

Chapter 1

In the fall of 2015, Elena Xia was sitting on the train, and the train drove from the countryside to Darenvil.

She was sent to the countryside when she was only nine years old, and after spending her life until now in the countryside, she was finally returning today. There is only one reason. The Xia family wanted to marry their daughter to Green Garden.

It was rumoured that the bridegroom in Green Garden was at his death bed. The Xia family had two daughters who were unwilling to marry to this dying man. So the family took her back. The girl who has been fostered in the countryside was asked to rush back for the marriage.

Elena was sitting on the sleeping berth, reading a book in her hand. At this moment, the door is suddenly pushed open, and the cold wind from outside rushed in with an eerily smell of blood.

Elena raised her eyes, and saw a tall and straight body falling in from outside.

Unconscious and unable to wake up.

Soon, few people in black clothing rushed in, "Boss, there is no one now, so let's send him to hell directly."

"Who said no one?" The big-headed Scar Man looked at Elena.

Elena did not expect the burning gaze of this monstrous man to fix at her. The unconscious man who suddenly fell into her carriage has brought her a fatal danger. The Scared man has a strong killing intent in his eyes, and he obviously wanted to kill there seems no doubt in his eyes.

Elena calmly glanced at the weapons in their hands, and quickly begged for mercy, "Don't hurt me, I didn't see anything."

Scar man stepped forward and looked at Elena's small face. She wore a veil on her face, and he couldn't see the real face, but a pair of perly pupils appeared to him from outside.

That reflection in her eyes was extremely bright, and between his eyes and mouth her gaze was swaying, expecting mercy.

Scar Man had never seen such a pair of beautiful eyes before. Her stare anchored a totally different feeling in his stone heart in an instant. In addition, he hadn't touched a woman these days, and he was immediately born with evil thoughts.

"Little beauty, we don't need to hurt you, but you must take care of your brothers."

Elena's slender body trembled, and she uttered pitifully, "I don't want to die, I'm so scared, as long as you don't hurt me, I will take care of you." The girl's soft and gentle begging made the scar man no longer be able to bear it. , Rushed directly to press Elena under his body.

“Boss, lets take care of the matter at hand first, we will send this man on the road to hell and then have a good time together.”

In a cabin full of vulgar laughter and a trembling gentle women. Scar Man put down his weapon and reached out to pull Elena's String of buttons.

But the next second, a small white hand came up.

Scar man raised his head and ran into the girl's bright pupils. Now her pupils receded from panic and weakness, flashing with cold shattered light.

“You!”

Scar man wanted to speak, but Elena raised her hand and pierced a silver needle in her hand into Scar man's head very neatly.

Scar man closed his eyes and fainted to the ground.

“Boss!”

All the men in black were startled and wanted to step forward, but then the man who fell on the ground and lying unconscious opened his eyes suddenly, probing his hand and snatched the weapon from the man in black.

One by one, the men in black all fell to the ground.

It's just too fast to fast to comprehend.

Elena sat up, she had known that this man was pretending to be unconscious, and that the blood on his body belonged to someone else.

Elena raised her eyes to look at the man, and the man was also looking at her. He has a pair of extremely deep and narrow eyes, as sharp as an eagle, and there are two small abysses in the bottom of them. Anyone who looks at him will be sucked into this black hole.

“Master, we are late.” The rescuer arrived and began to clean up the aftermath in an orderly manner. The confidant handed a clean veil to the man.

The man wiped his hands gracefully, and then walked steadily towards the girl until he was standing in front of Elena, her small jaws were pinched by his distinct fingers.

He squinted his narrow eyes and looked at her playfully, his voice was deep and magnetic, "What do you think I would do with you?" The chin was pinched by his thin callus-covered finger pads, and Elena was forced to look up at him. , The man is tall and straight, handsome and extraordinary, and his aura is as strong and cold as the night.

He had wiped his hands just now, but she could still smell the fishy eerily smell and the cold and harsh temper in his expression.

It's hard to get the mind off your body when someone sees in you what he shouldn't.

This man is quite dangerous.

Snapped!

Elena directly knocked down the man's hand, and said with a serious face, "Preposterous, I want to marry the man of Green Garden!"

The girl who is betrothed to the man in Green Garden. it is me.

The man raised his sword eyebrows, a bit interesting, his... bride?

"Are you from Darenvil? Then you should know that the daughter of the Xia family is going to marry into Green Garden. This wedding sensationalizes the whole city. I am the future bride. If something happens to me, do you think you every imagine a trouble like that? Let me go, I didn't see anything, I wouldn't say anything!"

Elena now really wants to thank her stepmother Yuna Li, Yuna is the one took her back to Darenvil, and only let her sit on a cheap train, but this wedding she has organized is an extremely luxurious sensation. A way to win her reputation and recognition.

The daughter of the Xia family will be married into Green Garden. This is the biggest gossip in Darenvil. Elena is betting that this man does not want to get in trouble after she has mentioned the name of the Green Garden.

The man looked at her with interest. Today, he was kidnapped and almost killed by a business opponent. It was an accident that he met this girl.

For a girl who is only 20 years old, although her face is pale and her clothes are messy, her clear and smart eyes are shining brightly.

The man looked back and took his eyes away.

Elena's fingertips tightened and slowly loosened.

At this time, the man in front turned his head faintly, he looked at her, and slowly said under his lip that she could hardly understand, "We will meet soon."

Li Palace Manor, The family wedding is held here.

In the bridal lounge, Yosline Xia looked at her half-sister Elena, "Elena, your mother died at the age of nine, and later you pushed grandpa down the stairs with your own hands. Once it was recognized that you are a cassandra, you were sent to the country by your father. If you have come back to mess up the joy this time, you can only stay in the country for the rest of your life. So be careful about how you handle your affairs toady. You are not the daughter of the Xia family, but a dog of the Xia family!"

Elena sat in front of the dressing table and said lightly, "Who is the dog?"

Yosline sneered, "you are the dog!"

Elena curled her lips. "I know, so you don't have to call me that anymore."

Yosline only then knew that she had been circumvented by Elena. She looked at Elena's bright eyes. She came back wearing a veil all the time, but exposed a pair of eyes only, these eyes make people think that she is a beautiful beauty.

Yosline was so jealous that she couldn't wait to dig down Elena's pair of eyeballs. How could this ditch soil from the countryside be a beautiful woman, so she must be an ugly girl!

"Elena today is an auspicious occasion, what a big day for you!". At this time, Yuan and her husband Zander Xia came in with a group of distinguished guests.

Chapter 2

Yuna is Elena's stepmother. When she was young, she was a popular actress in the entertainment industry. Now she has two daughters and is still well maintained, just like a beautiful young woman with a charming allure.

This Yuna was in no position of what she is now, but she was extremely capable, not only succeeded in suppressing the ex-wife, she became the mistress of the Xia family, and she also used her slick means to become a fan of rich and wealthy wives in no time.

In today's wedding Yuna was very beautiful. Even Elena's wedding dress was customized from Milan. Everyone praised Yuna for her dedicataion and sense of fashion.

Elena pretended not to know anything, only showing her potent shyness. She looked at the door expectantly, "It's the right time, why...the bridegroom didn't come to pick me up?"

As soon as the voice fell on the ears of the stepmother, Yuna's expression changed.

Everyone looked at each other, what's going on, doesn't the bride know that she is going to marry a dying ghost husband?

This wedding is destined to have no groom.

Zander stepped forward, looking a little guilty and dodging, "Elena, today the bridegroom... the bridegroom is a bit unwell, so he won't come. You will have to go to the house yourself."

Elena stagnated, and quickly smiled obediently, "Okay, then I'm leaving."

Elena got into the luxury car alone.

The guests looked at Elena's pretty shadows, and they all said that she was a hick from the countryside, and saw that she was wearing a beautiful wedding dress, her figure was slender and slim, and her temperament was indescribable at that moment.

Moreover, her obedient and docile appearance that she didn't know made everyone sympathize, and everyone looked at Yuna and started pointing and whispering. It's so beautiful on the surface, but it's actually not the angelic stepmother who arranged such a good groom for her step daughter. She wanted to use another daughter to marry instead of her.

Yuna's face became ugly. The wedding was originally completely under her control, but Elena directly turned the situation around and embarrassed her. It seemed that she had underestimated Elena.

However, the future is long, she has some ways to cure her and get even to the satisfaction her damaged ego!

Elena came to Green Garden and entered the new house.

There was no light in the new house, it was pitch black, and the atmosphere was a bit cold.

Elena's pair of black pupils exuded a vigilant and curious light in the darkness. She came to the bed and vaguely saw a man lying on the soft big bed.

This is her husband. Her future, her destiny.

Elena stretched out her hand to give him a pulse.

But in the next second, her slender wrist was clasped by a few slender fingers, and the world turned around, she was already under his body.

Elena was startled and thought that her newlywed husband was a very sick ghost husband, but now the fingers clasped on her bright wrist were strong and he was clearly a very healthy man.

Who is he?

Elena quickly bends her knees and pushes towards his crotch.

But the man was even faster, he easily dodged her attack, bent his knees and pressed her directly so that she could not move.

The action is fast, accurate and ruthless.

“Who are you? Let go of me!”

Elena struggled hard, and the two bodies rubbed each other separated by the thin cloth.

Soon a deep and magnetic voice rang in her ears, “The bride is so passionate, does she want something special tonight?”

“...”

Filthy!

Elena suddenly thought that it could be only her newlywed husband who could appear in this room, it is obvious now that he has no physical problems, and was a strong young man.

At this time, the man’s slender fingers had fallen along her chin onto the buttons of her placket, untying them one by one.

Elena quickly grabbed his big hand, “I haven’t moved anymore, what are you doing?”

“performing the expected duty?”

duty?

At this time, Elena heard a sneaky voice coming from outside the window of this new house, and it was the maid who stopped the Mrs. Lu, “Old lady, this is not good, let’s go back...”

“Hush.” The old lady made a hiss gesture angrily, “I will listen with my ears instead of seeing with my eyes!”

Mrs. Lu was all sticking to the grills on the window and eavesdropping.

Elena wanted to get up to watch the movement of shadows, but Holden Lu pressed her fragrant shoulder with one hand and pushed her back, “Hurry up.”

Elena guessed that he was doing a show for the old lady outside and needed her cooperation, but “I do not know.”

Holden’s deep, narrow eyes were as sharp as a falcon in the darkness. He looked at the girl under him, but at the age of twenty, his eyebrows were twisted slightly, his eyes reserved and shameful.

Holden’s two big hands came to her lap, and pulled out.

what.

Elena only felt her skin cool, her slender arms were in front of her heart making a cross. She was a girl, she exclaimed in fright.

Holden curled his lips, “so you will scream now?”

“...”

Elena raised her eyes, shameless!

Holden put his hands on her side, condescendingly trapped her in his fine arms, and then imitated some extreme movements.

In such a dark room, the big bed creaked by him and filled the room with this unwanted noise, Elena was a girl after all, and her snow-white earlobes were red as if about to catch fire.

“Keep on screaming, or I’ll be furious.” At this moment, he made a low threat.

Elena trembled, she didn’t doubt his words at all, so she closed her eyes and yelled out in cooperation with him.

The Mrs. Lu outside puts her hands together, in extreme appreciation, “Great, my grandson is not, not incompetent, he is going to perform well! May my ancestors bless me, I want to have a great grandson now!”

Mrs. Lu danced happily, and soon left, and went to the ancestral hall to pay her ancestors some words of gratitude.

Elena quickly reached out to push the man on her body, and this time Holden was also very cooperative and let go of her immediately.

With a snap, he turned on the wall lamp.

The radiant dim light was plated down, and Elena sat up, quickly buttoning her shirt, covering her shiny shoulders and milky white muscles with eyes down.

She raised her eyes and looked at the man.

The man had got out of bed, showing a handsome face. He was born very handsome, his facial lines were like natural craftsmanship, and his gestures showed the inherent thinness and indifference and nobleness.

But Elena had no time to admire the handsome face of the man, on the contrary, her pupils shrank slightly, as soon as she dared to look up.

Because of this man's looks.

"It's you!"

He is the man on the train!

He is her new husband!

Elena knew that she was going to marry a dyingly ill man. She had done a lot of preparations, but she never thought it would be him.

On the train that day, she yelled at him, plausibly saying that she was the bride who was married into Green Garden. He must have been laughing at her joke at that time.

Holden's thin lips stretched out an arc of a smile, "Recognize me, I told you, we will meet soon."

There was a bit of playfulness in his eyes, and the butler told him that the Xia family had come to marry a hick from the countryside.

I am married to you, as long as grandma is happy.

What's more, this hick is still the same.

It's just that, is she like this naturally?

He could see with his own eyes how she let the scarred man fall to the cabin floor on the train.

Chapter 3

At this time, a knock on the door sounded, and the housekeeper Freddy's voice came from outside the door, "Master."

Holden slightly lifted his thin lips, "come in."

Freddy pushed in, "Master, grandma...what should I do?"

Holden stood tall by the bed. The man was 1.87 meters tall. He had the simplest white lining and black trousers, but the expensive fabric looked like a handmade version, and he was as long as a jade, and had an outstanding temperament to say the least.

Holden lowered his eyes, flipping the shiny silver button on the sleeve of his shirt skillfully with his fingers. He glanced at Elena carelessly, "You don't know, there are two wolves in the backyard of Green Garden. If you try to be smart... I'll throw you in to feed them?"

Elena's heart tightened. This marriage was ordered by the elders. The four giants in Daredevil, Lu, Gu, Huo and Su families.

The young master of the Lu family covered the sky with only his hands. Legend has it that he is the youngest and most handsome in his generation of business leaders, but no one has seen his true face, which is quite mysterious for all in the city circles.

Green Garden is remote, and it does not appear a wealthy family at first glance. The Xia family had sent people to investigate Green Garden, only to find out that there are two grandparents living in Green Garden, and this grandson is also the ill ghost according to the legends spread across the area.

Yuna's biggest wish is to marry her two daughters into the four giants of Daredevil. As a result, Yuna really wished to open the ancestral graves of the Xia family and ask how and why did the elders book this marriage with a ghost figure?

Yuna didn't want her daughter to marry at all, but Zander had a feudal and filial mind, and was unwilling to violate the marriage contract made by the elders.

She could not sacrifice her daughter to marry, Yuna thought of Elena, so she took her back to marry ill man.

So in Elena's cognition, the man in front of her was definitely not a high-ranking official, but at this moment she was puzzled.

The man in front of her exuded a sense of lofty gaze, showing a sense of coldness and elegance from his bones, just like a king giving orders, and people couldn't help but worship him.

He also raises wolves in the backyard, which is not an entertainment for ordinary people.

Elena wanted to talk, but at this moment the man suddenly put his hands on the table, and he narrowed his handsome eyes, revealing an expression of pain.

The butler's complexion changed drastically, and he quickly said, "Master, I will call the doctor now!"

Elena's bright eyes moved down, and his two big hands resting on the tabletop were already vigorously in motion, as if they were signs of some strange illness.

Is he sick?

Moreover, it is a terrible disease if it is any ailment.

At this time, Elena ran into the man's narrow scarlet eyes. Holden turned to look at her, and said to the housekeeper, "ask her to leave now!"

The butler quickly said, "Madam, hurry up and leave now."

Elena knew that she couldn't leave. This time she has come from Xia's house with a purpose and needed the identity of the bride of Green Garden.

Elena looked at Holden with bright eyes, without the slightest dodge, "You are sick, what is it? I know a little about medicine, and I am good at acupuncture and moxibustion, so I can treat you."

Holden pressed his thin lips into a cold arc, and hardly rolled out a word from his throat, "Go!"

Elena not only didn't roll back, but also approached him moving forward, "Just now I smelled the scent of lily, poria, gastrodia elata and other precious medicinal materials on your body. These are all Chinese medicines for treating insomnia. If my guess is right and I am not mistaken in my conclusion, you are suffering from sleep disorders and cannot sleep at night."

The butler looked at Elena in shock, "Madam, you..."

Elena's bright pupils fell on Holden's handsome face, "How far has your sleep disorder reached? Once the sleep disorder progresses to the depths, it will seriously affect the mental state of the person, and the body is exhausted to the extreme if the cure not obtained. Rest and relax, this will make your body at least live with another perception of self. That self is gloomy, grumpy, terrifying, and almost sick."

The corners of Holden's narrow eyes became red, and the handsome eyebrows were covered with a gloomy atmosphere. He stretched out his hand and grabbed Elena's neck.

The girl's pink neck is very delicate, as long as he squeezes it gently, she will die easily.

"Madam, don't irritate my master anymore! Master, let go of madam!" The butler rushed forward in a hurry.

The fresh air that she could breathe became thinner and thinner, and Elena's small face slowly flushed, but she turned her small hand and quickly pierced a silver needle into Holden's acupuncture.

Holden let go of his hand and sat on the sofa.

Elena gasped for breath. She didn't want to lose her life in the first week of her marriage. She was also scared just now for many things.

The man in front of her is too dangerous, not to mention his mysterious identity, just sleep disturbance can turn him from an elegant and expensive man into a monster at any time.

However, she has no retreat and can only give it a try.

Elena adjusted her breathing, came behind him, and then raised her white fingers on his temples to help him massage.

Holden closed his handsome eyes and concealed the scarlet in them, "Your treatment is to massage me?"

"Be happy, you are the first man I massaged."

"It sounds like you are not the first woman to be lucky enough to give me a massage."

"..."

Can't talk anymore.

"Leave me, we live in peace, if you just don't ask about my personal affairs, I help you act in front of grandma, and can also help you treat insomnia, how about it?"

Holden did not speak.

When Elena pushed a slender silver needle into Holden's brain acupuncture tract, Holden closed his eyes and fell into the sofa.

Elena quickly stretched out her hand and gently and tenderly caught the handsome face she had took hold of a while ago.

He finally fell asleep.

The housekeeper on one side was already in a cold sweat. Others didn't know the identity of this young master. How could he not know that his young master was the young master of the Lu family, the proud son of the land, played in the business world in his teens, and the keeper of the Lu family's inheritance.

No one has ever dared to negotiate with the master like this, let alone a girl.

The girls who have been fortunate enough to see the young master all these years have pink bubbles in their eyes, longing, loving, and wishing to rush into the young master's arms every after.

The young lady in front of him was so special, she was calm, gentle, and intelligent even in front of the young master who was sick as a dog.

What's more surprising is that the young master fell asleep!

Master hasn't slept for a long time!

The doctors who treat insomnia for the young master are all on the world top list, but they are useless, but the young master fell asleep in the palm of the young woman!

"young lady..." the butler said.

Elena put her finger on her lips and made a "hush" gesture, "Go out, I am here to take care of him."

Don't know why, but the housekeeper felt that there was a reassuring power in this young lady, and he retreated obediently.

The room was silent.

Elena let him rest in her palm for a while, and when he enters deep sleep, she put him on the sofa and covered him with a quilt.

After doing all this, Elena went to bed and fell asleep.

At this moment, Holden on the sofa slowly opened his eyes and woke up.

Holden got up and came to the bed, stretched out his slender fingers to lift the veil on Elena's face.

Chapter 4

Soon, Holden's fingers stopped, and he did not lift the veil on her face.

He looked down at the girl who was already asleep on the bed. If she would open her eyes, her eyes would be so beautiful. She looked as dark as a little milk cat. When she looked up at you, she scratched you like a little milk cat's paw.

A combination of innocence and charm.

Holden looked at the red mark on her neck, her skin was delicate, he just pinched it lightly, and now there was a red mark.

Holden turned back, returned to the sofa, and lay down.

His sleep disorder is getting worse step by step, with every passing day. It is definitely not treatable by her silver needles. However, her medical skills are superb, and he really took a nap in her palm just now. A luxury, enjoyed after a long time.

though it was about ten minutes long.

He hasn't slept for ten minutes in a long time.

Holden looked at the slender figure on the bed. What he thought was, why is her hand so small and so soft?

Early the next morning.

Elena was sitting in the dining room drinking the red dates and lotus seed soup delivered by the maid.

"Elena, I liked it as soon as I saw you. From now on, Holden will not dare to bully you, if he does just tell grandma. Grandma will help you beat him...Drink, don't stop, drink more red date and lotus seed soup, we must give birth early, Even after giving birth, grandma will hold Mr. Holden in one hand and lady Elena in the other..."

Mrs. Lu has grayed hair, but she is very energetic, kind and sympathetic. Ignoring her teasing point, Elena likes her very much.

At this time the maid's voice sounded, "Master, morning."

Holden went downstairs.

Elena raised her eyes. Today, Holden wore a white shirt and black trousers. The hand-made fabric was ironed without any wrinkles. His apparently simple dress looked expensive for the eyes that can discern.

An elder woman also followed.

The happy lady smiled and congratulated Mrs. Lu, "Mrs. Lu, congratulations, I wish you a great grandson as soon as possible."

"Good job, butler, you need a reward reward!"

Mrs. Lu handed out a red envelopes very humbly.

Elena knew at a glance that this happy lady is the one who took the news of intercourse between her and Holden last night. The woman would bleed for the first time, but they didn't do anything, then... where did the blood plum come from?

At this time, Holden stopped by her side, and he lowered his long body in his trouser pocket with one hand, and whispered in her ear, "I did it, I shouldn't do it again, your's is still intact right?"

He asked too straightforwardly, Elena hadn't even talked about a relationship, and now the snow-white earlobes immediately burned red again.

At this time, the two of them had a somewhat intimate attitude, and Holden lowered his body and whispered to Elena, very much like a newlywed couple who stuck to each other like glue.

Mrs. Lu immediately covered her eyes with her hands, "I haven't seen anything, I am not looking at you, you can continue."

Saying that the Mrs. Lu opened her fingers and watched secretly.

Holden looked at Elena's small red earlobes quietly, her heroic sword eyebrows raised slightly, and a bit of a mature man's evil charm made her heart skip a beat, "Your 20th birthday has not arrived yet, you are 19 years old, you have never... Man?"

Elena is still very young, only 19 years old.

Holden is 27 years old, a handsome and mature man at a magnificent age.

He pressed so persistently, and the two of them got closer again, Elena only felt that his warm breath was sprayed on her delicate and feeble muscles, making her just want to hide herself.

"Do you want to eat?"

Elena turned around and fed the red date and lotus seed soup in the small spoon directly into his mouth, trying to block his mouth.

The butler on one side directly called out, "Young lady, that's your spoon!"

The young master has a serious habit of cleanliness. It was the spoon that the young lady used, and the housekeeper quickly went to get the mouthwash.

Elena's slender body trembled. Just now, she wanted to block his mouth and even fed him directly with her own spoon.

After being fed a spoonful of soup, Holden stood up straight, frowned his handsome eyebrows, and gulped down the spoonful of red date and lotus seed soup while everyone was watching him unbelievably.

The housekeeper was shocked, Master, what is...what's wrong?

Master, you have a habit of cleanliness, have you forgotten?

Mrs. Lu nodded with satisfaction. She was already very accurate even when she was over 70. She liked Elena at the first sight. This girl and her grandson were destined to be together.

"Well, well, you two ate a bowl of red date and lotus seed soup. It seems that my great-grandson will soon be in Elena's belly." Mrs. Lu was happy like a child.

Elena held the spoon with which she had just fed Holden in her hand and looked at the half bowl of red date and lotus seed soup. Should she eat it or not?

At this time, Holden sat down, and he looked over with narrow eyes, and said with great concern, "Why don't you eat anymore, eat it quickly, it will be cold soon."

"..."

Elena knew that Holden was absolutely deliberate. He ate from the spoon she was using, and now he wants her to continue using it.

This is equivalent to two people indirectly... kissed.

"Yeah, Elena, why don't you eat it anymore, eat it quickly, and I'll serve you a bowl later." Mrs. Lu said.

Elena quickly took a spoon and ate half a bowl of red date and lotus seed soup, "I'm full grandma, so I can't eat it anymore."

Seeing the girl's charming and naive and lovely appearance, Holden's lips were thin, and he was in a good mood now.

After breakfast, Mrs. Lu asked Elena, "Elena, are you going out later?"

Elena nodded, "Grandma, I want to go back to the family's house."

"It's okay to go back to your family's house. Holden, accompany Elena and bring gifts. This son-in-law's courtesy can't be lost." Mrs. Lu quickly said to Holden.

It was too late for Elena to stop, because Holden came over and said, "Okay, let's go together."

The two of them left Green Garden mansion and came to the lawn. Gentleman Holden opened the door of the front seat of the car, "Get in the car."

Elena waved her hand, "Now grandma can't see it anymore, so no need for formalities, I'll take a taxi back to the family's house."

Holden raised his sword eyebrows, "Didn't you say that you want to act with me in front of my grandma? Get in the car, don't let me say that third time."

This man is really strong and domineering.

But Elena's heart jumped. He agreed to the peace agreement she laid down last night!

Elena did not refuse any more, and obediently got into the luxury car without saying another word.

The luxury car was galloping on the road, and neither of them spoke again. To avoid embarrassment, Elena simply turned her small face out of the window.

Holden's shadow was reflected on the bright car window. The man was driving intently, pressing his two big hands on the steering wheel calmly, turning and changing lanes to speed up.

Elena saw the precious steel watch worn on the man's sturdy wrist. The price was tens of millions.

Elena doesn't know what his identity is. She only knows that the two people have reached a peace agreement, which makes it more convenient for her to act in the Xia family.

Elena cast her eyes on the scenery galloping past the window.

Half an hour later, the luxury car stopped at the door of Xia's house, and Elena looked down to untie the seat belt.

However, it cannot be solved.

"I'm coming." Holden passed his long body in a moment.

Elena let go and asked Holden to help untie it.

In fact, Holden smelled the scent of Elena's body last night. Now that the two of them are leaning on each other like this, the pleasant scent of the girl's body lingers under his nose again.

Chapter 5

Holden had smelled all kinds of perfumes on women, and the artificially added fragrance made him hate them all.

But the fragrance on this girl is different. It is indeed very good.

Holden opened his seat belt and asked in a low voice, "What perfume did you put on?" perfume?

Elena shook her head, "I didn't put on perfume."

"Then why are you so fragrant..."

Holden raised his head, but the next second he stagnated, because he lightly touched Elena's red lips as he raised his eyes.

There was a veil between them, and the two kissed unexpectedly.
Elena's fan-like feathers trembled and she shivered in her place. This was... her first kiss!

Soon, Holden backed away, his deep narrow eyes glanced at her red lips behind the veil, his throat rolled, "I'm sorry, or... I do you want to come back for a kiss?"

Elena looked at him, "I think...I should slap you."

Holden's thin lips curled up, and a magnetic and pleasant laugh came out of his throat.

Elena opened the car door, "I'm leaving now."

"My name is Holden Lu."

Elena didn't think too much, just gave a perfunctory um, now she doesn't care about his name, she just wants to see grandpa.

"I see, Mr. Lu, goodbye." Elena stood outside the car and made a small wave with her delicate hand to Holden.

Today Elena wore a red sweater. When she waved her hand, the sweater jumped up, revealing her small waist like a willow branch. Holden slowly rubbed his fingers on the steering wheel, thinking about her. Was that waist enough for him to hold on?

"I have a meeting, I will pick you up later."

"no need....."

When Elena refused, the luxury car galloped away.

The scene here was locked in the eyes by Yoselin Xia upstairs. Well, this girl Elena has a serious appearance. She only married a sick person last night, ill man, and today she hooked up with another man.

Yoselin looked at the luxury car. The car was very good, but it was not a top class one. However, the license plate of that car was peculiar.

Yoselin had never seen that license plate, but she had heard from her girlfriends that the license plate was pretty unique, and the whole Daredevil could walk sideways when the car with this numberplate trodded the roads of the city!

How could the wild hillbilly Elena hook up with a man owning such a license plate?

Yoselin suspected that she had made a mistake. When she rubbed her eyes and looked again, the luxury car had already left.

She must be wrong.

Yoselin ran downstairs quickly, just to see Elena, she immediately laughed out loud, "Elena, who is the man who dropped you back just now, I didn't expect you to be so promiscuous, and yet you still have it. A little white face!"

Little white face?

Holden?

Holden's exquisite and handsome face appeared in Elena's mind, as well as his strong and domineering style of sophistication and restraint, it was impossible to connect him with anything else. She didn't know what this sister of her has to say more. Of course she was not interested in find that out.

"Grandpa, I want to see Grandpa." Elena bypassed Yoselin and went upstairs.

In the room upstairs, Father Xia was lying on the bed. He had been in a coma for ten years and had been declared a incurable by the doctors.

In this Xia family, apart from her biological mother, Father Xia is the person who loves Elena the most.

Ten years ago, when she was just nine years old, her mother passed away due to illness. One day when she woke up, she found herself lying on the top of the stairs, and Father Xia had already rolled down and sunk in a pool of his own blood. At this time, Zander and the servant rushed. After coming in, no matter how she explained, everyone believed that she had pushed Grandpa.

Later, Zander found a fortune teller. The fortune teller said that she was a calamity, and her fate was so hard that everyone who was with her would suffer from the ensuing disasters.

Therefore, Zander sent the nine-year-old Elena to the countryside overnight, leaving the poor child alone to fend for herself.

Elena learned later that her father had already cheated in the marriage. He was in the bed of a well known actress Yuna. Both had given birth to two daughters. The eldest daughter Jasmine Xia was older than her.

This time Elena came back by marrying in place of her, just to find out the truth of the year.

Elena took the pulse of Father Xia, then took out the silver needle and pierced it into the acupuncture points of the father.

After collecting the silver needles, Elena covered the quilt for the old man, she whispered, "Grandpa, don't worry, I will cure you, and you will wake up soon."

In the kitchen.

Yoselin found Yuna, "Mom, let me tell you something. Just now Elena was dropped back by a man, and that man was befriended by Elena!"

Yuna was stewing a bird, and she was surprised when she heard that, "Elena has a boyfriend, she is really shameless!"

"Mom, who do you stew this bird for?"

"For Elena."

"What, mom, I heard it right?"

Yuna took out a packet of powdered medicine and sprinkled it on the bird, "Why so anxious, I put a drug in this bowl of bird's meat. Yesterday, at the wedding, President Wang had a fancy to Elena. I think Elena is in good shape. For a good price, she is married to a ghost husband, and she can still be the plaything of these bosses. If I manage to take more pornographic photos of her, I am not afraid that she will not be obedient."

Yoselin gave a thumbs up and admired, "Mom, you are so smart, I will go to the cake shop to buy a cake first, and come back to watch the show later!"

Yuna brought the bird meat out. At this time, Elena went downstairs. Yuna quickly said, "Elena, I have stewed the bird meat for you by myself. Come and eat it."

Yuna stewed for her bird meat, can this bowl of bird meat be eaten?

Elena licked her lips, walked into the dining room generously, and took a few bites of bird meat with a spoon. She smiled silly and said, "It's delicious, auntie, thank you."

"You don't need to thank me, you can eat it all if it is delicious." Yuna cursed this idiot in her heart and smiled.

Soon, Elena felt her eyes darkened, "Auntie, you gave me... what...?"

Elena fell directly on the table.

Yuna sneered and directly ordered Elena to be sent into the room upstairs.

Soon, a middle-aged greasy man with a big belly ran over excitedly, "Mrs. Xia, how about contacting the people? Have you?"

"President Wang, Elena is in the room. This medicine is enough for her to sleep for two hours. You can enjoy it well." Yuna smiled coquettishly.

"Mrs. Xia, you are doing this beautifully." Mr. Wang ran to the room anxiously with saliva dripping through his lips.

Yuna grabbed President Wang, "Mr. Wang, you promised to inject funds into Xia's medical care in advance..."

Yesterday at the wedding banquet, President Wang was itchy in the groin to see Elena's slender and beautiful figure, so he reached an agreement with Yuna.

"Mrs. Xia, don't worry, I'll keep my words." President Wang quickly entered the room.

In the room, President Wang almost drooled looking at Elena lying on the bed. He quickly took off his clothes and rushed forward, "Little beauty, here I am to taste your slender body!"

Chapter 6

At this moment, Elena who was lying on the bed suddenly opened her eyes.

President Wang was stunned. Didn't Mrs. Xia say she had already administered the medicine? Didn't she say the girl was going to sleep for two hours? Why did she wake up now?

"Little beauty, why...how did you wake up?"

Elena's bright pupils overflowed with a sly and playful smile, "If I am not awake, how can I see such a wonderful scene?"

"you....."

Elena stretched out her hand, and Wang felt that he smelled a strange fragrance, and soon he softened and collapsed directly on the carpet with his legs apart.

Mr. Wang's hands and feet were all tied up with twine. He couldn't exert any efforts, he could only look at Elena who was smiling at him at this moment, "Little...little beauty, you want to play?" What, why don't you let me free, let's have fun together."

Elena raised her delicate willow eyebrows, with a harmless and innocent appearance, "President Wang, what do you think this is?"

President Wang saw that Elena had two more fleshy bones in her hand, "You...what are you doing with fleshy bones?"

"Ah, Mr. Wang, Yuna didn't tell you. The Xia family has a big wolf dog. This dog is very fierce and likes to eat meat and bones."

Mr. Wang is a pervert. He has coveted Elena for a long time. A hick from the countryside has married a living dead. Isn't she just playing the way she wants? This is what he thought initially.

But now President Wang looked at Elena's scalp all numb, and couldn't stop trembling, "You...what do you want to do?"

Elena moved her small hand down, and then stuffed the two fleshy bones into President Wang's shorts, "Mr. Wang, the game has started. The big wolf dog will come in later, so be careful, Don't let the wolf dog bite in the wrong place and bite your life."

"No, little beauty, I..., I was wrong, let me go please... you are too evil, this is not a joke, it can take my life..." Frightened in cold sweat, he would kneel down for Elena if possible.

At this time, Elena walked over and opened the door of the room, and the big wolf dog sniffed the smell of meat and rushed in.

what!

President Wang screamed again and again.

Yuna was waiting for the good news downstairs, when the door to the room upstairs was suddenly opened, and Mr. Wang, who was carrying his pants, ran down in a very embarrassed condition, Yuna was surprised, "Mr. Wang, what's wrong with you?"

President Wang was so frightened that his tears came down. He smashed the fleshy bones on Yuna's body and said grimly, "Yuna, this is all a good thing you did. I'm never finished with you!"

President Wang ran away resentfully, terrified and afraid.

what happened?

Yuna quickly went upstairs and entered the room.

In the room, Elena was sitting on a chair and drinking tea comfortably with her legs one upon the other. She raised her eyes, and her bright pupil fell on Yuna's shocked face, "Auntie, so you are here?"

Elena has been waiting for her!

Yuna was surprised. She knew that the matter had been revealed, but how is this impossible. Elena ate the medicated bird meat in front of her.

Which link went wrong, what did she miss?

"Elena, you already knew that there was a problem with that bowl of bird meat. Are you just scheming?" Yuna asked.

Elena curled her lips and sneered, "I just want to stay and take a look at your means, Yuna, you kind of disappoint me with such a pediatric trick."

Yuna snorted and tore her face, her eyes burst with a vicious light, "Elena, I won't play tricks with you. Just now, Mr. Wang left angrily. Now I will take you to Mr. Wang's bed and give it to him. I will apologize! Come in and take her!"

"Yes, ma'am."

Five or six bodyguards in black came quickly, all of them sturdy.

"Elena, these bodyguards were hired by me with a high salary, can you beat them?"

Elena's twin pupils suddenly turned cold, she has been waiting here, still scared?

"Go on, catch her for me!"

Yuna gave an order, and a bodyguard had already flashed in front of Elena and directly leaped to catch her.

Elena's little hand quietly placed on her waist

But in the next second, a big hand with well-knotted bones came in and gently folded the wrist that was holding the bodyguard.

With a click, the bodyguard's hand was twisted off.

Then the bodyguard with the severed hand was pushed back by a strong force, and several bodyguards instantly hit the ground.

Elena quickly raised her eyes, and Holden came in with a straight body in her eyes.

"Why are you here?" Elena was surprised.

Holden had no emotions, his voice was low and magnetic, "It seems I missed a good show. didn't I?"

Yuna never expected that someone would break into Xia's house suddenly. She looked at the man next to Elena. A man in white and black trousers was a long and slender man. He was too handsome. Just now, he was quick and sharp, and he was very difficult to control. Concealed an ascetic indifferent and thin cool that felt like ice.

As Mrs. Xia is still familiar with Darenvil's upper class. She has never seen this face before.

Just now Yoselin told her that Elena had a boyfriend, could it be him?

"Elena, is this the boyfriend you made?"

Boyfriend?

Hearing these three words, Holden frowned his heroic sword eyebrows and seemed a little dissatisfied. He looked at Elena and said, "a boyfriend, what did you tell her?"

Elena struck her waist and waved her small hand, "She is lying, I didn't say anything."

Yuna couldn't wait any longer, "What are you guys doing in a daze? You can't handle a little man, hurry up."

Some bodyguards wanted to step forward, but Holden lightly raised his eyelids, and looked at them condescendingly, "Fight me, you guys, can you?"

The bodyguards only felt heart palpitations and fled one after another.

Yuna was trembling with anger. She had never seen such an arrogant man, a soft-boiler, that aura was like a big boss in a high position, still coming and going, moving freely in her Xia family.

All the bodyguards she hired with high salaries ran away, and Yuna could only stand helplessly and stare at the man ahead.

Holden looked at Elena, "Save it for dinner? Go away."

"okay."

Elena quickly chased after Holden and left, passing by Yuna's side, she whispered, "Next time you show off your housekeeping skills, I'll wait for you, don't let me watch your jokes again."

"..."

Yuna, who was hit by a series of blows, almost bleeds.

In the luxury car, Elena looked at the man next to her, his expression focused, his manners were elegant and expensive, and she couldn't find any trace of the fight that occurred just now.

At this time, Holden looked over, "If I hadn't come, what would have you done?"

Elena curled her lips, "Fight, I will do it too, if you cannot come, I could also have cleaned them up."

Holden remembered her information. She was ostracized and bullied by all the children when she was left in the country at the age of nine. They all called her a wild child without parents.

Fighting was probably practiced at that time, and coupled with her medical skills, she was able to easily solve the problem of scar man on the train, and these bodyguards were naturally not a problem.

“Girls don’t fight, fighting is a man’s business.”

“I don’t like to rely on others, but Mr. Lu, I really thank you for your help.”

Looking at her sincerely thanking eyes, Holden raised his sword eyebrows, “Just like that?”

Elena was taken aback for a moment, “Then how do you want me to thank you?”

Holden’s gaze fell from her bright pupils to her red lips covered by the veil, “You don’t understand the way women thank men?”

Chapter 7

What does he mean?

His eyes fell on her red lips recklessly, as if he had hinted something. Of course, the best way for a woman to thank a man was to blow a kiss.

Elena’s heart suddenly jumped, her snow-white earlobes were already burning red, “I don’t understand.”

After speaking, she turned her head to look out the window and ignored him.

Holden looked at her tactic of avoidance, she was intelligent, agile, independent, self-reliant, and reluctant to trust his sincerity easily, but the 19-year-old girl was really a blank sheet of paper in affair and could not bear a little tease from a man.

When the red light arrived, the luxury car stopped, and Elena lay on the window and saw the most famous cake shop in Darenvil.

“Want to eat cake?” Holden’s low-mellow voice rang in her ears.

Elena’s bright eyes showed a bit of sentimentality, she whispered, “My mother used to take me to that store to buy cakes.”

Holden turned the steering wheel and stopped on the side of the road, “If you want to eat, buy it.”

This cake shop is a time-honored brand in Darenvil, and it is particularly popular in the circle of celebrities and elite daughters. It is sold in limited quantities every day.

Elena has liked to eat cakes since she was a child, and her mother often brought her here to buy cakes. It was the best of times in memory.

It has been ten years, and Elena has not been here for ten years even for a single day.

Her eyes are a little red, but she doesn't want the man next to her to see, "Um... you wait for me first, I'll go to the bathroom."

She went to wash her face.

Holden looked at the pretty shadow of the girl disappearing. He had seen her crying just now. She was really a little girl who had never grown up.

He walked into the cake shop with long legs.

Coincidentally, Yoselin is also in this cake shop, and her girlfriend Zheneria.

Zheneria pulled Yoselin, "Yoselin, just now you said that Elena befriended a man, is it true or not?"

Yoselin sneered contemptuously, "Of course it is true, I saw it with my own eyes, that little white face drove Elena home."

"Now her stature is very expensive. Elena has just returned from the country. Where did she manage all that money?"

Yoselin said, "that man is a womaniser. This womaniser is filthy rich. Like those superb, handsome, well-built, and first-rate in bed, a night is worth a thousand dollars..."

At this moment, a deep, magnetic voice rang in the ear, "Manager, bring me a cake."

This voice is too nice to hear.

Both Yoselin and Zheneria's eyes were attracted, and they immediately saw Holden.

Now Holden Lu stood tall and straight by the counter, wearing a white shirt and black trousers, tall and long legs, and a supermodel figure. Just standing here makes people "swipe" brightly.

My goodness, this man is too handsome.

Zheneria was already silly, she quietly pulled Yoselin's sleeve, "Yoselin, is this man not the best example of what we just discussed?"

Handsome, good figure, first-rate, rich!

Yoselin has never seen such a handsome man. They say that to be wife of such a man is the superposition of power, wealth and identity. Holden's ascetic elegance makes him the best looking man among men in white shirts and black trousers. ,none of them can come closer to him.

Yoselin was shocked.

At this time Zheneria whispered again, "Yoselin, do you think the little white face that Elena raised is like this man?"

"What nonsense are you talking about!" Yoselin glared at Zheneria. "For a poor turtle like Elena, the little white face she raised is the lowest level, ugly and fat. If she can afford this Supreme, then I will call her the boss!"

Yoselin would never believe that the little white face raised by Elena was at the level of this superb man.

At this time the shop manager was very sorry and said, "Excuse me sir, the last cake has been bought by those two ladies. Today's cake is sold out, you can buy it early tomorrow."

The last cake was bought by Yoselin.

The nominated Yoselin's heart was beating, she quickly stepped forward, looking at Holden excitedly and shyly, "Sir, do you... do you want to buy cake? I can let you take this cake. Here you are, but... can we add on WhatsApp first?"

Yoselin already fell in love with this man, so she couldn't wait to take the initiative.

She is in good condition, young and beautiful, and there are many boys chasing her, but it is strange that when she took the initiative to strike up a conversation with this man, she was so nervous.

Contrary to Yoselin's full expectation, Holden didn't even look at her. He didn't even give it a glance. He just took out his black gold card and handed it to the store manager, "Then ask the master to work overtime for me. One."

The store manager immediately saw Holden's black gold card with a golden "Lu" inscribed on the surface of the card.

Lu is a surname that no one knows in Darenvil.

The shop manager almost instantly guessed the identity of the man in front of him. The cold sweat on his forehead was all down, and the big man who covered the sky with one hand and turned the clouds into rain came down to a small cake shop.

"First...sir, please wait a moment, I will let the master make a custom one for you."

The manager ran into the back kitchen.

Yoselin and Zheneria looked a little confused, why did the store manager customize a cake for this man?

They are all in line.

This is the Vvip treatment of this cake shop.

Holden was waiting, he took a business newspaper and read it.

Yoselin was completely ignored. It was too shameful for her. She stretched out her suspender skirt and deliberately revealed a seductive curve.

“Oh, I’m dizzy.” Yoselin pretended to be dizzy, and fell into Holden’s arms.

She closed her eyes and looked forward to falling into the arms of a man.

But the next second, with a bang, she fell directly to the ground.

It turned out that Holden avoided a this pretending girl and she licked the dust.

At this time, a clear and beautiful voice rang from the top of his head, “Yoselin, why are you giving me such a big gift?”

Yoselin raised her eyes and saw Elena unexpectedly.

Elena came in, her bright eyes was looking at her disgusting state, and she blinked at her playfully.

Yoselin’s whole body is soring, she quickly got up in embarrassment, “Elena, why are you here?”

Yoselin showed an incredible expression. How could Elena be in the cake shop? When she left, Mr. Wang had already entered the room.

what happened?

At this time, Holden stepped forward and naturally stretched out his armband to put on Elena’s slender waist, “How come it’s been so long?”

Her waist was really only enough for him to hold him.

Yoselin and Zheneria took a breath, Elena and this man?

“Elena, who is he?” Yoselin asked quickly.

Elena curled her lips, “Didn’t you say that he is my little white face?”

Chapter 8

Speaking, Elena pointed at Yoselin and looked at Holden, "She said this."

Yoselin and Zheneria were stunned. It turns out that this man is really the little white face befriended Elena?

Gosh!

Yoselin felt that she slapped her face severely.

At this time, the store manager gave out a strawberry jam cake, Holden carried it in his hand, "Let's go."

"Okay." Elena followed, and she looked back and waved her small hand at Yoselin Yoselin was utterly dumbfounded. She had no idea that Elena would be so lucky to have a man like this.

At this moment Zheneria said idiotically, "Yoselin, it seems that you are really going to call Elena your boss."

Yoselin gave Zheneria a vicious look quickly.

Zheneria immediately smiled and said, "Yoselin, I mean, the little white face raised by Elena is so handsome, how much does it cost to raise him?"

Holden hadn't looked at her the whole time just now, as if she didn't exist, this made the self-confident and beautiful Yoselin feel very defeated and annoyed.

However, Zheneria's words quickly reminded her that it is not just a little white face who was raised by Elena, she can raise him for several times the price.

Thinking about this, Yoselin was excited.

"Manager, give me the cake I bought, we are going back." Yoselin went to get the cake.

The shop manager didn't give it, "I'm sorry ladies, the money will be returned to you, and you can even double the compensation, but this cake can't be given to you."

"Why?" Yoselin and Zheneria were both stunned.

The shop manager smiled slightly, "Because, this cake is for my dog."

what?

Yoselin patted the table and stood up, "Manager, what do you mean, are you humiliating us?"

The shopkeeper, "Isn't it enough that I am humiliated? You have offended a big man. Even if this cake is for dogs, it won't be for you!"

The luxury car stopped in Green Garden, and Holden handed the hot-stamped black card to Elena, "Here, this is for you."

Elena's hand trembled, why did he give her a card?

"I don't want it." She refused.

Holden lifted his thin lips, "You must not be able to feed me with a pale face, but you, I can still feed my wife"

My wife!

When he uttered these words in an incredibly magnetic voice, Elena only felt her heart move, and the beating of her heart had been out of rhythm.

Elena quickly opened the door and got out of the car.

This man is really evil.

Elena carefully put his bronzing black card in her bag and entered the living room. Mrs. Lu greeted her with a smile on her face, "Elena, you are back, how did it go with your family today?"

"Grandma, it went well, let's have cake together."

Old Mrs. Lu's eyes lit up, she walked into the living room numbly, flexing her hands, "The cake is good, I like cakes the most."

At this time, Holden walked in. Instead of going to the living room, he went straight upstairs, but he paused on the stairs, and his eyes fell on Mrs. Lu, "Grandma, you have high blood pressure. Just one bite of the cake." "

Mrs. Lu stuffed the Nth mouthful of the cake into her mouth, talking nonsense seriously, "I know it in my heart, I just took a bite and tasted it, it's really sweet."

Elena was amused by the old lady, she raised her eyes to look at the man on the stairs, "Do you want to eat the cake?"

Holden doesn't like sweets, "No need."

"Oh."

“The corner of your mouth...”

Holden’s gaze fell on her small face. Because of the cake, the veil on her face lifted a corner, revealing a small jaw and her half-covered red lips.

Her lips are beautiful, cherry-colored.

Once a magazine selected the lips that made men want to kiss when they saw it, she was the one, he said to himself.

Now she has a little milk stain on her lips.

After his reminder, the girl Elena stretched her tongue and licked the little milk stain directly into her mouth.

When she raised her eyes to look at him again, Holden raised his hand and pulled the tie on the collar of the shirt, rolling his throat upstairs and entering the study.

Elena’s snow-white earlobes turned red, and Holden’s tie was deadly, as she thought of his gaze.

Elena quickly pulled out the tissue and wiped her lips vigorously.

At this time, the butler brought an old man upstairs, and Elena asked, “Grandma, who is that person?”

“Oh, that’s Mr. Nanyuan. He will come here once a month.”

Elena felt a throb in her heart. Mr. Nan Yuan was a world-renowned hypnosis master. She has studied medicine and have naturally heard of his name.

Mr. Nan Yuan came here. He must have treated Holden’s sleep disorder. It seemed that his sleep disorder was more serious than she thought.

Elena was worried, so she came to the door of the study. At this moment, there was a strange noise inside. Elena was startled and quickly opened the door of the study.

The study was in a mess, all the papers on the desk fell on the carpet, and the clock in Mr. Nan Yuan’s hand was also broken.

Holden stood in front of the desk, his two big hands propped on the table, the veins on his palm were violently jumping, and his delicate chest was panting like a beast.

Hearing the sound of the door opening, Holden raised his head, and Elena ran into his deep, narrow eyes. Now his eyes were stained with terrible red blood and hideous shame.

He seems to be a different person now.

Elena is no longer unfamiliar with this person, and just met last night.

The two looked at each other, Holden pressed his thin lips into a cold white arc, and said solemnly, "Get out!"

Elena stood still.

The butler picked up the broken clock and took Mr. Nan Yuan out, and closed the study door.

A door separates two worlds.

Elena looked at Mr. Nan Yuan, "Mr. Nan Yuan, how is he?"

Mr. Nan Yuan shook his head, "At the beginning I could hypnotize master and let him rest for a day each month, but his mental condition is too fast, master is extremely alert, and the line of defense in his heart is so powerful that it is terrifying. It is no longer possible to hypnotize him any more."

Elena is not surprised. Holden is a mature, deep and introverted man, who rarely leaks his emotions. Such a man is calm and can show self-control to a great degree even almost abnormal.

Elena gently dropped the bolt, then she reached out and turned the doorknob, wanting to enter.

"young lady, no, it's dangerous for you to go in now. Did you forget last night?" Butler Freddy quickly tried to stop her.

Elena looked at Freddy with clear pupils, "Freddy, it is because I have not forgotten, so I want to go in. Once the sleep disorder develops into a mental illness, he will not be able to control the gloomy and irritable sickness in his body. I will split the second personality, and the second personality will completely replace him."

Freddy paled.

Elena pushed the door and entered.

In the study, Holden looked at Elena who was returning, and the haze on his eyebrows jumped another layer, "Go out, don't let me say the third time!"

Elena stepped forward, her dark eyes overflowing with a bright smile, "Mr. Lu, I just want to try what will happen if you say it the third time?"

Holden felt uncomfortable all over, the blue veins on his forehead were bulging, his body slowly lost control, he didn't want to hurt her.

Reaching out to clasp Elena's slender arm, he said from his throat, "Leave!"

He gave her a push.

Elena couldn't stand still, and when she fell on the carpet, her forehead hit the sharp corner of the coffee table, and her blood was suddenly dripping.

hiss.

Elena snorted in pain, covering the wound with her hand, and the fresh blood flowed from her fingers.

Chapter 9

Holden's pupils shrank. He quickly took out the medicine box and used a cotton swab dipped in alcohol to treat her wounds, "Remember now, this is the consequence of letting me talk the third time."

Elena looked at his hard jaw, "The consequence Mr. Lu, is domestic violence?"

Holden helped her put on band-aids, his thin lips curled up a little smile, "You dare to come in if you know I'm going to unleash domestic violence. Are you so courageous?"

Elena looked up at him with beautiful eyes, "Mr. Lu, others are afraid of you, I am not afraid of you."

Holden's slender fingers lightly paused, and he looked at her pitiful little face because of the band-aid, "Go out and leave me alone."

After speaking, Holden helped Elena up.

Elena quickly stretched out her small white hand and hugged his fine waist directly.

The moment the girl hugged him, Holden's stiff body quickly stiffened even more. Her body was as soft as boneless, and her small face was pressed against his firm chest, like a soft and docile little cat sticking to him.

Holden smelled the pleasant body scent from her again, which slowly seduced his nerves.

At this time, Elena whispered in his arms, "Mr. Lu, don't be alone, let me accompany you."

Holden's hideous blue veins slowly disappeared, and even the terrifying shadow under his eyes was disappearing. He raised his hand and hugged her.

Putting his handsome face in her soft hair and rubbing it, the scent of her body made him feel... familiar.

Perhaps the reason she just ate strawberry jam, she was still stained with the fruity milky aroma of dessert.

Elena hugged him quietly for a moment, and then moved her small hand up along his fine waist, stroking the open shoulder blades of his stiff back, "If you still feel uncomfortable, you can bite Give it a try."

Proper emotional venting is necessary.

"Bite you? Are you afraid of pain?"

"Think beautifully, I'm talking about..."

Elena stood on tiptoe and bit on his broad shoulder.

She bit him quickly and hard, unsuspecting, and blood quickly oozes from his white shirt.

She bit him into bleeding.

Almost bit him off a piece of meat.

The sudden pain made Holden's muscles tense. He took the girl in his arms and took a few steps back. Elena's calf hit the edge of the sofa. In the next second, the two of them rolled into the soft.

"Mrs. Lu, are you taking revenge?" Holden pressed her down, his narrow eyes slowly dissipated from the haze, and he recovered a bit of clarity.

Elena raised her delicate swordy eyebrows, "You pushed me just now, and now I bite you, do you think we are even?"

Elena wanted to get up, but Holden pressed her shining shoulder and pressed her back.

The current posture of the two people is a bit ambiguous.

Elena slammed into his eyes, and two red flames jumped under his eyes, staring at her like if she were a delicious prey.

"Mr. Lu, what are you doing?"

"You are very fragrant, you haven't told me what brand of perfume you used last time?"

Elena curled her lips and said jokingly, "Mr. Lu, I said that I didn't use perfume. You have been entangled with this question till now, and I have to suspect that you are talking to me?"

Holden has always known that her eyes are beautiful, especially now that she is vying with him. He is so agile. He closes his handsome eyes, puts his thin lips on the bandage on her forehead, and gently kisses, "Does it hurt? Just now? I'm sorry, sorry..."

Elena's scalp was numb when such a strong and domineering man said "I'm sorry" to him in such a low muttering voice.

This evildoer!

"We are even tied, so it doesn't matter, Mr. Lu, let me go first." Elena stretched out her hand to his chest, trying to push him away.

But Holden didn't move, he still reached out his hand and held her small face.

Slender fingers shuttled down her cheeks into her black hair, and his thin lips moved down from her forehead.

Elena's fan-like hair trembled, completely afraid to move, he...what does he want to do?

As he slowly approached, the breath of the two people became entwined.

As he got closer, Elena pierced his acupuncture point quickly and neatly with a slender silver needle.

Holden closed his eyes and fell to her side.

Elena looked at the dazzling crystal chandelier above her head and closed her eyes vigorously. Just now, the idiot knew that he wanted to... kiss her.

She asked him if he wanted to pick her up, but he didn't answer, but he seemed to prove something with his actions.

Elena opened her eyes quickly, no way!

No matter what he means, she and him are just in a peace agreement relationship, and now she still has a lot to do and can't be fascinated by him.

Elena wanted to get up, but a strong arm clasped up and held her shoulders.

Elena looked up, but Holden did not wake up.

He was sleeping, but she was not allowed to leave him in his sleep.

Elena wanted to get rid of him, but the fingers he buckled were strong, and she was afraid that she would fall short in waking him, so she could only lie back.

The sofa in the study was not very big, and the two people sleeping together were a bit crowded. Elena could only stay sideways and not take up space.

After lying down for a while, a string of melodious cell phone bells rang.

Elena quickly touched the phone. She didn't want to answer, but it was Zander's call.

It's her father.

Elena was lying on her side in Holden's arms and pressed the key to get the call. She said in a low voice, "Hey, Dad."

Zander's reprimanding voice came quickly, "Elena, what is going on today? Originally, Mr. Wang had promised to inject money into Xia's medical treatment, but I heard that you offended Mr. Wang. Mr. Wang has already spoken. , But you must go and apologize to Mr. Wang, otherwise it all will be wasted."

"Dad, didn't Yuna tell you what happened today? If I said that the capital injection was promised only when your daughter slept with him, do you still have to?" Elena asked back.

Yuna heard Elena say this, she quickly said, "Zander, yes, today I was going to send Elena to Wang's bed, but Xia's medical care now has a short chain of funds and urgently needs capital injection. Elena is the daughter of the Xia family, so she should have done something."

Elena sneered, "Auntie, you have two daughters. In addition to Yoselin, you also have an eldest daughter Jasmine. Everyone is the daughter of the Xia family. Why don't you let them contribute?"

Speaking of Jasmine, Yuna became proud and haughty.

The Xia family is a scholarly family and a medical family. Jasmine has a medical talent since she was a child, and she is most respected and loved by Zander.

Jasmine inherited her beauty again. She was delicate and sweet. She was hailed as the first lady in Darenvil, a beauty and a talented woman. Everyone who saw Yuna would praise her for having a good daughter.

This is also the biggest reason why Yuna has been in the Xia family for years.

When I was young, Elena and Jasmine were the best girlfriends. Elena was so smart at that time. No matter what aspect, Elena was overwhelming. However, Elena was sent to the countryside for nearly ten years. She was abandoned, so what is the point arguing about daughter?

"Zander, look at what Elena said, how can she humiliate our girl like this?"

Sure enough, Zander was also very upset, he said solemnly, "Elena, 1949 bar, you have to see Mr. Wang one time tomorrow night!"

Chapter 10

Elena was sent to the countryside when she was nine years old. She shouldn't have any expectations from this so-called father Zander. Sure enough, there was no accident in this call to change her mind.

Zander is still the Zander she knows, obsessed with medicine, loves vanity and face the most, and wants to develop Xia's medical treatment.

Now his most proud daughter is Jasmine. His other daughter, who came back from the country, can be used to cheer and sleep with a man for money.

"Dad, I know, I will go tomorrow."

Her obedient and servile attitude made Zander's tone a little softer, "Elena, you were so happy to marry. Your ill husband will soon die. When Mr. Wang's problem is resolved, Dad will find a man for you from a good family."

"Then thank you Dad." Elena hung up the phone.

Turning off the phone, Elena closed her eyes in Holden's arms. In fact, she was very sad because she was an orphan.

She wanted to be loved by her parents like a normal child and have a simple and peaceful life, but this is simply a luxury for her.

She has no home.

She is a wild child who has never had neither father's nor mother's love.

Perhaps feeling the cold, Elena curled up into Holden's arms. His arms were firm and warm, which could shelter any woman from wind and rain.

Her head rested on his atrium, bang, bang, bang, and his powerful heart beat made her feel safe.

Elena thought she would suffer from insomnia, but in the arms of this man she slept till dawn and slept well all night.

Holden slowly opened his eyes. It was already the next morning, and the bright morning sun was plated in through the layers of window curtains, and it sprinkled countless yellow shapes in the air.

Holden's eyes were stained with the first awakening, and there was still a moment of loss.

For many years, I haven't slept until the morning, and naturally opened my eyes in this beautiful morning light.

Holden closed his eyes and hugged the girl in his arms.

He knew that she had slept in his arms all night, because he still had her tender and body fragrance remaining in his arms.

However, there was nothing in his arms, his arms were empty, and Elena was gone.

Holden felt completely drowsy and lifted the silk quilt to his feet.

At this time, the study door was pushed open, and the butler Freddy walked in with a smile of joy, "Master, are you awake? I did not disturb you when the lady left and let you sleep for a while. How many years have it been, Master? You woke up naturally when after falling asleep. Even Mr. Nan Yuan couldn't do it. The young lady did it. What magic powers does this young lady have?"

Uncle Freddy thought it was incredible. He knew his young master's physical condition best. He was very worried after the young lady went in last night, but the young master actually slept with her all night.

Holden looked outside the door, "Where is the young lady?"

"Back to the young master, the young lady said she would go out to deal with some things and come back tonight."

"Did she say where she was going?"

"No."

"Got it."

Holden returned to the bedroom and took a shower in the bathroom. When he took off his white shirt, he saw the deep small teeth marks on his shoulders in the mirror.

She bit it.

Just looking at this little tooth print, you can imagine how hard she bit him back then, and now she has left her mark on his body.

Holden did not go to the company today, but worked in the study. At night, he checked his watch. It was eight o'clock, and Elena hadn't returned.

He took out his cell phone, and she did not send him a message or call him.

Holden felt bored and a little uncomfortable. At this moment, a string of melodious cell phone bells rang and the call came.

Holden keyed in, "Hello."

James's voice quickly passed from that end, "Hey brother, you haven't come out for a long time to play. Grandma married you to a bride. Are you addicted to her? or living a life of a housekeeper?"

Housekeeper...what?

Holden frowned his sword eyebrows and said impatiently, "If you talk nonsense, you will die one day at my hands."

"Don't come out, Brother, I will wait for you in the 1949 bar with Brother Henry."

1949 bar

In a remote box, Holden was sitting on the sofa in the main seat, smoking a cigarette between his slender fingers.

The smoke blurs his handsome face, only faintly can see him frowning, cold and aloof.

James was pouring wine, "big brother, what's wrong with you? Why are you smoking you started as soon when you come in? I think your internal fire is too big and you need to put it out properly."

Speaking of James, he pushed a beautiful woman next to him, "big brother, this is the new top card in 1949. It's clean. I reserved it for you. Sakura, can you feed this glass of wine to my big brother? It depends on your ability."

The bar in 1949 has always been a man's golden cave, and the most indispensable thing in it is beautiful women. The men who come here to spend a night spend a lot of money. Of course, this bar is the property of the Huo family.

The four giants of Darenvil, Lu, Gu, Huo, and Su, gathered for the third time today, and the three of them wore a pair of crotch pants.

Pushed to the man's side, Sakura's pure and beautiful face suddenly blushed. Holden was wearing simple black clothes. Lu was full of maturity even when he smoked. With the charming texture of a successful man, coupled with his handsome face with no dead ends, any woman would be willing to accompany him even if he didn't give money.

Sakura picked up the wine glass and smiled charmingly, "Master Lu, have a drink at our bar?"

Holden quickly smelled the scent of artificial perfume on Sakura. He glanced at Sakura lightly and said, "Stay away from me."

Sakura's pretty face turned white instantly.

James quickly drove Sakura away, “big brother, you have been sober for so many years, and you really have no interest in women. Grandma has strictly instructed me to stay away from you, so I am afraid that you will not have fun with me.”

Henry on one side said, “Holden, I heard that the you are married to Elena of the Xia family”.

Hearing this name, Holden raised his eyes and glanced at Henry.

Henry was very handsome, with a pair of gentle gold glasses on his face. He took a sip of the red wine in his hand and looked forward, “Look who it is?”

Holden looked up and saw the charming slender figure, Elena.

There was a man beside Elena, none other then the pot-bellied President Wang.

“Damn,” James slapped the table, “big brother, how come Elena is enjoying drinks with an old man, how dare she cuckold you!”

James took a wine bottle and was about to rush up.

Prince Huo, the little lord of Darenvil, said, “big brother, I will teach them a lesson to vent your anger!”
