

The Girl CB 891

Chapter 891 A Slap in the Face

At first glance, she looked unruly

When Margot saw her clearly, she frowned, and her face turned livid.

It's Nikita

What's she doing in the hospital?

Before Margot could figure out it, she saw that the girl who was approaching passed them as if she didn't see them.

"Nikita Margot stepped forward with disgust, "Why are you here? What are you doing in the hospital?"

Before Nikita answered, she asked with a poker face. "Do you have an acquaintance with Director Frank?"

The girl stopped, turned to look at her indifferently, her porcelain white face very cold.

Looking at her cold appearance, Margot's eyebrows frowned more tightly in dislike.

Nikita acted as if she owed her.

She didn't know why Nikita always acted so coldly with a poker face.

What did she do wrong so that she had such an ungrateful daughter?

“Why are you looking at me like that? Didn’t you hear me when I was talking to you?” With impatience in her tone, Margot asked again what she had just said. “I asked if you know Director Frank?”

Nikita still didn’t speak, only looking at her indifferently.

Her eyes dark, there was no expression on her porcelain white face. When she looked at Margot, she was also cold.

When Margot looked at her eyes, she was even somewhat fearful.

Inexplicably, she was fearful.

After looking at her indifferently for a while, she turned away, leaving no word.

When Margot saw her leave, she turned shameful and furious, stepping forwards to pull her.

“Miss Swift?”

Meanwhile, a surprising voice came behind.

Later, Margot saw Director Frank quickly pass her and stride toward Nikita.

After he came to Nikita’s side, he stopped and said in surprise. “It’s you. I just thought it was you, but I am afraid that I made a mistake. It’s really you.”

“Hello, Director Frank.” Nikita looked at Frank who chased her in front of her, stopped and responded politely.

Director Frank’s face was full of smiles and his attitude was quite enthusiastic: “Miss Swift, are you here to visit Malcolm? He was discharged from the hospital in the afternoon. Today, many people came. It seems that many people are his disciples or friends.”

“There are more than ten people. Even Miss Garrett has come.”

Frank talked to Nikita like an old friend chatting.

Before Nikita saying, he has said a bunch of crackling.

Nikita politely responded: “I am here to visit an elder. She has just been admitted to your hospital. Her name is Gerda.”

“Gerda?” Frank stunned, and widened his eyes. “Miss Swift, do you know Gerda?”

“Yeah.”

‘Did she call you before? About twenty minutes ago.’

“Twenty minutes ago? Well, she did call me.”

Frank was shocked again.

No wonder he thought the girl’s voice on the phone with Gerda sounded familiar.

Chapter 892 A Slap in the Face

So, Gerda’s relative was Nikita?

Frank looked at the delicate and beautiful girl in front of him. Suddenly, an idea flashed in his mind. He felt that he might have made a mistake in the relationship between Gerda and his master.

He always thought it was strange.

How did Gerda make an acquaintance with his master?

A woman who has lived in the rural areas had nothing extraordinary, and she was only an ordinary person.

According to her life track, it was impossible for her to know his master.

It was even more impossible for his master to ask him personally to take good care of her.

But if it is Nikita who his master knows...

It makes sense.

Every few years, his master traveled around the world, and he would make an acquaintance with various strange but skillful people like himself.

Nikita might be one of the skillful talents he knew when he traveled around the world before.

She had good medical skills at such a young age.

With this, she was not an ordinary girl.

“My master called me in person and asked me to take good care of Gerda. Miss Swift, I wonder if you’re his friend? Is it because of you that he called me?”

Frank was so curious that he couldn’t help asking.

Hearing his question, Nikita’s eyebrows went up, her expression on her face somewhat strange. “That old man is your master?”

He indeed had several disciples.

At the beginning, he also said that he would introduce his disciples to her.

But Nikita was not interested in this thing, so he no longer mentioned it.

Is Frank a disciple of Lemuel?

Then Frank is her...

Nikita's mood was indescribable when looking at her disciple's student who was decades older than her.

Why are all her disciples old men?

"Miss Swift, isn't it improper for you to call my master like that?" Hearing the way Nikita called Lemuel, Frank was unhappy. frowning, showing his dissatisfaction on his face.

Although he also quite appreciated this young person....

Lemuel was his master.

He was naturally not happy when he heard that his master was called 'that old man' by a little girl.

Although Lemuel was a strange old man with a bad temper and was not easy to approach, his disciples still respected him very much.

"Improper?" Nikita was surprised, "What is wrong?"

She usually called him like this.

What should she call him?

Lemuel was over seventy years old, and his hair was all white. He was indeed an old man.

Frank was also confused. When he was about to say something, he saw a familiar figure walk towards them.

After that figure approached, before Frank greet, he saw Dr. Charles go straight to Nikita and greet her surprisingly.

“Master, why are you here?” Dr. Charles looked at Nikita pleasantly and excitedly.

As if he picked up gold luckily.

Before Nikita spoke, Dr. Charles invited her again. “Master, you were not available last time. You must be available today.”

“I’d like to treat you at noon today, and you can choose the place, all right?”

Beside them.

Director Frank looked at the enthusiasm of Dr. Charles, and for a few seconds, he has fallen into self-doubt.

Is this Dr. Charles he knows?

He is usually quite cold.

Chapter 893 A Slap in the Face

He never took the initiative to invite people for dinner. And it was very difficult for others to invite him, though they repeated to beg him.

He wanted to treat Dr. Charles for help before, and made an appointment with him several times, but he didn't come until he was available.

Their appointment was also in a hurry that day.

While eating, Dr. Charles said that he was so busy that he had to leave quickly.

At this moment.

Looking at Dr. Charles who invited Nikita to have lunch again and again sincerely, Frank felt that he was jealous in his heart. Dr. Charles' attitudes toward him and Nikita were quite different.

"Sorry, I still have no time today." Nikita refused directly after she took out her phone to see the time. "If you still want to ask me to work in the National Hospital, then there is no need to talk. My answer is the same as before."

"I am not interested in working there."

Just when Frank was still jealous of Dr. Charles' enthusiasm to Nikita, he heard Nikita refuse the order to the National Hospital Again, he felt his heart was pierced heavily.

The place he dreamed of was rejected by others again and again without hesitation.

The reason was still because of lack of interest.

It made him so jealous.

Is it feast or famine?

It is the first time he has seen someone refuse the invitation from the National Hospital.

It is the National Hospital.

It is a top hospital across the country and even the world.

It used to refuse others and never was refused.

Nikita's rejection might be the first case.

Dr. Charles who was refused again was sad, but he never gave up and still bragged. "It can provide good salary and perks."

*And after you enter the institution, you are also very flexible. You don't need to work from nine to five."

"If you are still studying now, just come to the institution to do a few experiments on weekends. Master, our hospital is very good. You will know it after you come. Just tell me why are you dissatisfied. Or do you have what other requirements? We can negotiate."

"What should I do?"

"You can make your requirements."

It was the first time that Dr. Charles had worked so hard to promote National hospital.

He has never done this before.

The title of this hospital was a famous brand, and there was no need to promote it at all.

Every year, there were many talents in medical institutions applying to join it.

But maybe no one can pass its tests.

It has not added new members for five years.

Now, he finally got a crush on one talent and took the initiative to invite her, but he was rejected.

He was rejected twice, and he started doubting the status of the hospital.

Are its fame and status worse than before?

“Miss Swift, I think you can think it over.” Frank looked at Nikita with envy. “Not everyone can enter the National Hospital. The standard of application is very, very high, and very few people can reach it.”

“I have never seen that it invited anyone to join, and Miss Swift is an exception.”

“Miss Swift may not know much about it. You needn’t reply in a hurry. You can make a decision after you consider it clearly” Frank thought Nikita must haven’t known about it very much.

Although the little girl was quite capable and skilled in medicine, she was still very young after all.

She was not mature enough when thinking.

She may not know what she refused.

Sooner or later, she would regret it.

“Right, you needn’t reply immediately.” Although Dr. Charles was refused twice, he still didn’t give up. “When you’re available, just tell me. I’ll take you to our hospital to have a look.”

“If you don’t like it after your visit, I won’t force you anymore.”

Frank stood aside jealously.

He was afraid that only Nikita could be catered by the National Hospital.

This treatment...

When his master first entered it, he was not treated like this.

Nikita looked at Dr. Charles’ expectant face. A moment later, she nodded and said. “Well, let’s talk about it later.”

She said this just to cope with Dr. Charles’ invitation now.

But Dr. Charles took it serious. He was so happy that he took out his phone. “Give me your number, so we can contact.”

Nikita told him her mobile phone number.

He immediately recorded her number in the Contacts.

Frank also took out his phone to record it.

After they saved her number, Nikita put away her mobile phone. “Someone is still waiting for me. If there is nothing else, I will leave first.”

Then she turned away.

Dr. Charles and Director Frank saw her off.

Not far behind.

Margot's mouth open, she was extremely shocked.

So was Patrick.

The old man he saw at the gate of the hospital before was Dr. Charles.

He guessed that old man might be somebody.

Otherwise, Director Frank would not be so polite.

But he didn't guess he was Dr. Charles who they wanted to beg.

They were still begging for an appointment with Dr. Charles.

But Nikita has already been Dr. Charles' friend. And they were more than acquaintances.

If he didn't misunderstand, it seemed that Dr. Charles wanted to invite Nikita to work in the National Hospital.

But Nikita refused him.

Even Patrick knew how authoritative that hospital was.

The medical team of the National Hospital directly served for the president.

Working there was equivalent to stepping into the political circle, able to have access to the upper class of the official system.

If Nathan or Yvonne was able to enter that hospital, they would be so excited that they would celebrate it for days, for it would be a great joy.

Unexpectedly Nikita refused it.

Patrick couldn't believe it.

Margot was even astonished, her mind blank for seconds.

She also heard the conversation Patrick just heard.

And she could hear it clearly.

She thought Nikita couldn't know Director Frank before.

Chapter 894 A Slap in the Face

But now...

She witnessed and heard that Nikita not only knew Director Frank but also Dr. Charles of the National Hospital, and both of them were polite towards her.

Director Frank and Dr. Charles both were powerful people with high status.

Even when they talked to Director Frank, they were polite.

But Nikita...

She always acted calmly and indifferently whoever she faced.

As if she has been used to all this.

Although Director Frank's attitude towards them just now was polite, it can't be a patch on his attitude to Nikita.

Frank was really polite to Nikita.

Polite as he was, he was a little distant.

It was obvious to see his different attitudes.

Margot looked at them stunningly, feeling she choked and that couldn't swallow it and spit it out, so that she was very uncomfortable.

Her face was also hot, as if someone slapped her.

Patrick and Margot stood stiffly, seeing Nikita off together with Director Frank, until she disappeared at the corner. Then they took their sights back.

Both of them was so stunned that they couldn't even spit out a word when looking ta each other.

They know that Nikita is not simple.

They also know that she made friends with some people of great status.

But thinking of things happening recently, they are still shocked, feeling as if they never really knew her.

After they gradually know her, the girl they imagine is totally different from who she is.

They thought that this daughter, who was abducted at the age of three and then grew up in the countryside, was a bumpkin. But now they feel that they are slapped heavily for many times.

Nikita cured Old Mr. Lambert whose family is not accessible to them. Old Mr. Lambert even invited Nikita to attend their family banquet, which showed that Nikita had a say in his heart.

Dr. Charles who they want to beg is in a good relationship with Nikita.o

And the National Hospital...

Nikita refused its invitation.

If the Swift family has such a good opportunity-Nathan or Yvonne is invited by Dr. Charles to work in the National Hospital, it will be a great joy of their family, and they will celebrate it well.

But Nikita refused it directly without any hesitation.

Most importantly, she has already refused it, but Dr. Charles didn't give up and wanted to invite her to visit the hospital.

This treatment...

They can't even imagine.

But currently, some powerful men in various fields who they wanted to meet but had no chances were in a good relationship with Nikita.

The good job that they wanted their children to get was refused by Nikita.

Margot always despised Nikita, for she thought that Nikita could not compare with Yvonne In all aspects.

Yvonne was good-looking and excellent in many aspects, and she had a good disposition and great academic performance.

Compared with eccentric Nikita who had poor academic performance and usually entered the police station for fighting. Yvonne was much better.

Chapter 895 A Slap in the Face

In their heart, Yvonne was in the sky, Nikita on the ground.

After Nikita was taken away from Syracuse Village, Margot was grateful for many times that she didn't send Yvonne away. Instead, Yvonne still stayed at the Swift family

But now

Both Patrick and Margot were suspicious of their previous decision.

Margot can't help but think if Nikita still stayed in the Swift family now, what kind of situation would the Swift family be?

Yvonne was excellent and obedient.

But if something happened to the Swift family, she couldn't help.

When she fell ill Yvonne would cry and say something nice, but she couldn't help

Although she won't blame Yvonne

Without contrast, there won't be dispute in her heart. But with contrast, she felt unhappy

If Nikita hadn't cut off relations with them, it would have been nice, for Nikita could help to address the problems of the Swift Group and her disease

When this idea came to her heart, she suddenly felt regretful

It was the first time that she had felt regretful after she broke up with Nik

This couple was indulged in their regrets until Director Frank called Dr. Charles when Charles was about to leave after Nikita left

"What's up?" When Dr. Charles talked to Nikita, he was still smiling, looking kind and nice. When he turned to talk to Frank, his face turned indifferent.

The tone also turned cold

He said in a business tone, without any emotion.

Frank felt a completely different attitude again. He restrained his disappointment and said "Dr. Charles, my friend's daughter and son-in-law have something to do with you. Are you available for minutes?"

"Who Dr. Charles frowned and said reluctantly, I'm still busy now. Say quickly

Patrick stepped forwards with Margot and greeted Dr. Charles respectfully. "Hello, I'm Patrick Swift, from the Swift Group. This is my wife, Margot Dan We're here to consult you about my wife's disease"

Margot was still indulged in regrets, so she looked half-fainting

She didn't come to her senses until Patrick pulled her

She looked up at Dr Charles, her eyes still absent and dull.

Patrick pulled her sleeve and hinted her. "Margot, this is Dr. Charles."

"Hello, Dr Charles Then Margot greeted politely and respectfully

Dr. Charles had the similar status to Malcolm

Both of them had high status in their fields.

Without Cathleen's relationship with Director Frank, according to the status of the Swift family, they even could not meet Dr.

Charles

Therefore, in front of such a master, both of them were well behaved and respectful

"Oh, you want me to see your wife? Dr Charles cast a look at Margot. When he was about to look away, he felt stunned and looked at her face for seconds.

Then he squinted at Patrick

"Yes, I'm afraid that only you can treat my wife's illness"

Chapter 896 A Slap in the Face

But Dr. Charles frowned at their flattering, saying in disgust. "Don't flatter me. I don't buy it. I am busy now.

Talk about your disease when I am available."

Then he was ready to leave.

Sometimes he even ignored Frank's requirements. Let alone Patrick and Margot's. The latter was even introduced by Frank.

The relationship was more distant.

Seeing that he was ready to leave, Patrick and Margot were stunned.

Frank was also stunned and then followed up to remind him in a low voice. "Dr., they are Cathleen's daughter and son-in-law."

Dr. Charles paused. "Cathleen's daughter and son-in-law?"

Dr. Charles and Cathleen knew each other.

She was a famous capable woman of the Garrett family, and her reputation was no less famous than Old Mr. Garrett.

Dr. Charles once met Cathleen on some occasions before, but they were not so familiar. The Garrett family was powerful, so if someone came from it, he had to treat him nicely.

Importantly, Cathleen was not an unimportant relative of the Garrett family.

When it came to the Garrett family now, the first person came to others' mind was Old Mr. Garrett, and the second was Cathleen.

"Yes, they are Cathleen's daughter and son-in-law Frank cast a look at the couple who was stunned and added in a low voice. "Otherwise, I wouldn't introduce them to you. Dr. Charles, do you want to see her?"

Dr. Charles frowned. "Even though he was her daughter, I don't have time now. Fine, let them come tomorrow and go to your office. I'll diagnose her after I finish the meeting."

It was good enough that he promised to diagnose her.

Delaying for a day was nothing serious.

Frank immediately nodded and said, "OK, I'll tell them soon. Dr. Charles, let me escort you out now."

"No need." Dr. Charles waved his hand and said impatiently, "I know the way. I can go by myself. By the way, what is Master doing in the hospital?"

"You mean Miss Swift?" Frank immediately told him Gerda's conditions.

After hearing this, Dr. Charles' eyes sparkled pleasantly. "It means that Master will come to the hospital tomorrow?"

Frank looked at Dr. Charles' shining eyes: "..

目

“Then I’ll ask my old buddies to come here together tomorrow!” Dr. Charles was bound to achieve his goal. “She may agree after more people persuade her. No matter what I need to do, I have to manage to get her in the National Hospital.”

Frank filled in the application form to join the National Hospital every year, but he was rejected every time. Frank: “...”

There have been no new members in the National Hospital for years.

Those who failed to apply every year thought that it had no plans to recruit people in recent years.

It turned out that it still needed to recruit people.

It just didn’t want them.

Frank saw Dr. Charles off jealously.

He turned around and saw the stunned couple still standing in place. He walked over and told them what Dr. Charles said.

Later, Frank also left.

Patrick and Margot still stood in place.

Dr. Charles was willing to treat Margot..

But Patrick and Margot were not as happy and joyful as expected.

Not only were they not happy at all, but also they even had a bad feeling in their heart.

They stood still silently for a long time.

Chapter 897 Both of them were regretful.

After they left the hospital and got on the car, they still felt unhappy.

In the car.

Patrick was abnormally silent. He usually chatted with Margot, but he kept silent now.

Margot also looked out of the window absently.

After a while, Margot turned her head at Patrick, asking. "How can Nikita know Director Frank and Dr. Charles?"

Before Patrick answered, she said to herself. "Is it because she cured Old Mr. Lambert that Director Frank and Dr. Charles are so polite to her? Previously, many experts of the National Hospital were treating him."

"Yes, it must be like this. It is because of Old Mr. Lambert that they are so respectful to her. Dr. Charles even invited her to the National Hospital. Is it also because of Old Mr. Lambert?"

"I didn't expect her to refuse it. Is she stupid? She actually refused a place like the National Hospital?"

Margot thought Nikita may not know enough about it.

She still didn't know what it meant to be admitted to it.

Otherwise, how could she refuse the invitation from it?

This was an opportunity that others could not even have Margot was grateful that Nikita didn't know about the National Hospital. Otherwise, she would be more arrogant after she works there.

After keeping silent for a while, Patrick said with mixed feelings. "Without enough skills, she can enter it, though Old Mr. Lambert helps her."

Although the Lambert family was very powerful...

Old Mr. Lambert's words were not enough to make her work in it.

"You mean Dr. Charles invited her for she has the capabilities?" Margot frowned, pressing her lips. "Although her medical skills are great, she even didn't graduate from the high school. How can she enter it?"

"The National Hospital has very high requirements for diplomas, doesn't it?"

One of the thresholds was the advanced degree.

An advanced degree was equivalent to a stepping stone.

Nikita was still in her third year of high school and had not officially taken the college entrance examination. Now she didn't even have a stepping stone.

"The National hospital really has educational requirements. However, if she is a talent they value very much, it is possible to make an exception." When Patrick talked about this matter, he felt more and more terrible.

They all felt that Nikita had poor academic performance and idled away, so she would definitely not be promising in the future.

But before the college entrance examination, there were top institutions like the National Hospital invited her in advance.

If Nikita agreed...

Even if she got zero marks in the college entrance examination, she would have a promising future.

They had hoped that Yvonne could study at Peking University, so that the Swift family could score higher reputation.

But studying at Peking University can't compare with working at the National Hospital.

Those who can enter the National Hospital were as excellent as those studying at Peking University.

But few of the latter can enter the National Hospital.

Hearing Patrick's words, Margot kept silent again.

She disliked Nikita's poor academic performance and thought that she can't even attend a vocational school in the future.

But The National Hospital invited her.

"Actually, I don't think the psychic master was wrong." Patrick sighed heavily. "If Nikita didn't sever relations with us and stayed in the Swift family, the Swift family might really get better and better."

Chapter 898 She still wanted Nikita to treat her.

For the first time, Margot did not refute Patrick's words.

She didn't believe in psychic masters.

But previously, the Swift Group suffered from the financial crisis, and they can't find the solutions. Then Patrick found a famous psychic master in their circle with his friend's help.

After he came back, he discussed with her to pick up their daughter who had been sold to a remote mountain village.

At first, Margot was naturally unwilling.

At the beginning, the Swift family figured out Nikita's whereabouts, but they didn't take her back, for they thought she was not excellent enough and were afraid that she would lose their face. So although they knew where their biological daughter was, they didn't take her back.

For Margot, the daughter she wanted should be able to bring benefits to the Swift family.

It didn't matter whether she was biological or not.

So she still saw Yvonne as her daughter, though she knew Yvonne was not born by her.

Yvonne was so excellent.

She was also obedient.

As long as they cultivated her well, it was absolutely that she could marry into a powerful family with good background.

And what can Nikita bring to the Swift family?

She was only a disgrace of the Swift family

Margot valued her reputation, and she could not accept a terrible daughter, so she didn't want to take her back.

She didn't want outsiders to know that Nikita was her daughter

She finally reluctantly agreed to take her back after Patrick persuaded her for a long time.

But she had made a deal with Patrick If Nikita behaved well, she could stay with them. If she was still unruly and made troubles every day, they would send her back

Then Nikita was taken back

On the second day after she came back, she entered the police station.

Margot wanted to send her away at that time

She didn't believe that psychic master's words anymore.

How could a disgrace who made troubles immediately after she came back be the luck of the Swift family? How can she bring benefits to the Swift family?

But now...

Margot also thought that if Nikita still stayed at the Swift family, their troubles would already be addressed.

Now, she doesn't have to beg Dr. Charles.

Although Margot knew Dr. Charles had high skills and put all her hope on him, and he also promised to treat her, she was still anxious.

At the beginning, several top experts from the National Hospital didn't cure Old Mr. Lambert.

But Nikita made it.

Although Dr. Charles was top doctors in the medical circle, but Nikita cured what he couldn't do.

In this way, in terms of medical skills, Nikita was even more skillful than Dr. Charles.

If Nikita treated her, she would have higher possibility of being cured.

Margot once scolded that Nikita was ungrateful and swore that she won't beg Nikita to treat her. But she was regretful now and wanted to be treated by Nikita.

"But Nikita grew up in Syracuse Village since she was little, didn't she?" Margot was still confused, frowning. "Syracuse Village was poor, and Granny Callie who raised her was also poor. She studied in the town before. How can she make an acquaintance with those people?*

Chapter 899 The man in power was still single and unmarried.

Malcom, Dr. Charles, Director Frank and Sean were all powerful and noble persons in society. Although they stayed in N City for such a long time, they had no access to them.

How can Nikita

How did she know these people?

Margot didn't surf the Internet nor log into Facebook.

So she didn't know Nikita also knew other famous people, such as Hugh, Manley and Xavier.

But the characters Nikita knew now were enough to shock her.

Patrick also didn't understand.

How can she know these people?

This couple kept silent for a long time.

A moment later, Patrick sighed again. "Forget it, it's meaningless to say this now. Nikita... she won't recognize us again. Let's cultivate Yvonne well. She was excellent, and she will definitely get glory for our family in the future."

Margot pressed her lips, not agreeing with Patrick's words.

She did regret it.

But she also knew Nikita can't be counted on now.

At present, they can only rely on Yvonne.

If Yvonne won the prize in the piano match later and got Aroma's appreciation, it would be great.

Then she would get another bonus item.

She went to know that Aroma had a high status in the world. As long as Yvonne becomes her disciple, she will get a place in the world.

When Yvonne becomes famous in the world, her social status will be different.

At that time, they would be more confident to marry Yvonne into the Lambert family.

It is said that the man in power was still single and unmarried.

Compared with the young master of the Lambert family, its ruler would be better.

Young Master Lambert was noble, though he was not the one in power.

Moreover, he was too young to change his mind easily.

And the man in power who turned over the Lambert Group in his twenties must be mature and prudent. There was no scandal about him. With these merits, he was much better.

If he takes a fancy on Yvonne...

The Swift family will be promising.

Chapter 900 The gap between Nikita and Yvonne was too big.

When it comes to today's powerful families, if the Lambert family was No. Two, no one dares to call itself No. One.

The Lambert family is definitely the best choice.

Thinking about it, Margot became excited.

"Patrick, you are right! We should cultivate Yvonne well, and she can be counted on. As for Nikita, she is really capable now, but she is useless for us. Forget her. Don't talk about her. Every time I mention her, I'm in a bad mood."

Margot counted on Yvonne again.

Who she could relay on was only Yvonne.

As for Nathan.

Margot always despised those who worked in the entertainment industry. Although her son worked there, she still looked down on it. She once stopped her son to attend the talent show, but she and Patrick was busy in addressing the crisis of the Swift Group, so she was unable to stop him.

After she persuaded him several times, Nathan still didn't change her mind, so she didn't take care of him anymore.

Patrick wanted to retort her dislike for Nikita and opened his mouth, but finally he didn't say anything.

He was thinking...

If they treated Nikita as nicely as they did to Yvonne and didn't have an obvious bias towards Yvonne, Nikita would have not break up with them.

Then they could count on her.

Nikita arranged those rural women to settle down in the hospital, didn't she?

Moreover, Frank catered them in person.

It can be seen that Nikita had a big voice.

She even treated those rural women nicely, who had no kinship with her.

If she still stayed at the Swift family, they would be treated more nicely.

It would be fantastic.

Unfortunately, at present...

Patrick shook his head and sighed, still feeling regretful in his heart.

They can rely on Yvonne.

But at present, the gap between Nikita and Yvonne was so big.

At the Swift family.

Margot and Patrick walked into the hall. Zoey and several maids were cleaning downstairs. When they came back, Zoey threw away her rag and stepped forward and said, "Madam and sir, you are back."

Margot nodded.

Zoey added, "Madam, sir, Miss didn't go to school today. I don't know if she is ill."

Margot was about to go upstairs. When she heard this, she stopped and said, "Didn't Yvonne go to school today?"

Zoey nodded. There was a hint of hesitation on her face. After a few seconds, she hesitated and said, "There is something I don't know if I should tell you, but if I don't say it, I am afraid what will happen to Miss."

Zoey said seriously.

Patrick frowned and immediately asked, "What's the matter? What happened to Yvonne? Why didn't she go to school today? Is she sick?"

Zoey sipped her lower lip and hesitated for a few seconds before saying, "Last night, the young master and the young lady quarreled. The quarrel was quite severe. The young lady cried for a long time, even her eyes were swollen with tears. It is useless for me to persuade."

"The young master came back very late last night. I asked him why he quarreled with the young lady, but he didn't tell me either. And he didn't coax the young lady as he used to. You left early in the morning, then they came down to eat. They didn't talk to each other. The young master left directly after eating. The young lady cried for a long time."

Zoey sighed as she said, with worries in her eyes.

"Young master is the one who care about Miss most, before even if they quarreled, the young master will go to coax young lady.
