

The Girl CB 911

Chapter 911 Meet Mr. Hall Again

“Master, I...” Rosa still wanted to defend herself.

“Stop, you don’t need to say anything. There is nothing I like to hear about what you said. Are you coming to pick me up from the hospital or to anger me?” Malcolm stared at her again, and his voice was more severe than just now. “I don’t care what personal grudges you have with Nikita. I don’t want to hear you say anything bad about her in front of me. I won’t bother it this time, but if you still say so next time, you’d better not come to me.”

Rosa’s face was pale in an instant.

Malcolm never said such heavy words to her.

Lauren sent Nikita to the hospital gate and watched her take a taxi to leave before returning to the hospital.

Nikita got into a taxi, and the driver asked, “Miss, where to go?”

Nikita pondered and sent a message to Hugh: Now I am free, go to record the song?

Hugh replied her immediately: OK, boss, you are finally free! Where are you? I’ll pick you up right away!

Nikita: No, give me an address. I’ll take a taxi.

Hugh: Boss, let me pick you up. How can you take a taxi by yourself?

Nikita: You just need to reimburse the fare.

Hugh:...

Nikita: What's wrong?

Hugh: You still care about that fare?

Nikita: Yes, big money and small money are all money.

Hugh:...

Hugh: OK, you can take a taxi directly to the recording studio.

Subsequently, Hugh gave Nikita the address of the recording studio.

Nikita got the address and told the driver.

Twenty minutes later, the taxi arrived at its destination..

As soon as Nikita got out of the car, a black car stopped at the back of the taxi. After a few seconds, the door opened. Hugh, who was in black trousers, black sunglasses, black mask, and a black cap, was wrapped tightly from head to toe.

After Hugh got out of the car, he saw Nikita just coming down from the taxi. His eyes lit up, and he walked quickly towards Nikita.

After approaching, he lowered his voice, restrained his excitement, and shouted in a low voice: "Boss."

Nikita turned her head and looked at his "black style", and the corners of her mouth twitched slightly.

“Why don’t you wrap your eyes and nose too?” After looking at him for a few seconds, she couldn’t help teasing.

Hugh: “...”

“Boss, you are really humorous, ha ha ha.”

Nikita turned back, put her hands to pockets and walked forward lazily.

Chapter 912 A new female artist?

Hugh keeps up with her pace. He is a tall man with a height of 1.8 meters and a superstar in the entertainment industry. He was always followed by others. At this time, he follows Nikita’s side step by step, and looks well-behaved, just like the staff beside Nikita.

“Boss, are you hot? There is an umbrella in the car. If you are hot, I will bring the umbrella.” Outside the sunlight is strong, Hugh looked down at the fair and delicate girl, worrying that she was sunburned.

Her fair and tender skin must not be sunburned.

Hugh quite can’t figure out one thing.

Why did Nikita, who grew up in a remote mountain village, have such fair skin?

He has been to Syracuse Village once.

It was the remote, and its terrain was very high, with strong ultraviolet rays.

Because it was too remote and at a bad geographical location, it is impossible to develop.

The people who live there are all poor people all their lives.

Nikita's home is not much better. Granny Callie, who raised her, like other villagers, usually lives by feeding chickens and ducks, and has no other skills. She could only provide Nikita the most basic food and clothing.

The rest people in the village, no matter adults or children, men or women, were tanned.

Only Nikita looked fair and delicate. She is not like a person who grew up in that village at all.

This is probably the advantage inherent in genes.

Perhaps she will never be sunburned.

Nikita slightly lowered her head, and her voice was low: "Not bad."

"Are you thirsty? There is water in the car, I will bring it to you." Hugh is very attentive, keeping asking her, for fear that his care is not thoughtful, which makes his boss unhappy and refuse to contact him in the future.

This time, he can spend 50 million dollars to invite Nikita, a big shot to record a new song with him. To be honest, he earned

1.

Boss' current identity is a high school student in First Senior High School of N City.

But her another identity is internationally renowned genius musician Aromal

Boss recorded his new song, and after that, he was the first male artist who had cooperated with Aroma.

Just because of it...

Even if he spent hundreds of millions, it was worth it.

Nikita was too kind. She only asked him for tens of millions. Of course, he has to be careful to serve her.

“No need for that.” Nikita seems to feel that someone has been chirping in her ear, which is a little annoying, frowning, “I will tell you if I need anything. If I don’t tell you, it means I don’t need it. You don’t have to ask all the time.”

Hugh hurriedly said, “Okay, okay, tell me when you need something.”

Moments later, they walked into a building.

“Brother Hugh, there you are. This lady is...”

Knowing that Hugh came to record a new song today, someone stood at the door early in the studio to meet him.

Seeing Hugh, the staff immediately stepped forward, greeted him politely, and looked at Nikita who came along with Hugh. He was amazed, and then asked curiously.

A little girl in school uniform, who is very beautiful.

Was she a newly signed female artist from Hugh’s company?

Her appearance is top-notch. If she debuts, she will definitely be popular in the future.

Even if she is just an eye candy and can't do anything.

Chapter 913

Clearly, Hugh's company has a good taste for choosing people. The girl he took is more beautiful than a large group of female artists who are famous for their beauties in the entertainment industry.

"This is Nikita Swift. She come to record a new song with me today" Hugh introduced very solemnly.
"The song 'Memory in August', which made me very popular overnight was written by her

"And the title song of this new album is also working with her

The staff originally thought Nikita was a female artist signed by Hugh's company.

After listening to his introduction, his staff were taken aback, and then looked at Nikita in surprise.

"Hugh, is she the powerful boss you told us?"

The studio is also owned by Hugh, and the staff here are already very familiar with him.

In his spare time, Hugh will chat with them.

Almost all the employees who stayed in the studio for a long time knew that Hugh was a hit in those days because a mysterious big shot who wrote him a song, Hugh expressed his gratitude to the big shot many times in public.

He said that without the song of boss, he wouldn't get anything he has today.

Although they heard that Hugh had cooperated with the boss before, they didn't pay attention to the related hot trending, so they didn't know what Nikita looked like and how old she was.

The boss who is quite powerful is so young?

Is she an adult?

She wore school uniform. She was still a high school student.

How old was she when she wrote songs for Hugh?

The staff thought about it, and once again opened their eyes in shock. They looked at Nikita from top to bottom with very surprised eyes. They all felt that this was a delicate little girl, which was completely different from the boss they imagined.

Those who can be called boss should be old people, right?

Hugh nodded: "Well, she is the boss."

The staff stared at Nikita in amazement for a while, and then came to his sense. He quickly stretched out a hand and said with some respect in his tone: "Boss, I am an employee of Hugh's studio. Just call me Wilbur

I have heard Hugh talk about you for a long time, and we are very curious about you and admire you very much. It is our honor to finally meet you today."

The staff member is a young man, in his twenties.

Previously, he only regarded Nikita as a delicate little girl.

Now he knows the identity of Nikita, his attitude has changed a lot. His tone is a bit more respectful.

Nikita looked at the hand stretched out by the staff, gently held it, then loosened it, and whispered: "Hello, don't call me boss, just call my name."

The staff stunned and looked at Hugh: "Hugh..."

Hugh still called her boss.

Would it be too disrespectful for them to call her name directly?

Hugh smiled "If boss asks you to call her name, you can call her name."

The staff sipped his lips and turned his head to look at Nikita

Although boss is quite casual, he can't really call her casually.

He felt that he should also call her boss as Hugh called.

"How is everything ready?" Hugh asked Nikita to go inside, and asked Wilbur whether the recording studio was ready

Wilbur nodded: "It's all ready."

Hugh asked some other questions.

Chapter 914 They were all surprised.

Wilbur answered, and couldn't help but look at Nikita. When he looked at her the third time, Nikita suddenly turned her head and directly looked at him.

At the moment when they looked at each other, Wilbur suddenly became stunned and didn't have time to turn around.

Nikita's eyes were dark and bright. She gently raised eyebrows and squinted: "Is there anything dirty on my face?"

Being caught on the spot, Wilbur's face suddenly turned red.

"No, it isn't." Wilbur blushed and stammered.

"Why do you keep looking at me?" Nikita gently raised her eyebrows.

The young girl is good-looking, with delicate and beautiful facial features. When she raised her eyebrows, she looked so cool. Wilbur, a strong man, was blown away by her cool action.

His red face became redder.

His voice also became more and more hesitant: "No, I, I just feel incredible."

"Incredible?" Hugh looked at Wilbur's shy appearance and laughed, "What's incredible?"

Wilbur blinked and looked at Nikita again: "I didn't expect boss to be so young and so beautiful."

Nikita also smiled: "Oh? What do you think I should be?"

Wilbur honestly replied, "I didn't expect you to be so young and beautiful. I thought you were an old man."

Hugh smiled and looked at Nikita: "I didn't tell them your gender and age before. It is estimated that they all think you are an old uncle."

Several people walked into the studio.

Other staff members also came to greet Hugh.

Hugh introduced Nikita to them one by one.

Like Wilbur, a group of people were surprised at first, and then they all became fans of Nikita, admiring her.

There are several girls in the studio who will soon recognize Nikita.

One by one, they came to her and asked her excitedly: "Boss, is your relationship with Xavier very good?"

Girls like to gossip.

Nikita has become hot trending many times recently, so it's hard for people not to notice her.

Nikita didn't know that Xavier supported her on Facebook. After listening to several girls ask about her relationship with Xavier, she learned about it from them.

She took out her mobile phone and logged into Facebook, and soon saw the news sent by Xavier for her.

Chapter 915 She gives me such a high opinion for the first time.

After reading it, Nikita thought about it and sent a message to Xavier: Why did you leave without telling me that day?

When she woke up that day, Xavier was gone.

He left without saying a word.

Before, he wouldn't be like this. He would send a message to her or call her afterwards.

However, although Nikita felt that Xavier was a little strange that day, she didn't think much about it.

Xavier replied quickly: I forgot it.

Nikita: Oh.

Xavier: What are you doing?

Nikita: Prepare to record song.

Xavier: Recording song? What song?

Nikita told him that Hugh invited her to record a song.

Xavier: You just agreed so easily?

Nikita: Ah, what's the matter?

Xavier didn't reply so quickly this time. After almost a minute, he replied: I asked you for help to be a guest performer in a movie before, but you didn't agree. Hugh asked for you, and you agreed. Niky, I have known you for a long time, what about that boy?

Before Nikita replied, Xavier sent another message: I happened to talk about something nearby, and I was almost finished. Wait for me, I'll come to you.

After Nikita finished chatting with Xavier, she locked her phone and put it in her pocket.

"Boss, the recording studio is ready. Shall we go in now?" Hugh was quietly standing next to her. When seeing that she finished, he asked.

"Hmm." Nikita nodded, "Go to the recording studio."

In the recording studio.

“Boss, sit down first, I will show you the lyrics and melody.” This song that Hugh wanted to record with Nikita is also a song in his new album. He wrote all the lyrics and melodies. He walked aside, took the written lyrics and melody, and handed them to Nikita with both hands.

“Niky, see if there is any problem.”

Nikita took it and read it for almost a minute.

“Not bad.” Nikita raised her head and gave an evaluation.

When Hugh heard this evaluation, he suddenly beamed. The handsome young boy looked very happy: “Really? Boss, do you really think it’s not bad?”

Nikita nodded: “Well, it’s not bad.”

Hugh was very excited: “Niky, this is the first time you have given me such a high evaluation. With your evaluation, I feel confident now!”

To others, the evaluation of “not bad” means not good enough.

But for Hugh, Nikita can give such an evaluation, which is already very high.

He already felt very satisfied.

In the recording studio, there are several staff who operate the equipment.

Seeing their boss's excited and satisfied expression because of the little girl's "not bad" evaluation, several staff didn't know what to say.

There were many big shots in the music circle praising their boss, and their evaluations were particularly high, but they have never seen their boss happy like this.

The outside world also has a high evaluation of their boss. Every time his new songs and album were hot sales.

Major authoritative musicians also recognize the strength of their boss, saying that their boss is rare powerful singer in recent years.

All these praises couldn't compare with one sentence?

Several staff members looked at Nikita again and again. Even though they knew that she was the boss who wrote songs for Hugh, they kept some doubts about her strength because she was too young.

Chapter 916 The Dulcet Singing

"Boss, do you think this song has no problem?" Hugh was hard to hide his excitement, asking.

Nikita thought about it and said, "Yes."

"That doesn't need to be modified?"

"No need for that."

"Do you want to read the lyrics again and get familiar with them? We..."

“No, just record the song.” After that, Nikita put her backpack on the sofa, stood up.

Hugh paused: “Record the song now?”

Nikita: “Hmm.”

Hugh was shocked again: “You don’t have to see the lyrics and song anymore?”

“Hum, I remember it.” Nikita understated.

Hugh and several employees of the studio: “...

She just read it in less than a minute.

Then she remembered all the lyrics?!

A group of people, including Hugh, are somewhat dubious.

Until the official recording of the song.

This song written by Hugh has fewer female part. Because it is an ancient song, the lyrics will be more complicated. Even if Hugh reads his own songs again, it is impossible to remember them at one time.

So he doesn’t believe Nikita’s memory can be so good.

Although Nikita is powerful, and she can write songs very well, she may not have a very powerful memory.

Hugh recorded the previous part first.

At the back of the refrain, there are a few lyrics sung by Nikita.

When it was Nikita's turn to sing, Hugh looked at her curiously and expectantly.

He hasn't heard Nikita sing yet.

Nikita's voice so very nice that she can become a voice actor, but people with nice voices don't necessarily sing well. Some female artists he knows have nice and sweet voices, but when they start singing, they are tone-deaf.

When he invited Nikita to sing, he also considered this problem.

But even if Nikita is really tone-deaf, it is not a big problem.

They can fix her sound later.

Many tone-deaf artists sing, and it sounds not bad when they adjust their songs later.

What he cares about is the first chorus with his idol.

Whether Nikita sings well or not, this first cooperation is very meaningful.

Hugh was still thinking about the fact that Nikita might be tone-deaf when he suddenly heard the dulcet song, which was ethereal, clean and clear, and with some special charm.

Hugh was pulled back by this voice from the blank state in an instant.

When he realized where the voice came from, he looked up in astonishment and looked at Nikita in shock.

Such a dulcet song is from Nikita?!

Several staff members who are recording songs are also stunned.

Nikita didn't have many lyrics, so she soon finished.

10:44

But a group of people, including Hugh, haven't recovered after she finished singing.

They were all attracted by her song, as if they were still immersed in a beautiful dream and didn't want to wake up.

Nikita looked at Hugh's blank face, narrowed her eyes and asked, "How about it? Do you need to record it again?"

This is the first time Nikita recorded songs in the recording studio.

She doesn't know if the song she just sang are qualified.

"No, no at all!" Hugh heard the voice of Nikita, finally reacted. Then he looked surprised and asked in an excited way, "Boss, why don't you tell me that your singing is so nice?"

Chapter 917 Jealous

She got a professional singer's level.

Her level was even higher than many professional singers'.

Every enunciation, the turning point and ups and downs from treble to bass are absolutely professional. She must study and train in relevant aspects.

Nikita gently raised her eyebrows: "You haven't asked."

Hugh: "... He didn't ask.

He thinks that a person can't be perfect enough to be excellent in all aspects.

She was very beautiful, very young, and have great talents in some aspects, which have far exceeded 99% of people.

Generally, people who are particularly powerful in some aspects must have shortcomings, and they are bound to perform very ordinary or even very bad in other aspects.

Hugh always thought that Nikita's singing might not be so good.

So he was shocked to hear her dulcet song just now.

At that moment, he was shocked to think, where did the beautiful singing come from?

"Boss, you are really..." At this moment, Hugh worshiped Nikita so much.

She can do anything.

Why is she so powerful?

The recording of this new song went very smoothly.

It took less than half an hour from the beginning of recording to the end.

Because Nikita and Hugh recorded only once.

Moreover, both of them are of super-high level, so they don't need to adjust their songs. Originally, they thought that this time, they had to pay at least one million dollars for adjusting their song. They were greatly relieved and didn't have to have a headache for doing this in the later period.

After recording the new song, a staff member of the recording studio pulled Hugh aside and whispered, "Hugh, has this boss signed a record company yet? If not, she can sign with our company."

"According to her appearance and singing level, if she debuts, she must be very popular."

"You think I don't want to sign her?" Hugh looked at the girl sitting on the sofa, cross-legged and playing with her mobile phone, and sighed, "She has no interest in working in entertainment industry. Besides, if she wants, she will definitely not sign in to our company."

Xavier must have signed her at that time.

In terms of resources, their company can't compare with Xavier's Company.

"That's a pity." The staff is also a musician. He said with a regret in his tone. "With such a special timbre and so strong strength, it is a pity for her not to debut as a singer."

What a pity?

Hugh really want to say, you think it's a pity because you don't know the true identity of this girl.

If you knew, you would definitely not say so.

Aroma, an internationally renowned musician, has a high position in the global music industry. It is not a pity to let such a big shot debut as a singer in the entertainment industry.

It's wasting her talent on a petty job.

Chapter 918 A Little Too Intimate

But Boss was so low-key. She never revealed this identity. There must be a reason that she didn't want to reveal it. Hugh couldn't tell anyone even if he knew about this awesome identity of hers.

After they came out of the recording studio...

Hugh was very attentive, "Boss, do you want to go to the lounge to have some tea? The afternoon tea at our company is very good. I remember you are fond of desserts. Do you want me to go get some for you over?"

"No. I have something to do. I'll leave now." Thinking about Xavier saying he was coming over, Nikita took her phone out of her pocket and wanted to send him text message.

Just as she took the phone out, it beeped.

She looked down at it.

Sheehan, "What are you doing?"

She thought it was from Xavier, but she didn't expect it to be Sheehan's message.

Nikita quickly replied, "I just finished recording a song, and I'm going to the hospital to see Aunt Gerda."

Sheehan, "Recording a song? Aunt Gerda? Is she the one you took me to visit early? She's here in N City?"

Nikita replied: Yeah.

Sheehan, "Do you want me to go with you?"

Nikita, "Are you free now?"

Sheehan, "I'm free today. Where are you? I'll come and meet you."

The recording studio was located in the downtown area, so was the Lambert Group. The two places were not far apart.

Nikita sent Sheehan the address of the location.

"Boss, where are you going? I'll give you a ride." Hugh followed her and walked out.

Nikita paused in her steps, looked up at him, and was about to speak... A deep magnetic voice came through. "No need. Niky will take my drive."

This voice...

Hugh froze and looked up. Xavier was coming out of the elevator and walking towards them.

As Xavier approached, he stopped in front of Nikita.

Hugh looked back and called out, "Xavier."

Xavier glanced at him and said, "Hmm." Then he looked at Nikita with a gentle and dotting smile on his handsome face, asking in a gentle and soft voice, "Finished recording the song?"

"Yes." Nikita nodded, "It's done."

Xavier reached out and touched her head, "Let's go then."

Nikita nodded and said hello to Hugh, "I'm leaving."

Then, following Xavier, she turned around and walked into the elevator.

Hugh stood in place, watched the two enter the elevator, and watched the elevator doors close. He scratched his chin with a thoughtful expression.

The relationship between Xavier and Boss was a little too close.

But well, there was nothing strange in Nikita's look.

But Xavier...

"Hugh, does Boss know Xavler?" Seeing Xavier coming to pick up Nikita, the staff who picked them up earlier had a surprised look.

Especially, Xavier and Nikita looked so intimate.

It was a well-known fact that Xavier, the number one agent in the entertainment industry, had countless beauties in his company. And he himself was the favorite of the female artists in the entertainment industry who were competing for the Initiative to throw themselves to spend a night with him.

But no one had ever photographed him staying with any woman intimately.

Even if anyone captured that he was alone with a female, he kept his distance from her.

For this reason, many people teased him that he was living in Barbie land but had no interest in any girl. Some people said in private that he may not like women, so he could act normal when facing a group of beauty every day.

Chapter 919 Or, Will You Do Me A Favor?

But he just saw that Xavier touched Boss's head so naturally. Moreover, when he talked to Boss, his voice was particularly gentle. And his eyes were particularly gentle when he looked at Boss.

It was really an eye-opener.

I have never seen Xavier so gentle.

"Well, I know." Hugh retracted his gaze and turned around to go to the studio.

The new songs that they had just recorded still had post-production to be done.

Every time he recorded a new album, he would join the whole process. And he would be there when doing post-production.

"Xavier treats Boss rather differently. The staff member followed Hugh. Thinking of those previous rumors that Xavier didn't like women, the staff couldn't help but ask, "I don't think Xavier likes men, right."

"Of course, Xavier doesn't like men!" Hugh glared at the staff, "Who told you he likes men?"

The staff paused, "Everyone said so. They said he never gets close to women, so he must like men."

Hugh was speechless and said, "Don't listen to those people. I've known Xavier for so many years. If he likes men, how could I not know? It's not that he refuses to get close to women. It's just that he's really picky. No one around him could meet his standard."

After knowing a stunning woman like Boss, anyone else would be too ordinary.

He thought this way now.

Looking at those female artists in the entertainment industry who are touted by their fans as beautiful, he felt that those so-called beautiful were not even one-tenth as beautiful as Nikita.

Nikita didn't have any interest in the entertainment industry.

Otherwise, her appearance would definitely be more superior other female artists.

The staff recalled Nikita's perfect and exquisite face that could not pick any flaws. Then he instantly understood.

Nikita's appearance was indeed quite good...

Anyway, it was impossible to find anyone as good-looking as her in the entertainment industry.

Those female artists he used to think were pretty were quite lame compared to Nikita.

This might be the fact that if one had seen the best, the others would not be in the eyes.

"Niky, how much did Hugh pay you for agreeing to record this song for him?"

Inside the elevator.

Looking at the girl who leaned in the corner with a lazy look after entering the elevator, Xavier smiled lightly and asked.

"Ten-million dollars." Nikita was playing with her cell phone. She replied without raising her head.

Xavier had long been accustomed to her manner and didn't bother, asking with a smile, "$10 million made you agree? The price I offered you at the beginning was more than $10 million. How come his $10 million can impress you, but mine can't?" Nikita still didn't look up. She was focused on the game." I wasn't interested at the time."

"Are you interested now?"

"I guess so."

"Then I really have a movie now. There is an important role in it that has not yet found a suitable actress. Why don't you do me a favor?"

Not waiting for Nikita to reply, Xavier smiled again and said, "The role is not a big one and will not take too much time. But for the whole movie, it is also a very important role. So, it is not easy to find the right actress."

"The formal shooting may only take you half a month. I guess you feel bored. You've been involved in all other Industries. You haven't tried acting yet. Do you want to give it a try?"

Nikita made a nice five-kill to end the game.

Then she looked up at Xavier with a little interest in her eyes, "is acting fun?"

Chapter 920 Spending $40 million for her to have fun?

"It is so much fun." Xavier said, "Much more fun than if you went back to high school as a student."

Nikita considered, nodded, and asked, "So how much will you pay me for the film?*

Xavier hooked his lips, "Forty million dollars. What do you think?"

Nikita narrowed her eyes and thought for a moment. A while later, she nodded, "Yes."

“You agreed?” Xavier didn’t expect her to agree so quickly. He raised his eyebrows in surprise.

A few years ago, he had also asked Nikita to guest star in a movie, and the price he offered was fair.

Nikita didn’t even think about it and refused him.

“Ah... didn’t you say it would be fun?” Nikita thought again and then said, “I’m pretty bored these days anyway. And by doing that, it will make money. I have nothing to lose by trying.”

“But...”

“Hmm? But what?”

“But are you sure I’m right for that role? What if I don’t play it right and screw up your movie?”

“No way.” Xavier smiled, “You’ll be able to do it. That role is tailor-made for you. I can’t think of anyone better than you.”

Nikita was silent for a moment, “Okay then. Anyway, if your movie fails, don’t blame me.”

Xavier looked down at the girl who continued to play the game. With doting in his long and narrow eyes, he said in a low and gentle voice, “It’s only a loss of $40 million or so. Just think of it as money for you to have fun. The most important thing is that you’re happy.”

Hearing his words, Nikita still focused on playing the game.

If anyone else had heard these words, they would have been shocked beyond measure.

Spending $40 million for her to have fun?

He didn't care about the profit as long as she had fun?

After they walked out of the building...

Xavier's eye-catching red Ferrari was parked by the roadside. Xavier took out his car keys and pressed the button. After two "beep" sounds, the lock of the car door opened.

"To my company? I'll show you the script." Looking at the girl who was still playing the game with her head buried, Xavier simply stopped and waited for her to finish the game.

A minute later, Nikita ended the game.

She looked up slightly and saw a familiar silver-gray Rolls-Royce driving towards her.

Nikita recognized that it was Sheehan's car. She put her phone away, looked at Xavier who was standing next to her waiting for her, and pursed her lips, saying, "I can't go to your company today. Another time."
