

Chapter 19: Jason

Chapter 19 Jason

A frown blossomed on Tinsley's face when she heard Jason spit out Jarek's name. She has always been strict with the feeds that the children saw, so how can Jason know about Jarek? "Who told you his name?" She asked Jason in a gentle and carefree manner but inwardly, she was nowhere near that.

Jarek already knew his mom would ask and the way his mom was asking about that person made him unhappy. "Aunty Rory has his magazine." He stated blankly, which made her nod in understanding.

Tinsley sighed in relief, but Rory was amazed by the boy's sharp eyes. Since Jason had mostly been stuck up watching TV, she found it incredible that Jason saw the magazine.

"Hey little Jason, you were quick enough to see that..."

Jason stared at her disdainfully, "I'm not blind." He stated, which made Rory and Tinsley's lips part in bewilderment.

(...) Jason is definitely in a bad mood this morning.

But Rory was more interested in the news about her potential couple, "When did you meet Jarek? How?" Rory asked eagerly only for Tinsley to roll her eyes.

"We saw his image on the billboard when we were in the car coming." Tinsley replied with a sarcastic scoff.

Her eyes mistakenly took a glance at her wristwatch. "Damn. I'm late." Tinsley said and began to run out in fluster.

Mason and Ariel began to wave behind her, "Bye mom, buy me many desserts and snacks on your way." Mason and Ariel yelled behind her and Tinsley replied to them.

"Aunty Rory, who is mom meeting with?" Jason asked anxiously. He wanted to ask that earlier, but that was when Tinsley discovered that she was late.

'Your dad, your mom's future husband' Rory thought but none of it was presented on her face. "President Jarek," Rory replied and began to lead them into the villa.

"Your mom has to sign with a big company if she wants to make more money and gain more fame for her movie; President Jarek is the right person for her," Rory explained.

Unknown to her, the more she explained, the darker Jason's face was and the more unhappy Jason was.

"So mom and president Jarek will make more money together?" Ariel and Mason said excitedly. They both shared a gaze, and they felt that this person is amazing and good for their mom. Ah, but what about their father? Forget it. They both sighed sorrowfully.

Before Rory could say anything, Jason harrumphed and dashed away from the living room angrily.

Jason saw his nanny resting and since it was their time, he picked up his phone and laptop and then went back into the room.

This man looks like the man that can steal mom from dad and the Triplets and Jason must definitely prevent it if he doesn't want to lose his mom, but how can he stop that man from meeting his beautiful mom today?

How can he make that man busy? Jason's eyes lit up immediately, and he decided to hack J Empire's security.

He knew that Jarek would definitely be alarmed that his company's security was about to be breached, so he would have to stay back and postpone the meeting with Tinsley to another day.

Jason grinned evilly, not knowing that his expression was the same as Jarek's.

His little hands open the laptop and after unlocking his password, he switches to incognito and decides to hide his tracks before he begins to attack J Empire's security with a cunning smirk.

Tinsley quickly entered her car and ordered the driver to drive toward J restaurant.

J restaurant is one of the biggest, best, and most expensive restaurants in the country. It is owned by Jarek, and a meal is said to cost five digits upward.

Thankfully there was no traffic along the way and in less than 15 minutes Tinsley arrived at J restaurants.

She quickly got down from the car putting on sunglasses and walked toward the restaurant under gasp and staring from the crowds.

She smiled slightly as a waiter approached her respectfully.

"Excuse me, madam, how may I help you? The waiter asked Tinsley immediately when she arrived in front of her.

"I have a reservation with Mr. Jarek," Tinsley replied calmly which made the girl nod.

"Ok, miss. May I have your name?" She asked.

"White Tigress," Tinsley replied calmly, which made the waiter release a shocked gasp.

The girl was about to yell, but a wink from Tinsley made the girl quickly cover her mouth in order not to alert the others.

"Whi... White Tigress." She stuttered while trembling in excitement. "Oh my, you're so beautiful. I have been your loyal fan since day one. Can I have an autograph, please?" The girl said excitedly, which made Tinsley nod calmly.

"Yes," Tinsley said and quickly scribbled her autograph on the girl's book. "Thank you. Thank you." The girl bowed excitedly and directed Tinsley toward the private room Jarek was staying in.

"You're cute," Tinsley said to the girl and began to make her way toward the directed Jarek's private room.

The waiter gasped in shock and happiness, and she was frozen for a few minutes until another waiter noticed her strangeness. "You..."

"Ah. White Tigress is cool. She's just like an angel coming down from heaven." The waiter said, which made the other gasp.

As if the other waiter remembered something. "Wait, it's true. The boss had a meeting with White Tigress. Don't tell me that that beautiful woman you're attending to is White Tigress." The other servant almost yelled out loud if not for the waiter that quickly covered her mouth.

"She gave me an autograph." The waiter said in excitement which made the other Waitress jump in happiness. "That's amazing."

Tinsley made her way to the ninth floor. It is said that the ninth floor is only reserved for Jarek. The eighth floor of the restaurant is made for very influential people who had connections. The seventh floor is for the slightly less connected and it goes on.

Tinsley never expected that she'd be meeting with President Jarek on the reserved ninth floor. Nobody had ever entered there before.

★ +20 BONUS

Rory was right, it would have been bad if she wore her mask to the meeting.

She was filled with anxiety and excitement, and she couldn't help thinking if he would remember her or not.

Tinsley was about to knock and ask for entry when Assistant Jacob immediately appeared in her view. "White Tigress, Mr. Jarek had been waiting for you, please go in." Assistant Jacob said and opened the door for Tinsley.

Tinsley nodded calmly and immediately entered the private room.

 Comments

 Vote (911)

