

The Substitute Bride Triplets And The Impotent Billionaire

The Accident (2)

Chapter 64 The Accident (2)

"Miss Tinsley's skin is so smooth." The makeup artist praised her as she applied light makeup on Tinsley. "Your face doesn't need makeup." She praised, which made Tinsley smile. After all, every girl loves to be praised.

"I'm Mrs." Tinsley suddenly replied, which stunned her.

"Huh?"

Tinsley smiled and continued "Thanks for the compliment. And can you make my eyes appear more catchy? Lina's eyes were always more emphasized." Tinsley said, and the makeup artist nodded excitedly.

"I understand, Mrs." The makeup artist said.

"Hurry up, there's no time to dawdle. Rylee, it's your scene with Lina, are you ready?" Director Martin yelled, and she could hear a flustered Rylee yelling a "Yes" reply quickly in order not to get on Director Martin's bad side.

Everyone knew that Director Martin's mood had turned bad ever since the original actress who should play Lina's character suddenly quit.

It turns out that a director who had always antagonized Director Martin was behind it. And not only that, the director was directing a movie of Fireflies, a male writer who had always hated White Tigress and always tried to compete with her. In fact, it was that same movie Lilee was also acting which was quite shocking.

Tinsley quietly went through Lina's script. Lina is a supporting character, and she is the female lead childhood best friend. The FL and Lina always have a very close relationship until the female lead discovers something suspicious.

And now, Tinsley will be acting in the scene where Lina came to meet FI in the forest which would spark suspicion in FI's heart because she never told Lina where she was unless Lina was tracking her which was strange.

This scene was especially hard to act in because the FL will try to stay calm and suppress herself from asking her friend how she found her and if she was among her enemies while the FL's suspicion continues to get stronger. And Lina will also want to say something due to anxiety but would also try to play calm. The upcoming scene needs perfect face and body language.

After a few minutes, Tinsley was done with her makeup, so she quickly went to the dressing room to wear her dress of leather pants and an armless top coupled with a boot.

Seeing Tinsley's arrival, everyone was so stunned that they couldn't help yelling 'Lina' because Tinsley brought Lina's character alive. Even director Martin finally broke into a smile that day.

Director Martin stretched his hand and was about to pat her shoulder and say some encouraging words to her, but before he could, Tinsley quickly moved back from him and said.

"President Jarek's rule. Stay 3 meters away from me, please." She said humbly, which made director Martin's face twist, not knowing whether to laugh or cry, but he nodded and acquiesced to her words.

"Director Martin, 5 minutes, please. Rylee and I want to quickly become familiar with each other." She pleaded and he nodded without hesitation.

Rylee smiled at Tinsley. "Sister-in-law, please go easy on me." She teased, which made Tinsley smile.

"Same here," Tinsley said and they both got into action. After a few minutes of practice, the both of them nodded to themselves.

"Nice work, White Tigress, and Rylee." Director Martin and the crew couldn't help but appreciate the two women. Especially Tinsley who quickly got into the role, now they just agreed that she's multi-talented.

Director Martin began to discuss the next scene with them. The next scene is the scene where the two friends had a misunderstanding with each other which made them believe that they were both enemies.

The FL and Lina will have a fierce fight until the both of them mistakenly arrive at a cliff. The both of them will both point guns at each other and Lina will pull the trigger, but before she could, the bullet will arrive from the FI side and Lina will get shot before she could pull the trigger. And that shot will make her fall from the mountain.

So in the next scene, a bullet will be shot and Tinsley will have to fall from the mountain. A fake gun had been prepared for the both of them to hold, and a sturdy flying harness had also been prepared in order to safeguard Tinsley's safety.

"Can I get familiar with it?" Tinsley asked, talking about the flying harness. This is her first time with those things, so she couldn't help but request for that.

"Sure. Has the tester tested the flying harness and the gun?" Director Martin asked the other production crew.

In order to make sure the flying harness wasn't dangerous for the actress and was good enough, someone had to test it.

"Yes, director. The flying harness and the guns had been tested." Director Martin's assistant quickly replied, which caused him to nod.

He turned to Tinsley and Rylee. "Are you ready?" He asked and they both nodded, signifying that they were both ready.

Soon the harness had been fixed to Tinsley and they both got into the role quickly.

The both of them skipped the conversation, and they got into characters quickly since they were both practicing.

Tinsley and Rylee both look at each other with complicated expressions. They never expected that the person who they believed that they'd be ending with, would one day switch as an enemy to them.

Suddenly, the both of them decisively pointed guns at each other. Tinsley took a breath and pretended to pull the trigger, but before she could, Rylee pulled hers.

Bang!!!

Rylee and the crowd's expressions changed as Tinsley's shoulder started bleeding. It turns out that the fake bullet had been switched to a real one.

"Tinsley!!!"

As if that wasn't enough, the already paled Tinsley finally discovered something: something is wrong with the flying harness.

"I'm stuck!" Tinsley cried out weakly, hanging in midair because the force of the bullet and her pretense had made the flying harness move.
