

THE SUBSTITUTE BRIDE TRIPLETS AND THE IMPOTENT BILLIONAIRE

Chapter 76 His Promise: You're My World

His Promise: You're My World

Chapter 76 His Promise: You're My World

"You promised?" Tinsley asked in a shaky voice, and he hummed to her.

"Jarek. I'm afraid that everything we had is an illusion, so promise me you won't leave me. Promise me you will never hate me and our kids. When everyone hates me, promise me you'll always be here for me, for us forever?"

"Can I?" He asked while holding her face and she hummed to him Jarek lowered his head and kissed her on her lips softly. "Tonight. I promise you that my heart, my world, and my home belong to you and our little treasures and nothing would ever change it. Even at the cost of my life, I'll make sure no harm befell you and our Triplets." His voice was soft, but his promise was firm, and it touched her whole heart.

"I also promise you." Tinsley lowered her head and suddenly kissed him which shocked him but without any thought, he kissed her in return.

The kiss they both shared this time was more intense than any they'd ever shared. The kiss revealed their love for each other and the promise they both had for each other.

Feeling the change in his body, Jarek immediately stopped kissing her and tried to part from her.

Seeing that Jarek stopped the kiss, Tinsley already had the idea of what was happening, and seeing him wanting to stand up, she couldn't help feeling touched.

Jarek had just stood up when Tinsley tugged his wrist. Thinking that she was in pain, Jarek turned to her and softly asked, "Does anywhere hurt?"

Tinsley nodded and used her hand to beckon him to move closer to her. And he did so immediately.

"Your ear?" She said which made him furrowed his brows slightly but still, he did to her command.

"I'm ready," Tinsley whispered next to his ears with a red face that expresses her embarrassment.

Jarek's eyes darkened upon hearing her word, but his face soon changed back to seriousness.

"What?" He asked her pretending not to hear.

Tinsley bit her lower lips in embarrassment, she thought he hadn't heard her words due to her whisper.

"Jarek. I'm ready for you so you don't need to solve it yourself," She quickly says and buried her head under the blanket feeling hot.

Jarek was surprised by her words. He had decided to make her do it at her own pace knowing she'd be willing one day, but he never knew that she'd accept him this soon. Jarek almost laughed at her cute ways, but he quickly cautioned himself, and he returned to the bed.

Sometimes, her actions proved that

Jason took his character from her even though his coldness belongs to Jarek

Jarek pulled Tinsley's waist closer to him, seeing that she was hiding her face and was refusing to see him. "Thank you." He finally says which made her remove the bedsheet.

She thought he'd had that teasing look on his face, but he didn't have any of his teasing looks. She suddenly became bold, so again she kissed him and he let her do.

After a few minutes, he parted from her. "Sleep. You're still weak." He said and covered her with a blanket.

"You?" She asked while looking at him from under the blanket.

"I'm fine. Sleep." He said and kissed her forehead.

"What do you think about Constance? It's really hard for us to find evidence that points to her as the villain, and we didn't have anything to do with her?" Tinsley informed Jarek with a yawn.

"You had just woken up and that's what's on your mind?" He asked and pecked her lips.

"Morning." She greeted him with a yawn.

"Mom. Dad. Morning." Ariel, Mason, and Jason barged into the room which made Jarek sigh.

"We need to teach these kids how to stop barging into an adult room," Jarek said with a sigh.

"Yes, you can try. Perhaps they'll listen to you." Tinsley shrugged. After all, she had tried to do so several times, but they never listened to her.

Chapter 77 A Lead

A Lead

Chapter 77 A Lead

"Mom, it's the weekend," Ariel said and got onto the bed. "How's mom?" Ariel asked and pecked Tinsley's cheeks. She turned to Jarek and kissed his cheeks also. "Morning Dad."

"Little princess." He called and turned to Jason and Mason, who had got on the bed.

"Mom, I'm sleepy. Let's sleep." Jason yawned and hugged Tinsley.

"Mom, it's been a while since we had our sleep. Ever since Dada arrived, Mom hasn't made us sleep on her bed, together." Mason said and hugged her.

Jarek glared at the little two, and he pulled them up with his hands. "Where are your manners, little boys?" He asked them.

"Dad, good morning. I'm sleepy. Let's sleep, Dad." The both of them immediately placed their heads on each of his shoulders which made him chuckle.

"Little sleepy head." Jarek chuckled and laid them on the bed beside Ariel and Tinsley.

"Dad. Sleep." Jason said pulling Jarek when he wanted to leave them on the bed.

Jarek turned to Tinsley for clarification. "Weekend, family time. So you have no option than to return here to have a proper sleep with the kids, or they won't let you be." Tinsley replied which made him arch his brows.

Seeming to enjoy the idea, he also got on the bed, and immediately he did Jason held his hand. Jarek looked at Tinsley at the opposite end, and he couldn't help smiling upon seeing the sleeping Triplets that were sleeping in between the both of them.

He held Tinsley's hand and secretly made a promise to always protect their happiness no matter what may happen now or never.

Jarek woke up two hours later to see Tinsley and the kids still sleeping. He pecked Jason, Mason, and Ariel who was sleeping before he finally stood up to kiss Tinsley, but before he could, she opened her eyes drowsily.

"Sleep," Jarek said and pecked her lips. And soon, she fell asleep again.

He quickly walked out of the room and picked up his phone, he silently dialed a number after entering his office.

"President, I found the person who ruined the flying harness and I also have a video of that person doing it." The person at the other end of the phone informed Jarek which made him squint his eyes.

"Send it over," Jarek said in a cold voice that was laced with killing intent.

"On it, boss." The person at the other said and at that minute, a message came through.

"Find me any information about Constance. Find someone to get closer to her and Lillee, I want to know what they're planning." He ordered which made the other person reply with a 'yes'

"Also." Jarek suddenly said. "Find me all black things about Constance and the people she interacted with." He spat out and then cut off the call.

For those who had hurt Tinsley in one way or the other, he promised to make them pay for it and that includes William's family.

Jarek sat down on a sofa in his office and began to go through the video. In the video was the new assistant of the stage manager.

The video showed how the assistant began to deal with the flying harness while repeatedly calling Tinsley's name.

Besides, during that time frame, the person also received a call from someone who he only called 'Master'.

Jarek's eyes darkened after seeing such a thing happen under his nose. He quickly called Assistant Jacob. "I sent a video to you. Find the person and take him to the basement."

"Also, I need you to filter out the bad people in the Taming Her set." He informed which assistant Jacob replied, "Yes sir."

Chapter 78 Luke

Luke

Chapter 78 Luke

"So I can't be Lina anymore? Oh, it hurts. It really does. After being such a villain, I even lost such a worthy character all thanks to Karma. I hate Karma." Tinsley joked playfully which made Jarek cast a gaze at her.

She was trying to write, but she suddenly began to stab her book while complaining loudly to his ears and looking at him from the corner of her eyes.

"Tell me what you want?" Jarek stopped working on his documents and turned to her which made her smile at him

"I want you to help me check Constance out," She said while beaming at him.

Jarek arched an eyebrow and tilted his head pretending not to have started taking measures relating to Constance. "Hm? What's the catch?" He questioned her which made her squint her eyes.

"President Jarek, you still want a catch? Unbelievable?" She glared at him. That man always wants something in return after extending his favor.

"Yeah. I want one." He replied shamelessly which made her snort at him.

Knowing that he wouldn't relent until he had his catch, she bit her lower lip and said, "Read my next book first." She said with an innocent expression.

He squinted his eyes at her. "That's something I'll naturally do." He remarked which made her glare at him.

"What do you want?" She asked him, and he moved closer to her and pointed to his lips. "Kiss?" She asked while glaring at him. "You're so shameless, President Jarek." She teased him which made him part from her as if he wanted to leave.

"Oh no. I was just joking." Tinsley cried out in fluster and immediately shut his lips with a kiss.

Jarek immediately held her waist and deepened the kiss. It was only after a while that he let her go.

"Well, my men are already on it. Thanks for the kiss. I didn't know White Tigress was this eager." He said with a smirk and then left the room immediately, leaving a shocked Tinsley gaping at nothing.

She suddenly recalled herself and what Jarek had just told her, and she couldn't help smacking her forehead. "I'm a fool. Naturally, I should have expected Jarek to be doing something about it. Now I must let this be the last time." Tinsley pouted in unwillingness.

"Dada." Jarek had just climbed down the stairs when Mason grabbed his legs. "Where are you going?"

Ever since Tinsley had been injured, Jarek had never left the mansion, doing all his business at home.

Even though Jarek was dressed in casual clothes, a sharp-eyed Mason was still able to notice something.

Jarek massaged his brows and raised the boy while wondering where Mason got the habit of clutching one's leg easily. That move always made him come to a stop. "To work. I'll be back soon." He replied and placed Mason on the sofa next to Jason and Ariel.

"Dad, will you take us along?" Ariel asked eagerly but he quickly shook his head.

"No, it's adult business." He replied which made Jason grab his hand. "I'm an adult," Jason said seriously which made Jarek chuckle.

After a lot of coaxing, he was finally let go by the Triplets but not after promising to bring them their favorite snacks and dessert on his way. He couldn't help remembering Jason's serious expression and remembering Tinsley's serious expression when telling him she wasn't a child made him chuckle.

"To the apartment," Jarek informed the driver coldly immediately after he entered the car.

"Yes, boss." Jarek's driver replied and began to drive toward the outskirts of the city. They drove down an almost deserted road before turning several times on the road.

Soon the car arrived at an expensive island that solely belongs to Jarek. Seeing the familiar car, the security quickly opened the gate and Jarek's car quickly drove into the island.

The land was surrounded by water, but Jarek had already built pathways for him to enter and leave easily.

After passing through the pathways the driver continued to drive down the road that was filled with forest at the sides.

In the forest were Jarek's wild animals that would definitely jump at any car or people that weren't any of Jarek's.

Some people had tried to sneak into the island many times, but they were finished by the wild animals before they could, so they've already learned that the island can't be sneaked into.

"President, Mr. Luke is around." Jarek had just got down from the car when one of the guards told him which made his brows furrowed, but he still entered the mansion.

Luke sprawled on the chair with a whiskey glass in his hand. "I heard you've got a catch. Ready to do some dirty things these days?" He asked and poured the drink down his throat.

"Hm. People are after my wife." He said and took a seat beside Luke.

Chapter 79 Torturing

Torturing

Chapter 79 Torturing

Luke glared at Jarek coldly. He never asked for information. Must Jarek use every chance he had to show off his wife? "I already know." He spat out angrily.

"I met Onyx," Jarek said, switching the topic.

"Ah, Onyx. I've been doing his business these past few days. Avenging himself because I 'scammed' him in the past, and it wasn't even a 'scam', he agreed to my demands in the first place." Luke snorted and poured himself another drink.

"President, it's ready?" A guard said which made Jarek stand up

"I'm in for excitement. Leave it up to me." Luke stood up and walked ahead of Jarek and they both walked down the room before they arrived at a passage that led to three different directions, but the duo ignored the left and right directions.

Instead, they walked down the stairs at the middle of the passage end.

There were loud cries as they walked down the stairs, but the two ignored it and instead continued to take several paths before they finally arrived at a room that had a basement.

In the basement were several rooms that had different people in them, some extremely tortured while some lightly, etc.

The duo ignored the others and instead made their way to the last cage-like room in the basement. In the room was the man who ruined the flying harness.

The man was in his early thirties, and he wrapped himself with his hand with a scared expression on his face until Jarek and Luke arrived.

"You made a claim not to do things like this anymore, is it okay for you to go on?" Luke asked Jarek seriously

"There's nothing I won't do for my family's happiness," Jarek replied seriously with his eyes pinned on the person in the room.

The man's eyes lit up with hope in his eyes when he saw Jarek, he quickly stood up and began to bang the door. "President Jarek. Please help me. I was suddenly kidnapped by some unknown men..."

"Shut up." Luke suddenly yelled which made the person move back in fear.

"Are you scared?" Luke's expression immediately changed into a bloodthirsty one. "Tell me are you scared?" He yelled loudly only for the man to begin trembling and nod in fear.

"I'm scared, please help me. President Luke. I don't want to die." The assistant cried out loudly which made Luke snort.

"But you can kill someone? You can try to ruin someone's life?" Luke barked loudly and kicked the door, which made the man and the other prisoners jump in fear.

"Someone should open the door now!" Luke roared while Jarek sat on a chair calmly watching Luke handle it.

A guard quickly made way while trembling in fear and with shaky hands, he opened the prison.

Seeing someone open the prison, the man quickly tried to bolt from the room, but before he could,

Luke kicked him in his stomach cruelly which made the man fall to his knees while holding his stomach painfully.

"Does it hurt, you bastard?" Luke suddenly grabbed the man by the hair harshly. The man let out a loud painful cry as Luke's grip on his hair continued to tighten.

"Please let me go. I'm innocent." The man cried out

Luke's expression turned cold in that instant and without warning, he suddenly bashed the man's head on the floor. "Ahhhhhh! Help me. President Jarek, please help me." The man began to cry loudly which made Luke punch his face immediately.

"You can kill, but you don't want to die? You tried to kill Tinsley, but you dared to ask her husband for help?" Luke yelled and bangs the man's head again.

"You kidnapped me?" The man finally came to a sudden realization and his eyes widened in fear.

"Get me my box," Luke yelled and upon yelling like that, all the people in the different rooms crawled to the end of the room in fear as if by that way they could escape.

At that rate, they wished they could be swallowed by the wall.

"Why did you destroy the flying harness?" Luke suddenly asked which made the man's eyes widen in fear coupled with blood streaming down his face made him look horrific.

Chapter 80 Exposed

Exposed

Chapter 80 Exposed

The man quickly turned back in fear. "I... What flying harness? I didn't know any flying harnesses." The man yelled out in a fluster.

Hearing the man's lies, Jarek shook his head in advance for the man.

"Master, your box." A guard quickly dropped the box beside Luke.

Luke caressed the box with infatuation before he opened it.

"Can you see this device? This is what I call a chopper. I used it to cut human fingers in the slowest way in order to give them the most pain, especially liars." Luke said and continued to explain each of his favorite devices one by one.

A smirk was plastered on his face as he watched the man break into sweats with his expression turning paler. That was what Luke liked most, feeding on people's fear.

"So what was your reply to the flying harness?" Luke said while caressing his chopper with infatuation in his eyes.

The man's heart was pounding, but he tried to calm himself. "If I am truthful, will you let me go?" The man bargained which made Luke chuckle darkly.

"Depends on my mood and depends on your answers." He shrugged playfully, but his expression suddenly turned serious. "What did you do with the flying harness?"

"I'm really telling the truth. I love White Tigress and I can't harm her." The man suddenly began to cry.

"I'm innocent."

"Do you know why I like someone like you? I tend to have the best fun." Luke said excitedly.

After an hour later...

"His master is Lillee. He doesn't know who she was but after tracing the identities of the sender, it led to Lillee. She had also used him severely in the past to harm others." Luke explained while putting on a glove.

"What are you going to do?" Luke asked him.

"Find who's behind Constance," Jarek replied, which made Luke chuckle.

"We already know who's behind it. It should be Lillee."

"I know. I need evidence and my men are on it." Jarek replied, which made Luke nod. "I'm leaving," Jarek said and stood up.

"Wait. When are you inviting us to introduce us to your family?" Luke asked seriously which made Jarek turn to him.

"You won't cry?" Jarek mocked which made Luke's expression change.

"Heartless scum. I only have heartless friends." Luke cried out, but he suddenly smacked his forehead when Onyx's message arrived at his phone.

"Talking about heartless friends. And one of them will message. I only have Grayson, the rest of you are scums." He threw and immediately got into his car without further words.

Jarek chuckled and immediately got into his car as well. "To the triplet's favorite dessert shop," Jarek informed the driver before he closed his eyes to take a rest.

And after a while the car arrived at the triplet's favorite dessert shop and Jarek got down from the car to buy the triplet's dessert and Tinsley's before he went to the snack shop. After that, he finally made his way home.