

Chapter 164

Yanko glared at Binh as soon as he entered through the door. Binh didn't dare to even breathe.

'CEO, you can just call me if you need anything. You don't have to come personally.'

Binh smiled and bowed lower.

'What, do I have to report to you about my whereabouts now?'

Yanko stared at Binh with a gloomy face.

'Ah, no, no, CEO, you misunderstood me. I mean...'

Binh almost knelt down on impulse. 'What is wrong with the CEO today? He looks angry.'

'Don't give me that cr*p! I want to know why were you that rude to this gentleman? Why did you ask him to be a guard?'

Yanko questioned Binh sternly. 'Is there something wrong with this guy?' Yanko thought.

'He actually wanted to make this rich young master the company's guard?'

'That's just asking for trouble!'

'Not even ten Healer Pharmaceuticals would be enough to pay for this mistake!'

At the same time, Yanko looked at Jason with a flattering smile.

'This is the young man who destroyed the Sunrise Pharmaceutical and the Lyu family.'

'He's a very powerful man, but why is he pretending to be so weak?'

'Is it because of the beauty in front of him and this shrewish woman?'

Yanko secretly speculated, but he still couldn't figure the whole thing out.

But he understood that such a man disliked being too ostentatious, judging by how quietly he destroyed the Lyu Family.

'I'm sorry, CEO, I was wrong...'

Bin did not dare to breathe. He broke out in a cold sweat.

Yanko stared at Binh fiercely and couldn't wait to kick this idiot out. If Binh had offended Jason, Binh would be dead in a moment.

Looking at Jason's confused face, Yanko breathed a sigh of relief.

'Sir, I'm sorry. My undisciplined employee has offended you. I'll teach him some manners after this.'

Yanko looked like an obsequious servant now. He bowed down and talked respectfully to Jason.

Everyone was dumbfounded.

Yanko was the CEO of Huantian Pharmaceutical.

But now, he actually spoke to Jason respectfully. What was going on?

Amanda's eyes were wide open. She couldn't understand what was happening.

Jason was also confused. He didn't know Yanko.

Seeing Jason frown, Yanko's heart skipped a beat. He hurriedly turned to Binh and shouted, 'Come here and apologize to this gentleman!'

'What?!'

'Apologize to this loser?'

Binh was stunned. He was unwilling to do it. After all, he was the general manager of HR department. It would be shameful for him to apologize to this loser.

'Director Yanko, look, I am the HR manager. I didn't do anything wrong. A loser can only be a guard.'

Binh gritted his teeth as he explained.

Slap!

Yanko slapped Binh angrily. The pig-headed Binh was shocked. He didn't dare to retort.

'Not apologizing, eh? Fine! You're fired!'

Yanko was furious. 'Doesn't Binh know to take a hint?' He thought.

Binh was terrified. He immediately trotted to Jason and bowed to apologize. 'Mr. Smith, I'm sorry. It was my fault just now. I shouldn't have humiliated you.'

Jason didn't even bother to look at Binh. He was in cahoots with Randy. Binh was just a disposable tool.

But now he was more interested in Yanko very much. This person seemed to know something.

Yanko's heart skipped a beat when he saw Jason looking at him. He immediately panicked.

'What does this mean?'

'Apology not accepted?'

'Got it!'

'Binh, you are fired. From now on, you are no longer the HR manager of Healer Pharmaceutical. Get out of here.'

Yanko said coldly and silently waved his hand to beckon Binh to get his stuff and get out of there.

Binh panicked. He kneeled on the ground and pulled at Yanko's trousers. He begged for mercy, 'Chairman Yanko, I was wrong. Please forgive me.'

However, Yanko looked at Binh coldly and asked the security guard to drag him out.

Binh was crying loudly. He hated Randy right now. Who on earth did he offend? Binh became Randy's scapegoat.

Meanwhile, Randy frowned and observed Jason closely. 'This guy seems to be a little unusual,' Randy thought.

But Randy couldn't put a finger on what was unusual about Jason.

'Could it be my imagination?'

'Mr. Smith, are you satisfied with the punishment?'

Yanko asked with a simple smile.

'Not bad.' Jason nodded.

Yanko breathed a sigh of relief. He frowned and glanced at Randy before speaking to Jason, 'Mr. Smith, if it's fine for you, shall we talk in private?'

Jason didn't think much of it and followed Yanko.

'Hello, Mr. Smith. This is my business card. I heard something about the Sunrise Pharmaceutical's incident.'

Yanko cut to the chase and did not intend to hide anything.

Jason finally understood why Yanko came here. Jason nodded, 'What do you want from me?'

Yanko almost cried out excitedly, 'Mr. Smith, you misunderstand. I just want to get to know you.'

Jason smiled 'All right, I'll take your business card. I'll look for you if something comes up. Of course, if you need something, you can also look for me. You're a decent guy.'

Hearing Jason's praise, Yanko nodded and bowed hurriedly. He was as happy as a lark.

They left the Healer Pharmaceutical building soon after.

Outside the door, Cindy curiously pulled Jason over and asked, 'Do you know the CEO of Healer Pharmaceutical?'

Jason shook his head, 'I don't know him.'

Cindy still wanted to ask something, but Amanda was already urging unhappily, 'What are you doing? Get in the car quickly.'

Cindy didn't ask any more and got in the car.

When Jason wanted to get in the car, Randy gestured to him. Jason said to Cindy, 'Cindy, give me a minute, I want to smoke a bit.'

Cindy nodded, while Amanda cursed, 'I hope you choke and die on it!'

Jason didn't say anything. He followed Randy to the small garden sitting next to them.

Randy behaved nicely in front of Cindy, but when there was no one around, his face darkened. He said crudely, 'Jason, I hope you will leave Cindy. This is my advice to you.'

Jason frowned. He laughed. 'Randy, what makes you think you can say that? Cindy is my wife.'

'So what if she's your wife? To tell you the truth, I love Cindy. I came back just to take her abroad. You and her are just like beauty and the beast.' Randy growled.

Jason put his hands in his trouser pockets and said coldly, 'Cindy told me that you and her are in the past, but you still can't forget her? Man, move on. Oh, by the way, you better not challenge me, or you're going to get it. Hard. To the face.'

Randy sneered, 'Confident, are we. I don't know how Cindy fell in love with a loser like you. But you better leave her. You can't give her anything! Only I can give her anything she wants.'

'Anything she wants?' Jason thought this guy was ignorant.

Randy nodded, 'Anything! Luxurious cars, villas, money, branded bags, branded watches and a promising future. Can you give all of these to her?'

As he spoke, he raised his hand. On his wrist, there was the latest watch from Cartier which was worth more than four hundred thousand yuan.

Randy continued, 'You're not worthy of her. Only I, who have such wealth and connections, can give her a bright future. Do you understand what I mean?'

'Understood.' Jason nodded. But he grinned, 'But, I'm sorry, I can't do it.'

'Don't be ungrateful! Take the message and leave!'

Randy was furious. This loser didn't want to back off even when he was talking nicely.

Jason ignored him and turned to leave.

Randy gritted his teeth in resentment and muttered, 'Fine, I have plenty of time to play with you.'

As soon as they returned home, Cindy went into the bedroom.

Amanda angrily scolded Jason in the living room and then walked into the bedroom.

Gently pushing the door open, Jason saw Cindy lying on her side on the bed and asked, 'What's wrong?'

Cindy harrumphed quietly, 'It's nothing. I'm just a little tired.'

Jason's heart ached. He walked over, took off her high heels and whispered, 'Hey, Cindy, it was my fault just now. I shouldn't have lost my temper at you. I should have believed you...'

Before he could finish speaking, Cindy sat up and hugged Jason tightly. She sobbed quietly, 'Jason, I love you. I really love you. Don't do this anymore, okay? There's nothing between me and Randy.'

Jason smiled. He gently hugged Cindy, 'Okay, I promise you.'

The couple hugged for a while and smiled at each other. Jason scratched Cindy's nose and wiped her dirty face. Suddenly, he asked, 'By the way, what happened to your company? Let me see if I can help.'

Cindy sighed and looked very anxious. She said, 'You can't help us. The cooperation between us and Tang Ren's branch has begun, but now there is no pharmaceutical factory in the city willing to cooperate with us. It's infuriating. Even the regular clients have stopped cooperating with us. I don't even know why.'

'Now we've accumulated a lot of orders and lost two hundred million!'

Cindy looked very anxious.

'You need money?' Jason asked.

Cindy shook her head, but then she nodded, 'We have to pay at least six hundred million yuan for the damages! The cooperate with Tang Ren's branch is still unconfirmed yet. Mr. Huang is panicking.'

Jason frowned. Six hundred million was not a small sum.

'Don't worry, Cindy, I'll solve it for you.' Jason held Cindy's hand and said calmly.

'Really?'

Tears flashed in Cindy's eyes. She was a little excited for it, but on second thought, she said, 'Well, thank you, Jason. I know you care about me, but you can't do anything about it.'

Cindy gave a wry smile.

Even if Jason had some money in his family, would he be willing to help to pay the six hundred million in damages?

Impossible.

Jason knew what Cindy was worried about, so he didn't say anything.

20:32

After talking with Cindy for a while, he went out with an excuse of making a trip to the hospital to visit Angela.

As soon as he left, Jason called Joe.

'Joe.'

The call went through

'Young Master, what can I do for you?' Joe was still as respectful as before.

'Acquire Bi Kang Pharmacy for me. Also, inform our family's pharmaceutical company to cooperate with Bi Kang.'

Chapter 165

Joe quickly replied, 'I understand, young master, I'll do it right away.'

After that, he hung up and Joe began to busy himself, starting by making some calls.

More than ten minutes later, Jason still didn't get a call from Joe. He began complain.

'Joe's usually not this slow,' Jason thought.

Just as he was about to call and ask about it, Joe called him. Joe said helplessly, 'Young Master, I can't buy Bi Kang Pharmacy.'

Jason was stunned. He frowned and complained, 'What's going on? It's just Bi Kang. And you can't deal with it?'

'Young Master, Bi Kang's CEO has been changed and now it has been bought by Miss Yusra.'

Joe replied, sounding a little worried.

'I can't deal with young master's relationship issues,' Joe thought.

'Yusra? What does she want to do with Bi Kang?'

20:32

Jason was stunned. He raised his eyebrows, but he immediately understood.

Was Yusra the cause of Bi Kang's problem?

'Is it because of Cindy?'

'Okay, I see.'

Jason said calmly and hung up. After hesitating for a moment, he dialed Yusra's number.

Before he could open his mouth, a charming voice drawled, 'Jason, you've finally called me.'

'Yusra, what do you want? Was it you who caused the trouble in Bi Kang?'

Jason was very unhappy now. He knew he was a jerk to Yusra. However, if this matter had something to do with Cindy, Jason would rather be a jerk.

'Yes.'

Yusra replied honestly and then chuckled, 'Joe has contacted me just now. You want to buy the Bi Kang Pharmacy to help Cindy get out of trouble, right? Dream on!'

Bi Kang was in trouble now because Yusra manipulated everything using the Su Family's power.

No pharmaceutical company in the city would cooperate with Bi Kang.

Anyone who dared to cooperate with Bi Kang would have to face the Su Family's wrath.

Yusra didn't care about the puny Bi Kang Pharmacy. She bought it because she wanted to torment Cindy.

It was purely for fun.

This was how the rich played games.

Jason's eyes suddenly turned cold. He sighed, 'Where are you? Let's meet.'

'Okay, Passion Tea House.'

After she finished talking, Yusra hung up.

Then, she, who usually had a cold face, was now as excited as a little girl. She jumped to the wardrobe and rummaged through her expensive and elegant clothes. She put on and took off the clothes one by one in front of the mirror, comparing which was more beautiful.

She had a perfect, curvy figure and a charming temperament.

Any man would fall head over heels for Yusra.

Yusra was elated. She radiated happiness, like fluffy clouds in the sky.

'Hey, what do you think about this?'

Yusra looked at herself in the mirror. She was dressed like a delicate princess.

Her assistant kept giving suggestions by the side and said with a smile, 'Miss, this one is very beautiful. Young Master Jason will like it.'

Miss had not looked this happy in a long time.

'Really? Will he like it?'

Yusra pouted. Melancholy was written on her face. She looked at the perfect beauty in the mirror from top to bottom.

If someone else was here, their jaw would definitely drop.

This woman was so beautiful, so fairy-like.

After half an hour, Yusra decided on a sky blue dress, a pair of sunglasses and held an LV purse. She walked out of the hotel elegantly and sat in a white Bentley that was waiting for her.

Passion Tea House.

Jason had been here for a while. After waiting for almost twenty minutes, he saw a woman with an extraordinary look coming in from the door.

When Yusra saw Jason, her heart started to beat quickly but she forced herself to calm down. She took elegant steps and walked slowly before stopping opposite Jason. She sat down quietly, took off her sunglasses and looked at him indifferently.

'Have you been waiting for a long time?' Yusra asked calmly.

'A while.' Jason replied and looked at Yusra, who was sitting in front of him. She was still so delicate.

Although Yusra looked calm on the outside, her heart was palpitating. Her slender hands under the table were tightly holding the hem of her skirt.

She hadn't sat face to face with Jason for many years.

He was still so charming. There was a faint arrogance flowing from him.

Nobody could sense this kind of thing, but Yusra could feel it.

They used to be the enviable couple, but that was in the past.

'Tell me, how can I convince you to sell Bi Kang to me?'

Jason said with hesitation. He didn't have much time.

'If you divorce Cindy, I'll sell it to you,' Yusra said without any delay.

'That's impossible.' Jason replied.

He knew he had to face this from the moment he invited Yusra out today.

However, he would never agree to divorce Cindy.

'Then this negotiation is off. Bi Kang is my torture device for Cindy. If you don't want to see her getting tormented, you will divorce her. I'll tell you something, Jason. What I want, I always get. And that includes you.'

Yusra made it clear. The temperature dropped twenty degrees.

Yusra hated this Cindy who had come into Jason's life. Jason was supposed to be her man.

Jason raised his eyebrows and said calmly, 'Yusra, don't try to challenge my patience. If I want to buy Bi Kang, no one can stop me. Even the Su Family in the capital city is just appendage to me . I'll ask you one last time, how can I convince you to sell Bi Kang to me?'

Jason had lost his patience. He became colder and colder.

Yusra was silent for a moment and gave in. 'It's my birthday next week. I want you to accompany me. That's all I want.'

Jason's heart suddenly trembled. He was taken aback. After a moment of silence, he nodded, 'Okay.'

After that, he got up and left the Passion Tea House.

Only Yusra was left in the quiet, delicate tea house.

Tears trickled down from the corners of her eyes.

After sitting for a while, Yusra also got up and left.

The next day, Cindy left home. When she arrived at the company, she found that the atmosphere was very strange.

As soon as she entered, all the employees greeted her respectfully. They bowed and smiled, 'Chairman Jiang.'

Cindy was shocked.

'What Chairman Jiang?' She thought.

'What are you doing?'

Cindy was confused. She hadn't sleep well last night, since she was bothered by the company's affairs.

James walked out and beamed, 'Cindy, from now on, you are the CEO of our company. I have resigned.'

A shocking news!

Cindy was dumbfounded. James resigned and she had become the company's CEO?

'Mr.. Mr. Huang, don't make fun of me. This...'

Cindy was confused. 'What was going on?'

James asked the crowd to run along and took Cindy to the conference room. At this moment, there were seven or eight people sitting in there, all of whom were the investment directors of the company.

When they saw Cindy, they stood up and applauded, 'Congratulations, Chairman Jiang. You are a promising young woman.'

Cindy was trembling with fear. She kept nodding and greeting them. She had seen these people before. They were the investors of the company and were all big bosses with a net worth of more than a hundred million yuan each.

James took out a document and handed it to Cindy. He said, 'We had a meeting last night. We have decided that it's best to leave the company to you. This is the equity document. Chairman Jiang, you now own sixty percent of the company's shares and you are the biggest shareholder.'

Last night, James received Miss Su's order to transfer the shares of the company. Sixty percent of the shares had all been transferred to Cindy.

Cindy was now the CEO of Bi Kang Pharmacy just like that.

James did not dare to ask for the reason. He just followed the order. After selling all his shares, he made four hundred million yuan!

Now that Bi Kang Pharmacy was facing such a big predicament, he lost sleep over it. Taking this opportunity to sell it and make a fortune wasn't a bad choice. And he could sleep well after that.

Looking at the signature of the directors on the documents, Cindy was completely shocked. 'Does this company really belong to me now? Just like that?' She thought.

'Mr. Huang, what's going on? Are you kidding?'

Cindy was not stupid. There was no such thing as free lunch in this world.

James coughed and explained, 'Director Jiang, to tell you the truth, the company is in a very difficult time now. I have already sold the company. This is the unanimous decision of the board of directors. You will be the CEO now. As for the shares, you don't have to worry about it. If Bi Kang can survive, your value will be doubled. If not, you will not suffer any losses.'

Even after James was done with explanations, Cindy was still in shock.

The company's assets were at least in the hundreds of millions!

Even until lunchtime, she still couldn't wrap her head around what happened this morning.

Particularly when she was sitting in the gigantic office belonging to the CEO.

Should she tell Jason and her family about this?

Perhaps it was because of Jason's help?

It couldn't be. After all, the company's problems were too complex.

He had to pay more than six hundred million for the delay order, plus the breach of contract penalty!

Jason could not be so powerful.

After thinking about it, Cindy dialed Jason's number. She lowered her voice and said as if she did something wrong, 'Jason, I have something to tell you. This morning when I came here, the board of directors decided to make me the CEO. I even own sixty percent of the company shares. What's going on?'

At this time, Jason was on his way to the hospital. Hearing Cindy's whispering voice, he smiled, 'Do you really want to know?'
