

The Power 53

Chapter 53 Homecoming

Xie Zhiwei sighed, knowing that he was thinking about himself, and also knowing that he had to go back to Beijing no matter what. After all, the parents are not around, and the daughter's family should not stay outside for no reason.

Besides, there is still an old lady at home, and if I don't go back, my mother may not be able to bear it.

Xie Zhiwei had no choice but to give up. If Wang Shipu had no skills, he would not be able to be an imperial physician. A simple arrow injury should not be difficult for him. What's more, the prescriptions have been carefully considered by himself. If there are still mistakes, Wang Shipu doesn't have to mess around.

In Lu Yan's mind, it seemed that the three-year-old child was wearing a pair of gold-pinned cloud-red sheepskin boots, a crane cloak in a white fox with a big red feather veil, and a pair of blue-gold and green double rings. With a snow cap on his head, a small face carved with jade, he covered himself with a big sable fur, and said softly, "Big brother, you don't wear too much, you will freeze to death." of."

When the little girl left, she stuffed a purse hanging from her waist and the broken silver in the purse to herself, "I am the eldest girl of the Xie family, elder brother, if you have no money to spend, you can find me. "

Lu Yan looked at Xie Zhiwei, and in a blink of an eye, the little girl had grown so big, but unfortunately, he didn't have that chance to stand in front of her, and that sable fur warmed him all winter.

Xie Zhiwei never thought that when a person is smiling, he can be so beautiful. Xie Zhiwei couldn't help but think of "his face is so beautiful, fragrant and jade-like", and his face burned, and he quickly glanced to the side. Thinking about it, fortunately I was only ten years old, otherwise, it would be too rude.

Lu Yan didn't notice it, he ordered Tangyuan, "You ask Qu Baihu to lead a team to * Miss Xie back."

After Xie Zhiwei came to Zhuangzi, before he had a good time, he encountered Lu Yan being injured, and agreed to go back today, but Xie Jibai was also very playful, and took Xie Mingxi into the mountain, and Xie Zhiwei followed. It was mid-autumn season, Encountered a lot of medicinal herbs along the way, she was greedy to dig, and before she knew it, it was already noon when she came out of the mountain.

Xie Zhiwei took Lu Yan's pulse again, and after confirming that he was fine, the three uncles and nephews set off back.

Qu Chengyu, one of the hundreds of households in Dongchang, led a group of Dongchang fans wearing pointed hats, white leather boots, brown clothes, and small sash, riding tall horses, running back and forth in front of Xie Zhiwei's carriage domineeringly, waving all the way. Whip the dust, gods and ghosts can't get close.

When we arrived at the gate of the city, at sunset, when there were many people, the people who lined up to enter the city and hurried out of the city, saw this scene, and scattered far away, letting out the huge city gate.

Xie Zhiwei opened the curtains and looked outside. It was the first time she encountered such a scene of being shunned like snakes and scorpions, and she had mixed feelings for a while.

Xie Jibai was dumbfounded, saying that Dongchang was domineering and disregarded human life, and it was frightening.

Xie Jibai bit the bullet, surrounded by people from Dongchang, with his head down, riding a horse, passed by two pedestrians, feeling indescribable.

When Qu Chengyu led his men to bring the three of Xie Jibai's uncle and nephew to the door of Xie's house, it was already dark.

The corner doors on the east and west sides were closed tightly, and Xie Jibai sent someone to knock on the door. As a result, the people inside asked and found out that it was Xie Jibai and others, so they said through the door, "The old lady said that only the fourth master can enter the door." When one person enters the house, the eldest girl and the fifth young master don't follow the family rules and stay outside overnight, which is an insult to the lintel, and they have to kneel outside for an hour before they can enter the house."

The door was knocked on by Xie Jibai's boy, named Quhe, who was stunned and thought he was hallucinating, until there was no movement inside, he came back stupidly, and said the exact words verbatim like a dream again.

Xie Jibo suddenly felt a murderous gaze looking at him. He was a frail scholar, facing a group of killers like the king of Hades, he only felt the hairs all over his body stand on end, his body was stiff, and he couldn't even speak smoothly.

"How could it be!" Xie Jibai deeply understood his father's embarrassment at this time, he patted his horse and stepped forward, "Sister Wei, you and Brother Xi wait in the carriage for a while, while Uncle Fourth goes in to talk to the old lady."

"Okay!" Xie Zhiwei agreed, Xie Mingxi went crazy today, and fell asleep in her arms on the way back.

As soon as Xie Jibai entered, he was going to kick the woman guarding the door away, but unexpectedly, a few more women with big arms and round waists were guarding the door, waiting for him.

Forcibly opening the door should be impossible.

Seeing that the situation was not right, Xie Jibai hurried to Chunhui Hall, he walked quickly, at least it took him a cup of tea, and when he arrived at the door, Nanny Jin came out and said that the old lady was not feeling well, she had already rested, and the fourth master was going back and forth I should be tired from this trip, go back to the house and rest, if there is anything, I will talk about it tomorrow.

Is this trying to shut him down?

Xie Jibai wished he could slap Nanny Jin on the face, but instead he calmed down, and said to Nanny Jin, "Go in and tell the old lady, just say that Miss Wei stayed at the Zhuangzi because of the emperor's order. , if you don't want anyone coming to the palace tomorrow, let Sister Wei wait at the door all night."

When Nanny Jin heard this, she couldn't make up her mind, so she hurried in and told the old lady.

The old lady naturally didn't dare to think that her son was lying to her. Who would dare to use the emperor's order as an argument, but she was always unwilling, "The emperor's order, she is a ten-year-old girl, how can she accept the emperor's order? Huh, little girl At her age, she is good at hooking up with people."

After waiting for another cup of tea, the old lady had no choice but to speak out, asking the porter to open the door and welcome people in.

After all, no matter how far Yao Zi escaped, he would never make fun of such things as the imperial order.

The door at the east corner opened slowly, and there were two ferocious women lined up in each row. Xie Zhiwei got out of the car first, took a look inside, and then walked up to Qu Chengyu, and blessed him, "Thank you, Qu Baihu, for the night." Send it off, on the way back, please be very careful."

Qu Chengyu got off his horse hurriedly, cupped his hands to Xie Zhiwei, "Miss Xie saved my governor's life, but I have orders, I will be on standby at any time!"

Qu Chengyu's voice was not low enough for everyone inside the door to hear.

Xie Zhiwei was heartbroken when she heard that, she was just repaying her kindness, "Qu Baihu is serious, no matter who is in such a situation, anyone who has the ability will not stand idly by, Qu Baihu please go first, I will go first!"

The mother-in-law carried Xie Mingxi into the door, and Yuan Shi had already rushed over when she got the news. Seeing the two of them ran to Xie Zhiwei to look up and down, she was relieved, "I scared my mother to death, I thought you two were outside. That's it!"
