

The Lord 991

Chapter 991: Extermination

The Night Dynasty had around 1,390 Cities and around 90 million soldiers, and it had sent out 900 or so City Lords and 80 million soldiers to attack the system faction. This meant that only around 400 City Lords and ten million soldiers were left to defend.

The player faction had a total of 900 City Lords and 80 million soldiers. With this sort of force, it would be no problem to conquer the Night Dynasty.

This time, it was the Night Dynasty seeking death. The player faction was such a great threat, yet it had sent so many soldiers to attack others. Of course, the player faction would grasp this opportunity to launch a full-scale attack, hoping to destroy the Night Dynasty.

In such chaotic times, others often had to die so one could live. Now, the player faction could only hope that the system faction could stall the Night Dynasty's main force and provide them with more time.

If both of them suffered heavy losses, that would naturally be the best case scenario; this would allow the player faction to destroy the Night Dynasty before destroying the system faction, unifying this area.

If they could devour two major factions like this, their faction would become many times more powerful. They would even be able to expand outwards, and soon, the entire Southern Continent would be theirs. When they thought of this, everyone felt incredibly excited and roared as they charged at the Night Dynasty's territory.

Over at the other side, the Night Dynasty and system faction soon heard about the player faction attacking the Night Dynasty.

The system faction was delighted, and their unsightly expressions became ones of joy. They shouted, "The Night Dynasty's base is being attacked by the player faction, and they will definitely try to send people back. As long as we can stall the Night Dynasty, they will be finished!"

“Charge!!” the system factions’ 60 million soldiers and 600 or so City Lords gave off powerful auras as they ferociously charged at the Night Dynasty’s army.

The system faction did not send their full force, and it kept some people at their base to defend.

“Formations!” The Night Dynasty’s side did not panic, nor did they show any intent to retreat. Ye Cang gave out orders as Shieldbearers made a line at the front, followed by Infantrymen with spears, and then followed by Archers.

Many of the arrows were socketed with crystals – they were Talisman Arrows.

The system faction felt quite strange upon seeing the Night Dynasty’s behavior; they could not understand what the Night Dynasty was thinking. After all, their base was being attacked, so they should be trying to return to defend, allowing them to attack from behind.

Now, the Night Dynasty was doomed; even if they wanted to retreat now, it would be impossible, and their base was being taken. In the end, victory would belong to them.

However, they simply could not understand why the Night Dynasty was not retreating. It was as if they were not worried about their base at all.

Swish, swish, swish...

White rays of light giving off sharp auras arc through the sky before descending like torrential rain.

As the white rays of light shot downwards, dozens of bodies were pierced by the white rays of light, causing blood and broken limbs to fly through the air. The front of the system army instantly turned into corpses, and the pungent stench of blood filled the air, causing the charging system army to pause.

The system City Lords’ expressions fell; this was completely different to what they had expected.

Boom!!

An incredibly powerful might descended like heavy mountains on the system City Lords' bodies, and the space around them seemed to freeze.

The system City Lords felt their bodies sink as even breathing became difficult. A sense of terror welled up in their hearts as their bodies slightly trembled. Their expressions became grim as they looked at the cloaked figure who had appeared in the sky.

That was Zhao Fu! Zhao Fu looked at the City Lords in front of him and said coldly with a trace of killing intent, "Choose: submit or die."

The system City Lords' expressions were quite unsightly because this person was simply too powerful. He surpassed anything they could endure, but they were quite unwilling to submit.

"Arghhh..." Suddenly, pained cries sounded out. Zhao Fu did not give them much time to think, and he suddenly turned into a black blur as he dove in among them, his gray sword flashing out as ten or so City Lords' bodies were slashed apart.

The City Lords were all immensely shocked and quickly tried to spread out, but Zhao Fu turned and flew towards another group of City Lords.

The City Lords immediately exploded out with the full power of their City Lord Seals, and tough barriers appeared around them.

Zhao Fu coldly smirked as the Great Qin Seal slightly trembled within his body and a massive power entered his Death Disaster Sword. A terrifying deadly intent of extermination emanated out from the Death Disaster Sword.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

As the City Lords watched on in confusion, their energy barriers were shattered, and their bodies were split apart. Blood flew everywhere; every time Zhao Fu attacked, at least 20 or so City Lords died.

Because of their City Lords being massacred above, the system soldiers' morale plummeted, but they continued to roar as they rushed towards the Night Dynasty's army.

Swish, swish, swish...

The sound of the air being torn could be heard as countless ordinary arrows flew out, giving off sharp auras, resulting in more casualties on the system side.

However, the system soldiers were finally able to reach the Night Dynasty army, though they had lost around 20% of their force.

The system soldiers flooded towards the Night Dynasty's army, who were already in formation and waiting for them. At that moment, the Night Dynasty's 900 City Lords shamelessly acted.

Powerful attacks blasted down towards the front of the system army, resulting in explosions everywhere. The system soldiers were once again heavily injured, while at that moment, the Night Dynasty army started to ferociously charge like a massive tide.

The system army paused because their numbers were being continuously reduced and their morale had taken a big blow. Their charge had been completely stopped by the Night Dynasty.

At that moment, the Night Dynasty soldiers started to roar as they attacked the system army and the two sides began to clash. However, this only lasted for a short while before the system army started to collapse. After all, they had to face not only the Night Dynasty's army but also the shameless City Lords in the sky.

The system City Lords were being dealt with by Zhao Fu alone, and soon, around 200 of them had died. This caused the City Lords to all look at Zhao Fu in terror.

"Arghhh!" A pitiful howl sounded out as Zhao Fu stabbed his hand into a City Lord's chest and ripped out his heart; this City Lord had been instantly killed by Zhao Fu.

Chapter 992: Destroy the Night Dynasty

"Wait, I'm willing to surrender." Seeing this bloody scene, a City Lord could not take it anymore and cried out in terror. If this went on, they would all be killed by Zhao Fu. Facing this immense power, they could only feel despair and powerless.

Now that someone was willing to surrender, he was immediately followed by a second, a third, and then even more City Lords. Zhao Fu stopped and looked at the remaining City Lords with his terrifying eyes.

The remaining City Lords could not turn this situation around, but they did not want to die either, so they could only surrender as well.

With the City Lords above surrendering, the soldiers below also surrendered. This was not surprising, because all of the City Lords and Cities had taken heavy blows, and only by surrendering would they not be slaughtered by the Night Dynasty.

After accepting the surrender of these people, Zhao Fu headed back to the Night Dynasty's base with them.

They split into two groups that contained both the Night Dynasty's people and the newly-surrendered system forces. One group returned to the Night Dynasty's base to defend against the player faction, while the other attacked the player faction from behind, cutting off any paths of escape.

Even though they had teleportation channels, it would take quite a while to return. If they did not have any countermeasures, it was indeed possible for the Night Dynasty's base to be conquered.

Zhao Fu naturally understood this, so he had made preparations. This was why the Night Dynasty had stayed to fight instead of immediately returning to defend.

The player faction had hoped to launch a sneak attack on the Night Dynasty and destroy it in one fell swoop. They felt incredibly excited and swarmed towards the Night Dynasty. However, when they were halfway there, they found that all teleportation channels stopped working, and restrictive magic formations appeared in the sky.

A powerful sealing power enveloped them, making it impossible for them to quickly reach the Night Dynasty. If they relied on walking, it would take at least four or five days to arrive. If it came to that, it would be too late.

Now, they faced with a tough decision. If they wanted to continue to attack the Night Dynasty, it would take quite some time. Finding another route would take a long time, and if the Night Dynasty destroyed the system faction in time, they would come back and attack them.

Luckily, their Dark Demon world was a Cultivation world, and they were quite proficient in magic formations. The isolation barriers that the Night Dynasty had set up were quite simple, so they were not too difficult to destroy. They still had a chance to attack the Night Dynasty.

While the players worked at destroying the formations, the soldiers gradually advanced. Around seven or eight hours later, the isolation barriers had mostly been destroyed. Everyone in the player faction was quite delighted; they had not expected to be able to destroy the formations so quickly, and they were confident that the system faction could still stall for quite a while.

After all, the system faction was not weak, so no matter how powerful the Night Dynasty was, it would take quite some time to destroy the same faction. They still had a chance.

“Kill! Destroy the Night Dynasty; all treasures and women will belong to whoever takes them!” A while later, the isolation barriers were all destroyed, and everyone’s suppressed emotions were released as they yelled and continued rushing towards the Night Dynasty.

However, by now, the Night Dynasty had already returned and was waiting for the player faction.

Everything was going according to the Night Dynasty’s plan. They had attacked the system faction to muddy the waters and conceal its true plan. If it directly attacked the system faction from the beginning with so many soldiers, it would definitely arouse suspicion, and they would not have been able to lure out the player faction like this.

The isolation barriers were how the Chinese side had stalled Great Qin before, and Great Qin now used this to stall the player faction.

When the player faction finally arrived at the Night Dynasty’s territory, they were confused to see the Night Dynasty’s army already there waiting for them. They instantly felt that something was off; they had never expected the Night Dynasty to be able to return so quickly. What had happened to the system faction? They were simply too trash!

However, there were only 900 or so Night Dynasty City Lords gathered here and 70 million soldiers, while the player faction’s force was not any weaker. They could still fight.

Now that things had come to this, there was no going back. The leaders of the player faction drew their weapons and loudly ordered, “Charge! If we destroy the Night Dynasty, everyone will have made a great contribution!”

The player faction’s aura was not weak at all as the players roared and charged forwards at the Night Dynasty’s army. The dark tide was like a tsunami, shaking their surroundings, as all creatures within 10,000 kilometers became incredibly terrified.

However, this did not last for long, and soon, the player army stopped. This was because another army had appeared behind them: It seemed to be made up of players and system forces, and it was not very weak.

Now that they were facing enemies from the front and back, neither of whom were weak, the player army started to panic.

The leaders’ hearts sank, and felt that they were finished.

The army at the back had 700 to 800 City Lords and 50 to 60 million soldiers. In other words, they had to face a force with double their numbers, and they were also being pincerred. They were going to lose without a doubt.

They had completely fallen for the Night Dynasty’s trap this time. They should not have run over to attack the Night Dynasty, and the leaders felt incredibly regretful now. Moreover, why was that system faction so weak? They had been destroyed too quickly, resulting in the player faction being in such a grim situation.

“Break through from the side!” Now, they could only try to break out of this pincer. If they stayed here, they would definitely all die; only by breaking through would they have a chance at life.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

Suddenly, explosions sounded out as the Night Dynasty’s soldiers threw spears. The countless spears contained immense force as they flew towards the front of the player army, scaring the player army and forcing them to immediately defend.

However, the targets of these spears were not them but instead fell on the ground. At that moment, they were completely terrified to find that their real bodies had been brought into the Heaven Awaken World.

After all, their trump card was that they would not die true deaths even if they died. Now that their trump card was gone, the player army was truly terrified; there was no one who was not afraid of death.

While the player army was sent into chaos, the Night Dynasty's two armies started to ferociously charge towards the player army. Arrows tore through the air, and the soldiers stabbed their spears into the enemies' bodies, while the players also tried to retaliate in terror.

Both sides started to fight, but right from the beginning, the player army was in a very disadvantageous position. They were being attacked from two sides, and because they also had less people, they were always being forced back.

The City Lords also started to fight in the sky. The Night Dynasty's City Lords and the surrendered system City Lords directly surrounded the player City Lords.

Some people recognized the system City Lords and called out angrily, "We actually trusted in your strength and thought that you could stall for longer so that we could destroy the Night Dynasty together. Who would have thought you were such trash, having already been destroyed by the Night Dynasty. Now you're helping the Night Dynasty attack us!"

Chapter 993: Humiliating Contract

"Ai." The system City Lords could not help but sigh. They did not want things to be like this either; they had also wanted to destroy the Night Dynasty, but a single person had changed all of this.

That person had been simply too powerful, and he was able to casually kill them. Without him, the battle would have gone completely differently. Even if they were weak, they would have been able to at least stall the Night Dynasty's army so that the player faction could destroy the Night Dynasty.

Boom!

A powerful aura swept out like a wild gale, causing the various system City Lords' expressions to tighten. They clearly knew who this aura belonged to, and they thought to themselves that the player faction was doomed.

Zhao Fu took out the Sword of Killing, which could kill one's soul; this was something that existed on the spiritual level. The main body of the Sword of Killing was the Clear Sable Sword, and it had the power to kill the soul.

Using this sword to kill player City Lords was incredibly fitting, and it saved the hassle of bringing their real bodies into the Heaven Awaken World.

Swish!

A blood-red sword light flew out, causing blood and limbs to fly everywhere. Cries continuously sounded out as Zhao Fu started to commit a slaughter. Every time he slashed out, City Lords would fall.

The Night Dynasty City Lords also shot towards the player City Lords, and a portion of them attacked the player army. The battle concluded quite quickly with one side achieving a decisive victory.

In the end, the players surrendered. Out of the 900 City Lords, around 300 were left, and around 20 million soldiers were left. The Night Dynasty had won a crushing victory, with only a few City Lords being injured and only losing a few million soldiers.

The system faction and player faction had been completely devoured by the Night Dynasty. Because they had been incredibly prepared, not a single person had run away. Seeing the Night Dynasty develop so quickly, the old Demon Path Sect Master felt quite relieved; he had not submitted to the wrong person.

Originally, the Night Dynasty had 1,390 Cities, 900 million people, 500 regions, and 90 million soldiers.

Now, with the 700 Cities, 40 million soldiers, and 200 million people from the system faction and the 900 Cities, 20 million soldiers, and 300 million people from the player faction, the Night Dynasty now had 2,990 Cities, 1.4 billion people, and over 1,000 regions. Its strength had once again considerably increased.

The Night Dynasty had already been the most powerful Dynasty, and after devouring the Demon Path Sect, the player faction, and the system faction, its strength was more powerful than a few Dynasties combined, causing the entire Southern Continent to fall into terror.

After all, the Night Dynasty's strength was now simply too great, and it severely threatened their safety. Many people started to scheme to attack the Night Dynasty together and rid themselves of this threat.

Now, the Night Dynasty was like Great Qin, being targeted by many others. Countless factions wanted to ally together to destroy the Night Dynasty, but fortunately, those people only included the Southern Continent's factions. The other Continents did not want to get involved, unlike in the human world where Great Qin was viewed as an enemy by almost the entire world.

Facing this sort of hostility, Zhao Fu used the same tricks, becoming more low-profile and expressing his goodwill to the various factions. After digesting all of the factions and establishing a Kingdom, they would once again bare their fangs and lay their hands on these factions.

If a faction did not have enough strength, it could only climb up step by step; it was impossible to suddenly become stronger. If the various factions had known how powerful Great Qin would have become, they would have destroyed it much earlier and not have allowed it to remain until now.

Before, the Contract that the Night Dynasty had suggested was a load of rubbish. Now, almost everyone understood how ambitious the Night Dynasty was.

All of this had been part of the Night Dynasty's plot to expand; the demise of the three factions was proof of this.

In just a few days, the Night Dynasty had grown significantly, and if they gave it more time, things would become even worse. They could not allow the Night Dynasty to continue to develop, or else they would turn out like those factions as well.

The factions did not accept the Night Dynasty's expressions of its goodwill, and the Night Dynasty started to send out ambassadors bearing gifts, hoping to ease the tension.

Some people directly threw the gifts away and even killed the ambassadors; their attitudes were incredibly harsh. Others shamelessly accepted the gifts and sent the ambassadors back, but they still supported allying against the Night Dynasty.

Everyone's attitudes towards the Night Dynasty were quite resolute, and this included the most powerful factions in the Southern Continent. Many people were going around telling system factions and player factions of the threat of the Night Dynasty, making it seem incredibly dangerous.

They said that the Night Dynasty could devour the entire Southern Continent in ten or so days. When that time came, everyone would die, so they should destroy it while it was not that powerful yet. They could not afford to miss this opportunity.

Some people said that the Night Dynasty was already controlled by a mysterious faction and that the Night Dynasty was not the same anymore. For the safety of the Dark Demon race, they should destroy it.

The Night Dynasty's strength was simply too powerful now. Cries for the Night Dynasty to be destroyed became greater and greater, and more and more people allied together.

Facing this, the Night Dynasty once again offered to sign a Contract, promising that both sides would not fight. Moreover, this Contract would last forever and would be of the highest grade, guaranteeing its effectiveness.

Zhao Fu had already decided to use Great Qin to destroy them, so he naturally would not need the Night Dynasty to fight.

The various factions were quite surprised; they had never thought that the Night Dynasty would be so willing to compromise. Signing a Contract would be quite good, as they would be able to obtain benefits without any deaths or injuries.

Now that the allied factions were much stronger and the Night Dynasty had asked to sign a Contract, the allied factions relied on their power to raise all sorts of demands.

The first was for the Night Dynasty to hand over one-third of the people they had obtained this time, the second was to hand over half of the Cities, the third was to give all sorts of resources and a portion of the regions to them, the fourth was to pay tribute in treasures every year, and the fifth was to hand over Mo Yao'Er to be everyone's pet.

The allied factions had given this much thought. They did not lack people or resources, so they had not asked for too much; they mainly wanted the Cities and regions. However, these things were things that the Night Dynasty had spent a lot of effort to obtain, and now, they were directly asking for half.

Moreover, the yearly tribute was simply to humiliate the Night Dynasty because only those who submitted to the more powerful would pay tribute.

The factions that had wanted to attack the Night Dynasty before could only hold back because it was too powerful, but now that many others wanted to attack the Night Dynasty, they took this opportunity to take revenge.

The fifth demand was purely to satisfy the lust of many of the men. Mo Yao'Er's beautiful looks, as well as her bewitching aura, made countless men obsessed with her. They had desired her for a long time, so they wanted Mao Yao'Er to become their slave to play with every day.

The Night Dynasty did not respond, and following this, the allied factions started to attack. In total, they had over 10,000 City Lords.

Chapter 994: Arrival of the Army

10,000 or so City Lords and their soldiers would be able to easily crush the Night Dynasty. With that kind of strength, the Night Dynasty either had to sign the humiliating Contract or be destroyed; there was no need for discussions.

After all, whether or not the Night Dynasty would be destroyed was up to them. If they wanted it to be destroyed, it would be destroyed; if they did not want it to be destroyed, it would not be destroyed. It was all up to how they felt, and the Night Dynasty did not have the power to decide for itself. In front of such a powerful force, all objections were futile, and there was no way to retaliate.

The factions had thought that the Night Dynasty would submit and hand over those regions, Cities, resources, and the bewitching Mo Yao'Er, but it had not responded at all.

The allied factions felt quite furious; even now, the Night Dynasty dared to look down on them. They gathered their 10,000 City Lords and 600 million soldiers and went to attack the Night

Dynasty. Since the Night Dynasty was not willing to give those things over, they would take all of it for themselves. Those things would still belong to them.

The matters in the Southern Continent shook the entire Dark Demon world. This was the first time so many people had been gathered to attack a faction.

Now that the Night Dynasty had continuously devoured three top-tier factions, its strength now surpassed the Demon Heaven Sect.

The Demon Heaven Sect had been the number one Sect in the Dark Demon world. Whether it was in the real world or in the Heaven Awaken World, it had always been number one since ancient times. It had 5,000 years of history and had an incredibly powerful foundation.

It was only because of this that the Demon Heaven Sect had been able to birth a World Protector; they had all the advantages.

Right now, the Demon Heaven Sect only had around 2,000 City Lords, while the Night Dynasty now had 3,000. This kind of growth caused the Demon Heaven Sect to feel incredibly shocked.

The Demon Heaven Sect was still gradually developing because there were simply too many top-tier factions in their Continent. If they developed too quickly, they would become like the Night Dynasty and be suppressed by countless factions. As such, they had slowly and steadily developed.

However, the Night Dynasty seemed to disregard all of this and recklessly devoured everything around it. Now that it was being suppressed, it had received its dues.

The other Continents watched on in amusement. The Night Dynasty had no chance of victory facing such a powerful alliance. The difference in their military strength was simply too great.

However, they still hoped that the Night Dynasty would be destroyed. After all, the Demon Heaven Sect did not accept the Night Dynasty suddenly becoming the largest faction in the Dark Demon world. The Night Dynasty should be wiped out for this sudden rise, and this would mean one less threat in the future.

However, it was a pity that they were in different Continents, so they could not attack. Otherwise, they would also participate in pillaging the Night Dynasty.

Within the most powerful Continent, the Eastern Continent, the Legatees discussed this matter with great interest. They felt quite disdainful towards the Night Dynasty and felt that it lacked a proper foundation and did not have the strength to compete with them.

They felt that the Night Dynasty being destroyed by the alliance was only right. Ye Cang was simply too arrogant and had never thought about the bigger picture. He had only been focused on greedily devouring, resulting in the other factions allying together against it. That was extremely foolish.

If they had immediately reduced their threat after devouring the Demon Path Sect and slowly solidified their forces before dealing with another faction, they would not have attracted so much hostility. After all, everyone was involved in their own battles, and not everyone would turn their attention to the Night Dynasty. By that time, other factions' strength would have increased as well, and the Night Dynasty would not be as much of a threat.

The Night Dynasty being destroyed was now essentially set in stone. In their eyes, Ye Cang was simply too overconfident and foolish. They had never cared about the Night Dynasty; their true opponent was the Demon Heaven Sect.

However, Mo Qi had come back with injuries so severe that he was nearly dead; they wondered what had happened. As their world's World Protector, Mo Qi was incredibly powerful, so just who had been able to wound him to such a degree?

After fighting with the human world's World Protector last time, he had also been severely injured. He had only recovered after a few months of recovering, and this time his wounds were even heavier.

It was possible that the person who had wounded Mo Qi this time was even more powerful than Great Qin's Legatee. Just what sort of existence was this? It was a pity that they had no information on this.

To them, the outside world was simply too dangerous; even their powerful World Protector had been injured so heavily. There were simply too many terrifying people; there were demon-level geniuses everywhere, making them feel less confident.

Even though they were geniuses in the Dark Demon world and stood above billions of people, those were true demon-level geniuses. In front of them, the geniuses of the Dark Demon world people were nothing.

As the various factions watched on, the allied factions started to attack.

The Night Dynasty was now in panic because this was a true calamity. Their Night Dynasty was most likely finished, and they would all die.

“What do we do? How can our Night Dynasty withstand such a powerful force?” Countless residents hoped that the higher-ups would have some solutions. They did not want to die, nor did they want the Night Dynasty to perish. Only the higher-ups could resolve this, and the residents could not do anything about it.

Facing the army, the Night Dynasty’s higher-ups’ expressions were quite grim because they clearly knew that the Night Dynasty’s strength could not withstand this allied force. It was quite likely that the Night Dynasty was doomed this time.

What could they do? Facing such power, anything would be useless. They all felt incredibly worried and felt just as bad as the ordinary residents. They were filled with terror and helplessness.

The Night Dynasty’s higher-ups quickly met together to discuss this matter. If they could not find some way to deal with this, the Night Dynasty really would be doomed.

However, no one had any good ideas. Facing such a powerful force, they would definitely lose.

Some people could not help but suggest, “How about we accept those people’s conditions and give up the regions and Cities? Otherwise, our Night Dynasty will be destroyed.”

“I feel the same; the Night Dynasty’s strength really is not enough to stop them. The most important thing is to preserve the Night Dynasty. We’ll just have to endure this for a while; we’ll have more chances in the future.”

“Ai, what can we do except accept their conditions? I can’t think of any way that we can withstand them. If it was just giving up regions and Cities, that would not be such a big problem because we can obtain more in the future. But they also want tributes and women; this is too humiliating.”

“So what if it’s humiliating? Haven’t you seen that massive army? If we had the strength, I long since would have taken the soldiers to fight. However, we simply can’t beat them. We now have two choices: live in humiliation or die.”

Everyone’s expressions were quite unsightly because they wanted neither of the two choices, but they did not have the strength to defend either. They had no ideas and could only look up at Ye Cang.

Chapter 995: Just Follow My Orders

Ye Cang was the ruler of the Night Dynasty and wielded the most authority. No matter what decision he made, they would have to obey. Only he could deal with this matter; perhaps he had some way of dealing with this crisis.

After all, Ye Cang had that mysterious faction supporting him. Just that mysterious cloaked figure was already obscenely powerful; all of them here could be killed by him without any resistance.

Right now, their only hope was that mysterious faction. However, the key question was whether or not they would be willing to help. If they abandoned the Night Dynasty, the Night Dynasty had no chance at surviving and would be destroyed by the allied factions.

Zhao Fu sat expressionlessly, seemingly lost in his thoughts.

Everyone turned to look at the cloaked figure standing next to him. Everyone felt incredibly cautious around this person because if they carelessly offended him, they would die.

“Owner! I belong to you and will only serve you.” Mo Yao’Er hugged Zhao Fu as she looked slightly worried. She did not want to become the property of someone else.

Those people had actually wanted her as a condition in the Contract, making her want to kill every single one of them. Even though she was willing to be Zhao Fu’s plaything, as he was able to drown her in pleasure, that did not mean she wanted to be with just anyone.

However, even though she was not willing, many people wanted to handed her over in the face of such a grave threat. They just did not say this out loud.

To everyone, giving up one woman to avoid a catastrophe was a good deal. As such, Mo Yao'Er was quite worried.

No one dared to say anything and could only look at Zhao Fu through their peripheral vision, hoping that Zhao Fu or Ye Cang would give an answer.

Mo Yao'Er continued to hug Zhao Fu and did not say anything else, only looking at him with her beautiful eyes as she waited for an answer.

“Don't worry, I won't hand you over,” Zhao Fu thought for a moment before replying, lightly smiling at Mo Yao'Er in his embrace.

“Owner, I knew that you're the best. I'll serve Owner well later,” Mo Yao'Er said shyly as she happily rubbed her chest against Zhao Fu.

Ye Ninghusang inwardly sighed. She could not act like Mo Yao'Er, clinging to Zhao Fu like this in front of other people.

However, hearing his words, Ye Ningshuang was able to relax. Zhao Fu had most likely thought of a solution already, but thinking about how the other side had 10,000 City Lords and 600 million soldiers, Ye Ningshuang could not help but ask, “Do you really have a way to resolve this? Their strength is simply too great this time.”

Zhao Fu nodded seriously and said, “Just follow my orders.”

Everyone present felt quite delighted. With Zhao Fu's help, this situation could naturally be resolved, and they would not have to worry anymore.

Facing such a great crisis, everyone placed Zhao Fu in the most important place, and they even forgot about Ye Cang. They understood that Ye Cang had no way of resolving this crisis; they had to rely on this mysterious cloaked figure.

After such a long time, they felt that that mysterious faction were the ones who were controlling the Night Dynasty; Ye Cang had most likely submitted to them.

However, those were just guesses and they were unsure about what the situation really was like.

Zhao Fu gave out a chain of orders and they all obeyed, setting out to do what Zhao Fu had ordered.

The Night Dynasty's residents started to be mass-relocated, and Void Zones and countless traps were set down.

On the other side, the allied factions shook their surroundings as they gave off an unstoppable aura and gathered near the Night Dynasty's defensive walls.

There were no people at the defensive walls, and the allied factions all laughed. The Night Dynasty had no courage at all and did not even dare to meet with them; they were simply trash.

“With how powerful we are, how could they have the guts to stand up against us? Destroying them will just take a few minutes; I'm sure the Night Dynasty is hiding in their base like a turtle and trembling.”

“Hahaha, this feeling is great. I've long since had enough of the Night Dynasty. Now, it's time to get rid of it.” Everyone felt quite confident and prepared to order their soldiers to get rid of the defensive walls and enter the Night Dynasty's territory.

At that moment, a few people appeared on the walls and shouted, “The Night Dynasty is considering the Contract; please give the Night Dynasty a few days. We will give everyone satisfactory compensation.”

This made the leaders feel quite confused; they had never thought that the Night Dynasty would suddenly ask for mercy; hadn't they just been staying silent and holding onto their pride? Now that they had seen the massive army, they wanted to give in; they were quite contemptible.

A fierce-looking fatty arrogantly laughed and said, “You want to beg for mercy now? It's too late! You want to sign a Contract? I want 80% of the Night Dynasty's Cities, regions, and resources. I'll give you three days to prepare. Also, call out Mo Yao'Er to have some fun with your elders.”

Hearing the fatty's words, many people lewdly laughed. With Mo Yao'Er's bewitching body, everyone wanted to have a turn with her. Just seeing her could make anyone go crazed to have her.

"Don't give them any chances, who knows what will happen. Maybe the Night Dynasty is trying to stall. They might be trying to use those few days to escape somewhere else. If we destroy the Night Dynasty, everything will be ours anyways," a cold-looking young man said.

This young man was from the most powerful faction in the Southern Continent. If it wasn't for the Night Dynasty, his faction would be the most powerful, so he felt threatened by the Night Dynasty.

Hearing these words, everyone felt that they made sense. What was the point in talking about a Contract anymore? They could just directly destroy the Night Dynasty and take everything it had; that would be even better.

"Brothers, continue on and destroy the Night Dynasty. Take all of its women and treasures for yourselves!" The army gave off a massive aura as it domineeringly attacked towards the defensive walls, not placing the Night Dynasty in its eyes at all.

Seeing that their plan had failed, the people on the wall could only retreat.

At the same time, isolation barriers were activated, locking down this region, forcing the factions to stop to destroy them.

Facing these obstacles, the various factions coldly laughed; this was just stalling for time and could not cause any harm to them. In the end, the Night Dynasty would still be destroyed by them. It was impossible to make them retreat.

The only thing to be worried about was the Night Dynasty taking a small portion of its people and running somewhere else. As such, the leaders gave orders to set up isolation barriers around the Night Dynasty's territory to prevent anyone from running away.

After these barriers were set up, everyone could relax. Now, it was impossible for the Night Dynasty to escape.

Rumble...

The army gave off a heaven-shaking aura as they flooded forwards, breaking through the Night Dynasty's defensive lines with unstoppable momentum. However, they still encountered some minor trouble.

Chapter 996: Kill Kill Kill

Sometimes the ground would cave in and sometimes there would be rock slides or torrential rain and snowstorms. These were just some tricks from the Night Dynasty, and with the various factions' strength, they could easily break through all of them.

Five days later, the allied army surrounded the Night Dynasty's final defensive line. All of the people from the Night Dynasty were hidden within seven or eight regions, and they had used those six days to construct a crude defensive line.

Seeing that the Night Dynasty's people had not been able to escape, everyone was incredibly excited and prepared to commit a massive slaughter, take everything from the Night Dynasty, and destroy the entire Night Dynasty.

"Hahaha, get that boy Ye Cang out here and call us granddaddy if he doesn't want to die." that fierce-looking fat man stood in the sky and loudly laughed.

Now that they had surrounded the Night Dynasty, they did not have to worry about them escaping, so the various factions were not in a rush to destroy the Night Dynasty.

Ordinarily, if it wasn't for the fact that they had such a massive alliance, they definitely would not dare to talk to the Night Dynasty like this. Back when the Night Dynasty was the leader of the alliance, they had all been incredibly humble.

"That's right, I heard that that boy Ye Cang has a habit of collecting beauties; every time he destroys a faction, he'll take their pretty women. Now, hand them over so we can play with them," a cruel-looking young man said as he also loudly laughed.

"If you want the women, then we'll take the Cities and resources. Residents of the Night Dynasty, your Night Dynasty is already finished. In front of our power, you can also submit. If you dare to retaliate, we'll kill all of you," a robed middle-aged man said.

“That’s right, residents of the Night Dynasty, you’re all doomed. Since we’re all part of the Southern Continent, if you all kneel and beg for mercy, we’ll give you a way out,” a scholarly long-faced man said.

“Hahaha...” A light laugh suddenly sounded out. Ye Cang did not come out, but a black-cloaked figure stood in the sky. He did not give off any aura as if he was just an ordinary person, but he brought with him an incredibly dangerous feeling.

Zhao Fu did not split his mind to control Ye Cang because he wanted to focus on killing. His terrifying eyes looked at the City Lords and he said disdainfully, “You think 10,000 City Lords and 600 million soldiers is very powerful? How ignorant and foolish. Today will be the day you all die.”

The sudden appearance of the cloaked figure caused everyone to feel quite startled. Why did Ye Cang not come out? Why had this cloaked person appeared instead? They had heard that this person was quite powerful.

However, hearing these arrogant words, they could not help but coldly harrumph and mockingly smile. 10,000 City Lords and 600 million soldiers were not powerful? This was a quarter of the forces in the Southern Continent, and that was enough to destroy any faction.

A round-faced youth could not help but say mockingly, “You seem all high and mighty as if you think you’re really so incredible. Is your Night Dynasty that powerful? Soon, we’re going to slaughter...”

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom...

Before the young man could finish speaking, massive explosions shook the heavens and earth. Powerful auras exploded out, causing the heavens and earth to dim and clouds to dissipate as a terrifying aura flooded out. The entire Dark Demon world sensed those terrifying ripples. People from other Continents’ expressions fell and they looked towards the Southern Continent as they cried out, “Something shocking is going to happen!”

Over at the battlefield, there were 45,000 people giving off powerful auras surrounding the allied City Lords. These people were all, unsurprisingly, City Lords.

This scared the allied City Lords stiff, and their hearts rapidly thumped. How could the Night Dynasty have so many City Lords? Heavens, how was this possible? The City Lords could not believe this and the situation completely exceeded anything they could expect.

Even the Night Dynasty's side was incredibly shocked because not a single City Lord in the sky belonged to the Night Dynasty. All of them were from that mysterious faction.

45,000 City Lords – that mysterious faction was simply too powerful to the point that they could make others despair. However, the Night Dynasty's people were delirious with joy that the Night Dynasty would be preserved and would not be destroyed. Now, it was time for the allied factions to feel terror.

Seeing these 45,000 City Lords, even Mo Yao'Er and Ye Ningshuang, who were quite close with Zhao Fu, felt incredibly shocked. Perhaps Zhao Fu's identity was many times more terrifying than they had expected."

"Roar, roar, roar..." Roars sounded out as massive Wyverns and giants giving off terrifying auras appeared, making the creatures in the surrounding thousands of kilometres feel terror. There were about 7,500 Wyverns and giants.

This made everyone feel even more shocked; they had never expected there to be even more. These Wyverns and giants could all rival the strength of City Lords, and added together, there was now a force equivalent to 50,000 City Lords. This was more than even to strike despair into the hearts of the allied factions.

"Roar, roar, roar..." However, it still was not over. Eight massive roars sounded out, tearing through the skies as eight massive beasts giving off sky-toppling auras appeared in the sky, making it seem as if it was the end of the world.

Everyone in the Dark Demon world, whether it was the Night Dynasty or other factions, everyone felt so scared that their minds went completely blank. This aura exceeded anything they could endure. Let alone the allied factions, these beast would be able to destroy the entire Southern Continent.

It could be said that almost all of Great Qin had moved out, leaving behind only Civil Ministers, some other City Lords, and all of the soldiers to defend.

The various traps and defences were not for the Night Dynasty to escape but to stall for Great Qin to arrive. Great Qin did not have the ability to break through the Heavenly Domain Barrier, so they could only teleport everyone through teleportation channels, which required a lot of time.

Zhao Fu had paid a great price for the Trans-Boundary Teleportation Channel to be able to now send 15 people at a time. Before, it could only send one person at a time.

“Kill!” A massive cyclone blasted out as Zhao Fu released all of his power. He gripped his Clear Sable Sword as he roared and charged at the City Lords.

All of Great Qin’s City Lords obeyed and started to attack the allied City Lords. Explosions boomed throughout the surrounding thousands of kilometers, and a destructive aura continuously spread out as a shocking battle unfolded in the sky.

The Corpse Soul Commanders on the ground were clad in heavy armor and held large shields as they charged at the massive allied army. Bang! Bang! Bang... colliding sounds continuously sounded out as countless people were tossed out like sandbags, causing countless casualties.

The Wyverns flew and danced in the sky, spewing out fire or icy blasts and burning or freezing soldiers to death, while the eight Aquatic Beast Kings also attacked the army.

The Night Dynasty’s 140 million soldiers were abnormally excited and had incredibly high morale as they showed no fear and also rushed at the army ahead.

With Great Qin’s City Lords dealing with the allied City Lords, the Night Dynasty’s City Lords were free to deal with the allied army.

Chapter 997: Desperate Retaliation

Zhao Fu unleashed a massive sword qi vortex in the sky, which sucked in dozens of City Lords. These City Lords were unable to resist at all, and their bodies were instantly obliterated. Blood and flesh flew everywhere, leaving behind dozens of City Lord Seals.

Zhao Fu held his Death Disaster Sword as he turned into a ray of light and freely darted about within the army of City Lords. His sword lights were incredibly sharp, and each time sword lights flashed out, many City Lords were directly split in half. Even activating their defensive barriers was useless.

Now, Zhao Fu's speed at killing was much faster than before. No City Lord could withstand his attacks.

Boom! Boom! Boom...

Facing this crisis, the allied side started to use their Nation Armaments or Sect Armaments, wanting to twist the situation back around.

Seven terrifying auras burst out in the sky, causing clouds to swirl and for the atmosphere to become quite oppressive. The terrifying auras flooded out; these Nation Armaments and Sect Armaments were all quite powerful and were not something that ordinary City Lords could resist.

However, the situation became even worse for them. A roar sounded out as countless traces of demonic qi erupted out as a 100 meter tall Demon Sovereign King appeared, ferociously attacking, while Elise also cruelly smiled as she looked at the City Lords.

Massive General Stars giving off enormous pressure also slowly descended. Their auras created wild gales, and those nearby felt incredible terror. The eight General Stars' auras were not inferior to the seven Armaments' auras at all.

Zhao Fu's gaze fell on a cold-looking young man, who was one of the Legatees of the Southern Continent.

Boom!!

Zhao Fu slashed out with his sword, causing a massive gray sword light containing incredible destructive power to fly towards that young man. The space around trembled as if it could not withstand the power.

The cold-looking young man's expression fell, and he used his Sect Armament to block in front of him. His Sect Armament was a black skeletal arm. It gave off a powerful demonic light as it opened its hand towards the sword light and a black energy barrier appeared.

Bang!

The massive sword light crashed against the energy barrier, causing countless cracks to appear on it. The cold-looking young man's body trembled as blood leaked out of his lips. His expression was quite shocked as he found that even when using the full power of his Sect Armament, he was not a match for this person.

Shing!

A sword hum sounded out as Zhao Fu sent a massive amount of power from the Great Qin Seal into the Death Disaster Sword, causing the light it gave off to become even more powerful. Cold sword qi exploded out, and Zhao Fu rushed towards the cold-looking young man.

The cold-looking young man did not dare to use any ordinary weapons and continued to use his Sect Armament. The black skeletal arm gave off a large amount of demonic qi, which then formed a massive demon. It was half-demon and half-tiger, and it gave off a heaven-shaking roar and rushed towards Zhao Fu.

Boom!!

An enormous explosion sounded out and Zhao Fu disdainfully laughed. He flew towards that massive demon, and the Death Disaster Sword condensed an immense amount of gray sword light.

In just an instant, Zhao Fu shot past the demon, and the gray sword light split it apart at its waist, causing it to dissipate into demonic qi.

Clang, clang, clang...

Zhao Fu continued onwards towards the cold-looking young man, and the golden pupil in his left eye quickly spun as chains shot out from the air towards the skeletal arm and the young man. The young man was a Legatee, and it would not be so easy to kill him directly.

Facing the countless chains, the cold-looking young man looked quite shocked as he continuously slashed out with his sword, sending out terrifying sword lights, while the skeletal arm gave off powerful demonic light, trying to stop the chains.

However, there were simply too many chains, and each one of them contained immense force. Finally, both the skeletal arm and the cold-looking young man were wrapped up in chains. The black skeletal arm was forcefully suppressed and put into Zhao Fu's Disaster King Ring, while the cold-looking young man was also sealed. After dealing with this Legatee, Zhao Fu turned to attack others.

On the ground, the eight Aquatic Beast Kings gave off world-destroying power as they ferociously attacked the army in front of them.

Chi, chi, chi...

The Sift Metal Stingray created a metallic wind storm that covered dozens of kilometers as it rushed towards the army. The wind storm seemed to be filled with countless sharp knives, reducing countless people to bits of flesh. As it flew past, millions of people were shredded to pieces by the wind storm, creating a gory scene.

Bang! Bang! Bang...

The Earthwater Dragon Tortoise created tens of thousands of water orbs in an instant, each one of them two meters wide. They gave off shocking auras as they flew towards the army, blasting people apart.

Swish, swish, swish...

The Three Soul Great Snake rose up its body and opened its enormous mouth, shooting out countless rays of black light. The black rays of light were incredibly terrifying, silently piercing through crowds of people and killing innumerable people.

“Roar!!” The Netherocean Demon Whale roared as it opened its humongous mouth and gave off a shocking suction force. Countless people were dragged into its mouth, unable to resist at all, and it swallowed them whole. The Netherocean Demon Whale’s stomach seemed to contain another dimension; even after eating hundreds of thousands of people, it was still not full.

The army desperately retaliated against the eight Aquatic Beast Kings, but the ordinary Stage 1 soldiers were unable to injure them at all. Whenever they shot out arrows, they would be blocked just by their auras alone. The arrows shot out by Stage 2 soldiers bounced off as if they were hitting tough metal, unable to harm the Aquatic Beast Kings.

On the other side, the Wyverns used their aerial advantage to continuously send down flames and icy blasts, burning or freezing soldiers. The armored Corpse Soul Commanders held their heavy shields as they continuously charged about.

The Night Dynasty's City Lords spread out, launching various attacks from the sky. Explosions continuously sounded out as terrifying lights devoured everything, and the Night Dynasty City Lords massacred the allied soldiers.

The different attacks caused the allied army to fall into complete chaos. They were unable to get into formation at all, and they continuously cried out and died, causing their morale to plummet.

On the other hand, the Night Dynasty's army was in perfect formation with the Shieldbearers at the front, Infantrymen with spears behind, and Archers in the back. Just like that, they attacked the enemy army in an orderly fashion.

Whether they were the City Lords above or the soldiers below, the allied army was being continuously whittled away.

"Arghh!" A cry sounded out as a Dynasty Legatee with a Nation Armament was cut into pieces by Zhao Fu. His broken body and blood fell to the ground, and Zhao Fu put away his City Lord Seal and Nation Armament.

"I surrender!" Seeing the City Lords around him continuously dying, one of the allied City Lords could not take the terror anymore and cried out.

Out of the 10,000 allied City Lords, around 6,000 had died, and the remaining ones were completely surrounded, unable to break out of the encirclement.

Chapter 998: Annihilation

Corpses covered the ground, and almost all of them were from the allied army. Out of the 600 million soldiers, only 200 million remained, and they were being quickly killed. Blood dyed the ground red as far as the eye could see, and the stench of blood was incredibly strong. Even the blue sky seemed to be dyed blood-red.

If they did not surrender, they would all die here. Facing the Night Dynasty's encirclement, as well as their oppressive strength, none of them were able to escape.

Everyone understood this and felt incredibly discouraged. They were completely doomed and had no chance at victory. They did not expect this at all; how could the Night Dynasty have so many City Lords, Wyverns, and giants?

They had completely lost, and if it wasn't for these things, they would have long since destroyed the Night Dynasty.

They had heard that the Night Dynasty had the support of a mysterious faction, but that mysterious faction was simply too powerful. It had the power to sweep across an entire Continent, and after personally seeing this terrifying power, they could not help but feel fearful and admit that they were far inferior.

They wondered what the true strength of that mysterious faction was like. They did not even know if the mysterious faction had used all of its strength while helping the Night Dynasty this time.

However, they heard that the mysterious faction came from outside, and it was a large faction in the Heaven Awaken World. Its true strength definitely was not just this and could be dozens of times more powerful. If that was the case, the Dark Demon world was in danger.

The remaining allied forces rationally chose to surrender, and Zhao Fu accepted their surrender.

Now that the City Lords had surrendered, the soldiers below also followed in suit. They put down their weapons and obediently knelt and submitted to the Night Dynasty.

The Night Dynasty's people happily and excitedly cheered. This crisis had been a life or death matter for them, but they had survived and not been destroyed. They were simply too happy.

Moreover, they had completely annihilated the allied forces while suffering only small losses. This was one of the Night Dynasty's biggest victories.

Of course, they were incredibly grateful to the mysterious faction. If it wasn't for them, the Night Dynasty would not have been able to defend at all. At the same time, they were completely shocked as to how powerful this mysterious faction was, and they were curious about what the true identity of that faction was.

“Your Majesty, the City Lords and soldiers have all submitted. What should our next step be?” Bai Qi respectfully enquired of Zhao Fu after ordering Great Qin’s people to take care of the situation.

Zhao Fu nodded and said, “Prepare to attack the rest of the Southern Continent!”

Only by using Great Qin’s power would they be able to resist an allied force. Once Great Qin’s strength was leaked, the Night Dynasty would be viewed with even more hostility, and there would be even more people allying together to attack the Night Dynasty. As such, there was no point in hiding anything, and it would be better to directly unify the Southern Continent.

They would occupy one of the Continents as their base and resist the three other Continents while also quickly increasing Great Qin’s overall strength.

This was Zhao Fu’s goal. Originally, Zhao Fu had not wanted to do this because the risks and pressure were quite great. For example, almost all of Great Qin’s forces were here, leaving behind only the Civil Ministers, some City Lords, and the soldiers in the human world. It was an incredibly weak force.

If the human world knew that Great Qin had moved out to attack the Dark Demon world, they would instantly attack Great Qin, resulting in heavy losses for Great Qin.

After all, most of Great Qin’s top-tier forces were in the Dark Demon world and did not have any way to quickly return. By the time their main force returned to the human world, it would be too late.

“Yes, Your Majesty!” Bai Qi replied before immediately leaving to give out commands. Great Qin’s City Lords obeyed their orders, quickly flying away.

The Wyverns circled around in the sky, and after receiving their orders, they also created large gales as they flew ahead.

The 100 meter tall Corpse Soul Commanders dressed in heavy armor and holding large shields marched forwards, their footsteps like thunder.

The eight Aquatic Beast Kings looked quite excited. They loved the feeling of massive slaughter like this and had not had enough yet. Hearing that they were going to advance, they roared in joy and gave off terrifying auras as they advanced.

The City Lords, Wyverns, Corpse Soul Commanders, and eight Aquatic Beast Kings all advanced together. This scene was incredibly awe-inspiring and quite rare. They gave off a horrifying aura that seemed to shake the entire world, and no one could stop them.

At first, the Night Dynasty's people did not understand what was happening, but after receiving the order to fight, they understood in shock that the mysterious faction wanted to unify the Southern Continent.

Unifying the Continent! This was something that they did not even dare to think about because it was even more difficult than scaling the heavens. They definitely would not be able to do such a thing; to be able to establish a Kingdom would already make them feel quite satisfied.

Hearing that the mysterious faction wanted to unify the Southern Continent, this completely exceeded anything they could imagine, but they also felt incredibly excited. After all, no one in the Dark Demon world could do this. If the Night Dynasty could accomplish this, their names would be recorded in history forever.

“Kill!” A mighty flood surged forwards, their auras as fierce as tigers as they devoured everything in their path.

First were the nearest factions. However, most of these people had joined the alliance, so many of them were already dead or had already surrendered. There were only residents and some soldiers left in those Cities.

There would be no obstacles in taking down those Cities. For the Cities that had lost their City Lords, most people hurried to run away. All that the Great Qin had to do was bring the City Lord Seals and take over the Cities. The surrendered Cities were also taken over easily without any problems.

Large numbers of people ran, and the entire Southern Continent fell into chaos. Most ordinary people did not know what had happened, and seeing the countless people running away, they felt quite curious as to what had happened.

They soon found out that the allied army had suffered a crushing loss and that the Night Dynasty was starting to rampage through regions, continuously conquering Cities and killing all who resisted. They were forced to escape for their lives.

Everyone was incredibly shocked; no one had expected the Night Dynasty to win. Despite having so many people, the allied army had still lost. Just how terrifying was the Night Dynasty's strength?

After the other factions in the Southern Continent heard about this, their expressions fell, and they hurriedly decided to discuss how to face the Night Dynasty. However, they were too late – the Night Dynasty easily took over those regions and Cities and began a full assault.

City Lords giving off powerful auras appeared above Cities. They did not say anything and directly attacked City Halls without any fear.

Wyverns roared in the sky, creating large gales. Flames and icy blasts descended, sending houses ablaze and freezing terrified residents.

The massive Corpse Soul Commanders leapt over City Walls and entered the Cities, swinging their heavy weapons, such as large axes, hammers, and staffs, madly destroying everything in front of them.

Chapter 999: Unifying the Southern Continent

The various Cities were all in chaos and shouting, crying and wailing filled the air. Countless people ran about in terror, and facing the incoming Night Dynasty, they had no strength to retaliate.

The eight Aquatic Beast Kings each happily took a City for themselves and started rampaging. After killing everyone and destroying the City, they would devour the City Creation Stone and move onto the next City.

Cities were conquered incredibly quickly, and countless people died in terror. Corpses filled the Cities, and the smell of blood continuously spread. The number of deaths continuously rose, and it was the largest catastrophe in the Dark Demon world.

Because of how much killing there was, the bloody qi filled the sky, dyeing the sky blood-red. The austere and savage killing aura continuously pushed onwards.

Great Qin's forces took down Cities while the Night Dynasty's soldiers were responsible for taking in the surrendered people. More and more regions were conquered, and more and more captives were taken, and the Night Dynasty's overall strength quickly rose.

Soon, more than half of the Southern Continent had fallen. With those regions taken over by Great Qin, the remaining factions quickly gathered together to attempt to resist.

This alliance gathered in the Black Demon region, and they prepared to fight to the death with Great Qin in order to put an end to its unstoppable momentum.

Facing this force, Great Qin showed no fear at all. It brought the surrendered City Lords and soldiers towards the Black Demon region and gathered there. This was the Southern Continent's final bit of resistance, and Zhao Fu wanted to get rid of them decisively before unifying the Southern Continent. This would prevent anything unexpected from happening.

The two armies gathered in the Black Demon region, and the austere aura caused the entire Black Demon region to seem to freeze. Countless beasts madly ran because the auras from the two armies were simply too horrifying.

As they clashed, the Southern Continent side was dumbfounded. The Night Dynasty now had over 60,000 City Lords on their side, and their army numbered over 800 million.

Most of them were surrendered City Lords and soldiers. Because they were in a rush, they were immediately sent into battle. At the same time, they offered them many benefits to solidify their loyalty, and Great Qin led them to gather here.

On the other hand, the Southern Continent side had barely 9,000 City Lords and 400 million soldiers. They were completely inferior to the Night Dynasty's forces.

“Charge!!” After seeing this army, the Night Dynasty's forces did not say anything and directly gave the order to charge. The army flooded forwards like a tsunami, giving off an aura that made it seem like it could destroy anything.

This shocking aura caused many of the Southern Continent's soldiers' bodies to freeze, feeling only terror in their hearts. The other side was simply too strong, and they felt incredibly helpless.

After seeing the army that had swept across the entire Southern Continent, the resisting City Lords felt incredibly shocked. They far exceeded anything that they had expected, and even though they had heard that this force was immensely powerful, they did not know any precise numbers. They had never thought that the Night Dynasty would become so powerful.

They had 9,000 City Lords and 400 million soldiers, while they had to face 60,000 or so City Lords and 800 million soldiers. This did not even include the Wyverns flying in the air, that group of ferocious giants, or the incredibly monstrous massive beasts.

How could they even fight? Facing such a powerful faction, even an idiot knew that they were doomed to lose without even a trace of hope. Now, they could only run; otherwise, they would not even have a chance to run later. They would all die here.

Seeing that the Night Dynasty had such horrifying power, the Southern Continent army lost all courage and immediately retreated. Most City Lords quickly flew away, and only a small portion of the City Lords chose to resolutely defend, but they were massacred in a matter of moments. Great Qin continued to chase down the retreating army.

In just a few hours, the Southern Continent army had been destroyed, and only one-third of them were able to run back to their own regions. The remaining two-thirds had either been killed or had submitted to Great Qin.

That was the Southern Continent's final bit of resistance, which had been crushed by Great Qin as well. Great Qin could now freely go through the entire Southern Continent and continue clearing out and conquering regions. The Dark Demon people in their way all knelt in terror and submitted.

Now that the Southern Continent had fallen, a large number of people ran to other Continents, and after hearing this news from their mouths, the entire Dark Demon world was shaken.

The various factions had been waiting to watch a good show and for the allied army to destroy the Night Dynasty, that immense threat.

What had happened completely went against all of their expectations; none of them could have predicted such a thing.

The ordinary people had even less of an idea about this. They had no idea about what was going on in the Southern Continent. They did not know about the allied army attacking the Night Dynasty and went about their lives as normal. Only after meeting refugees from the Southern Continent did they hear about this shocking news.

Not only did the Night Dynasty defeat the allied army, but it also conquered the entire Southern Continent. This news made them feel so shocked that they could not speak; it completely exceeded anything they could imagine.

Even the strongest faction in the Dark Demon world had never dared to try to unify a Continent. After all, it was simply too difficult, and the resistance would be too great. Before they could unify the Continent, they would be destroyed by other factions.

Now that the Night Dynasty had accomplished this impossible task, it now possessed one of the four Continents of the Dark Demon world. It could be said that one-quarter of the Dark Demon world now belonged to the Night Dynasty.

This news was simply too shocking. It was a faction that only had a few hundred regions, but it had suddenly expanded and conquered the entire Southern Continent.

The Eastern Continent's Legatees were shaken by this matter as well. How could the Night Dynasty have such immense strength? How could the Southern Continent have been conquered so easily? With this sort of momentum, who could stop the Night Dynasty? It seemed like it was on the way to unify the entire world.

The three other Continents were all incredibly panicked, and countless factions launched emergency meetings to discuss how to deal with the terrifying Night Dynasty. They had to band together or else everyone would die. That was how terrifying the Night Dynasty was.

The Eastern Continent's Demon Heaven Sect also took this matter seriously. Even though Mo Qi was heavily injured and still recovering, they sent many Elders to participate in the meetings.

The Night Dynasty made it so that the entire Dark Demon world could not feel at ease. Countless factions were shaken, and everyone lived in fear of the Night Dynasty. Now, the Night Dynasty was still devouring the remaining bits of the Southern Continent, and everyone was quite worried that it would turn on the other Continents once it was done.

Chapter 1000: Western Continent

The information about the matter in the Southern Continent was soon delivered to the various faction on other Continents, and they realized just what had happened; why the allied army had been defeated and why the Night Dynasty had suddenly exploded out with the power to unify a Continent.

So it was because of that mysterious faction supporting them; back then, a few Legatees had clashed with someone from that mysterious faction before.

It was where the eight Aquatic Beast Kings had been sealed – they had wanted to break the seal but had nearly suffered a backlash from the seal. The feeling that the mysterious cloaked figure gave them was incredibly terrifying, making it so that they did not even dare to attack him.

Back then, the mysterious figure had arrogantly spoken, telling the entire Dark Demon world to watch themselves and not offend the Night Dynasty, or else they would bear the consequences.

Moreover, the 800 City Lords and countless Wyverns that had destroyed the Vile Dynasty were merely just a small team. If even a small team could destroy the Vile Dynasty like this, just how terrifying would the entire organisation be?

That small team's power had been immense, boosting the Night Dynasty's position from one of the weaker factions to becoming the number one faction in the Southern Continent. Everyone became incredibly alert, worried that the mysterious organisation would make a move against them.

However, despite the Vile Dynasty being destroyed for so long, that mysterious organization did not do anything else, and the Night Dynasty humbly developed at a speed slower than theirs.

From the information they had received, that mysterious organisation seemed to have disappeared, and without it helping the Night Dynasty, they did not care about the Night Dynasty at all. After such a long time, they paid less and less attention to the existence of the Night Dynasty.

It was only when the Night Dynasty suddenly devoured three top-tier factions, resulting in them being allied against by the entire Southern Continent, that they had once again noticed the Night Dynasty.

There was another reason – back then, 800 City Lords was a powerful force, but now it could only be considered ordinary. Which top-tier faction did not have a few hundred City Lords now? Almost all top-tier factions were like this.

As such, they did not place too much focus on that mysterious organization, and they had thought that the Night Dynasty would not have much power to resist and would be destroyed by the allied army. This would be a good opportunity to get rid of that threat.

However, the mysterious organisation had once again acted, suddenly destroying the allied army and taking over the Southern Continent – this was simply too shocking. They never expected that the mysterious organization would be so monstrous.

It seemed that the 800 City Lords from last time really were just a small team and that the immense power they had just shown might not even be their full strength. That mysterious organization's strength was simply unfathomable.

What should they do now? Many factions hurriedly gathered together to discuss this. If they could not think of a way to deal with this, they would all be in danger.

Some people suggested to gather all of the power in the remaining three Continents. Even if that mysterious organisation was unimaginably powerful, they could not just give up like this; even if they all died, they had to fight to the death.

Others said that the matter in the Southern Continent had nothing to do with them; it was all because the factions in the Southern Continent had wanted to destroy the Night Dynasty, resulting in the mysterious organisation acting. If they maintained their neutrality, it was possible that the mysterious organisation would not do anything after devouring the Southern Continent. After all, that mysterious organization had such immense power, so why did it wait until now to act? It must have been because those people had enraged it. However, just to take precautions, it might still be good to form an allied army to defend.

Other people suggested having a truce with the mysterious organization. Since the Southern Continent had already been taken over by them, they might as well just let them have it. As long as their Continents could survive, that would be enough.

Everyone had different opinions and made various suggestions, making it difficult to make a decision quickly.

“Your Majesty, the Southern Continent has been fully conquered; we are now picking up the pieces,” Bai Qi respectfully bowed as he reported to Zhao Fu.

Zhao Fu smiled in satisfaction; Great Qin had obtained another Continent. If they could completely devour it, Great Qin’s overall strength would go up by another level.

At the same time, even though they had not fully calculated their gains from conquering the Southern Continent, they would definitely be quite great and could cause Zhao Fu to be ecstatic.

At that moment, Zhao Fu received some news about the other Continents, and after thinking about it, he said, “Quickly clear out the battlefields and head to the Western Continent as quickly and ferociously as possible.”

“Yes, Your Majesty!” Bai Qi thought about it and understood Zhao Fu’s intentions. He smiled and went to carry out his orders, and soon, Great Qin’s forces attacked the Western Continent.

Immediately, the Dark Demon world’s Western Continent heard about this and became incredibly panicked. Everyone hurriedly headed over, worried that the mysterious organisation would destroy them as well.

The two other Continents were incredibly shocked as well. The mysterious organisation had just devoured the Southern Continent, yet it was not satisfied and wanted to devour the Western Continent too. This appetite was simply too great; being too greedy could make one burst from being too full!

The thing that everyone was most worried about happened in the end, and now, they had to quickly act. Otherwise, they felt that the entire Dark Demon world was going to fall. That mysterious organization was simply too ambitious. If they truly wanted to take over the Dark Demon world, they would have to fight to the death.

Under such a massive threat, everyone in the Dark Demon world was incredibly worried. They had never thought that the operation to destroy the Night Dynasty would suddenly drag in the entire world and cause the world to fall into a crisis. This was too shocking.

Countless Dark Demon people hurried over to the Western Continent. This time, they had to stop the mysterious organisation. If it destroyed the Western Continent as well, the remaining two Continents would be doomed.

When that time came, they would either die or submit to the Night Dynasty. After all, the relationship between the Night Dynasty and the mysterious organization was quite unclear. It was possible that the Night Dynasty would unify the Dark Demon world and become the only Dynasty in the Dark Demon world.

If that happened, the Dark Demon world would completely belong to the Night Dynasty, and they would not have a chance. They would only be able to prostrate themselves at the Night Dynasty's feet; with their noble and arrogant personalities, how could they be willing to do such a thing?

The situation in the Dark Demon world became quite tense. Even the ordinary residents paid a great deal of attention to this because this concerned their lives as well. Some ordinary people started to feel quite afraid, hoping that they would not be destroyed by the Night Dynasty.

By now, Great Qin had led its army into the Western Continent, giving off an aura as massive as an ocean's as they swept across regions. They were completely unstoppable, and in just a few moments, they had conquered hundreds of regions.

The people from the other Continents quickly arrived, and soon, the two armies officially clashed.
