Chapter 421 – Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate

At that moment, Zhao Fu's three swords seemed to detect something, and they transmitted some information to Zhao Fu. Zhao Fu understood the situation and smiled as he said, "Do you want me to undo the seal? I can release you, but the price is that you must obey me!"

The woman in green sexily smiled and said, "I don't mind obeying you, but you have to satisfy me and make me feel good; then, I'll naturally obey you."

Zhao Fu frowned and asked, "You don't want me to unseal you? You must have been here for a long time; don't you want your freedom?"

"Of course I want to be unsealed, but compared to that, my body feels so pent up. Hurry up! I can't endure it anymore."

The woman in green looked at Zhao Fu and stretched out her red tongue, licking her sexy lips and seeming incredibly thirsty and desperate. She got off her stone bed, and her large breasts and bottom swayed as she walked towards Zhao Fu.

Seeing this, Zhao Fu realized it wouldn't be so easy to make this woman submit; she had to be taught a lesson first. This woman's strength had been sealed, but because it was possible that she still had a bit of her power left, Zhao Fu used his full strength from the beginning.

Zhao Fu stretched out his hand towards the woman in green, and a black mark appeared on his palm that gave off a black light as a formless energy rushed towards the woman.

Boom!!

A massive explosion sounded out as a ten-meter wide crater on the ground was blasted open by the formless energy.

The woman in green lightly backflipped, landing on a large stone and easily dodging Zhao Fu's attack. She flirtatiously smiled as she said, "What a surprise; it's basic King's Power. Not bad, little brother, but it won't be that easy to conquer me. Use your lower half to conquer me if you dare!"

This was the first time that Zhao Fu had ever encountered such an outrageous woman. If it wasn't for the fact that she was a Level 10 Disaster, as well as the mystery about her, Zhao Fu would have left immediately, not bothering to deal with her.

Moreover, it seemed that the chains were unable to seal her full power, and she still had a portion of her strength. As such, she was still extremely dangerous. Zhao Fu couldn't help but feel wary and draw the Sky Demon Sword.

Seeing Zhao Fu prepare to attack, the woman in green's tone changed, and she said, "Alright, if you can unseal me, I'll obey you."

At that moment, the woman in green was gleefully thinking about her strength being restored after she was unsealed. When that time came, they would see who would be obeying who.

Seeing the woman in green finally become serious, Zhao Fu carried out his plan. He thought about the unsealing items he had, such as the Unsealing Stones, Unsealing Talismans, and an incredibly powerful unsealing item.

[Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate]: A powerful unsealing item that can break through all sorts of seals. Single-use consumable.

Zhao Fu told the woman in green to stand at the center before taking out hundreds of Unsealing Talismans. These Unsealing Talismans were quite weak and could only break open some minor seals. However, Zhao Fu decided to use many of them to see if they would work.

Zhao Fu threw the talismans, which turned into rays of light and stuck onto the chains. The chains continuously trembled, but they seemed otherwise unaffected.

After Zhao Fu finished using the talismans, the chains still seemed fine. Seeing how tough the chains were, Zhao Fu guessed that the Unsealing Stones were useless, so he could only take out the Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate.

The woman in green felt a bit disappointed. After being sealed in here for so long, if she had the ability to, she would have long since run off. However, she was unable to break free from the chains with her own strength – this showed how powerful the chains were.

At that moment, Zhao Fu used the Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate. The Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate floated into the air and gave off a powerful white light, which turned into a two meter wide Eight Trigrams diagram that gave off a powerful aura and radiated in all directions.

Zhao Fu walked forwards and placed his hand in the center of the taichi in the Eight Trigrams diagram. He sent his power into it, and the black and white sides of the taichi started to spin as a white light shot onto the woman in green's body.

A small Eight Trigrams diagram appeared on the woman's forehead, which started to quickly spin. The chains tied to her body went taught as if they were withstanding a massive amount of energy.

Feeling this, the woman in green felt delighted. She could feel her body regaining its strength, and she started to struggle free from the chains.

Zhao Fu sent a massive amount of King's Power into the Eight Trigrams diagram, causing it to shine with an even more intense white light.

Under the assault of the two types of power, the chains could no longer endure it and started to shatter. In just a few moments, the 36 chains had all been destroyed.

Immediately, countless dark clouds gathered in the sky, and the rain became even denser. The floodwaters thrashed about, and even savage lightning bolts descended, making it seem like the apocalypse.

Following this, the Eight Trigrams diagram in front of Zhao Fu turned into countless motes of light and disappeared.

A powerful aura suddenly exploded out, making it seem as if the water had solidified. The woman in green had broken free from her seal, and her power was truly immense.

“Hahaha...” The woman in green started to wildly laugh, no longer seeming as seductive. Now, she just seemed wild and arrogant.

Suddenly, the woman in green turned to look at Zhao Fu, and her eyes were as savage as those of a ravenous wolf’s. “Boy, thank you for helping me undo my seal. You angered me just then – no man has ever dared to refuse my request, especially a man I want. Today, I’m going to take you by force and suck out all of your basic King’s Power.”

The woman in green loudly laughed as she sprang towards Zhao Fu.

However, Zhao Fu was prepared and coldly looked at the woman in green. He stretched out his hand and grabbed at the air, causing the entire space to tremble.

Clang, clang, clang...

Clanging sounds rang out as countless chains appeared from all directions and shot towards the woman in green. The woman in green stared in surprise and was locked by the hundreds of chains, causing her to dangle in mid-air.

In actuality, the Eight Trigrams Unsealing Plate was unable to undo the seal – it was the King’s Crown that had actually undone the seal.

After all, the King’s Crown was forged from a God-Sealing Beast’s body and an Emperor’s bones. One of the God-Sealing Beast’s abilities was to fuse its own chains with other chains.

Zhao Fu had secretly fused the King’s Crown’s chains with the chains sealing the woman in green. Then, he had temporarily released her and then re-sealed her. Now, if he could get her to turn back into her original form, the disaster would stop, and he would get all the credit, resulting in him obtaining incredible rewards.

“Haha, perverted dragon, you dare to scheme against my owner? Now you know how wrong you were!” the Sky Demon said as it laughed.

The woman in green coldly harrumphed and felt quite surprised that there was a Sky Demon hiding in Zhao Fu’s sword. She had been completely fooled and didn’t say anything else.

Chapter 422 - Emperor Phoenix

Zhao Fu walked towards the woman in green dangling in the air and prepared to force her back into her original form to resolve the flood and receive a massive reward.

Seeing Zhao Fu walk over, the woman in green struggled for a while, and after finding that she couldn’t break free, she went back to her flirtatious self and said, “Owner, I’ll obey now. Please release me; I’ll serve owner well with my mouth, my breasts, and my feet. I’ll also do any position you want!”

Zhao Fu ignored her words – right now, Zhao Fu was using the Dragon-Sealing Well and the chains' power to lock her down. Once he released her, it would be almost impossible for him to catch her again if she escaped.

The woman in green struggled for a bit more, and after finding that it was impossible to break free, she could only sigh and give in.

However, at that moment, Zhao Fu suddenly stopped walking. He realized those people trapped on the mountain peaks had some value, and if he stopped the flood, they wouldn't be in danger anymore.

After thinking for a while, he realized that those people on the mountain peaks were essentially free resources and that it would be too much of a shame not to take them in. As such, he looked at the woman in green and decided to deal with her later.

Zhao Fu returned to Great Qin and bought many boats and ships. He then came back to the region with enough people to man all of the boats and ships. This place had many low areas and flat areas that were already submerged, so only the places with mountain peaks would have survivors.

Now that the woman in green was under Zhao Fu's control, the flood had calmed down, but it hadn't receded yet. The sky was still dark, and it continued to drizzle.

When Zhao Fu's people appeared on the boats and ships, all of the people on the mountain peaks saw a trace of hope within all of the despair. They all kowtowed, begging the soldiers to save them.

This was exactly what Great Qin's soldiers wanted to see, and they smiled as they helped these people onto the boats and ships. The people were desperate to get on, and they were afraid that the boats and ships would leave. Moreover, the floodwaters still weren't receding, and because they might rise even higher, staying here would only result in death.

Zhao Fu had sent thousands of boats and ships, and he brought back 230,000 or so people back to Great Qin. However, Zhao Fu was quite disappointed because these were all the people remaining in an entire region; the rest had either drowned or been evacuated already.

When the floodwaters receded, there would be countless corpses left behind. Zhao Fu didn't feel too much about this because they weren't Great Qin's subjects.

Great Qin's population had already been at around 870,000 people, and with these 230,000 people, they now had roughly 1.1 million residents. At the same time, Zhao Fu had obtained many City Creation Stones, and Great Qin now had 624.

This was quite an unexpected harvest, and Zhao Fu grinned as he returned to that stone tunnel.

Seeing that Zhao Fu had returned, the woman in green let out a sigh of relief. Zhao Fu had left for a long time, and she had thought that he had abandoned her after re-sealing her. She had no idea when she would be freed again, and when she thought of how long that would be, she had started to feel afraid.

As such, upon seeing him, she smiled and called out, "Owner, you're back!"

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised that her tone had become much better, and he gave a simple reply. He came before her and stretched out a hand, and a formless energy covered her.

The woman in green's body gave off a green light before turning into a sword.

The appearance of this sword was somewhat domineering. It was a steel-green color and about a meter long and three fingers wide. At the place where the blade and hilt connected, there was a dragon's head, and the hilt seemed to be made out of dragon scales. The sword gave off a powerful aura of suppression, and it also had an aura of disaster.

Zhao Fu gripped the sword and sent his King's Power into it, fully controlling it and not giving it a chance to resist. At the same time, Zhao Fu received a system announcement.

"System Announcement! Congratulations, you have subdued the Sin Dragon Sword and stopped the flood. You have obtained 600,000 Virtue Points."

Zhao Fu felt quite shocked to have suddenly received so many Virtue Points.

A rainbow-colored crystal appeared in front of Zhao Fu, and seeing this light, Zhao Fu's heart rapidly thumped. He excitedly went over and picked up the rainbow-colored crystal.

Last time, it was the rainbow-colored Fish Jewel, and when he opened the rainbow-colored Fish Jewel, Zhao Fu had obtained a Heavenly Domain Stone.

Zhao Fu deeply breathed in and chose to use the rainbow-colored crystal.

Because Zhao Fu had subdued the Sin Dragon Sword, the overwhelming floodwaters on the surface gradually receded. At that moment, a rainbow light appeared in the sky that pierced through the dark clouds. Soon, the dark clouds also disappeared, revealing a blue sky as if a miracle had happened.

Within the stone tunnel, Zhao Fu looked at the crystal as it continuously giving off a rainbow light, and he could feel the powerful aura it emanated. After the light disappeared, a crystal statue appeared before Zhao Fu.

This stone statue had a chicken-like head, a snake-like neck, a body like a mandarin duck, wings like a great roc, legs like a crane, and long feathers on its tail. Its entire body gave off a noble and dignified aura; this was a crystal statue of an incredibly realistic phoenix.

The phoenix statue was two meters tall, which was quite big. Because it was completely made of crystal, it looked incredibly beautiful, and Zhao Fu looked at its description.

[Emperor Phoenix Statue]: Contains a multitude of Phoenix Qi that can be used by the user.

The description as quite short, and Zhao Fu still had no idea what this statue could be used for. As such, he decided to ask Xianru about it later – she would know more about it.

After putting away the statue, Zhao Fu looked at the sword. The sword was forged from a Sin Dragon, and it was quite powerful. Its grade was definitely greater than Epic grade.

[Sin Dragon Sword]: Grade: Saint Armament – Level 2, Stats: Strength +40, Intelligence +35, Constitution +30, Agility +30, Description: A sword forged from an incredibly powerful Sin Dragon. Not only is its power immense, but it also has a disaster attribute.

Indeed, it was something that surpassed Epic grade weapons – it was a terrifying Saint Armament. Above Epic grade weapons were Saint Armaments, Divine Earth Armaments, and Emperor Heaven Armaments.

Every grade was then split into nine levels. The Sin Dragon Sword was a Level 2 Saint Armament, and the Xuanyuan family's Regulus Sword and the Chiyou Sabre were both Level 1 Saint Armaments.

Saint Armaments were something that Epic grade weapons couldn't even compare to. In fact, even 100 Epic grade weapons couldn't compare to a single Saint Armament – this showed the value of Saint Armaments. At the same time, Saint Armaments had devastating power.

Saint Armaments were also incredibly rare – there wouldn't be greater than ten in the world, and now, Zhao Fu had one.

After looking at the Sin Dragon Sword's stats, a satisfied smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face. He had suddenly gained 600,000 Virtue Points, which was simply astounding. With the 170,000 Virtue Points from before, he now had 770,000 Virtue Points, which could buy many things. Just thinking about it made him feel excited.

Chapter 423 - Pure Land

"Owner! I also want to stay outside. Also, I haven't even served you; I want owner's big d-" the woman in green said seductively as she rubbed her large chest against Zhao Fu's arm.

However, the other three sword spirits were unable to take this at all, and the Sky Demon immediately cut her off and said, "You perverted dragon, can you not be so disgraceful?!"

The woman in green ignored the Sky Demon and continued to rub against Zhao Fu's arm as she said coyly, "Please? Please? Owner!!"

Zhao Fu didn't say anything, and even the taciturn Slaughtering Ghost said, "How shameless! Owner, you should seal her again and not let her out."

Hearing these words, the woman in green became quite angry and coldly harrumphed, "As owner's slave, how could you not even take care of his body? If I were owner, I would have thrown you unthoughtful slaves away."

These words made the other sword spirits feel speechless, and they all paused.

"That... if owner wants us to, I can also serve him!" Celia, who was fairly shy, said with a red face.

Seeing this, the Sky Demon coldly harrumphed. She was a demon and didn't care about these things, so she said, "I can also serve owner. After all, owner has a Level 11 Bloodline and is a King, so he has a noble identity and deserves to be served by me."

At that moment, the Slaughtering Ghost's cold voice became even more piercing and icy, and she said, "I am only willing to serve as owner's sword to create a pure land within this chaotic and bloodthirsty world; a place without gods, buddhas, demons, or devils, creating peace in this world!"

"I believe owner isn't a lustful person; rather, he's a King who will usher in a prosperous era. Of course, if owner wants me to, I am willing to give my body!"

After the Slaughtering Ghost spoke, the clattering of armor could be heard as if the Slaughtering Ghost was taking off her clothes.

"Alright! I have things to do." Zhao Fu, who hadn't spoken this whole time, felt quite speechless and cut everyone off. He looked at the woman in green and said, "Go back into your sword. I'll also wear you by my side."

The woman in green smiled and nodded. She turned into a green light and returned to her sword, and the other sword spirits didn't say anything either.

Zhao Fu attached the Sin Dragon Sword's scabbard to his side, and now, he had four swords there, which was the limit. If he equipped five or more swords, it would be too restrictive and restrict his movements too much.

By now, it was the second day of the Disaster Festival, and he had no idea how other people were doing. Now that he had so many Virtue Points, it would be a tragedy if he reached the Exchange Stone Stele and all of the top ten medicinal pills were gone.

Zhao Fu had no idea if this would happen. After all, there had been people claiming things on the very first day, so Zhao Fu didn't waste time and immediately went to the system main city to take a look.

Luckily, all of the top ten medicinal pills were still there.

Zhao Fu looked at the medicinal pills and didn't consider the number one pill, the Dao Comprehension Pill, for now. He wouldn't be able to use it anytime soon, so it would be better to claim things that he could use right now.

The first thing that he bought was the Heavenly Sage Pill, which could raise his grade to Heaven Grade. This cost 250,000 Virtue Points. The second pill that he bought was the Revival Pill, which could bring someone back from the dead, and it was incredibly valuable – he spent 200,000 on this.

The third pill that he bought was the All Poison Divine Pill. It could give him a Poison Spirit Constitution, giving him immunity or great resistance against countless types of poisons. It would be of great use in key moments. For this, he spent 170,000 Virtue Points.

In total, these three pills cost him 620,000 Virtue Points, so he had 150,000 Virtue Points left. The number one pill, the Dao Comprehension Pill, cost 300,000 Virtue Points, which he couldn't afford at the moment.

Zhao Fu turned his gaze to the other medicinal pills. He didn't consider the Vermillion Bird Blood Pill for now, and he instead looked at the seventh-ranked pill, the Stage Breaking Pill, in detail. Rather than making one immediately a Stage 5 expert, it would simply make one's cultivation progress to Stage 5 incredibly smooth and unhindered.

Cultivating to Stage 5 would take quite some time, so this made Zhao Fu want to give up on it. Since he was only 150,000 Virtue Points away from claiming the number one pill, the Dao Comprehension Pill, he decided to gain those points quickly. As such, he didn't waste any time after buying the pills, and he didn't use them either.

He called Wang Ergou over and asked him to investigate where there were other large disasters in other regions.

Soon, Wang Ergou came back with some documents because he had already done a lot of research on the surrounding regions.

Zhao Fu chose a region and immediately headed over.

Many people noticed that three medicinal pills had suddenly disappeared from the Exchange Stone Stele, and because they had disappeared together, they started to wonder if the same person had bought all three of them.

However, after thinking about it, most people ruled this out as impossible. After all, the number one medicinal pill was still there. If someone had that many Virtue Points, the person definitely would've bought the first-ranked medicinal pill. None of them could guess Zhao Fu's reasoning.

Moreover, these ordinary people could barely obtain even a few Virtue Points, and they had to suffer from the disasters. No one believed that anyone could suddenly obtain so many Virtue Points.

As for who had obtained those medicinal pills, everyone guessed that one of them was definitely Great Qin. After all, by now, everyone knew about what Great Qin had done so far.

Apart from the Divine Fish Festival, Great Qin had ranked first in all of the other festivals. This caused the other countless factions to feel terrified – Great Qin was simply too powerful, and no other faction could compare to it.

None of the ordinary people or smaller factions reacted greatly to three of the top ten medicinal pills disappearing. After all, none of them had expected to obtain any of them, but some of the more powerful factions started to feel worried.

After hearing about this, Su Yan looked quite serious. Right now, he led 80% of the factions in the northern side of the Midland Continent, and altogether, they were stronger than Great Qin. There were people a part of his alliance in all of the regions, so he roughly knew of Great Qin's movements.

From the flood, to Great Qin buying boats and ships en-masse, to the flood receding, and the three medicinal pills disappearing...

Su Yan's expression became uglier and uglier, and he could already guess that it was Great Qin's Legatee who had claimed those three medicinal pills. With the amount of Fate he possessed, Great Qin's Legatee would develop faster and faster. Su Yan felt that Great Qin would only become more terrifying if he continued to wait.

Immediately, Su Yan made some amendments to the information he had received and told everyone that it was Great Qin who had calmed the flood and that Great Qin had obtained massive benefits. Not only had Great Qin obtained a rainbow-colored crystal, but Great Qin had also obtained 500,000 or so people from the flood.

Even though Su Yan guessed that Great Qin had only obtained 250,000 or so people, he had to exaggerate the numbers to make the threat of Great Qin seem even greater. After all, 500,000 people was a small figure compared to an entire region, and it was still believable.

Finally, Su Yan told everyone clearly that it was Great Qin's Legatee who had obtained all three of the taken top ten medicinal pills!

Chapter 424 - Level 6 Disaster Beast

After Su Yan told the factions this information, it was as if a massive boulder had been dropped into a lake, causing massive waves and ripples. Even some of the powerful factions started to become serious.

Not only did Great Qin have an enormous amount of Fate, but it also had a powerful military force that was enough to threaten them. If they didn't do anything now, they could only wait to be destroyed when Great Qin grew more powerful.

The countless factions started to discuss this matter. Now, Great Qin was developing many times faster than them, and they had to do something to slow it down.

The other Dynasty Legatees no longer cared about their dignity anymore and also joined. Now, Great Qin was isolated from the rest of China and viewed as an enemy by almost everyone.

Zhao Fu didn't know about this at all – he had gone to another region. By now, it was the night of the third day, and even though it was night time, it was still bright as day. It was as if there were countless suns in the sky, and the searing light felt as if it could burn people's skin off.

It was around 60 degrees Celsius, and the ground started to crack from the heat and dryness. The trees had also started to wither, and any person standing directly in the open would be baked in just a few minutes.

As soon as he arrived, Zhao Fu was forced to use his King's Domain to block out the intense light and the boiling heat.

This was most likely a drought, mainly because of the intense sunlight. There were too many suns in the sky, and the Disaster Beasts were fiery birds.

These birds were completely made out of fire and looked quite ferocious. They gave off an intense light that was quite blinding, making them look like little suns.

Just as Zhao Fu arrived, he encountered three Fire Disaster Beasts. These Fire Disaster Beasts were all Level 1 and quite easy to deal with. However, because Zhao Fu's aura was too powerful, they immediately fled. Zhao Fu found that after using up his Evil-Crushing Spears, he lacked long-range attacks.

After thinking about it, Zhao Fu could only take out the Great Spirit Roc Bow. The arrows it shot were weaker than the Evil-Crushing Spears, but he could only make do for now. Apart from the Great Spirit Roc Bow, he didn't have any other way of attacking from a distance.

Zhao Fu drew an arrow and released it, and a violet light shot towards one of the Fire Disaster Beasts. It drew an arc in the air and hit the Fire Disaster Beast in the wing, but most of the violet energy was blocked by the flames. The arrow was burned to ashes by the flames.

The Disaster Beast cried out in pain, and the injured Disaster Beast and the two Disaster Beasts around it no longer escaped and instead turned around angrily to attack Zhao Fu, shooting out fireballs.

When he saw that the Fire Disaster Beasts were no longer flying away, Zhao Fu grinned and put away his bow. He flew into the air and killed the three of them quickly.

Zhao Fu then continued onwards and killed a few more Disaster Beasts, resulting in him obtaining 20,000 or so Virtue Points. Now, he was getting closer and closer to the Dao Comprehension Pill.

Suddenly, a massive explosion sounded out. Zhao Fu looked at the horizon, which had turned into a sea of flames, where a bird with a wingspan of 200 meters was battling with a young man.

The fire bird was a Level 6 Disaster Beast, while the young man was a City Lord because there was a City Lord Seal floating above his head and giving off a powerful light.

Zhao Fu temporarily didn't act and decided to hide and watch for now. Neither side was an ally to him, so it would be best to wait for them to tire themselves out and kill both of them.

However, the young man had already seen Zhao Fu, and seeing how calm he looked, he realized something and flew over.

The Level 6 Fire Disaster Beast roared as it spread its wings, condensing hundreds of fireballs that gave off an incredibly searing aura. It then flapped its wings, sending the countless fireballs streaking towards the young man like meteors.

The young man slashed out with his sword, sending out an arc of light that was hundreds of meters wide, causing the fireballs to explode.

By now, the young man wasn't too far away from Zhao Fu and shouted, "Sir, I am Shepherd Plains City's City Lord, Mu Yuan. Please help me kill this Level 6 Disaster Beast; all of the items will belong to you, sir."

Mu Yuan hadn't come to kill this Disaster Beast for the rewards. It was because the disaster it caused had greatly affected the system main cities and not a single person would dare to come out onto the streets. They could only hide within their houses, and most of the water sources had dried up. The crops were all dying, and if it hadn't been for the preparations they had made, many people would've died of thirst already.

Mu Yuan was determined to kill this Disaster Beast right now, for the longer it existed for, the greater the damage it could cause. Once all of the water sources completely evaporated or large fires started, the situation would become even more dangerous.

Hearing Mu Yuan's words, Zhao Fu did not immediately respond and started to weigh the benefits and costs of helping him.

In the end, Zhao Fu decided to help the City Lord. Together, it would be quite difficult to kill the Level 6 Disaster Beast. Moreover, it wasn't too likely that they would tire each other out or injure each other severely because Mu Yuan had now noticed Zhao Fu. No person was stupid enough to do all of the work and allow someone else to reap all of the benefits.

Seeing Zhao Fu agree, Mu Yuan let out a sigh of relief. Facing a Level 6 Disaster Beast by himself was quite difficult.

"Skreeeee!!" The massive Fire Disaster Beast cried out and caught up to Mu Yuan. Its fiery claws gave off an incredibly dense blistering aura as it raked towards Mu Yuan.

Mu Yuan turned and his eyes glinted as he roared, "Three Flying Strikes!"

Three terrifying arcs of light shot out from Mu Yuan's sword that gave off extremely sharp auras as they collided with the Fire Disaster Beast's claws.

Boom!!

A massive sound rang out as a shockwave and wild gusts of wind resulted from this clash.

At that moment, Zhao Fu also acted. He drew the Sin Dragon Sword and prepared to test its power.

When Zhao Fu drew the Sin Dragon Sword, an enormous wave of power flowed into his body. Zhao Fu pointed the sword towards the ground, and a green light came out of the Sin Dragon Sword. Countless streams of water erupted out from the ground as if there was a fountain, and water quickly gathered the hundreds of meters around them.

Zhao Fu vigorously raised his sword, and a water dragon tens of meters long rose up like a bolt of lightning and smashed into the Fire Disaster Beast, sending it flying. White smoke rose from the Fire Disaster Beast's body, and its injury looked quite serious.

The Sin Dragon Sword was water-attributed, and because water countered fire, it dealt great damage to this Fire Disaster Beast.

Mu Yuan was quite shocked to see that Zhao Fu's attack was even more powerful than his. Based on this, the person in front of him was definitely a powerful expert.

After being hit by this attack, the Fire Disaster Beast turned its gaze furiously to Zhao Fu and charged towards him instead of Mu Yuan.

Mu Yuan once again attacked, sending out a massive sword wind towards the Fire Disaster Beast. Zhao Fu also flew into the sky and started to attack.

Chapter 425 - Dragon Qi and Phoenix Qi

Zhao Fu and Mu Yuan alternated their attacks, and their powerful attacks forced the Fire Disaster Beast into a disadvantageous position.

At that moment, Mu Yuan grabbed an opportunity and dealt a severe blow to the Fire Disaster Beast, causing it to madly charge towards him.

At that moment, Zhao Fu raised the Sin Dragon Sword, and countless streams of water gathered towards it, forming a water sword that was a hundred meters long. Zhao Fu slashed down at the Fire Disaster Beast from behind, and the water sword cleaved the Fire Disaster Beast's body in two.

Bang!

The Fire Disaster Beast's gigantic body exploded into flames, and a fiery crystal was left behind where it was.

"System announcement! You have killed a Level 6 Disaster Beast and obtained 40,000 Achievement Points."

Now, Zhao Fu had enough Virtue Points to exchange for the Dao Comprehension Pill. He felt quite delighted and took the fiery crystal and put it away.

Mu Yuan smiled as he flew over and said, "Thank you, sir, for your help. Would you like to come to Shepherd Plains City so that I can thank you and show you our hospitality?"

Zhao Fu thought about it, and since it was Mu Yuan's territory and he didn't quite trust Mu Yuan yet, he decided to decline. He could now buy the Dao Comprehension Pill, and he didn't want someone to claim it before him.

Hearing this, Mu Yuan felt a bit disappointed and said goodbye to Zhao Fu before turning into a ray of light and disappearing. Now that the Level 6 Disaster Beast had died, the temperature had greatly fallen, and the light had become less intense, making it less hot than before.

Zhao Fu returned to Holy Light City and took a look at the Exchange Stone Stele. The number ten pill, the Hundred Dragon Sun Pill, and the number nine pill, the Might Pill, had been claimed.

No one yet had the ability to buy the number one pill, the Dao Comprehension Pill, so Zhao Fu bought it. Looking at the black and white medicinal pill in his hand, Zhao Fu felt quite satisfied and no longer felt any pressure.

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu planned to rest and take care of some other matters after fighting for three days.

First, Zhao Fu used the Level 6 Disaster Crystal to see what he would obtain. The crystal continuously shined with a fiery light, and a jade giving off a searing aura appeared.

This piece of jade was about as big as his palm, and it was the shape of a fiery bird – it looked quite like that Fire Disaster Beast from before. It was a fire-red color and was quite hot. If anyone touched it directly without any protection, that person would be burned.

[Fire Disaster Beast Crystal]: A special item from the Disaster Festival that can be used to enhance equipment and create Disaster Equipment.

“Disaster Equipment?” Zhao Fu thought about it and decided to use it on the Great Spirit Roc Bow. Right now, he lacked long-range attacks. If he could enhance the Great Spirit Roc Bow, it would be of great use to him in the future.

Following this, Zhao Fu fused the Fire Disaster Beast Crystal with the Great Spirit Roc Bow, and great changes happened to the bow.

The bow became a red-violet color, and its appearance became much more refined and exquisite. It also had a picture of a fiery bird on it, and the bow gave off a fire-attributed energy.

Zhao Fu looked at the bow’s information and found that its name had changed to Disaster Fire bow. The stats were still there, but because the bow had been enhanced by something called ‘Fire Disaster,’ its power was many times greater than before. It had also become an exquisite Legendary grade weapon.

Now, Zhao Fu could finally put this bow to good use. He happily put it away and prepared to use the Heavenly Sage Pill and rest.

However, he suddenly remembered that he had almost forgotten something and ordered people to bring Xianru over.

A short while later, Xianru came to Zhao Fu’s room and bowed before asking, “Your Majesty, what do you need?”

Zhao Fu nodded and took out the two-meter tall phoenix statue and asked, “What is this, and what use does it have?”

Xianru looked at it in curiosity and examined it, after which she revealed a shocked expression and said, “Your Majesty, this is a divine item. If it has a great amount of Phoenix Qi, its power will be equivalent to a Nation Armament; if it has a massive amount of Phoenix Qi, its power will be equivalent to a Clan Armament; if it has an amount as large as an ocean, this item’s power will be even more powerful than a Clan Armament.”

Hearing Xianru’s words, Zhao Fu also felt quite shocked, and his gaze became quite serious. “Is this thing really that powerful? And what is Phoenix Qi?”

Xianru nodded seriously and explained, “Your Majesty, you most likely know that a Son of Heaven is also called a Dragon of Heaven. Your body has Dragon Qi, and the counterpart is Phoenix Qi, which is something that a Daughter of Heaven has.

“In ancient times, anyone who was chosen to be an imperial concubine would have to have Phoenix Qi. There are more people with Phoenix Qi than people with Dragon Qi, but the number is still not great. After all, there would be countless women within a harem, but only a few would be official imperial concubines.

“Phoenix Qi is an important type of Fate. Dragon Qi is extremely domineering and suited to fighting, conquering, expanding one’s territory, and establishing a nation, but Phoenix Qi is milder and more suited to administering internal affairs and solidifying the empire.

“Dragon Qi is strong, and Phoenix Qi is gentle. Not only is Phoenix Qi important to Your Majesty, but it can also be of great help to you and all of Great Qin.”

After hearing Xianru's explanation, Zhao Fu felt less confused and asked, "The number of women with Phoenix Qi must be very few, and I doubt there are any with such a great amount of Phoenix Qi. Does that mean the Emperor Phoenix Statue is useless?"

Xianru smiled as she replied, "Not at all, Your Majesty. This is the Age of Kings, and all of the Legatees have Son of Heaven Fate. For anyone who becomes an Emperor, this wife will be the Empress, his mother will be the Empress Dowager, his daughters and sisters will become princesses, and all of them will have a large amount of Phoenix Qi."

The implications of this were that if he took another Emperor's women, the amount of Phoenix Qi he would have at his disposal would be much greater. However, wasn't that a bit too vicious?

At that moment, Xianru continued, "Also, Your Majesty, the more beautiful a woman, the likelier that she has a great amount of Phoenix Qi. Since ancient times, beauties have been quite unlucky and wouldn't live very long; very few of them died good deaths.

"Your Majesty, you have quite a few good candidates by your side, so you can..."

Hearing these words, Zhao Fu couldn't help but cut Xianru off, "We'll talk more about this after the Festival ends."

Xianru could tell what Zhao Fu was thinking, and she said seriously, "Your Majesty, you don't actually have to do anything to them. All you need to do is bring them back, add them to the harem, give them a title, and obtain their Phoenix Qi. In this chaotic world, there's no use worrying about such feelings and morality; the strong are a law unto themselves in this world.

"There's no need to see them as people; just look at them as tools that contain Phoenix Qi. With enough Phoenix Qi, this statue will become an Emperor Phoenix that will protect Great Qin's Nation Fate. Not only is this beneficial to Your Majesty, but it will also be beneficial to Great Qin in the future as well."

After hearing this, Zhao Fu sighed and said, "Alright, that's enough. I'll take care of this."

Xianru felt that she had overstepped her position and bowed as she said, "Your Majesty, I spoke a bit harshly before; please forgive me!"

Chapter 426 - Five Celestial Senses

Hearing Xianru's words, Zhao Fu lightly laughed as he replied, "You were just thinking about what's best for Great Qin. I understand, so you can leave now."

Xianru let out a breath of relief and bowed before leaving.

Now that he knew more about the Emperor Phoenix Statue, Zhao Fu put it away and sat on his bed. He took out a green, jade-like medicinal pill that gave off a fragrant odor – it was the All Poison Divine Pill.

After consuming the All Poison Divine Pill, Zhao Fu started to refine it. This process was quite painful – after the pill entered his stomach, it turned into a wave of green energy that spread out. It felt as if there were countless ants tearing and biting at his flesh, causing Zhao Fu to grimace.

Zhao Fu tightly closed his eyes and continued to refine the medicinal pill. Only after a while did the pain subside. The green energy was completely absorbed by his body and disappeared.

Now, there was a green flower within Zhao Fu's body. This flower had five petals and three leaves, and it was as tall as a finger. It also gave off a green light.

“System announcement! Congratulations, you have obtained a Poison Spirit Constitution. From now on, you will have great resistance towards any poison.”

Hearing this system announcement, a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face. He then took out a golden medicinal pill, the Heavenly Sage Pill.

After consuming the Heavenly Sage Pill, Zhao Fu's body trembled, and even his soul trembled. The Heavenly Sage Pill gave off a golden light within Zhao Fu's body, making it seem as if his entire body was shining with golden light.

Zhao Fu once again tightly closed his eyes and started to refine the Heavenly Sage Pill. This process was quite comfortable – the Heavenly Sage Pill turned into a golden stream of fountain water that cleansed Zhao Fu's body and soul. He felt incredibly soothed, and his soul felt quite peaceful.

“System announcement! You have consumed the Heavenly Sage Pill, and your Grade has increased to Lower Heaven grade.”

Zhao Fu was quite surprised to receive this system announcement. He had never thought that he would have unlocked another one of the five Celestial Senses. Zhao Fu was quite curious as to what Heaven Sense was.

He looked into the information and found that it was the closeness between a person and the heavens and the earth. The closer one was with the heavens and the earth, the greater one's Grade would be. Heaven Grade meant that one's closeness with the heavens and earth was on a divine level, so one's cultivation speed would be incredibly fast. It would also be easier for them to control the source energy of the world.

At the same time, Heaven Sense meant that one was closer to the heavens, and it would be easier for them to be acknowledged by the heavens. Zhao Fu felt his Fate being refined and made purer, and he also felt that he now possessed another type of Fate. This wasn't Son of Heaven Fate but Fate that only belonged to peerless experts.

Sons of Heaven weren't the only ones who had a massive amount of Fate; every peerless expert also had a great amount of Fate. These types of Fate were different – the Fate of Sons of Heaven was more of a collective one, while the Fate of peerless experts was more of an individual one.

Zhao Fu also saw that the Earth Realm Mark on the back of his right hand shined with a rainbow-colored light, and the mark became even deeper.

There were now two medicinal pills left: the Dao Comprehension Pill and the Revival Pill. Neither one could be used now, so Zhao Fu stored them safely for now.

It was only the third day of the Disaster Festival, and it had taken Zhao Fu a few hours to refine those medicinal pills. After resting for a while, he once again focused his attention on the Disaster Festival.

Zhao Fu wasn't interested in any other of the top ten medicinal pills, but he found that there were other things that he wanted, such as a Stage 4 pill recipe.

By now, they had grown a large number of Windbell Fruit Trees. They had modified the Stage 3 pill recipe they had, and soon, Great Qin would be able to mass-produce Stage 3 cultivation pills.

With Stage 3 cultivation pills, Great Qin's soldiers' cultivation speed would surpass even the soldiers from system main cities because even the system main cities usually only had Stage 2 medicinal pills.

After producing the Stage 3 cultivation pills, Great Qin would naturally turn its gaze to a Stage 4 medicinal pill. As for a Stage 5 pill recipe, they had already obtained one from the Divine Fish Festival last time.

Since the Disaster Festival's main reward was medicinal pills, it was only natural that there were pill recipes as well. Because this wasn't an event in which everyone could participate, there weren't as many items in the Exchange Stone Stele as the other festivals, but all of them were extremely valuable.

Apart from the Stage 4 cultivation pill recipe, Zhao Fu also wanted a Stage 3 strength pill called the Strength Raising Pill that could temporarily raise his soldiers' fighting strength. Currently, Great Qin bought such pills from the system main cities, and their effects weren't as good as the Strength Raising Pills. They also had worse side effects.

With the Strength Raising Pill, Great Qin's military might would once again rise. If a Stage 0-7 soldier used one, he would temporarily gain Stage 1 power.

Zhao Fu was also interested in another pill recipe called Returning Grass Pill. It was a very good healing pill, and as the battles now became more and more intense, their healing pills also had to keep up to protect soldiers' lives.

Great Qin bought many of these two types of pills, costing them a lot of money. If they could refine them themselves, they would be able to save a lot of money.

The final pill recipe that Zhao Fu was interested in was something that could change a person's fate, and it was extremely precious. It was a Stage 6 pill recipe that cost 250,000 Virtue Points; it was just as valuable as those top ten medicinal pills.

The name of this type of pill was Fate Changing Pill, and it needed a Stage 6 spirit fruit, the Fruit of Life, to refine it. The pill recipe required Fruits of Life and couldn't be substituted with anything else.

The medicinal pill's effects were to raise any Grade at or below A Grade by one grade. In other words, it raised C grade to B grade and B grade to A grade. It also worked for those with A grade, raising them to S grade, but the medicinal pills could only be used once in one's lifetime.

If someone else obtained this pill recipe, that person would only be able to raise C grade to B grade, B grade to A grade, etc. However, this wouldn't be too big of a deal.

This was completely different for Great Qin – after all, Great Qin had the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation, and they could refine Grade Orbs from corpses.

Because Great Qin now had over 100,000 soldiers, its supply of A grade corpses could no longer meet the demand. Because they had an abundance of energy stones, Zhao Fu started ordering people to collect B grade corpses as well.

Now, out of Great Qin's 160,000 soldiers, there were 30,000 or so at A grade, 90,000 or so at B grade, and the rest of the soldiers hadn't been given a Grade Orb and still had their original grades.

Once they used the Fate Changing Pills with the Heaven and Earth Refining Formation, the effects would be monstrous. Great Qin would be able to produce a large number of S grade soldiers, and with just the 30,000 A grade soldiers they had right now, they would be able to instantly produce 30,000 S grade soldiers.

It wouldn't be difficult to obtain that pill recipe, but it would be quite difficult to obtain that Stage 6 spirit fruit. Spirit fruits were already quite rare, and the higher the stage, the rarer they were.

Zhao Fu had never seen a Stage 6 spirit fruit before, and Zhao Fu wasn't sure if he would ever be able to find the Fruit of Life.

Chapter 427 - Green Dragon

Now that Zhao Fu had a plan for what he wanted, he started to move again. With the Sin Dragon Sword's stats, he would have an advantage in places where there were floods or droughts.

When he thought of floods, Zhao Fu couldn't help but think of Seeping River. It was easy for large lakes or rivers to have floods, and with Seeping River's size, it was likely that it would have a massive flood. It was a pity that Zhao Fu had angered Seeping River's super-monster last time. It was possible that he would be discovered if he went, making things difficult, so he didn't plan on going to Seeping River for now.

Zhao Fu asked Wang Ergou to bring an updated list of the disasters in each region, and he scanned through the information to see what would be suitable.

By now, Great Qin had opened up paths to 61 other regions, so they had many choices. There were all sorts of disasters in the different regions, and Zhao Fu soon chose one.

It was a large lake, and even though it wasn't as big as the Seeping River, the flood here was still quite severe.

Zhao Fu quickly arrived here using teleportation channels. The water levels continuously rose and covered a lot of the land, and large waves rolled about, giving off a mighty aura as if it was an uncontrollable beast.

“Owner, if it’s a flood, I can help you quickly kill Disaster Beasts,” the woman in green said.

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised and asked, “What can you do?”

The woman in green laughed as she replied, “Owner, have you forgotten my true form and my attribute?”

Zhao Fu suddenly remembered that the woman in green was actually a Sin Dragon, and they were called this because they were often the cause of disasters – their attribute was a Disaster attribute.

Sin Dragons were powerful creatures of disaster, so it would be easy for them to take down Disaster Beasts, especially ones that caused floods.

Zhao Fu drew the Sin Dragon Sword and pointed it at the turbid lake. The Sin Dragon Sword shined with a brilliant green light as an aura of disaster rippled out.

“Roarrrrr!!”

A massive dragon’s roar sounded out as a 500 meter long, green-scaled dragon with a pair of jade-like horns and glinting claws appeared, giving off a majestic and domineering aura.

“Owner! You can ride on me and treat me however you want...” the green dragon said in a flirtatious voice.

“Can you not be more serious?” Zhao Fu said, cutting off the green dragon’s words and feeling quite annoyed.

“Alright, please get on, owner,” the green dragon said.

Zhao Fu had thought that she had decided to become serious and got on, but as soon as he did, she started to moan lewdly, making Zhao Fu feel quite frustrated.

Luckily, she didn’t forget her task and dove into the lake with Zhao Fu on her back. A green barrier came from her body, separating herself and Zhao Fu from the lake water.

The green dragon swam incredibly quickly through the water, and everything they went past was just a blur.

Bang!

A massive explosion sounded out as the green dragon suddenly bit ahead of it, biting onto a 20 meter long Water Disaster Beast. The Water Disaster Beast struggled and looked quite terrified while trying to break free. It had never thought that a creature with such a powerful aura of disaster would attack it.

The green dragon disregarded the Water Disaster Beast’s struggling and bit down, and its massive strength caused the Water Disaster Beast’s body to explode, leaving behind a blue crystal.

“System announcement! You have killed a Level 2 Water Disaster Beast and obtained 4,000 Virtue Points.” After the green dragon destroyed the Water Disaster Beast, Zhao Fu immediately received a system announcement.

After receiving this system announcement, Zhao Fu felt quite shocked – he could obtain Virtue Points even if the Disaster Beast wasn't killed by him? However, when he thought of the fact that the green dragon was his sword spirit, it was only natural that the Virtue Points would be awarded to him.

With the green dragon, they would kill a Level 2 Disaster Beast every five minutes. This was of great help to him, and he didn't even have to do anything himself; all he had to do was sit on its back.

“Owner, what do you think? I'm quite fast, right? Do I deserve a reward?” the green dragon asked in an excited and expectant tone.

Hearing this, Zhao Fu immediately replied, “No!”

The green dragon seemed to expect this, and she didn't seem to mind. She said, “Owner, you'd best hold on because I'm going to go faster.”

Zhao Fu thought that the green dragon had found another Disaster Beast, so he tightened his grip on the green dragon, causing it to moan, “Owner, your touch feels so good!”

Zhao Fu felt a headache coming on, and he said seriously, “If you continue this, I will really seal you again.”

“Please don't! Owner, I was wrong.” The green dragon didn't want to be sealed again, so she immediately apologized and behaved better.

Bang!

Suddenly, the green dragon charged towards another place, causing massive waves as it bit onto a Level 3 Water Disaster Beast. The Level 3 Water Disaster Beast was 30 meters long, but in front of the 500-meter long green dragon, it seemed incredibly small. The green dragon bit down, causing the Water Disaster Beast to explode.

“System announcement! You have killed a Level 3 Water Disaster Beast and obtained 6,000 Virtue Points.”

Just like that, the green dragon continuously killed Water Disaster Beasts easily, and Zhao Fu didn't even have to do anything, nor did they speak much.

Seeing that Zhao Fu wasn't initiating any conversation, the green dragon felt a bit unsettled and said, “Owner, you don't know my name, right?”

Hearing this, Zhao Fu realized that out of his four sword spirits, he only knew Celia's name. If it wasn't because the ring's name had Celia's name in it, he most likely wouldn't have asked. The Sky Demon and Slaughtering Ghost most likely had their own names, but he had never asked them before.

Zhao Fu felt slightly guilty and asked, “What is your name?”

The green dragon happily replied, “Owner, I'm called Long Xiaoxiao. You can call me Xiaoxiao and can also ask me to suc-”

Zhao Fu ignored the rest of Long Xiaoxiao's words and asked the Sky Demon and Slaughtering Ghost, “I'm sorry. I've never asked for your names before. Can you tell me your names?”

The Sky Demon, who felt neglected, felt much better upon hearing this, but it still felt quite wronged, “Owner, it’s been a long time since you obtained me, but you only just asked about my name. If it wasn’t for the perverted dragon, you probably would have never asked. I’m called Ilya.”

Zhao Fu looked quite awkward – names were important, but he had completely forgotten about asking them for their names.

“Owner, I’m called Liu Ningbing,” Slaughtering Ghost said, sounding a bit happy.

After hearing their words, Zhao Fu committed their names to memory.

Seeing that Zhao Fu had ignored her, Long Xiaoxiao didn’t seem to mind and continued to say all sorts of lewd and embarrassing things. However, because she was doing so much work by killing the Water Disaster Beasts, Zhao Fu didn’t say much and let her say whatever she wanted.

Chapter 428 - Vermillion Bird Blood Pill

With Long Xiaoxiao’s help, Zhao Fu had killed most of the Disaster Beasts in this region in just half a day, netting him more than 100,000 Virtue Points. Most of them were Level 3 or below.

With the seriousness of this region’s flood, there was most likely at least one Level 6 Disaster Beast, so Zhao Fu was currently looking for that Level 6 Disaster Beast.

Fortunately, this would be quite easy – all they had to do was head towards the center of the disaster because that Level 6 Disaster Beast was most likely the main source of this flood.

Very soon, Zhao Fu found it – this Water Disaster Beast was 200 meters long, which was quite big. It looked quite like a catfish and had a long, flat mouth; two whiskers; and a powerful tail.

When Zhao Fu found it with the green dragon, the Water Disaster Beast took the initiative to attack them first. It flicked its tail, causing a formless water blade to shoot towards them.

The green dragon showed no intent of avoiding the attack, and its jade-like horns gave off a faint green light as it charged forward. A massive explosion sounded out as the water blade was instantly destroyed.

In the next second, the Water Disaster Beast once again attacked. It opened its gigantic mouth, sucked in a large amount of the muddy lake water, and spat out a 10-meter wide ball of water that contained an immense amount of destructive power towards the green dragon.

The green dragon roared, seeming like the king of the water domain, and countless streams of water gathered around it, forming a 100-meter tall wall of water. This wall of water was not for defensive but offensive purposes.

Boom!!

A massive sound rang out as the 100-meter tall wall of water gave off an aura that seemed to be able to topple mountains and overturn seas, and it fell towards the Water Disaster Beast. The ten-meter wide ball of water was instantly shattered, and when the wall of water collapsed on the Water Disaster Beast, it was blasted back.

After bearing this attack, the blue light from the Level 6 Water Disaster Beast's body grew dimmer, and it didn't hesitate as it turned and ran, knowing that it couldn't beat the green dragon.

Zhao Fu felt quite surprised – Level 6 Disaster Beasts were quite powerful, and Zhao Fu thought that he would have to act himself. He had never thought that Long Xiaoxiao would have such an overwhelming advantage over it.

The green dragon shot out a massive ball of water from its mouth, which was extremely fast, and it quickly smashed into the escaping Water Disaster Beast.

Boom!!

The massive ball of water exploded, and a terrifying energy shockwave rippled out, temporarily creating a vacuum where there was no water. Only after a few seconds was that vacuum filled.

The destructive power of the ball of water seriously injured the Water Disaster Beast, but it continued to run.

The green dragon flicked its tail, and it shot forwards like an arrow out of a bow, instantly reaching the Water Disaster Beast's side and biting down on the Water Disaster Beast's neck.

Bang!

Finally, the Water Disaster Beast's body exploded into water, leaving behind a blue crystal.

Zhao Fu grinned, and he grabbed with a hand, causing the blue crystal to float over to him. He looked at it before putting it away.

"Owner, how am I doing?" Long Xiaoxiao asked in a cheerful voice.

Zhao Fu had never thought that the green dragon would be able to deal with a Level 6 Disaster Beast so easily, so he gave her some simple praise.

"Owner, my skills in the bed are actually even better!" Just as Zhao Fu finished praising her, Long Xiaoxiao once again spoke in a seductive voice.

Zhao Fu couldn't take it anymore and smacked her back as he said, "Alright, we've killed most of the Disaster Beasts in this region now; let's go to the next region."

Long Xiaoxiao agreed while laughing. She had found that Zhao Fu no longer cared about what she said anymore.

In the next two days, because Zhao Fu knew that Long Xiaoxiao had a massive advantage in flooded places, all the regions that they visited had floods and Water Disaster Beasts.

Over the course of these two days, Zhao Fu had amassed more than 400,000 Virtue Points, and all of them had been earned by Long Xiaoxiao. Zhao Fu hadn't acted at all, and he had truly witnessed how powerful the Sin Dragon Sword was.

With so many Virtue Points, the obvious thing to do was to use them to claim items.

After coming to Holy Light City, Zhao Fu bought all of the items that he had set his eyes on before. Now, the number eight pill, the Stage Breaking Pill, and number seven pill, the Life Connecting Pill, had been claimed.

This made Zhao Fu feel quite surprised – it was already the fifth day of the Disaster Festival, but there were still so many of the top ten medicinal pills left. Could it be that no one had gathered enough Virtue Points? Could they have claimed other items?

Indeed, many people didn't even consider any of the top ten medicinal pills. This was because many of the best ones had disappeared on the very first day, and these were only singular pills, which could only work on one person. For a faction, it would be better to purchase items that could benefit the whole faction.

Zhao Fu looked through the medicinal pills again and found that the number six pill, the Vermillion Bird Blood Pill, and the number four pill, the Berserker Pill, were still unclaimed.

Since there weren't any other items that Zhao Fu wanted, he put his gaze on those two medicinal pills.

Even though the Berserker Pill was ranked fourth and could greatly increase one's battle strength, it may have attracted Zhao Fu in the past, but he wasn't interested now that he had his City Lord Seal.

However, he was still quite interested in the Vermillion Bird Blood Pill because it only cost 150,000 Virtue Points, which would be quite easy to gather.

As such, Zhao Fu went to continue killing Disaster Beasts.

This time, he and Long Xiaoxiao came before a massive lake. Zhao Fu had visited this place during the Divine Fish Festival, and the flood here wasn't too bad; at most, there was a Level 5 Disaster Beast. Even though the highest level of Disaster Beast here wasn't very high, farming this place for 150,000 Virtue Points wouldn't be too difficult.

Zhao Fu still didn't bother acting, and he left everything to Long Xiaoxiao. Long Xiaoxiao was a hard worker, but her words started becoming lewder and lewder, making the other sword spirits feel incredibly embarrassed and awkward. They all expressed their discontent at Long Xiaoxiao, but she ignored them, doing as she pleased.

Another day later, it was now the sixth day, and Zhao Fu had amassed 150,000 Virtue Points and claimed the Vermillion Bird Blood Pill.

The Vermillion Bird Blood Pill was about as big as a longan fruit, and there was a picture of a Vermillion Bird on it. This picture seemed to be alive, continuously flying about on the surface of the pill and making it look quite mystical, and the medicinal pill gave off the stench of blood.

Zhao Fu hadn't thought about who to give the Vermillion Bird Blood Pill to, and the Berserker Pill had finally been claimed by someone else as well. By now, all of the top ten medicinal pills had been claimed.

It was only the sixth day of the Disaster Festival, but Zhao Fu felt that there was nothing else to claim. It was the first time he had felt this way about a festival.

Since there was nothing that he wanted, Zhao Fu turned his attention to his Disaster Crystals. Level 4 and above crystals could give Legendary grade equipment, and Great Qin currently only had around 30 pieces of Legendary grade equipment. The more they had, the better.

Chapter 429 - Disaster Fire

In the remainder of the time of the Disaster Festival, Zhao Fu and Long Xiaoxiao went and killed all sorts of powerful Disaster Beasts, most of which were above Level 4. They didn't even bother killing Disaster Beasts below Level 4 unless they came and attacked of their own accord.

During this period of time, Zhao Fu saw many different types of Disaster Beasts – apart from Wind Disaster Beasts, Water Disaster Beasts, and Fire Disaster Beasts, there were six other types.

One was the Metal Disaster Beast, which turned the ground and plants into metal, causing life to die out. This was a fairly terrible disaster, and it was quite difficult to recover from.

These Disaster Beasts looked like apes and seemed to be made out of metal, and they were extremely firm. They were stronger than other Disaster Beasts as well and quite difficult to deal with.

The second type was Earth Disaster Beasts, which could cause earthquakes and destroy structures; it was quite a destructive Disaster Beast.

These Disaster Beasts seemed to be made out of mud, but they often hid underground and were difficult to find and kill.

The third type was Wood Disaster Beasts. They caused trees to grow everywhere, which was in itself good, but the trees would grow in inconvenient places, such as on paths, roads, or within people's homes. This was troublesome but not as destructive as the other disasters.

They looked like dryads and had a powerful life force and regenerative abilities, making them quite difficult to kill.

The fourth type was Ice Disaster Beasts, which could cause massive snow storms that filled the sky and covered the ground. They could also freeze bodies of water as well.

They looked like elephants, were made from ice, and were quite big. Every step they took, they would leave behind a frozen footprint. Compared to the other Disaster Beasts, they were quite easy to take down.

The fifth type was Sand Disaster Beasts. They caused the ground to turn into sand, causing plants to wither and creating a disaster that was difficult to recover from.

They looked like sandworms and were made of sand, and they were the easiest type of Disaster Beast to kill.

The sixth type was Lightning Disaster Beasts. They could cause lightning to descend from the sky and had frightening power. The might they gave off was the most terrifying out of all of the Disaster Beasts.

They looked like pythons with wings, and their bodies seemed to be made of electricity. Out of all of the types of Disaster Beasts that Zhao Fu had encountered, they were definitely the most powerful, and Zhao Fu had been wounded from killing a Level 5 Lightning Disaster Beast.

Apart from these Disaster Beasts, there were some Disaster Beasts that Zhao Fu had seen, such as the Ocean Disaster Beasts that only could be found near oceans. They would cause tsunamis, destroying everything in their way. There were also rare Dream Disaster Beasts, which made people fall into dream-like illusions.

The most terrifying type was the Death Disaster Beast. The Death Disaster Beast was definitely the most powerful Disaster Beast, but no one knew what they looked like. However, rumors said that they were covered with a gray deathly aura.

Wherever they went, the plants would wither, and the ground would become barren. No life would remain, as anything that went near it would have its life force quickly drained, turning it into a corpse.

Essentially no one could go near it because one would immediately die. Even City Lords were not immune to this, so no one had ever seen a Death Disaster Beast and lived to tell the tale.

The Death Disaster Beasts were extremely rare, and even though they were incredibly monstrous, they weren't frequently seen. Because of this, no one knew how many people had been killed by them.

There were a few more types of Disaster Beasts that Zhao Fu hadn't seen, but it was now the evening of the seventh day. There was only one more hour until the Disaster Festival ended, so it seemed that Zhao Fu wouldn't have an opportunity to encounter them.

Zhao Fu went through his Disaster Crystals: there were three Level 7 Disaster Crystals, 12 Level 6 Disaster Crystals, 25 Level 5 Disaster Crystals, and 32 Level 4 Disaster Crystals.

Level 4, 5, and 6 Disaster Crystals could give Legendary grade items, equipment, and materials. By now, Great Qin could forge Legendary grade equipment, but only Rhode could do this so far.

Level 7 Disaster Crystals were guaranteed to give Epic grade items, which Zhao Fu was somewhat excited about, and he opened the first Disaster Crystal.

A light flashed, and after it disappeared, a crystal ball appeared in front of Zhao Fu.

This crystal ball was two meters wide and looked quite pure. It was completely without defects. It didn't even have a single bubble in it, making it look flawless.

Zhao Fu looked at its stats and found that it was called a Void Orb, making Zhao Fu feel quite delighted. This could be used with the Heavenly Domain Stone, and now, he only lacked one more thing to be able to use the Heavenly Domain Stone.

The first item was quite good, and Zhao Fu smiled as he opened the second Disaster Crystal. After the light receded, an icy-looking saber appeared before him.

The saber was quite long and thin, and it seemed to be made out of ice, giving off an intense chilling intent.

[Icesoul Saber]: Grade: Epic, Stats: Strength +30, Intelligence +30, Constitution +20, Agility +25, Description: An icy saber created from ten thousand year old Extreme Chilling Ice. It has extremely powerful ice-attribute attacks.

It was an Epic grade weapon, and its stats were quite good. However, Zhao Fu didn't use sabers, so he put it away, planning to use it as a reward in the future for his subordinates.

Now, there was one Level 7 Disaster Crystal left. After Zhao Fu used it, a light flashed, and a white ball of flames the size of a fist appeared.

Seeing this, Zhao Fu looked at its stats curiously.

[Disaster Fire]: A fire with powerful disaster energy. It can cause equipment or creatures to have a disaster attribute. If the Disaster Beast Crystals of Metal, Wood, Water, Fire, and Earth are fused into it, the Disaster Fire's stats will be even more powerful.

Disaster Beast Crystals were crystals that could cause equipment to have disaster attributes. After opening so many Disaster Crystals, Zhao Fu had obtained quite a few. Apart from the ones specified in the Disaster Fire's description, he also had Wind Disaster Beast Crystals and Ice Disaster Beast Crystals.

After thinking about it, Zhao Fu put the five different types of Disaster Beast Crystals into the Disaster Fire, causing the white flame to burn with five different colors. It flickered as it floated in the air, giving off a terrifying aura that seemed to cause space itself to burn.

Now that he had strengthened the Disaster Fire, Zhao Fu wondered if he should use it on equipment or creatures.

If it was creatures, there was Little Gray, Little Black, Little White, and the Wyvern that was about to hatch.

If it was equipment, there was the Sky Demon Sword, Slaughtering Ghost Sword, Royal Wood Sword, and Sin Dragon Sword.

If Zhao Fu were to use it on a living creature, the best candidate would be the Wyvern. This would make it a Disaster Dragon, and its stats would most likely have great changes. If it was equipment, the best candidate would be the Sin Dragon Sword because it already had a disaster attribute, and the Disaster Fire would strengthen that disaster attribute.

There were benefits to both, but Zhao Fu suddenly thought of something. He went to an open area and raised his hand as the King's Ring gave off a vague golden light, and the sound of horses galloping could be heard.

Ten Skeleton Cavalrymen riding on white Skeleton horses, wearing golden armor, and giving off a holy and majestic aura appeared. They got off their horses and half-knelt as they said, "We greet Your Majesty!"

Chapter 430 - Undead Disaster

By now, the ten King's Undead Cavalry had reached Stage 2, and they were incredibly powerful. However, the Skeletons they led were still quite weak.

Logically, if the King's Undead Cavalry were at Stage 2, the Skeletons that they led could grow to Stage 2 as well. However, let alone Stage 2, most weren't even at Stage 1. This was because all of the Stage 1 and above corpses were used to refine Blood God Pills, and very few were left to become Skeleton soldiers.

Moreover, each of the King's Undead Cavalrymen could control 3,000 Skeletons. In the early stages, 3,000 Skeletons was quite good, but now that Zhao Fu had an army of 160,000 people, 3,000 Skeletons didn't seem like much and couldn't help much anymore.

As such, Zhao Fu wondered what would happen if he fused the Disaster Fire with the King's Undead Cavalry.

Zhao Fu looked at the half-kneeling King's Undead Cavalrymen. They were the equipment spirits of the King's Ring, and after thinking about it, Zhao Fu took off the King's Ring and fused the five-colored Disaster Fire into the King's Ring.

Immediately, a wild wind started to blow, and after fusing with the Disaster Fire, the King's Ring hovered in the air and gave off terrifying ripples as the golden light around it disappeared and was replaced by a black light.

The King's Undead Cavalrymen's bodies trembled, and their golden light faded as the golden flames within their heads flickered and slowly became black.

A powerful aura of disaster, as well as a monstrous wave of power, spread out as the King's Undead Cavalrymen's flames became completely black, and a black aura seeped out from their bodies and covered them. Their golden armor and weapons all became black.

The King's Undead Cavalry looked completely different – their equipment was black and covered with a black fog, and their holy and majestic aura disappeared and was replaced by one of disaster and destruction, making those who saw them feel fear.

It wasn't just them, but their Skeleton horses became black and were covered with a black fog as well.

The King's Ring also turned into a black ring and gave off an aura of disaster and nobility.

Zhao Fu looked at the stats and found that its name had become Disaster King Ring, and its grade had become Epic grade. Its stats had been greatly boosted, but the bonuses to EXP and Achievement Points weren't increased.

The King's Undead Cavalry's names had also changed to King's Disaster Cavalry, or just Disaster Cavalry. Their stats were even more powerful, and they had an SSS+ grade profession, which was a top-tier profession.

The Skeletons that they summoned could maintain 90% of their strength from when they were alive and use their skills from before they died. They were also strengthened by disaster power, which boosted their battle abilities by many times.

More importantly, the ten Disaster Cavalrymen had become Lord class Undead, and each of them could now lead 3,000 Skeletons for a total of 30,000 Skeleton soldiers.

30,000 Skeleton soldiers would be a powerful force for Great Qin, and seeing this, a trace of a smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face.

Zhao Fu also found that the ten Disaster Cavalrymen had a terrifying combination skill called 'Undead Disaster.'

Zhao Fu knew about this skill from the information from God Kerr, and he knew how terrifying it was. Undead Disaster something that only King class Undead could use, and it was a King class Undead's most powerful skill.

King class Skeletons were rarer than even human Kings, and they were quite special existences. There would only be a Skeleton King in roughly every 100 billion Skeletons.

Because Zhao Fu's Disaster Cavalrymen were Undead and had obtained King's Power and Disaster Power, they had fused to form this terrifying skill. The Undead Disaster that they cast together would be even more terrifying than one cast by a Skeleton King because those Skeletons would all have the disaster attribute.

This skill was powerful enough to become Great Qin's trump card, but the Undead Disaster skill couldn't be used recklessly. Right now, the Disaster Cavalry were unable to control so many Skeletons, and it would be easy for them to lose control of the skeletons. As such, it would be best not to use that skill unless the situation was dire.

After looking at the Disaster Cavalry's powerful stats, a pleased smile appeared on Zhao Fu's face. Now, it was midnight, and the Disaster Festival had officially finished.

Boom!!

Suddenly, an explosion sounded out in the sky as the dark night sky shined with a golden light. This sudden change caused everyone in the Heaven Awaken World to look up towards the sky.

At that moment, a gigantic stone stele that gave off a boundless aura appeared in the sky, and it floated in between the heavens and the earth.

"System announcement! You have ranked first on the Virtue Points Rankings. Would you like to hide your identity?"
