

The Nameless 77

Chapter 77

“Thirdly, I have awakened Madeleine’s constitution to 100%. I guarantee that your Sapientia God Clan doesn’t have that capability and thus has no one with comparable talent to her. As such, having a wife who will soon be the leader of a God Clan sounds pretty amazing to me, doesn’t it to you?” Dyon grinned.

Although Madeleine was slightly sad when she thought of how many dangers Dyon would soon face without her, she steeled her resolve. She didn’t know a lot about the Celestial Deer Clan, but what she did know was that for an Ancient God Level Clan like them to be destroyed, their enemies must have been powerful. If she could help Dyon by becoming an influential figure in the Sapientia God Clan, she would do it.

“100%...” The elder stared at Dyon in shock.

Although she knew the pill Dyon had given to Madeleine was extraordinary, she also knew that it was near impossible to awaken 100% of a God level body, especially one in the top 10, let alone top three.

This couldn’t be explained by it being a pill from the dead sect because pills lose potency over time. There’s no way they would be as effective. The elder’s burning gaze increased.

“Fourthly, I know the Sapientia clan will no longer dare bully her. Although before Madeleine was a genius, she is incomparable to before. The Sapientia clan wouldn’t use her as a pawn as they’d want to keep her within the clan.

“The fifth reason is because if an elder of your standing and power is willing to spend so many years as a servant just to watch over her, it must mean you care deeply for my Madeleine. So, I can trust you.”

The elder nodded, “It seems like you’ve got this all figured out.”

But then the elder froze as words shrouded in Dyon’s will of wind floated to her ears.

“After the legacy world opening, it is likely there will be a major war. The Storm family is actually a defected branch of the Ragnor God Clan and have a blood sacrifice technique from the Pakal God Clan they plan on using to rise again. I suspect the reason for the early opening of the world is due to sacrificing the lives of many of the students who entered the Elvin World.

“In addition, the Daiyu clan is the source of the technique Akihiko was going to use to drain Madeleine’s potential. Even if they weren’t going to massively benefit from the blood sacrifice technique, they would still attack now that I’ve revealed my connections with the Celestial Deer Clan.

“As you probably know, the Daiyu clan was part of the destruction of the Celestial Deer Clan. In this war, I can only guarantee that the Sicarius family will be here and on my side. I have no way of contacting the Ragnor or Pakal God Clans as a contingency plan, so I tell you all of this only so that you can spread the rumor to them.

“Once the war breaks out. There is no need for you to participate. I have my own plans. I can’t guarantee that either God Clan will appear, so it’s imperative that the news spreads to both. Also, since they’re unlikely to believe it, they won’t mobilize their strongest experts, so there’s a good chance that this won’t end cleanly.

“Just make sure that Madeleine leads a good life while I’m gone. Tell her I’ll see her again at the World Tournament.”

The elder’s eyes widened in shock, ‘Just what is this boy at the center of?...’

The day Dyon had heard Kami speaking to Daiyu, he had already knew that something was brewing. But, he was only even more certain of it when he was healing Ava last night. In Ava’s memories, he learned that her soul was attached to an object. That meant her family was very clear on her condition.

And, after being shocked about the power behind her family, he knew very clearly that they wouldn’t stand for not only losing their young master, but also having their young mistress be heavily injured.

This meant that a clash between the Storm and Sicarius family was inevitable, but, with the variable of the Kami God Clan and the hidden Daiyu clan, Dyon wasn’t sure of which side would be the victor. So, he could only prepare for the worst.

“Oh, and also,” Dyon said out loud, “Don’t believe I won’t one day destroy the Sapientia God Clan if they try to bar me from seeing Madeleine.”

The elder felt a shiver run down her back, but she quickly composed herself.

“There’s no need to worry. With Madeleine’s talent, it’s likely she’ll be able to do whatever she wants. My greatest regret is not being able to protect her back then... will you still acknowledge me as your master little Madeleine?”

Madeleine nodded heavily, tears glistening in her eye, “I know it wasn’t your fault master, you tried your best. But, you’re only one person. I understand the cruelty of the cultivation world.”

“Good, good,” The elder had tears streaming down her beautiful face, “Although I haven’t been much of a master to you, I can tell you that I truly do approve of your choice in partner. It is likely that the Ragnor God Clan might want to force a marriage alliance like they did in the past.”

The elder glanced quickly at Dyon, as though hinting something, “But, I would rather die than allow you to be used as a chess piece again.”

“Mm,” Madeleine nodded, gripping Dyon’s hand, “As far as the Sapientia and Ragnor Clans should be concerned, I’m already a taken woman.”

Dyon smiled, looking into Madeleine’s beautiful eyes. But, it didn’t escape his notice that she mentioned the Ragnor God Clan despite having no idea about the current situation. Dyon could only shake his head, ‘It seems these God Clans are really good at spreading wide ranging pain...’

Dyon looked to the elders, “When does the Legacy World open, elders?”

The Big Sect elders were awakened from their state of shock, “The legacy world opens in just a week. The World Tournament will be in two years.”

“Mm, then Madeleine and I will take our leave. There’s no need to waste time on this tournament then.”

Little Black jumped into Dyon's free arm before diving into his T shirt. Just as Dyon was about to bid farewell to Madeleine's master, he realized she had already vanished.

Not minding too much, Dyon waved his hands and a majestic celestial deer appeared, carrying him and Madeleine on its head.