Chapter 5: A New Identity

Chapter 5 A New Identity

Seven Years Later...

"Jason, Mason, Ariel. Be quick. We are late for the flight." Tinsley called as she walked down the stairs. She was dressed in a white shirt and black mini skirt coupled with a jacket.

Compared to the naive youngster she was seven years ago, Tinsley was now a mature beauty with an outstanding figure.

She had a beautiful seductive face that was the size of a palm, she had clear black eyes, coupled with a cute nose. Her dyed-blond hair fell to her back.

"Mom, you're so beautiful." Jason, the first of her Triplet's, praised her with a handsome smile. He was dressed in black suit and he was the miniature of Jarek, his father.

"You're such a lovely, and capable youngster." Tinsley praised him and pecked his cheeks which made him furrow his adorable face due to annoyance.

Jason pouted his lips in disagreement, "Mom, stop kissing me. I'm an adult." He said with a serious expression that made Tinsley laugh.

"Mom. Kiss Kiss." Before she could say a word, Mason immediately ran toward Tinsley and held her leg with vivid jealousy.

He touched his fair cheeks so that Tinsley could kiss.

"Okay fine." Tinsley laughed and bent down to his position but before she could kiss him an ear piercing noise was heard.

"Mooooommmm!" Ariel suddenly screamed loudly which almost made the whole house shake.

Tinsley shook her head with amusement as she hurried toward the last of the Triplets, Ariel.

"What is it baby?" Tinsley asked and sat beside Ariel while Mason and Jason sat on Tinsley's lap.

Ariel pointed at the expensive television excitedly, "Mom, look, your new book is now a best selling." Ariel said with a smile which made her and the boys smile.

Seven years ago, Tinsley was schemed by her parents and families which led to her departure from Ryle Country, her birth country.

Two months later, she discovered that the one night stand she had with the famous billionaire, Jarek, had led to pregnancy.

It had thrown her life upside down but she decided to keep it because the child wasn't beside

Because of the pregnancy, Tinsley had quit her full-time job in a cafe and started staying at home while worrying about money.

Having a liking for writing, Tinsley decided to write the story of her life while tweaking and adding a few fiction plots to it. After the book was completed, Tinsley released it with an anonymous identity, White Tigress, on A*n.

Tinsley never expected that the book would begin to sell and would become a bestseller in less than two weeks of its release.

Tinsley had been so overwhelmed by the news. But the happiest thing was that she wouldn't need to worry about money while taking care of her pregnancy.

Using the money, Tinsley was able to buy a house, hire a doctor and house worker while

She has also released five books in those seven years and they're currently bestselling.

One of her books and new release called, 'Taming her' was one of the reasons why Tinsley was moving back, the book had been planned to be adapted into a drama.

"Mom, you just said we will be late, why are you smiling at the TV?" Jason frowned, he was always the most sensible, mature and serious one. A young boy who acts like he is more mature than his mother.

reminded of Jarek. How would he settle her if he knew she had his child, well, children?

Tinsley sighed and massaged her forehead.

And whenever he was being like this, it always made her heart race because she got which made her let out another sigh.

"Let's go back home." Tinsley muttered to herself under her breath.

"Okay babies. Let's go."

An hour later, Tinsley and her adorable children were at the airport.

Tinsley with an outstanding figure and beauty stood out of the crowds coupled with her adorable babies who wore sunglasses.

The hired nanny and bouncers followed behind them to ensure Tinsley and the triplet's

"Mom, is Ryle Country beautiful?" Mason suddenly asked while holding Tinsley's hand. He wore cute sunglasses on his face and he had an excited smile on his face.

thought.

"Is daddy there also?" Ariel asked excitedly which made Tinsley stop in her tracks.

"Yes, it's very beautiful." Tinsley nodded. 'Except that the people there can be heartless.' she

Her heart began to race in fear upon remembering Jarek.

"Uhm. That. Let's get there first, okay?" Tinsley said which made Ariel nod cutely.

Tinsley doesn't have the mind to lie to her triplets that their father was dead. No, she couldn't bear to lie since that was a very bad lie, she also can't accept if someone told her.

But still, she couldn't help being fearful of returning because Ryle Country belongs to Jarek.

'Can I take those cute children away. Look at the mom, she is so beautiful.' the crowd suddenly continued to say while pointing at Tinsley and the Triplets.

'Oh, how cute.' The Rylians began to point at Tinsley with a smile.

They all took out their phones to take pictures but before they could, the bodyguards surrounded Tinsley and the Triplets which prevented the people from taking pictures.

'Wait!' Someone suddenly cried out amidst the crowd. 'Why do I find this person familiar?' 'Dreaming my dear. It's all a dream. How can you?'

as if the whole airport was torn in jeopardy in those minutes.

Brushing all the people's words aside calmly, Tinsley held her children and walked out of the airport.

Suddenly, a massive noise was heard and people began to run towards the airport. It seemed

'They are here.' People began to cry which made Tinsley subconsciously stop on her feet.

'The legendary golden couple of the entertainment industry is back in the country.'

Following that noise, Lillee and Conrad, who were walking arm in arm, appeared in Tinsley's focus.

Tinsley subconsciously arched her brows and a thought appeared in her mind. 'Enemies crossing on a narrow road.'
