

The Lord 841

Chapter 841: Reason

Hearing the things that the enemy were yelling, the members of the Vietnamese Guard started to doubt the Vietnamese Guard's aim. Were they really wolf in sheep's clothing like the enemy said?

At that point, even the older members of the Vietnamese Guard fell deep into thought. They had been in the Vietnamese Guard for three years and felt deeply towards the Vietnamese Guard. They had joined the Vietnamese Guard for justice and for their country, and if the Vietnamese Guard was truly evil, could they continue to work for it?

Those who had joined later on had done so for benefits. They did not care much about whether it was good or evil. They waited for orders to attack and took everything from the enemy.

The Vietnamese Guard's morale was slightly shaken, but at that moment, a loud and bright voice sounded out, "Are you really going to trust the enemy's word over the Vietnamese Guard's word? Think about the things the Vietnamese Guard has done over the past three years and how much it has helped you all. What does that all mean to you? Charge! Kill those people and take as many goods for yourself!"

This caused the Vietnamese Guard's shaken morale to stabilize. Even though some people still had doubts, there was no time for too much thinking.

The Vietnamese Guard's army started to charge and flooded forwards like an ocean. They used all sorts of methods to scale the City Walls, while the Archers behind covered them.

The enemy side also vigorously retaliated, throwing down large rocks, logs, and burning oil towards those who were climbing up. At the same time, their own Archers also attacked.

However, no matter how intensely the enemy side retaliated, the Vietnamese Guard simply had too many people. As waves of arrow rain landed and the Vietnamese Guard's soldiers scaled the walls, the defending side suffered countless casualties.

By now, there was a lot of fighting on top of the City Walls, and more and more people reached the top and started to attack.

The battle in the sky had also begun – Ly Qinqian personally acted, her sword giving off a sharp sword light as she attacked the City Lord of a Basic City. The City Lord defended with his full strength, but he was still sent flying backward and coughed up a large mouthful of blood.

Explosions continuously sounded out, and the defending side's situation became worse and worse. An elderly man cursed, "You people from the Vietnamese Guard won't have a good ending! You hypocritical demons!"

Chi!

A sharp saber light chopped this elderly man in half, causing blood to fall everywhere, and his corpse crashed to the ground. A City Lord Seal floated in the air, giving off a faint light.

"Arghh!" Another howl sounded out as a chubby young man's hand was cut off by a sword strike. He was powerless to face the Vietnamese Guard's City Lords, and seeing that there was no more hope of victory, he could only surrender.

The battle quickly stabilized. The Vietnamese Guard had lost two million people while the other side had lost four million people, and many of them had been captured.

The other two teams also destroyed the remainder of the factions, and they once again regathered. They had started out with 30 million soldiers, with only 25 million remaining, but they had gained 260 Cities from clearing the 35 regions.

Because most of them were player factions, most of these Cities were only Basic Cities. To be able to obtain 260 Cities, Zhao Fu was already quite satisfied.

However, after the battles, many people's doubts about the Vietnamese Guard started to surface. Many people wondered if the Vietnamese Guard was really a wolf in sheep's clothing and if everything it had done was a farce. Could it be that it had lied when determining some factions were evil, its true to conquer regions? Did the Vietnamese Guard really have such ambition? Wasn't everything done for Vietnam? Was it truly righteous?

Many people went to the higher-ups and asked these countless questions, and some people even yelled out, "If the Vietnamese Guard is really like this, I want to leave the Vietnamese Guard! I don't want to fight for those with wild ambition; I only want to fight for justice and Vietnam!"

As people started to yell these things, more and more people rallied to them and expressed the same sentiments. They had only joined the Vietnamese Guard because of their patriotism and love of justice. In fact, there were many soldiers from the army in the real world who had joined because of their patriotism.

If all of this was false and just an act put up by the Vietnamese Guard, then what they believed in had all been a lie. They were unable to accept this, so they all felt incredibly pained.

20 or so City Lords of the Vietnamese Guard also wanted the leader to explain these things and restore the Vietnamese Guard's name.

It was already dark, and Ly Qinqian smiled as she came before everyone, saying amicably, "Now that the battles have ended, we should celebrate. As for your questions, I will give you satisfactory answers; please believe me and the Vietnamese Guard."

Seeing that Ly Qinqian was personally going to give them an explanation, everyone slightly relaxed and did not feel as emotional, waiting for Ly Qinqian to give her explanation.

At the same time, pots of wine and plates of food were brought up, and everyone started to celebrate, temporarily forgetting about their questions and dissatisfaction. They all trusted Ly Qinqian quite a lot.

Ly Qinqian then gathered all of the Vietnamese Guard's higher-ups at the location of the previous faction they had taken down, and they met within a building.

Of these people, 70% were from Great Qin, and only 30% of them were player City Lords. The player City Lords could guess why Ly Qinqian had asked to meet them here; it was most likely about the operation that had just taken place.

All eyes fell on Ly Qinqian. They all felt quite respectful towards Ly Qinqian, as she had developed a faction into the biggest faction in Vietnam. No ordinary person could do such a thing.

"What is it, leader?" a young man asked.

Ly Qinqian slightly smiled and ordered people to bring up cups of tea as she said, "It's nothing much. You've all worked hard for the Vietnamese Guard's victory this time. I've prepared some medicinal tea for you – have some first and we'll talk more."

Seeing all the other City Lords start drinking, the player City Lords also drank some. However, their expressions immediately changed, and a look of shock appeared on their faces. They looked at Ly Qinqian and cried out, "Leader, why?"

Their bodies had entered the Heaven Awaken World, as the tea they had just drunk was mixed with the juice from Reality Fruits. At the same time, they had all been stripped of their titles as City Lords.

This was why they were so startled, and they looked at Ly Qinqian in disbelief. They never expected Ly Qinqian, who they expected so much from, to do such a thing to them. They could not help but think of the things from the operation.

Looking at the people below, Ly Qinqian waved her hand, and City Lord Seals floated out of the player City Lords' bodies and into her hands. Ly Qinqian's smile died down as she said, "Now, I will tell you the reason for all of this."

Chapter 842: Fighting

"From the very beginning, the Vietnamese Guard was just a chess piece of Great Qin. I was just a puppet leader chosen by Great Qin's Legatee, and everything was provided for by Great Qin. 70% of the Vietnamese Guard's higher-ups are from Great Qin.

"Over the past few years, I've been favoured by Great Qin's Legatee and have been given some power. The justice and kindness that the Vietnamese Guard have held onto as ideals are all fake. The true purpose of the Vietnamese Guard is to destroy Vietnam."

After hearing Ly Qinqian's words, the player City Lords stared at her with wide eyes, feeling that they had been dealt a massive blow to their minds. Some of them were barely able to stay standing.

They had never thought that the Vietnamese Guard they loved and worshipped so much was actually just a chess piece of Great Qin. The leader who they respected so much was just a puppet, and all of the justice they trusted in was false. They had done everything because they loved

Vietnam and wanted to build a better future for Vietnam, but they had never thought that the Vietnamese Guard's aim was to destroy Vietnam.

These mental blows almost caused some people to collapse. This was immensely painful – something they believed in so much had crashed just like that, and they had ended up harming their country.

An elder felt a massive pressure in his chest, and he madly coughed up a mouthful of blood. He had never thought that things would turn out like this.

Ly Qinqian's expression darkened as she said, "Before, your only outcome was to be killed, but since you trusted and worshipped me so much, I don't want that to happen to you. It's best for you to submit to Great Qin!"

"I have become one of Great Qin's Legatee's concubines and have some power, so I can guarantee your safety. There has been no hope for Vietnam for quite a while – even without the Vietnamese Guard, Great Qin would be able to destroy Vietnam at any time. It's just that Great Qin does not want to right now.

"All of Vietnam is doomed now and destined to be destroyed by Great Qin. I hope you can all understand, as Great Qin's strength is something that you cannot even imagine."

"Leader, this can't be!" A young man's expression was hazy as he vigorously shook his head. Tears flowed out of his eyes, as the organization he had trusted the most had betrayed him, and the woman he had looked up to so much had long since become someone else's woman.

A person quickly rushed towards the door but was stopped by one of Great Qin's City Lords. That person yelled with an unsightly expression, "Let me out! I'm going to expose the Vietnamese Guard's evil for what it is and expose Great Qin's plot!"

The Great Qin's City Lord's expression became cold, and he waved his hand. That person was blasted by a formless energy and crashed to the ground, coughing up a mouthful of blood. Another City Lord nearby condescending placed his foot on that person's head, preparing to step down and crush his head.

The player City Lords were greatly startled. They had known each other for three years and had fought for Vietnam's future together. Everyone was very familiar with each other, and now that their real bodies had entered the Heaven Awaken World, they would die a true death.

These people were good friends, and seeing that this person was about to be killed, they immediately rushed up. However, after losing their City Lord Seals, their strength was only at Stage 3 or so.

Just as they acted, Great Qin's City Lords nearby immediately moved as well. Great Qin's City Lords punched out, sending the player City Lords flying, and the rest of Great Qin's City Lords also stood up with cold expressions on their faces, looking at the 20 or so player City Lords with a trace of killing intent.

This caused the 20 or so player City Lords' expressions to fall, making them feel as if their hearts had fallen into frozen water. They understood that these people wanted to kill them, and facing so many City Lords, they had no chance at living at all.

"Enough! Great Qin's Legatee has left everything to me to take care of; don't you all forget who I am!" Ly Qinqian sharply said as he coldly looked at everyone.

Hearing this, all of Great Qin's City Lords stopped and respectfully lowered their heads as they retreated.

This caused the 20 or so player City Lords to let out a sigh of relief; they had nearly all died just then. They looked up at Ly Qinqian with a slight trace of gratitude.

They now understood the situation completely. The Vietnamese Guard's higher-ups and Ly Qinqian only followed Great Qin's orders.

Ly Qinqian slightly relaxed. If she was by herself, she would not be able to suppress these people. She looked at the 20 or so player City Lords and said, "I'm sure you understand that Great Qin is not incredibly kind and is often used as a synonym for evil instead. If you don't make a decision, they will kill you all, and I won't be able to do anything about it!"

The 20 or so people understood that Ly Qinqian was protecting them right now, or else they would have died. After slightly hesitating, they decided to submit.

A smile appeared on Ly Qinqian's face; these people had followed her for a long time, and she did not want them to die from the bottom of her heart.

Boom!!

A massive explosion sounded out as a terrifying aura swept out like a massive wave. The ground slightly cracked as the sound of an army charging could be heard in all directions.

Ly Qinqian's expression became cold, and she said, "I never thought they'd arrive so quickly. Hurry and leave!"

Seeing that Ly Qinqian did not seem to care about the Vietnamese Guard's people outside, one of the player City Lords asked, "Leader, what about everyone else?"

Ly Qinqian's expression was cold as she said calmly, "They will all die, because they're an obstacle for Great Qin!"

This reply caused everyone to feel a chill in their hearts.

The rest of the Vietnamese Guard, who had been celebrating, quickly sensed the approaching army as well. They hurriedly went to the City Walls and saw countless system faction soldiers charging over like an ocean. There were countless system City Lords in the air, giving off a massive might.

"Hurry and report to the leader that the system army has attacked!" Some people wanted to report this but found that the higher-ups had all disappeared, causing the countless Vietnamese Guard members' hearts to feel a chill.

Some people seemed to realise something and yelled, "Let's quickly escape! The higher-ups have run off already; this is all a big conspiracy!"

They wanted to run, but the system army had already surrounded them and had started to ferociously attack.

This system army was made up of the two massive system factions outside the first Great Wall. The members of the Vietnamese Guard were all Vietnamese players, and they would not serve Great Qin. After finding out the truth about the Vietnamese Guard, they would want to leave, so they had to die.

Killing them would be quite easy, but Zhao Fu wanted to use the two large system factions instead by telling them of the Vietnamese Guard's position and that the Vietnamese Guard was preparing to destroy them.

The two system factions naturally knew of the Vietnamese Guard, as it was the largest faction in Vietnam. They understood that it did indeed have the power to destroy them, so after learning where it was, they immediately brought an army of 35 million as well as countless City Lords.

Even though the Vietnamese Guard still had 25 million soldiers, they were at a great disadvantage. The players were generally all weaker than system main city soldiers, and the system army had 300 or so City Lords. With their help, the system army quickly broke through this city.

At the same time, Great Qin started to move!

Chapter 843: Bait

After the City was broken through, both sides started to fight. The ocean-like system army charged at the Vietnamese Guard army, which had become even more chaotic after losing its higher-ups. It continuously retreated and could not put up any meaningful resistance.

Both sides' weapons continuously clashed, and the battle was incredibly intense. Cries continuously sounded out, and blood flew everywhere as corpses piled all over the ground.

The Vietnamese Guard's people were continuously killed. Even though they retaliated, it was not very effective. After all, the system main city soldiers had higher Cultivation and greater numbers as well.

The system City Lords also unleashed powerful attacks towards the Vietnamese Guard's army. Their immense destructive power killed countless people from the Vietnamese Guard, causing them to become even more disorganized and making them feel even more despair.

Finally, most of the people from the Vietnamese Guard died. Out of the 25 million people, only one million were able to escape, and everyone else was killed. On the system factions' side, they only lost roughly four million people.

They had lost only 4 million people while wiping out 21 million enemies; this was a great victory. They had paid a small price to get rid of their greatest threat, and all of the system City Lords felt that this was quite worth it.

However, it was strange how easily these Vietnamese Guard people had been killed. This was even more so because there was not a single City Lord; could it be that they had found an extremely good opportunity and had attacked just when the City Lords had gone out?

Even though they did not know what was going on, the fact was still that they had destroyed the Vietnamese Guard, which was their greatest threat.

In the real world, news of the Vietnamese Guard attacking 'good' factions caused their reputation to drastically fall. Many people demanded an explanation from the Vietnamese Guard, and there started to be many people who opposed the Vietnamese Guard – these were all people who had been killed by the Vietnamese Guard.

The Vietnamese Guard revealing its ambition caused the various factions to discuss how to deal with it. Many of them even started talking about combining together to destroy the Vietnamese Guard, as it was now an extremely great threat in Vietnam.

However, at that moment, they were shocked to find out that the Vietnamese Guard had been destroyed by system factions, and almost all of their members had been killed. This sudden turn in events caused countless people in Vietnam to feel incredibly surprised and to feel that this could not be real.

After all, the Vietnamese Guard had only just cleared out many regions and had become much more powerful in a short amount of time. All of these factions had become quite frightened of it, so it was only natural to feel disbelief upon hearing that it had been destroyed.

However, as the Vietnamese Guard's members returned to the real world and spread this news, everyone understood that the Vietnamese Guard had indeed been destroyed, and this news shocked all of Vietnam.

The factions that had been planning to attack the Vietnamese Guard all laughed – before they could act, the problem had resolved itself.

The ordinary players all felt differently about this – some were quite grieved, as they believed that the Vietnamese Guard was good, while others mocked and cursed at the Vietnamese Guard, saying that it deserved to be destroyed for its actions.

As the largest faction in Vietnam for three years, many people felt quite sorrowful. No matter whether it was good or evil, it was a powerful faction, and yet it had been destroyed so easily.

Everyone intensely discussed this matter, because there were many points of suspicion, such as why the City Lords had disappeared and why the system army had suddenly attacked.

Back in the Heaven Awaken World, the system army had just obtained a smooth victory, and they started to collect their spoils of war before returning to celebrate.

Boom!!

A massive explosion sounded out as the City Lords were startled to see an incredibly terrifying army rushing at them like a massive mountain flash flood.

The terrifying aura it gave off caused countless people's hairs to stand on end – the army was simply innumerable and had at least 100 million soldiers.

This caused the countless City Lords' expressions to fall, and they felt as if they had fallen into a massive trap. This trap had used the entire Vietnamese Guard as bait, and they hadn't hesitated to devour this bait.

At the same time, powerful auras appeared in the sky as roughly 1,500 City Lords giving off immense might revealed themselves, causing the air to seem to freeze.

This caused the system City Lords to immediately want to run. There were only 300 or so of them, while they faced at least 1,500 City Lords. Each one of them would have to fight five City Lords; how could they win?

Their soldiers had also just gone through a big battle and used up a lot of their strength. They had barely recovered and still had some injuries. What's more, they only had 30 million soldiers but had to face 100 million soldiers; they had no confidence at all.

Even though they wanted to run, Great Qin's army was prepared and quickly surrounded them. Even the City Lords above were surrounded by Great Qin's City Lords.

The system City Lords' expressions became quite unsightly, and they asked, "Just who are you?"

Zhao Fu lightly laughed and appeared in the air, giving off an incredibly terrifying might that weighed down like a mountain on all of the system City Lords. He said domineeringly, "Right now, you only have two options: submit to Great Qin or die!"

"Great Qin!" Those words immediately caused countless cries, and the system City Lords looked at each other with horrified looks. They had long since heard of Great Qin's strength, and even though they had not officially fought before, they understood how powerful Great Qin was. Now that they had seen Great Qin's strength, they could not help but feel terrified.

However, as Vietnamese people, they were not very willing to submit to Great Qin, as Great Qin was a foreign faction.

"Break through to the east!" one of the City Lords yelled out after looking around and finding that the encirclement was weaker at the eastern side. All of the soldiers and City Lords charged at the eastern side, wanting to break out of the encirclement.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Suddenly, massive explosions sounded out as enormous blasts blew up within the city, emitting piercing white light. The ground violently quaked and shockwaves rippled out, destroying everything in their way. Dust and sand were sent into the sky, and large mushroom clouds rose up.

The system soldiers could not react in time before they were instantly devoured by the white light, and their bodies were blown to tiny fragments. Those at the outer boundaries were also blasted into pieces.

The orderly army of 30 million system soldiers was sent into complete chaos from those explosions, and at least five or six million soldiers were instantly killed.

Great Qin had long since set up 30 Destruction Crystals within the city and had used the entirety of the Vietnamese Guard as a bait.

None of the system factions thought that something like this would happen, and the leaders looked at the scene in shock. At that moment, Zhao Fu and Great Qin's City Lords started to attack.

Chapter 844: Destroying Nations

Zhao Fu turned into a ray of black light and arrived before a City Lord. His hand shot out, piercing into that City Lord's chest before gripping his heart and ripping it out, causing that City Lord to instantly die.

A wooden City Lord Seal giving off a faint light floated out of the corpse, and Zhao Fu put it away before rushing at another City Lord and snapping his neck. None of the City Lords could put up much of a resistance in front of Zhao Fu.

Great Qin's City Lords all began to work together to deal with the enemy City Lords.

Below, Great Qin's soldiers started to attack the system army, which had been sent into utter chaos. They got into formation and started to march forwards, giving off a solemn, oppressive aura.

The Archers at the back vigorously drew their bows and shot towards the countless system soldiers. The arrows tore through the air and descended like a torrential rain towards the system army.

The arrows pierced through many system soldiers' chests, causing blood to splatter everywhere. Some were hit by a dozen arrows, dying a horrific death. Countless system soldiers desperately looked for cover; after suffering those terrifying explosions and now facing such intense attacks, they were truly afraid.

In the distance, Ly Qinqian brought the surrendered players to look at what was happening. The players behind her were incredibly shocked, and their bodies trembled as fear swept out of their hearts.

The system army, which had been incredibly terrifying to them, was now being one-sidedly slaughtered by Great Qin. It was not because the system army was weak; they had personally watched them slaughter the Vietnamese Guard's people. Rather, it was because Great Qin was significantly stronger than them.

It was not just the soldiers; even the City Lords in the air were being massacred by Great Qin. The incredibly monstrous and prestigious system City Lords were being casually killed by Great Qin.

This scene deeply shook the players' souls; they now understood how powerful Great Qin was. It was not something that Vietnam could withstand.

However, they were not sure if this was Great Qin's true strength or not. Indeed, Great Qin had not brought 50 million soldiers and had instead split them into five teams led by Bai Qi, Wang Jian, Wei Liao, Li Mu, and Bai Xihan. These five teams each attacked one of the five Dynasty Legatees.

The five teams each had ten million soldiers and 100 City Lords, which was more than enough to easily crush the five Dynasty Legatees' factions.

Great Qin wanted to devour 120 regions and grasp those regions tightly without giving Vietnam any time to think at all – that was Great Qin's plan.

“Roarr!” A dragon's roar sounded out as a resolute-looking young man gave off a terrifying aura and his body emitted intense light. A yellow dragon came out of his body and flew into the sky, causing the clouds to start swirling as a massive wind blew about in the surroundings.

Bai Qi's expression was cold as he drew the Seven Murders Sword, causing a bloodthirsty aura to ripple out, and a blood-red pillar of light shot into the sky.

Boom!!

A massive star giving off blood-red starlight and a boundless aura of killing slowly descended. The immense might it gave off caused everyone within 10,000 kilometers to feel as if something was weighing down on their bodies.

Dynasty Legatees were not easy to kill, as they were protected by a large amount of Fate, so Bai Qi directly unleashed his Seven Murders Star's power to suppress the other side.

Shing!

Zhao Fu attacked first – his Seven Murders Sword gave off a powerful blood-red light, and as he slashed out, a gigantic blood-red sword light flashed towards the young man.

The young man unleashed all of his Fate, and sensing this power, his expression became grim. However, he still roared and slashed out with his saber with all of his strength.

A massive yellow saber light, giving off an incredibly sharp aura, slashed towards Bai Qi.

Boom!!

A massive explosion sounded out as the sword light and saber light clashed together. The yellow saber light was shattered by the blood-red sword light, which continued flying towards the young man and sent him flying. The young man flew away tens of metres and crashed through many structures.

There was now a 100 meter long, two meter wide sword gash on the ground, showing how powerful Bai Qi's strike was.

“Arghhh!!” the young man roared, rushing out covered with blood. He exploded out with an even more powerful aura as he attacked at Bai Qi. He could not accept being defeated so easily by Bai Qi.

Bai Qi's expression was icy as he sent his Seven Murders Power into his sword. The Seven Murders Sword continuously trembled and gave off shocking power. The blood-red light it gave off was quite blinding, and a blood-red wind rippled around Bai Qi.

Boom!!

Bai Qi slashed out, causing a wave of sword qi to flood out, instantly covering the young man's body.

After the wave of sword qi passed, the young man's body, covered with wounds, fell to the ground lifeless. A yellow City Lord Seal rose out of his body.

Bai Qi coldly walked over and picked it up. Under Great Qin's soldiers' ferocious attack, the city was barely able to defend and would be broken through soon. All of their City Lords would be killed, and none of their players would be spared either.

The four other teams also fiercely attacked the other Dynasty Legacy factions. The Generals all summoned their General Stars to suppress the Dynasty Legatees before killing them.

The Dynasty Legacy factions were unable to hold on for very long under the assault of Great Qin's soldiers. They were quickly broken through, and their Dynasty Legatees were all killed.

“Roar! Roar! Roar!” Massive dragon roars, containing immense sorrow and reluctance, sounded throughout all of Vietnam. Hearing these dragon roars, all of the Vietnamese people all revealed expressions of shock. Five Dynasty Legacies had been simultaneously destroyed; just who had done this?

The battle over at Zhao Fu's side had also concluded. The system army suffered countless casualties and injuries, and 150 out of the 350 system City Lords had been killed. The remaining City Lords were scared and decided to surrender to Great Qin. Because of this, they were also able to take in around 15 million soldiers.

After this, Zhao Fu led his forces to attack the system main cities nearby, devouring all of the people and resources into Great Qin.

Just like that, Great Qin took down 120 regions in Vietnam's territory. However, things were not over, and Zhao Fu took his massive army to the second Great Wall.

The various cities and residents had all been taken care of by the five teams led by Bai Qi and the others; that was how they had planned this.

News of the five Dynasty Legacies being destroyed shook the entirety of Vietnam. Countless people could not fathom what had happened – in a single night, the Vietnamese Guard and five Dynasty Legacies had all been taken down; too much had happened.

They did not know what was going on, but as more and more information was revealed, a massive three year long plot was revealed to everyone, shocking the entire world.

The Vietnamese Guard was merely a chess piece of Great Qin, and everything they had done was to help Great Qin destroy Vietnam. Over the past three years, the Vietnamese Guard had been extremely righteous and kind and had helped all of Vietnam – no one could imagine that they were just a pawn of Great Qin. Some people simply could not believe this.

The factions that had been monitoring Great Qin and the Vietnamese Guard had not been able to tell at all that such a patriotic faction would actually be a plot sown and hidden by Great Qin for three years. This was an incredibly insidious plot.

At the same time, many countries started to wonder if there were pawns of Great Qin in their own territories. The Vietnamese Guard had existed for three years, meaning that Great Qin had planned this from long ago. As such, many countries were worried that they would also be targeted by Great Qin.

Now, 120 regions had been devoured by Great Qin, and five Dynasty Legacies had perished. Two large system factions had also been destroyed, and 40 million or so players had died, causing Vietnam to be greatly weakened.

After all, Vietnam's population was only around 80 million or so, and now, about half of them had died. Half of them had lost their equipment and Cultivation, and they would only be able to re-enter the Heaven Awaken World after ten days.

The entirety of Vietnam had taken a great blow, and Great Qin had devoured one-third of Vietnam's territory. This made all of Vietnam incredibly furious, hating Great Qin to death. They wanted to kill everyone in Great Qin and then desecrate their corpses.

This was the first time a faction had made a move against an entire country, and this matter shook the entire world. After all, a faction had dared to attack a real country; no one except Great Qin could do such a thing right now.

The strength that Great Qin displayed startled everyone. No one expected that it had already become an existence that could rival an entire country. It could no longer just be called a faction and was like a true nation, the Nation of Qin.

Even though Great Qin had not officially established a Kingdom yet, everyone now treated it like it had. No one dared to dispute that it was the first faction that had established its own nation.

The various factions were incredibly shocked towards Great Qin's strength, and all of China's Legatees' expressions were quite unsightly. They had given up on everything to focus on developing their factions, but they still had not caught up to Great Qin and were still far behind.

China's governmental faction also felt quite bitter. Great Qin did not have to care about China at all and could even leave and become a super nation by itself. It would be no problem for it to become a nation that could rival China itself.

As the whole world revelled in shock and fear towards Great Qin, countless Vietnamese people furiously gathered at the second Great Wall with fire burning in their eyes as they looked up at Great Qin's army with bloodlust.

Great Qin had actually directly attacked them, destroyed countless factions, and devoured one-third of their territory. What made people even more furious was Great Qin using the Vietnamese Guard, making them feel incredibly betrayed.

They had painstakingly built this Great Wall to defend against the system army, but it was now being used by Great Qin to defend against them.

However, they could only gather here and look, as there were 100 million soldiers on the Great Wall. Even if all of Vietnam's players gathered here, there would only be 40 million or so of them.

What's more, Great Qin had a method to mass-kill players – that death would be a true death, causing them to hesitate. Even though they felt quite furious, they were still quite afraid of death.

Many Vietnamese factions now gathered here. There were not only various sects and large families but also many of the remaining Legatees. The Dynasty Legatee with Vietnam's only Nation Armament was also here.

Zhao Fu sat on a chair and did not feel a single bit of fear when faced with the furious gazes of so many Vietnamese people. In fact, he seemed a bit condescending as he sat there and looked down on everyone as if he did not place all of Vietnam in his eyes at all.

A thin young man, the Dynasty Legatee with the Nation Armament, coldly said, "Great Qin's Legatee! Why have you attacked Vietnam? Please give us an explanation; we Vietnamese people are not so easily bullied."

Zhao Fu could not help but smile. He did not need to worry about other countries at all, and he quite wanted to take over all of Vietnam. In response, Zhao Fu lightly laughed before responding, “What is there to explain?”

This made everyone feel quite angry, and a look of fury appeared on the thin young man’s face. He had never been looked down on so much like this, and he said angrily, “I hope Great Qin can return to your own territory. Vietnam does not wish to become enemies with Great Qin, and we will not hold you to what you have already done.”

Hearing those words, Zhao Fu could not help but lightly laugh. Strength decided everything in this world, and yet someone from the weaker side dared to say such a thing. He was simply too arrogant.

Zhao Fu did not reply anymore and ordered his people to bring out the ballistae. The ballistae bolts were all covered with Reality-Harming Talismans, and if these Vietnamese players did not know what was good for them and attacked, Zhao Fu would not mind committing a slaughter.

Facing these countless ballistae bolts, all of the Vietnamese players felt a chill in their hearts, and they stumbled back a few steps, looking quite scared.

The thin young man and the leaders of the various factions felt incredibly furious. Great Qin was not open to negotiations, while the Vietnamese side did not dare to attack either.

The Vietnamese people’s expressions were all quite unsightly. Many players felt quite sullen, as they were too weak. In this world, those who were weak could not resist at all – if they had strength, how could they endure this from Great Qin?

The scene became quiet, and the atmosphere became a bit oppressive.

At that moment, someone stared up at the Great Wall, a savage look on his face. He could not tolerate this bullying from Great Qin any longer and roared, “What are you all afraid of? Even if I die, I don’t want to feel oppressed like this! At least if we die, we should die with dignity. Show this trash Great Qin Vietnam’s backbone!”

After that man yelled out, he held his weapon as he rushed at the Great Wall. This had an explosive effect, and everyone else also started to shout as they charged, giving off a shocking aura.

“Fire!” Zhao Fu’s gaze was cold as he looked at the charging Vietnamese players and gave the order to attack without a trace of emotion.

Swish! Swish! Swish!

Countless ballistae bolts and arrows tore through the air, giving off an incredibly sharp aura as they covered all of the Vietnamese players.

Countless ballistae bolts and arrows pierced through the players’ bodies, causing blood to fly everywhere. Countless players fell to the ground, dead, and their bodies in the real world died as well.

The leaders of the various factions hurriedly called out to stop, because they knew that they would naturally lose and that they would be slaughtered by Great Qin.

The first wave of attacks from Great Qin directly killed five to six million players charging at the front.

Chapter 846: Three Countries

Being faced with massive casualties and ferocious attacks, many people were scared stiff and stopped in their tracks. As the leaders gave the order to stop, those who were charging gradually retreated, leaving behind corpses all over the ground.

The leaders ordered some people to return to the real world to check on the situation. After hearing the reports from their subordinates, their faces became incredibly pale – five to six million people had died all of a sudden.

Great Qin was incredibly vindictive and seemed quite inhumane. Before, they had held onto a trace of hope that as fellow humans, Great Qin would not be so cold-blooded as to truly take their lives. However, Great Qin was extremely cold-blooded.

If it wasn't for the leaders stopping them, everyone here would have died. This caused all of the people here to feel a sense of coldness.

These millions of people were all real flesh-and-blood people, and they had not just been spawned from the Heaven Awaken World. No one could accept Great Qin slaughtering people like this. At the same time, they understood that Great Qin was not playing around; they really intended to destroy Vietnam.

“Hurry and retreat!” The factions spread the news of the millions of people dying in the real world, and countless people retreated in terror. Before, they had been filled with a sudden anger, which was why they had rushed up. However, now that they knew that they would die a true death, none of them dared to fight anymore. Thinking about what had just happened, their legs started to feel quite weak.

“Did you really think you can come and go as you please?” A calm voice suddenly sounded out. Zhao Fu now truly did feel like destroying Vietnam, and a terrifying aura exploded out.

This caused the Vietnamese players to feel greatly shocked. Now that it seemed that Great Qin did not want to let them off, they started to run away in horror. They were all terrified that they would die like those people before, and they regretted coming. Great Qin had not even planned on attacking them; they were the ones who had sought their own deaths.

This was a world where the strong devoured the weak, and there were no rules of fairness. Whoever had strength was in the right, and those who were weak were lucky to even be alive. Resisting meant death, and even though they felt furious, they could only endure it.

However, just as they prepared to kill everyone here and destroy Vietnam, what he was most worried about happened.

The two neighbouring countries of Vietnam started to rush towards the area of Vietnam that Great Qin occupied. As such, Great Qin could only send out two teams of 50 million soldiers to stop these two countries' attacks.

After a few days, the situation had settled. Vietnam joined with the other two countries, forcing Great Qin to go from being on the offensive to the defensive. However, because of the threat of the Reality-Harming Talismans, the three countries did not dare to advance either, resulting in a stalemate.

At the same time, Great Qin's invasion of Vietnam made the various factions feel immense threat, and many of them responded, forcing Great Qin to go on the defensive.

Great Qin left 30 million soldiers to defend the Great Wall in Vietnam's territory. This was to defend against Vietnam as well as the two other countries, and they quickly extended the Great Wall to prevent the two other countries from attacking Great Qin.

Their gains from invading Vietnam were immense. They obtained 690 Cities, out of which 420 were Great Cities and 270 were Basic Cities. They had also obtained a large number of people from player factions and from system main cities, totalling 200 million people and 20 million Stage 1 soldiers.

Now, Great Qin had 1.2 billion people and 180 million soldiers. Of them, there were 150 million Stage 1 soldiers, 4.2 million Stage 2 soldiers, 400,000 Stage 3 soldiers, and 15,000 Stage 4 soldiers.

Great Qin controlled 520 regions, four Capital Cities, 2,525 Great Cities, 321 Cities, 280 Towns, and 28,489 Villages.

At the same time, this invasion provided Great Qin with a massive amount of EXP, roughly 600 million or so. This was about half of the EXP required, and in another 600 million EXP, Great Qin would be able to establish a Kingdom.

Zhao Fu felt that this would be quite soon. Great Qin already had 150 regions that it had not yet cleared, and now that there were another 120 regions from Vietnam, all of these regions would provide an astronomical amount of EXP. Perhaps, after clearing out these regions, Great Qin would be able to restore its empire and establish a Kingdom.

As such, Great Qin's main task was now to clear out the regions and continue building the Great Wall in order to prepare for Great Qin becoming a Kingdom.

Great Qin once again fell silent, but the matters caused by Great Qin were not over. Many countries felt immense danger after finding out that the Vietnamese Guard was a chess piece hidden by Great Qin for three years. Moreover, Great Qin's rapidly-growing strength also pushed other factions to desperately develop.

The fastest way to develop was, of course, to attack other factions and devour them. Over the next few days, Zhao Fu received many reports of factions being destroyed. This included seven Nation Legacies that had been destroyed. The world was no longer as peaceful, and various factions started to fight, resulting in a lot of chaos.

Some hidden factions also started to emerge. This not only included Sects and Organizations, but they also included some Nation Legacies such as State of Shu, the State of Wu, and the State of Wei.

Zhao Fu did not care too much about the matters in the outside world; right now, he just wanted to peacefully clear out those regions and develop, then establish a Kingdom. That was the only thing on Zhao Fu's mind right now.

Time gradually passed, and a month later, the World Flower Seed and the Flower Devil Seeds had all started to sprout. The ordinary Flower Devil Seeds had matured into Flower Devils after just a few days, and they looked just like the Flower Devils from the event.

The higher the grade of the seed, the longer it would take to grow. The Lord class Flower Devil Seeds had only just started to sprout. What surprised Zhao Fu was that this Lord class Flower Devil's appearance was like a young girl.

She looked two or three years old and had skin that was white as snow. She had green hair and eyes, and had a small Japanese rose on her head. She looked incredibly beautiful, and one could space out looking at her.

Zhao Fu wasn't sure if it was because of the Flower Fairy's Blessing, but this Lord class Flower Devil was quite clingy as well. However, she was more sensible than Little Nine, as she would not bother Zhao Fu when he was busy. Zhao Fu decided to call her Little Rose.

Zhao Fu did not have time to take care of her and Little Nine, so he had people take care of them together. Because they were around the same age, they became quite close.

"Your Majesty!" Li Wen came before Zhao Fu and respectfully called out.

Seeing him arrive, Zhao Fu could not help but smile. Li Wen had collected another 100 Soldier Souls, and Great Qin would soon have another General Armament.

Because Bai Xihan had awakened a Seven Murders Star and Sun Hanxiang had awakened a Voracious Wolf Star, Zhao Fu planned to give this General Armament to Xu Liuyi, as she most likely had an Army Destroyer Star.

Thinking about the scene of the Seven Murders Star, Voracious Wolf Star, and Army Destroyer Star gathering two years ago, Zhao Fu could not help but feel quite excited. He took his subordinates to an empty area and gave the fused Divine Soldier Souls to Xu Liuyi and had her fuse them into a General Armament.

Chapter 847: Celestial Emperor Star

Boom!!

The ten Divine Soldier Souls flew from Xu Liuyi's hands into the air and exploded out with power, seeming to shake the entire sky.

Immediately, the clouds started to swirl and gather as a berserk wind started to blow. An oppressive feeling covered everything within 10,000 kilometers, making it seem like a massive storm was about to descend. The wild beasts in the surroundings instinctively started to run and hide.

At that moment, the ten Divine Soldier Souls turned into ten massive orbs and also exploded out with powerful auras. The images of soldiers within them slowly dissipated into strands of a violet aura.

Boom!!

The violet aura within the orbs continuously trembled and gave off an immense attractive power as they shot into the sky. At that moment, an enormous violet star, giving off a noble starlight and a boundless aura, appeared in the sky and descended above Great Qin.

Xu Liuyi raised her sword high with black aura coming out from her body, giving off an aura of conquering. An extremely terrifying energy exploded out from her body.

Boom!!

The black aura coming out from her body turned into a pillar of black light that shot upwards, shooting into the massive star.

The enormous violet star was gradually dyed black and started to give off a black light. A powerful aura of conquering spread out in the sky, filling this entire region.

Boom!!

The gigantic violet star was now completely black and gave off a shocking black light. A pillar of black starlight, containing powerful General Star's Power, landed on Xu Liuyi's body. The ten orbs gathered and fused into the sword she was holding, forming a General Armament.

However, the massive black star still did not disappear. Zhao Fu looked at Bai Xihan and Sun Hanxiang beside him – both of them seemed to be drawn by something and walked forwards, raising their weapons and exploding out with their General Star's Power.

Another two explosions rang out as two pillars of light shot into the sky, causing the sky to once again tremble.

Two different-colored stars, also giving off boundless power, broke through the sky and slowly descended. One gave off a boundless blood-red light, while the other gave off an intense green light. The three stars were all equal distances from each other and seemed to call out to each other.

Bang!!

The sky seemed to be ripped apart as a terrifying aura covered the entire human world. The sky gradually darkened as an intense gale started to blow. Everyone felt a weight on their chests, feeling quite uncomfortable.

“Another three stars have gathered!” No one was too surprised at seeing the Army Destroyer Star. After all, by now, many people had awakened General Stars. However, after this Army Destroyer Star had appeared, another two stars had also appeared.

Before, only Great Qin had gathered these three stars before, forming the Murder Destroyer Wolf Formation. Because of this, Great Qin's Legatee had awakened the Myrtle Imperial Star, making countless people feel admiration.

Who had done it this time? Who had such power?

Thinking about this, everyone looked to where those three stars were – it was yet again at the northern side of the Midland Continent. This was not a good sign.

Could it be Great Qin again? No one wanted to accept this, but the positions of the three stars were at the same place as the previous time. Even though they could not verify it for themselves, they were almost certain that these three General Stars were above Great Qin.

This caused everyone's expressions to fall – these were three different stars than last time; could Great Qin have gathered another three General Stars?

However, Great Qin's Legatee had awakened the Myrtle Imperial Star, so gathering these three General Stars again would be useless. It would be impossible for him to awaken another Myrtle Imperial Star.

Any Emperor could only have one Emperor Star because that star would determine their fate. Everyone only had one life, one fate, so they could only have one Emperor Star.

Great Qin gathering another three General Stars made everyone feel incredible admiration because this showed how powerful Great Qin was. In the future, Great Qin would have many powerful Generals defending it. The more talents a nation had, the more powerful it was and the faster it would develop.

Back at Great Qin, under the pressure of the three stars, Zhao Fu felt as if his blood was burning, and an intense pain wracked his whole body.

Under this immense pain, a blood-red rune giving off an ancient aura appeared between Zhao Fu's eyebrows. In that moment, everyone who had awakened a General Star felt something summoning them, and they lost control of their bodies.

Ten people walked in front of Zhao Fu and formed a circle. Facing Zhao Fu, who seemed to be in a lot of pain, there was nothing they could do, as they were not in control of their bodies. They were controlled by some sort of power to draw their weapons and point them towards the sky.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Rays of terrifying auras shot out as the ten people gave off different-colored flames, and pillars of light shot into the sky.

Different General Stars, giving off immense starlight and boundless power, slowly descended, causing the sky to seem to crack. The heavens and earth became dark, and the entire world seemed to become silent.

The ten General Stars formed a circle, giving off brilliant starlight. They were incredibly eye-catching in the darkness and looked like ten suns that illuminated the world.

At that moment, everyone felt that something was off because the sky seemed to give off a profound Heaven's Will, causing countless creatures to kneel. This power was something that no one could resist or doubt, and they could only obey.

In that moment, everyone in the Fish Scale world, Dark Demon World, and Grassi World all sensed something and looked towards the human world.

Their worlds also started to darken as clouds swirled and Heaven and Earth Essence Qi quickly flew into the human world. The profound Heaven's Will became more and more intense, and some people with weak wills felt their minds go blank.

All of the Kings in the Fish Scale world, Dark Demon world, Grassi world, and Human world all had serious expressions on their faces as they looked in the direction that Great Qin was in. Their bloodlines all felt immense fear, making them want to kneel down.

The golden dragon was also quite shocked as it viewed the changes in Zhao Fu's body. Feeling the shocking changes in Zhao Fu's body, even the golden dragon did not know what was happening.

"Arghhh!!" Zhao Fu's pain reached its peak as he howled, and his body continuously gave off black aura as a black, dragon-like light shot into the sky.

Boom!!

A shocking explosion sounded out as the skies in the four worlds seemed to explode. Boundless Chaos Aura flowed through the cracks in the skies, and under this immense might, countless people felt like their bodies were going to explode, and even their souls were under immense strain.

Many people's minds became completely blank, and their bodies continuously trembled. Their bodies instinctively knelt – this included not only the ordinary people but some Kings as well as if they were respectfully welcoming the descent of this existence.

Chapter 848: Emperor of Heaven

Traces of golden light descended from the cracks in the sky as the cracks gradually became larger and larger. It was as if the sky was silently being ripped apart. At the same time, that profound Heaven's Will became even more intense, weighing down on everyone's soul like a large mountain.

On the ground, everyone had both of their knees on the ground, and their heads pressed against the ground as well in the direction towards Great Qin. Everyone, whether they were Outlanders, indigenous residents, or players, trembled under this Heaven's Will.

Even the countless beasts were like this – they all knelt with their heads against the ground, revealing their subservience and devoutness.

The scene of countless existences in worship was incredibly grand. The entire world seemed to prostrate itself, and the Heaven's Will was like a sovereign that controlled the entire world.

Of course, some people were resisting its power, refusing to kneel to it – this included people like Tina Pendragon, as well as powerful Kings in the other worlds. They all exploded out with their bloodlines' power to resist the Heaven's Will.

However, they were completely powerless. Traces of blood leaked out of their five orifices, and their bones started to break. Under that boundless Heaven's Will, they were incredibly weak and servile. In the end, they crashed to the ground like corpses, looking incredibly wretched.

The golden light coming from the cracks became more and more intense as it started to spread, covering the entire sky and expanding out more and more. Even the Heaven Domain Boundary was unable to stop the golden light, and the golden light spread through the neighboring worlds in an instant and swept towards worlds further away as well.

No matter what all of the creatures in the surrounding thousands of worlds were doing, they all stopped and looked up at the sky towards where the golden light was coming from. They all felt an extremely supreme might.

Boom!!

A shocking explosion rocked the neighboring worlds as the human world's sky seemed to shatter into nothingness. An enormous golden star, giving off an incredibly noble and supreme aura, slowly descended from the boundless darkness.

At that moment, on a grassy mountain peak surrounded by celestial qi at the center of the Heaven Awaken World, a ruddy-faced elder wearing Taoist robes seemed to sense something. He stood on the peak and looked into the distance.

“Master, what is it?” a disciple asked in confusion as he saw his master looking into the distance so seriously.

The elder raised a hand and said seriously as he pointed in the direction of the human world, “A Celestial Emperor Star has descended in that direction!”

The disciple looked in that direction, a slight smile on his face as he said, “A Human Empire has produced an Emperor with the Mandate of Heaven. This is a blessing to the Human Race. Such a person is a peerless talent and will be able to affect the future of the Heaven Awaken World.

“Master, this disciple will immediately go to investigate which Empire this Emperor belongs to. As one of the most powerful sects in the Human Race, our Heaven Path Sect should go and prepare a humble gift to express our congratulations.”

Celestial Emperor Stars were stars that contained Emperor's Fate. Anyone who had one was beloved by the heavens and would receive a massive amount of Fate from the Heaven Awaken World. Just the words ‘Celestial Emperor’ showed that it was an Emperor of Heaven – not just countless existences but even the heavens and earth would submit to him.

He would reign above those with King Stars, and even Empires might not have this kind of rare star.

In order to obtain a Celestial Emperor Star, one first had to have the bloodline of the Human Race. The Celestial Emperor Star was a sovereign star belonging to the Human Race. Moreover, one had to have a Sovereign Bloodline, which was the absolute lowest requirement. Anyone without a Sovereign Bloodline would not be able to awaken a Celestial Emperor Star.

Those who awakened Celestial Emperor Stars were the most powerful, had the most talent out of all Emperors, and had absurd amounts of Fate.

Even in the boundless Heaven Awaken World, which had trillions of humans, only a handful of people had Celestial Emperor Stars. Every Celestial Emperor Star was incredibly important to the Human Race and could change the fate of the Human Race.

All human factions would want to befriend such heaven-defying people. As the most powerful sect of the Human Race, the Heaven Path Sect had good relations with many human Empires, and there were even a few Emperors within the Sect.

However, this Celestial Emperor Star was not the only one. In the past 100 years, this was the seventh to descend. The first six had all become exceptional talents and were truly noble existences in the Heaven Awaken World. They had incredible potential that caused others to gasp in shock and admiration.

This seventh one would not be weak at all and definitely had immense potential as well. As such, it was only natural for the Heaven Path Sect to go and send its congratulations in order to establish friendly relations.

The first six had all been snatched away by other Sects, and this time, the Heaven Path Sect could not afford to miss out again. That was what the disciple was thinking.

However, there were many Empires in the Heaven Awaken World, and they had no idea just which Empire had summoned this Celestial Emperor Star.

However, it was easy to guess that it was from an Empire at the center of the Heaven Awaken World. The Empires at the center of the Heaven Awaken World were far superior to other Empires in terms of Fate, foundation, and strength. Only such existences could awaken the Celestial Emperor Star.

The first six were all Emperors within the central region; it was almost impossible for people outside the central region to awaken Celestial Emperor Stars. This was not because of discrimination but because most of the Heaven Awaken World's Fate and Spirit Qi were gathered at the center of the Heaven Awaken World.

As such, the central region would naturally produce many heaven-defying characters. With how terrifyingly powerful they were, they could easily affect the direction that the world headed in and could decide the lives and deaths of billions of creatures.

This innate advantage completely suppressed outer regions; they were on a completely different level.

The outer regions were still better off than the remote regions on the boundary. Those in the outer regions could easily bully those in the remote regions but could not compare to those at the center.

As for the remote regions on the boundary, they were viewed as a barren wasteland that was poor in resources. They were the lowest region in the Heaven Awaken World and seemed just like ants.

Those from the central region would not even bother going to the remote regions; they looked down on even the outer regions, so how could they view the remote regions favorably? It was like a billionaire going into the slums.

That was what the disciple was thinking, so he prepared to send people to see which Emperor had appeared in the central region.

“There's no need to go!” the elder said seriously.

The disciple felt quite surprised and asked in confusion, “But why, master? That's a Celestial...”

Before he could finish his sentence, the elder cut him off. “This Celestial Emperor Star appeared in the remote regions. Because of the interference from Heaven's Secrets, it's very difficult to find its exact location!”

Hearing this, the disciple looked incredibly shocked – how could such an Emperor appear in a remote region?

Chapter 849: Mandate of Heaven

The disciple had a look of utter disbelief on his face, because he had never heard of a Celestial Emperor Star appearing in a remote region. This was something unfathomable, and if it wasn't for the fact that it was his master who had said this, the disciple would never believe such a joke-like statement.

However, the disciple could not help but ask, "Master, are you sure? Can a Celestial Emperor Star really appear in a remote region?"

The elder lightly nodded and said, "This Celestial Emperor Star is quite special. Not only is its killing aura slightly stronger than normal Celestial Emperor Stars, but it also has a trace of darkness and chaos. The person who awakened this Celestial Emperor Star is an incredibly dangerous person and is much more dangerous than the six other Celestial Emperor Stars!"

After hearing this, the disciple was naturally incredibly shocked; he had never thought that such a thing could be possible. There was very little Fate in those remote regions, and yet, a Celestial Emperor Star had descended. Moreover, the most basic requirement for awakening a Celestial Emperor Star was to have an orthodox Sovereign Bloodline.

Who in the remote regions could have a Sovereign Bloodline? The vast majority of them would have some low-grade Royal Bloodlines, so how could a proper Sovereign Bloodline appear?

Some particular almighty beings often did mysterious things in remote regions – could it have to do with them? The disciple could not help but ask, "Master what should we do now, then?"

The elder looked away before thinking for a moment and saying, "Closely pay attention to all information about this. I'm sure many people have noticed this seventh Celestial Emperor Star's descent!"

The disciple nodded and went to collect information.

Beside an apparatus made of countless metallic circles, a few elders wearing white robes and giving off terrifying auras seemed to be calculating something.

They were also at the center of the Heaven Awaken World and were part of one of the most powerful factions called Heaven's Will. No one could rival their skills at divination, and it was said that they knew the fates of everyone in the world. They were often described to be guides of fate.

Their mysterious power caused countless factions to treat them with respect and view them as important people, and no one dared to offend them.

These white-robed elders were naturally the most important people in Heaven's Will. They had once given a person who had awakened a Celestial Emperor Star some advice, causing his development to speed up by dozens of times.

Apart from these white-robed elders, there were also many people standing around them. Divining the fate of a Celestial Emperor Star was an important matter, so many people were gathered here.

The white-robed elders calmed themselves down and focused as they started to use Heaven's Secrets, which was that apparatus. Their consciousnesses fused into the Laws of Heaven and Earth, searching for that golden light and trying to grasp onto a trace of that fate.

They indeed deserved their titles as almighty beings – within the chaotic Heaven's Secrets, they were actually able to latch onto a trace of that Celestial Emperor Star's fate, causing them to feel delighted. If they could find out about the fate of this person who had awakened this Celestial Emperor Star, they would be able to foretell many shocking things.

The white-robed elders followed the trace of fate and found the Celestial Emperor Star that belonged to Zhao Fu. It was like a gigantic sun that gave off a terrifying might, illuminating its surroundings with an intense golden light.

In front of this Celestial Emperor Star, their consciousnesses were as tiny as bugs and seemed incredibly weak.

It was not because they were not strong but because doing divination was quite difficult. Their consciousnesses entering the chaotic Heaven's Secrets was already quite a feat, and if they were not careful, they could receive backlash and lose their lives.

They only dared to remain at a distance because this Celestial Emperor Star's aura was simply too powerful. They were unable to get close to it, but at such a distance, they were unable to look at Zhao Fu's fate.

As such, they could only risk the danger and push on against the Celestial Emperor Star's immense might, moving forward with great difficulty. Only after expending great effort were they able to get somewhat closer.

Even though they were still quite far away, this was their absolute limit. It was not quite possible for them to get any closer, but here, they could do some calculations as to the fate of the Celestial Emperor Star.

However, when they reached this point, they were shocked to find that things were different than what they had expected – beside the Celestial Emperor Star, there was a star giving off a devilish blood-red light. How was this possible?

Bang!!

Just as they were reveling in their shock, the golden star and blood-red star seemed to notice them and gave off intense lights that blasted their consciousnesses backward.

Their bodies next to Heaven's Secrets were also sent flying backward by a formless energy. After crashing to the ground, they coughed up mouthfuls of blood, causing the people around them to hurriedly rush over. After helping them up, they asked, "What happened? What did you see?"

The elders brought their consciousnesses out and still looked quite shocked. They did not seem to hear the others' words, and they were quite dazed as they mumbled, "Impossible! Impossible! Impossible..."

Only after a while with the help of the others were they able to somewhat recover. After telling the others about what they had seen within Heaven's Secrets, there was a great disturbance.

How could someone have two Source Stars? Moreover, that blood-red star not only had a trace of an Emperor's aura but was also filled with an aura of slaughter, destruction, and disaster. This was similar to a Chaos Star, but it was far more terrifying than a Chaos Star.

"Are you sure you didn't see incorrectly? How could such a thing happen? Also, what sort of Source Star is that blood-red star?"

No one could believe what they heard and felt incredibly shocked as they asked for more information.

The elders sighed as they replied, "It's just as we said. Only after we went closer did we see it, but we were immediately blasted back by it and were forced back into our own bodies."

After hearing this, everyone could only believe what they had heard. However, they were still curious as to why something like this could happen. Many people started to leave, deciding to consult some ancient texts.

Some people also reported this to the Fate Sovereign, the highest authority in the Heaven's Will organization.

Within the Holy Book Pavilion, the faction that wrote and sold all sorts of books, a scholarly middle-aged man stood at the top of a building and looked into the distance before smiling and saying to a person beside him, "There's another piece of big news. This year's Annals will have another big event: Today, the seventh Celestial Emperor Star descended."

The other people holding books looked quite shocked as they looked over at the scholarly middle-aged man and asked, "Pavilion Master, is this true? This is an extremely good matter! The Human Race has had seven Celestial Emperor Stars descend in the past 100 years; this has surpassed the other Seven Races. Which Empire's Emperor is it? Should we go and collect more information?"

The middle-aged man smiled and shook his head, "No need! This seventh Celestial Emperor Star is not simple at all. You won't be able to gather any information on it."

Chapter 850: Dragon Egg

Factions at the center of the Heaven Awaken World had far greater access to information than ordinary people, which was why they were able to write so many books.

No matter if it was the center of the Heaven Awaken World, the outer regions, or even the remote regions on the boundary, they would have a lot of information on those places. There were very few big things in the Heaven Awaken World they did not know about.

That Celestial Emperor Star had most likely appeared at the center of the Heaven Awaken World, so why did the Pavilion Master say that they could not obtain information about it? Everyone felt quite confused.

The scholarly middle-aged man sensed their confusion and lightly laughed as he explained, “That Celestial Emperor Star is in an extremely remote region in the boundary. Moreover, it has Heaven’s Secrets hiding it. Naturally, we will not be able to obtain information about it.”

“What?” Everyone felt incredibly shocked and asked, “Celestial Emperor Stars are sovereign stars of the Human Race, so how could one appear in a remote region? This has never happened before!”

The scholarly middle-aged man lightly nodded. “This is indeed the first time. Perhaps something big has happened there; we might as well send some people in that direction to see if we’re lucky enough to obtain some information!”

Hearing this, everyone nodded in understanding.

The Heaven Spirit Financial Group, which was the faction that created the Heaven Spirit Steles, quickly sent reports to the higher-ups. Those who had been responsible for monitoring all Sovereign Bloodlines had immediately discovered the Celestial Emperor Star when it had descended.

They found that within the red blood they were monitoring, it suddenly gave off a piercing golden light that was incredibly noble and gave off an energy that could cause the heavens and earth to submit. Even though it was just an orb of blood, it caused everyone to tremble and want to kneel down.

This Sovereign Bloodline was one that the Heaven Spirit Financial Group had paid special attention to. This was a decision made by the higher-ups, and no one dared to doubt this decision.

Now, it had been proven that they had not been wrong – when this orb of blood started to go through changes, those responsible for monitoring it quickly reported this to the higher-ups.

Those at the top of the Heaven Spirit Financial Group had also sensed the descent of the Celestial Emperor Star. At first, they had not paid much mind to these reports, and just as they were about to start discussing the matter, the orb of blood started to give off the Celestial Emperor Star’s aura.

This caused the higher-ups to feel incredibly shocked. They had never thought that this savage, violent, and bloodthirsty Sovereign Bloodline would belong to the person who had caused the Celestial Emperor Star to descend.

Right from the start, they had noticed that this Sovereign Bloodline was quite extraordinary, so they had ordered people to closely monitor it. However, things completely exceeded what they had expected – this person had become the seventh owner of a Celestial Emperor Star. This person would have unfathomable prospects in the future.

At the same time, they understood how important this matter was. No matter how many other factions tried to look for this Emperor, they would not be able to find any information, but they already had a lot of information.

The higher-ups immediately listed this to be a top-grade secret, and anyone who leaked this information would be heavily punished!

The Managers who had initially discovered this mysterious, savage Sovereign Bloodline were also forbidden to speak about this matter to anyone else. This Sovereign Bloodline was now the bloodline with the most attention paid to it.

This caused those Managers to feel incredibly shocked, and they felt that they had also underestimated that Sovereign Bloodline. It was already given a lot of attention, and now, it was under even greater examination. This was the same treatment as monitoring a peerless expert.

They knew how important this matter was, so they obediently hid this secret deep within the recesses of their heart. They made sure to never speak about it, or there could be many deaths.

At the same time, they were quite curious as to just who this person was. Who could make the higher-ups so interested?

Within a grand, ghostly-qi filled palace, a pale-looking youth sat on a throne, giving off a terrifying might. He gave off an Emperor's aura, and sensing the ripples in the distance, he could not help but frown.

It seemed that the Heaven Awaken World's Fate had been preferring the Human Race recently, and there was now a seventh Celestial Emperor Star. Their numbers now surpassed that of the God Race, Demon Race, and Devil Race. The pale-looking youth could not help but mourn that the Death Race did not have more Stars like this, giving them more power in the future.

However, the Death Race had been on good terms with the Human Race recently; right now, their only enemies were the God Race, Demon Race, and Devil Race. With how proud they were, they were most likely outraged at being outdone by the Human Race.

As expected the seventh Celestial Emperor Star of the Human Race caused the three most dominant races, the God Race, Demon Race, and Devil Race, to be quite displeased.

When the Celestial Emperor Star gave off those terrifying shockwaves, the sleeping Demon Ancestors, Deities, and Great Devils awakened, and they gave off monstrous auras and announced their displeasure. They ordered people to immediately find the owner of that Celestial Emperor Star.

In just a short period of time, countless people from the Demon Race, God Race, and Devil Race were given orders to seek out information about this seventh Celestial Emperor Star. News of a seventh Celestial Emperor Star descending quickly spread throughout the center of the Heaven Awaken World, causing a great disturbance.

Now, almost everyone knew about this seventh Celestial Emperor Star, and everyone was talking about it. However, no one had any accurate and precise information.

Some said it was this or that Empire's Emperor; others said it was someone from this or that Sect. Some people said it was a woman, while others said that this Emperor had some Devil blood, as the Celestial Emperor Star had a trace of devilishness to it.

A man in black stood above a circular pool, giving off a terrifying aura that caused the space around him to be distorted and making his figure a bit hazy. Even an Emperor would tremble in front of him.

He was an almighty being awoken by the commotion from Tuoba Qing's bloodline's awakening. Ever since that matter, he had kept notice of her aura. Now, there was a trace of a smile on his face.

Back at Great Qin, the enormous golden star had completely descended, peacefully floating above Great Qin. Zhao Fu's body was lifted up by a formless energy, taking him to float below the golden star. The immense pain had caused him to almost lose consciousness, and he was now being raised up powerlessly.

Boom!!

Another massive explosion sounded out as the golden star gave off an even more brilliant golden light. At that moment, countless traces of violet aura flowed from the horizon, covering everything like a flood before rushing into Zhao Fu's body.

The violet aura gave off an incredibly noble aura, and after entering Zhao Fu's body, it gathered at his chest. The golden dragon was quite perplexed, while the black dragon obediently retreated to the side.

Countless traces of violet aura continuously gathered, forming a massive dragon egg. It gave off a supreme might, making even the golden dragon feel a trace of fear.
