Chapter 751: Aquatic Beast Kings

Bang!!

A muffled explosion sounded out as Zhao Fu was knocked away, and he heavily crashed into a cliff. Countless cracks appeared on the cliff, and Zhao Fu coughed up a large mouthful of blood. He had already been in a weakened state, and after taking this sudden blow, he had been seriously injured.

A lizard-like aquatic beast that was 10,000 meters long and covered with reefs appeared. Its eyes were a deep green color, and it gave off a fishy smell and an incredibly monstrous aura.

Yet another aquatic beast king had been attracted over – this was called a Reef Lizard!

The Reef Lizard had just shot out a rhombus-shaped reef that had instantly pierced through Zhao Fu's defenses and sent him flying. Even though the Reef Lizard was easier to deal with than the Earthwater Dragon Tortoise, Zhao Fu was already seriously injured and was not a match for it.

At the same time, there was also the Three Soul Great Snake that was always preparing to strike, and the Earthwater Dragon Tortoise still had a bit of strength.

Since he could not defeat them, he could only run. Zhao Fu's body turned into a ray of light and escaped in the direction where there were no aquatic beasts.

The Reef Lizard gave a mocking hiss, and its back trembled as thousands of three-meter long reefs flew towards Zhao Fu.

The reefs had incredible piercing power, and if he was hit, he would most likely be fatally injured at this point. As such, Zhao Fu could only dodge while doing his best to block them.

Bang!!

Zhao Fu was suddenly hit by a massive explosion, and he crashed onto the ground. Blood flowed out from all over his body, dyeing him completely blood-red.

“Skreeee!!” A piercing cry sounded out as a massive bird appeared in the sky. The bird did not have any feathers and only had gray scales and blue eyes. Its claws seemed to be made out of metal and gave off icy glows, and its body was surrounded by an intensely hot, blue flame.

The heat it gave off was not any ordinary heat but a heat like that of evaporating steam. The blue flame around the massive bird was actually water-attributed.

The massive bird spread its wings, which were 10,000 meters wide, and its massive figure covered much of the sky. Yet another aquatic beast king had arrived.

This aquatic beast king was called the Ghostscale Flame Bird, and the blue fireball that it had released had blasted Zhao Fu to the ground.

Zhao Fu continuously coughed up a few mouthfuls of blood and stood up with great difficulty.

The Reef Lizard, Earthwater Dragon Tortoise, Ghostscale Flame Bird, and Three Soul Great Snake, four aquatic beast kings, coldly looked at Zhao Fu, simultaneously unleashing their own attacks at him.

Sensing these four terrifying attacks, Zhao Fu felt a chill in his heart. He would have to use his Nation Armament, or he would die here.

Suddenly, four figures appeared around him. Masanori Hano held a devilish halberd and swung it vigorously, causing countless traces of devil qi to block the reefs from the Reef Lizard. Geoffrey spun his spear and stopped the black light from the Three Soul Great Snake.

Tina Pendragon slashed out with her sword, the golden sword light splitting the gigantic blue fireball in half, while Akhenaten raised up a shield of light, blocking a massive water ball.

Seeing the four people around him, Zhao Fu’s expression became quite complicated; he had never expected these people to save him.

Not only the aquatic beast kings had been attracted here, but the other Legatees had also sensed those terrifying shockwaves and hurried over. Seeing the ravaged land, they felt incredibly shocked.

Seeing that Zhao Fu had been surrounded by four aquatic beast kings, they hurriedly came to help. Geoffrey and Tina Pendragon were selfless people and chose to directly help.

Masanori Hano had her own motives, which was why she had come even faster than the others. As for Akhenaten, he knew that Zhao Fu was important to his defenses because without Great Qin's Legatee, it would be very difficult to stop this invasion.

If it wasn't for the fact that it was the Southern Continent being attacked, Akhenaten would not have helped Zhao Fu and would have watched from a distance like the other four Legatees.

Even though this was a war between worlds, as long as the entire world was not in danger, they were still competitors. With how powerful Great Qin's Legatee was, who knew if he would act against them in the future.

Moreover, the aquatic beast kings' power could strike fear into anyone, and none of them felt that they were strong enough to fight them.

They were unable to use the Earth Realm Mark's power yet, as the world was not yet in danger of being destroyed. The Earth Realm Mark was not something that could be used at will, as it had its own consciousness that decided when to give power.

After all, the Earth Realm Mark's power came from the world's source energy itself and could affect the entire world. Apart from when the world was facing true destruction, it would not be available to them.

The four spectating Legatees felt that they could not defeat the aquatic beast kings, and because they also wanted to weaken Great Qin's Legatee, they decided to just watch from a distance.

"I can deal with this myself; I don't need you to help!" Zhao Fu said to the four other people. Zhao Fu did not want to owe anyone any favors because such favors were incredibly difficult to return.

These words caused Akhenaten to feel quite displeased. If it wasn't for the Southern Continent, he would not have helped Great Qin's Legatee. Perhaps if Great Qin's Legatee died, one of them would be able to take his place.

However, Akhenaten only inwardly thought these things and did not say them.

Geoffrey dryly laughed and said in response, “Great Qin’s Legatee, this isn’t something you can deal with by yourself. These aquatic beast kings are too monstrous, and I can barely hold one off by myself, let alone four.”

Tina Pendragon lightly nodded and said, “What Geoffrey said is correct. We shouldn’t face such a massive disaster by ourselves. We should instead work together and help each other out!”

Masanori Hano’s face became a bit red, and she also nodded.

Zhao Fu did not reply to them, and he looked up at the sky seriously as he said, “If you don’t run, all of us will die here together!”

They did not understand what Zhao Fu meant, but in the distance, Si Ji and the others’ expressions fell, and they quickly ran away.

Four incredibly horrifying auras once again descended. Those auras were ones that induced absolute despair, and now, Tina Pendragon and the others understood what Zhao Fu meant.

In the East, a jellyfish slowly floated over. This jellyfish was 10,000 meters long and was transparent, and it had countless tentacles. It was surrounded by mist, giving it an illusory but powerful feeling. This was the aquatic beast king Heaven Cloud Jellyfish!

In the West, a whale flew over, also 10,000 meters long. Its body was a pale white color and it had 18 blood-red eyes, giving off a powerful demonic aura. This was the aquatic beast king Netherocean Demon Whale!

In the South, a 10,000-meter long stingray flew over. Its body seemed to be made out of metal, and its tail gave off an icy glow. It gave off a thick, metallic aura – this was the aquatic beast king Sift Metal Stingray!

In the North, a 10,000-meter long flood dragon with no feet and violet scales appeared. It gave off a ferocious might – this was the aquatic beast king Sin Flood Dragon!

Chapter 752: Reef Lizard

With another four aquatic beast kings joining, there were now eight in total. The original four aquatic beast kings all stepped back a bit, and the eight aquatic beast kings surrounded the five humans, giving off sky-toppling auras. Their auras made it seem as if this space had been completely locked down, and their might was so powerful and concentrated that it felt corporeal.

The eight aquatic beast kings were aquatic beasts that ruled the eight cardinal directions in the Fish Scale world. The Fish Scale people had no way of dealing with them, so they lured them into the human world to wreck the human world. So far, their plan had been incredibly successful.

With these eight aquatic beast kings and the countless other aquatic beasts, the Fish Scale people lived tough lives, and comparatively speaking, life in the human world was much easier.

“I told you all to run. Now that we’ve been surrounded by these eight aquatic beast kings, no one will be able to escape,” Zhao Fu said as he sighed.

“But if we run, what will you do?” Masanori Hano asked in concern.

Zhao Fu did not reply, because three aquatic beast kings had already been enough to heavily injure him. Facing eight of them, he had no hope at all.

“We should create an opportunity to run. We need to gather more people to deal with monsters of this caliber! 100 or so boss monsters dealing with a single aquatic beast king should be no problem. It’s a pity that the system main cities have been slaughtering players, so the boss monsters have been freed of their restrictions and can go wherever they please and do whatever they want,” Akhenaten said seriously. Even though they would not die a true death, dying here would result in great losses, so no one wanted to die.

Swish, swish, swish...

The Heaven Cloud Jellyfish was the first to attack. Its countless tentacles whipped towards Zhao Fu like the wind, each one of them bringing with it a cold light. Judging from the power those tentacles contained, even steel would be ripped apart.

Zhao Fu had already started to consume his best medicinal pills, and his body quickly recovered. The five of them turned into rays of light, splitting off into different directions. Out of the four Legatees, only Tina Pendragon had the confidence to face off against an aquatic beast king by herself; the others were not so confident.

Bang!!

As the countless tentacles hit the spot where Zhao Fu and the others had been, the ground there was reduced to smithereens, which was a terrifying sight.

Even though the five people had dodged the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish's attack, the other aquatic beast kings now started to attack as well.

The Three Soul Great Snake, Earthwater Dragon Tortoise, and Reef Lizard sought out Zhao Fu immediately. There was hatred between the first two and Zhao Fu, and the third felt that Zhao Fu was an easy target.

The Netherocean Demon Whale and Sin Flood Dragon started to attack Tina Pendragon, as they could sense that she was the most powerful out of the other four. The Ghostscale Flame Bird fought Masanori Hano, the Sift Metal Stingray fought Akhenaten, and the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish fought Geoffrey.

It was not just Zhao Fu who had quickly recovered; the aquatic beast kings had astonishing recovery as well. By now, the heavily injured Three Soul Great Snake and Earthwater Dragon Tortoise were more or less fine again.

The Reef Lizard was the first to attack. Its back trembled as countless reefs, bringing with them immense piercing power, shot towards Zhao Fu. The Earthwater Dragon Tortoise also condensed countless water balls and sent them flying at Zhao Fu, while the Three Soul Great Snake madly spat out three black laser-like rays.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Explosions continuously sounded out as these attacks inundated Zhao Fu's body, and the ground continuously shook. The three aquatic beast kings madly attacked for a while, obliterating the surrounding ten kilometers.

There was now a lot of dust in the air, and the three aquatic beast kings felt quite pleased, as they were quite certain that they had killed Zhao Fu. At that moment, a black light shot out from within the dust and flew away.

Even though the three aquatic beast kings had covered a wide area, the amount of damage they had dealt was not great. Zhao Fu put all of his strength into his Emperor's Domain and continuously moved to the edge of these attacks. After surviving this wave of attacks, he was not in the mood to fight anymore; running away was his primary task.

“Roar!!!” Seeing that Zhao Fu wanted to run away, the Earthwater Dragon Tortoise furiously roared, exploding out with a powerful aura. Over a thousand water pillars rushed up from the ground, blocking off Zhao Fu's escape route, and the Three Soul Great Snake also furiously hissed as it threw itself at Zhao Fu.

Both of them had been seriously wounded by Zhao Fu, and their bodies still ached. They hated Zhao Fu to death, so how could they let him off so easily?

With the path ahead blocked off and the Three Soul Great Snake biting at him, Zhao Fu coldly harrumphed and could only stop.

He looked at the Three Soul Great Snake and felt quite angry, and he sent his power into the Sin Dragon Sword. Three water dragons rushed out ferociously, knocking the Three Soul Great Snake away.

After crashing to the ground, the Three Soul Great Snake's massive body smashed out a large crater, sending out a lot of dust into the air. The ground once again violently quaked, and countless trees were toppled.

Just as Zhao Fu was about to move again, his body froze and was unable to move at all. An extremely strong sealing power had bound his body.

The Reef Lizard's green eyes looked at Zhao Fu mockingly. This was another one of its skills, 'Ocean Prison.'

The Earthwater Dragon Tortoise was delighted and opened its mouth, shooting out an extremely fast water ball towards Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu felt the Reef Lizard's gaze and felt quite annoyed. He struggled out of the bind, but the water ball had already arrived. Zhao Fu lifted his sword and used it to block, but because of how much power the water ball contained, he was still sent flying.

After heavily landing on the ground, Zhao Fu coughed up a large mouthful of blood, while the Reef Lizard once again attacked. Countless reefs gave off terrifying sounds as they shot towards him.

Zhao Fu's expression became savage as he took out the Seraph Sword and held it in his other hand. Zhao Fu held the two swords in his hand as he locked onto the incoming reefs.

As the reefs started to reach him, Zhao Fu started to slash out with both swords, creating a sharp sword wind that tore the reefs into tiny pieces.

After stopping the Reef Lizard's attack, Zhao Fu suddenly raised the Seraph Sword, and an image of an angel appeared above Zhao Fu's head. It gave a pure smile and spread its six pairs of wings, causing countless rays of bright light to appear as a powerful holy light energy rippled out.

Boom!!

Zhao Fu vigorously slashed down, and a gigantic ray of white light, bringing with it a searing heat, rushed towards the Reef Lizard. The Reef Lizard was given a big fright, but it did not dodge. After being struck by the white light, the searing hit burned its entire body, causing it to screech in pain.

Bang!!

The sound of the air exploding sounded out, causing Zhao Fu's hairs to stand on end. He felt an incredible sense of danger, but before he could react, he was whipped flying by a black blur. He smashed against a hill a few hundred meters away, the impact destroying the hill.

At that moment, the Three Soul Great Snake had attacked with its tail, hitting Zhao Fu with immense force.

Chapter 753: Sift Metal Stingray

Cough! Cough! Cough!

Zhao Fu continuously coughed up a few mouthfuls of blood and got up with great difficulty. That attack just then had broken a few of Zhao Fu's bones.

Zhao Fu's eyes were filled with rage, and since he could not escape, he could only fight this battle. He rushed up and slashed out with all his strength, sending a gigantic sword wind towards the three aquatic beast kings.

Over at Tina Pendragon's side, things were not going well either. Even though she was only facing two aquatic beast kings, one less than Zhao Fu, she could only fight against one. She was evidently at a disadvantage and was in a tough spot.

The Netherocean Demon Whale's blood-red eyes savagely looked at Tina Pendragon, and it opened its enormous mouth and sucked in a large amount of air. It then spat it all out, sending out a pillar of wind that gave off an aura of destruction towards Tina Pendragon.

Tina Pendragon gripped her golden sword with both hands, and her body also gave off a faint golden light, making her look both noble and beautiful. This was her full-strength mode.

Facing the might pillar of wind, Tina Pendragon quickly moved to the side, and the pillar of wind blasted into a mountain that was hundreds of meters tall. In just an instant, the mountain trembled, and a 100-meter wide gap appeared. It was evident just how powerful the Netherocean Demon Whale's attack was.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Ten violet spears of light tore through the sky, giving off ten explosions. The ten spears had immense piercing power and shot towards Tina Pendragon, who had just dodged the Netherocean Demon Whale's attack. It was the Sin Flood Dragon that had raised its body and unleashed this attack.

The ten spears of light were 100 meters long, and they gave off terrifying auras. They were extremely fast, making it impossible for Tina Pendragon to dodge in time. She could only stand her ground and grip her sword. Just as the ten spears of light were able to hit her, she suddenly slashed ten times, sending out ten golden sword lights simultaneously.

The ten violet spears of light were destroyed with a bang, turning into motes of violet light and falling to the ground, looking quite pretty.

“Roar!!!!” The Netherocean Demon Whale appeared behind Tina Pendragon and roared, once again opening its enormous mouth. It sucked in a massive amount of air and shot out an air blast that was 1,000 meters wide towards Tina Pendragon.

Tina Pendragon had only just defended against the Sin Flood Dragon’s attack, and facing this terrifying attack, she did not even have the time to turn around. She could only explode out with golden light, forming a golden defensive barrier.

Bang!!

The 1,000-meter wide air blast smashed into Tina Pendragons’ shield and exploded, turning into wild gusts of wind that spread out in all directions.

Tina Pendragon was sent flying by the impact and crashed against a peak. Her defensive barrier shattered with a crash, turning into countless shards that disappeared, and a trace of blood leaked out from her mouth.

“Sss!”“Sss!”“Sss!”

Suddenly, three violet vortexes appeared around Tina Pendragon, and three snakes that were 100 meters long hissed as they came out and bit towards her.

Tina Pendragon was greatly startled and hurriedly slashed out twice, cutting two of the snakes in half and causing them to turn into traces of violet qi.

However, the third snake savagely bit onto the left half of Tina Pendragon’s body, tearing through her armor and ripping into her body. Blood immediately flowed out, dyeing her silver-white knight’s dress red.

Tina Pendragon endured the pain as the golden sword in her hand gave off waves of sword light. She swung vigorously, and a crescent-shaped sword light flew out and cut the snake in half.

Bang!!

After being cut in half, the 100-meter long snake exploded into countless traces of violet qi.

By now, Tina Pendragon's face had a rare look of worry on it. She raised her golden sword and a formless sword aura swept out, and eight gigantic golden ripples appeared in the air. Eight massive golden swords, giving off brilliant golden light, slowly emerged from the golden ripples.

Boom!!

As Tina Pendragon slashed down, the eight golden swords gave off a massive amount of holy light power and shot towards the Sin Flood Dragon and Netherocean Demon Whale extremely quickly, dyeing the entire sky golden.

Facing the eight massive swords, the two aquatic beast kings did not dare to be careless.

The Sin Flood Dragon spat out a large amount of violet mist that surrounded its body. The violet mist looked incorporeal and not very strong, but it had immense flexibility and toughness, and it was the Sin Flood Dragon's most powerful defense.

The Netherocean Demon Whale shot out an air blast, wanting to cancel out the incoming golden swords.

“Roar!!” Roar!!” Two roars of pain sounded out.

Four of the gigantic golden swords tore through the violet mist, piercing into the Sin Flood Dragon's body and causing blood to flow out like a fountain, and the four other golden swords destroyed the air blast and continued onwards to the Netherocean Demon Whale, stabbing into its body.

Even though it was painful, the two aquatic beast kings were not heavily injured. To the aquatic beast kings, which had bodies that were 10,000 meters long, the 100 meter giant swords were quite small. This attack caused the Sin Flood Dragon and Netherocean Demon Whale to become completely furious, and they rushed up and launched even more crazed attacks.

Over at Akhenaten's side, he summoned three sand giants that were 100 meters tall, and they picked up massive boulders and threw them at the Sift Metal Stingray in the sky. The boulders hit the Sift Metal Stingray's body, resulting in a few clanging sounds, but they were unable to harm it at all.

The Sift Metal Stingray flapped its fins, giving off a sharp, metallic wind storm that rushed down and broke into pieces all the trees and rocks in its way.

Akhenaten's expression became grim, and he controlled the three sand giants to rush up, wanting to block the Sift Metal Stingray's attack.

Bang!!

A massive explosion sounded out as the three sand giants were obliterated by the Sift Metal Stingray, and they had been unable to obstruct its attack at all.

An unsightly look appeared on Akhenaten's face as he stuck his staff into the ground. An eerie aura rushed out as a 100-meter tall metallic sarcophagus, which gave off an extremely gloomy aura, blocked in front of Akhenaten.

Boom!!

The Sift Metal Stingray's metallic wind storm smashed against the gigantic sarcophagus, creating an ear-splitting noise. The sarcophagus gave off boundless gray light and actually stopped the attack.

The Sift Metal Stingray gave off an angry gargling sound as its entire body gave off intense light and sent forth an even more terrifying wind storm.

Crack!!

A few cracks appeared on the sarcophagus, and they spread and became longer. Akhenaten was greatly startled and hurriedly dove to the side as the metallic sarcophagus collapsed.

Akhenaten was still sent flying by the wind storm, and cuts appeared all over his body. The immense pain caused Akhenaten to go berserk as runes started to appear all over the staff he held.

Yin Qi in the surrounding 10,000 kilometers wildly gathered above him, forming a gigantic vortex that gave off a shocking might.

Chapter 754: Heaven Cloud Jellyfish

The Sift Metal Stingray's gaze was cold as it continued to summon metallic wind storms and send them towards Akhenaten.

Boom!!

At that moment, Akhenaten waved his staff, and a large, bandaged hand stretched out of the vortex, giving off a boundless and terrifying aura. It sent the Sift Metal Stingray flying with a single punch.

The Sift Metal Stingray's massive body fell from above, causing it to howl in pain. It then flapped its fins, shooting towards Akhenaten – it seemed that the Sift Metal Stingray was enraged now.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

The Ghostscale Flame Bird spread its massive wings, forming thousands of blue fireballs, which gave off an enormous amount of heat. It then flapped its wings, sending the countless fireballs flying towards Masanori Hano.

Masanori Hano was currently shrouded in devil qi, and her eyes were completely black. She darted back and forth as fast as lightning, avoiding the incoming fireballs.

Bang!!

Seeing Masanori Hano dodge its attacks with ease, the Ghostscale Flame Bird flapped its wings and shot forwards like an arrow. Masanori Hano was unable to avoid its massive body, and she was sent crashing against the ground like a sandbag, blasting open a large crater.

“Skreee!” the Ghostscale Flame Bird piercingly cried as it flapped its wings and rushed down, its sharp claws grabbing towards Masanori Hano in the crater.

“Hah!!” Masanori Hano was covered with blood, and looking at the Ghostscale Flame Bird descending towards her, she cried out and jet-black devil qi shot into the sky. A blood-red full moon appeared, giving off boundless devil qi and a terrifying might.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

An extremely monstrous power burst forth from Masanori Hano’s body. With her at the center, the ground around her started to collapse and disintegrate.

Boom!!

The Ghostscale Flame Bird grabbed at Masanori Hano with its claws, while Masanori Hano swept out with her devil halberd with immense force, blasting the Ghostscale Flame Bird back.

“Skreee!” the Ghostscale Flame Bird steadied its body in mid-air and gave a cry of pain. There was a two meter deep wound on its chest, where blood was continuously flowing out.

Whoosh!!

The Ghostscale Flame Bird’s eyes were filled with fury and killing intent, and the blue flames around its body became countless times larger, completely covering its body. It had now turned into a blue, fiery bird, and it gave off an even more intense heat. Even those who were several kilometers away could feel this heat.

“Skreeee!!” an extremely piercing cry sounded out as the Ghostscale Flame Bird once again flapped its wings and charged at Masanori Hano.

A trace of madness appeared in Masanori Hano’s eyes, and she waved her halberd as a massive blood-red aura flame appeared around her. She tapped off the ground, causing the ground to crack as she rushed into the sky.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Massive explosions sounded out in the surrounding hundreds of kilometers as the Ghostscale Flame Bird and Masanori Hano began the climax of their fight.

Elsewhere, Geoffrey swept out with his spear, and the hundreds of angel images around him gave off holy light energy as they flew towards the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Before the angel images were able to even get close to the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish, they were stopped by a formless barrier, which caused them to explode.

This formless barrier was the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish's most powerful defensive skill, and it was called the Heaven's Wall. The Heaven Cloud Jellyfish was incredibly slow, so it used this powerful defensive skill to survive. The Heaven's Wall was incredibly tough, and ordinary City Lords would not be able to break through it at all.

Swish! Swish! Swish...

After blocking Geoffrey's attack, the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish also attacked, its countless tentacles shooting towards Geoffrey.

Geoffrey dodged incredibly quickly because if he was caught by these tentacles, his body would turn into fragmented bits of meat.

"Heaven's Spear!!" After dodging the attack, Geoffrey rushed towards the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish, and his white spear of light gave off a brilliant light, making it seem like a terrifying sun.

Boom!

Geoffrey reached the formless barrier, and he roared as he stabbed out. A white ray of light, bringing with it unstoppable power, shot out at the formless barrier.

Bang!!

The formless barrier rippled, and the white ray of light suddenly tore through the barrier, hitting the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish's body. The Heaven Cloud Jellyfish's body continuously shook, and even though it could not make noise, it seemed injured. Geoffrey felt incredibly delighted; he had finally hit it.

However, in the next second, Geoffrey felt his hairs stand on end because on the top of the Heaven Cloud Jellyfish's body, a white eye had appeared.

Bang!!

Geoffrey's body was sent flying by a formless energy, and he coughed up a mouthful of blood. After flying backward for a few seconds, he steadied his body, but another wave of formless energy arrived, forcing him to dodge and defend.

However, the white eye flashed with a cold light, and ten massive waves of formless energy once again sent Geoffrey flying.

Boom!!

Back at Zhao Fu's side, Zhao Fu sent the Reef Lizard flying with a slash, and it knocked over a peak in the process and coughed up a large mouthful of blood. Zhao Fu coughed up a mouthful of blood and was not in a good condition either, as his abdomen had been pierced by a piece of reef, and blood continuously flowed out.

It was not just Zhao Fu's situation that did not seem good; one of Tina Pendragon's arms had been crippled, and her knight's dress was torn.

The Netherocean Demon Whale and Sin Flood Dragon had moderate injuries as well, but they were stronger than Tina Pendragon in terms of power and recovery. Now, Tina Pendragon could only wield her sword with one hand, defending with great difficulty. She was completely suppressed by the two aquatic beast kings and was in danger of being killed at any second.

Akhenaten was in an even worse position – his body was covered with countless wounds, dyeing him completely red. He was barely able to fend off the Sift Metal Stingray's attacks, and him falling was only a matter of time.

Masanori Hano had been blasted into the ground and was on her dying breath. She had already lost and was only a single step away from death.

However, the Ghostscale Flame Bird was also heavily wounded and was covered with countless wounds, where blood continuously flowed out from.

Elsewhere, Geoffrey felt as if he was a ball being kicked around – he was sent flying in one way by the formless energy, then suddenly another way by another wave of formless energy.

Bang!!

As Zhao Fu was observing the battlefield, the Three Soul Great Snake suddenly shot out a ray of black light towards Zhao Fu's back. After being hit, Zhao Fu stumbled and coughed up a large mouthful of blood, and he almost fell to the ground.

Zhao Fu's eyes were filled with killing intent and rage as he looked at the Three Soul Great Snake. The Three Soul Great Snake instinctively retreated a bit in fear, but it then felt humiliated and hissed at Zhao Fu.

By now, Zhao Fu had made a decision, and he ignored the Three Soul Great Snake as he transmitted his voice out, "All of you, get away from the aquatic beast kings!"

None of the Legatees understood what Zhao Fu was going to do, but hearing this, they all complied and made some distance between them and the aquatic beast kings.

The aquatic beast kings furiously rushed up, wanting to continue to attack, but their bodies suddenly froze as they felt a sense of fear that they had never felt before.

Chapter 755: Azure Wolf Spear

Zhao Fu stood in the air, the black and gold Great Qin Seal hovering above his head and giving off a black light and ripples of energy. The entire sky was filled with a dangerous aura.

"All City Lords, heed my orders!" Zhao Fu raised one hand as he yelled.

Boom!!

A gigantic explosion rang out as the Great Qin Seal turned into a black dragon and rushed into the sky, giving off an intense black light that covered the surrounding area. The might it gave off was like a massive hand that pressed down, destroying countless trees and rocks and causing the ground to crack.

Within Great Qin, all of the City Lords felt their City Lord Seals trembling, and they understood that Zhao Fu was going to use their power.

Their City Lord Seals rose out of their bodies and gave off different-colored lights and powerful auras.

“Westpan City heeds His Majesty’s orders!” “Moongazing City heeds His Majesty’s orders!” “Whitelight City heeds His Majesty’s orders!”

Shouts sounded out as City Lord Seals gave off monstrous auras and shot into the sky, giving off brilliant lights and looking like stars.

A wondrous scene appeared in the sky above Great Qin; 400 or so stars scattered in different areas, illuminating the land below.

Boom!!

As the City Lords sent their power into the Great Qin Seal, Zhao Fu’s body gave off boundless black light, and a black pillar of light shot to the sky. A deafening explosion sounded out as Heaven and Earth Qi madly gathered.

A large vortex quickly formed in the sky and gave off a powerful attractive force. It was like a black hole that could devour anything. Many large trees were pulled up by their roots, and even boulders were swept into the sky. It was as if a catastrophe was about to descend.

Tina Pendragon and the others were shocked at the power Zhao Fu was releasing, and the eight aquatic beast kings felt an immense sense of danger. They even started to consider running away.

This place was covered by a massive haze, and the aquatic beasts and City Lords in the distance felt the ripples of energy. They all looked quite shocked.

However, Zhao Fu was not done yet – within the Great Qin City’s City Hall, the Twelve Metal Colossi, Imperial Ruler’s Seal, Nation-Suppressing Pillar, and Great Qin Emperor Peacock all seemed to have been summoned by something and started to tremble.

Boom!!

Another gigantic explosion sounded out as four pillars of light, bringing with them monstrous power, shot into the sky. Black traces of Fate rose up from the ground and floated towards the four pillars of light, and Great Qin’s ocean-like amount of Fate suddenly decreased by half.

A gigantic explosion rang out as if the sky had exploded, and a domineering might descended. The space around Zhao Fu’s body shattered, and an extremely dangerous aura filled the heavens and the earth.

In the face of this power, the other Legatees seemed as small as ants, and the eight aquatic beast kings felt they were just like little beasts.

This was the first time they had felt such terror before, and it swept through their souls like an icy chill, causing their bodies to tremble. The eight aquatic beast kings all looked terrified, and they quickly retreated. They all wanted to escape because they felt an incredibly real threat of death.

Clang, clang, clang...

The sounds of chains could be heard as millions of chains shot out from where Zhao Fu was towards the eight aquatic beast kings. They quickly found their targets and bound up the aquatic beast kings.

“Roarr!!” the aquatic beast kings roared in fury and horror and desperately struggled, wanting to break free from the chains. However, no matter how they struggled, they were unable to free themselves at all.

The shattered space quickly re-formed, and Zhao Fu, giving off boundless might, looked at the eight aquatic beast kings struggling in fear.

Zhao Fu's gaze was cold and he slowly descended to the ground before squatting down and pressing a hand against the ground. A formless energy spread out as the chains that bound the aquatic beast kings started to drag them underground.

“Roarr!!!!” the aquatic beast kings continued to roar in fear as they madly struggled, but they were still gradually dragged underground.

After being dragged underground, the eight aquatic beast kings still ferociously struggled, causing the ground to shake, and the ground rippled as if it was water.

Zhao Fu then took out an azure spear, called the Azure Wolf Spear, which was an Epic grade weapon. Zhao Fu gripped the spear, causing it to become dyed black, and the item spirit, a giant azure wolf, became a demon wolf.

Boom!!

Zhao Fu vigorously stabbed the black spear into the ground, and as the body of the spear sank one meter deep into the ground, a 1,000 meter wide Emperor's Seal appeared. A black light rippled out, after which the ground became calm again, and the eight aquatic beasts no longer struggled.

“Cough!” Zhao Fu half-knelt on the ground and coughed up a large mouthful of blood, almost collapsing. He immediately took out a bottle of healing medicinal pills and consumed them all, and his wounds started to gradually recover.

Zhao Fu looked at the others, and only Tina Pendragon and Akhenaten were barely able to stand.

No matter why they had done it, they had taken a great risk to save him and had fallen into great danger, so Zhao Fu still thanked them sincerely.

Tina Pendragon mustered up a smile before inwardly sighing. She had barely been of much help this time, and the two aquatic beast kings had almost killed her. In the end, it was Zhao Fu who had resolved this, and compared to him, she was still quite lacking.

Akhenaten dryly laughed. He had regretted saving Zhao Fu, but after hearing Zhao Fu thank him, he did not feel any more regret. To be able to obtain some goodwill from Zhao Fu, it was already enough.

Geoffrey's handsome face had been beaten black and blue, and he lay on the ground as he smiled with great difficulty. It was quite a pitiful smile.

Zhao Fu took out a bottle of Great Qin's special medicine and gave it to him, and Geoffrey did not hesitate to use it before summoning an angel image to help with his recovery.

Following this, Zhao Fu went over to a crater and looked at the unconscious Masanori Hano. Zhao Fu held her in his embrace as he fed the medicine and some Water of Life to her.

After a while, Masanori Hano slowly woke up. Seeing that she was lying in Zhao Fu's embrace, her face became red, and she sat up. With her devil constitution, her recovery speed was quite strong.

Everyone paused and recovered for a while before looking over at the battlefield. The result made them feel quite happy because after the 8 aquatic beast kings had been sealed by Zhao Fu, the aquatic beast tide seemed to have lost its momentum.

Even though some of the aquatic beasts continued to charge, many of them stopped and started to rest. Others ran towards oceans, and the crisis was temporarily resolved.

The Southern Continent's City Lords and various Generals had killed many aquatic beasts, numbering around four million.

After paying the various factions some money, Zhao Fu was able to obtain those corpses.

Chapter 756: Flooding

Zhao Fu was quite happy because after sealing the eight aquatic beast kings, he had obtained an ocean of Invasion Points. The number of Invasion Points he had was more than half of what he needed to exchange for a Capital City.

This was a big step for Great Qin's road to restoration!

However, Zhao Fu had used up half of Great Qin's Fate this time, which was the only thing that truly made Zhao Fu's heart ache.

Soon, they met up with Si Ji and the three others who had not helped out. They looked at Zhao Fu awkwardly, but Zhao Fu did not mind because no one had an obligation to help anyone else. There was nothing wrong for them to stand on the sidelines because it was up to them whether they wanted to help or not.

In the real world, they may have been blamed for being immoral, but in terms of duties and responsibilities, they were not at fault.

As such, Zhao Fu did not mind too much. Of course, when they were in danger, Zhao Fu would not go and help them.

Everyone had been planning on killing the remaining aquatic beasts, but the crisis was not over and had instead become worse.

This was because seawater had flooded 50 or so regions!

This was the Fish Scale people's extermination plan. They had thought about and prepared this for a long time. Those who believed the Fish Scale people were kind would not even know how they had died.

The Fish Scale people did not launch a true invasion and did not even step into the human world. However, they wanted to destroy the entire human world through incredibly cruel means, leaving nothing behind.

The human world's fatal weakness was that they could not breathe or live underwater like the Fish Scale people could.

What the Fish Scale people lacked least was seawater. The Fish Scale world was twice as big as the human world because the sizes of the worlds in the Heaven Awaken World were based on how big they were in reality.

The human world in the Heaven Awaken World was ten times bigger than the human world in reality, and because the Fish Scale world was bigger than the human world in reality, it was also bigger in the Heaven Awaken World.

In their world, 90% of the world was water, so they had more than enough water to flood the human world. At the rift between the worlds, millions of magic formations were transporting seawater into the human world.

While the aquatic beasts were invading the Southern Continent, the Fish Scale people had already been flooding the human world. Before, they had thought that the eight aquatic beast kings would lead the aquatic beasts and ravage the entire Continent, as they were quite confident in the aquatic beast kings' power.

After all, as Legatees, they too could not fight against the aquatic beast kings and would be completely suppressed if they ever fought against them.

The aquatic beasts went on ahead and rampaged, destroying everything, while they carried out their extermination plan at the back – this was their plan.

In their eyes, the human world was pitifully weak, and they were quite divided. If there were a few hundred million people gathered at the rift, they would not have been able to carry out their plan so easily. The noises from the aquatic beasts as soon as they appeared would have been noticed, and the humans could have greatly obstructed them.

However, the humans had left, leaving behind only three million people. In front of this massive invasion, those three million people were completely negligible. There also were not any powerful people defending, just some useless soldiers. That was why the Fish Scale people's plan had been so successful.

They believed that all of the humans were like this, and that they could not stop them at all. They already viewed the human world as theirs for the taking.

However, they never expected that the 8 aquatic beast kings would be sealed by Zhao Fu so quickly.

This completely exceeded their expectations, but the flooding would have been discovered sooner or later. Now, they were quickly building more magic formations to send more seawater into the human world.

They were incredibly fast, and in just a day, they had flooded 50 regions. A flood of this speed could not be escaped at all.

Everything within those 50 regions had drowned, and even some fish and prawn had died. After all, it was a flood of seawater, and the fish and prawn that lived in freshwater could not survive.

Moreover, the seawater from the Fish Scale world was even saltier, and the Fish Scale world's creatures had all adapted in those conditions. However, the creatures in the human world had not, so the seawater was incredibly destructive.

The extermination plan was not an extermination plan for no reason; it was a plan truly intended to exterminate all humans so that none survived.

Even though players would not die a true death and could escape to the real world, once the Heaven Awaken World devoured the real world, all humans would be doomed.

After inundating 50 or so regions, the seawater continued on to even more regions incredibly quickly.

This method made Zhao Fu incredibly furious, and this was the same for the other Legatees. The only way to stop this disaster would be to go to the source and cut it off. Only then would the flooding stop.

However, by the time Zhao Fu and the other Legatees arrived, they found that there were countless Fish Scale people, and they were simply innumerable. There were players and indigenous residents, and they numbered around one billion in total. Their goal was not to attack but to defend.

After all, there was no need for them to suffer any losses. The aquatic beasts were disasters to them as well, so the Fish Scale people did not care whether they survived or died. All they needed to do was defend this place and prevent the humans from destroying the magic formation. If they could do that, the humans would naturally be exterminated.

The Fish Scale people had set up a barrier in front of the magic formations, and it was supported by the strength of one billion people. Even if Zhao Fu used his full strength, he would not be able to shake it at all.

The Legatees' expressions were all quite grim because they could already imagine what the result would be. If the seawater could flood 50 regions in a day, that would be 500 regions in ten days, and in just 100 days, 80% of the Southern Continent would be gone.

In a year, the entire Southern Continent would be completely flooded, and the seawater would soon spread to the Midland Continent, Northern Continent, Western Continent, and Southern Continent.

In a few years, the world would be completely inundated, and it was almost unbearable to think about what would happen to the human race. The Fish Scale people would be able to easily take over the human world.

The extinction of the human race – that was the final outcome.

Zhao Fu felt a chill in his heart. He gripped his fist, and the Earth Realm Mark gave off a rainbow light and appeared on the back of his hand. However, he was unable to use the world's power yet; they still had to face this together as the human world.

Chapter 757: Barrier

Within the barrier, the Fish Scale people mockingly and condescendingly looked at the human Legatees and City Lord.

They all chatted and laughed, and some people even started to drink wine. Everyone was incredibly delighted and did not put Zhao Fu and the others in their eyes at all. They were incredibly arrogant, and in their eyes, the entire human world was trash.

“Old Xi, your plan is great! All we have to do is wait, and we'll obtain their whole world. Now, we should start talking about how to divvy up the human world,” an ugly-looking fat man said as he laughed.

A skinny old man calmly replied, “It's still too early for that; we haven't even taken over a continent yet. We'll talk about it after we've exterminated all of the humans!”

A handsome-looking young man lightly laughed as he said, "That's right; it's still early! The other side still has its World Protector and Legatees, and there might be some unexpected changes. We should still be careful."

The ugly-looking fat man laughed disdainfully, "Look, it's just those Legatees outside; do you really think they can break through the barrier? All they can do is look at it! We made this barrier using one billion people, so I don't believe for one second that they can break through it unless they use their world's power. However, our Fish Scale world's Legatees aren't weak either."

An enchanting woman flirtatiously looked at the people outside the barrier and lightly laughed as she said, "Now that the eight aquatic beast kings have been lured into the human world, our world has become much quieter. Just those eight aquatic beast kings are incredibly difficult for the humans to deal with, let alone us."

"It's a pity; I wanted to make some of those humans slaves, but they can't live underwater, so I have to give up on that. If you see any beautiful men or women, make sure you keep them for me so I can at least turn them into ice statues!"

A big man with fangs coldly harrumphed, "No way, I want to eat human flesh. I've never tried it before, but the aquatic beasts seem to enjoy it a lot, so the taste must be quite good. I want to find some nicer things to eat, and I'm sure the better they look, the better they'll taste."

After hearing this, the enchanting woman looked at the fanged man in contempt and turned her head aside.

"What should we do? We can't let things drag on like this. Let's work together to see if we can destroy this barrier!" Akhenaten said worriedly, seeing that the Southern Continent was in such great danger.

Tina Pendragon shook her head and said, "There's no need to try; we can't destroy that barrier. Unless we also gather one billion people or so, we won't be able to break through it."

"We should see if there's some way to stop the seawater. In just a short while, another ten or so regions have been flooded," Masanori Hano said as she looked at the seawater pouring into the human world.

Geoffrey thought for a moment before saying, “We can’t destroy the barrier right now, so we can’t stop them from pouring seawater into our world. Right now, we can only construct dams and the like to block the water. This will require everyone from the Southern Continent to help.”

Akhenaten nodded and said, “I know. I’ll get the word out immediately.”

Geoffrey then continued, “Moreover, constructing dams are only temporary measures and can only stop the seawater for a short amount of time. If the Fish Scale people invade to stop us, things will be even more troublesome. Once the dams are destroyed, the seawater will continue to flood the world, so we have to cut it off at its source as soon as possible.”

Facing such a powerful barrier, all of them felt powerless, and they all looked at Zhao Fu, who had been silent this entire time.

Zhao Fu could only shake his head. He could not break through a barrier formed by one billion people either, even if he used up all of Great Qin’s Fate. Zhao Fu had also tried to use his Earth Realm Mark but found that he was unable to use the world’s power yet, so he could only sigh.

Seeing that Zhao Fu could do nothing about it either, everyone else’s hearts sank, and their expressions became grave.

Si Ji then said, “We should tell the whole world about this. We can’t solve this by ourselves, and the Southern Continent can’t solve it by themselves either. The whole world should know about this crisis!”

Everyone else nodded because this invasion was not just about the Southern Continent; once the Fish Scale people’s plan was successful, everyone would be doomed.

Following this, everyone turned into rays of light and left.

This news quickly spread throughout the entire human world, shocking all of the factions. Upon hearing that the human world could face annihilation, no one dared to take things lightly anymore.

At the start, everyone else was hoping to weaken the Southern Continent. After all, the danger most likely would not reach them, so they had no plans of helping. Now that this disaster could affect them, they had to help. All factions, government or player, started to discuss how to deal with this issue.

Now that they were facing the extermination of the human race, everyone stood together. No one continued to say that the other side was kind or that they should still seek peace.

Anyone who still tried to maintain peace and call the other side kind when the other side was trying to kill them was an idiot. Those pacifists were not stupid, and because this severely affected their survival, they naturally would not stand on the Fish Scale people's side.

The various factions cooperated, setting up gigantic magic formations that allowed people to travel to the Southern Continent en masse. This allowed the various factions to send large portions of their military to help.

Once they were able to all gather at the Southern Continent, the human world's battle power would become many times more powerful. They would be able to fight together and resist the invasion together.

The human side started to become more united, and they worked together to stop the seawater. However, the seawater was flowing incredibly quickly, and even though they were building dams as quickly as possible, around 400 regions had been flooded. This area was equivalent to 15 Chinas.

Some system main cities and player factions fared better, as they immediately relocated when they heard about the floods. However, some of the villages in the wilderness and wild beasts were not able to escape in time. Only some beasts that had good instincts were able to survive.

However, the people in the wilderness were not so lucky, and the world-ending flood devoured everything in its path. None of them were able to react at all before they were all drowned.

No one knew just how many people had died in those 400 or so regions, but there were countless corpses floating on the water. There were humans, Outlanders, and beasts, creating a horrific scene.

The Fish Scale world started to notice the dams being built. After all, they were part of the Water Race and were quite sensitive to changes in the flow of water.

As such, the Fish Scale world started to send its soldiers into the human world. Those 400 inundated regions had all been filled with seawater, turning them into their territory. Anything they did would be much easier now.

Chapter 758: Opportunity

The dikes at the Southern Continent were created through the efforts of countless people, and they were 40 meters tall and ten meters thick.

Because the floodwaters were too fierce, they first used mud, then added large trees and rocks. Even though they looked quite tall and tough, they could not withstand a single blow from a City Lord.

This was not sufficient, so they had also added all sorts of talismans and runes to the dikes. They had also gathered 1.5 billion people.

They came from all over the world, and there were both players and indigenous residents. Because the Fish Scale people planned to wipe out all humans, the indigenous residents could only help as well. Many City Lords also came to help, as did players from other continents.

Dams and dikes filled the entire Southern Continent, forming an impressive scene. The construction of these dikes could be said to be a miracle, and the 1.5 billion people standing on them did not feel crowded at all.

From here, everyone could see the Fish Scale world. A barrier formed from 1.5 billion people would be incredibly firm, but because everyone was so spread out, the human world barrier was slightly weaker than the Fish Scale world barrier.

After the powerful barrier had been set up, everyone's uneasy hearts became more settled, and they no longer felt as panicked or terrified.

The human world naturally formed a massive alliance, and there were not only the governments of various countries but also various Dynasty Legatees. The greatest powers in the world had all gathered here.

However, even though they were on the same side, no one was willing to submit to anyone else. As such, this alliance had no alliance master and was directed by the 12 most powerful countries. All of the other countries did not have as much authority.

After spreading the news about the Fish Scale people's plan, Zhao Fu had returned to Great Qin to treat his injuries. After a few days of recuperating, he had returned to his peak condition.

“Your Majesty! Even though this is a crisis for the human world, it is also an opportunity that can greatly benefit Great Qin!” Li Si said as he smiled and stepped forward.

Zhao Fu felt a bit confused and he asked, “What do you mean, Li Si?”

Li Si replied, “The Fish Scale world invading the human world is a massive crisis, putting a lot of pressure on everyone. Now, Great Qin can use this opportunity to have even more City Lords join us.

“All we need to do is say that Great Qin is strong enough to protect them, and they will naturally choose to submit to Great Qin. If Great Qin cannot defend against this disaster, they will be even more powerless.

“All of the City Lords know about this news, and if they don't believe it, they can go there themselves to take a look since there are so many teleportation channels to the Southern Continent right now. They aren't stupid and will make the wise decision!”

After hearing this, Zhao Fu immediately understood and sent out people. Before too much time had passed, 102 City Lords had expressed their willingness to join Great Qin. This was an incredibly pleasant surprise, and Zhao Fu could not help but happily laugh.

The reason this had gone so well was because of various factors, including the Fish Scale world's invasion, Great Qin's strength, and Great Qin's foreign policies in sending ambassadors and establishing friendly relations.

The more familiar Great Qin was to those people, the easier it was for them to submit to Great Qin.

Before, Zhao Fu had not attacked because he was worried that as soon as he attacked, the City Lords would feel threatened and ally together. Now that there were no restrictions on travel, they could easily form a massive alliance.

Even though the northern side was Vietnam, which Zhao Fu would not move against yet, the three other sides would each have at least 100 regions allying together if he attacked. The more threatened they felt the more people would join.

In fact, 300 regions allying together was actually a small figure; it was possible that 600 or more regions could ally together in response to such a threat.

Assuming that each region had about 300,000 soldiers, ten regions would have three million soldiers, 100 regions would have 30 million soldiers, and 300 regions would have at least 90 million soldiers. It would be quite difficult for Great Qin to defend against such a number, let alone against the forces of 600 regions.

As such, Zhao Fu no longer acted as domineeringly, and he instead established friendly relations. Without enough military power, Zhao Fu would not go out and attack more regions.

Now, their foreign policy had proven to be extremely useful. Without shedding a single drop of blood, they had been able to obtain 200 or so regions so far. The 102 City Lords provided Great Qin with 50 million residents and ten million Stage 1 soldiers, causing Great Qin's strength to once again greatly increase.

By now, Great Qin had 470 million residents and 60 million soldiers. They were definitely the faction that had benefitted the most out of the Fish Scale people's invasion.

Now, another 32 regions had been emptied out, and Great Qin started to clear out those regions. If everything went to plan, after clearing out those 32 regions, Great Qin would be able to level up into a Level 4 Capital City.

Zhao Fu did not send any soldiers to the Southern Side not because he was not willing to help but because he did not trust the other factions. Most of the factions were made up of players. It would not matter if players died, as they could revive, but if indigenous residents died, they would stay dead.

If they suddenly attacked Great Qin, Great Qin could lose its entire army. Even though they were facing a common enemy, he could not help but be cautious. The other factions simply feared Great Qin too much, and Zhao Fu had to respond accordingly.

In the future, the Great Qin army would act by itself and try not to combine with other forces. There were not any large-scale battles yet, so he could still use his army for clearing out the regions for now.

After dealing with these things, a soldier came to report that the Southern Continent alliance had invited him to participate in an important meeting.

After thinking about it, Zhao Fu decided to go.

There were countless chairs placed in a lavish hall, and there were already thousands of people there. They were all the leaders of various factions, and they all had important and distinguished statuses.

Tina Pendragon and the other Legatees had long since arrived and sat on a row of chairs at the front. The scene was quite bustling, as this meeting gathered the main forces of the human world's defense against the Fish Scale world's invasion.

After a while, a bearded man could not wait any longer and called out, "We've waited for so long already; why haven't we started the meeting yet?"

Those next to him nudged him and said quietly, "There's still someone who's not here yet; of course we can't start without him!"

The bearded man felt even more displeased and called out, "Who's that person making so many people wait for him? I hate those kinds of people!"

Everyone else around him rolled their eyes, "He's Great Qin's Legatee. Try saying that after he's here."

After hearing that name, the bearded man no longer looked angry and immediately smiled as he said, "Ah, forget about it, we can just wait for a bit longer. I heard he sealed the eight aquatic beast kings this time, and it's said that each of those aquatic beast kings is more powerful than even a few hundred City Lords. Do you think they're really that strong?"

Chapter 759: Ships

The expressions of the people around him became serious, and one of them nodded and said, "The eight aquatic beast kings rule the eight cardinal directions in the Fish Scale world, so how could they not be powerful? If he hadn't dealt with those eight aquatic beast kings, we would not have been able to stop the aquatic beast tide, and they would have swept through many more regions."

Hearing this, the bearded man said with admiration, "It'd be great if I could be as powerful. I want to see just how powerful those aquatic beast kings are!"

In response, the other person said, "You'd most likely get instantly killed if you went. However, I'm a bit worried because the place where they were sealed was flooded by seawater. I wonder if anything will happen!"

Just as the bearded man was about to say something, the whole scene suddenly fell quiet. Everyone looked towards the door where a black-cloaked man had appeared without anyone realizing.

It was Zhao Fu, and he disregarded everyone's gazes as he walked in. He looked around and walked over to sit beside Tina Pendragon.

Seeing Zhao Fu had finally arrived, an elderly man stepped out and smiled as he said, "The meeting will now begin!"

A tough-looking man from the Chinese government walked out and spoke first. There were two things on the meeting's agenda: how to attack and how to defend.

"The Fish Scale people have occupied the rift and are pouring large amounts of water into our world. They've also set up a powerful barrier. First, we need to cut off the inflow of seawater at its source; only then will the flooding stop. Moreover, even though our dikes are supported with countless runes and talismans, they're made of mud, trees, and rocks. The water has risen to ten or so meters. And, if the Fish Scale people destroy the dikes, the outcome would be unimaginable. We need to use firmer materials to build a second line of dikes to take precautions."

Hearing this, everyone else nodded. Everyone agreed that they had to construct a second line of dikes in order to stay safe.

However, the problem was how to break through the barrier. There were one billion Fish Scale people on the other side defending it, so everyone heatedly discussed this matter. Zhao Fu did not say anything and attentively listened to everyone else speak.

As the humans discussed, the Fish Scale people started to move. Thousands of scouting teams had already stealthily entered the human world.

After obtaining some information, they returned to the Fish Scale world. Apart from finding out detailed information about the dikes, they had also discovered where the eight aquatic beast kings were sealed.

That was because the dangerous aura coming from that region was simply too strong, and it would have been difficult not to notice it. When this news was reported back to the Fish Scale world, everyone was quite shocked as they had thought the eight aquatic beast kings were still rampaging in the human world. They had never expected them to be sealed so quickly.

They were incredibly curious as to how the humans had done this. After all, even the Legatees of the Fish Scale world were not able to do anything to the eight aquatic beast kings.

The Fish Scale world's Legatees snuck into the human world and looked at the jet-black spear stuck into the ground underwater. It looked extremely ordinary but approaching it made one's hairs stand on end.

"I never thought the eight aquatic beast kings would be sealed here. It seems we cannot underestimate the human world. However, they've actually just left this seal here! If we can break the seal, the eight aquatic beast kings will definitely attack the humans even more furiously, helping out the invasion!" the ugly man said as he smiled and looked at the black spear in the ground.

The fanged man harrumphed, "The humans are too used to peace and security. They are too careless. I'll go and get rid of this seal!"

Everyone else was quite supportive of this, but none of them wanted to act. No one knew just how powerful the black spear's sealing power was. Now that someone was willing to try, everyone else was only too happy to support him.

However, to be able to seal the eight aquatic beast kings, the sealing power of the spear would definitely be incredibly terrifying. Everyone silently retreated as the fanged man walked over so as to prepare for anything unexpected.

The fanged man came before the black spear, and his body gave off a large amount of green light. He exploded out with a monstrous aura that sent out a shockwave that blasted the surrounding water away.

Suddenly, the fanged man grabbed the black spear!

Everyone was quite surprised since none of them had expected him to grab the spear like that and be fine. Following this, the fanged man started to use his strength to try to pull the black spear out.

Bang!!

A black light flashed and a formless energy sent the black man flying with his chest covered with blood. He seemed quite injured. In front of that power, he was completely defenseless.

No one was too surprised. Since the other side had dared to leave the seal here unguarded, it was definitely quite special.

It seemed this seal was not something they could break through, but perhaps their World Protector could try. However, the Fish Scale world's World Protector had been cultivating in the depths the entire time and normally disregarded matters of the world. He had not participated in this invasion, and everything had been planned and carried out by the other Legatees and factions.

The enchanting-looking woman said, "We should quickly leave! Now that we've triggered the seal, that person will definitely be able to sense it."

Everyone nodded, and the ugly man carried the fanged man. Even though the fanged man was quite stupid, he was very powerful. The others always used him to test the waters, so they had to save him.

Now, both sides had information about the other side but could not do much, resulting in a temporary deadlock.

Time gradually passed. After waiting a while, the human side gradually lost its passion for battle. The water below the dike was rising higher and higher and was now at 20 or so meters. Even though the dike was now ten meters taller, the situation was not very good.

The Fish Scale world had always been on the offensive, and the human world had always been on the defensive. As time went on, the human side gradually lost morale. If they started to leave like before, the Fish Scale people would most likely attack.

They could not continue on like this – the various factions decided they had to attack. Even though the rift had a powerful barrier around it, they would still be able to easily break through it if one billion people simultaneously attacked.

Many people had already thought of this, but they did not have much confidence in fighting on water. After all, this was a war between worlds. If they made any mistakes, countless people would die. As such, they had been hesitating this entire time, but they had no more time to waste.

Ships started to cover the water, and the people finally prepared to fight. Everyone felt quite excited to fight as they were incredibly infuriated by the Fish Scale people's plan.

Everyone's battle intent was once again lifted up after seeing they were about to fight, and they started to head towards the rift.

However, many ships started to be attacked halfway there. Arrows shot out from underwater. Because many people were careless, there were many injuries and casualties. Many Fish Scale people also swam underneath ships and started to use blades to sabotage the ships.

Chapter 760: Great Battle

Many humans jumped into the water after seeing the ships were being sabotaged. The ships were made out of wood, and it would be quite difficult for people with low Cultivation to destroy them. However, those with at least Stage 1 Cultivation would easily be able to sabotage them. And when the ships went down, they would also drag the people on them down as well.

Everyone had a Water Pearl; thus, even if they could not swim, they would not have to worry. After falling into the water, the Water Pearl on them would give off a faint light, and a membrane would appear around them. The membrane kept the water away from them and drew out oxygen from the water for them to breathe.

There were many people participating in this attack, and those at the front had already entered the water and were fighting with the Fish Scale people.

Even though the humans had received some training, they were still weaker in the water than the Fish Scale people who had lived their entire lives in water.

The Fish Scale people were like nimble fish in the water and were extremely agile, whereas the humans were quite awkward and clumsy.

A human player jumped into the water and stabbed towards a Fish Scale player, but the Fish Scale player twisted his body incredibly quickly, easily dodging the attack. Then, the Fish Scale player quickly swam behind the human player and used his short sword to attack.

The Fish Scale player's attack was extremely ferocious, and he rapidly slashed out with his short sword. The human player was forced to continuously defend while retreating, so he did not have an opportunity to retaliate.

Finally, the human player grasped an opportunity to shoot out a large amount of spear light toward the Fish Scale player, but the Fish Scale player coldly smiled and lithely retreated to easily avoid the attack before suddenly kicking out with his legs.

A whoosh sounded out as the Fish Scale player shot forwards like an arrow and slashed out with his short sword, sending out an icy glow.

The human player was greatly startled and tried to retreat, but it was too late. The short sword easily cut off his head, and blood flowed out from his neck, dyeing the surrounding water red — the headless corpse drifting downwards.

The Fish Scale player coldly harrumphed, "Arrogant humans! You dare to directly face us Fish Scale people in the water?"

Following this, the Fish Scale player turned and quickly swam over to another human and soon took another kill.

Humans who faced Fish Scale people of the same Cultivation were at a disadvantage, and humans who had lower Cultivation were guaranteed to lose. Only humans with a higher Cultivation could suppress the Fish Scale people, but because Fish Scale people were innately stronger than humans, the human side was at a great disadvantage.

In just a short while, the human side lost ten million people while killing less than one million Fish Scale people in exchange. The difference was quite great. If it was on land, there would not be such a great disparity. The water was the Fish Scale people's domain, and they were already stronger as well.

The people at the front quickly retreated. The person in charge of commanding this army was quite experienced, and he knew that if they continued like this, they would be bitterly defeated. As such, they had to quickly change their plans.

The players at the front were extremely furious because they felt incredibly powerless. They were being suppressed by the water and could not use their full strength, and the Fish Scale people's attacks were so ferocious. As such, they could only wait for orders.

Soon, the commander gave out an order, and the people at the front retreated. Archers who had been preparing at the back appeared; they drew their bows fully and sent their Cultivation power into them. The arrows gave off cold gleaming lights. And, because they were shooting in the water, the force of the arrows would be reduced, so they all used their full strength.

Arrows tore through the water which shocked many Fish Scale people. They immediately dodged, but many were still hit, which resulted in many injuries and casualties.

This immediately changed the situation for the human side, so they were finally able to gain an upper hand. This delighted everyone, but the situation quickly became grim as Fish Scale Cavalry started to appear at the sides.

There were three types of Fish Scale Cavalry: One rode on swordfish, one rode on sharks, and one rode on large catfish.

The Fish Scale people who rode on swordfish held spears that were incredibly fast and shot out like rays of silver light. They gave off incredible momentum as they tore into the human army.

They were completely unstoppable, and their spears continuously pierced into human bodies.

The Cavalry on sharks were not as fast, but they were not slow either. When they rushed in front of the humans, the three-meter long sharks would open their mouths and bite the humans in half.

The Shark Cavalry held large sabers suited to killing large numbers of people. As the Shark Cavalry slashed out, they were often able to take five or six heads.

The ones with the most ferocious auras were the Cavalry on catfish. They rode on catfish six meters long, and their heads were quite wide. They were also quite fast, so they ferociously charged into groups of people like bulls, blasting people away.

Ordinary players and soldiers were completely destroyed by the Fish Scale Cavalry. Moreover, the Fish Scale Cavalry flanked from two sides. The human army was greatly weakened and started to collapse, and all of the water was dyed red with blood.

In that one charge, the human army suffered 70 million injuries and casualties, whereas less than 500,000 Fish Scale people were killed. The human army no longer attacked so ferociously and instead took a defensive formation. Shieldbearers were on the outside, and their shields gave off a semi-circular energy barrier that could defend against attacks from the front, above, and below.

The Infantrymen supported the Shieldbearers from behind while the Archers on the inside drew their bows.

“Charge!!” a large Fish Scale person riding on a gigantic catfish roared as he led a massive number of Cavalrymen surging forward towards the human army.

The human commander roared, “Stop them even if you die! We’re the most important line of defense for the human world. If we lose, all humans will die. Fire!!”

The human players and soldiers drew their bows and shot out icy arrows. The Shieldbearers roared as they prepared to stop the incoming Cavalry.

Countless arrows flew through the water which hit many of the Fish Scale people, and many of the arrows also hit their mounts. Even though the mounts did not immediately die, they started to go out of control due to the pain, which reduced the Fish Scale Cavalry’s momentum.

However, the Fish Scale Cavalry still possessed immense momentum and slammed into the human army’s shield wall.

Boom!!

“Ahhhh!!” the human Shieldbearers shouted as they used their full strength to defend against the massive force of the Cavalry, which momentarily stopped the tide of Fish Scale Cavalry.

The human side madly shot out arrows and killed many of the Fish Scale Cavalry. Once the Cavalry was stopped, their threat was much smaller.

The Fish Scale Cavalry could only turn and run, and the pressure on the human army was greatly lessened.

“Roar! Roar! Roar!” Bestial roars suddenly sounded out all around, and an extremely terrifying aura spread out.
