

The Lord 311

Chapter 311: Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass

Boom!

Zhao Fu vigorously threw the Evil-Crushing Spear out, which turned into a silver ray of light and gave off an immensely powerful, sharp aura as it shot towards the Red Ape Lord.

The Red Ape Lord, which was still flying backward in the air, roared and crossed its arms, giving off a brilliant platinum-colored glow as a platinum-colored shield of light appeared in front of it.

Bang!

The massive silver ray of light hit the platinum-colored shield of light, resulting in an enormous explosion. The platinum-colored shield shattered into countless pieces and disappeared, and the silver ray of light became much dimmer and continued onwards towards the Red Ape Lord.

The Red Ape Lord clenched its fist and punched out a massive platinum-colored fist image, clashing against the silver ray of light.

Bang!

A massive blast resulted, and shockwaves rippled outwards. The Red Ape Lord was sent stumbling back.

“Sky Demon Slash!”

Zhao Fu’s body suddenly appeared at the Red Ape Lord’s side, and he slashed out with his sword, sending out a sharp black arc of light.

The Red Ape Lord was greatly surprised, and it twisted its body, punching out vigorously and shining with a platinum-colored light.

Boom!!!

The platinum-colored fist smashed against the black arc of light, causing the black arc of light to disappear, while the Red Ape Lord’s hand became incredibly mangled.

At that moment, Zhao Fu once again slashed out with great force as black sword qi swept towards the Red Ape Lord like a flood.

“Godly Demonic Thrust!”

A massive black sword image once again appeared and stabbed towards the Red Ape Lord. In response, the Red Ape Lord immediately crossed its arms and summoned a shield of light, but the sword image pierced through the platinum-colored shield and left a deep gash in the Red Ape Lord’s arms.

“Roarrrrr!” the Red Ape Lord roared in pain and savagely looked at Zhao Fu as it opened its mouth, brilliant platinum-colored light gathering at its throat as it prepared to shoot out that powerful beam of light again.

Zhao Fu took this opportunity to stab his sword into the Red Ape Lord's stomach, and he sent his energy into it, cutting off the Red Ape Lord's attack. The platinum-light that it had been gathering disappeared, and it coughed up a mouthful of blood as it smashed its fist towards Zhao Fu.

At that moment, Zhao Fu dodged to the side and took this opportunity to stab his sword into the Red Ape Lord's chest. However, the Red Ape Lord exploded with platinum-colored light and tried to protect its chest.

Zhao Fu immediately felt a wave of resistance, but he immediately sent his King's Power into the sword and pushed, and the sword became covered with a black glow as it pierced the Red Ape Lord's chest.

The Red Ape Lord's eyes lost their focus, and the Red Ape Lord fell forwards towards Zhao Fu. Zhao Fu pulled his sword out and moved to the side as the Red Ape Lord fell to the ground, dead.

After dying, the Red Ape Lord dropped three items, and Zhao Fu looked at them with great interest.

The first was an orb of white light that didn't look too special, but it gave off a spirit-like aura.

[Spirit Power]: The spirit power left behind by a powerful creature. It can be used to strengthen items or be devoured by a person to increase his spirit power. However, there will be side-effects.

Before, Zhao Fu had planned on devouring this item, but after seeing that there would be side-effects, he decided not to for now.

The second item was a white jade plate that was about the size of a normal plate, and there was an eight trigrams diagram on it, making it look quite profound.

[Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate]: A powerful unsealing item that can break through all sorts of seals. Single-use consumable.

This item could only be used to unseal seals, and it didn't seem too useful to Zhao Fu right now. He still had two Unsealing Stones from the Sky Ghost Treasure Sacks, so he put away the Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate for now.

The final item was a platinum-colored crystal that gave off a familiar aura and was only a few centimeters long. This was quite similar to the Azure Bird Blood Crystal's aura that Zhao Fu had seen at the auction.

[Holy Hall Blood Crystal]: Contains a trace of the Holy Hall Bloodline, which is an Advanced Bloodline. After using this item, one will be able to obtain a trace of the bloodline.

As expected, this was a Blood Crystal. The Holy Hall Bloodline was most likely the Red Ape Lord's bloodline, and even though it was an Advanced Bloodline, Zhao Fu felt that it was inferior to the Azure Bird Bloodline. Also, it would only give a trace of the bloodline.

In other words, if he used it, he would only have a trace of the Holy Hall Bloodline, perhaps not even half of the true Holy Hall Bloodline. This meant that this trace was weaker than the true Holy Hall Bloodline.

However, with a trace of this bloodline, through one's efforts, one could continuously strengthen this bloodline until it became a pure bloodline.

The Holy Hall Bloodline wasn't of much use to Zhao Fu; after all, he hadn't even been interested in the Azure Bird Bloodline, so how could he want the Holy Hall Bloodline?

Right now, Zhao Fu's bloodline was the God-Killer Royal Bloodline, and Zhao Fu wanted to maintain its purity – perhaps it would be of value to him in the future.

He currently had no use for the three items, so Zhao Fu put them away. Even though the Red Ape Lord hadn't dropped a Gold grade City Creation Stone, he was still quite pleased.

At the same time, Zhao Fu put the Red Ape Lord's corpse away – it contained Gold grade materials, so he didn't want to let it go to waste.

As for the Red Apes crushed under the boulders, he didn't bother digging them up because he planned to go back to take the Windbell Fruit Trees.

“Owner, don't go yet! There's so much fleshly essence here that I want!” Sky Demon's voice suddenly said. After all, there were 30 or so Stage 3 corpses there, and they contained quite a lot of fleshly essence. This was a grand feast for Sky Demon.

When he heard this, Zhao Fu didn't mind, and he agreed to wait. Sky Demon was incredibly pleased, and it turned into a ray of black light and stabbed into the pile of boulders as countless black auras covered the small mountain of boulders.

When he saw that Sky Demon had started to devour the fleshly essence, Zhao Fu went to the Windbell Fruit Trees. The remaining juvenile Red Apes came over and looked at Zhao Fu in fear from afar.

When he saw that the juvenile Red Apes weren't very special, he didn't bother killing them. Instead, he just chased them away. As for whether they would be able to survive, that was none of his business.

Now, Zhao Fu started to dig up the Windbell Fruit Trees, and the method was quite simple – he stabbed the Slaughtering Ghost Sword into the ground, which cut three or four meters deep into the ground, and pulled the trees out by their roots.

After half an hour or so, Zhao Fu had dug up all of the Windbell Fruit Trees. There were 17 of them, and he put all of them into his King's Ring.

At that moment, a black ray of light shot over – Sky Demon had finished its meal, and it happily returned to Zhao Fu's side. After obtaining so many Windbell Fruit Trees, Zhao Fu was quite happy as well, and he smiled as he continued looking for Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass.

Chapter 312: Devil Fiend Dragon

In the next few days, even though Zhao Fu found some things of value, he still hadn't discovered any Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, disappointing him.

Zhao Fu had searched all of the areas nearby, and now, he had two options. He could go deeper into the Forest of Horrors, but he was already extremely deep. If he went any deeper, he would reach the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon's den.

The second option was, of course, to leave the depths of the Forest of Horrors and see if there was any Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass in other regions. After all, he might not find any Dragon-Incubating Celestial Grass even if he went deeper, and it would be incredibly dangerous.

After thinking for a while, Zhao Fu decided to go deeper to look. If there was no Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, he would immediately leave.

After making this decision, Zhao Fu headed in and became incredibly wary. With Zhao Fu's current strength, he wouldn't be able to defeat the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon. He didn't want to use his Nation Armament either because it would consume a great amount of Fate.

Zhao Fu completely hid his aura and headed onwards, not making any noise when he walked. This was because Zhao Fu was using his Flight Stone, allowing him to travel a meter above the ground.

As Zhao Fu headed onwards, the spiritual aura became denser and denser, and spirit grasses and fruits could be found everywhere. There were many different types, and even the ordinary trees and grasses were filled with dense lifeforce. At the same time, there weren't any large creatures here.

There were only some butterflies and bees flying about, and it looked much more beautiful here than outside. Zhao Fu appreciated the scenery around him as he continued looking for Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass.

White Jade Sun Fruit – Upper Stage 3 spirit fruit – collected!

Aura Condensing Spirit Grass – Complete Stage 3 spirit grass – collected!

Licorice Medicinal Root – Middle Stage 3 spirit root – collected!

This was indeed a land of treasures, and in less than an hour, Zhao Fu had dug up 200 or so spirit grasses. There were dozens of different types, and the worst ones were Stage 3 spirit grasses – by now, Zhao Fu didn't even bother with anything below Stage 3.

However, despite collecting so many spirit grasses, Zhao Fu still hadn't found any Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass. As such, Zhao Fu could only look ahead as a serious expression appeared on his face. He could detect a powerful aura from ahead, which was where the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon was.

This made Zhao Fu hesitate, and he considered waiting until the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon left. However, who knew when it would leave? He might have to wait half a month; could he really wait that long? That definitely wouldn't be possible.

As such, Zhao Fu decided to continue onwards.

Now, he was using all of his strength to conceal his presence, and he didn't dare to be careless as he advanced like a ghost.

Soon, Zhao Fu arrived at a mountain and a valley, and the spiritual aura was extremely dense. Even boulders and streams possessed a spiritual aura here, and the powerful aura seemed to cause the air here to freeze.

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon would be right ahead, and Zhao Fu once again stopped to consider if he wanted to advance.

Of course, he couldn't just advance directly because he would definitely be discovered. As such, he flew by the side of the mountain, and this was quite easy to do with the Flight Stone.

Soon, Zhao Fu arrived at a small hill and looked down. There was a large piece of flat ground below, and it was covered with green grass. At the center, a 1,000 meter long black Flood Dragon lay there sleeping.

By its side, there were patches of black grass. The grass was about 15 centimeters long, and it was curved like snakes. Each blade of grass also had four black leaves shaped like claws.

This was the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass that Zhao Fu had been looking for.

Zhao Fu was quite delighted, and he had never expected to see so much Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass. The blades of grass were simply innumerable.

A single blade of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass could reduce the incubation period by four months, two could reduce it by eight months, and three could reduce it by a full year.

However, Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass could only be used once per month, or Zhao Fu would be able to hatch the Wyvern immediately with three blades of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass.

Since he could only use one blade of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass per month, it would take him three months to hatch the Wyvern, which was already quite good.

Now, the key question was how to obtain the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass. They were right beside the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon, and it was simply too dangerous to go up and collect them.

Suddenly, Zhao Fu thought about the Dream Incense that he had purchased at the auction that could cause even Lord grade creatures to fall asleep. The Dream Incense would definitely be able to keep the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon asleep.

However, Zhao Fu already had plans for the Dream Incense, and it would only last for three minutes. Did he really have to use it here?

Zhao Fu started to hesitate, and he looked at the soundly-sleeping Six-Eyed Flood Dragon. In the end, Zhao Fu decided not to use the Dream Incense because it was central to another one of Zhao Fu's plans. Without it, Zhao Fu wouldn't be able to carry out that plan.

At the same time, Zhao Fu thought that it would be safe to take just three blades of Dragon Incubating Grass because the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon was sleeping and there was so much of it. After taking those three blades, he would immediately run – surely he wouldn't wake up Six-Eyed Flood Dragon.

As such, Zhao Fu nervously started to act, and he slowly floated downwards.

Everything went quite smoothly, and soon, Zhao Fu reached the ground and started to slowly approach the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon.

Suddenly, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon rolled on the ground, scaring Zhao Fu into immediately hiding behind a large rock.

After a while, when he saw that the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon was still asleep, Zhao Fu cautiously came out and breathed in before holding his breath and cautiously moving towards the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon again.

One meter... 20 meters... 100 meters...

Zhao Fu came closer and closer to the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon, and he began to feel more and more nervous. He felt as if his heart was in his throat, and soon, Zhao Fu was only 200 meters away from it.

This was where the closest Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass was, and Zhao Fu stretched out his hand and plucked one blade while warily looking at the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon.

From up close, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon looked even more domineering and mighty. Its glowing, black scales; sharp claws; powerful body; and ferocious-looking head all gave off a mighty air, and it was as if it could destroy this entire region.

Zhao Fu stopped hesitating and lightly pulled upwards, collecting his first blade of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass.

After plucking out this blade of grass, Zhao Fu anxiously looked at the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon again. When he saw that it was still asleep, he reached out towards another blade of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass and pulled it out.

Suddenly, the air around him froze as the sleeping Six-Eyed Flood Dragon suddenly opened its six blood-red eyes.

Chapter 313: Water God Statue

In that moment of crisis, Zhao Fu's body froze before he grabbed that last blade of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass and turned into a black blur as he didn't hesitate to escape.

There was an incredibly savage light within the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon's eyes because there was a thief trying to steal its spirit grass. After all, it was the ruler of the Forest of Horrors and would definitely become furious and want to devour the thief.

However, when it saw that it was Zhao Fu, its expression changed, and it was so scared that it flew into the air. It looked at Zhao Fu in fear as it said, "Human, I didn't do anything to you, so why have you come here?"

Zhao Fu, who was in the middle of escaping, suddenly heard a young girl's voice from behind him, surprising him. He turned around to see the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon hovering in the air, looking at him in fear.

“The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon can speak?” Zhao Fu wondered. However, seeing that it didn’t look like it was going to attack, Zhao Fu stopped and looked back at the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon.

“Ai, hurry up and say something, human.”

When it saw Zhao Fu stop and look at it with his blood-red eyes, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon thought back to the massive blood-red eyes during the Chaos Imperial Star incident. Immediately, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon flew higher in fear.

From when Great Qin had obtained the Fate Legacy of the heavens and the earth to the Chaos Imperial Star’s descent, Zhao Fu had given off an incredibly powerful aura that had terrified the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon at those moments. Every day, it was worried that Zhao Fu would come to make trouble for it.

If it wasn’t for the fact that its den was quite hard to find and that every other region already had a super monster ruling over it, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon would’ve fled the Forest of Horrors a long time ago.

It had never thought that Zhao Fu would actually come today. The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon was incredibly familiar with Zhao Fu’s aura, which was why it had been scared into the air.

When he heard the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon’s words, Zhao Fu thought for a moment before replying honestly and pointing, “I just want that black grass.”

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon looked down and saw it was just some grass that was completely useless to it. As such, it let out a breath and replied, “Alright, you may take it. Let’s not fight.”

Zhao Fu was quite surprised, and he couldn’t understand why the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon seemed to be afraid of him. However, upon hearing its words, he was delighted. However, he still asked hesitantly, “Are you sure?”

“Hmph, I always keep my promises, but don’t try to bully me.”

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon’s voice sounded like that of a five or six-year-old girl’s, and it sounded quite tender and cute.

It was quite difficult to reconcile the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon’s domineering and ferocious-looking exterior with its cute voice.

As such, Zhao Fu didn’t hesitate, and he started to harvest all of the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, delighting him. He had never thought that he would be able to obtain so much Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass so easily.

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon remained in the air and warily watched Zhao Fu collect the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass. As time passed, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon confirmed that Zhao Fu had no intention of harming it, so it asked curiously, “Human, what do you want this grass for?”

“To help me incubate my dragon egg!” Zhao Fu smiled as he replied and continued collecting the grass.

“What? You have a dragon egg? Do you have any dragon essence blood? I can trade things for it,” the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon asked hopefully as a surprised look appeared on its face.

Zhao Fu was quite surprised as well and wondered what the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon wanted dragon essence blood for. He only had a Wyvern, and even if it matured, it would definitely lose against the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon. Could there be some sort of misunderstanding?

After Zhao Fu told the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon about his Wyvern egg, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon looked quite disappointed as it said, "So it's just one of those big lizards... I thought you had a true dragon!"

Zhao Fu awkwardly smiled – true dragons were at least Stage 8 existences, so how could Zhao Fu obtain something like that?

However, since he had taken so much Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, Zhao Fu felt quite embarrassed, so he agreed to help it obtain some in the future if he had the opportunity.

"Thank you so much!" By now, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon had completely let its guard down, and it even lay on the ground as it spoke happily to Zhao Fu.

Following this, Zhao Fu and the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon started to chat, and he found out why it had been so afraid of him and why it wanted dragon essence blood.

Zhao Fu could never have imagined that the abnormal signs caused by him would have given the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon such a massive fright, making it instinctively fearful of him. This explained why the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon hadn't attacked him earlier; normally, a massive battle would have been unavoidable.

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon wanted dragon essence blood to help it transform into a dragon. In Chinese legends, snakes could cultivate for 100 years to become pythons, pythons could cultivate for 1,000 years to become a flood dragon, and flood dragons could cultivate for 10,000 years to become a dragon.

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon definitely hadn't cultivated for very long, but it wasn't ordinary at all. It had the bloodline of the Devil Fiend Dragon, a Royal Class existence, which would allow the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon to easily become a dragon. The dragon essence blood would have just shortened the time necessary.

Above Lord class was Royal Class, Imperial class, and Emperor class. There were also even more powerful grades.

By now, Zhao Fu had finished collecting all of the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass – there were tens of thousands of blades, which would allow him to mass-plant them back at Great Qin. What surprised him was that he got along with the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon quite well.

"I'll be going now!" After collecting all of the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, Zhao Fu said goodbye.

The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon was actually quite reluctant to see him go because it didn't have anyone to talk with. Now that it had finally found someone to talk with, the person it was talking to was leaving so soon.

"Zhao Fu, make sure you come and visit me from now and then!" Through their talks, the Six-Eyed Flood Dragon had found out Zhao Fu's name. It knew that it couldn't make him stay, so it could only hope that he would come and visit it regularly. At the same time, it no longer had to be afraid that Zhao Fu would make trouble for it or live each day in fear, making it quite happy.

Afterward, Zhao Fu left a few toys before leaving. The Six-Eyed Flood Dragon's personality was a lot like that of a five or six-year-old girl's, so it carefully controlled its strength as it played with them.

After returning to the Great Qin Town, Zhao Fu took out the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass and ordered his people to start re-planting them. Not only could dragons be spawned from dens, but they could also be bred, so with a large amount of Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass, Zhao Fu would be able to hatch many eggs.

After this, Zhao Fu also re-planted the 17 Windbell Fruit Trees.

Afterward, Zhao Fu used the medicinal recipe that he had obtained to turn the Dragon Incubating Celestial Grass and some other spirit grasses into a bottle of medicinal water, which was as black as ink and gave off a gory smell.

Zhao Fu poured this medicinal water onto the dragon egg, and it was instantly absorbed into the shell. The dragon egg shined with a faint gray light, and the aura coming from it became somewhat stronger – it seemed that the Dragon Incubating Medicinal Water was quite effective.

Chapter 314: Divine Fish Festival

After taking care of these matters, Zhao Fu went to refine the corpses of the creatures that he had killed.

Zhao Fu wasn't sure what he would obtain, and he stood beside the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation's altar as he put one of the Stage 2 creatures onto the altar.

As the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation was activated, the corpse was brought into the air by a formless energy, and the corpse started to melt and became a skeleton. Two items appeared in front of Zhao Fu.

The first was a blood-red orb of light that gave off a weak blood-red light, and it looked like a Grade Orb.

[Grade – C]: A powerful item that can raise a beast's grade to C grade.

It was indeed a Grade Orb, but it could only be used by beasts.

The second item was a blood-colored, soybean-sized item that felt like a stone.

[Raising Stone]: Contains a massive amount of fleshly essence. It can be fed to animals to speed up their growth. Humans can also use it, but there will be side-effects.

Zhao Fu had never thought that the corpse would produce such an item, but it was quite good. Zhao Fu put it away. He would use it to feed the animals he raised, and he could also give it to humans. However, the side-effects would likely give them bestial traits and may even make them lose their minds, so Zhao Fu didn't plan to give them to his soldiers.

These two items were both quite good, and next, Zhao Fu took out a three-meter tall corpse – it was the Red Ape Lord's corpse.

After refining the Red Ape Lord's corpse, he received an SS grade Orb, ten or so Raising Stones, and an extra item.

This item was rectangular-shaped, and it was only a few centimeters long. It looked like a jade and gave off a gory smell.

[Class Jade]: Can be used to raise a creature's class, and the effects are dependent on the creature's class.

The Class Jade could raise a Normal class creature to Elite class or Chief class, and how much it was raised by depended on the creature's original class. Without doing some tests, Zhao Fu had no idea just how effective it would be.

Zhao Fu refined the other creatures' corpses as well, and only Chief class or above creatures gave Class Jades.

This was also quite a good item, and Zhao Fu smiled, putting all of them away.

In the depths of the Forest of Horrors, Zhao Fu had killed 300 or so creatures, and he refined all of them, obtaining many Raising Stones. With these items, he would be able to raise the Wyverns much faster.

It took a long time to incubate dragon eggs, and it took even longer for them to mature after hatching. These Raising Stones would be able to greatly cut down the time needed for them to mature, and with this item, Zhao Fu could almost already see an army of Dragonriders.

After taking care of all of the creatures' corpses, Zhao Fu went to Rising Qin Academy. Little Black and Little Gray were quite lively and vivacious, and when they were bored, they would join the army to go out conquering.

As for Little White, it was much more gentle. It would occasionally play with Little Black and Little Gray, but it would usually stay by Asani's side. Asani greatly liked Little White as well – after all, most girls liked cute and fluffy things.

"Your Majesty!" Asani said excitedly as she carried Little White in her arms and walked over.

Zhao Fu also smiled and nodded as he took Little White into his arms. Little White was a Void Beast, and its grade was ordinary. There weren't many of them, and the ones that had spawned in Great Qin had only become Elite class, which had to do with their grades.

The higher a creature's grade, the faster its class would rise. On the other hand, the lower a creature's grade, the longer and more difficult it would be to raise its class, which was why Little White was only an Elite class creature.

After subduing Little White, Zhao Fu had said that he would give it some opportunities, and now, it was time for him to fulfill that promise.

Zhao Fu gave Little White a grade Orb and a Class Jade, causing Little White's aura to become much more powerful. It became a Chief class creature, and because the Class Jade had been refined from a Lord class creature, Little White was most likely more powerful than an ordinary Chief class creature.

At that moment, a soldier came to report that Daisy had brought back a God Statue. When he heard this, Zhao Fu went to the Town Hall and saw Daisy waiting there with a statue on the table.

When she saw that Zhao Fu had arrived, Daisy respectfully said, “Your Majesty!”

Zhao Fu nodded and looked at the statue. It was about one meter tall and carved out of wood. It looked like a woman dressed in ancient clothing. The statue looked very lifelike, and it gave off an aura of feminine gentleness.

Water Goddess Statue: Level 1, Description: A statue of a Water Goddess. It can protect boats on the water. It requires sacrifices of incense, and the more incense there is, the more powerful the Water Goddess Statue will become. Current stats: Gives Water Goddess’s protection and resistance to natural disasters +1%.

This Water Goddess Statue was quite similar to the Earth Temple, but there were differences between them. Suddenly, Zhao Fu’s pupils constricted as he discovered that there was a trace of a soul within it.

The soul within the statue detected Zhao Fu’s gaze and immediately felt terrified because of Zhao Fu’s God-Killer profession. However, after looking at it, Zhao Fu looked away.

The Water Goddess Statue was different from the Earth Temple because this Water Goddess wasn’t an actual goddess but something formed by countless people’s beliefs. Therefore, it had weak divine power. As such, its stats were inferior to the Earth Temple’s because there was a real Earth God.

The trace of the soul within the Water God Statue was the entity formed by those beliefs, and Zhao Fu didn’t plan on doing anything to it. This sort of soul was quite rare – it could only be created when someone with a great amount of Fate died and the next few generations continuously offered sacrifices and had faith in it.

This Water God Statue would be important in the future when they traveled on rivers and seas in boats. Even though there were no large rivers or seas near Great Qin, it would be important in the future, especially for battles on water.

Zhao Fu ordered some people to start building a temple for the Water God Statue.

Afterward, Zhao Fu turned his gaze to Daisy and thought about the Holy Hall Blood Crystal that he had obtained. It was most likely a Holy Light type bloodline, so it would be quite suitable for Daisy. As such, he took it out and handed it to her.

After receiving it, Daisy smiled and bowed as she said, “Thank you, Your Majesty!”

Zhao Fu nodded and replied, “Use it now. I want to see what effects it has.”

Daisy started to use it, and the Holy Hall Blood Crystal turned into an orb of platinum-colored light before entering her body.

Suddenly, a look of pain appeared on Daisy’s face as her body shined with a faint white light, and she almost collapsed to the ground when Zhao Fu caught her.

Beads of sweat rolled down her forehead, and she gripped onto Zhao Fu. After a while, the look of pain subsided, and her appearance started to change.

Chapter 315: Grand Ancient Tree

Daisy's long hair and bright eyes became platinum-colored, and her skin became lustrous. Her entire body was shining with white light, and adding on her beautiful face and mature body, Zhao Fu felt a bit moved when looking at her.

Daisy slowly came back to her senses, and when she realized that she was in Zhao Fu's arms and holding onto him tightly, she panicked, tried to stand up, and asked for forgiveness.

When she met Zhao Fu's gaze, she suddenly felt a sense of shyness within her heart and lowered her head, not daring to move.

Zhao Fu looked away and smiled as he asked caringly, "How are you feeling?"

Daisy's body was a bit stiff within Zhao Fu's embrace, and it was the first time that she had been so close to him before.

It had been a long time since Zhao Fu had caused the chaos between the four villages and subjugated her, and through her interactions with him, her impression of him had changed until she fully acknowledged him.

Right now, she only felt incredibly embarrassed and didn't have any feelings towards him. Of course, if Zhao Fu wanted her, she wouldn't be able to refuse.

"I'm fine now, Your Majesty." Daisy quickly looked away and smiled. Because it didn't seem like Zhao Fu was trying to push her away, she could only lay within his embrace as her heart rate sped up.

Seeing how weak Daisy looked, Zhao Fu wasn't in a hurry for Daisy to stand up. He first looked at her stats and found that the Holy Hall Bloodline wasn't bad at all. It had greatly raised some of Daisy's stats and added a special attack, which was that platinum-colored light.

"Mm~" Daisy suddenly moaned as her face became red, and she buried her head into Zhao Fu's chest, her hands tightly gripping Zhao Fu's waist.

Zhao Fu looking at Daisy's stats was akin to looking at her without clothes on, and he hadn't thought too much about it. However, because Daisy was in his embrace and they were so close, Daisy felt her temperature rising, and she could smell a very enchanting fragrance from Zhao Fu.

This was the effect of the Level 4 Flower Fairy's Blessing, which increased his charm towards females.

Zhao Fu also detected the changes in Daisy and felt quite surprised.

"Your Majesty!" Suddenly, an alluring figure walked into the hall, and when the person saw this scene, the person's face became red. The person immediately tried to leave.

"What is it, Liu Mei?" When he saw that Liu Mei had walked in but had tried to quickly leave, Zhao Fu quickly called out to her.

When she saw the scene in front of her, Liu Mei's heart rate sped up, and her face became slightly red. She knew that she had walked in on something awkward, so she had wanted to leave. However, she had been stopped by Zhao Fu.

As such, Liu Mei could only apologetically smile as she said, "Apologies, Your Majesty. I didn't intend to disturb you."

When she heard Liu Mei's words, Daisy's face became even redder, and she subconsciously hugged Zhao Fu even tighter.

Zhao Fu glared at Liu Mei as he asked, "What is it?"

Liu Mei hesitated for a moment before suddenly realizing that the person within Zhao Fu's embrace was Daisy. Daisy's appearance had greatly changed, and she was much more beautiful than before.

"Could it be that His Majesty..." Liu Mei didn't dare to think too much; now, if Zhao Fu wanted her, she wouldn't resist either. Not only was he her liege, but the antagonistic feelings she had once felt towards him had also gradually become favorable feelings.

As the Third Mistress of the bandit village, Liu Mei was somewhat experienced in affairs between men and women, and she had thought that men only thought with their lower halves. However, after meeting Zhao Fu, she realized that she had been wrong.

"Liu Mei!" Zhao Fu once again called out to her when he saw that Liu Mei was lost in her thoughts and just standing there.

When she heard Zhao Fu's voice, Liu Mei quickly came back to her senses and reported to him, "Your Majesty, the third Heaven Awaken World event has begun."

When he heard this, Zhao Fu felt quite surprised. He carried Daisy to a bed in a room nearby and told her to rest before he immediately headed to Holy Light City to take a look.

After arriving, he saw that everyone on the streets looked quite happy and that there were many festival decorations everywhere. Indeed, a new festival had arrived.

What sort of festival was it this time? Surely it wasn't as brutal as the Ghost Festival, where no one dared to come out at night. Otherwise, all of the system main cities would become ghost towns.

Zhao Fu looked around and found that most of the decorations had to do with fish – there were paintings of fish, fish lanterns, and clothes with fish patterns on them.

There were many different kinds of fish, and they all looked quite interesting. By now, Zhao Fu was sure that this festival was related to fish, and he found out that the festival was called the Divine Fish Festival.

While the last two festivals had been for factions and relied on numbers, this was more of an individual festival.

The Divine Fish Festival was a fishing festival, and all sorts of divine fish appeared in the various bodies of water all across the Heaven Awaken World. There were many different types of these divine fish, and they were all worth a different number of points. Upon catching a fish, it would become points and be recorded on one's stats page.

The points couldn't be traded, gifted, or stolen, and once a divine fish was caught, it would turn into points. The Divine Fish Festival relied on one's skill and luck; the strength of a faction was completely irrelevant.

What's more, using large-scale tools, such as nets, was useless. Divine fish could only be caught using one's hands, harpoons, or fishing rods.

The difference between divine fish and normal fish was that divine fish would give off a light and have inscriptions on their scales, making them look quite mysterious. In actuality, they weren't real creatures but illusions created by the world.

The Divine Fish Festival would begin at 12 AM, and it lasted for seven days. Because the Divine Fish Festival was about to begin, harpoons, fishing rods, and bait began to sell extremely quickly.

This Divine Fish Festival relied on individuals, and Zhao Fu wasn't in a rush to make preparations. He first went to the Exchange Stone Stele to see what sorts of rewards could be exchanged.

After looking through the rewards, a look of shock appeared on Zhao Fu's face. The Ten Thousand Flower Festival's main rewards were pieces of equipment, the Ghost Festival's main rewards were professions, and the Divine Fish Festival's main rewards were City Creation Stones.

What shocked Zhao Fu even more was that there were 100,000 Normal grade City Creation Stones, 10,000 Blue grade City Creation Stones, 1,000 Silver grade City Creation Stones, 100 Gold grade City Creation Stones, and ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones.

This was particularly shocking because only the major Legatees had been given Legendary grade City Creation Stones, and now, there were ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones up for grabs.

Chapter 316: Elf Royal Clan

These ten City Creation Stones all had different stats and effects. They were only slightly weaker than those that the Legatees had, and they had powerful stats. Even the Gold grade and Silver grade City Creation Stones had special effects.

It seemed that this was the system giving the ordinary players an opportunity. If they could grasp this opportunity, their lives would be turned around, and they would have the strength to compete with the powerful families and Legatees.

However, if they couldn't grasp this opportunity, the chance of them turning their lives around would become even smaller. This was because this was already a world where the large families dominated, and ordinary individuals couldn't compete with the large families in anything. Only a few people had the ability and luck to rise above those families, while the majority of people lived under the shadow of the large families.

Zhao Fu looked at the ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones' stats:

[Heavenly Sword City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: After using it, one will obtain the Heavenly Sword City's Legacy. Apart from the basic military professions, there will also be a Swordsman profession that can evolve and reach S grade.

[Universal Den]: Grade: Legendary, Description: A special Den that any creature can conquer. It will spawn creatures of the same race.

[Battle King City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: An ancient city with immense battle strength. All of the stats are related to battling, and they can greatly increase fighting power.

[Thousand Life City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: A Light legacy that has decent battle professions. It is far superior to normal Legendary grade villages.

[Great Iron City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: An ancient city primarily focused on defense. The walls receive an iron barrier effect that greatly increases defense. It has the Great Iron Soldier defensive profession.

[Ten Thousand City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: A city that greatly attracts refugees and wanderers. It spawns twice as many people per day as ordinary villages and has special professions, high-grade people, and stats related to population.

[Animal Raising City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: An ancient city focused on raising animals. It has a special Beast Tamer profession and also controls Pig Dens, Sheep Dens, and Chicken Dens.

[Holy Disciple City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: An ancient city established by believers of a faith. It has a Holy Disciple profession. There is a divine statue inside, causing the city to receive divine protection.

[Divine Water City]: A city situated beside water that receives water-related blessings. All residents automatically receive a swimming skill, and it gives storm-resistant stats and advanced skills for ship-building.

[Wine Immortal City]: Grade: Legendary, Description: An ancient city that focused on brewing wine. It possesses six secret wine-brewing recipes, and these mysterious wines can give bonus stats. The city also has the Wine Hero profession.

After looking through the ten City Creation Stones' descriptions, the one that moved Zhao Fu the most was, of course, the second-ranked Universal Den. Zhao Fu had never thought that the festival would have a Legendary grade Universal Den as a reward.

If he could obtain this Universal Den, he would be able to spawn Wyverns even faster, and this would be of great help to Great Qin. As such, Zhao Fu was determined to obtain the Universal Den.

However, because this was a festival for individuals, Zhao Fu wasn't that confident because he wouldn't have many of the advantages he had in the past, nor was there anything he could really prepare. After all, he couldn't use large-scale traps, and he would only be able to use his hands, a harpoon, or a fishing rod.

Zhao Fu felt that this festival would be quite difficult, so he returned to the Great Qin Town and discussed this matter with his subordinates.

Wei Liao thought for a moment before stepping forwards, cupping his hands, and saying, "Your Majesty, this festival is focused on individuals, but with how many people Great Qin has, we still have a slight advantage. We can have all of our residents participate and obtain as many points as possible. Even though we can't combine the points, everyone can still obtain some items for Great Qin."

Wang Jian also stepped forward and said, "Your Majesty, General Wei Liao is correct. There is no danger involved with this event, so everyone can participate. Even the soldiers can participate, and this will allow them to take a rest from fighting. This will allow many of them to break through to Stage 1."

Everyone else started to give suggestions, and Zhao Fu thought about it and felt that what they said was correct – it would be best for everyone to participate. They could gather as many points as they could and use the points to exchange for items that Great Qin needed.

Now, it was a matter of how he would participate in the festival. If it was using his hands, he would only be able to fish in the shallow regions. If he used a harpoon, he would be able to also dive into the water. If it was with a fishing rod, he would be able to fish wherever he wanted.

The divine fish weren't real creatures, but they acted just like normal fish. Those who understood fishing would have a decent harvest this festival.

Suddenly, Zhao Fu remembered that he had the One World Rod – now was the perfect time for him to use it.

The One World Rod had originally been Legendary grade, and it had become Half-Epic grade after Celia fused into it. After thinking about it, Zhao Fu took out the item that he had recently obtained, Spirit Power. The Spirit Power could increase his own spirit power or strengthen items.

If there were no side-effects, Zhao Fu would have used it already. However, now, it could be used to strengthen the One World Rod into an Epic grade piece of equipment.

The One World Rod didn't give any stats and was a special piece of equipment, so strengthening it would most likely be quite simple. Zhao Fu went to an empty place in the Great Qin Town and fused the Spirit Power into the One World Rod.

The One World Rod shined with a faint green light, floated into the air, and gave off an aura that was filled with lifeforce.

"Master! I want to fully fuse with the World Tree branch and activate the Ancient Elf Bloodline within my body," Celia's clear voice said in Zhao Fu's mind.

After he heard this, Zhao Fu saw the One World Rod shoot out a bright green light as the image of a grand ancient tree slowly appeared in the sky.

This tree was tens of thousands of meters tall, and it was so thick that hundreds of people wouldn't be able to put their arms around it. Its branches and leaves completely covered the sky, and a boundless aura of life rippled outwards.

A beautiful girl, who seemed to have been sleeping this entire time, slowly appeared in front of the tree and floated in mid-air. It was Celia.

After Celia's image appeared, it seemed to connect with the massive tree. A formless energy from the tree covered Celia's body, and Celia's body gave off waves of silver light as a noble and powerful aura spread out.

At that moment, all of the Elves within Great Qin seemed to detect something, and they all looked up at the ancient tree. Their bloodlines all stirred restlessly, and they started to head over.

What surprised Zhao Fu was that the Elves knelt towards the massive tree after arriving.

Chapter 317: Ancestral Armament

The kneeling Elves included Daisy and Asani, and this caused Zhao Fu to frown. He didn't like his subjects kneeling to powers apart from himself.

At the same time, Zhao Fu was quite curious – the Elves were a proud race, and they normally wouldn't kneel to anyone. And yet, they were kneeling on the ground with looks of respect and devotion. What's more, this was right in front of Zhao Fu, making him feel quite displeased.

“Daisy!” Zhao Fu coldly said.

When she heard this, Daisy quickly came back to her senses and realized what she had done. Her face paled, and she turned and knelt to Zhao Fu as she said, “Your Majesty, please forgive me.”

When he saw how afraid Daisy looked, Zhao Fu's tone became softer as he asked, “What's going on?”

When she heard that Zhao Fu's tone was no longer as cold, Daisy let out a sigh of relief as she explained, “Your majesty, that ancient tree is the most important tree to us Elves, and it is called the World Tree. What's more, that girl has the Elf Royal Clan's bloodline, and we were instinctively moved to worship her.”

When he heard Daisy's explanation, the dissatisfaction within Zhao Fu's heart disappeared as he said, “You can rise. Your body just fused with a bloodline and is quite weak, so you should go and rest.”

When she heard Zhao Fu's care-filled words, she felt a sense of peace and warmth within her. She stood up and told the other Elves to get up.

Zhao Fu looked at Celia, who was still floating in the air – she possessed the Elf Royal Clan's bloodline? That meant that she was the descendant of royalty, and Zhao Fu guessed that Celia was the child of an Elf and a Human.

In the air, waves of silver light shined from Celia's body, and the noble aura around her body became stronger and stronger – the Royal Bloodline within her seemed to be awakening.

Celia's facial features started to change, and she began to look more beautiful than before. Her hair became silver-colored, and her ears started to become pointed.

Celia slowly opened her eyes, both of which had become silver-colored. She then flew towards the World Tree, and as they touched, formless energy ripples spread out, causing the weather to change and silver clouds to gather.

The One World Rod hovering in the air shined with a blinding green light that contained a tinge of silver light. As Celia's image and the World Tree's image fused, the One World Rod's appearance also changed, and it slowly turned into a wooden sword.

This wooden sword was silver-colored, a meter long, and 15 centimeters wide. There was a green leaf at the place where the blade and hilt connected. The sword didn't give off a sharp or bloodthirsty aura. Instead, it gave off an aura filled with life

As the wooden sword formed, the image of the World Tree and Celia fully fused before slowly disappearing, and rays of silver light descended from the sky, creating an awesome scene.

The wooden sword slowly descended, and Zhao Fu stretched out his hand and caught it as he looked at its stats.

[Royal Wood Sword]: Grade: Epic, Stats: Strength +20, Intelligence +25, Constitution +30, Agility +20, Description: A wooden sword formed from a World Tree branch and the Elf Royal Clan's bloodline. It contains a massive amount of lifeforce.

Zhao Fu waved the Royal Wood Sword about and felt that it was extremely sharp. It easily tore through the air, and a massive sense of life came from the sword.

What's more, the Royal Wood Sword had a type of blessing called the Elf Royal Clan's Blessing. Anyone who equipped this sword would receive the respect of all Elves and be able to subdue Elves easily.

The sword's stats were quite good, but what he wanted now was a fishing rod – it had now become a sword.

"Master, I have a solution for that!" A silver-haired young girl appeared by Zhao Fu's side as she smiled.

Zhao Fu looked at Celia, who had just changed, and smiled as he said, "Celia, you look very pretty!"

A faint look of embarrassment appeared on Celia's face as Zhao Fu asked, "What's your solution?"

"This is the Royal Wood Sword's second form; it's first and original form is still a fishing rod. If master wants, I can change it back to a fishing rod," Celia explained.

When he heard this, Zhao Fu relaxed and asked Celia to change back. The One World Rod looked roughly the same as before, but its stats had greatly increased.

What Zhao Fu cared about the most was the Fishing Blessing effect, which now increased the chance of catching fish by 800%, and it had an extremely large chance of catching rare types of fish.

Now, Zhao Fu would be relying on this fishing rod. If this fishing rod performed well, he would make great gains, and if it didn't do well, he would lose out on many opportunities.

Time gradually passed, and although there weren't any rivers or oceans within the Forest of Horrors, there were still lakes and streams. As such, Zhao Fu ordered people to guard the nearby rivers and streams.

The sky gradually darkened, and soon, it was 12 AM.

At that moment, the heavens and the earth started to change. Stars appeared in the sky, giving off resplendent starlight, covering the entire night sky, and turning into a sea of stars.

Splash!

The sound of a large rock crashing into water sounded out throughout the world, and a gigantic fish appeared in the sky, swimming in the sea of stars as if it was alive and playing in the water.

This lasted for five or six minutes. Then, the gigantic fish turned into countless motes of light that descended from the sky, which was extremely beautiful.

The motes of light fell into bodies of water as fish that shined with light appeared. Inscriptions moved on the surface of them, making them look quite mysterious.

The Divine Fish Festival had officially begun, and this was when there was the most fish. Zhao Fu was currently standing in front of a large lake, and he didn't have to use a fishing rod for now. He held a harpoon in his hand, and because there were simply too many divine fish, it would take too much time to use a fishing rod – it would be much faster to use a harpoon for now.

Most of the fish within the water were carp and grass carp, and they were about as big as one's palm. They gave off gray and white lights. There were also some crucian carp that gave off faint blue light.

Zhao Fu aimed at a fish and raised his harpoon before stabbing it into the water. The divine fish were faster than normal fish, but Zhao Fu wasn't slow either.

The harpoon pierced through a fish, and the fish tried to struggle and escape. However, Zhao Fu quickly raised the harpoon. As soon as the divine fish left the water, it turned into countless motes of light and entered Zhao Fu's body.

"System announcement! Congratulations, you have caught a carp. You have received ten Divine Fish Points."

The fish, which was just a carp, turned into motes of faint gray light. It was the first divine fish caught by Zhao Fu. Now, Zhao Fu turned his gaze to the next divine fish.

Chapter 318: Take Down Emperors

Zhao Fu once again stabbed out and pierced through the next fish's body, and he raised it out of the water. This fish also turned into countless motes of light and entered Zhao Fu's body.

"System announcement! Congratulations, you have caught a grass carp. You have received 20 Divine Fish Points."

This divine fish only gave off white light, and because it was also one of the more normal divine fish, it didn't give many points. Next, Zhao Fu's gaze turned to a divine fish giving off blue light.

Zhao Fu once again vigorously stabbed his harpoon at the divine fish, but the blue fish was much faster than the gray and white fish. However, this wasn't a problem for Zhao Fu, and the harpoon still accurately pierced into its body.

"System announcement! Congratulations, you have caught a crucian carp. You have received 50 Divine Fish Points."

There were many divine fish in this lake, and Zhao Fu had already caught three different types. He hadn't seen any rare fish yet, but because there were so many fish, Zhao Fu decided to hold one harpoon in each hand to increase his speed. He sometimes missed, but at the very least, it was faster than fishing with just one harpoon.

It was a pity that there was only such an abundance of fish for an hour; after that hour, the number of divine fish started to decrease, and Zhao Fu was forced to go elsewhere to look for more.

During that hour, Zhao Fu caught 126 divine fish and obtained 3,200 Divine Fish Points, which was enough for some small rewards. However, it was far from enough to exchange for one of the ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones.

Zhao Fu looked at the people around him who were also searching for divine fish, and he decided to start using his fishing rod. He went to a place without many other people around because the divine fish were similar to normal fish in that too many people would scare them away.

As such, Zhao Fu went to a lake next to a mountain that connected to an underground stream. There would most likely be a lot of fish here.

Zhao Fu found a large rock and sat on it as he attached a worm to his hook. Even though Zhao Fu had never fished before, he knew the basics.

After attaching the bait, Zhao Fu flicked the hook into the water before silently waiting. What surprised Zhao Fu was that even though he didn't catch any fish immediately, his body automatically started cultivating, and the speed was six times faster than normal.

This wasn't because his grade had increased but because he was in some sort of state that greatly increased his cultivation speed, which shocked Zhao Fu. Why was his cultivation going up so fast?

Zhao Fu started to look for the reason, and he found that it was because of the One World Rod's third effect, Fishing Comprehension (This item is quite special as it contains a type of source energy. When using it, it will allow one to comprehend the heavens and the earth easier).

It turned out that this effect increased his cultivation speed. With his Earth grade status and the One World Rod, his cultivation progressed six times faster than before. Now, Zhao Fu's cultivation speed was simply monstrous, and there was definitely no one who could cultivate as fast as him.

Suddenly, Zhao Fu felt a tug at his fishing rod – there was most likely a fish biting at the bait. Zhao Fu lifted up the fishing rod, and a lively divine fish was pulled up.

The fish gave off a silver light and looked like a mackerel. It was only three finger widths wide, and after lifting the fish out of the water, it turned into countless motes of light that entered Zhao Fu's body.

“System announcement! Congratulations, you have caught a silver mackerel. You have received 100 Divine Fish Points.”

Zhao Fu was quite pleased that the first fish he had caught with the rod happened to be worth so much, and after turning into motes of light, the silver mackerel also left Zhao Fu an item. It was a crystal orb that was as big as a longan fruit and completely transparent.

Zhao Fu looked at it and found that it was called a Fish Jewel, and it could give a random item. Zhao Fu was quite curious and chose to open it. The Fish Jewel flew into the air and turned into a few beast fangs, which were a Blue grade material.

Zhao Fu was slightly disappointed about this because they were only Blue grade materials. However, this was only normal – how could an ordinary divine fish give excellent items?

This was already quite good for the first fish caught, and Zhao Fu attached new bait before lowering the hook into the water again. Soon, he once again felt a tug at the fishing rod, which meant that another fish had been caught. The One World Rod was indeed very good.

Zhao Fu raised the fishing rod, and a divine fish glowing with blue light appeared. Zhao Fu wasn't very excited about this, and after the fish turned into motes of light and entered his body, he once again set up the bait and lowered the hook again.

From then onwards, even though fish took the bait quickly, the next seven times were all blue divine fish. This told Zhao Fu that the lowest grade that the One World Rod would catch was blue divine fish.

Blue divine fish also occasionally gave Fish Jewels, and the items that they gave were only Normal grade.

Zhao Fu once again cast the line, and very soon, the line was tugged by a fish. Zhao Fu lifted it up and found that it was yet another blue divine fish. Even though the frequency was high, Zhao Fu wasn't satisfied with just blue divine fish because he wouldn't be able to make great gains.

Normally, large fish were in deep waters, and Zhao Fu was currently sitting on a large rock by the bank and could only reach the shallow parts. As such, Zhao Fu went over to a large tree that was ten or so meters tall and one meter wide. Zhao Fu cut down this tree with a single strike and cut a chunk out of it to stand on in the lake. This method was simple but crude.

Standing on the tree trunk, Zhao Fu floated to the middle of the lake. The lake was about 2,000 meters wide, which was quite big, and he started to fish in the middle.

Indeed, things immediately changed. Even though most of the fish he caught were blue divine fish, there were now more silver divine fish. There would be at least one silver divine fish every three or so blue divine fish. This reassured Zhao Fu, and he continued to peacefully fish there.

At the other places, everyone was using all sorts of methods to participate in this event, and most places were lively and raucous. At a stream outside of a main city, there were countless players gathered. Some held fishing rods while others held harpoons as they stared at the stream.

Ordinarily, everyone would use tools because using one's hands was simply too difficult. As such, not many people were silly enough to use their hands.

Each of the Legatees used different methods to go about this. Great Xia's Si Ji killed a 300-year-old python and used its bones to form a python rod that gave bonuses to fishing.

Great Shang's Di Wutian destroyed an Ancestral Armament to reforge it into a bronze harpoon that was extremely powerful. Whenever it stabbed out, no fish could escape.

What shocked everyone the most was Great Zhou's historical figure Jiang Ziya, who used a normal fishing rod with a straight hook without bait, yet he still caught many fish.

Great Han's Liu Ye found a 500-year-old Clearheart Bamboo that he turned into a fishing rod that also did quite well.

Chapter 319: Gold Divine Fish

Apart from these Legatees, many ordinary people had great gains as well. After all, the targets for this festival wasn't the Legatees but the commoners.

Within a region, a pale, introverted youth stared at the scene before him with wide eyes and an open mouth.

The youth was named Ye Ye, and his background was quite ordinary. Because he was quite introverted, he was often bullied, so he liked to hide in the Heaven Awaken World, a fantastical world.

When the Divine Fish Festival began, he was on a mountain, and when the gigantic fish turned into motes of light and descended, the small hill beside him had crumbled and revealed a stone spear.

A portion of the front of the stone spear was embedded in the mountain, and the stone spear was quite thin, a bit thicker than one's middle finger. It seemed to have been crafted with meticulous care and was extremely smooth. What's more, the stone spear gave off a strange light that looked quite extraordinary.

Ye Ye stared at it in shock, and there was no one else around. He felt that the stone spear was some sort of treasure, so he climbed up and retrieved the stone spear.

When he held the stone spear, he felt a wave of energy enter his body, and Ye Ye felt a legacy within the stone spear. He also felt many skills enter his mind.

Ye Ye looked at its information and found that the stone spear wasn't a weapon, disappointing him. At that moment, countless divine fish appeared in a small stream nearby. Ye Ye didn't know how to catch fish with his hands, so he tried to use the stone spear to catch fish because it wasn't very heavy.

However, when he stabbed the stone spear into the water, a formless energy spread out, and water sprayed into the air as the divine fish in the surrounding five-meter radius area were blasted into the air, and they turned into countless motes of light that entered Ye Ye's body. In response, Ye Ye stared at this scene in shock.

Elsewhere, Zhang Quansheng was a tanned, simple-looking youth who lived near the seaside in the real world. His family had been fishermen for many generations, and he had learned how to fish from an early age. He was extremely proficient at catching fish, and no fish had ever escaped from his hands before.

When he entered the Heaven Awaken World, he appeared next to a sea and awakened a unique skill called 'Fish Prison Hands.'

Zhang Quansheng didn't have many thoughts about the festival, and he just wanted to get some simple items to sell to support his family. When the Divine Fish Festival began, Zhang Quansheng had jumped into the water, and his hands became a formless cage. Any divine fish that came within two meters of his hand were unable to escape.

Once the divine fish were caught by Zhang Quansheng, they immediately turned into countless motes of light and entered his body, and his Divine Fish Points rapidly increased.

On a green plain, a handsome youth in white sat cross-legged with a zither on his lap. As the wind blew, his clothes fluttered, making it seem as if his body had fused with the stars in the sky.

This person was named Liu Yubai, and he was 24 years old. He had been born blind and was a musician. In the real world, he primarily taught people how to play the zither and lived an extremely tough life.

This was because everyone learned the piano and not the zither nowadays. Adding on the fact that he was blind and had no other skills, it was extremely difficult for him to make a living.

After coming to the Heaven Awaken World, he was still blind, but his other senses had been strengthened. Liu Yubai wasn't very interested in the things in this world, and the only thing that interested him was playing the zither.

Whether it was the Ten Thousand Flowers Festival or the Ghost Festival, Liu Yubai didn't participate because he didn't want to participate in this world's affairs. He would just go to a remote place to play his zither every day.

Today, everything was just like before, and Liu Yubai came here to play his zither. A beautiful, stream-like, gentle melody sounded out as divine fish started to leap out from the stream in front of him, turning into motes of light that entered Liu Yubai's body.

Liu Yubai's dead eyes started to shine with a faint light, and they started to have a trace of life within them.

Masanori Hano was a girl who had just turned 18 years old, and whether it was in the real world or the Heaven Awaken World, she lived next to the sea. She liked water a lot and felt that she had an affinity with water. She had learned to swim at a young age and was a swimming champion at her school.

After coming to the Heaven Awaken World, Masanori Hano liked swimming in the waters here. Her family background was quite good as well, and because her parents were both doctors, she didn't lack money. In the real world, she was also a top student.

Masanori Hano treated the Heaven Awaken World as a fantasy world and felt that the real world was more important. As such, she only played around in the Heaven Awaken World and wasn't interested in participating in the Divine Fish Festival.

However, when she jumped into the sea, countless divine fish came to her side and swam with her. At that time, she didn't know that her fate was gradually changing.

Within the Indian region, a brown-skinned man jumped into a lake holding a wooden spear. Every time he stabbed out with it, he would pierce five or six divine fish.

Countless divine fish turned into motes of light and entered his body, and he continued to stab divine fish. He was called Kabir, and he was quite famous in his hometown. He had been called a prodigy ever since he had been born, and he had immense strength.

These sorts of things happened all over the world. It wasn't just the large families that had a large amount of Fate; some individuals also had a decent amount of Fate that had started to awaken.

Large families' Fate came from their legacies, especially from the Fate passed down by their ancestors. Such Fate was filled with an ancient feeling, while most normal people's Fate was filled with vibrant life force.

As such, normal people weren't to be looked down on. After all, it was possible for normal people to become Kings, reign above large families, and even take down Emperors.

Of course, such people were incredibly rare, and they were almost one in a billion. However, they were destined to be extraordinary and become an extremely bright star.

Right now, Zhao Fu was sitting on his log in the center of his lake, fishing as he cultivated. His gains were quite great, and he had caught 134 blue divine fish and 45 silver divine fish.

It was just that he hadn't encountered even one rare fish, so Zhao Fu switched over to worms that had grown up eating soil filled with spiritual aura. They were extremely costly and cost 100 gold coins each. In total, Zhao Fu had only bought five of these worms.

More valuable bait would attract rarer divine fish because divine fishes' characteristics were like normal fishes'.

Soon, something tugged on Zhao Fu's line, and Zhao Fu smiled, feeling quite hopeful as he raised his fishing rod. However, what he saw greatly surprised him.

Chapter 320: Satisfy You Completely

"Are you serious? This is what I caught?" Zhao Fu was speechless as he looked at the fellow desperately hanging onto the bait. This time, he had fished up a green turtle that was as big as a washbowl.

Zhao Fu had already lifted the fishing rod, but the green turtle was still holding on to the bait and not letting go, dangling in the air.

The green turtle wasn't a fish, much less a divine fish, so why had he fished up such a thing? Zhao Fu couldn't understand this.

After looking through the Divine Fish Festival's description, Zhao Fu realized why this was – during the Divine Fish Festival, other types of aquatic creatures appeared less, but that didn't mean that they wouldn't appear. This was why most people saw and caught divine fish but would occasionally still catch other creatures.

Zhao Fu's precious bait was extremely attractive to divine fish and even more attractive to ordinary fish and other aquatic creatures.

As such, the valuable bait wouldn't just catch extremely rare divine fish but also ordinary aquatic creatures.

Zhao Fu shook his fishing line, trying to shake the green turtle off, but the green turtle just wouldn't let go. Zhao Fu had to take the hook out, and he flicked the green turtle's head, knocking it off before putting on another valuable worm and continuing to fish.

After putting the bait into the water, Zhao Fu felt something tug at the line. This time, Zhao Fu wasn't as hopeful as he raised his fishing rod. A divine fish appeared before him, but it was just a white divine fish.

Zhao Fu was completely annoyed now, and he put on another valuable worm before lowering the hook into the water again.

Time gradually passed, and he felt something bite again. This time, Zhao Fu didn't care anymore, and when he lifted his fishing rod, a gold divine fish appeared in front of him.

The gold divine fish looked like a goldfish but bigger, and it shined with golden light, looking quite noble.

"System announcement! Congratulations, you have caught a goldfish. You have received 300 Divine Fish Points."

Zhao Fu had finally caught a rare type of divine fish, and it had taken quite a lot of effort. The goldfish turned into motes of light and entered Zhao Fu's body, and it gave him another Fish Jewel that gave him a Silver grade item.

Zhao Fu used the last two valuable worms, but he was unable to catch another goldfish. Zhao Fu didn't care that much and started using normal bait again as he continued to cultivate.

The night soon passed, and over the night, Zhao Fu caught 1,200 divine fish and obtained 9,730 Divine Fish Points. Throughout the night, he had only fished up five goldfish.

Zhao Fu felt that the goldfish would be the rarest diving fish he would be able to catch here.

After spending the night here, Zhao Fu felt that this was enough and returned to the Great Qin Town. He found that his gains were greater than other people's, but it was far from enough to purchase one of the ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones. However, his cultivation had risen a lot.

Zhao Fu felt that his method was somewhat lacking. First, he realized that the place where he fished had to be a large body of water because there would be more divine fish there, especially the rare ones. Also, he would have to obtain incredibly valuable bait that couldn't even be bought with money. Unless he took care of these two things, he wouldn't be able to obtain one of the ten Legendary grade City Creation Stones.

At that moment, Guo Binglin came over and paid his respects before saying, "Your Majesty, this subordinate has something to report."

When he heard this, Zhao Fu nodded and motioned for Guo Binglin to speak.

Guo Binglin said, “Your Majesty, while we were in another region, we heard about a massive lake that spawned violet divine fish, so I especially came to report to you.”

“Oh?” Zhao Fu was quite surprised that violet divine fish had appeared, so he decided to go there to try out his luck. Now, it seemed that one of those things had been taken care of.

Regarding bait, most large fish were carnivorous and often ate smaller fish. In that case, what sort of small fish should he use as bait?

When he thought of this, a look of delight appeared on Zhao Fu’s face, and he immediately ordered his people to go and purchase small fish. However, he soon received news that the fish markets only sold low-grade fish and that the high-grade fish would immediately be bought by others when they appeared. It seemed that many people had the same idea as Zhao Fu.

“Ai!” This caused Zhao Fu to sigh. What else could he do? The more valuable the bait, the rarer the divine fish.

In the end, Zhao Fu made a decision – his God-Killer Royal Bloodline was a Level 11 Bloodline and quite rare. If he fed his blood to some small fish, they would definitely become more attractive to larger fish.

After making this decision, Zhao Fu asked his subordinates to collect some small fish, and he placed the fish in a bucket with just enough water to cover them. The small fish were only roughly as long as a finger, and many of them swam around within the bucket.

Zhao Fu stretched out his arm and cut it, causing his blood to drip into the bucket. The black-red blood fell into the bucket, and the countless fish happily devoured the blood.

Zhao Fu held the Royal Wood Sword, and a powerful aura of life entered his body, quickly healing that wound. After that, Zhao Fu went to the lake that Guo Binglin had mentioned.

The lake was called the Autumn Lake, and it was incredibly big, being over 100 kilometers wide. No wonder violet divine fish had appeared here. It was possible that even rarer divine fish would appear here.

After Zhao Fu arrived, there were already countless people fishing here. It seemed that this place had already become a hotspot for fishing, so Zhao Fu didn’t plan to fish by the side. This time, he had brought a small wooden boat with him in his King’s Ring.

Zhao Fu sat in the boat and headed to the center of the lake. However, there were already many boats here, and he even saw ten or so boats that had three levels, looking quite grand. These were most likely built by large factions.

After looking around, Zhao Fu didn’t mind, and he moved his small boat to a place where there weren’t many others around and started to fish.

This time, Zhao Fu was using the small fish that had consumed his blood. He had no idea what the effects would be, and after attaching the small fish, he lowered it into the water.

In just a few seconds, Zhao Fu felt a tug at his fishing line. He was quite surprised that he had caught a fish already, and he quickly lifted the fishing rod as a silver divine fish appeared before him.

The very first fish he had fished up here had been a silver one – this wasn't bad. Zhao Fu once again attached a small fish, and in another few seconds, he caught yet another silver divine fish. The next time Zhao Fu cast his line, a gold divine fish appeared before him.
