

The Lord 1331

Chapter 1331: Desolate Crow World

At the start, the Silent Tribe split into three armies and attacked in three directions. They swept across everything in their way because the surrounding factions were not prepared at all.

If it was during a time when there was no Overlord, everyone would still be wary of each other. However, after there was an Overlord, no one would dare to casually attack other Tribes because the Overlord had the power to mobilize all Tribes to attack. No one would have the guts to do such a thing.

If the Silent Tribe did not have Great Qin's support, they definitely would not dare to do such a thing. Only with Great Qin's support did they dare to fight against the Overlord.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” Massive Desolate Crow Beasts gave off enormous roars and ferociously tore apart defensive structures. Their auras seemed to be able to shake the heavens and earth, and they were completely unstoppable.

The other factions quickly gathered soldiers to defend, but they had never expected to see a group of massive beasts. Looking at the 100 meter long beasts, they felt immense fear, and the Desolate Crow Beasts ferociously charged at them.

A massive black ape leapt into a group of people and smashed dozens of people into meat paste. It swung its enormous arm, bringing with it an intense wind as it sent soldiers flying away like grains of sand.

An enormous red tiger leapt into a crowd of people and madly bit about, turning soldiers into mangled pieces of flesh. As it spun, its tail sent many soldiers flying; its power was enough to easily destroy the chests of the soldiers.

A mountain-like elephant charged through a group of soldiers. It was completely unstoppable and countless people who were sent flying instantly died, and even more people were squashed by its massive feet.

The enemies had no ways of dealing with the massive beasts, and the countless beasts caused a lot of terror and casualties as they charged into the crowds of soldiers. The soldiers quickly fell into panic and chaos.

Many people charged up to fend off the massive beasts, and some used bows to shoot at them. However, they were too weak and could barely harm the massive beasts. When the beasts were injured, they were only light injuries.

The pain caused the massive beasts to become even more ferocious, spurring them to attack even more savagely, and the enemy's death toll rose even faster.

At the same time, the Silent Tribe's people also attacked. They took advantage of the chaotic scene and shot out arrows, killing soldiers one after another. They also raised the weapons that Great Qin supplied and roared as they charged into the chaotic crowds and killed the enemy soldiers.

The battle exploded out too quickly, and the factions around the Silent Tribe did not have any time to react at all. They had never thought that the Silent Tribe would suddenly explode out with such terrifying battle power, and they were all conquered by the Silent Tribe.

After destroying the surrounding large factions, Moke disregarded the smaller factions and attacked the large factions further away. The surrounding smaller factions all submitted in terror and did not even need Moke to do anything.

Now that the Silent Tribe had suddenly attacked and exploded out with such terrifying battle power, the entire Desolate Crow World was shocked.

What was going on? How did the Silent Tribe suddenly have such strength? How had they obtained those terrifying massive beasts? Also, why did they have the guts to face the entire Desolate Crow World?

Everyone felt incredibly confused and could not understand what was going on. However, they could see that the Silent Tribe was sweeping out like a massive torrent, and the Desolate Crow World was going to be thrown into chaos.

At that moment, the Silent Tribe's arrogant challenge to the Overlord spread. They stated that Si Ji was not part of the Desolate Crow Race and that he was a rebel of Great Qin. This showed that the Silent Tribe was receiving the support of Great Qin and wanted to become the new Overlord; anyone who did not acknowledge them would be killed.

After hearing this, the hearts of everyone in the Desolate Crow World sank. They now understood that a terrifying war had exploded out in the Desolate Crow World.

Now that Great Qin had gotten involved and the Silent Tribe had its support, the Silent Tribe's power had become terrifying and it would be incredibly difficult to destroy. This was especially so given that Great Qin might send soldiers to support the Silent Tribe.

With Great Qin's terrifying power as support, no wonder the Silent Tribe dared to act so arrogantly and directly challenged the Overlord and all the other Tribes.

However, now that the Silent Tribe had Great Qin's support, many Tribes would not want to get involved out of fear of suffering great losses.

Now, it was unknown how many people stood on Si Ji's side. Even though the Overlord had the authority to mobilize all Tribes, most Tribes would not 100% follow orders, and they would occasionally resist or ignore orders.

If the Silent Tribe did not have Great Qin's support, they would naturally stand with Si Ji. After all, if they gathered together, they could easily crush the Silent Tribe. However, now that the Silent Tribe had Great Qin's support, they would have to pay a great price to destroy them and they themselves might be destroyed.

Facing such a great price, how could everyone completely obey Si Ji? Si Ji's position of Overlord suddenly became an empty title.

Everyone also understood that the Silent Tribe's massive war beasts were also most likely provided by Great Qin.

Hearing that Great Qin was supporting the Silent Tribe, Si Ji's eyes became filled with anger and hatred, and he despised Zhao Fu even more.

Following this, Si Ji held an Overlord Meeting and invited the Chiefs of various Tribes to discuss how to deal the Silent Tribe. However, only 78 Chiefs came; these were the Chiefs of the factions on the best terms with Si Ji, and they were the more reliable allies. Apart from them, no one else came.

This made Si Ji so angry that he slammed his palm onto the table and he angrily left the Desolate Crow World. With his current strength, it would be difficult to resist the Silent Tribe, which was being backed by Great Qin. He had to ask the Devil Horn Empire to help him.

After hearing about this, Yao Ming realized Great Qin's plan, and he naturally would not allow Great Qin to do as it wished. He had to continue to support Si Ji and help him resist the Silent Tribe.

Of course, Yao Ming did not want to waste his resources, so he signed a Contract with Si Ji. If Si Ji kept his position of Overlord, he would cede half of the Desolate Crow World's territory to the Devil Horn Empire.

Despite the Devil Horn Empire being so greedy, Si Ji still didn't hesitate to agree. Right now, he did not have any other option.

Yao Ming was quite satisfied and mobilized a large number of devil beasts, and he also sent over equipment and other resources to Si Ji. Si Ji returned with these things to the Desolate Crow World. The first thing he had to do was gather his Tribe's forces as well as the factions he was on good terms with before attacking the surrounding Tribes.

Indeed, Si Ji chose not to attack the Silent Tribe but the surrounding Tribes because he realized the weakness of his forces not being unified.

He was unable to truly mobilize the strength of one world, and most Tribes could simply ignore him and not give him any face, making him just an Overlord in name.

If he brought those devil beasts and soldiers to directly attack the Silent Tribe, at most they would fight to a draw. That would not be very beneficial to him.

Chapter 1332: Surprise

In the end, Si Ji decided to develop his faction just like the Silent Tribe and obtain as many benefits as possible. He would not stupidly choose to block them; after all, the factions that the Silent Tribe conquered had nothing to do with him, and he did not care about their life or death.

The factions around the Si Tribe also had never thought that Si Ji would lay his hands on them rather than suppress the arrogant Silent Tribe. With the help from the Devil Horn Empire's devil beasts, they were unable to resist at all and were quickly conquered by Si Ji.

Countless devil beasts roared and massive amounts of devil qi filled the heavens and earth. The massive aura was unstoppable, causing countless people to fall into terror.

Similarly, the ones that Si Ji conquered were all the larger Tribes, and the smaller Tribes automatically surrendered in fear. Such small Tribes had no way of resisting at all, so they could only submit.

Facing the sudden attacks from Si Ji, all of the Desolate Crow Tribes were incredibly shocked and had never thought that he would do such a thing. This caused their hearts to all tighten.

Before, they did not want to get involved as they did not want to suffer any losses. After all, with two large Kingdoms fighting, the injuries and casualties would be unimaginable. They just wanted to stay neutral to avoid this.

However, Si Ji had made a move against them, forcing them into battle. Things were now unavoidable.

Ahead of them was Si Ji's attack, while behind them was the Silent Tribe's relentless expansion. The remaining factions hurriedly gathered together to defend against Si Ji and the Silent Tribe, but things were not looking good.

These two factions had already been the Desolate Crow World's most powerful factions, and with Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire's support, they had become even more powerful. The allied Tribes were continuously beaten back by the two of them, and countless people died.

The battles went on for seven days, and they were still not over. This was now the most crucial time; all of the Tribes gathered all of their forces and split into two groups, defending two directions, wanting to stop the advance of Si Ji and the Silent Tribe.

The Silent Tribe had swept across countless Tribes and devoured their strength. It had become an incredibly massive force and now had two billion soldiers. What was important was that its power was unified; the soldiers and Commanders all listened to the orders of a single person and there was no resistance anymore.

Looking at the ocean of soldiers giving off a boundless and terrifying aura, Moke's blood surged and he felt an incredibly grand feeling.

He did not want to become an Overlord but the first King in the history of the Desolate Crow people. He would unify the Desolate Crow World, start a new era, and have his name recorded in history forever.

Thinking about that, Moke loudly laughed. Now that he did not need to satisfy his wife's cravings, Moke's body had recovered and he became strong and vigorous again, and his ambition was restored.

Facing the final resistance of the allied Tribes, and in order to raise morale, Moke proclaimed himself King ahead of time, becoming the first Desolate Crow King, and he changed the Silent Tribe's name to the Desolate Crow Kingdom.

The Silent Tribe had done something that had never been done before, establishing a Kingdom and proclaiming a King. Everyone was incredibly excited and their blood boiled as they roared, welcoming the establishment of the Desolate Crow Kingdom.

Moke used this momentum and high morale to attack the allied Tribes.

Si Ji did not fall behind either, and he also wanted to fulfill the Si family's dream of establishing its own Kingdom. Hearing that the Silent Tribe had openly established a Kingdom, he did the same, and the Great Xia Dynasty once again appeared.

Countless people in the Si Tribe excitedly celebrated. They had ended the era of Tribes and had entered the era of Dynasties.

Si Ji also took this opportunity to continue to attack.

The allied Tribes were now filled with worry and despair. Facing the high morale of the two sides, they felt even less confident to defend against them.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” The Desolate Crow Kingdom’s war beasts loudly roared and gave off incredibly ferocious auras as they savagely charged towards the allied Tribes’ soldiers. Their aura seemed to be able to suffocate people.

Now, the Desolate Crow Kingdom had 30,000 war beasts, and they charged together with unstoppable momentum. They easily destroyed the defenses that the allied Tribes had hurriedly set up, and countless Desolate Crow Kingdom soldiers loudly roared as they charged.

Facing such a terrifying attack, the allied Tribes were struck with fear and were unable to defend. The two sides only fought for a short while before the allied Tribes’ soldiers turned and ran.

The Desolate Crow Kingdom’s soldiers ferociously gave chase and cruelly killed the soldiers before taking their spoils of war.

The Desolate Crow Kingdom soldiers savagely laughed as they ran into a Tribe. Looking at the women, they did not even care if they were beautiful or ugly, and they directly pressed them onto the ground and took off their clothes before ravaging them.

Women with ordinary looks would not be fought over, so those who took them could take their time. However, prettier women often had multiple soldiers surrounding them.

They continuously struggled and cried but could not resist at all, and they could only be ravaged in despair.

Not all of the soldiers were interested in women. After charging into a Tribe, some soldiers killed anyone they saw. Some killed children or elderly people, enjoying the feeling of slaughtering.

Some charged into tents to take valuables; those who were hiding in there naturally did not have a good end.

Most people were killed in one chop, but some people who could not find any valuables vented their anger on the people inside the tents, chopping off large pieces of flesh before using flames to burn the wounds, causing those people to die from pain.

Zhao Fu hugged Xueru as he flew through the sky. He glanced over the horrific scenes and his expression did not change much. He had become used to this and showed no signs of stopping them.

Looking at the bloody and savage killing, Xueru did not react much either because this kind of thing happened a lot in Tribes.

The two of them landed on the ground. Zhao Fu mainly came to look over the situation; he had always received reports and had not personally seen the situation himself, so he wanted to personally take a look and make plans for the future.

Seeing that there was no one around, Xueru pressed herself against a tree and raised her plump bottom as she said with a reddened face and lustful eyes, “Husband, you’ve had a look over the situation already; hurry and do me.”

Zhao Fu felt quite helpless; this beautiful woman was truly licentious to the extreme and wanted it wherever and whenever. No wonder Moke had given her to him. If he was an ordinary man, he would definitely die at her hands.

However, she could have become the first Queen of the Desolate Crow Kingdom. Even though she had been given to him, her status was still quite special. Everyone knew that she was Moke’s only woman and the Young Chief’s mother.

Thinking about that, Zhao Fu gave a trace of an evil smile and he started to go about it with her. Xueru reacted intensely, and her lewd cries could be heard even from far away.

Chapter 1333: Empire Battle

The golden dragon watched on as Zhao Fu continuously ravaged Xueru and suddenly said, “Zhao Fu, how about making her your Emperss?”

“Eh?” Zhao Fu felt quite startled and could not understand why the golden dragon said this, so he asked, “Why’s that?”

The golden dragon replied, “Her constitution is quite special and might be able to bear your children. With your Divine Bloodline, it is almost impossible for other women to have your child.”

Zhao Fu could not help but stop and think about this.

However, Xueru was quite displeased and looked at Zhao Fu flirtatiously as she pleaded, “Husband, hurry up and do me!”

A while later, Xueru’s face was red as she affectionately hugged Zhao Fu’s arm and they walked towards the main camp.

Zhao Fu decided not to make Xueru his Empress, not because she was too lewd, but because he did not have any plans of having an Empress for now. He felt that he should treat all of his women equally.

“Mother!” Moyue gave an excited smile as he looked at his mother who had a reddened face and was giving off an enticing aura. She had most likely been just done by Zhao Fu; she was indeed a lewd woman who wanted to be done wherever and whenever. Thankfully Zhao Fu could satisfy her; otherwise, how many men would it take to satisfy her?

The previous Overlord had needed over 1,000 men until she was satisfied; did his mother need over 1,000 as well? Thinking about that, Moyue could not help but feel weirdly excited.

Xueru’s face was red as she hid her head in Zhao Fu’s embrace. After beginning her relationship with Zhao Fu, she had become even more desperate and lewder. There were all sorts of rumors about her, and most of them were true; now, she could not face Moyue as a mother.

She did not know about her son’s twisted desires and never would have guessed that he harbored such thoughts.

Zhao Fu calmly spoke a few words with Moyue before walking into a tent with Xueru. The people within the tent were discussing important matters, and seeing Zhao Fu arrive, they all rose and smiled at him.

It could be said that the Silent Tribe was in its current position because of Great Qin’s support. Without Great Qin’s support, none of this would have been possible.

Xueru let go of Zhao Fu and no longer hugged him. Now, Moke was the first Desolate Crow King and her ex-husband, so she still had to give him some face.

Otherwise, she would not want to leave Zhao Fu for even a minute. Even though they had just done it, Xueru wanted to do it again after the meeting. Thinking about that, she could not help but think of Moyue; he definitely wouldn't be able to forgive such a lewd mother.

The Desolate Crow Kingdom had now obtained half of the regions in the Desolate Crow World. However, the other half was being conquered by Si Ji's Great Xia Dynasty; they had also won against the allied Tribes.

Now, the Desolate Crow World was not as complicated with so many Tribes; it was split into two large factions, the Desolate Crow Kingdom and the Great Xia Dynasty. The other Tribes had either surrendered or had been destroyed, without a single one remaining.

This civil war not only caused countless Desolate Crow people to die but also for countless Tribes to disappear. Battles raged on everywhere, and no one was able to escape. The Desolate Crow World had suffered a terrible disaster.

Now, the two factions were each supported by an empire. This world had now been split in two.

All of this could be said to have been caused by Si Ji; if he hadn't allied with the Devil Horn Empire to try to destroy Great Qin, Great Qin would not have gotten involved, and there would not have been such a terrifying result.

This was a warning to the surrounding worlds not to get involved between this battle between empires. The Desolate Crow World was the best example of this.

The allied worlds all felt quite grave and took this matter seriously. They had never thought that these two factions would have the power to cause a world to split apart. If they tried to do the same thing to do, what would they do?

In order to resolve this matter, they immediately gathered special armies and people to prevent this. If any worlds or Kingdoms got involved with the two factions, they had to be immediately dealt with, or else the entire alliance could be threatened.

These measures caused the surrounding ten or so worlds to become quite nervous. Countless spies and scouts moved through the worlds, collecting information and preventing the two factions from infiltrating.

The war in the Desolate Crow World was not over yet. It was not just the Desolate Crow Kingdom that wanted to unify the world; the Great Xia Dynasty wanted to unify the world as well. A final battle was inevitable.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” The Desolate Crow Kingdom’s countless war beasts gave off roars and auras that could shake the heavens and earth as they thunderously charged towards the Great Xia Dynasty’s forces.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” The Great Xia Dynasty’s devil beasts also gave off massive roars and gave off an aura that could cause people to fall into despair as they charged towards the Desolate Crow Kingdom’s forces. It was as if nothing could stop them.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

The massive beasts ferociously clashed together and muffled explosions sounded out as shockwaves blasted out. The massive beasts started to kill each other, and blood continuously flew out as cries sounded out. The scene of the battle was incredibly shocking.

The battle between the soldiers of both sides was also quite intense. The soldiers ferociously attacked; it was kill or be killed. The sounds of weapons clashing could be continuously heard, and the roars of the soldiers were simply deafening. The stench of blood could make people vomit.

The battle lasted for an entire day, and both sides suffered great losses. Neither side could gain an advantage, so they could only temporarily stop fighting.

Both sides were surprised at the strength of the other side. After all, both sides had been easily sweeping through the Desolate Crow World, yet they had now been stopped. This was primarily because they were both relying on the power of powerful Kingdoms, and neither Great Qin nor the Devil Horn Empire could deal with the other.

Si Ji understood that if he wanted to defeat the Desolate Crow Kingdom, he needed more power, so he sent a request to Yao Ming for reinforcements.

Yao Ming did not refuse, and he sent over one billion soldiers to help Si Ji unify the Desolate Crow World. That way, he would be able to obtain half a world.

After hearing about this, the Desolate Crow Kingdom's people were greatly shocked. The strength of the two sides had been roughly equal, but if the Devil Horn Empire sent reinforcements, the Desolate Crow Kingdom would definitely lose. As such, they could only look to Zhao Fu. Right now, only Great Qin could help them.

"Husband!" Xueru lightly called out; she wanted to help the Desolate Crow Kingdom.

Moke looked at this woman trying to help him, and he felt immense gratitude and guilt. If his body was stronger, he would not have wanted to give her to Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu nodded and agreed to send reinforcements. In actuality, even without them asking, he would have sent reinforcements. He would not allow the Desolate Crow World to fall into Si Ji's hands.

In the end, another battle did not explode out. Both sides knew that the two Kingdoms had sent reinforcements, and fighting would not benefit anyone. The Desolate Crow World welcomed in a brief period of peace as both sides began to digest the regions that they had conquered.

Chapter 1334: Rock Spirit World

After this matter concluded, Zhao Fu brought the various women back to Great Qin. He received a report and delightedly went to the blood lake. He looked at the massive object within it and smiled. Now, he could make a move against the Spirit Light World.

However, because that would be attacking a world, Zhao Fu did not dare to be careless. He gathered his subordinates to discuss this matter, and the most important thing was to avoid the Devil Horn Empire from making any trouble.

If the Devil Horn Empire ferociously attacked, Great Qin would not be able to spare soldiers to attack another world. As such, they had to find a way to deal with the Devil Horn Empire.

At the same time, there were also the allied worlds. They could not be underestimated, and it was possible that they would make trouble.

Zhao Fu soon found that the Devil Horn Empire was also planning on attacking other worlds. On the right of the Devil Horn Empire was the Lantong World. It had often been bullied by the Devil Horn Empire and had been greatly weakened, allowing the Devil Horn Empire to easily conquer it.

On the other side of the Devil Horn Empire was a world called the Rock Spirit World. Rock Spirits were a type of race born from rocks, and their bodies were almost completely made from rocks. It was difficult to differentiate them, and they had powerful defense and were extremely difficult to kill.

Rock Spirits were part of the Spirit Race, which was the race with the smallest numbers. However, they were not weak at all and were very difficult to deal with.

Even though it was right next to the Devil Horn Empire, under normal circumstances the Devil Horn Empire did not want to make a move against it, as it would not benefit them much. However, they now had a great opportunity, tempted them to destroy the Rock Spirit World.

The Rock Spirit World's Rock Spirit King had died, and the various Rock Spirit Lords were fighting for the position of King. Attacking them while they were in chaos was undoubtedly a great opportunity.

There was a Kingdom that supported the Devil Horn Empire called the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom. It was also a Spirit Race and had a method to suppress the Rock Spirits, because in the five elements, wood suppressed earth.

However, they would not be helping the Devil Horn Empire for free; they required the Devil Horn Empire to deliver all of the Rock Spirits they killed to the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom. They did not give a reason, but anyone would understand that the corpses of Rock Spirits were quite important to them.

The Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom only treated the Devil Horn Empire like a tool and only provided some techniques to have the Devil Horn Empire provide a large number of corpses for them. Yao Ming did not refuse and instead happily agreed.

After all, he greatly wanted to obtain the Rock Spirit World. The Rock Spirit World was right next to the Devil Horn Empire and because it would be an obstacle in the Devil Horn Empire's path to becoming a Royal Kingdom, he had to get rid of it.

However, the Devil Horn Empire was worried that Great Qin and the allied worlds would interfere, and they were also thinking of countermeasures.

After hearing about this, Zhao Fu let out a sigh of relief. Even though the Devil Horn Empire wanted to conquer a world, Great Qin could take this opportunity to also conquer a world. The allied worlds' attention was focused on the Devil Horn Empire, so he would have free reign.

The Spirit Light World was a new world and still had its protective barrier, so attacking it would be more secretive and would not cause as much of a commotion as on the outside.

Zhao Fu gave the order to assemble the army. Soldiers clad in black armor and holding black weapons with icy gazes marched in orderly steps as they gathered, and an austere aura spread out.

This time, Zhao Fu led ten billion soldiers and half of the beasts to attack, leaving the rest to defend against an attack from the Devil Horn Empire or allied worlds.

The army flooded forwards like a black ocean, giving off shocking sounds and causing all creatures to fall into terror.

The Dark Demon World had long since been conquered by Great Qin, so Great Qin could go directly to the border with the Spirit Light World. Great Qin did not have methods to allow large numbers of people to cross at once; if they relied on the magic formations they used in the past, it would take over ten years to transport ten billion people.

However, Zhao Fu now had Yu Ling. He had the ability to destroy the Heaven Domain Boundary, so they did not have to go through the trouble of using magic formations.

Yu Ling's small figure walked up, and he pressed his hand against the Heaven Domain Boundary. After much nurturing from Great Qin, Yu Ling had fully learned to control his power.

Waves of light spread out from Yu Ling's palm, and the Heaven Domain Boundary started to tremble. As more and more waves of light spread out, the trembling of the Heaven Domain Boundary became greater and greater.

Boom!

A shocking explosion sounded out as massive cracks appeared on the Heaven Domain Boundary before it shattered into rainbow-coloured shards. The shards fell from the sky and smashed out craters on the ground with great commotion.

After everything settled, an incredibly tall defensive wall was revealed, and countless people were hurrying over.

After the Dark Demon World had been destroyed by Great Qin, the Spirit Light World had constructed this tall defensive wall in panic, wanting to stop Great Qin. Under the threat of Great Qin, the Spirit Light World had been very unified, which was quite rare, and they used all sorts of precious materials to build this defensive wall.

They had seen how Great Qin had savagely destroyed the Dark Demon World while they could only hide and watch, not daring to reveal themselves.

It could be said that this defensive wall was seven or eight times more powerful than ordinary defensive walls. Moreover, all of the factions had moved out and gathered together.

This battle would most likely decide the fate of the Spirit Light World. If they could fend off Great Qin's attack, the Spirit Light World would continue to exist; if they could not, they would all perish and the Spirit Light World would disappear.

There were about 14 billion Spirit Light people on the defensive walls, and with such a large number, it was impossible that all of them were soldiers. Most of the ordinary residents had also joined, and the auras they all gave off seemed to be able to cause the world to tremble.

However, Zhao Fu stood in the air and gave a confident smile as he said loudly, "Don't think that you can stop Great Qin; your fate has already been sealed. Now, you can either submit or die."

There were seven people standing in front of him: the World Protector and six World Legatees. The World Protector was naturally Kamen. He had many grievances with Zhao Fu, and he looked at Zhao Fu with a hateful glare.

Of the six World Legatees, four were men and two were women. They looked at Zhao Fu seriously and gave off powerful auras; they were the strongest people in the Spirit Light World.

Facing Zhao Fu's words, Kamen coldly harrumphed and did not reply or attack. He was somewhat afraid of Great Qin, so he had to hold himself back.

Seeing that they ignored his words, Zhao Fu's gaze became cold and he prepared to give the order to attack.

"Your Majesty! There's an urgent report from the back; ten billion soldiers from the allied worlds are attacking Great Qin," a Commander flew to Zhao Fu's side, cupped his hands, and lowered his head as he spoke respectfully.

Now, Zhao Fu understood that the Spirit Light World had joined with the allied worlds. No wonder they did not attack; they wanted to use the allied worlds' power to save the Spirit Light World.

Chapter 1335: Attack!

Zhao Fu was expressionless. The allied worlds' ten billion soldiers were forces from the outside world, and whether it was in terms of cultivation or equipment, they were naturally stronger than the Spirit Light World and would not be so easy to deal with.

Soon, Zhao Fu made a decision, and after receiving orders, the various Commanders started to retreat to Great Qin.

"We won!" Countless joyous cries sounded out as the Spirit Light people saw Great Qin retreat. They had won this battle without fighting.

Facing the ferocious aura of Great Qin, the Spirit Light people had been quite afraid. No one thought that they would be able to defeat Great Qin without sacrificing a single soldier, and they could not help but feel extremely happy and excited.

However, their smiles soon froze. Only a portion of Great Qin's soldiers had withdrawn, and many soldiers had not moved.

Zhao Fu had given the order for three billion soldiers to defend Great Qin's border, leaving seven billion soldiers to attack the Spirit Light World instead of ordering a full retreat.

“Attack!” Zhao Fu ordered, and Great Qin's army started to officially attack. Arrows flew through the air, causing the air to explode, and a dangerous aura caused people's hairs to stand on end.

Even though they were low on Talisman Bolts and Arrows, Great Qin's ballistae and Stage 2 Archers still had immense destructive force, and a dark mass of arrows descended like rain towards the Spirit Light people.

The Spirit Light people had been on their guard against Great Qin the entire time and had made great preparations. As the countless arrows and bolts closed in, a massive defensive barrier expanded out and blocked them.

Kamen and the World Legatees did not come out to fight with Zhao Fu. Even though Kamen also had a Clan Armament, it did not have the power of a world, so how could it defend against Zhao Fu, who had the power of three worlds?

The Spirit Light people were quite clear about this. They did not hope to defeat Great Qin and could only hope to defend against Great Qin. As such, they had set up countless defenses.

As a result, the arrows and bolts did not have any effect on that defensive barrier.

“Roar! Roar! Roar...” Great Qin's beasts roared and gave off terrifying auras as they charged up and ferociously attacked the defensive barrier, resulting in muffled explosions.

Countless soldiers also charged up and exploded out with their power as they attacked the defensive barrier. Countless saber lights and sword lights slashed onto the defensive barrier, and with the charging from the beasts, the defensive barrier started to tremble and looked like it would soon be destroyed.

Of course, the Spirit Light people could not just watch and allow Great Qin to destroy the defensive barrier. They also unleashed attacks, and arrows shot towards the beasts and soldiers. Some of the beasts and soldiers were able to defend, but many people were still hit.

Now, Great Qin's side became the more passive side. They could not attack the Spirit Light people while they were attacked by the Spirit Light people.

Zhao Fu did not want to watch this go on, so he unleashed his Nation Armament's power. A massive blood-red sword light bringing with it a berserk sword wind flew out, seeming to be able to split apart the heavens and earth.

Boom!

The sword light ferociously slammed onto the defensive barrier. With the attacks from the beasts and soldiers, the defensive barrier violently trembled and a crack appeared.

This caused the Spirit Light people to be greatly startled; they had paid a great price to set up this defensive barrier, yet it had been cracked so easily. They did not hesitate to prepare their other methods.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Countless magic formations were activated, and pillars of light rushed into the sky and gave off intense lights. It looked like there were thousands of pillars of light standing between the heavens and earth, creating an awe-inspiring aura.

These magic formations were all supporting magic formations that sent all kinds of power into the defensive barrier, causing the trembling defensive barrier to gradually stabilize.

Many white-robed Spirit Light Priests appeared on the defensive walls. They closed their eyes and lightly spread out their hands and started to chant. The chant was somewhat like a poem and a mantra. Their bodies gave off intense white lights before disappearing.

The sky gave off boundless white light that covered the ground, and it was somewhat blinding. The light gave off an intense might, and everyone felt a great amount of pressure.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Massive pillars of white light descended and powerful auras exploded out as 100 meter tall figures appeared within the pillars of light.

These figures were all men who had no hair, and they were muscular and naked from the waist up. They had solemn expressions and there was a ring of light on their chests. They were like Spirit Light people who had been magnified by countless times, and they gave off terrifying power.

There were tens of thousands of them, and they stretched out their hands towards Great Qin's soldiers and beasts. A ring of light shined on their palms, and countless rays of light shot out.

The rays of light easily tore through the beasts' and soldiers' bodies, causing cries to sound out and blood to spurt everywhere. Many beasts and soldiers instantly died.

Great Qin used their Corps Formations to summon enormous beasts that were over 1,000 meters tall, which attacked the Spirit Light God Emissaries. The beasts and soldiers continued to madly attack the defensive barrier, while the Commanders also attacked as well.

The ones with General Armaments drew on their General Stars' power, and pillars of starlight smashed towards the defensive barrier, causing it to once again tremble.

"Arghhh..." The Spirit Light soldiers roared, exploding out with their auras, which flowed towards a magic formation in the sky, seeming to be summoning or gathering something.

The massive magic formation absorbed the auras of more than ten billion people, and the power was immense. Incredibly destructive power spread out, and white arcs of lightning appeared around the magic formation.

Zhao Fu did not hesitate to use his trump card against the Spirit Light race. He came to the ground and pressed a hand against the ground. The golden pupil in his left eye quickly spun as a formless energy spread out.

Boom!

A shocking explosion sounded out as a massive black light shot out from the ground and gave off a terrifying power as it shot into the sky, causing the sky to tremble and clouds to swirl.

The ground violently trembled as countless cracks appeared. A terrifying aura flooded out of the ground, causing the Spirit Light people's expressions to fall, and their bodies automatically trembled.

The ground rose up as a massive creature slowly began to rise up. First was its head, then its torso, before its entire body was revealed to everyone. It gave off a terrifying aura that covered the heavens and earth, causing everything to fall silent.

It was 100,000 meters tall and had dark skin. It had long black hair that looked like strands of metal, and it had a cold expression. Its eyes each had three black pupils, and it had two fangs coming out of its mouth. Its body was covered with muscles and its hands were like claws.

Chapter 1336: Ghost Spear

This was the refined Primogenitor Statue. It should have taken hundreds of years to refine, but after providing an ocean of blood, it had only take Great Qin a few years to refine the Primogenitor Statue.

Before, Zhao Fu had gone to look at the Primogenitor Statue. Because it was so big, there was nothing that could contain it, so Zhao Fu put it in the sealed space. Only when he needed it did he summon it.

Countless Spirit Light people looked at the Primogenitor Statue in terror and their hearts plummeted. Their bloodlines felt an immense fear, and their power seemed to vanish.

This was the biggest function of the Primogenitor Statue; it could weaken the Spirit Light race's power and could suppress them.

“Hurry! Gather all of your power and send it into the Spirit Light God World Formation!” Kamen's expression was extremely unsightly as he shouted to the people around him. The other people came to their senses and released their power, sending it into the magic formation in the sky. That was their last hope.

Zhao Fu coldly laughed and sat on the head of the 100,000 meter tall Primogenitor Statue. He grabbed at the air and a massive sword qi exploded out, bringing about an enormous sword wind as a blood-red sword appeared.

This blood-red sword was gigantic and there were black runes on it. There was an engraving of a large snake at where the blade and hilt met, looking like it was biting the sword. There were snake scales on the hilt as well.

The sword gave off an incredibly cold and eerie aura, like a massive snake, causing people to feel terror. This sword was Kusanagi, one of the Three Sacred Treasures of Japan.

The Primogenitor Statue grabbed the Kusanagi sword and sent enormous amounts of power into it. Kusanagi gave off a faint sword light, and the Primogenitor Statue slashed out.

Shing!

A sword hum tore through the air as the heavens and earth seemed to be split apart. A blood-red light shot through the air and smashed into the magic formation.

Boom!

A shocking explosion sounded out as the magic formation was exploded by the sword light. It gave off intense light that covered the heavens and earth, and an enormous shockwave rippled out like a cyclone. Countless trees were uprooted and countless people were blown into the sky.

This scene left everyone dumbfounded, as it was simply too terrifying. Just a single strike from the Primogenitor Statue seemed like it could destroy the world.

The Spirit Light people fell into despair because that magic formation was their last hope. Now that the magic formation had been destroyed, their final hope was gone.

Zhao Fu looked at the despairing Spirit Light people and did not feel any sympathy. His gaze was cold as he controlled the Primogenitor Statue to raise Kusanagi in its hand, and a massive amount of power entered it. The Kusanagi sword gave off an intense blood-red light that dyed the entire sky blood-red, and an even more terrifying aura of destruction spread out.

Boom!

The Primogenitor Statue slashed down, and the heavens and earth seemed to explode. A massive, vertical blood-red crescent instantly flashed out, tearing through the Spirit Light people's defensive barrier and turning countless soldiers on the defensive walls into meat paste.

The defensive barrier had finally been broken through, and Great Qin's beasts and soldiers, who had been waiting this entire time, swarmed forwards.

Countless massive flying beasts leapt to the defensive walls and started to massacre, using their sharp claws to tear apart Spirit Light people. They opened their large mouths to devour soldiers, or used their enormous bodies to smack countless soldiers flying.

The Wyverns continuously spewed out fire and icy blasts, incinerating or freezing Spirit Light people.

The enormous Corpse Soul Soldiers rushed forwards and vigorously smashed at the defensive walls. Some used their heavy weapons to madly smash at the walls and smash people to death, and soon, cracks appeared on the defensive walls.

The ones most suitable for sieging were the Spiders; they could climb up the tall defensive walls as if they were walking on the ground, and as their sharp, blade-like legs slashed out, countless Spirit Light people's bodies would be torn apart, causing limbs and organs to fly everywhere.

Great Qin's soldiers also easily climbed up the defensive walls and started to kill the Spirit Light people. A Great Qin soldier used his spear to pierce through a Spirit Light person's head, another soldier used his axe to split a Spirit Light person in two, and another soldier tore apart a Spirit Light person's body.

With the Primogenitor Statue present, the Spirit Light people's power had been greatly reduced. Normally, they would not have been able to defend so many beasts and soldiers from Great Qin, much less now.

Under Great Qin's mad attacks, countless Spirit Light people started to retreat in terror, not daring to stay here anymore. If they stayed, they would definitely be killed by Great Qin; they had lost, and the Spirit Light race was finished.

Seeing this, the Spirit Light Commanders could only sigh. They understood that there was no recovering from this, so they started to withdraw.

Kamen's expression was quite unsightly and he hatefully looked at Zhao Fu before turning and running. Ordinary people could not escape the Spirit Light World, but he had something that would allow him to leave the world.

Looking at Kamen running away, Zhao Fu's gaze was cold and he stood up on the Primogenitor Statue's head. The six gray dots in his right eye quickly spun and he lightly cried out, "Ghost Summoning!"

A massive wave of ghostly qi spread out as a 1,000 meter tall ghost appeared behind Zhao Fu, giving off immense might. The atmosphere around it became incredibly cold and eerie.

Zhao Fu grabbed out with his hand and lightly cried out, "Ghostgod Soldiers!"

The massive ghost behind him turned into countless rays of light and gathered in Zhao Fu's hand, forming a gray ghost spear with countless ghostly runes on it, and it gave off an eerie feeling.

Zhao Fu gripped the ghost spear and sent a massive amount of Six Paths of Reincarnation Power into it, causing countless ghostly images to appear around the ghost spear.

Boom!

Zhao Fu vigorously threw out the ghost spear, which flew out with terrifying power. It was accompanied by the howling of ghosts, and as it tore through the air, the heavens and earth seemed to fall dim.

Chi!

In the next instant, the ghost spear pierced through Kamen's body, and the immense power nailed him to the ground. Kamen's face became gray-white as his body was corroded by a large amount of ghostly qi. His expression was one of confusion as he was already dead. No one could expect that Kamen, the World Protector of the Spirit Light World, would die just like that.

After killing Kamen, Zhao Fu looked at the other World Legatees, who had been preparing to run. Their hearts chilled, and expressions of terror appeared on their faces as they stopped and knelt, lowering their proud heads as they expressed their willingness to submit.

Zhao Fu coldly harrumphed and did not continue attacking. He controlled the Primogenitor Statue to slash apart the defensive walls, and Great Qin broke through the Spirit Light World's defenses, pouring through like a black flood as they started to ravage the Spirit Light World.

Chapter 1337: God Race Stone

The Spirit Light people desperately ran, not daring to stay where they were. Behind them seemed to be a flood of ferocious beasts.

“Arghhh...” Cries sounded out as those who ran slower were caught up to by Great Qin's black-armored soldiers. A Great Qin soldier slashed his saber at the back of a Spirit Light person, killing him in one hit. Another stabbed his spear through a Spirit Light person's heart, and another chopped off a Spirit Light person's head with his sword.

Great Qin's soldiers behind the Spirit Light people were even more terrifying than a flood of ferocious beasts, and they were like a black tide of destruction.

Great Qin's Cavalrymen raised their spears and started to charge, shooting out like arrows. They gave off ferocious momentum as they attacked at the escaping Spirit Light people.

The Spirit Light people continuously ran in terror, wanting to escape from Great Qin's soldiers. However, how could they outrun Cavalrymen? Black spears pierced through their chests, causing blood to fly everywhere.

The Cavalrymen sped through the battlefield, stabbing with their spears, slashing with their sabers, and killing Spirit Light people one after another. Almost no one could escape them.

Swish, swish, swish...

Arrows containing immense power shot out, tearing through the air before descending like rain. Many escaping Spirit Light people were hit by the arrows, and some immediately died while others fell to the ground and cried out in pain.

Under Great Qin's slaughter, blood dyed the ground red, and in the end, some people started to kneel on the ground, wailing and pleading Great Qin to spare them.

Great Qin's soldiers naturally went around them and went to kill others. Seeing that they could live, others also knelt on the ground.

Great Qin's soldiers soon started to herd the Spirit Light people towards Cities.

News of the Spirit Light army losing had long since spread, and the residents who had been holding on to a trace of hope all felt immense despair, not knowing what to do.

Some already knelt outside the City, waiting for Great Qin to accept their surrender. They hoped to receive good treatment in Great Qin, but there were still some who tried to run or resist.

Some people took their families and carried things on their backs as they ran, but ferocious beasts sprang over and started to devour those people.

A large python quickly shot out and opened its mouth, devouring a family of four – a father, a mother, and two children – in one bite. The python's belly bulged with human shapes, and the two children quickly died, while the two parents struggled for a while before dying.

A tiger leapt out and savagely looked at the people escaping. It opened its mouth and devoured at least one person with each bite, seeming quite happy. It did not eat as cleanly as the python, and it left blood and limbs everywhere.

A crane-like devil beast pressed two people against the ground with its claws. It disregarded the two people's cries and struggling, and its sharp beak pierced into their heads. It guzzled on their brains like they were jellied tofu.

An enormous hedgehog devil beast had eaten its fill, but it wanted to store some food. Its spikes pierced through people one after another and hung them on its back. Now, there were ten or so people hanging on its back, including men and women, elderly and children. They had not yet died and still weakly moaned.

Zhao Fu did not give them any orders not to eat people; on the battlefield, they could eat as much as they wanted. Humans were a great source of nutrition for them and would also reduce the number of enemies while increasing their strength.

Apart from the people running away, there were some people resolutely resisting within the Cities, refusing to submit to Great Qin. They wanted to use the Cities to resist Great Qin, but Great Qin easily broke through their defenses and slaughtered those people.

All people were killed, men or women, old or young. They no longer accepted any surrenders from those who resisted, and they skinned the resisters and hung them on the City walls, making them die in pain. They did not show any mercy towards these people.

On that day, the Spirit Light World turned blood-red, and the stench of blood was everywhere, as was the sound of pitiful cries. The ground was covered with corpses, and the sky seemed to be dyed blood-red as well. The wind howled and seemed quite mournful.

Zhao Fu had already arrived at the Spirit Light World's Godly Spirit Palace and sat on the throne. After four days, Great Qin had complete control over the Spirit Light World, and all resisting factions had been destroyed. The Godly Spirit Palace had belonged to the Spirit Light World's most powerful faction, which was Kamen's faction.

The resistance here had been quite strong, and Great Qin had killed almost everyone here; the corpses piled outside formed mountains.

Zhao Fu listened to the reports of their gains and smiled. After conquering the Spirit Light World, they had gained even more than when they had conquered the Dark Demon World. They had obtained 46 billion people and nearly 80,000 Cities.

Great Qin now had 300 billion people, which was a shocking number. This was the population of four worlds, as well as half of the population from the Grassi World, Half-Beast World, and Elf World. It was almost seven worlds in total.

This was getting close to the population of a Royal Kingdom; most newly-established Royal Kingdoms had around 400 billion people.

Great Qin now had 420,000 Cities, and they could now create tens of thousands more war beasts. However, because the City Lord Seal stats had been reduced, the power of the war beasts created would be weaker. Despite this, the war beasts were still one of Great Qin's most terrifying cards.

Apart from the population and Cities, Great Qin also obtained great amounts of resources. Most of them were the usual things, but there were a few special items.

The first was the golden doors that the Spirit Light World had used in the past when they had attacked the Dark Demon World. They could allow soldiers to quickly pass through worlds, and with this item, Great Qin would be able to cross worlds even without Yu Ling.

Moreover, these golden doors were of the lowest level, and if they could gather rare materials, they could create golden doors that would be able to span a few worlds. In other words, they would be able to instantly mass-teleport a few worlds away. Zhao Fu was quite pleased to have obtained these golden doors.

The second item was also something that the Spirit Light people had used in the past, the technique to summon the Spirit Light God Emissaries. They were the 100 meter tall giants that the white-robed priests had summoned, and they had powerful Holy Light attacks.

Because the priests were quite special, there were all sorts of limitations. There could only be 40,000 priests, who could summon 40,000 Spirit Light God Emissaries, which made Zhao Fu feel quite disappointed.

The third item was a white jade that was three meters wide, and it was a square shape. It was quite smooth and gave off a trace of warmth. It floated in the air and gave off a white light as well as a dense God Race aura.

Chapter 1338: War God's Fury

This was a God Race Stone, something that only a God Race World could create. It was filled with powerful god energy, and Zhao Fu was the most surprised and pleased to obtain this.

This God Race Stone could fuse with the Ten Thousand Origin Stone that he had obtained from the Cosmos Historical Remnant, allowing him to build a war castle that could fly in the sky.

This type of castle was called War God's Fury and could be up to 100,000 square kilometers, which was about as big as a region. Just that size alone showed how terrifying it was. If Zhao Fu rammed the castle into a horde of ferocious beasts, countless beasts would be smashed into meat paste.

Apart from having a massive size, War God's Fury had War God Cannons that used god energy as opposed to gunpowder to fire.

The War God's Fury also had an attack called Termination Light that was its most terrifying attack. It gathered all of its power into a ray of light that could destroy the heavens and earth.

The War God's Fury was incredibly powerful and even most Royal Kingdoms did not have one. Now, Zhao Fu had collected two of the most important materials as well as the blueprint from the golden dragon. However, he still lacked many things before he could build it.

One of the things was various top-tier Talisman Stones. They had to be at least Legendary grade, as well as other core materials. All of them were extremely valuable and it would be a while before Great Qin could build a War God's Fury.

Finally, he also obtained a very precious Divinity. This Divinity was not any ordinary Divinity but the Divinity of a Goddess of Fate.

This 'fate' referred to a person's luck and destiny, and it could determine the path that one would walk in. A Goddess of Fate was not very powerful, but she could have great effects by providing all sorts of blessings.

They were naturally quite rare, and many people in the Heaven Domain tried to capture Goddesses of Fate to provide blessings for their factions. Even in the Heaven Domain, they were incredibly priceless.

This Divinity had belonged to an ancient family in the Spirit Light race, and they had constructed a temple for it. However, because the Spirit Light World had been conquered by Great Qin, this Divinity naturally fell into Great Qin's hands.

Great Qin now had many godly spirits. It had a Water Goddess, Goddess of Life, Goddess of Light, Desolate God, Fallen Angel Goddess, and now a Goddess of Fate, six godly spirits in total.

Great Qin left half of the soldiers to clear out the Spirit Light World; Zhao Fu wanted to make the Spirit Light World Great Qin's as quickly as possible.

Zhao Fu stayed in the Spirit Light World for a few days and did not worry about the battle back at Great Qin. There had been ten billion soldiers from the allied worlds attacking, but they did not actually engage.

Seeing a large number of Great Qin's soldiers withdrawing, the allied worlds had thought that their plan had been successful, so they did not attack. They just wanted to tie down Great Qin, as Great Qin was not to be underestimated and they did not want to suffer great losses.

However, in the end, the Spirit Light World had been destroyed by Great Qin, causing the expressions of the leaders of the allied worlds to fall. They thought that the Spirit Light World was incredibly useless; despite them tying down so much of Great Qin's forces, the Spirit Light World had still been conquered.

In actuality, it was not that the Spirit Light World was weak; as a God Race, they were quite strong, but they were simply inferior to Great Qin. Even worlds that had developed for dozens of years were not a match for Great Qin anymore; how could a new world like the Spirit Light World put up a fight against Great Qin?

Moreover, Great Qin had a trump card against the Spirit Light race, which was the Primogenitor Statue. Zhao Fu did not even use all of the Primogenitor Statue's power, and he had not even used the mirror, Yata no Kagami, or the jewel, Yasakani no Magatama.

The Three Sacred Treasures had perfectly fused with the Primogenitor Statue, and when they were used simultaneously, only then would the Primogenitor Statue's full strength be revealed.

After hearing that the Spirit Light World had been conquered, the allied world army withdrew.

"Let me go, you tyrant, you cold-blooded beast. Kill me if you dare! Even if I die, I'll curse you to suffer eternal agony!" a woman bound with chains looked at Zhao Fu hatefully as she cursed. Zhao Fu was holding the chain and leading the woman forward.

This woman had soft, golden hair and a pair of golden eyes. She was extremely beautiful and wore a golden dress that was now covered with a lot of blood. She had been injured and looked quite wretched.

What was surprising was that there were seven golden rings on her chest, which signified that she had the noblest and purest bloodline in the Spirit Light World.

She was called Athenkali, and she was the number one beauty of the Spirit Light World. She was Kamen's only wife, and the reason she hated Zhao Fu was because he had killed Kamen as well as countless people in the Godly Spirit Palace.

Zhao Fu felt quite annoyed with her and pulled the chain, causing her to stumble and almost fall to the ground. "Hurry up and walk! If you dare to curse again, I'll kill all of the remaining people in the Godly Spirit Palace."

Athenkali felt furious, but thinking about the people who had been captured, she could only hold herself back as she vengefully glared at Zhao Fu.

"Look at you, what methods are you thinking of to torment women?" Arasina walked out and glanced over Athenkali before looking at Zhao Fu in displeasure. She could not get used to seeing Zhao Fu do those things to women.

Zhao Fu rolled his eyes and said, "Didn't you say that those from the God Race were most suitable for becoming Fallen Angels? Great Qin just conquered the Spirit Light World and her bloodline is of the highest grade. I want to see what she becomes like."

"Is that so? Let's start then!" Arasina looked at Athenkali before walking off.

Following this, the three of them arrived at the conversion magic formation. Arasina personally oversaw the process, and after Athenkali stood on a platform, she started the conversion.

The Darkness energy in the surroundings quickly gathered. Because she knew that Athenkali had the highest grade of bloodline in the Spirit Light World, Arasina went all-out in the conversion, causing the sky to be covered by darkness. The light in the surroundings seemed to disappear, and it became dark to the point that people would feel fear.

Boom!

A massive pillar of darkness slammed into Athenkali's body, causing her to half-kneel on the ground. Boundless Darkness energy started to invade her body, making her feel immense pain and causing her to cry out.

The people in the surroundings were all expressionless and sent even more Darkness energy into Athenkali's body. After absorbing the Darkness energy, the seven golden rings on Athenkali's chest became a black-gold color, and she soon finished absorbing all of the Darkness energy.

The surroundings now quietened down, and the Darkness energy and the black pillar of light disappeared. There was only the pale-faced, wide-eyed Athenkali half-kneeling on the platform as if her body was frozen.

Chapter 1339: Fallen Light Angel

Boom!

An explosion sounded out as a wave of Darkness energy exploded out from the half-kneeling Arasina. It spread out like a black ring of light and seemed almost corporeal.

Zhao Fu waved his hand as his Saint Realm Domains appeared, easily blocking the ring of light.

Swish!

A black light flashed on Athenkali's back as her dress was torn into pieces, revealing her pristine white back. Four rows of light shot out from her back, turning into four pairs of enormous black wings.

Zhao Fu was quite shocked; they were not ordinary feathered wings but black wings of light, and there were eight of them.

Athenkali's strength had been at around Stage 9, but now she had broken through Saint Realm and reached the Earth Realm. This was quite a big jump, and Zhao Fu was still at Stage 9 and found it more and more difficult to increase his cultivation.

Even Arasina was slightly shocked. She flew down from the sky and said, "Her bloodline and constitution are both the highest in the God Race, and because she is also a Light type God Race, she developed wings of light."

Athenkali's holy and noble aura disappeared, and it was replaced by a dark and cold aura. Her eyes had become a black and gold color, and she stood up from the ground. She used her hands to cover her chest, and she looked at Zhao Fu with intense hatred and fury to the point that it felt like she could drill through him with her eyes.

She had been converted harbouring immense anger and hatred, and after being affected by the Darkness energy, those two emotions became even more amplified.

“Congratulations, Your Majesty; you've obtained yet another beautiful and powerful Concubine.” The 24 Fallen Angels flirtatiously smiled as they came around Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu smiled, walked over to Athenkali, and said with a commanding tone, “You're quite good, I will make you a Concubine and allow you to command some of the Fallen Light Angels. Your family will also become one of the top families in Great Qin.”

Athenkali was extremely angry and glared at Zhao Fu as she coldly laughed and said, “Is there something wrong with your head? You want me to serve you? Do you really think I'd agree?”

Zhao Fu grabbed her throat and lifted her up as he said expressionlessly, “Is that so? Don't forget that your friends and relatives are in my hands. Also, do you have the power to disobey me?”

Athenkali felt that her neck was going to be broken, and she started to struggle. Zhao Fu casually threw her to the side and planned to convert a few more ordinary Spirit Light people.

Athenkali crashed to the ground. Despite having Earth Realm strength, she could not resist at all. She felt incredibly wronged and helpless, and she started to cry.

The 24 God Emissaries looked slightly sympathetic but did not go to comfort her because Zhao Fu did not like Athenkali acting like this.

Arasina felt quite interested in her and stroked her beautiful, tear-stained face as she lightly smiled and said, “Just give up! Even This God can't resist that bastard, so you have even less of a chance. However, This God can give you great power so that you will no longer be weak. You won't be powerless and unable to protect your family anymore. Trust in This God!”

Facing Athenkali, who had such a good aptitude, Arasina wanted to take her in and turn her into the most powerful Fallen Angel. She trusted that Athenkali had this potential.

Athenkali's power originated from Arasina, and those from the God Race naturally had affinity with godly spirits. Moreover, there was no one who could comfort her, and there was no one for her to rely on.

Athenkali could not help but trust Arasina. She had indeed gained power, and she stopped crying as her gaze became resolute.

Arasina smiled and kissed Athenkali's lips, causing Athenkali's body to stiffen. However, she did not fight against this and instead started to respond to Arasina.

When Zhao Fu returned with a Spirit Light people, he saw Athenkali next to Arasina with a reddened face. Arasina was looking at him with a flirtatious gaze; she only showed this expression when she wanted to do it with him. She had been aroused by Athenkali just then.

Zhao Fu ignored her and had the Spirit Light people converted. These people were ordinary Spirit Light people, but they became much more powerful, even more powerful than Great Qin's soldiers.

After Great Qin's ordinary soldiers were converted, they would grow a pair of black feathered wings and reach Stage 3 strength. The Spirit Light people grew a pair of black wings of light and reached the peak of Stage 3, only a trace away from breaking through to Stage 4.

Thinking about having an army of 10,000 Fallen Light Angels at the peak of Stage 3, Zhao Fu grinned and decided to exclusively have Spirit Light people become Fallen Angels and no longer use other races.

After dealing with this matter, Zhao Fu left, as he had many other things to take care of.

Arasina, who had been waiting for a while, coldly harrumphed and returned to her own palace. The 24 God Emissaries also looked quite disappointed; because of all the fighting, it had been almost a week since Zhao Fu had done it with them.

Over at the Rock Spirit World, with the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom's help, Yao Ming had conquered the Rock Spirit World smoothly. What he had been worried about did not happen.

Because Kamen had sent for help, the allied worlds' attention had been drawn over by Great Qin, making it easier for the Devil Horn Empire to act.

Even though the allied worlds had sent out eight billion soldiers to try to tie down the Devil Horn Empire, the Devil Horn Empire had completely ignored them. It had sent out soldiers to the border to defend, but with how cowardly the allied worlds' people were, they did not attack.

Adding on the internal chaos in the Rock Spirit World and the techniques that the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom had given them, Yao Ming won quite easily without having to pay a great price.

The technique that the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom provided was of great use. The Rock Spirit people's corpses grew countless plants that easily killed Rock Spirit people. Otherwise, with the Rock Spirit people's defenses, it would have been quite difficult to kill them.

Now, Yao Ming prepared to send these Rock Spirit corpses to the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom.

After receiving so many Rock Spirit corpses, the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom and the Devil Horn Empire's relationship became much closer, and the Woodleaf Spirit Kingdom gave the Devil Horn Empire even more help.

What delighted Yao Ming was that he obtained a method to create Rock Giants, which could greatly increase the Devil Horn Empire's strength.

The Devil Horn Empire now had three worlds and nine Continents. With such great strength, Yao Ming felt incredibly high-spirited and grand. However, after hearing that Great Qin had also conquered a world, his mood plummeted.

Now, the most nervous ones were the allied worlds. Both of the two powerful Kingdoms had become even more powerful. Together, they almost had the strength of a Royal Kingdom, and now things were truly quite dangerous for them.

Chapter 1340: Spirit Destruction Crystals

Now, the Devil Horn Empire had three worlds, and Great Qin had four worlds. Adding on the three worlds that they jointly occupied, they had a total of 10 worlds between them, while the allied worlds only had eight worlds. Great Qin and the Devil Horn Empire's power combined could indeed resist the alliance.

Just like that, the alliance no longer had a great advantage. Some people suggested roping in even more worlds, while others suggested directly attacking these two factions to get rid of any future problems.

However, the alliance did not want to suffer any losses from fighting. The alliance was made up of countless factions from various worlds, and with so many people, there were all sorts of opinions. It was difficult to focus all of their power, and no one wanted to take a massive loss.

In the end, the alliance decided to not make a move against the two factions. They could only watch as the two factions devoured two more worlds and continued to grow.

The alliance was weak and cowardly. Some people in the alliance started to lose faith in the alliance and started to make peace with the two factions.

Great Qin welcomed in dozens of ambassadors; they had all come from various large factions, and Zhao Fu naturally did not have the time to meet with all of them. However, he was quite interested in one of the things that a faction had brought, which was the method for creating Spirit Destruction Crystals.

Spirit Destruction Crystals were not for dealing with people in the Heaven Awaken World but creatures outside the Heaven Awaken World.

If a Kingdom rose to a Royal Kingdom, they would inevitably have to go to the Outer World Battlefield; only from there could a Royal Kingdom gain the qualifications to continue to upgrade. At the same time, there were massive benefits to be gained from there, but this also meant that it was quite dangerous.

The Outer World Battles had gone on for tens of thousands of years, almost 100,000 years. The number of experts who had fallen there were simply innumerable, and even Celestials had died there.

With such danger, how could an ordinary person dare to go there? If not for the massive rewards given, as well as the treasures and historical remnants left by fallen experts, most people would not want to go.

Factions who did not want to go would be forcefully given quests by the Heaven Awaken World to go; in the end, it was somewhere they had to go.

Outer World creatures were split into five types. The first type were mainly insects and were quite big, and there were many of them. However, they had the lowest intelligence. The second type were aquatic creatures, and they had average intelligence. The third type were beasts, the fourth type were flying creatures, and the fifth type were humanoids.

They were not like wild insects and beasts; all of them had their own races and cultures, and they were almost like the Heaven Awaken World's major races.

After fighting for so long, both sides knew a lot about the other side. The Spirit Destruction Crystals had been created after countless years of research, and they were very effective against Outer World creatures.

Of course, the Spirit Destruction Crystals were split into different types. Because they had been modified by various large factions and families, they had gone through many changes. The recipe that had been delivered was the most basic one.

However, Zhao Fu could tell that it was incredibly valuable. Great Qin already had four worlds, and it was six worlds away from rising to a Royal Kingdom. When the time came, it would definitely head to the Outer World Battlefield, so it should research Spirit Destruction Crystals ahead of time to make preparations for the future.

Zhao Fu naturally did not know much about these things, so he had people from the specific Departments take care of them. In the future, these Spirit Destruction Crystals would be incredibly useful.

Zhao Fu naturally did not refuse the goodwill of these factions; having an extra friend was always better than having an extra enemy. In the future, when the allied worlds wanted to do anything, they would be quite useful.

It was not just Great Qin that did this; the Devil Horn Empire did the same. The two factions secretly dismantled the alliance, making it so that it was no longer a threat.

At the same time, the things that happened here caught the attention of many large factions. Many of them supported Great Qin or the Devil Horn Empire, and they naturally cared a lot about this.

Neither side was an ordinary faction, and they had become so powerful in such a short period of time. This shocked all of the large factions, and they were most surprised at Great Qin's Legatee – despite being part of a new world, he had conquered four worlds and three additional Continents. No one else had done such a thing before.

Zhao Fu would be a powerful King in the future, and a mighty Kingdom was rising up. Many factions in the inner Domains wanted to come and make friends with Great Qin.

Even though some people went to the Devil Horn Empire, the number that came to Great Qin was double that, making Yao Ming extremely furious. It had been like this every time; they all considered Great Qin superior to the Devil Horn Empire.

This undoubtedly made Yao Ming hate Great Qin even more. He swore that he would surpass Great Qin and destroy it, showing all those who doubted him.

Zhao Fu was quite famous even within the inner Domains, and he was called a miracle. He had single handedly brought Great Qin to its current state, and many people praised his ideologies. Rumors also spread that he was incredibly handsome, but very few people had seen him.

This undoubtedly interested countless women, filling them with immense curiosity towards this famous King. Many factions considered sending their daughters over to form a marriage alliance with Great Qin.

If Great Qin became a Royal Kingdom, the benefits would be unimaginable, and they would have a Royal Kingdom supporting them.

However, rumors of Great Qin's Legatee's licentiousness caused many factions to hesitate, but some other people became even more interested. With so many beauties, Great Qin's Legatee definitely was not ordinary.

Fortunately, Zhao Fu had only revealed his appearance once, and because it was from quite far away, many people nearby did not see. Otherwise, they would have known that Zhao Fu was that mysterious Emperor.

If Zhao Fu's true identity was exposed, it would definitely shock everyone in the Ancient Stem Domain. It would be dumbfounding to find out that such a terrifying person was from the Ancient Stem Domain and had been in the Ancient Stem Domain this whole time.

Now, many factions in the Ancient Stem Domain were still looking for that mysterious Emperor. That person was simply too dangerous and terrifying, and the various factions had to find him to be at ease.

There was only one faction that was not searching, and it was instead holed up inside their territory. That was the Ancient Stem Domain's most powerful faction, the Dao Cultivation Sect.

Bai Shengjun had already sent back news about Zhao Fu at Emperor Path College. The Human Domain's most powerful factions were all searching for him and wanted him, and some wanted to marry him.

Even a higher-being had personally appeared to invite him to Emperor Path College and take him as a disciple. News about him had shaken the Human Domain, and countless people were filled with curiosity towards him, trying to find more information about him.
