

The Lord 1051

Chapter 1051: God Sword

Within the Killing Sword World, Zhao Fu was quite shocked as he defended against the terrifying aura from the Clear Sable Sword.

Now, the Clear Sable Sword was burning with a 100 meter tall bloody flame, giving off a boundless blood-red light that filled the entire Killing Sword World. Waves of powerful aura blew out like wild gales, causing the surrounding space to twist and turn.

Shing!

A massive sword hum sounded throughout the entire Killing Sword World, causing the heavens and earth to tremble. In that moment, all of the bloody qi madly flowed towards the Clear Sable Sword. Some of the sword souls that Zhao Fu had not killed automatically turned into illusory swords and flew over.

The countless traces of bloody water on the ground were also absorbed into the Clear Sable Sword.

The blood crystal mountain and blood crystals on the ground and floating in the air also started to crack and flew towards the Clear Sable Sword in the sky.

Boom!

Everything flowed into the Clear Sable Sword, causing its power to rise to its peak. It now gave off an aura that seemed to place it above the heavens.

The damaged Killing Sword World started to gradually collapse, and the heavens and earth started to turn into nothingness as the Killing Sword World's source energy started to gather towards the Clear Sable Sword.

The Clear Sable Sword had already turned into a sword of killing, and after fusing with countless sword souls, it had incredible affinity with the Killing Sword World. Otherwise, it would not have been able to become the core of the Killing Sword World so easily.

The region-sized space completely collapsed, and Zhao Fu and the Clear Sable Sword were now within a space of nothingness. There was only primal chaos around them, giving off source energy, which could make anyone feel both scared and curious.

Now, the Clear Sable Sword seemed to have become a true god sword. It hung in the nothingness, giving off tall bloody flames and boundless blood-red sword light, repelling the nothingness around it and giving off an all-surpassing sword aura.

Swish, swish, swish...

Hazy sword souls with blood-red eyes and holding blood-red swords appeared around them. There were over 100,000 of them, and they gave off powerful auras.

In that moment, all of the sword souls knelt down on one knee to the Clear Sable Sword in the air, acknowledging it as their master.

The golden dragon said excitedly, "Zhao Fu hurry and go and take control of the Clear Sable Sword; then, you'll become the Sword Master."

Hearing this, Zhao Fu hurriedly went forward. Because the Clear Sable Sword had already been fully refined by Zhao Fu, its powerful aura did not obstruct Zhao Fu, allowing him to easily come by its side, and he grabbed its hilt.

Immediately, Zhao Fu felt an unimaginably massive wave of killing intent flow into his mind, causing an explosion to ring out within it. His mind went blank, and the killing intent continuously corroded Zhao Fu's body. This time, Zhao Fu's bloodline did not resist, and it instead absorbed the killing intent.

Gradually, Zhao Fu's eyes became blood-red, and drops of blood flowed out. A pair of blood-red sword-shaped pupils appeared in Zhao Fu's eyes, adding an extra layer to his eyes.

Zhao Fu's long hair gradually became blood-red colored, and a blood-red sword mark appeared at the center of his forehead. Two fangs started to grow out of his mouth, and his body gave off a massive killing intent, causing the space around him to start to freeze.

“Kill!” Zhao Fu’s body uncontrollably raised the Clear Sable Sword and pointed it at the sky, giving off a long howl that sounded out in the surrounding tens of thousands of meters.

Boom!

A massive blood-red light with unimaginable power tore through the space, piercing through the heavens. It seemed to be able to destroy countless worlds, and everything in the world trembled.

At that moment, the experts sent by the Ancient Stem Domain’s various factions all froze due to the terrifying power. They felt as if they had fallen into icy caverns, and the coldness spread even to their souls.

It was not just them – even some people at the center of the Heaven Awaken World sensed this, especially some of the factions that had been paying attention to Zhao Fu.

Moreover, this was not all – a blood-red color filled with killing intent spread out in the godly spirit world above, and this was the same in the Underworld below. This caused countless godly spirits and Underworld officials to look quite serious. They did not know what had happened in the Heaven Awaken World.

“I have important things to report!” a person with a trace of blood coming out of his lips respectfully said with an urgent tone within the Heaven Spirit Financial Group, a look of slight terror on his face.

Within the room, an elder in green’s expression slightly changed. The person outside was tasked with observing that mysterious Sovereign bloodline, and for him to seem so panicked, something must have happened to that Sovereign bloodline.

The elder in green had that person come in, and looking at the trace of blood on his lips and his pale face, the elder directly asked, “What happened?”

The person described what had happened – he had been observing the Sovereign Bloodline, but a killing intent suddenly flooded into his body. He had used a great deal of power to force out the killing intent.

The green-clothed elder’s expression once again changed. There were only a few drops of blood from that person in the Heaven Spirit Financial Group, and it innately held terrifying power. As long as one did not touch the blood, its power would not be released. However, those drops of blood were dangerous, and that killing intent had domineeringly tried to corrode this person's body; the matter was not simple at all.

The green-clothed elder immediately reported this matter up, and a few major figures immediately arrived. Looking at the blood orb giving off such an intense killing intent, ordinary people would be directly killed if they were invaded by the killing intent, turning them into monsters that only knew how to kill.

“What happened to that person recently? There's such terrifying killing intent in the blood, and this killing intent can be called one of the most terrifying martial conceptions in the world. Its origin is definitely terrifying!” one of the people said seriously.

Another person nodded, saying, “Mm, this killing intent is not simple at all, and it is incredibly corrosive. Not only does it contain pure killing intent, but it also has sharp sword intent and dark demonic intent. If someone drank these drops of blood, they would immediately fall into the demonic path, never to recover.”

One of the other figures laughed as he said, “He didn't disappoint us at all; looks like the decision we made was correct. Holding out against the pressure of those higher-beings was worth it, but...”

“Wait!” One of the people who had been thinking this whole time interrupted, saying, “I seem to have seen this killing intent before. That's right, it seems to have been from an ancient record. This killing intent is called killing sword intent, and it can cause someone to fall into Sword Obsession. In ancient times, it caused a massive catastrophe and was only suppressed by a few Celestials.”

“What?” The others looked quite shocked. They had never thought that this killing intent would have such a shocking background to the point that it had caused Celestials to descend.

Facing everyone's shocked gazes, that person nodded and said, “That killing intent is a type of killing sword intent. However, its berserk, killing nature has been reduced, and it also has a trace of Emperor's aura.”

Chapter 1052: Emperor Star Fate

“What? This sort of intense killing intent has already been reduced?” Another person gasped in shock.

The person who spoke nodded and replied, “Legends say that the Celestials destroyed the Killing Sword World and used their terrifying power to get rid of this terrifying martial conception. This killing intent is naturally not as powerful as it was before. However, what I’m curious about is how that killing intent appeared? And why is it on that person?”

Hearing this, everyone else felt quite confused as well and could not think of the reason.

There was another large faction that was paying attention to Zhao Fu, and that was the Heaven’s Secrets Pavilion. They felt great curiosity towards someone who had three Emperor Stars.

Many people had tried to find Zhao Fu’s location, but the three Emperor Stars did not give them a chance at all. They stirred up the Heaven’s Secrets and obstructed all investigations. Everyone could only watch from the sidelines.

On that day, everyone had been watching the track of the three Emperor Stars from a distance within the chaotic Heaven’s Secrets, but the three Emperor Stars had suddenly been covered by a blood-red light. Even those far away could sense the cold killing intent from that light.

They immediately reported that matter up, resulting in countless people coming to take a look.

Following this, the Heaven’s Secrets Sect’s Fate Sovereign, the young woman in white, personally came as well; she took this matter incredibly seriously.

The young woman’s consciousness entered the Heaven’s Secrets device and tried to divine the reason behind this, and everyone else silently waited by the side.

A while later, a trace of blood leaked out of her lips, and she looked quite shocked as she muttered to herself, “I never thought that he would form a connection to this matter. Before, when he awakened a few Emperor Stars, he already obtained the potential to become a Son of Heaven’s Fate. Now, he already has the qualifications to become a Son of Heaven’s Fate.”

“Fate Sovereign, are you alright?” Seeing that the woman in white was injured, everyone came over in concern.

The woman in white came back to her senses and shook her head before saying seriously, “In the future, don’t try to divine his Fate; his Fate is now covered by a layer of murderous intent, and if you’re not careful, you will die. This matter has to do with certain Celestials, so don’t pry into it.”

After hearing this, everyone felt incredibly shocked, and their expressions became quite grave. They had never thought that this would have to do with Celestials; anything related to Celestials was something that could shake the entire world.

“Fate Sovereign, what should we do now? Should we still continue to observe him from a distance?” a person respectfully asked.

The woman in white thought about it before nodding. “You can continue to observe. Since he has the qualifications to become a Son of Heaven’s Fate, he will definitely come to the central region in the future. Everyone will know his name, and he might change the Heaven Awaken World.”

“Yes!” Everyone nodded and understood how important this matter was. A Son of Heaven’s Fate was blessed by all of the Fate in the Heaven Awaken World, and each of them could shake the heavens.

However, that person only had the qualifications to become a Son of Heaven’s Fate, and he was not one yet. Despite this, he was able to shock them like this. They knew how terrifying Sons of Heaven’s Fate were, so this person was worth them monitoring.

Back in the Killing Sword World, Zhao Fu held the Clear Sable Sword as a blood-red pillar of light expanded out, and a massive blood-red energy barrier spread out, covering the surrounding 100 kilometers.

Shing!

The Clear Sable Sword gave off a massive sword hum as a wave of source energy spread out from the Clear Sable Sword. Blue skies and grassy ground spread out from Zhao Fu, expanding to the edges of the blood-red barrier. This was a 100 kilometer wide world.

The blood-red light around Zhao Fu’s body gradually dissipated, and Zhao Fu’s consciousness once again took control of his body. Looking at the blue sky and the white clouds and grass on the ground, he felt quite shocked.

This Killing Sword World was completely different than the Killing Sword World from before. That one from before was filled with blood and completely ruined, and it had contained no traces of life.

On the other hand, this Killing Sword World was filled with vitality and life force, but this did not mean it was not dangerous. Every rock, every blade of grass, and every drop of water contained killing intent, but it was no longer revealed. Ordinary people would not be able to sense this at all.

Zhao Fu held the Clear Sable Sword as he looked about the new Killing Sword World with great interest. It looked just like a normal world on the surface, and there was nothing too special about it.

Apart from this, Zhao Fu found a field of swords. There were tens of thousands of swords stuck in the grass, giving off a powerful sword aura. Zhao Fu looked at those swords and found that they were the swords that the golden dragon had used to seal those four people.

Back when the Killing Sword World had collapsed, everything had been sucked into the Clear Sable Sword. The four people had already become four powerful sword souls within the Clear Sable Sword.

Through the Clear Sable Sword, the swords that had sealed them became part of the Killing Sword World. Zhao Fu did not pay much attention to these swords, because according to the golden dragon, these swords could create powerful sword souls in the future.

The space that had originally been as big as a region was now only 100 kilometers wide. The Clear Sable Sword had gathered all of its power to create a new Killing Sword World. Even though it had become smaller, its uses were greater, and its power had increased.

However, now that the world had been remade, was it better to call it the Killing Sword World or the Emperor Killing Sword World?

In the end, Zhao Fu decided on naming it Emperor Killing Sword World because this was a new world created by the Clear Sable Sword.

As for how to develop the Emperor Killing Sword World, Zhao Fu asked the golden dragon. It had said that the Emperor Killing Sword World could expand and grow through killing.

However, there was a condition – only people from the Emperor Killing Sword World could provide it with power through killing.

The golden dragon suggested creating a City using the Clear Sable Sword and having swordsmen enter it and become part of the Emperor Killing Sword World. This would fulfill the condition.

However, even though it seemed like the Emperor Killing Sword World had become quite safe, this was not the case. The terrifying killing intent was still there, and even though it had weakened and had a trace of Emperor's aura, it was still something that could not be controlled.

Anyone who became part of the Emperor Killing Sword World would become a killing machine and fall into Sword Obsession. No one would be able to control this, but they would receive a massive amount of power.

Now, Zhao Fu could only control the killing intent's power through the Clear Sable Sword, which was the core of the Emperor Killing Sword World. At the same time, because the Clear Sable Sword had Emperor's Path power, the new Emperor Killing Sword World had Emperor's Path power as well.

This made it so that Zhao Fu could control those who had fallen into Sword Obsession. In other words, the Emperor Killing Sword World could be used by Zhao Fu, which Zhao Fu felt quite happy about.

Zhao Fu did not know about the abnormal signs outside, but he felt that the rift was not safe anymore. As such, he used the Clear Sable Sword to draw out a new rift to return to the Heaven Awaken World. Only then did he find out in shock just how great the effects of all of this had been.

Chapter 1053: Killing Sword Elves

By now, all of the abnormal signs had disappeared, but the boundary regions had fallen into chaos. Almost all of the Ancient Stem Domain's experts had arrived here, and even some experts from neighboring Domains had come. The final burst of killing intent from the Killing Sword World had caused all of their souls to tremble.

Now that such a big thing had happened here, they could not help but come, or else they would be struck by a calamity without even knowing what had happened.

The experts went through all of the boundary worlds, and the people in those worlds had already been terrified by those abnormal signs. Now that so many experts had descended, they became even more horrified, and some people even started to escape to other worlds.

Rumors of a world being destroyed or an evil being descending started to spread, causing mass panic.

They did not know why such terrifying abnormal signs had appeared or what had caused it; they just wished that none of this had happened because that killing intent made it so that none of them dared to stay here anymore. They could only pray that everything would be fine.

The various experts could not find the reason for those abnormal signs, but they did not give up. After looking for a few more days, they could only reluctantly leave. However, they did not completely give up either – they gave out quests, offering rewards such as Cities and other treasures to anyone who could provide information on the origin of those abnormal signs. Anyone who did so could even become a disciple of those experts.

This made countless people feel quite tempted because these experts had all come from the inner region of the Ancient Stem Domain. Those factions had existed for much longer than theirs, and their resources and abilities were not something that boundary worlds could compare with.

The rewards offered meant that there was a very big opportunity, so many people took risks to look for the reason behind those abnormal signs.

Zhao Fu came out from the Killing Sword World and put the Clear Sable Sword back into the Sword Mark. By now, Zhao Fu's appearance had returned to normal.

Now that the Clear Sable Sword had become the core of the Killing Sword World, its grade was unassessable. Where its grade had once been, it only now displayed 'Origin.' When wielding the Clear Sable Sword, Zhao Fu would enter the Sword Obsession state, causing his power to greatly increase, and he would be able to control that killing intent.

Moreover, now that Zhao Fu controlled the core of the Emperor Killing Sword World, he could enter the Emperor Killing Sword World at any time. However, he could not be disrupted when entering.

The Clear Sable Sword could now also be called the Emperor Killing Sword, which quite suited it as its old name did not suit it as much anymore.

At the same time, Zhao Fu had never thought that he would cause such terrifying abnormal signs. They actually reached hundreds of worlds. After all, he had been in a different space. If Zhao Fu knew that even the godly spirit world and Underworld had been affected, he would be given a big fright.

He was the source of all of this, and countless people were searching for him. With so many experts searching for him, he did not dare to act with a high-profile, as the consequences would be severe.

What Zhao Fu had never expected were the changes in the Elf world. Under the effects of the killing intent, there now appeared a type of Elf with blood-red eyes and blood-red hair who gave off killing intent.

These Elves had successfully accepted the baptism of the killing intent and had grasped the killing intent. The killing intent had changed their bloodline, and they were now a variant species.

This was quite common within the Heaven Awaken World; under the effects of unimaginable power, creatures could easily go through changes.

These variant Elves' personalities greatly changed, becoming incredibly cruel and bloodthirsty. All of them liked to use swords, and at the same time, their power greatly increased.

They called themselves the Killing Sword Elves and worshipped the killing sword intent. They were willing to be the slaves of the Killing Sword Master, and they could faintly tell where the Killing Sword Master was through their killing intent. They believed that he was definitely a peerless expert no one could contend with.

Zhao Fu was the Killing Sword Master, and there were at least tens of millions of Killing Sword Elves. With so many slaves, Zhao Fu would naturally be quite happy. It was possible that he would be able to complete his goal in the Elf world.

Only afterwards did Zhao Fu find out that they were simply saying that and that he did not have the power to actually control them. After all, their mutations were not because of Zhao Fu but because of the abnormal signs.

However, Zhao Fu controlled the source of the killing sword intent, so even though he could not control them, he could at least affect them.

There was also another piece of good news, which was that Zhao Fu's bloodline had become a Lower Level 18 Sovereign Bloodline. His bloodline had once again upgraded.

Now that his bloodline had reached such a stage, raising it even a little bit was incredibly difficult.

Zhao Fu then turned his attention back to his goal in the Elf world, which was to find a piece to bury here. He had never thought that he would be side-tracked by such a thing. If it wasn't for the reaction from the Clear Sable Sword, he would never have gone to that ancient tomb.

Zhao Fu's goal this time was a small Kingdom. Because it was small, it would not attract too much attention. Moreover, the Kingdom's King was quite old, and the Princes were engaged in a power struggle, making it easy for Zhao Fu to take advantage of this.

The Kingdom was called the Full Moon Kingdom and was quite close to the Grassi world. This was part of the reason why Zhao Fu chose it – because it was quite close, it would be easy to support it. Zhao Fu would use this Kingdom as the spear to pierce through the Elf world.

Before, Zhao Fu had been heading towards this Kingdom, but the current situation exceeded what Zhao Fu had expected.

The Killing Sword Elves had become bloodthirsty and ruthless, and they were not bound by anything, nor were they loyal to anyone. They were all rebels and cause murders all over the world, resulting in much terror. Everyone was afraid of being killed by the Killing Sword Elves if they were not careful.

The common people were quite resentful of the Killing Sword Elves, while the Killing Sword Elves killed as they pleased. This resulted in the Kingdom becoming quite unsettled. Those in power could only give the order to kill these Killing Sword Elves.

Many of the Kingdoms in the Elf world had made this decision, and more and more were doing the same. Soon, all of the Kingdoms in the Elf world would give the order to kill these mutated Elves, putting them in a difficult position.

“Chase after them! His Majesty orders all of the Killing Sword Elves to be killed. They are criminals of the Kingdom!” An Elf General riding on a white horse led an army of 100,000 soldiers to chase after a few thousand Killing Sword Elves ahead. Because there were many soldiers and they had all sorts of professions, if the Killing Sword Elves remained, they would definitely die.

Even though the Killing Sword Elves were bloodthirsty, that did not mean they were stupid. As such, they could only desperately run away.

In the end, the Elf General used Cavalrymen to block off the Killing Sword Elves. The rest of the soldiers spread out, encircling the Killing Sword Elves.

“Miye, what should we do? We’re going to be surrounded!” a ferocious-looking Killing Sword Elf asked a handsome-looking Killing Sword Elf.

The Killing Sword Elf referred to as Miye had a savage look in his eyes as he shouted, “Since we can’t run, everyone stop and start to kill while we haven’t been fully surrounded yet!”

Chapter 1054: True Killing Sword

“Kill! Kill! Kill! Kill! Kill!” The Killing Sword Elves had ferocious expressions on their faces. Despite the fact that they were about to be surrounded by the army, they did not look afraid at all and instead looked quite excited. They raised their blood-red swords and yelled.

The Elf General was quite surprised upon seeing that the Killing Sword Elves were not running or trying to break out of the encirclement.

There were only a bit more than 7,000 Killing Sword Elves, and they were facing an army of over 100,000 soldiers. The other side had Shieldbearers and Cavalrymen, and facing these Killing Sword Elves, the Elf General looked quite disdainful.

“Continue to surround the Killing Sword Elves and don’t let a single one get away; kill all of them!” the Elf General ordered, and the soldiers at the back started to flood forwards in two directions, preparing to completely encircle the Killing Sword Elves. That way, none of them would be able to run and all of them would be killed.

However, the Killing Sword Elves still did not look afraid at all, and they invigorated all of their killing sword power. Traces of bloody qi rose up from their bodies, and the blood-red swords in their hands gave off sharp lights. They had savage looks on their faces as they charged at the soldiers in front of them.

Clang, clang, clang...

The sounds of weapons colliding could be heard as both sides started fighting. These Killing Sword Elves all had immense power and had ferocious attacks.

( Box novel.c om ) A Killing Sword Elf leapt forwards and disregarded everything as he charged into a group of soldiers. Blood-red sword light flew everywhere, killing five or six soldiers, but that Killing Sword Elf's body was pierced by countless weapons, resulting in him dying too.

A Killing Sword Elf madly laughed as he disregarded the spear stabbed into his body. He ferociously stabbed his sword into a soldier's head before turning to attack another person.

Another Killing Sword Elf directly grabbed a saber heading for him and slashed out with his blood-red sword, cutting that soldier's arm off. The soldier cried out and retreated, but the Killing Sword Elf cruelly sprang forwards.

A Killing Sword Elf with a broken arm and a few gashes on his face fiercely charged into a group of soldiers and started a slaughter.

Seeing this scene, the Elf General inwardly cursed, "A group of madmen!"

He could not allow this to go on because these Killing Sword Elves were very crazy and not weak at all. If they went on, even if they killed all of the Killing Sword Elves, they would suffer heavy losses as well.

"Infantrymen retreat to the sides and Archers fire arrows. Cavalrymen, prepare to charge." the Elf General ordered. The soldiers at the front started to fan out so as to not to be hit by the Archers or Cavalrymen. However, even though they tried to disengage, the Killing Sword Elves would not let them off and attacked without any regard for their own lives.

Seeing this, the Elf General could only allow the Archers to fire at will and for the Cavalrymen to start charging.

Swish!

An arrow flew out, stabbing into a Killing Sword Elf's heart like a black blur, killing that Killing Sword Elf.

A Cavalryman rode up, swinging his saber and killing another Killing Sword Elf.

Even though the Killing Sword Elves were continuously killed, their auras did not weaken at all, and they continued to ferociously attack. They were all covered with blood, and their expressions were savage, making them look like demons.

( Box novel.c om ) Seeing more and more people dying, the Elf General could not help but personally make a move as well. A powerful aura exploded out from his body, and he rushed towards a group of Killing Sword Elves.

At that moment, the Killing Sword Elf named Miye devoured a crystal, exploding out with an aura that was not inferior to the Elf General's aura, and they started a large fight.

Both sides continuously lost people, and blood flew everywhere. The battle was incredibly intense, and the Killing Sword Elves launched suicidal attacks, each of them taking at least a few enemies down with them.

Now, only around 1,000 Killing Sword Elves were left, while the army had lost nearly 20,000 soldiers.

Bang!

Miye was slashed flying by the Elf General, and he opened up a crater as he crashed onto the ground. The Elf General stood in the sky, and seeing how many soldiers had died, he looked quite furious as he rushed down and prepared to kill Miye to end the battle as quickly as possible.

In response, Miye unrestrainedly laughed. He barely had any power left, but he still gripped his blood-red sword and stood up. He understood that he was going to die, but the madness of his bloodline caused him to go into a killing frenzy.

Bang!

Miye was once again slashed flying, a new gash on his chest, from which blood continuously flowed. He was heavily injured and looked as if he would die at any moment.

The Elf General coldly harrumphed, “You bunch of madmen who only know how to kill should be destroyed as quickly as possible. We won’t allow people like you to exist!”

Miye crashed onto the ground and did not even have the strength to climb up. His blood-red eyes savagely glared at the Elf General as if he wanted to kill him with his gaze.

The Elf General was furious and prepared to once again attack and kill Miye.

Boom!

A terrifying aura descended, causing the surrounding space to instantly freeze. Everyone on the battlefield felt their bodies stiffen, and they looked up at the sky in horror.

They saw that the sky had become blood-red colored, and there was a figure standing in the air. He wore a black cloak, and there was a blood-red flame around him. He held a black and blood-red sword, and even though they could not see his appearance, the eyes under the hood gave off a chilling blood-red light as if he was the evilest creature in existence.

His body gave off immense killing intent that was almost corporeal, causing the clouds around him to dissipate. All creatures close by trembled in terror, and they were the same.

The countless soldiers looked terrified as their bodies quaked, and even their souls seemed to be lamenting.

However, the 1,000 or so Killing Sword Elves reacted in the opposite way – they could feel their bloodlines roiling because this was the origin of their killing sword intent. This was the power that the Killing Sword Master had, and the sword that the cloaked figure held was the true killing sword that they worshipped.

The Killing Sword Elves stabbed their swords into the ground and knelt down with both knees, reverently and passionately looking up into the sky towards that god-like person.

The Elf General looked incredibly scared, and his body could not move at all. After experiencing those abnormal signs, that wave of terrifying killing intent had been engraved into their bones, and now they had seen the real thing.

This person was the source of those abnormal signs, and he was the person who all the experts from the Ancient Stem Domain were trying to find. He was the person who possessed the terrifying killing intent.

How could such a monstrous person exist? How was it possible? And just who was this person? Where had he come from? Was the Elf World going to be destroyed?

Shing!

A clear sword hum sounded out as hazy sword souls holding blood-red swords appeared, filling the entire sky.

The soldiers all felt an aura of death, and before they could do anything, the cloaked figure lightly waved his sword.

Boom!

The countless sword souls flooded downwards and spread out, attacking the countless soldiers. In front of these terrifying sword souls, the soldiers were unable to defend at all. They were all instantly killed, with none remaining.

Chapter 1055: Killing Sword Master

The ground was littered with corpses, and blood flowed everywhere, giving off a pungent smell. Amidst the corpses, the Killing Sword Elves knelt on the ground, looking incredibly reverent and passionate as they gazed at the god-like person in the sky.

That person did not harm any Killing Sword Elves; as the sword souls flowed down, they directly passed through the Killing Sword Elves and did not harm them at all.

This made them feel even more excited, as the Killing Sword Master had acknowledged their existence.

The heavily-wounded Miye looked incredibly moved and crawled up with great difficulty, subserviently and reverently looking at Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu's appearance gave these people true light, saving them out of darkness and giving them a direction to go in. The killing intent had not only corroded their bodies but also their minds as well.

Now, the Killing Sword Elves were no longer as savage and looked like loyal little pets. Even if Zhao Fu killed them, they most likely would have no complaints.

After hearing about this matter, Zhao Fu had formed a plan, and after executing it, he did not do anything and simply vanished as if he had never been here.

Only after a while did the Killing Sword Elves come back to their senses. They excitedly got up from the ground – they had seen the Killing Sword Master today, the source of the killing sword intent. This was their greatest glory.

The Killing Sword Elf who had been speaking with Miye took out all sorts of medicinal pills and fed them to Miye, helping him recover.

After this, the Killing Sword Elves left this place, and news of the Killing Sword Master spread throughout the entire Elf world because of them, shaking the entire Ancient Stem Domain.

“What? Those terrifying abnormal signs weren't natural occurrences but were caused by a person? The Killing Sword Master really exists?”

“Just who is that person? He actually caused such terrifying abnormal signs. That person is simply too dangerous; hurry and investigate him, or the consequences will be terrifying.”

“A demon-level genius has appeared in the Ancient Stem Domain! I can't believe such a person would appear in the Ancient Stem Domain; he's simply too terrifying. Will he cause a catastrophe?”

“This matter is incredibly important; that berserk killing intent swept through hundreds of worlds. This is enough proof to show that this matter will definitely threaten the Ancient Stem Domain. In fact, this matter might have to do with those higher-beings coming to the boundary worlds.”

Countless people looked incredibly serious as they flew towards the Elf world. They understood how serious this matter was, so they desperately looked for information about that person. They had to get to the bottom of this, or that person might cause a crisis.

The various experts gathered at the Elf world, causing the Elf world to become incredibly tense. Everyone was incredibly afraid of accidentally offending one of these people. Everyone gathered here was one of the most powerful people in the Ancient Stem Domain, and massive factions stood behind each of them. None of them could be offended.

“A black cloak, black and blood-red sword, and a terrifying gaze. What else?” a scholarly middle-aged man stood in the air as he asked the others.

A young man in white shook his head, saying, “That’s it. Apart from that, there’s no more information about him. However, from other minor differences, it seems that that person is not an Elf and came from another world.”

“Where did that person come from? Is he even from the Ancient Stem Domain? Did those higher-beings come here for this matter? Why do I feel like our Ancient Stem Domain is about to be caught up in something big...” a big man said worriedly.

An elder sighed, saying, “Ai, that sort of terrifying power could cause even us to tremble in fear; it’s possible that this really does have to do with whatever the higher-beings were here for. That person is not weak at all, and it’s likely that he came from the Heaven Domain.”

Hearing the words ‘Heaven Domain,’ everyone else felt incredibly shocked. That was the center of the Heaven Awaken World and was not something that their Domain could compare to.

A valiant-looking middle-aged man said seriously, “That person has most likely left the Elf world, and we won’t be able to find him. We can only hope that he really is someone from the Heaven Domain and that he won’t come back to the Ancient Stem Domain. That person is simply too dangerous and can cause the heavens in the Ancient Stem Domain to be destroyed.”

Hearing this, everyone else nodded in agreement.

Now that they could not find anything in the Elf world, they could only leave for now. However, they left some people in the Elf world – after all, that person had appeared in the Elf world, so perhaps he might appear again.

Seeing the countless experts leave, the Elves let out sighs of relief. With so many experts gathered here, they did not even dare to breathe loudly. Even the Kings did not dare to say anything. After all, it would take those people just a few minutes to destroy the Elf world.

The ones who were the most happy about this matter were naturally the Killing Sword Elves. The way of the killing sword that they worshipped had caused everyone else to feel fear, and the Killing Sword Master had appeared and acknowledged them. With him as a backer, the Elf world's various factions did not dare to wantonly slaughter them.

Before, the various Elf Kingdoms had felt that these Killing Sword Elves were too dangerous, causing much unrest, so they wanted to get rid of them. As a result, the Killing Sword Elves had faced extinction.

However, now that the terrifying Killing Sword Master had appeared and saved a group of Killing Sword Elves, this made everyone reconsider their actions. That person was simply too shocking, and even the Ancient Stem Domain's experts were wary of him, let alone them.

Now, they could only strictly manage and restrict the Killing Sword Elves. They did not dare to give the command to wipe out all Killing Sword Elves for fear of angering the terrifying Killing Sword Master.

Because of this, countless Killing Sword Elves were able to stay alive, and their passion to the Killing Sword Master became even greater. Zhao Fu had now become their spiritual leader, causing the scattered Killing Sword Elves to gather.

This was Zhao Fu's goal – the Killing Sword Elves had such immense battle power and there were so many of them; if he did not use them, it would be too much of a pity. As such, Zhao Fu wanted to use their power to help his own faction quickly develop.

Otherwise, Zhao Fu would not bother to reveal himself and take such a huge risk. So many terrifying people had gathered at the Elf world, shocking even Zhao Fu. He felt a slight trace of regret at making this plan.

Now that he had completed the initial step of his plan, it was time for the second step, which was the Full Moon Kingdom.

Originally, Zhao Fu had wanted to take control over the youngest Prince to make him a puppet King, as this would make him easy to control. However, Zhao Fu now had a new target because one of the Princes had become a Killing Sword Elf.

Chapter 1056 - Half Sword Obsession

Within a pavilion, a cold and arrogant-looking Elf with blood-red eyes looked at the protective screen and said, "Who are you? Why do you want to meet this Prince? Do you really have the power to make this Prince the King of the Full Moon Kingdom?"

"Of course. That's a small matter, but you have to pay a price," a clear and cold voice sounded out from outside the protective screen.

Hearing this, the Elf felt a bit unconvinced. After all, becoming the King of a Kingdom was no small matter, yet that person had talked about it so casually as if it was incredibly easy.

"Haha, this Prince does not believe your words at all; you're too overconfident!" the Elf Prince said as he coldly laughed. He would not trust a person who had appeared out of nowhere, or he would not even know how he had died.

However, just as he spoke, a killing intent that caused his blood to boil came from the protective screen. Feeling that terrifying killing intent, the Elf Prince did not show any fear, and he instead started to feel excited as he looked at the protective screen.

A black-cloaked figure slowly walked out; the Elf Prince looked at this person in disbelief. He had never thought that the Killing Sword Master the Killing Sword Elves worshipped would come to find him.

With the help of the Killing Sword Master, him becoming the King of the Full Moon Kingdom would be no problem at all. The Elf Prince immediately smiled and said, "Please help this Prince become King, Killing Sword Master. This Prince will definitely put his faith in you!"

The Elf Prince spoke very courteously, but he did not bow or kneel, and he spoke with a tone that was only slightly inferior to Zhao Fu as opposed to speaking like a servant.

It seemed that his royal bloodline had somewhat resisted the effects of the killing intent, and the killing intent had not corroded him very much.

Zhao Fu knew that he could not directly control these Killing Sword Elves, and their lives were still in their own hands. However, no matter what the Elf Prince did, Zhao Fu had already made his decision.

Zhao Fu lightly laughed as he said, “There’s naturally no problem, but like I said, you must pay a price.”

The Elf Prince said confidently, “No problem, as long as this Prince can become the King of the Full Moon Kingdom, this Prince will give you anything you want.”

“Really now?” Zhao Fu gave a trace of a cold smile as he looked at the Elf Prince and walked towards him.

The Elf Prince felt that something was off and retreated a few steps, saying with a panicked look, “What are you doing? This Prince is a Prince of the Full Moon Kingdom. With so many experts looking for you, aren’t you afraid of being discovered?”

Zhao Fu did not say anything; his Emperor’s Domain had already covered this room, making those outside unable to sense anything happening inside.

A powerful aura came from Zhao Fu’s body, grabbing onto the Elf Prince like a formless hand. The Elf Prince looked terrified and tried to struggle, but could not break free at all. With his strength, how could he resist Zhao Fu?

Zhao Fu took out the Emperor Killing Sword, and Zhao Fu stepped forwards and stabbed the sword through the Elf Prince’s chest. A massive killing intent flowed out from the Emperor Killing Sword into the Elf Prince’s body.

“Arghhhhh!!” the Elf Prince howled as countless traces of blood-red light came out of his body. His body started to go through changes as Zhao Fu used the killing intent to fully corrode his body and soul.

The Elf Prince's hands gradually became sharp claws, and fangs appeared in his mouth. His blood-red eyes became even redder, and he gave off a chilling blood-red light. His blood-red hair madly grew until it reached his hips.

Seeing this, Zhao Fu withdrew the sword and the wound quickly healed, forming a blood-red sword mark on the Elf Prince's chest.

The Elf Prince respectfully knelt on the ground and called out, "Owner!"

Zhao Fu gave a satisfied smile. He had planned to do this to the Elf Prince from the very beginning – after all, if he wanted to steal his Kingdom and make it Great Qin's, he did not need anyone to agree.

As such, Zhao Fu needed to fully control him; only then would he obey Zhao Fu and serve him without betraying him.

The Elf Prince was only halfway into Sword Obsession; Zhao Fu would not allow him to fully fall because he would lose all of his reason and become a monster that only knew how to kill. Even though Zhao Fu would be able to control him, he could not act as a puppet King.

Following this, Zhao Fu had the Elf Prince go back and wait for the next step of Zhao Fu's plan, which was to naturally take the throne. Many people disdained the Killing Sword Elves, so if this Elf Prince became the King, there would be a lot of opposition.

Moreover, there were a few other Princes in contention for the throne, making this Prince have even less of a chance. What Zhao Fu was going to do now was clear out all obstructions.

The first thing to do was to assassinate the elderly King.

Zhao Fu was currently waiting for a good opportunity because he could not act too overtly. He could not do it within the Royal City because it would attract too much attention, and there was a high chance of failure. After all, the Royal City was where all of the Nation Fate was gathered, and the King had a lot of Fate and a Fate Dragon. If the King was in danger, they would automatically protect him.

As such, Zhao Fu had to wait for a good opportunity, which was when the King left the Royal City. He could not stay there forever.

Half a month later, Zhao Fu finally found an opportunity. The King brought some people to take a last look of his territory with his own eyes before choosing a successor to take the throne.

After they went through the sixth region, Zhao Fu could not wait anymore and directly acted. He had first set up an Advanced Isolation Barrier nearby to delay any reinforcements and then directly attacked.

Boom!

Zhao Fu held the Death Disaster Sword and slashed out with his full power from the side. A flood of deathly qi rushed towards the resting army.

The army did not panic, as they were all Elites of the Full Moon Kingdom. They all gave off auras, trying to stop the incoming deathly qi. However, the deathly qi was unexpectedly powerful, inundating the Elites and devouring their life force.

The expressions of the experts that the King had brought fell, and they also released powerful auras, trying to dissipate the massive amount of deathly qi.

At that moment, Zhao Fu suddenly made a move on the elderly King. Because the King was quite old, his reactions were quite slow. He was directly bound by Zhao Fu's chains, making it impossible to use even his Nation Armament.

The King's eyes were quite hazy as he looked at Zhao Fu and asked, "Who sent you?"

Zhao Fu did not waste any words with him because time was running out, and he directly killed him. He took the King's Seal and quickly left.

Soon, news of the King being assassinated spread throughout the entire Full Moon Kingdom. Everyone was incredibly shocked – a King had died just like that.

Chapter 1057: New King

At the same time, dark undercurrents flowed through the Full Moon Kingdom as the Princes and the factions that supported them started to make moves, trying to seize the throne to become the new King.

However, there was an incredibly important item missing after the old King had died, which was the King's Seal.

Because the King's Seal had disappeared, the Full Moon Kingdom's Kingdom-Protecting Formation had automatically activated, and the City Hall's protective barrier had also activated itself. The King's Seal was the most important item to a Kingdom, and if it was lost, it posed a great danger.

Of course, it was not like a City Lord Seal where anyone who controlled it was the City Lord. This was the Seal of a Kingdom, and if one wanted to use it, they had to conquer the Royal City and have the royal clan's bloodline.

Now that they had lost the King's Seal, they most likely would not be able to recover it. The Kingdoms' ministers all discussed this, planning to lower the Level 2 Barony City to Level 1 before creating a new King's Seal. The person who created the new King's Seal would naturally be the new King.

However, who would be the new King? All factions were gathering their forces towards the Royal City, and all of the ministers started choosing sides. Even the commoners felt a trace of danger, resulting in much unrest.

In just a few days a new King ascended to the throne but did not create a new King's Seal.

The new King was not the Crown Prince, who had the largest faction, nor was it the Fourth Prince, who had the greatest potential. It was the Eighth Prince, who had become a Killing Sword Elf.

During those days, a few matters had shaken the Full Moon Kingdom – not only had the old King been assassinated, but many Princes had been killed as well, and the Eighth Prince had ascended to the throne with the King's Seal.

This made countless people feel that the death of the old King and other Princes definitely had something to do with the Eighth Prince. In order to seize the throne, the Eighth Prince had definitely killed his own father and brothers.

The Eighth Prince was originally quite a cruel and merciless person, and he was not popular with the common people. Now that he had done such a disgraceful and unfilial thing, everyone was not too surprised. However, if such a person became the King, the commoners would suffer.

However, what everyone did not expect was that after ascending to the throne, the Eighth Prince made many changes that included policies that benefited the common people, which stabilized popular support.

However, a few uprisings also exploded out. They were started by supporters of the other Princes, who did not acknowledge the Eighth Prince becoming the new King. They staged military coups, but the Eighth Prince had already ascended and controlled the King's Seal, so he used the army to suppress them.

After the early unrest, the Full Moon Kingdom gradually settled down. The Eighth Prince made a good King and gradually won the people over.

The other Kingdoms were quite surprised that a Killing Sword Elf had become King. They had wanted to completely clear out the Killing Sword Elves, but now, one had become a King. Following this, they heard about an even more shocking piece of news.

The Full Moon Kingdom's new King announced to the world that he was changing the Full Moon Kingdom's name to the Killing Sword Kingdom and that all Killing Sword Elves could go there. Their statuses would be recognized, and they would be protected. They would be given the same rights as others, and this was sworn on the name of the Killing Sword Master.

This news sent waves throughout the Elf world because this had the intentions of gathering all Killing Sword Elves to form a nation of Killing Sword Elves.

Because of the Killing Sword Master, no one wanted to have any connections with those Killing Sword Elves, and keeping them was simply troublesome. However, the Full Moon Kingdom was now accepting them – weren't they worried about the Killing Sword Elves making trouble? Moreover, this could be related to that Killing Sword Master. All of the experts in the Ancient Stem Domain were paying attention to this, so if they were careless, let alone a small Barony Kingdom, even the entire Elf world could be doomed.

However, given that the new King of the Full Moon Kingdom was also a Killing Sword Elf, everyone felt more understanding.

The Killing Sword Elves were naturally quite delighted about this. They were scattered across various Kingdoms and treated disdainfully. They had been a pile of loose sand, and the appearance of the Killing Sword Master had given them a spiritual leader.

Now that the Killing Sword Kingdom had appeared, they could truly be united, and with the name of the Killing Sword Master, countless Killing Sword Elves were naturally attracted.

In just a few days, the Killing Sword Kingdom received over 20 million Killing Sword Elves, which provided the Killing Sword Kingdom with a massive battle force, and it became much more powerful. The Killing Sword Kingdom was now the best place to live for Killing Sword Elves, so many of them came.

Zhao Fu properly managed the Killing Sword Elves so as to stop them from harming the Kingdom. Taking care of everything and calming down the situation took about one month of Zhao Fu's time.

However, Zhao Fu had now completed his goal in coming to the Elf world and had set up a powerful piece here. He now needed it to develop powerfully so that it could clear out obstacles for Great Qin in the future. Apart from the Killing Sword Kingdom, he had also obtained the Emperor Killing Sword World.

He had spent over a month here, and now it was time to take care of other matters. If the Emperor Killing Sword World was developed, it would be incredibly useful to Great Qin.

In order to do this, Zhao Fu had to find people to join the Emperor Killing Sword World. No matter what sort of living creature it was, as long as it could hold a sword, it could go into Sword Obsession. However, if they wanted to use the killing sword intent's power, they had to cultivate the way of the sword, and only such people could become part of the Emperor Killing Sword World.

The more talent one had in the cultivation of the way of the sword the more power one could draw from Sword Obsession. If Zhao Fu wanted to find people who could reach higher stages of Sword Obsession, he had to find people talented in the way of the sword.

The killing sword intent primarily seemed like a type of killing intent. It was similar to demonic intent, but its root was sword intent. Sword intent was a terrifying type of martial conception, and with it as the foundation, the killing sword intent was quite monstrous.

Now that the Emperor Killing Sword World had just been re-forged, it was only 100 kilometers wide, so only 100 people could join it. Great Qin's army had billions of people, and 100 spots was simply not enough. As such, Zhao Fu had strict requirements.

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu thought about this matter. Ge Nia was Great Qin's number one swordsman, and he had superb talent in the way of the sword. However, the Sword Obsession state could never be undone; once one fell into Sword Obsession, there was no turning back, and their minds would forever fall into killing and slaughter.

Zhao Fu did not want Great Qin's people to have such an outcome, so he naturally could not use Great Qin's people. He could only find people from outside Great Qin; Great Qin's duty lay with its people, not others.

Following this, Zhao Fu started to gather information from the surrounding worlds to see if there were any people talented in the way of the sword.

Chapter 1058: Killing Sword Lake

The worlds were all quite big and had many people, and cultivating the way of the sword was quite common. As such, finding 100 swordsmen with sufficient talent was naturally no problem.

In the human world, the Sword Sect's Zhang Xiaohua started training with a sword from when he was five years old and reached the Grandmaster level when he turned 20 years old. His sword style was coarse and violent, and it contained immense destructive power.

In the Dark Demon world, the Breaking Demon Sect's Lun Mingsan naturally had a sword constitution and learned all sorts of techniques by himself without a master since he was young. His comprehension of the way of the sword was incredibly deep, and he was one of the most talented swordsmen in the Western Continent of the Dark Demon world.

In the Elf world, the Misi Kingdom's Kejni was an Imperial Swordsman who had a profound grasp of Elven sword techniques, and his sword strikes had an air of nobility to them.

Zhao Fu smiled as he looked through the information on the various swordsmen. He gave out the order to capture these people, and because they were all quite powerful, he naturally had to make proper preparations.

He put 30 City Lords in a team and prepared all sorts of items to suppress the way of the sword. They would suppress them from a distance and avoid direct fights. Zhao Fu understood that these people were all very dangerous, and if they were not careful, there could be injuries and casualties.

Zhao Fu put Ge Nia in charge of this operation and gave him an Official Seal equivalent to a Marquisate City Seal in order to prevent anything from going wrong. If they could not defeat their targets, they could directly suppress them with pure strength.

Clang, clang, clang...

On an area of yellow, sandy soil, a young man with ordinary looks swung a large sword, sending out waves of sword wind. His strikes had immense force, making no one dare to come near.

Suddenly, Zhang Xiaohua stopped and looked towards the sky with a serious look. Black-cloaked figures had appeared in the sky.

“Who are you?” Zhang Xiaohua’s expression was cold as he pointed at those mysterious people in the sky; he could sense that those people came with ill-intent.

Boom!

The dozens of people in the sky exploded out with the power of City Lord Seals and invigorated the pendants hanging in front of their chests, which gave off powerful black lights.

Zhang Xiaohua immediately sensed that the situation was not good; he had never thought that all of these people would be City Lords. At most, he could deal with 20 City Lords, but this number exceeded what he could deal with; it seemed that the other side had come prepared.

Zhang Xiaohua’s first thought was to leave, but it was already too late. Just as he prepared to move, the people in the sky pointed at him, causing a black magic formation to appear around him, and an extremely mighty power locked him down.

No matter how much Zhang Xiaohua struggled, he could not break free from this power, and he was taken away by those mysterious people.

Within an exquisite and beautiful castle, a golden-haired middle-aged Elf laughed as he taught a few Elf children sword techniques. The children practiced the sword techniques in an awkward and clumsy wave, causing the middle-aged Elf to laugh.

However, in the next moment, Kejni's expression fell, and he quickly said to the Elf children, "Hurry and go back into the room!"

The children did not know what was happening, but seeing how serious Kejni looked, they obediently returned to the room.

A group of black-cloaked figures appeared around Kejni, looking at him with cold gazes.

Kejni's expression was serious, and he elegantly drew the sword from his waist. The mysterious people did not say anything and chose to directly act, causing chains to fly forwards with massive power.

Clangs sounded out, and despite trying his best, Kejni was unable to resist and was taken away at the end.

The Elf children soon ran out but could not find Uncle Kejni. A while later, more people arrived and found out what had happened.

Chi!

Lun Mingsan pierced through a person's heart and disdainfully harrumphed. There was a pile of corpses on the ground, and it seemed like there had just been a big battle.

The reason for this battle was because Lun Mingsan had taken a liking to a treasure but that person had not been willing to give it to him, so he could only take matters into his own hands and take it by force. As such, Lun Mingsan did not hold back and killed all of them, including a few elderly and children.

After taking the treasure, he wiped off the blood from his sword and prepared to leave.

However, a black-cloaked figure holding a sharp sword stood in the direction that he was going. Lun Mingsan's expression became grave because he could sense that this person's aura was very powerful and incredibly sharp. He was most likely another swordsman.

Neither side said anything and directly drew their swords to start fighting. In the end, Ge Nia carried the half-dead Lun Mingsan back to Great Qin.

After various sword geniuses suddenly disappeared, many people caught onto this and felt quite curious. Who was catching these sword geniuses, and what was their goal? They all felt quite curious, so they did some investigating but could not find any information.

This caused a wave of panic in the world of sword cultivating. After all, these were all sword geniuses, people they all looked up to. They had all been captured, so what about the rest of them?

However, because not many of them had gone missing, the panic was not very great, and the matter gradually calmed down.

Within the Emperor Killing Sword World, Zhao Fu found a flat area and sent his power into the Emperor Killing Sword, causing it to give off an intense blood-red light, and the killing intent it gave off became even stronger.

Shing!

A sword hum sounded out as Zhao Fu stabbed the sword into the ground, causing a blood-red light to shoot into the sky. The ground started to collapse as the killing intent in the surroundings madly gathered in the crater, and as the crater expanded, it started to be filled with water.

Soon, all abnormal signs vanished as a lake surrounded by grass appeared. The lake was circular and 1,000 meters wide. It was incredibly clear, and even the stones at the bottom could be seen. The surface of the lake was as still a mirror and reflected the blue sky and white clouds, creating a beautiful scene.

This was the Killing Sword Lake, and the water within the lake was condensed from killing intent. If ordinary people touched even a bit, their bodies would become bloody mist – it was incredibly dangerous.

Following this, 100 people were brought before Zhao Fu. These people were the sword geniuses Great Qin had captured. Most of them did not know who Zhao Fu was, but some people from the human world did.

“Great Qin’s Legatee, you tyrant! Why have you brought us here?” a young man furiously shouted.

Zhao Fu lightly laughed as he replied, “Don’t you cultivate the way of the sword? We will allow you to reach the pinnacle of cultivating the way of the sword!”

“Are you the Killing Sword Master?” some people guessed Zhao Fu’s identity and cried out after sensing the killing sword intent everywhere in this world.

Hearing this, the people from outside the Legacy Lands looked incredibly shocked, while those from within looked quite confused. They did not know that Zhao Fu’s name had resounded throughout the entire Ancient Stem Domain and that some people from the Heaven Domain even knew about him.

Zhao Fu replied, “If you have any last words, say them now and Great Qin will try to fulfill any requests you have. Otherwise, We will be starting now.”

Everyone’s expressions fell, and they tried to resist. Some sighed and said their last words before they were sent into the lake by Zhao Fu.

Chapter 1059: Newbie World

Zhao Fu looked at the 100 people in the lake. Their eyes were tightly shut and had fallen asleep. Their bodies and souls were all being corroded by that terrifying killing intent. Now, all Zhao Fu could do was wait.

At that moment, Zhao Fu took out millions of different swords that he had prepared earlier. The lowest grade was gold grade, and with Zhao Fu’s resources that spanned a few worlds, this was no problem at all.

Zhao Fu stabbed all of the swords around the lake, and together with the grass, lake, and blue sky, they formed a grand scene.

These swords were all for those who went into Sword Obsession. Those in Sword Obsession definitely needed a sword, and the swords left here would also be invaded by the killing intent, turning them into swords of killing. This would make it easier for them to fuse with those who went into Sword Obsession.

Nine days later, the people within the lake slowly opened their eyes. Their appearances had greatly changed; their hair and eyes became blood-red, and their pupils became sword-shaped as two fangs also grew out of their mouths.

Their hands had also become claws, and a blood-red sword mark appeared on the back of their hands. They no longer breathed and their hearts no longer beat; their eyes were cold and only gave off pure killing intent.

Their bodies rose out of the water, and they grabbed at the air, causing 100 swords around the lake to tremble and give off sword hums before flying into their hands.

The sword marks on the back of their hands gave off blood-red lights as countless thin, blood-red tentacles came out of their hands and wrapped around the swords. The blood-red tentacles gradually fused into the swords, causing the swords to become blood-red and seem to have a life of their own.

Swish, swish, swish...

The people leapt out of the lake, giving off massive blood-red auras. The water made of killing intent on their bodies automatically vanished.

Zhao Fu looked at the 100 people in front of him with satisfaction. Their auras were all extremely powerful, and even without City Lord Seals, their auras could compare to the City Lord of a Basic City.

Now, they stood in front of Zhao Fu without any thoughts in their mind except killing. No matter what they were like before, now they only obeyed Zhao Fu. No matter what he told them to do, they would absolutely comply.

Zhao Fu brought the 100 people to an Orc City. This was a Basic City in the wilderness, and Great Qin had not yet cleared this place. Zhao Fu just wanted to see the true power of Sword Obsession.

“Kill!” Zhao Fu waved his hand and gave the order to kill, following which the 100 people turned into rays of bloody light and shot into the City and started to kill.

In front of them, the Orcs were unable to resist at all. Whenever they attacked, they would instantly kill large groups. The countless Orcs could only run in terror, and the City Lord was easily killed in just a few moments.

Ten or so minutes later, everything called down. The Orc City was filled with blood and corpses lay strewn across the ground. There were hundreds of thousands of corpses, and only a small portion of the Orcs had escaped.

The people in Sword Obsession stood beside the corpses, their swords giving off faint blood-red light. The blood from the corpses were drawn out by a formless power and entered the blood-red swords, causing their strength to gradually become stronger.

Perhaps these people were too weak; Zhao Fu had only seen a one-sided massacre and nothing too special. The people in Sword Obsession had not been injured at all, so Zhao Fu naturally had not been able to see their true power.

Zhao Fu felt a bit disappointed and relocated the Basic City. Because the people in Sword Obsession grew through killing, as did the Emperor Killing Sword World, Zhao Fu could not keep these people by his side. As such, he sent them to the frontlines; there would never be a shortage of killing there.

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu did not take care of internal matters and instead sent people to collect information about the Ancient Stem Domain. Zhao Fu had never thought that the abnormal signs would have caused so many experts from all over the Ancient Stem Domain to come.

Zhao Fu was naturally quite wary towards them, and because he could not defeat them, he had to be extremely careful. He knew that those people were looking for him.

Because he had many things to do, he had put the matter aside for now, but now that he had time to deal with it, he had to treat it carefully. Zhao Fu currently had a layer of mysteriousness draped over him, but if that mysteriousness was gone, they would not hold back at all.

Before, Zhao Fu had not cast his sights so far, only on the surrounding dozens of worlds. Great Qin was still a newbie that still had not yet lost its protection, so Zhao Fu naturally could not cast his sights so far away.

However, now that Great Qin could cross worlds, very few people would treat it like a newbie.

Within the Ancient Stem Domain, very few people could develop so quickly, and this was especially so before their protection had even expired. Great Qin could still rely on the Heavenly Domain Boundary for protection and defend against dangers from outside; it was an incredibly shameless newbie.

Now that he had caused such a big matter, Zhao Fu had to have a greater understanding of the Ancient Stem Domain and prepare himself, or else he would not even know how he died.

Following this, Zhao Fu called over Yao Shi, who was the little fatty Zhao Fu had brought in from outside. He had come from the Medicine King World, which was within the inner regions of the Ancient Stem Domain. As such, he most likely had more of an understanding of the Ancient Stem Domain.

“Heavens, big bro, you caused such a commotion outside? All of the experts from the Ancient Stem Domain came? Big bro, you’re too terrifying.” Yao Shi had become even fatter, and he looked at Zhao Fu with shock. In front of others, he would call Zhao Fu Your Majesty, but in private, he still shamelessly continued to call him big bro.

At first, he did not know why Zhao Fu had called him over. However, after Zhao Fu had simply explained the matters outside, Yao Shi felt so shocked that he did not know what to say. He felt that following a big bro like this was simply too awesome; it had exceeded anything he had expected.

Back at the Elf world, he had felt that Zhao Fu’s identity was not simple at all, so he had shamelessly clung onto Zhao Fu. Only later did he find out that Zhao Fu was actually just someone from a newbie world.

However, Great Qin’s strength greatly shocked him; very few people in newbie worlds could have such strength. Great Qin’s rapid development had caused Yao Shi to feel incredibly happy, and he felt that he had not chosen the wrong person.

However, Yao Shi had still underestimated this big bro of his. Before he had even lost the newbie protection, he had done something that had sent the entire Ancient Stem Domain into an uproar; no one could compare to this kind of potential.

For him to have a big bro like this, Yao Shi was happy to death. He was sure that he could walk with this big bro to the pinnacle of the world.

After recovering from his shock, Yao Shi's expression became serious as he said, "Big bro, I advise you to be infinitely careful; the strength of those within the inner regions is not something a newbie world can compare to. The main issue is your foundation. Even if it's a Kingdom of the same level, there will still be a big gap."

Chapter 1060: Ten Thousand Dragon Financial Group

"Let's talk about soldiers first! In the outer regions, almost all soldiers are at least Stage 1, some are Stage 2, there are few Stage 3 soldiers, and those with Stage 4 strength are essentially all Generals.

"Even though the Ancient Stem Domain is just a little Domain in the boundary of the Heaven Awaken World, the forces at the center are definitely much more powerful than a newbie world like yours; this is indisputable.

"The Kingdoms in the inner regions primarily have Stage 2 soldiers, some Stage 3 soldiers and Stage 4 soldiers, and those with Stage 5 strength are military officers. Stage 2 soldiers are way more powerful than Stage 1 soldiers, so if they started to fight, the result would be obvious.

"Also, the longer a faction has existed for, the more powerful its foundation will be and the more tricks they will have up its sleeves. It can be said that the factions in the inner regions are much more powerful than those in the outer regions. Their strength is on a completely different level."

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised after hearing the true strength of Kingdoms in the inner regions. Even if they were of the same level, if they started to fight, it would be quite difficult for Great Qin to emerge victorious. Moreover, the Ancient Stem Domain was just a small Domain near the boundary of the Heaven Awaken World; just how powerful was the Heaven Domain at the center of the Heaven Awaken World?

Thinking about that, Zhao Fu could not help but gulp, putting aside his arrogance from before. Great Qin was still much too weak.

After talking to Yao Shi some more, Zhao Fu gained a deeper understanding of the Ancient Stem Domain. He decided to use the Emperor Killing Sword less in the future as it could cause great problems and drag in Great Qin. Zhao Fu did not want to draw people from the inner regions to attack Great Qin.

At the same time, Zhao Fu heard about some of the more powerful factions in the Ancient Stem Domain and learned more about the Bear Mountain Kingdom. The person who had fought with Zhao Fu before was the Third Prince of the Bear Mountain Kingdom, and there was enmity between them.

Now, Great Qin did not lack Stage 1 corpses, as they had around two billion stored up. However, they lacked Stage 2, Stage 3, and Stage 4 corpses desperately. If he went to the inner regions of the Ancient Stem Domain, perhaps he would be able to obtain some high-Stage corpses.

These corpses could be refined into Blood God Pills, which contained a large amount of cultivation power. After consumption, they could greatly increase one's Cultivation, but each Blood God Pill of each level could only be consumed once. Different Blood God Pills of different levels were refined from corpses of different Cultivations.

They could cause a soldier with no cultivation to go from Stage 0 to Stage 0-4, someone from Stage 0-5 to Stage 0-8, or someone from Stage 0-8 to Stage 1.

The effects of each Blood God Pill was like this, greatly increasing one's cultivation in a short period of time. The reason why Great Qin was so powerful was largely because of these Blood God Pills; they could be said to be Great Qin's cheat item.

With the Blood God Pills, Zhao Fu could quickly reduce the gap between Great Qin and those in the inner regions so that they would no longer have to fear the Kingdoms in the inner regions. As such, Great Qin needed a large number of Blood God Pills.

At the same time, because of the Grade Orbs, Great Qin soldiers' Grades were much higher than those of ordinary soldiers; this made their Cultivation speed and comprehension faster and greater than ordinary people. This also decreased the gap between Great Qin and the factions in the inner regions, and it also made up for Great Qin's lack of foundation.

After thinking for a while, Zhao Fu decided to go to the inner regions to obtain a large number of high-Stage and high-Grade corpses. Great Qin had to reduce the distance between it and others.

However, this required crossing over 100 worlds, and even though Zhao Fu could use teleportation channels, it would require a lot of time. It would also be quite dangerous, so Zhao Fu started to make preparations.

A bit more than a month later, light snow started to fall and cold winds that seemed to be able to cut one's skin started to blow. All of the leaves had fallen off the trees, and there was no longer any birds singing. Thin layers of ice formed over creeks, and it became quite cold everywhere.

It was now winter, the fifth winter Zhao Fu had experienced in the Heaven Awaken World. Zhao Fu brought the simply-dressed Ge Nia to a hotel and booked two good-quality rooms.

Over the past months, Zhao Fu and Ge Nia had been travelling the whole time. Because there were not teleportation channels from each Kingdom to other Kingdoms, Zhao Fu had to build his own network of teleportation channels to reach the inner regions of the Ancient Stem Domain.

However, next time he came, things would be much easier. Zhao Fu had built the teleportation channels in hidden places in order to make sure they remained safe.

After doing some cleaning, Zhao Fu and Ge Nia went to the bottom level and prepared to have something to eat.

Now, they were already within the inner regions of the Ancient Stem Domain. Almost all of the soldiers were Stage 2, and even some residents had Stage 1 cultivation. They were much more powerful than those in the outer regions.

Zhao Fu primarily came here to find a financial group to work with. As long as one had enough money, a financial group would do essentially everything. With the abilities of financial groups, it would be much easier for them to find and collect things than Zhao Fu collecting them himself. Moreover, it would not be so easy for him to expose his identity.

There were a few very powerful financial groups in the Ancient Stem Domain, and they had existed for a long time and had deep roots. They were more powerful than even some Dukedom Kingdoms, and if Zhao Fu worked together with them, the incident that had happened at the Kershi Kingdom most likely would not happen again. They would be able to stably provide Zhao Fu with corpses, but this all required money.

This City was a Barony City and belonged to a faction called the Ten Thousand Dragon Financial Group. Most of the factions part of the Ten Thousand Dragon Financial Group were in the western side of the inner regions, and it was the closest financial group to Great Qin. If they could not work together with them, they would have to travel another month.

“Ge Nia, sit down and eat with me!” Zhao Fu ordered a table of delicious dishes and planned to have a good meal to make up for the tough conditions they had travelled in over the past month.

By now, Zhao Fu’s strength had greatly surpassed Ge Nia’s, and he did not need his protection anymore; he had only brought Ge Nia to take care of matters that were inconvenient for him to take care of. After all, as a single person, he was quite limited.

Hearing this, Ge Nia nodded and sat down, and both people started to eat. At that moment, an elegant young man in white with a beautiful silver sword at his side walked in with two bodyguards.

There was one male bodyguard and one female bodyguard. The man looked cold and handsome, and he gave off a sharp sword aura, seeming like an expert in the way of the sword. The woman’s aura was extremely powerful, and she wore black clothes. She had a graceful figure and a beautiful appearance.

“Waiter, prepare a table of the best dishes and wine!” the young man in white smiled and sat down at the table next to Zhao Fu’s as he called out.

Following this, a waiter came over to greet them before going to the chefs. The young man in white and his two bodyguards looked around as they waited, and at that moment, the cold-looking man sensed something and looked at Ge Nia, causing his pupils to constrict.

The young man in white felt quite curious and looked over as well. He saw two cloaked figures, but what drew his attention was not Ge Nia but Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu sensed this gaze and looked over at the young man in white. As their gazes met, the gentle smile on the young man in white’s face stiffened.

Even though Zhao Fu’s gaze held no ill-intent, his terrifying eyes could make anyone feel afraid as if one had been looked at by an extremely evil creature.
