

The Power 30

Chapter 30 Death

In Huichun Hall, Dr. Chen is attending today.

Seeing Xiao Xun and Xu Liang coming, Dr. Chen rushed out to greet him, "You two, please come inside, what's wrong?"

Xu Liang said with snot and tears, "I just met a doctor, and she diagnosed me with an incurable disease."

Doctor Xiao Chen knew Xu Liang in the past, and he also knew that Xiao Xun and Xu Liang were close. Although Xu Liang was a bit of a dude, but because he worked in the Wucheng Army and Horse Division, he took care of this area and took care of Huichun. Church.

Upon hearing this, Little Doctor Chen was extremely cautious, and hurriedly took the guiding pillow and placed it under Xu Liang's wrist.

He rolled up his sleeves, leaned carefully for a while, and began to wonder if he was not good enough.

After all, how can ordinary doctors casually make the conclusion of "incurable disease"?

Xu Liang felt ashamed when he saw Doctor Chen like this. If a doctor says that he has an incurable disease, it may be a misdiagnosis, but what if there are two people in succession? Are they all misdiagnosed?

Xiao Xun also took it a little seriously, he didn't believe in Xie Zhiwei, he used thread to diagnose pulse and so on, playing tricks, it looked like he was fooling Xu Liang.

But Xu Liang is a weak believer. If he is not allowed to find a doctor he trusts for another consultation, the word "incurable disease" may become his heart disease.

If you are not sick, you will be scared to get sick.

Otherwise, where would Xiao Xun find time to play with him?

But if Dr. Chen also diagnosed an incurable disease, it would be no fun.

"Master Xu, change hands!" Little Doctor Chen dared not neglect.

After changing another hand, Dr. Chen used almost half a cup of tea. Xu Liang was sweating all over, so he withdrew his hand and asked, "Mr. Xu, can you tell me what the doctor said again?" Little one, listen?"

"How can I remember what she said about the pile of book bags that she dropped? It can't be true, right? Could it be that I'm really terminally ill?" The more Xu Liang thought about it, the more frightened he became, and he yelled "My mother", covering his face and crying started to cry.

Xiao Xun has a good memory, he pondered for a moment, and repeated what Xie Zhiwei said word by word, seeing that the smile on Doctor Chen's face couldn't hold back, he realized that it was really the girl who Give it a rinse.

"Young master said, that doctor can still diagnose pulse with silk thread?" Doctor Xiao Chen asked.
"Um."

Xu Liang also noticed something strange at this time, stopped crying, looked at Doctor Chen, his eyes were full of expectation.

"If it is really Huamai, Mr. Xu is really suffering from an incurable disease. Neither of the two young masters is married, so it is no wonder that they have never heard of Huamai."

Xiao Xun had a bad premonition in his heart, Xu Liang asked stupidly, "What's going on with Huamai?"

"The Huamai governs phlegm retention, food stagnation, excessive heat and other syndromes, and also governs pregnancy. If a woman without disease sees a Huamai, it can be judged as pregnancy, which is commonly known as the Ximai."

Doctor Xiao Chen can be sure that this doctor must be teasing the two young masters. Mr. Xu is in good health, and the doctor said, "Shaoyin is moving very much, the Chi pulse is smooth and smooth, and the slippery disease does not dissipate." This is clearly the pulse condition of Ximai.

"Xi Mai?" Xu Liang jumped up. He couldn't understand Hua Mai, so couldn't he understand "Xi Mai"? "She, she, she's really playing tricks on me, okay, little girl Pianzi, I've settled the relationship with her, let's see how I deal with her next time I meet her!"

Xu Liang rolled up his sleeves, impatiently rushing out to get back the scene, but fortunately he was still a little sensible, Xiao Xun was still there, he asked, "Fifth Brother, we can't just let her go like this."

"So, why did you ask her sister to touch porcelain?"

Xiao Xun asked the staff of Huichun Hall to serve tea for the two of them. Xiao Xun picked up the teacup, took a sip slowly, and asked, "Did I ask you to find her sister?"

"Fifth brother, the conscience of heaven and earth, I also want to help fifth brother. She refused to admit that she knows medical skills, so I deliberately forced her to show her skills."

Who would have thought that the girl was too cunning, pretending, and almost scared him to death.

"I want to go to you, I won't go. However, I will put my words here, if you are beaten by her, you are not allowed to find helpers, and you are not allowed to hurt her, otherwise, I will not obey."

"No way, fifth brother, I can't hurt her, how can I get revenge? She didn't show mercy to me, and you saw it today, I was covered in cold sweat, and I would make up for it if I didn't drink two bowls of pigeon red date soup today." not coming back."

Xiao Xun didn't speak, just looked at Xu Liang coolly, Xu Liang couldn't stand it anymore, he cupped his hands and said, "Fifth brother, I admit it to the head office, can't I hide from her in the future?"

Xu Liang's eyes were sharp, he glanced outside, saw the two sisters Xie Zhiwei approaching this way, he hurriedly pulled Xiao Xun up, "Fifth brother, hurry up, hurry up, hide away, I really can't afford to lose this person!"

Let people know that he actually believed in the happy pulse, and even went to Huichun Hall for another diagnosis, so it is better to let him die.

Xiao Xun couldn't afford to lose it either, so without saying a word, he picked up his teacup and went to the inner room of Huichun Hall, telling Doctor Chen, "Don't say we are here."

Little Doctor Chen is not stupid, just now he heard that it was a girl who played tricks on the two young masters, and when he saw the two sisters Xie Zhiwei coming in, he hurriedly greeted them, "The two girls are here to fetch medicine?"

It took only twenty taels of silver to find a medical book from the former dynasty.

After Rong Liulang Bookstore published "Baopuzi Inner Chapter", before it could be sold, Lin'an was attacked. A war burned Rong Liulang's bookshop to clean. It was originally burned, and I thought that this printed copy would also disappear, but unexpectedly, it was found by her.

More importantly, this "Baopuzi Inner Chapter" is exactly the same as the one written by the ancestors of the Cui family. I think I didn't understand it thoroughly.

The joy of getting this book dilutes the depression of being plotted by Xiao Xun just now. Xie Zhiwei is in a good mood, and the two sisters walked in talking and laughing.

Xie Zhiwei handed the proposed prescription to Dr. Chen, "Please follow this prescription."

Xiao Dr. Chen took the prescription and looked at it carefully. The more he looked at it, the more frightened he became.

As the saying goes, medicine is three-point poisonous, but this medicated diet formula has four elements in balance, and has no harm to the human body. It can calm heart palpitations and strengthen lung qi. For some middle-aged and elderly people, it is simply a good prescription for prolonging life.

Little Doctor Chen asked the shop assistants to grab the medicine, and asked cautiously, "Girl, may I ask who wrote this medicinal recipe?"

"Excuse me, do you have any questions?" Xie Zhiwei knew that Huichuntang was opened by a father and son, and this person should be the son at the moment. Lao Tzu, old doctor Chen, was taught by her uncle, and his medical skills and ethics are very good.

"No, no, no, no!" Little Doctor Chen waved his hand quickly, "This medicinal recipe is extremely clever, and the lobelia is even more wonderful. I wonder if Miss can let us borrow this recipe?"

"Prescriptions are originally used to cure diseases and save people. If they can be useful to people, why not?" Xie Zhi smiled.

"Thank you, Miss Gao Yi!" Little Doctor Chen cupped his hands and saluted, "From now on, whenever the girl comes to Huichun Hall to get medicine, it will be free of charge."

"Big sister, there are such good things!"

Xie Zhihui is still a little young, and only saw the benefits given by Dr. Chen, but didn't understand the deep meaning behind Dr. Chen's move. Therefore, he only thought it was good.

Xie Zhi smiled for a moment, noncommittal, just quietly waiting aside.
