Chapter 101 Onyx Is Betrothed

Onyx Is Betrothed

Chapter 101 Onyx Is Betrothed

"Tinsley, you're back!" Rory exclaimed and pulled Tinsley into her villa happily.

Tinsley nodded her head to Rory, "Mhm. I'm here to hear your story. How's it with Onyx?" Tinsley asked Rory, who became downcasted immediately after hearing Tinsley's question.

"There's nothing between us. I told you we had broken up. Go in and see your cuties." She nudged and pushed Tinsley into the living room, switching the topic.

Tinsley noticed her actions of switching the topic, "Mhm. We'll talk when I've seen the little kids."

Tinsley uttered and entered the living room.

Ariel was designing something on her pad while Jason and Mason were playing games. Tinsley smiled and stared at the peaceful little kids from a distance.

"Mom." Jason was the first person to notice Tinsley's arrival, and he quickly jumped at Tinsley. Mason and Ariel were alerted as well, and they ran toward Tinsley, jumping on her altogether.

"You miss mom?" Tinsley asked them with a carefree smile and hugged them closely.

They wrapped their hands around Tinsley's neck and placed their head on her shoulder and chest.

"Mom is not fair. You left us alone." Mason replied with a tearful expression.

"I'm sorry, babies." Tinsley rubbed their head and led them to a sofa.

"Where's dad?" Jason and Ariel asked Tinsley when they didn't see Jarek.

"I'm here," Jarek replied and walked into the living room.

"Dad." They quickly jumped down from Tinsley and ran to Jarek. "My little men." Jarek ruffled Jason and Mason's hair while he carried Ariel. "My little princess."

Jason and Mason lifted their hands and Jarek threw them up in the air, which caused them to be excited and request more of it.

Rory stared at the happy family with envy. She also wanted such warmth, but it seems that it may never happen in her lifetime.

"Miss, Master Onyx is here again." A guard informed her, which made her expression change.

"Don't let him in." She roared to the guard and immediately entered the living room.

Ever since that incident, a persistent Onyx has always come to her house early in the morning with the hope of seeing her. And leaving late in the night, and whenever he saw her car, he'd follow her immediately.

Seeing the kids busy with their dad, Tinsley stood up and pulled a reluctant Rory for an explanation.

Unaware of what's happening.

Tinsley immediately pulled Rory into the room and closed the door, "So, what's up with Onyx? Didn't he come to find you or were you the one to kick him out?" Tinsley stood arm akimbo and stared at Rory fixedly.

"I don't know." She muttered quietly which made Tinsley stare at her in disbelief.

"I don't believe Onyx is that type of guy. It's either you kicked him out when he came or you refused to meet him." Tinsley remarked, which made Rory roll her eyes.

"We have nothing to do with each other, why would he be following me around if he's not a pervert?"

Rory mumbled with a scoff which made Tinsley sigh.

"Rory when I returned to Ryle with the kids. You repeatedly tried to make me introduce them to Jarek and introduced Jarek to them and when I refused you resulted in scheming us, right?" Tinsley said while staring at Rory intently.

"You knew?" Rory asked with disbelief. She never expected that Tinsley knew about her telling the kids to tell Tinsley to take them to the set.

"I figured it out," Tinsley replied with a shrug and sat on the soft bed. "You wanted me to find my happiness, but why do you keep running away from yours? Agreeing with Jarek was the best decision I ever made. I now have a happy life, a happy family, and a supportive husband, and it was all because of you." Tinsley said while watching Rory.

Hearing Tinsley's words made Rory's face fall the more as she thought about the things between her and Onyx.

Rory was first attracted to Onyx by his handsome and masculine appearance, and she began to crush on him like many of the females in the company.

Even when she had heard several rumors mentioning how cold he was, and how he cruelly rejected many girls. It had never stopped her from getting attracted to him.

Until that day, they both met in the elevator. "Rory, I want to pursue you." He said straightforwardly, which made her heart pound.

And he was true to his word, he had repeatedly tried to pursue her. Now everything was just a memory she was trying to ease from her brain.

"Why don't you sit down and talk about it with Onyx? I know you loved him." Tinsley advised her.

Rory's fist clenched her clothes. "But he's a leader of the underworld. Did you know what that meant?"

His life and our family life will be sought by danger. Tinsley you know I valued peaceful life, I don't want something like that." She explained with a distressed sigh.

"He's been with you for a few days and interacting with you for longer, did danger seek you those times? No! That means he knew how to protect you and your family in his own ways from danger."

Tinsley explained, which made her shake her head.

"I can't. Tinsley, I can't." She replied and hugged Tinsley with tears in her eyes.

"Jarek told me that if one doesn't go to the enemies, the enemies will come to one just like Lillie and I, remember?" Tinsley tried to change her mind, but Rory only shook her head to explain that she couldn't.

"Sigh!" Tinsley sighed while staring at Rory expressionlessly. "Jarek told me that Onyx had been betrotted ever since he was young, but he decided to break his engagement after meeting you. I heard that his parents had been pressuring him that if he didn't bring you back today, he'll be getting married to that person tonight..."

Rory was stunned by Tinsley's explanation, "What did you say?" Rory separated from Tinsley in disbelief.

Tinsley shrugged and nodded her head, "Mmm. Jarek will be taking me to the party tonight, since they were friends he can't do without going and as his wife, I'll be going with him also." Tinsley explained which made Rory begin to pale. "I heard the girl had grown up with him, and she had sworn that no one can marry Onyx but her," Tinsley said while feigning a female voice.

Chapter 102 He's Mine

He's Mine

Chapter 102 He's Mine

Rory flared up in anger. "Nonsense! He belonged to me." She remarked, which made Tinsley stare at her expressionlessly.

"Uh! Wait. You said you have nothing to do with him." Tinsley squinted at Rory, who glared at her immediately.

"Well, I've checked out the girl. More like we met during vacation and I can see that she loved Onyx so much, and she'd definitely take care of him after marrying him, so you don't have to worry about him following you around like a pervert. Not only that, she had a good character. She's a 10 out of 10.

Perfect!" Tinsley clapped which made an angry Rory smack her angrily.

"I'm your friend, who are you backing? Let me tell you, there's no way he's getting married. No way! I can't accept it." Rory stood up angrily. "He's mine. How dare he marry someone else?"

Tinsley pretended to scratch her hair, "But. Didn't you break up with him because of the danger that came with..."

"Who cares about that? I only want my Onyx." Rory roared angrily and quickly ran out of the mansion hoping to see Onyx.

Rory can't help but become self-aware by Tinsley's words. Now what she had in mind was not to lose him. She finally realized that nothing compares to being with him. No matter how much danger lies on the ground, as long as she has him, she has the belief that they'll conquer it.

Rory's eyes fell when she got out of the house. Onyx had left, and his car was nowhere to be found.

And it made her tremble in disbelief; she thought that he had left to have a wedding with someone else besides her.

Tinsley was stunned by Rory's action of running out of the house, but she quickly followed after Rory and when she arrived, she met Rory red-eyed while staring at a distance.

Rory pointed at a distance with tears streaming down her eyes, "Onyx has always stayed here every day from morning to evening with the hope to see me but he had left now, does that mean that he had left me for her?" She cried out with tears streaming down her eyes with Tinsley patting her back with a sigh.

"No, I didn't leave. I'll always be here for you." Onyx shouted from a distance which made Rory part from Tinsley with disbelief.

"Onyx." Rory ran to Onyx's figure in the distance and jumped on him with happiness. "Onyx. You can't wed anyone except me." She warned him and hugged him tightly.

"Hm. I won't." He replied with a happy smile and hugged her tightly.

Rory grabbed his shoulder, "I'm ready. Let's go. Take me back to your family. Don't marry anyone. I'll marry you whenever you want. Just don't marry that girl." Rory stared at him determinedly which made him stare back at her in confusion.

"I wasn't going to marry anyone." He replied to her with a coaxing smile that he was using to hide his regret. Had he known this was how it was going to turn out, he'd have prepared and proposed to her immediately.

Rory was stunned and stared at Onyx in disbelief. "You mean you're not betrothed to a girl that you'll be having a wedding with today?" Rory stared at him in disbelief.

But Onyx shook his head firmly, "No," he replied, which caused Rory to glare at the smiling Tinsley angrily. She wanted to get down from Onyx, but his hand locked on her waist firmly to prevent her from escaping again.

Rory immediately glared at the approaching Tinsley, "Tinsley. You're a scheming vixen." She yelled angrily and in embarrassment. To think that she had yelled that she'd like to get married. Tinsley is so evil!

Tinsley harrumphed deviously and sinisterly, "Hm, you schemed at me back then, this is my repayment." She held her head high proudly.

"You devious bitch!"

"You stupid hoe," Tinsley replied with a grin. She turned to stare at Onyx.

"Baby," She called Onyx after seeing that the jealous Jarek wasn't present. "Don't dare hurt my friend or else... Kacha!" She squeezed her hand in the air to imitate that she'd break his balls if he dared to.

Onyx kissed Rory's face and smiled at Tinsley knowing that she was behind Rory accepting them again, "Thank you."

Tinsley became very busy after she arrived at Ryle because the shooting was nearing its end, and they'll be starting promotion and marketing which involves visiting many states and some neighboring countries to do so.

Despite that billionaire's deed was also coming to an end, Lillee was the happiest because she had three upcoming events in her life, one of it is getting married to Conrad, the second is destroying Tinsley after Lillee's wedding and the third is receiving the best acting award. Even though she was very busy she can't do without flaunting her upcoming wedding daily to receive envy of them, every one.

Lillee even flaunts Conrad coming to the crew to support her and her movies which left many fans parading her comment happily.

Conrad was a famous actor before he had to go on a break due to taking over Norton's family billionaire company and doing so had left many fans dissatisfied, so seeing Lillee posting about Conrad sent her fans skyrocketing.

Three days before Lillee's wedding, Tinsley finally returned home from the shoot. Jarek had already collected the dress from Tinsley which she fell in love with immediately. She can't help smiling upon thinking about all that would happen on that day. "Hubby, you have it ready, right?"

Chapter 103 Back Off

Back Off

Chapter 103 Back Off

The wedding of Conrad Norton and Lillie William had been famously known as one that would be breaking a record no one would be setting soon.

Many famous reporters of reputable companies were said to be invited to Lillie's wedding while the wedding would also be shown on live by many reputable media companies, Lillie and Conrad's social media pages.

The wedding will certainly be the talk of the century. There were many prominent people invited to the party which included politicians, businessmen, stars which included foreigners, etc.

Tinsley was woken at dawn to get prepared for the day. Top famous hairdressers, make-up artists, etc.

had been invited to style and make her up. The day before that day Jarek had taken her out to an expensive spa to undergo body wash, facial wash, massage, etc.

Tinsley's skin was smooth and glowing like a baby which had attracted Jarek repeatedly and made her have a sleepless night in the first quarter of the night.

"Miss, your skin looks so smooth and beautiful. You don't need makeup at all." The makeup artist praised Tinsley's skin with envy.

"Thank you," Tinsley replied with a smile.

After an hour or so, Tinsley was finally done with her hair and make-up and what was left was for her to get dressed.

She entered the room to see Jarek talking with some foreign people on his phone. He cut off the call and froze when he saw the approaching Tinsley smiling at him.

Tinsley walked toward him with a smile when she saw his state, "What's got you, President Jarek?"

She asked while waving her hand in front of his face.

Jarek snapped out of his state and pulled her by the wrist, which ended in her sitting on his lap. "I keep on falling for you more, wifey." He muttered helplessly while nuzzling her neck.

Knowing that Jarek was planning to place hickeys on her neck again, Tinsley immediately shifted her neck away from him.

Jarek held her face in place and began to kiss her intensely.

Noticing the change in his body, Tinsley immediately pushed him away and tried to stand up, "Stop it.

I've done my make-up."

Jarek clamped her waist tightly, "Baby, you can do it all over again."

"No way. I'm not sitting there again." She said and bit his hand angrily and ran away from him.

Jarek chuckled when he saw the cute fingerprint on his hand.

"Tinsley, be prepared not to sleep tonight." He says in a dark husky voice that made her tremble slightly. When he's being like this she knows that he'll definitely not let her sleep like he promised.

Tinsley quickly went to hold his hand. "Hubby Jarek, you can't get angry with your beautiful, right?" She asked while batting her eyes at him cutely.

Jarek immediately sighed, he couldn't escape her charm. "Hm..."

"Mom. Dad. Good morning." Mason suddenly barged into the room with Jason and Ariel walking behind him

President Jarek sighed in distress. They were back to the days when the children were always interrupting their parents' romantic time.

"Morning babies." Tinsley bent to their level and kissed their soft cheeks, she was about to lean away when Mason suddenly wrapped his hand around her neck. "Mom is very beautiful. I'll marry Mom when I grow up." He declared.

"Me too," Jason said which elicited a glare from the jealous Jarek.

"Back off, she's my wife," Jarek said and pulled the two kids up by their collars.

They quickly wrapped their hands around Jarek's neck with a wide grin. "Dad, throw us in the air." They demanded.

"Is mom your wife?" Jarek asked them with a chiding glance.

"No, Dad. Mom is our mummy." They replied which made him chuckle while he acted according to their demand.

"Dad and Mom will be out to take you to school soon, okay?"

"Yay!" They happily walked out of the room and shut the door with a bang which made Jarek massage his forehead. "And the kids will never learn about knocking before barging into an adult's room."

"I told you." Tinsley stuck out her lips playfully before she went to the dressing room.

"Jarek!" Tinsley yelled out angrily. She had chosen an armless black bustier lace ballroom gown with a leg slit for the wedding, but her domineering Jarek had changed the style in her absence; instead, he chose her a pink off-shoulder mermaid gown that was embedded with studs, stones, pearl, and silver sequins.

"Baby," Jarek replied innocently which made her roll her eyes at him angrily.

"What's this?" She barged out of the dressing room angrily while holding the pink gown.

"A pink dress." He replied while donning an innocent expression.

"And that's definitely not my pick." She snapped at him angrily which made him take a few steps away from her.

"Maybe Lucas made a mistake..." He hadn't finished his words when Tinsley glared at him angrily.

"You think I'll believe that, Jarek?" She uttered angrily which made him fake a shiver. Why is his wife so scary?

"Wife, don't be angry. No matter what you wear, you look the most beautiful in hubby's eyes." He coaxed her and placed his head on her shoulder. "Wife. Forgive hubby. Hm?" He continued to beg in an innocent voice which made her stomp his feet angrily.

This pretender! Always secretly changing her clothes and then later pretending to be innocent.

"This is certainly the last time you'll follow me to a designer." She glared at him before storming back into the dressing room.

Tinsley broke into a smile and touched the pink gown with a grin. "So beautiful than the black one!" She thought and squealed happily before putting it on. At least he won't be letting her wear a long-sleeved turtleneck cloth this time.

"Jarek, please help me," Tinsley yelled for him to help her wear her dress, and soon he entered the dressing room.

Tinsley had run to the dressing room because she didn't want Jarek to mess with her during dressing but now that Jarek finally had a chance to enter, he was bedazzled by the beauty.

Jarek's eyes darkened as he hungrily stared at her pale skin which was highlighted by the pink dress she wore. "Jarek, what are you... Mmmhh."

Before Tinsley could complete her words, Jarek shut her lips with a deep kiss. He pressed her to the wall and his hand began to roam around her body. His hand suddenly pulled on her body, which made her alarmed.

"Jarek. I swear if you don't let me be now, you won't be sleeping beside me for a month. I'll be with the triplet." She said in a harsh voice which made him sigh and depart from her unhappily.

"Wife." Jarek feigned an innocent voice which made her sigh.

"President Jarek, please help me and we'll leave for the party. We don't want the children to be late for school, also, or do we?"

Tinsley sighed which made him patiently help her.

"But I'll be taking it off tonight," Jarek said and walked out of the dressing room.

Tinsley was about to leave in order to check the triplets when Jarek suddenly grabbed her hand. "Are you shy? You've seen it all." He flirted which made her roll her eyes.

"Yes, boss. I'm really shy. Dress by yourself." She muttered and quickly walked out of the room with a fast-beating heart and red cheeks.

President Jarek is really a walking temptation, she thought.

"Mom. Mom is so beautiful." Ariel blinked in awe. Her hand reached out to touch Tinsley's gown, but she quickly placed her hand down before she could touch it.

Tinsley took hold of Ariel's hand and placed it on her gown. "You can touch mom's clothes. Your hand won't dirty it." She said which made Ariel break into a smile.

"It's beautiful, Mom," Ariel said in awe.

"Baby want one?" Tinsley asked Ariel who began to play with the pearl and stone on the gown.

Ariel quickly nods her head hurriedly. "Yes, mom."

"Let's tell Dad," Tinsley said and Ariel nodded her head.

"Mom. I'll marry you when I'm tall and richer than Dad," Mason said and wrapped his hand around Tinsley.

"Dad is the richest." Tinsley joked.

"I'll be richer than Dad," Jason said with determination.

"Certainly! Mom will cheer you on." Tinsley said and kissed their forehead.

"Let's wait for Dad in the car."

Chapter 105 Coming To The Wedding In Style

"Bye kids, be good at school for mom." Jarek and Tinsley waved to the little kids and watched them enter class.

"Hungry?" Jarek asked while caressing her hair.

"Hm. You?" She replied. The both of them didn't bother about the wedding that'll take place soon because that was their aim.

By the time Tinsley and Jarek arrive, the wedding will have definitely begun.

"Willing to give me?" Jarek asked her, which made her roll her eyes.

The two went to a three-star Michelin restaurant to have their meal before getting into the car to begin an hour's journey, provided that they weren't in traffic.

Tinsley continuously watched the live stream program while laying her head on Jarek's shoulder. "Lillee hadn't come down yet." Tinsley sighed excitedly. "Let's make it a coincidence." She suggested, which made him nod in agreement.

"Beautiful ladies on the red carpet. I am so excited." She squealed happily which made him sigh while playing with her hair.

The red carpet had almost come to an end when one of the most luxurious cars appeared at the venue.

The reporters and the fans hanging outside were immediately thrown into a happy frenzy.

They stared at the car excitedly because they knew that was Jarek's signature car. They stared at Jarek's car intently with cameras flashing and fans yelling excitedly.

A bodyguard quickly got down from the car and opened Jarek's side of the car. Jarek got down from the car donning an expensive black tailor-made suit with a cold expression that gave all the fans a feeling that they were staring at an overbearing president.

Jarek closed the door and turned to the other side, which made many fix their eyes on him excitedly while thinking if Jarek brought his woman to the party.

Everyone knew that Tinsley and William's family had a feud.

Now knowing that Tinsley had a feud, everyone was surprised to see that she still came to Lillee's wedding after all that the William family had done, and that increased Tinsley's love in the fans' heart.

Jarek opened the door and what the people first saw was a smooth leg that broke the Livestream into chaos:

'That beautiful leg. No doubt it belongs to White Tigress.'

'I'm so eager to see White Tigress look.'

People were sending lots of love and gifts as if that way, Tinsley would hurry out of the car.

Jarek stretched out his hand to Tinsley, and she held onto his hand and came out of the car smiling at him. "Thank you." She uttered lightly and Jarek moved toward her and whispered into her ears, which made her blush and punch his chest lightly.

The Livestream went into a loud commotion:

'President Jarek and White Tigress are always spreading love food around.'

'The wedding couple didn't reach their levels.'

Massive discussions were ongoing while the oblivious Jarek and Tinsley confidently walked on the red carpet hand-in-hand.

The two of them posed for the reporters and the fans with Tinsley enjoying every bit of it as if she was the star of the party while Jarek patiently supported her.

"White Tigress, one question please." The reporters immediately began to throw, which made Tinsley stop in her tracks.

"Okay, three questions only." She replied with a laugh that threw everyone into a massive frenzy about how beautiful she was.

"We all knew that White Tigress and Actress Lillee and the William's family had a feud, have you got it settled or were you willing to congratulate the couples even though there were some unclear rumors about Actor Conrad and you?"

Tinsley held Jarek's hand calmly, "Sorry, my hubby is a million times impressive, why will I be interested in Actor Conrad? If it was you, who would you choose? I'm not blind." She uttered which threw everyone gasping in disbelief at her daring words.

"And as for your first question, well even if I wasn't invited, as Actress Lillie's younger sister, why won't

I show my love to my elder sister?" Tinsley explained with a carefree grin that left everyone sighing about how good she was.

The fans couldn't help but get enraged with how Conrad, Lillie, and William's family had invited all famous people to their wedding but refused to invite Tinsley, their family member. They all knew that it was definitely not a mistake, and they purposely did so yet Tinsley was still nice enough to show them love. Tinsley is so good.

"White Tigress is putting on L&L tonight, a dress by one of the most famously known mysterious, eccentric designers in the world. How much of a friendship do you have with each other?" One reporter asked which made everyone yell in disbelief.

Even though Lillie isn't wearing a L&L, Tinsley is rich enough to put on L&L, people can't help but evaluate Tinsley and Lillie again.

"It's all thanks to hubby," Tinsley said while holding Jarek's hand.

"Last question..."

"It's enough," Jarek replied coldly and immediately pulled Tinsley away from the reporters' questions.

He knew that if he didn't do that, they were likely to continue till the end of the wedding.

The bodyguards were very shocked to see Tinsley coming toward them with Jarek, but they tried to stay cool on remembering what Lillee told them.

However, they were shocked when Jarek handed out an invitation card and Tinsley also handed out one.

Two? They screamed inwardly. How's it two?

"Can we go in?" Tinsley smirked at them.

"Yes, you can go in. Sorry for the delay." They replied. One of the guards secretly tapped another to inform Lillee about Tinsley's entrance.

"They were shocked," Tinsley uttered with a laugh. Lillee had done her best to stop her, and she had done so by sending Rory, Brigitta, Jarek, and the wealthy members of Taming Her a single invitation card to prevent her from tagging along with them, but what she didn't expect was Onyx.

They had sent Onyx a couple's invitation card which made Rory follow Onyx while she gave her invitation card to Tinsley.

The entrance of Jarek and Tinsley shocked many people who thought no more guests were coming in.

Unfortunately, it was also a coincidence with Lillee and Conrad's entry at the opposite door but Tinsley and Jarek's entrance caught people's eyes more than Conrad and Lillee's entrance.

Tinsley smiled sweetly and waved, which sent people watching the Livestream into an excited frenzy.

Even the cameraman had all continuously taken shots of Tinsley and Jarek only for a while to pass before they remembered that they should be taking Conrad and Lillee's instead.

Lillee gritted her teeth, but she tried hard to restrain herself from glaring at Tinsley. She couldn't help wondering how Tinsley was able to come in after she had done many things to prevent her from doing so.
