

The Lord 911

Chapter 911: Problem

This second option was quite troublesome, as the four countries had spent a lot of effort building so many isolation barriers. Some isolation barriers were even underground or within mountains, making it incredibly difficult to get rid of them.

Zhao Fu first had some people investigate to see how long it would take to get rid of those isolation barriers, and he found out that it would actually take three to four months. As such, Zhao Fu could only choose the first option, as having the entire army quickly move through two regions would only take about a month.

These four countries had spent a great deal of effort to resist Great Qin, but all of it would be for nought. A trace of coldness appeared in Zhao Fu's eyes; after conquering them, he would deal with them severely.

However, not too long after they started to move, the coastal area to the north of Great Qin suddenly erupted out with large gales, causing some small tsunamis. Some aquatic beasts were affected and started to go onshore to attack fishermen, and even though they responded in time, this still resulted in some casualties and injuries.

This made Zhao Fu frown – from the situation, these things seemed like they were caused by people. It was too suspicious for these things to start happening all of a sudden, and they were quite small as well. They would not be able to defend against true natural disasters.

Also, there were factions attacking Great Qin from the south, east, and west; they were some factions made up of system factions and player factions, and they formed hundreds of thousands of small teams. They did not directly attack, instead harassing Great Qin.

This was quite annoying, like a group of flies buzzing around. The Civil Officials had moved out, and the remainder of the soldiers guarded the Great Walls.

Zhao Fu thought about it and had the eight Aquatic Beast Kings guard the coastal area. With their powerful might, the man-made natural disasters would not be able to affect Great Qin even a bit.

At the same time, he ordered those guarding the Great Walls to only defend and not go out and attack, and he also ordered them to ignore the harassment from those factions. After destroying the four countries, they would deal with those factions.

Now, Zhao Fu was going to destroy the four countries so that the northern side of the Midland Continent would be at peace, and Zhao Fu would be able to attack other regions with peace of mind.

The four armies headed towards the four nations, but in less than a day, they started to be ambushed. Even though the enemy did not have many people, ranging from groups of thousands to tens of thousands, they would attack whenever they had an opportunity.

With their strength, they were unable to cause many casualties or injuries to Great Qin's army, and those who attacked all died. However, groups continuously came over to ambush them.

Sun Wu led a group of 100,000 soldiers to easily kill a group of a few thousand people, resulting in a few deaths on Great Qin's side. He brought the corpses to Zhao Fu and reported, "Your Majesty, they are all players; this has been same for the previous waves as well."

Zhao Fu frowned. Even though these people could not cause much losses to Great Qin, they continuously attacked, reducing the speed at which Great Qin's army could advance. Every time they moved forwards, they would soon have to stop and face more ambushes. This was incredibly annoying and would reduce morale.

Seeing this, Zhao Fu felt a trace of killing intent. Since they wanted to die, he would fulfil them. He shouted, "Send down my orders: Use Reality-Harming Talismans and kill all who come, whether they're male or female, young or old!"

Zhao Fu had used the remainder of his points from the Six Day Festival to buy materials to create more Reality-Harming Talismans, so they did not lack these talismans at all.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" the army responded loudly, shaking the surroundings. The soldiers started to take out talismans and stick them to their weapons.

Those responsible for clearing the path ahead were ready for this, and they sent their power into their weapons before slashing out and sending the arrows flying. The broken arrows landed like rain onto the ground.

“Charge!!” After blocking this wave of attacks, a General gave the order to charge, and he shot forwards as a few City Lords also flew over.

Those who had attacked did not try to attack again, and they immediately turned to run. Most of these players did not even have Stage 1 strength and would only die if they remained. They all knew this, so they immediately ran.

However, the City Lords and Great Qin’s soldiers quickly caught up and started to launch monstrous attacks towards them.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Massive explosions sounded out as blood and broken corpses flew everywhere as cries sounded out. The players looked at the City Lords in the sky and the soldiers attacking them, and they immediately scattered in all directions.

However, most of them were unable to escape, and they were slaughtered by Great Qin’s army. They were killed in just an instant with very few people escaping.

After clearing out this region, the main army was able to continue onwards, but soon, another wave of concealed players once again attacked, and they were once again killed by Great Qin’s army.

At night time, Zhao Fu sat within a tent and frowned, feeling quite confused. They had used Reality-Harming Talismans, yet those players were still attacking; were they really not afraid of death? Were they really willing to give up everything for their countries? Or was it to protect their families that they were willing to die to resist Great Qin?

There were indeed people who were willing to give everything for their countries, even their lives, but they were in the absolute minority; usually people were only willing to do this for their own families and their own benefits. Perhaps this could be explained by them wanting to protect their families, which was why they were disregarding their own lives.

However, Zhao Fu had never slaughtered an entire country before; as long as they obediently left, Zhao Fu would not kill everyone. At most, their country would be destroyed, and their interests would be harmed.

As such, Zhao Fu was not able to believe that they were really willing to give up their lives just like that.

After all, most people were quite greedy, selfish, and cowardly, so Zhao Fu would not believe that they were so noble.

There was another point of suspicion – why was there not a single indigenous resident? If even the cowardly players were willing to give up their lives, then why wasn't there a single system main city soldier? They all had at least Stage 1 strength, and if they attacked, they could cause greater losses to Great Qin.

Why did they not send a single system main city soldier, choosing to use only players?

Chapter 912: Great Qin's Scholars Arrive

Something must have happened in the last six months; everyone seemed to have planned something in advance, and a dark haze covered Great Qin. Zhao Fu's expression became serious, and he felt that something was very off.

It had seemed like taking down the four countries would be incredibly easy, but they now faced massive obstacles. With their current speed, it would take at least seven or eight months to reach the four countries.

Would Zhao Fu spend seven to eight months of precious time to attack those four countries? Absolutely not; Great Qin had to quickly develop, as there was not much time left for the human world.

If Zhao Fu was unable to unify the human world, he would not be able to even think about taking down the Dark Demon world and Fish Scale world; that would be impossible.

“Roarr!!” a dragon’s roar sounded out, and soon, a soldier ran into the tent and knelt, holding up a bamboo container. He said in a loud voice, “Reporting to His Majesty! This is the report from the second army!”

Since they could not use teleportation channels, they could only rely on Wyverns to quickly send information to each other. With the Wyverns’ strength, this was quite safe.

The four armies were led by various Generals. Zhao Fu led the first army with Meng Tian and Wang Jian, Wei Liao led the second army, Bai Qi led the third army, and Bai Xihan led the fourth army.

The report detailed how the second army had met a beast tide with millions of beasts. Even though the beast tide was quite terrifying and ferocious, it was still destroyed by Great Qin’s army with the price of some casualties and injuries.

Everything else was quite similar to what had happened to Zhao Fu’s army; people had continuously attacked, reducing their speed and making it difficult to advance.

Reports soon came from the other two armies, and things were about the same over there as well.

“Roarr!!” Suddenly, the roars of countless beasts sounded out, and Zhao Fu clearly sensed a ferocious aura rushing at Great Qin’s army from the northwest. It was a beast tide.

As the beast tide drew closer, deafening rumbling could be heard as a dark mass of beasts charged over with unstoppable momentum towards them.

Facing this beast tide, Great Qin’s soldiers did not panic; after all, it was just a few million beasts. Great Qin’s soldiers quickly responded, getting into formation, and the City Lords also prepared to destroy this beast tide.

Zhao Fu coldly harrumphed, feeling quite angry. He left the tent and turned into a ray of light, quickly appearing above the beast tide.

Boom!

An enormous explosion sounded out as the sword light seemed to cleave the ground in half. The ground continuously shook as a sword gash that was 10,000 meters long and 100 meters wide appeared on the ground, surrounded by blood and broken corpses.

This single sword strike had killed hundreds of thousands of beasts, and the terrifying sound caused the beast tide to pause. Most of them were just ordinary beasts; how could they resist Zhao Fu, who had unleashed the Great Qin Seal's power?

After unleashing that strike, Zhao Fu charged into the beast tide and started to commit a massive slaughter. Sword light continuously shot everywhere, causing blood and broken corpses to fly all over the place. Before the ferocious beast tide could even reach Great Qin's army, all of the beasts had either been killed or had run away.

Of course, Great Qin's other City Lords helped out as well; how could they dare to just watch while their Majesty fought?

However, they could sense Zhao Fu's anger, so they were careful and stayed away from him as they killed the beasts.

After killing countless beasts, Zhao Fu felt somewhat better and not as melancholic. Without him realizing it, the eye of kindness in his heart no longer made him feel any pain because it had turned into an eye of killing.

Having met so many obstacles, Zhao Fu returned to his tent and discussed with his Generals. They decided to stop advancing like this and use Great Qin's Scholars to get rid of these annoying isolation barriers.

Zhao Fu did not want to spend seven to eight months advancing like this. Because of this, their only option was to destroy the isolation barriers.

As such, they set up camp and rested for a few days while they waited for Great Qin's Scholars to arrive. Now that Great Qin had set up camp there, no one dared to come and attack. Just the Archers standing guard were enough to easily kill them, making it so that they did not dare to come close at all.

After Great Qin's Scholars arrived, they brought with them many things, most of which were to break isolation barriers. After arriving, they soon started to work.

Zhao Fu's task for the Scholars was to break through the countless isolation barriers within one month. Zhao Fu was determined to destroy the four countries within one month before turning to attack the other regions.

The Scholars had to look everywhere for the isolation barriers, and Zhao Fu sent many City Lords with them to guarantee their safety. Otherwise, just a few teams of players could annihilate Great Qin's Scholars, as they were quite weak.

Zhao Fu decided to stay where he was and wait. The four countries were resisting quite a lot, so he would definitely deal with them severely after conquering them.

A few days later, Zhao Fu looked quite displeased as he looked at the Scholars kneeling in front of him. Over the past few days, there had been no developments at all, and Zhao Fu was quite angry that another few days had been wasted.

According to the Scholars, these Void Zones were created by combining countless different isolation barriers, forming an enormous isolation barrier. Even though they knew how to dismantle it, there would be new isolation barriers set up. In other words, the other side would be able to build as fast as Great Qin could dismantle.

Moreover, the other side had left a path within the isolation barrier, meaning that they could use teleportation channels while Great Qin could not.

In terms of speed, Great Qin was far behind them, so it was at a disadvantage. Zhao Fu was quite worried that the other side's City Lords would suddenly attack an army. Right now, Great Qin's 10,000 City Lords were split among four armies.

Each army only had 2,000 or so City Lords, and if the other side's City Lords gathered together, they would have around 5,000 City Lords. Luckily, Great Qin was not too deep within enemy territory, so reinforcements could quickly arrive. However, once they went further into enemy territory, they would be too far from each other, making the situation quite dangerous.

Zhao Fu breathed out and calmed himself down. He understood the situation Great Qin was in, so he ordered for the four armies to return and give up on attacking the four countries.

After receiving this order, the three other armies were not too surprised. In the end, they had not prepared enough and had underestimated the enemy.

Chapter 913: Intelligence Reports

After returning to Great Qin, Zhao Fu gathered his subordinates in the palace and said, "I'm sure you have all sensed that there has been something off; they've prepared for this, and Great Qin has continuously been at a disadvantage. What do you all think about this?"

Hearing this, Wei Liao stepped out and bowed before saying, "Your Majesty, Great Qin's intelligence reports have been a bit lacking this time to the point that we had no idea about this plot. If we could have known about it earlier, we would have been able to prepare countermeasures.

"This subordinate recommends using Flower Moon. Before, we obtained a lot of our intelligence from them, and even though Great Qin has established an information network, it has only been two years and is not very efficient yet and cannot compare to Flower Moon."

Zhao Fu sank into his thoughts. Great Qin had only established its information network after all of the regions were opened up. Before the regions had been connected, Great Qin's people had not been able to go all over the world, so they had only established their information network for about two years.

Flower Moon had appeared around when the Ancient Clans had appeared, and it had been maintaining its businesses and information networks for the past thousands of years. Its foundations were incredibly deep, so it was able to obtain a lot of important information. It was only natural that Great Qin could not compare to it.

Even though the higher-ups of Flower Moon had been captured by Great Qin, its various departments and branches were still there. Intelligence reports were important at any time, so Zhao Fu did not hesitate as he ordered, "Send out my order and summon Xiao Yueyin to the palace.

Following this, Xiao Yueyin came to the palace. Facing the gazes of the various Ministers and Generals, she sensed something and smiled before bowing and saying, "I greet Your Majesty!"

Zhao Fu looked at the smile on Xiao Yueyin's face and understood that she had already guessed what this was about, so he said directly, "We agree to restoring Flower Moon and allowing you to remain as the leader of Flower Moon. However, Flower Moon must become part of Great Qin and accept some people from Great Qin supervising it. If you agree to this, We will preserve Flower Moon. What are your thoughts?"

Xiao Yueyin lightly smiled and replied, "This Concubine is willing to agree to all of these terms. Thank you, Your Majesty, for restoring Flower Moon and preserving it; this Concubine and everyone from Flower Moon will not let down Your Majesty."

Zhao Fu nodded before giving Xiao Yueyin a Rank 2A Official position, making her officially part of Great Qin. After Zhao Fu restored Flower Moon, it quickly started operations again, and it re-launched the Heaven Awaken World forum as well.

A few days later, Flower Moon discovered some information that Great Qin had not been able to find, explaining the suspicious events.

Firstly, it was not just the factions in the Midland Continent; many other factions on other Continents had chosen to stand together against Great Qin.

Since Great Qin was going to sweep across the world, the various factions could not just sit there and wait to die; it was only natural for them to choose to resist. None of the other continents wanted to see Great Qin unify the Midland Continent because if it unified the Midland Continent, the four other Continents would be in danger as well.

However, given the fact that Great Qin was too powerful, they would suffer heavy losses if they took the initiative to attack; they had all learned their lesson. As such, they all decided not to attack but to defend against Great Qin's attack.

The factions closest to Great Qin contributed the most, while those further away contributed less, and the factions in other Continents only gave some indirect support.

Fortunately, Great Qin had not rashly continued to advance to attack the four countries, as the four countries had 10,000 City Lords lying in wait and all sorts of traps. If Great Qin had advanced any further, they would have fallen into their trap, resulting in heavy losses.

The three other sides had also prepared their armies, waiting for Great Qin to delve too deep into the Void Zone before ferociously attacking.

No single faction could do such a thing, and this was an incredibly intricate plot. The main mastermind was a faction that had not appeared for too long, whose single goal was to deal with Great Qin.

This faction was called Qin Suppression and was made up of the strategists of the various Dynasties, such as Jiang Ziya, Xiao He, Liu Bowen, etc. There were also strategists from the various Nations, such as the State of Shu's Zhuge Liang, the Wu State's Zhou Yu, and the Wei State's Guo Jia.

There were also two important people, who were from the School of Vertical and Horizontal. One was the Vertical Branch's Su Yan, who had disappeared for a long time. He had played a major role in creating Qin Suppression, and the other person was the Horizontal Branch's Zhang Heng.

This was the first time that the people from both branches of the School of Vertical and Horizontal had come together against a common enemy; it could be said that they were simply invincible.

Zhao Fu had wanted to kill Su Yan all this time, but after the battle that time, he seemed to have vanished into thin air. No matter how hard they looked for him, they could not find him. Now, he had suddenly reappeared and was continuing to resist Great Qin.

There was also Zhang Heng; Zhao Fu had met him before and felt that he was an incredibly dangerous person. He had slightly helped Great Qin before by giving Zhao Fu a strategy.

Back then, Zhao Fu had wanted to keep him to serve Great Qin, but it was a pity that Zhang Heng had no such plans. Now, unexpectedly, he was standing against Great Qin.

The main reason was that he had chosen someone to serve, which was one of the States that Great Qin had destroyed in the past: the State of Yan. Now that Great Qin was devouring everything in its path and was simply unstoppable, they could only choose to unite against it.

All of the schemes came from this faction. Their strategists came up with a plot against Great Qin, while the other factions gave them strength. They felt quite confident, as Qin Suppression was made up of countless genius-level strategists.

With the existence of this faction and the plots they came up with, Great Qin could not afford to be careless at all, nor could it act recklessly. It was evident how great their threat was.

Another of Great Qin's confusions was also resolved – the reason why the players were not afraid of the Reality-Harming Talismans was because they now had a way of neutralizing the Reality-Harming Talismans.

Their solution was something called a Two Body Talisman, which allowed one to split their consciousness and body. Even if one was harmed in the Heaven Awaken World, the damage would not be brought back to the real world, negating the effects of the Reality-Harming Talismans.

If it wasn't for the fact that Great Qin was too powerful, the appearance of these talismans would result in Great Qin being attacked by countless players again. As long as they did not die true deaths, many people would be willing to go on suicide missions for money.

The one who provided those talismans was naturally Su Yan. The reason he had disappeared without any news for so long was because it was said that he had ventured into a historical remnant and had come back with great gains.

Chapter 914: Encirclement

Fortunately, those talismans could only negate the effects of basic Reality Harming Talismans, while Zhao Fu's Heart Sword could directly kill one's soul, rendering the talismans useless. Anyone who was killed by Zhao Fu's Heart Sword would remain dead.

Now, they had to find a way out of this situation. Zhao Fu could not do this by himself, so he could only discuss this with his subordinates.

Since they were unable to attack the four countries, they could only turn back and attack the three other directions, devouring the remaining regions in China's northern side. They could then expand to the east and west, separating the four countries from everyone else.

If they could do this, it would be easier to deal with the four countries. After all, if anyone wanted to help the four countries, they would have to pass through Great Qin. With the four countries isolated, they would be much easier to deal with.

Their second option was to move into China's central area, which had about 1,000 regions. After controlling those 1,000 regions, they could attack the east, west, and south and unify China.

The smaller countries did not give Great Qin even a bit of pressure, and they would be incredibly easy to deal with. It was the Chinese factions that gave Great Qin the most pressure, and they were Great Qin's greatest obstacle.

If they could get rid of this obstacle, Great Qin's path would be incredibly easy in the future. None of the remaining factions in the Midland Continent would have the strength to resist Great Qin.

In actuality, this was quite a good plan, getting rid of the resistant factions in China first before dealing with the resistant factions outside. However, the other side had long since expected Great Qin to make a move against them.

By the time Zhao Fu and his various Generals prepared to turn their attention to the central area of China, a Void Zone that spanned five regions had already been set down. The central area was where most of China's Fate was gathered, and China's first Dynasty, the Xia Dynasty, was there.

Even though Great Qin had suddenly emerged as a powerful force, causing all of China's Fate to lean towards the northern side, the central area had many powerful factions, such as the Ancient Clans, School of Taoism, School of Confucianism, School of Mohism, etc.

Even though most factions decided to remain neutral, some actively helped others to resist Great Qin.

For example, the Confucians, who could not tolerate Great Qin's ruthlessness, and the Mohists, who advocated for benevolence, were the greatest opponents of Great Qin. When Great Qin decided to move into the central area of China, the factions would all have to make a decision, as Great Qin would not allow any other factions to remain there.

All of the factions at the central area would be cleared out, and they would either submit or die. There was no possibility of remaining neutral, and this increased the difficulty of Great Qin moving into the central area.

Now, there would be great resistance wherever Great Qin attacked; it was like they were surrounded, so how could they get out of this situation?

Elsewhere, within a luxurious pavilion, many people were celebrating. With Great Qin's strength and momentum, it seemed unstoppable, yet they had stopped it in its tracks. Having Great Qin retreat was a great victory.

However, it was also a pity that Great Qin had turned back in time. If they had delved any deeper, they could have dealt a heavy blow to Great Qin.

Apart from the various strategists, there were, of course, the various Dynasty Legatees. The Dynasty Legatees all grinned as they sat together and drank, feeling much better.

"Come! Brother Su, I salute you with this cup; you've contributed the most this time!" Si Ji was slightly drunk as he held a wine cup and put his arm around Su Yan as if they really were brothers.

Su Yan lightly smiled and picked up his cup, finishing it in one gulp, as he said, "It wasn't just my contributions; my junior apprentice brother and the other strategists all helped greatly; this victory belongs to everyone. Also, Great Qin will not give up so easily, so we need to continue to be careful."

Hearing this and thinking about how terrifying Great Qin was, the slightly drunk attendees became more clear-minded and nodded seriously.

Back at Great Qin, Zhao Fu and his subordinates once again made a plan, and they decided to continue attacking those four countries. The difficulty of entering the central area of China would be many times greater than destroying the four countries. After Great Qin became even more powerful, entering the central area of China would be much easier.

Also, if they unified the northern side of the Midland Continent, there would not be much to worry about anymore. After all, if Great Qin wanted to move into the central area right now, it would not only face the various Chinese factions in front of them but also the four countries behind them. This would be quite difficult to take care of, so Zhao Fu decided to attack the four countries first.

Even though Great Qin was surrounded by Void Zones and isolation barriers, there was one place where there was not any, which was the coastal area. Naturally, the four countries were unable to set up any isolation barriers there, so there was not any resistance there.

Great Qin could use the ocean to come behind the four countries and attack from there.

However, it was also possible that the four countries had set up isolation barriers on their coastal areas to stop Great Qin from attacking from the ocean. However, even if they did set up isolation barriers, Zhao Fu would still attack from the ocean, as he already had a good plan.

He first took out 100 million soldiers from the army and replaced them with the 100 million people's militia.

When they attacked the four countries again, they would still have the same number of soldiers, so this would not evoke any suspicion. The four countries would think that Great Qin was still attacking from the front and gather their forces to the front.

While the four armies advanced on land, they would also set up their own isolation barriers. If Great Qin could not use teleportation channels, they would make it so that the other side could not use them either. That way, Great Qin would not be in such a disadvantageous position and would be able to fight a prolonged battle with them.

As for the 100 million soldiers that Zhao Fu took out of the army, he would have them travel behind the four countries and attack there. Even if there were isolation barriers, it would be much easier to attack from behind, and they would also be able to utilize the eight Aquatic Beast Kings.

When the time came, because the four countries' armies and City Lords would be at the front, Zhao Fu would bring some City Lords and the eight Aquatic Beast Kings to quickly travel and attack from behind.

Traveling on ships would definitely be faster than walking. Instead of taking one month to walk, using ships would only take 15 days. This would save a lot of time.

The only thing to be wary of was that there could be countless players retaliating, as they no longer feared Great Qin. After all, the Reality Harming Talismans were no longer useful against them, and because it was Great Qin invading them, things would not be as easy as taking down Vietnam.

Zhao Fu thought of the Reality Magic Formation that the golden dragon had given him. He considered bringing all of these players' real bodies into the Heaven Awaken World before slaughtering them all.

Great Qin would only be sending 100 million soldiers to the back, and most of the City Lords would be at the front to draw attention. As such, simultaneously invading four countries would be quite difficult, so Zhao Fu planned to invade one country first instead of splitting his forces.

After destroying a country, they would immediately turn to another country. They would first destroy Myanmar and Thailand, as they were stronger than the other countries.

Because Laos and Cambodia were weaker, after Great Qin destroyed Myanmar and Thailand, dealing with them would be much easier.

Moreover, Great Qin had a massive chess piece buried within Laos, which was the Vietnamese faction from before. More than 70% of the factions there had secretly decided to join Great Qin, and Zhao Fu could order them to attack Laos at any time, helping Great Qin easily take down Laos.

As such, with only Cambodia remaining, it would not have any hope and could only be destroyed.

Great Qin spent about a month building a large number of ships. Great Qin did not have enough ships to accommodate 100 million soldiers, so they had to quickly build them.

Now, all preparations were complete, and Bai Qi, Wang Jian, Wei Liao, and Bai Xihan each led an army and marched towards the four countries on land. The Midland Continent, which had just enjoyed a bit of peace, was once again covered by a storm.

The four countries, as well as China's various factions, once again roused themselves and made preparations to deal with Great Qin's advance.

Just like before, as the four armies advanced, they were continuously ambushed, making their advance incredibly slow.

This time, Great Qin's armies brought Scholars, who set up isolation barriers wherever they went. This way, the four countries' people would not be able to attack from the side whenever they wanted, making it difficult to attack as they could no longer be as nimble.

Great Qin slowly reversed its unfavourable conditions, and the people from the four countries no longer looked as pleased. They continued attacking while reporting this to the higher-ups, asking them for a solution.

In response, the four countries' factions asked the Chinese side for advice, and the Chinese side passionately responded. Because of the current situation, they seemed incredibly close as if they were a family.

It was only because of Great Qin's threat that they were willing to be so close and harmonious.

In a world where interests reigned supreme, no one cared about justice, evil, or even patriotism. In this kind of world, anyone would kill their brother and father for one's own benefits.

It seemed that everyone had forgotten the matter about the 21 countries invading China. Some people had said that since Great Qin was part of China, it should have helped China, yet now this was happening. As such, Zhao Fu wanted to take over China; this world could only have Great Qin.

In response to what Great Qin was doing, the four countries sent over more people and increased the size of their teams, continuing to ambush them.

Even though they were not as nimble as before, the frequency of their attacks increased and had a greater effect.

Because Zhao Fu wanted to use the Reality Magic Formation at the back of the four countries, he could not reveal it now. As such, the four armies would not use the Reality Magic Formation.

Facing the four countries' continuous harassment, Great Qin continued to advance slowly but steadily, looking incredibly resolute to attack the four countries. This made the four countries feel quite worried, and they sent even more people to launch attacks, looking incredibly resolute to defend.

On the other side, Zhao Fu took 100 million soldiers on countless ships, as well as the eight Aquatic Beast kings and 2,000 City Lords. With this sort of strength, destroying a country would be no problem. The main thing was the eight Aquatic Beast Kings and Zhao Fu's immense power.

The 100 million soldiers and 2,000 City Lords were mainly for tying up the residents and soldiers and for support as well.

The sight of countless ships sailing together was quite majestic, and it could cause one's heart to tremble. It could be said to be the human world's largest navy.

After sailing for five or six days, they discovered that they were even faster than expected and were already more than halfway there. They did not encounter any problems on the way and progressed quite smoothly.

Zhao Fu stood on the ship at the front in order to deal with any unexpected circumstances. Just as they were about to reach the coastal seas of the four countries, a shocking aura burst forth, seeming to shake the heavens.

The surface of the ocean started to toss and roll, creating massive waves.

Zhao Fu immediately sensed a terrifying danger, and his expression fell. He immediately sent out the eight Aquatic Beast Kings, while 20,000 people appeared ahead of them, giving off powerful auras – they were all City Lords.

At their head was Su Yan, who gave a condescending smile as he looked at Zhao Fu, saying, "Long time no see, Great Qin's Legatee. Firstly, I need to thank you, as you showed me just how weak and powerless I was. However, things are different now, because we've seen through all of your plans."

"Retreat!" Zhao Fu had no time to respond to Su Yan. When that terrifying aura had appeared, Zhao Fu had already sensed that something was off. Now that he personally saw the 20,000 City Lords, he realized that the other side had set a trap here and was waiting for him, so he immediately gave the order to retreat.

All of the soldiers obeyed and started to turn the ships around, but it was already too late.

A 1,000 meter tall, thousands of kilometers wide wave formed, giving off an aura that seemed like it could devour everything as it rushed towards Great Qin's navy.

"Arghhh!" Zhao Fu roared as he took out the Sin Dragon Sword and exploded out with the Great Qin Seal and the Six Paths of Reincarnation Power, sending them into the Sin Dragon Sword. The Sin Dragon Sword gave off a world-destroying sword light, and Zhao Fu slashed out, seeming to rend the heavens, towards the enormous wave.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

The eight Aquatic Beast Kings also obeyed Zhao Fu's orders and exploded out with terrifying auras as they entered the sea and charged towards the wave.

Boom!!

A shocking explosion sounded out as the terrifying sword light split the wave in half, while the eight Aquatic Beast Kings also crashed into the wave. The wave was destroyed, but a massive amount of seawater still flooded forwards with immense destructive power towards Great Qin's navy.

Ship after ship was easily crushed, and countless soldiers fell into the water. Even though Great Qin was prepared and gave each soldier a Water Pearl, allowing them to breathe underwater, the massive shockwave still blasted the soldiers' bodies. The impact caused the soldiers to be heavily injured, destroying their organs and killing them. Corpses bobbed on the surface of the water before yet another 1,000 meter wave rushed forwards with a ferocious aura.

Zhao Fu exploded out with his full power, and the eight Aquatic Beasts and 2,000 City Lords also used their full power, wanting to stop this destructive wave.

In the end, Great Qin escaped wretchedly, losing around ten million soldiers. They had lost so many people without having accomplished anything, making this Great Qin's greatest loss.

Chapter 916: Plan

This was the first time they had achieved such results before, causing the factions to become delirious with joy. They had never obtained such a victory before, and it was because they had gathered simply too many strategists, who had plotted this together. No ordinary person could get out of this situation by themselves.

In actuality, it was only natural that the result would be like this. From the beginning, they had been predicting all sorts of things that Great Qin could do, and they prepared countermeasures for all possibilities; that was the main purpose of the strategists.

The various factions were all quite cooperative, and their intelligence-collecting had been done quite well. In order for Great Qin not to detect anything, things were done incredibly quickly, and only those who needed to know what was going on were told.

As such, Great Qin did not have any preparations, so it would naturally lose. Moreover, even though the various factions all contributed to different degrees, their overall contributions were able to create this kind of effect.

After obtaining such a great victory, the various leaders all gathered together to celebrate. They were all quite wary of Great Qin suddenly attacking in retaliation, so they did not dare to get too drunk. However, the scene was incredibly lively.

Si Ji stood up and loudly called out, “Now, everyone should know that Great Qin is not invincible. As long as we are united, there’s no need to fear Great Qin!”

Liu Ye laughed as he stood up and cupped his hands toward Si Ji before saying, “Brother Ji is correct; if more people are willing to join us, and we can continue working in unity, we can destroy Great Qin sooner or later. We cannot allow Great Qin to act so outrageously.”

Hearing this, everyone nodded, but they all had their own thoughts.

Ji Shenming sighed before saying, “We were too arrogant before and did not bother dealing with Great Qin from the start, allowing it to gradually develop. If we had humbled ourselves and allied from the start, Great Qin would have been destroyed already and would not have been able to even develop. What a pity.

“Moreover, Di Wutian was simply too haughty and was not willing to back down, resulting in him dying. I heard that not only his women were taken to be used for Great Qin’s Legatee’s pleasure, but all of his family’s beautiful women were also taken. This result is incredibly tragic.”

“Hmph! Great Qin is incredibly ruthless and cruel, and Great Qin’s Legatee is not only tyrannical but licentious. He’s a tyrant and a bandit, and we should have gotten rid of him earlier to bring justice to the world!” a scholar said as he coldly harrumphed.

Everyone agreed with what he said, as that was the reality to them – Great Qin’s Legatee was a bloodthirsty and lascivious person, yet he had been favored by China’s Fate and developed so quickly. His strength now caused countless people to feel terror.

This forced all of them to work together to resist Great Qin. Why did they not have such good luck and opportunities? The heavens were simply unfair to favor those who were evil.

Some people even shouted to the sky in grief, “God, you’re simply blind! Why are you helping such an evil person bring harm to the world? Why would you not give us an opportunity?”

However, seeing that they had stopped Great Qin from seemingly taking over the world, they felt much better.

“Come, come, come, let’s all celebrate and then go back to operating our plan. This time, we have to heavily wound Great Qin and make it so that it can no longer recover!” Si Ji said loudly as he raised his wine cup.

Everyone else cheered, making the scene lively again.

This news was quickly spread by the factions in order to show how brilliant and brave the factions were, as well as how righteous the factions were and how ruthless and stupid Great Qin was. It was one of those stories of a hero defeating evil.

On one hand, they wanted everyone to know that they had won in order to satisfy their vanity; after all, this was not something that anyone could do.

On the other hand, they wanted to attract more people to join them. Even though it seemed like they were quite united, they were actually just a pile of loose sand, with everyone looking after their own interests. If they faced a massive crisis, they would instantly collapse.

If they wanted to maintain their advantage, they had to pull more people in. With enough strength, their alliance would not have to worry about falling apart in the face of danger. However, the various factions all had different thoughts about this.

The factions that were the most worried were those in the central area of China. Now that Great Qin had suffered a great loss, with Great Qin’s Legatee’s savage nature, he would definitely take revenge, and it was likely the factions at the central area would be his target.

The School of Taoism, School of Legalism, and other neutral factions were slightly worried. Even though they did not participate in this, if Great Qin became mad and started to take revenge, they could be dragged in too.

The neutral factions were quite worried but could not do much. If they did anything and caused a misunderstanding, things might become even worse.

However, the people from the School of Confucianism and School of Mohism were quite happy, as they felt that Great Qin had been punished by the heavens. Those two schools emphasized benevolence, and even though they knew that resisting Great Qin was quite dangerous, they still went ahead with it.

The many ordinary people were also quite joyful, as they were no longer threatened by Great Qin. Su Yan had selflessly given away the method to produce Two Body Talismans so that no one would have to tolerate Great Qin's tyrannical behavior anymore.

Now that there was no more danger, those mocking voices once again started to sound out.

However, it was indeed quite easy to paint Great Qin's name black, but those people were mere bugs who could be crushed at any moment. Apart from using their voices to mock, they were not good for much else.

If Great Qin could threaten them again, they would once again fall silent in terror. They were incredibly weak and cowardly.

Back at Great Qin, Zhao Fu's expression was quite grim. Even though they had tried so hard, they had lost so many people. If it wasn't for the fact that he had to look after so many soldiers, he would have brought the eight Aquatic Beast Kings to charge into that group of 2,000 enemy City Lords.

Great Qin was on the trajectory of unifying the world, but now its progress had been halted. Facing the other side's actions, Zhao Fu felt quite furious.

He once again gathered his subordinates; this time, they had to make meticulous plans and also guess the other side's plans. They needed to change their thinking and think carefully about how the other side was thinking.

Zhao Fu was not a rash person and would not stupidly charge over. Everything needed an appropriate plan.

Chapter 917: Revenge

Only after three days, Great Qin sent out news and gave countless factions three choices: One was to continue to resist Great Qin and die. They had to all consider the consequences of making an enemy of Great Qin.

The second choice was to remain neutral. Right now, Great Qin's goal was only to destroy all those who opposed Great Qin. If anyone remained neutral, Great Qin promised not to harm them even a bit, and this was promised by the Prime Minister, Li Si, personally.

Li Si reminded everyone of how long it had been since Great Qin had attacked any Chinese system factions and asked everyone to believe that Great Qin was a righteous and kind Kingdom, and he also said not to listen to slanderous lies.

The third option was to join Great Qin. Now that Great Qin was a Level 1 Marquisate Kingdom, its strength was quite shocking. It was not something that ordinary people could deal with, and if one wanted to live stably in the future, Great Qin was undeniably the best choice. Right now, Great Qin was in need of people, and anyone who was willing to submit would be treated favourably.

Right now, they had to divide the enemy's factions. They were made up of countless factions, with both players and indigenous residents, and their main force was the indigenous residents.

It was very difficult for them to be united, and they could not all resist Great Qin with all they had. The Dynasty Legatees and Nation Legatees would definitely resist Zhao Fu, as they were also Emperors, but this was not the case for everyone else.

Now that Great Qin had made this announcement, many people started to secretly consider the options that it had given.

None of them were stupid and wanted to die, so many of them considered taking the second option and not participating anymore; guaranteeing their safety was enough. Others considered joining Great Qin, as Great Qin was incredibly powerful.

The people from Qin Suppression immediately understood Great Qin's aim and could not help but feel some admiration towards Zhao Fu – he had been able to suppress his anger and not rush over to attack, instead engaging in psychological warfare.

They immediately sent out information about how grave this matter was; it was evident that the various factions seemed less motivated, and if they did not deal with this, they would collapse sooner or later.

This made the factions that wanted to destroy Great Qin feel quite worried. They desperately tried to persuade everyone not to believe Great Qin's lies and not to worry about Great Qin's threats. Right now, Great Qin was just a paper tiger, and with their alliance, there was no need to be afraid.

Moreover, they reminded everyone of how cruel and cold-blooded Great Qin was; how could they trust such a faction? Anyone who trusted Great Qin would definitely have a pitiful ending. It was evident how ambitious Great Qin was, so everyone had to be wary of being tricked by it.

Those words, filled with justice and righteousness, caused the gradually falling morale to pick back up.

Great Qin and the various factions once again engaged in a war of words, and countless people swayed back and forth between them.

At that moment, Zhao Fu commenced his revenge operations. Even though their Void Zones spanned five regions, which made it difficult for an army to pass through, it was no problem for Zhao Fu by himself.

Using the Great Qin Seal's power, Zhao Fu was able to fly through those five regions in just three days, and he arrived at where the various factions were gathered.

Because this was the enemy's territory, Zhao Fu was quite careful. Apart from himself, he had also brought the eight Aquatic Beast Kings as backup plans. They were within Zhao Fu's special Spirit Pet Rings, and he would use them in crucial moments.

However, to avoid them guessing that he had come to their territory and setting off a trap, Zhao Fu would not directly act, leaving this to others.

It was currently afternoon, and the orange glows from the setting sun dyed the entire sky a yellow-orange color, while the residents in the City below were preparing dinner for their families. A Ghost silently snuck into that City and threw out a rhombus-shaped crystal before disappearing.

Boom!

A massive explosion rang out as an extremely destructive shockwave blasted out. Everything was destroyed under this power and reduced to dust, and the ground continuously trembled as a berserk gale swept through the entire City.

After everything settled, it could be seen that there was a massive crater near the middle of the City. Two-thirds of the City had been annihilated, and howls and crying sounded out, with blood and corpses everywhere. The City had been annihilated in just an instant.

Boom!!

Another shocking explosion sounded out as a similar explosion blasted out at another City. The ground trembled as a mushroom cloud rose up, creating a terrifying scene.

Zhao Fu used 120 Destruction Crystals to blow up 120 Cities, which were all Cities in the three directions around Great Qin. They were all stubborn resistors, so Zhao Fu did not hesitate to destroy them.

This matter caused a massive amount of panic, as 120 Cities had been destroyed so quickly, and countless residents had been killed. Great Qin's revenge had come.

The various factions' leaders' expressions were all quite grim. They had been waiting for Great Qin's Legatee to come, but they had never expected him to be so cautious and simultaneously attack so many Cities without actually revealing himself. There was nothing they could do against this.

None of them could fight him one-on-one, so they had to rely on encircling him. However, since he did not reveal himself, all of their plans had gone to waste.

That was the advantage of having immense strength. The factions could only watch on and not do anything, as they were at a severe disadvantage, and they started to feel incredibly helpless.

After hearing about this, a trace of coldness flashed in Si Ji's eyes as he said, "Are the people who went to the Fish Scale world still not back? And have we contacted the people from the Dark Demon world? Hurry and ask their World Protectors to come; we have a big advantage now, so this is a good opportunity to kill Great Qin's Legatee. If both World Protectors come, Great Qin's Legatee definitely won't be able to escape!"

"Yes, Your Majesty!" A few people quickly left to check on the matters that Si Ji had just mentioned, and they understood how severe the situation was.

Following this, Great Qin's army once again gathered and moved out towards the central area of China. They did not split into multiple groups and instead gathered together and marched on with unstoppable momentum. This caused the various factions to feel even more panicked.

Now, they had suddenly taken two heavy blows, and they still had not resolved the matter about Great Qin's Legatee. The system City Lords' morale plummeted, and some of them were already thinking of giving up, so how could they face a direct assault from Great Qin army?

The various factions quickly gathered together to think of a way to respond to this. They had to quickly deal with these problems as soon as possible.

Chapter 918: Full Advance

After completing this operation, Zhao Fu had killed about 20 million people. He did not stay for long and immediately returned to Great Qin to avoid any unexpected situations.

This time, almost the entirety of Great Qin moved out. This included the 20 Corps, 8,000 City Lords, 2,000 Wyverns, and 2,000 Corpse Soul Commanders, and they moved towards the central area of China with immense force.

Facing this massive attack, none of the factions dared to be careless, and they all seriously started to gather a large number of soldiers.

The players all made preparations and used hidden teleportation channels to launch suicide attacks towards the Great Qin's army, continuously harassing it and preventing it from advancing quickly. However, soon, their plans were frustrated.

This was because the Wyverns spiralled above Great Qin's army, and as soon as people appeared in the distance, they would immediately fly over and breathe out searing flames or chilling air, which were impossible to defend against. All of the players were slaughtered before they could even come close.

Moreover, behind the countless Wyverns were countless City Lords prepared to act at a moment's notice.

The players who wanted to launch sneak attacks were all completely annihilated before reaching Great Qin's army, being either burnt to a crisp or frozen solid, looking incredibly pitiful.

This caused the various strategists to become serious. It seemed that Great Qin had already thought of countermeasures, which was why they dared to move out their entire army. They had to be incredibly careful as Great Qin had already made preparations; if not, their central area might be broken through.

Since this plan did not work, the strategists started with their next plan and gave out various orders. The leaders of the factions nervously waited to see how things would go.

After all, they relied heavily on these strategists. Right now, they could not do anything but watch and wait.

A green fog started to gather in front of Great Qin's army; this fog was incredibly dense and obscured vision completely, making it difficult to see what was within the fog.

However, the fog gave off an extremely dangerous aura because the plants that the fog touched immediately wilted, and the ground became black. It seemed that this fog contained immense poison, and anyone who breathed it in would most likely immediately die.

After sensing this, Bai Qi ordered the army to stop and had people check on this poisonous fog. They found that the poisonous fog was incredibly deadly and could easily kill even Stage 1 soldiers. They could not help but wonder which faction had obtained a poison like this.

This was all thanks to Si Ji. In order to deal with Great Qin, he had selflessly given out information to others in order to bring about this situation.

He had found a historical remnant, and he found this green fog was from that historical remnant. The ancient poison that he had found had also come from that historical remnant. It was not just Great Qin that had had fortuitous opportunities; other people had some as well.

Facing the incredibly deadly green fog, Bai Qi looked at Wang Jian, Wei Liao, and the others who had General Armaments.

Great Qin currently had 13 General Armaments, and the last person to obtain one was Wei Qing, who had awakened the Army Destroyer Star.

The General Armaments had the Soldier Aura Formation skill, and they could gather more soldiers' auras than the Corps. Each General Armament could gather the auras of 30 million soldiers, and Great Qin's army currently had around 400 million soldiers. With the 13 General Armaments, they could gather 390 million soldiers' auras.

Bai Qi looked at the fog and drew his Seven Murders Sword as he coldly harrumphed. A blood-red sword light shot into the sky, and a massive, formless aura suddenly descended, causing a bloodthirsty aura to rush out like a flood.

Wang Jian, Wei Liao and the others also drew their General Armaments and pointed them towards the sky. Massive auras exploded out as enormous stars, giving off intense power, appeared in the sky, giving off resplendent light.

“Soldier Aura Formation!” the Generals simultaneously shouted as different auras flowed out from Great Qin's army and gathered towards them. This time, they did not create different shapes, and they instead gathered together with Bai Qi at the center.

Boom!!

The 13 people simultaneously slashed out with their General Armaments, and the massive amount of soldier aura flooded forwards with a ferocious aura.

Soon, the massive wave of soldier aura collided with the poisonous fog. The poisonous fog continuously corroded the soldier aura, while the soldier aura continuously dissipated the poisonous fog. The two continuously clashed, but in the end, Great Qin's soldier aura was stronger, evaporating the fog and allowing Great Qin's army to continue onwards.

This caused the various factions' leaders' expressions to fall. They had been quite confident in this attack, and none of them had expected Great Qin to deal with it so easily. It seemed that Great Qin was incredibly prepared, and they could not be as relaxed as before.

Soon, the strategists gave the order to carry out the second plan.

Seeing Great Qin get rid of the poisonous fog so easily, even Si Ji felt quite startled, and he started to feel quite worried. He shouted, "Are those people contacting the Fish Scale world and Dark Demon world back yet? If they miss this chance to kill Great Qin's Legatee, they'll never get another chance!"

Right now, the thing that Si Ji wanted most was to kill Great Qin's Legatee. After all, it was just Great Qin's Legatee by himself, whereas they had countless City Lords. If they worked with two World Protectors, Zhao Fu would be dead without a doubt. After all, those two World Protectors were enough to heavily wound Great Qin's Legatee.

This time, they would also have countless City Lords helping out, and they also had the Demon Slaying Formation, which was an extremely powerful killing formation. No matter how powerful Great Qin's Legatee was, he would still die.

The only thing that Si Ji was worried about was Great Qin's Legatee escaping. If he was allowed to escape, they would have to think of some other way to lure him out again.

Si Ji felt quite hateful; why did he not have such monstrous power? If he did, he could directly kill Great Qin's Legatee and would not have to rely on those two World Protectors.

After Great Qin's Legatee died, there would be nothing to worry about regarding Great Qin. After all, if a Kingdom lost its figurehead, it was destined to decline and fall. Even if Great Qin's Legacy chose a new ruler, who could compete with Great Qin's current Legatee?

The people from the Ying family could not even compare to a tenth of him, so Si Ji did not worry about them at all.

Rumble...

Great Qin 's massive army continued forwards, but at that moment, a massive rumbling sounded out as the ground continuously shook. The tremors became larger and larger as the ground started to crack, and large rocks started to roll down mountains as mud also started to slide down.

This made it quite difficult for Great Qin's army to advance, as they had to defend against the various natural disasters, putting them in a disadvantageous position.

Chapter 919: 20 Corps

“All 20 Corps, scatter around the army and use your Corps' power to suppress the ground beneath you and stop the tremors.”

Bai Qi immediately gave out an order, and the people from the 20 Corps went around the army and exploded out with powerful auras. For example, the Sword Mountain Corps sent a massive amount of sword qi into the ground, the Demon King Corps sent a large amount of demonic qi into the ground, and the Celestial Corps sent a great amount of spirit qi into the ground.

As their various powers entered the ground and spread out, the surrounding land was sealed and stopped shaking. However, this was only limited to where Great Qin's army was, and the surrounding ground continued to violently tremble, causing Great Qin's Generals to frown.

The other side had many tricks up their sleeves, and in order to defend well, they had used all sorts of tricks, some of which were completely unpredictable.

Facing these tremors, Bai Qi ordered the army to wait and not make any rash movements. Those tremors lasted 15 days before they finally stopped.

The item that had caused these tremors had been destroyed after being continuously used for 15 days and 15 nights, and it cost tens of millions of gold coins every day. They could not support an expenditure like this.

Now, these regions looked like they had been ravaged by unimaginable natural disasters. Mountains had collapsed, and the ground had massive cracks running through it. The surroundings were deathly silent as if all living creatures had died.

This made it incredibly hard to walk, if not impossible to walk. However, Bai Qi once again gave the order to advance; even if there was no path to be walked, they would make a path.

The soldiers took out yellow gems and controlled the dirt and rocks to quickly fill some of the cracks, allowing the army to continue onwards.

The various factions never thought that despite all of this, Great Qin would still attack the central area. It seemed that they were determined to destroy the central area, and the strategists once again discussed together.

Si Ji's expression was quite grave, as he received news from the two other worlds that the two World Protectors still had not fully recovered from the previous battle and were still incredibly weak. It would be impossible for them to come and kill Great Qin's Legatee.

This made Si Ji silently curse; it seemed that they had to rely on themselves. They had to think of a way to lure Great Qin's Legatee out by himself and use the Demon Slaying Formation to kill him.

However, this made the strategists' job much harder. After much discussion, the strategists decided to rush the repair of the item that caused earthquakes, while Jiang Ziya and the others created a Heaven and Earth Change Formation.

Bai Qi continued leading Great Qin's army onwards, giving off an aura as great as a mountain. They disregarded all obstructions, seeming completely determined to attack the central region.

The ground once again trembled, but it was not as severe as before, and they could still manage to walk. Before, they could barely even stand, and this was because the item that they used had been badly damaged, and even after some repairs, its effects were much weaker than before.

This was good for Great Qin's soldiers, because if the tremors were still as great as before, the paths they made could collapse at any time, making things quite dangerous.

However, the various strategists had thought of countermeasures as well. Jiang Ziya's Heaven and Earth Change Formation was activated, causing countless clouds to gather, obscuring the sky and giving off an oppressive feeling.

A wild gale started to blow as torrential rain started to pour, and bolts of lightning ferociously crashed down. Adding on the tremors in the ground, it seemed like the end of the world, making it incredibly difficult to walk.

However, Great Qin still did not give up. The Corps unleashed their Corps Shields to defend against the gales and the rain, and the army continued to advance.

On a tall platform, surrounded by countless flags, Jiang Ziya stood wearing white robes, looking quite ethereal and otherworldly. There was a massive magic formation in the sky that slowly spun, causing Heaven and Earth Essence Qi to madly gather.

Since Great Qin was still so resolute about attacking the central area, Jiang Ziya was expressionless as he performed various hand seals, causing the magic formation in the sky to spin faster and faster as even more Heaven and Earth Essence Qi gathered.

Even more intense gales and rain buffeted Great Qin's army, and there would occasionally even be lightning striking at them. Fortunately, they had the protection of the Corps Shields, so there were no injuries or casualties; it just made it much harder to advance.

However, Bai Qi's expression was cold and showed no intention of stopping, and he continued ordering Great Qin's army onwards.

Seeing Great Qin look so determined and relentless, the various factions started to feel nervous. If they clashed head-on, they were worried that they were not a match for Great Qin. After all, Great Qin's battle power and battle intent were much higher than theirs.

Moreover, they were just a number of factions gathered together and were not as unified. Once Great Qin broke through their defenses, with Great Qin's Legatee's terrifying attacks, many people would directly run away, and they would lose without a doubt.

If they wanted to prevent this, they had to stop this at all costs. The strategists continued to think and ordered people to suicide attacks.

With the chaotic conditions, it was dangerous for the Wyverns and City Lords to be in the air. If they started launching suicide attacks, they could be quite effective.

In order to deal with this matter, the strategists continued to think of other methods. If they could stop Great Qin's army in the Void Zone, they would win.

Finally, after six days, Great Qin's army was unable to withstand the attacks and harsh conditions and chose to retreat.

After once again sending Great Qin's army into retreat, the various factions became mad with joy. They were incredibly emotional, as this was their second victory against Great Qin, and their lowered spirits once again rose. This showed everything that they really did have the strength to defend against Great Qin.

They once again victoriously announced, "We've repelled the evil Great Qin for the second time now. Everyone, please believe in our strength and join us to resist Great Qin's tyrannical behavior. For the peace of the world and for a better future!"

Those who were displeased with Great Qin were also incredibly joyful. They were the happiest about this result, so they all started and cheer and celebrate. Some people started to shout about destroying the Qin dog and joined various factions.

Now that the factions had an advantage and gave out many benefits, many people immediately joined them.

The real world was filled with even more mocking towards Great Qin, calling Great Qin trash or saying that it had received its dues.

Chapter 920: Turn of Events

Su Yan and the various Legatees grinned as they sat together. This was the second time they had achieved a victory like this, and they were ecstatic.

"Everyone, it was all thanks to all of you. We all stopped Great Qin together, and now, there's nothing to fear about Great Qin. Since we can defend against them once, we can defend against them a second, a third, and a fourth time. Now that we're able to defend against Great Qin, we should think about how to attack Great Qin. This is for the happiness and peace of the world, so please do your best!" Si Ji smiled as he spoke loudly, and the other Legatees also praised the strategists, as this was all thanks to them.

The strategists all had slight smiles on their faces, as they had very steady and calm mental states. They only simply and courteously responded and maintained their cool; that was how a strategist ought to behave.

However, to be able to have victory over Great Qin again like this, they were naturally quite happy. After all, Great Qin was simply too powerful and dangerous, and they were under immense pressure. They had been worried that they would not be able to deal with Great Qin.

“Shall we celebrate our second victory?” a big man laughed loudly as he suggested.

Everyone else nodded and cheered, making the scene quite lively. Just as they were about to celebrate again, a person ran in with a pale face and cried out, “Myanmar has fallen!”

This caused the raucous scene to instantly chill. Everyone had looks of disbelief on their faces; how had Myanmar suddenly fallen? Didn’t they have the protection of the Void Zones and isolation barriers, and hadn’t Great Qin’s army only just withdrawn from here? How could they have destroyed Myanmar? None of them could understand it.

However, the strategists’ expressions fell as they realized something. They had that person give a full report before realizing that they had fallen for Great Qin’s schemes – Great Qin’s target had always been the four countries, and attacking the central area had just been a distraction. The strategists quickly ordered for reinforcements to be sent to the remaining three countries, as they were in immense danger.

Zhao Fu had a wicked smile on his face as he stood above Myanmar. After taking revenge in the central area, he had immediately returned to Great Qin. He had not appeared with Great Qin’s army while attacking the central army, as he was naturally doing something else.

Great Qin had 23 Corps in total, and the remaining three Corps and about 2,000 City Lords, 1,500 Wyverns, and 1,500 Corpse Soul Commanders had gone to attack Myanmar.

That was how this matter could be explained – the strategists knew that Great Qin had various methods and tricks, so they had many countermeasures. This was not just a battle of might but also of wits, and no carelessness could be permitted.

After all, these were all famed strategists from throughout history, and Zhao Fu would not underestimate them. He would achieve victory by using means that they were unaware of in order to surprise them.

Zhao Fu had used the Wyverns and Corpse Soul Commanders before, so they were not secrets anymore, but Zhao Fu had a new trump card, which were the 60,000 Spiders.

These Spiders all had Stage 2 strength, and they were extremely proficient at digging tunnels. Their sharp claws could easily tear apart the ground, and they also had corrosive poison that could easily melt things as well.

They were able to soundlessly dig tunnels underground, and Zhao Fu used this method to get past the Void Zones and reach Myanmar's territory. Because the distance was quite far, it had taken them one month to arrive. They had also dug tunnels to Laos as well.

Bai Qi had taken the main army to resolutely attack the central area, drawing a lot of attention to cover for Zhao Fu.

The instant they arrived at Myanmar, Zhao Fu instantly released the eight Aquatic Beast Kings, the Wyverns, and the Corpse Soul Commanders, and they and the City Lords started to rampage.

Zhao Fu did not show any mercy either, killing anyone who came his way. They had to take down Myanmar as quickly as possible, and Myanmar did not even have time to respond.

On one hand, they were overconfident, as they thought that they would be able to stop Great Qin again. Moreover, they had received reports of victory from the central area, so they had never expected that they would be in danger.

Powerful spears shot into the player cities, and before the Myanmar people could realize what was happening, magic formations were formed. Countless people were greatly shocked and wanted to escape, but it was already too late.

These spears were sealed with the Reality Magic Formation, and because setting up magic formations took time, in order to form them as quickly as possible, Zhao Fu sealed the formations within the spears. This allowed the formations to be instantly used and bring all of the players' bodies into the Heaven Awaken World.

Of course, these spears were incredibly special items, and not only were they fused with many Spatial Stones, but they had also used many precious materials to create them, or else they would not be able to seal the magic formation within them.

Myanmar had about 400 regions and around 1,200 City Lords. Putting aside Great Qin's Wyverns and Corpse Soul Commanders, just the eight Aquatic Beast Kings would be enough to destroy them.

Apart from Great Qin's high-grade battle forces, Zhao Fu had also brought 100 million soldiers and filled the main army with 100 million people's militia. Zhao Fu led these 100 million soldiers and three Corps to help Great Qin take control of the situation.

Myanmar fell incredibly quickly. Zhao Fu found the Pagan Dynasty and started to ferociously attack it. The Legatee was a round-faced young man, and the Nation Armament was a cattail and was not too weak.

However, in front of Zhao Fu, he was nothing. In order to deal with him quickly, Zhao Fu did not even use his Nation Armament and directly used the Great Qin Seal and the Six Paths of Reincarnation Power. In just three blows, he killed the Legatee.

After taking down Myanmar and controlling the situation, Zhao Fu led his soldiers to attack the next country, which was Thailand.

At the same time, the Vietnamese factions loyal to Great Qin made up some excuses to lead the other ordinary Vietnamese players to attack Laos. Laos was immediately enraged and sent soldiers to suppress them and kick them out.

However, at that moment, Zhao Mo and Elise brought a team of City Lords and Wyverns and started a massacre in Laos. They were incredibly cruel and merciless, making people shiver in fear.

As a Demon Sovereign King, Zhao Mo enjoyed slashing everything into pieces. Wherever he went, blood flew everywhere, and the ground was covered with mashed-up corpses.

Elise liked to chop people into countless small pieces, and she liked to hear people scream. As such, she would slowly kill them and not allow them to die quickly. This was unimaginably painful.

The City Lords and Wyverns here had come after retreating from attacking the central area. There were 2,000 City Lords and 2,000 Wyverns, and because the Corpse Soul Commanders could not be put into Spirit Pet Rings, they did not come.

With the forces here, destroying Laos would be no problem at all. Laos only had 300 regions and around 1,000 City Lords in total. Just Zhao Mo and Elise could deal with 800 City Lords together, and there were still 2,000 City Lords and Wyverns.
