At this time, they can’t even buy a ticket far away from the stadium at a high price. Where did she get the VIP zone tickets?

Nikita said faintly: “From a friend”

Tammy was stunned: “A friend?”

Niky nodded. “Yeah.”

Tammy paused

What friend?

She loves to play games in spare time. It’s the last contest Manley participates. Thus, she begged her friends to book the tickets

But the tickets for VIP area have already been sold out at that time.

The VIP ticket is almost invaluable.

Those who can spend a high price to buy tickets of the VIP zone will not be short of money

At that time, Tammy wanted to spend ten times more money to buy a ticket for a VIP zone, and no one wanted to sell it.

When Niky returned to the classroom and handed the tickets to Samuel and Tobin, they reacted just like Tammy. They were stunned.

Samuel looked down at the tickets in his hand, dumbfounded.

“VIP tickets? Niky, you are...”

Nikita sat back, leaning against her chair. “Don’t you want to see Manley at close range?”

Samuel was in a daze

Tobin held the ticket and looked up in surprise: “Niky, where did you get this ticket?”

Nikita “From a friend”

“Niky, do you also know LPL staff?”

At this time, the tickets must be from an insider.

And this insider is definitely in a senior position LPL staff?

Chapter 824 Questioned

Nikita thought about it and nodded: “Sort of.”

They play professionally in LPL. Thus, they're staff.

It makes sense

Tobin wanted to ask something, but suddenly he heard a loud exclamation.

"Hey, Samuel, is this ticket in your hand a VIP zone ticket of the LPL World Games?"

Samuel and Tobin both held tickets.

A boy inadvertently glanced at their tickets.

The boy's cry suddenly attracted all the people around him.

"Damn it, it's real!"

*Samuel, where did you get this ticket?"

"Damn it, we can't even buy a ticket far away from the stadium. You actually have tickets for the VIP area!"

The game fans are envious

Looking at the tickets in Samuel and Tobin's hands, they are like hungry wolves, longing for the tickets.

They can't wait to take away the tickets from them.

Samuel quickly stuffed the tickets into the pocket. He looked at the boys with vigilance: "What do you want? Niky helped me get it. Go away! I won't give the ticket away!"

Samuel looked proud when he mentioned Nikita.

Tobin looked at the longing sights, carefully clipped the ticket into his book silently.

This is an invaluable ticket for VIP area.

A group of boys turned to look at Nikita.

They were surprised Then, they ran to Nikita's side, begging her.

"Niky, do you still have extra ones?"

"Yeah. Niky, as long as there are tickets, any row can do."

"If there is a ticket for the VIP area, I can buy it for ten times the price."

Samuel listened to the frequent "Niky", furious. He got up just like driving away flies, and kicked away the boys around Nikita's desk one by one: "Go! You can't call her Niky."

"Go away, go away, don't bother my sister Niky."

"Niky has no extra ones. Don't bother her!"

Samuel kicked them away one by one.

He is a famous bully in school.

The boys in the class are afraid of him.

Although they eagerly wanted the tickets, no one dared to find Niky again.

Several girls in the class are also fans of Manley.

When the LPL World Championship started selling tickets, they set alarm clocks to buy the tickets. However, the tickets sold out soon.

They went through hardships and finally bought a few tickets far away from the stadium.

Seeing Samuel and Tobin's VIP tickets from Nikita, they were appalled. Then, somehow, they started to slander.

"Ordinary people can't get tickets for VIP zone at all. Tickets have been sold out within ten minutes, and even the bad tickets are gone, However, some people can get tickets for VIP zone now. It's just fake"

Chapter 825 Sending fake tickets? What a shame.

"I heard that even Scale failed to get tickets for VIP zone. Is there anyone more influential than Scale?"

Scales is a game live-streamer.

He is famous for livestreaming video games.

Moreover, he achieved a huge income by livestreaming playing games.

He livestreams with professional players. Manley have played with him. By livestreaming, he knew some insiders, and collaborated with them.

However, he said in a previous broadcast that it was too difficult to get a ticket. He didn't get the VIP ticket.

Originally, he did an activity to send tickets of VIP area to fans for a lucky draw.

But this activity was cancelled because he didn't get tickets.

How come Nikita could take out two VIP tickets and give them away?

Who is she bluffing?

She can't treat them like fools.

Those who would like to beg Nikita heard their conversation, and started to question whether the tickets are real Indeed.

Even Scale failed to get tickets for the VIP zone.

How did Nikita get those two tickets?

That ticket can't be real, right?

Think that they are just asking for tickets with Nikita. If Nikita takes out a stack of fake tickets to them, it will be disgraceful to be identified when they were caught on spot!

Originally, a group of boys who wanted to ask Niky suddenly gave up their thoughts.

Samuel heard several girls questioning Niky, and frowned.

How can the tickets given to them by Niky be fake!

Of course, Samuel can't doubt the authenticity of tickets, but he is also curious.

How did Niky find this ticket?

His cousin's friend is a senior staff in LPL, who give them tickets with the area of more than ten rows away from the stadium.

Tickets for VIP area have already been sold out.

After Nikita came back with the tickets, she began to sleep.

Samuel originally wanted to ask her who her friend was, but she was already asleep. He didn't want to disturb her.

Forget it, he'll wait for Niky to wake up.

In Class A...

Tammy's ticket given by Nikita was also seen by the boys in the class.

Knowing that the tickets were given to Tammy by Nikita, there were many voices of doubt.

"Tammy, you need to check its authenticity first. If you go to the scene at that time and are found to be a fake ticket, it will be shameful."

“Another VIP zone tickets? Does she not only know people in the entertainment industry, but also know someone from LPL? Does she have such a wide social circle?”

The speaker is Yvonne’s deskmate.

Knowing that Yvonne was unhappy about Nikita, she wanted to help Yvonne vent her anger

“How can the tickets given by Niky be fake! I think you are just being jealous? Tammy glared at the girl

“Why am I jealous? The girl smiled and sarcastically said, “Aren’t you trying to buy the tickets? Don’t you know how hard it was to buy? Are you kidding?”

“Ask other people around you and see if they believe you have a real VIP ticket here”

“It is really impossible to get tickets for the VIP area now” A boy who tried but only bought a ticket in the last few rows, said.

Chapter 826 Call the Police

Another boy also said, “I also think there may be something wrong with this ticket.”

Although he didn’t directly say that the ticket was fake, he meant it.

Other people who tried to buy tickets have also echoed

Everyone thinks that this ticket given by Nikita is mostly fake.

Tm laughing my ass off Yvonne’s deskmate laughed hard. “Look at the campus group. Some people in Clans F said that Nikita also sent tickets to Samuel and Tobin. Three tickets for the VIP area She’s awesome

Tim afraid she is the daughter of a LPL Competition investor

“She said that it was from her friend. Ha ha, who is her friend, Manley?”

In the school, however, whenever there is any trouble, some people will post it to the campus group

Nikita also sent tickets to Samuel, which was sent by Rue of Class F

She always hated Niky since she lost her bet to Nikita.

She thought it was a disgrace.

Now that she has caught the opportunity to retaliate. She will not miss it.

She can't wait to tell the world about this matter to put Nikita in an embarrassed situation.

Three VIP zone tickets.

Originally, some people think it will be a misunderstanding of Niky. Now, they don't know how to argue

How could she take out so many VIP tickets?

If the tickets are really fake, it would be too embarrassing

Sending fake tickets is just shameful

“I think mostly these tickets are fake.”

“I agree...”

“But why send fake tickets?”

“It is estimated that it is for face. We can’t even buy a bad ticket. She can give so many tickets for the VIP area at once Everyone will definitely think she is very powerful.”

‘Because of the contest, everyone changed their impression. And now...’

Someone is persuading “Tammy, you should toss your fake ticket quickly. If you really go to the scene and detect that it is fake, it seems to be considered illegal”

“I just checked, it is illegal to buy fake tickets. She might even be sentenced”

“Tammy, she shouldn’t mean to hurt you! Tear up the ticket now.”

A group of people are asking Tammy to tear up the tickets.

It seems that it has been confirmed that the ticket in Tammy’s hand is fake.

Some people even asked whether to call the police.

Tammy was so angry and anxious that her face turned blue.

She couldn’t talk against them.

Lanny frowned when he heard someone proposing to call the police.

He doesn’t play games, and doesn’t know anything about LPL

He didn't try to buy any tickets.

But he believes that it is absolutely impossible for Nikita to send fake tickets to her friends.

Yvonne, who has been in a bad mood, quietly put her mobile phone in her pocket when she heard someone say it is illegal to buy fake tickets. She got up and said to her deskmate, "I will go to the bathroom."

She sits in the inner seat.

Her deskmate moved the chair forward a little, and Yvonne went out along the narrow aisle.

Out of the classroom, Yvonne went to the stairs and dialed a number.

Shortly after the bell rang for the second class, a policeman came to the school.

Chapter 827 Hatred

On the podium...

Mr. White is talking passionately, which is roughly an old-fashioned motivation speech.

Nikita, the hero who won the honor for Class F, is naturally proposed as an exemplary.

"Let's look at Nikita. She has achieved an amazing transformation from zero mark to full marks through her own efforts and diligence with a fighting spirit of not giving up and not being discouraged. You all have to learn from Nikita, she..."

Looking at the girl sleeping soundly in the last row, Samuel and Tobin were speechless.

Mr. White is simply unconvincing!

Who believes it?

Mr. White didn't care whether the students believed it or not, and continued to talk until some students saw the police in the corridor, who came towards Class F.

Several policemen came to Class F and stopped.

"Shit, what happened? Why are the police coming?"

"No way..someone just said in the group that it is illegal for Nikita to buy fake tickets, and proposed to call the police. Did someone really call the police?"

Samuel and Tobin saw the police coming, and frowned immediately.

"Shit!" Samuel blushed with anger. "Which S.O.B called the police!"

Tobin doesn't look good either.

They also saw the chat in the group before.

Someone did propose to call the police.

But they didn't expect someone to do it.

Why?

Is the person so desperate to see Niky go to jail?

Samuel clenched his fist: "Scumbag, dare to do this behind Niky's back. I must fucking find this person out!"

"You are..."

Mr. White saw the police, and was surprised.

"Well, we just received an alarm saying that there was an illegal act here. We are here to investigate." The police looked at the classroom and then said seriously. "Someone reported that some students in your class supported the sale of fake tickets and bought many tickets for a competition."

"We are here to investigate this matter."

In the classroom, a group of students talked more enthusiastically.

It is indeed related to Nikita.

"Did someone really report Nikita to buy fake tickets. Who is so annoying? Even if Nikita bought a fake ticket, she won the first place in the English competition and won glory for our class. It is too much to report her to the police."

"That's right. Is it necessary to call the police?"

"Rue, is it you?" Think of the first person who said Nikita bought fake tickets is Rue. At that time, many people looked at her. Looking at the police at the door, Rue was quite happy at that time. When she saw a group of people looking at her discontentedly, she stunned and immediately denied: "No, it is not me!"

She thought about calling the police.

But before she could do so, someone was one step ahead of her.

“Not you? Who is that? In addition to you, who else has such a deep hatred with Nikita?”

Samuel and Tobin looked at Rue with a gloomy face.

Rue shivered with fear at the eyes of the two men and shook her head hard. “It’s not me, not me... If you don’t believe me, you can ask the police. They must have an alarm record there. It’s really not me...”

At the door...

The young policeman asked with a complicated expression on his face, “Miss, someone reported that Nikita in your class bought fake tickets. Now, we need to find her for further investigation. Is Nikita here?”

Chapter 828 It’s Nikita again.

The young policeman actually saw the girl sleeping at the last table.

He had mixed feelings.

It was her again

Someone in this school called the police last time and said that she had paralyzed her classmates.

She also went to the station because of fighting with vocational high school students.

This was the third time.

Every time the reason why she went to the station was so strange.

Mr. White was stunned. "Nikita bought fake tickets?"

The young policeman nodded seriously. "It is illegal to sell and buy fake tickets. If it's true, she has to come with us."

"Nikita, Nikita" Samuel couldn't wake her up, so he boldly stretched out his hand to push her.

Nikita was a light sleeper, so she woke up after being pushed.

She opened her eyes unhappily.

Her dark eyes staring at Samuel were oppressive.

Samuel quickly explained to her. "Niky, I didn't mean it. A policeman is coming, looking for you."

"What?" Nikita raised her head coldly.

The young policeman saw her and came up to her after saying to Mr. White.

Samuel lowered his voice "Niky, you just fell asleep. Something happened that you don't know. Some people are jealous that you sent us VIP tickets, saying that your tickets are fake and calling the police."

The young policeman went to Nikita's table, when Nikita just explained.

The young policeman was a familiar face.

She's seen him a few times before.

“Well, Nikita Swift.” The young policeman still remembered this little girl, and the previous two things finally confirmed that she didn’t violate the law, so when he received the call this time, he felt that it might be another misunderstanding.

But someone called them, so they had to have a look.

“Can you tell me something about the fake tickets?”

“Fake tickets?” Nikita smiled, “What?”

The young policeman:

H

He came here to investigate this case.

But how can there be an illusion that the roles of him and her exchanged?

It was as if he was the one under investigation, and the girl standing opposite him was performing his duties.

“Someone reported that you bought fake tickets of a match. You also gave them to your classmates. You should remember what tickets they are?”

“Oh” She just nodded lazily, her voice careless, “I sent a few tickets to my classmates, But I did not buy them. My friend sent me”

“Poof Rue smiled and said to her desk-mate in a low voice, “She still doesn’t tell the truth. However, the police have come, and soon her lies will be exposed.”

The young policeman nodded. “Can you show us the tickets your friend sent you?”

There were QR codes on tickets.

If they were fake, it could be found by scanning them.

*These are the tickets” Samuel and Tobin took out the tickets and handed them to the young policemen.

When the young policeman picked it up, Samuel muttered. “Be careful. The tickets for the VIP area can’t be bought at any cost.

The young policernan

Tickets were beautifully made, and they were quite weighty in hand.

The young policeman turned it over on both sides and then returned them.

He didn’t see whether it was authentic or not

Chapter 829 Photo Exposure

“Nikita, can you tell us who your friend is? If there is definite evidence to prove that these tickets were sent to you by him, then there is no problem.”

Nikita smiled again. “So someone reported me, but they couldn’t produce any actual evidence to prove that I bought fake ones. Is it true?”

“Whoever advocates the case should give evidence. I’ve never heard of being certified by the whistleblower.” She smiled ironically. “If there is no evidence, it is a false alarm. Officer, I want to know if someone calls a false alarm, how should he be punished according to related regulations?”

The young policeman was stunned.

Others were stunned, too.

After a few seconds, the young police came to their senses. "According to related regulations, if it's a false alarm, we'll detain the person who called in for five to ten days and impose a certain fine."

Nikita nodded, drawing a book from the drawer, turned to the page she read before, and lowered her head. "So you know what to do? The person you should find is not me."

Young policemen and students were stunned again.

Samuel and Tobin were also shocked. They didn't expect things changed.

They Originally thought she had to find evidence to prove that those tickets were authentic.

It turned out to be 'who advocates gives evidence'. Why didn't they think of it?

The person who called the police wanted Nikita to have an accident.

But if he didn't have evidence, he would cry wolf and waste the police force.

"Tickets are authentic. Suddenly someone shouted, "Nikita really knows the master of KPL, and the tickets are given to her by Manley!"

"What? Tickets are given to by Manley? How do you know?"

"The news has just popped up on Facebook, and you can see it yourself!"

Someone shouted first, and other students also took out their mobile phones and logged into Ins..

They were so urgent to know the news that they forgot Mr. White was still in the classroom during class time.

Soon, students saw the trending topic that the boy said.

When they clicked into the trending topics, the top one obviously was the news.

Manley was not a star in the entertainment circle, but he had many followers, as popular as hunky boys.

He was good at playing games, young and single, with a good appearance.

His personal affair has always been concerned by many people.

Therefore, when someone photographed photos of him and a girl, and their relationship seemed to be very good, this topic became trending soon.

The title was also eye-catching: Exposure! Manley was intimate with a woman!

They licked on the hot topic and found a girl named 'Dawdler with Dreams' accidentally saw Manley. She was a fan of his, so she took his photos and posted them online to share her happiness.

Originally, she wanted to share her happiness with others for she saw her idol.

But because she also photographed another girl, this post became a trending topic soon.

The girl with ponytail in the photo wore the school uniform, with delicate profile and white skin.

Something held by Manley was given to that girl.

Although it was only a side face, students in the same class can see that the girl in the photo is Nikita.

And Nikita also asked for leave in the first class.

Look at the time of releasing the post. Isn't it the time when Nikita asked for leave?

Chapter 830 Others' Eighteen Years Old

Therefore, Nikita went out on leave in the first class and came back soon, for she went to get tickets?

Moreover, the place in the photo was the gate of the school. That meant that these tickets were sent by Manley in person?

After reading the post, a group of students was stunned.

Nikita said before that the tickets were given by her friend.

But no one believed it.

Everyone thought she was bragging.

She made up that she had a friend of KPL

Now it confirmed that what Nikita said was true.

She really had a great friend of KPL, and her friend even was Manley, the God of the game industry with the highest commercial value among KPL members.

If the tickets were given by Manley, let alone three VIP tickets, and it was not surprising that he would give ten tickets.

Manley had such privileges that he can get many VIP tickets.

“Shit, it’s true! Nikita really knows Manley, and tickets are given to her by him!”

“It stunned me that my classmate and my idol are good friends. Does it mean that I also know Manley?”

“So, I also know him!”

After a group of boys was shocked, they were all very excited.

Manley was a God-like figure in their minds.

He was far away from them.

But now, after knowing that their classmate Nikita and Manley were good friends, these boys felt that God in their mind seemed to be no longer out of reach.

Some girls also took out their mobile phones and saw the hot topic related to Manley and Nikita.

After reading it, a group of girls kept silent.

The girl standing with Manley in the photo was Nikita.

Although Manley wore a mask, his true fans can recognize the boy who handed the tickets to Nikita in the photo was Manley.

It was stunning enough that Nikita knew Hugh and even wrote songs for him.

Now she still knew Manley.

From the entertainment industry directly to KPL, this leap was too...

And these two persons Nikita knew were also the top figures in their respective fields. They were so jealous of her.

At the age of eighteen, they only knew to read novels, pursue idols, go shopping and discuss which newly opened tea shop tasted good.

But at the same age, Nikita wrote songs for Hugh, and she was a friend of Manley's. She never listened to lessons, sleeping all day, but she could still get the first prize of the English Contest.

Things they did at the age of eighteen were not patches on hers.

It was annoying that they can't compare with her.

Rue also saw the trending topic, and her face turned black.

Rue once satirized Nikita before. She didn't believe that Nikita's friend was the great master of KPL. After reading the hot topic, Rue's face suddenly became hot and felt that her face was slapped.

She was the first person who said that Nikita's tickets were fake.

10.04

Now her face was slapped repeatedly.

A girl sitting at the table next to Rue was embarrassed and said, "I don't expect Nikita really knows Manley. It seems that we are wrong about her.”

“Nikita is so capable, knowing so many powerful people” Another girl said with envy, “Hugh and Manley both are the super male gods in the eyes of thousands of girls.”
