

The Queen 1001

Chapter 1001: Forever

It was an offhand remark from Tan Jinsui. After Fu Mo heard it, she looked at Su Cha's clothes and smiled. "Classmate Su, they don't know that your clothes were personally designed by the chief designer. What if they make a statement saying that you are wearing a knockoff?"

Su Cha shook her head. She felt that Fang Yumo's management team would not be that stupid. "Even if they don't know about that, they should know I'm Hiberia's spokesperson. How can I be wearing a knockoff? And a fake version of my own brand at that?"

"It's hard to say."

Tan Jinsui shook his head and sneered. "Such things have happened in the industry before."

There was once a female celebrity who had negotiated an endorsement deal with a brand. In the end, something went wrong during the process of borrowing clothes. The studio had mixed up the original version with the knockoff version. The female celebrity did not know about it. After she wore it, she immediately enraged the big brand. They immediately terminated all her contracts and endorsements. From then on, the female celebrity's status in the fashion industry fell. As soon as she appeared, she would be mocked by thousands of people, saying she was wearing fake clothes. From then on, she never appeared in the industry again.

What Tan Jinsui meant was that since Fang Yumo's management team did not know about the truth, if they released such a statement...

That would be exciting.

Su Cha disagreed. "I don't think a person's IQ could be that low."

The discussion did not last long, and Su Cha did not take it to heart. Soon, they arrived at the awards ceremony.

The venue of the awards ceremony was naturally filled with people competing for attention. All kinds of gorgeous female and male celebrities entered the venue. Occasionally, there were also a few famous big shots.

It was dazzling.

Su Cha's order of appearance was not special. She was around the middle and the last position. It reflected her current status and popularity. There was nothing to worry about.

She was more concerned about her performance on the red carpet.

This was not the first time Su Cha would be walking the red carpet. Even though she only had experience with Chanel's big show, it seemed natural for her to appear on such an occasion.

When she stepped on the red carpet, she was dazzling.

Su Cha did not need anyone's company. When Su Cha walked forward alone, there seemed to be thousands of soldiers and horses behind her. Her aura really made the other female celebrities in the entertainment industry retreat. Tan Jinsui held his chin and clicked his tongue. "I had struck gold."

If this person was not Zong Yanxiu's daughter, he might not have accepted Su Cha.

In the beginning, he did not have much hope for her. Unexpectedly, the more he looked at her, the more he found her to be a treasure.

How did she train such a strong aura?

A hint of infatuation flashed in Fu Mo's eyes. "It's just like what she acted in the television drama. She's below only one person and above everyone else, right?"

Tan Jinsui's eyes flickered when he heard this. He glanced in Fu Mo's direction and suddenly raised his lips meaningfully. "Do you have other intentions, little girl?"

He spoke bluntly as if he'd noticed it from the beginning.

Fu Mo's expression froze before she smiled nonchalantly. "How would I dare..."

Tan Jinsui smiled and did not say anything.

Tan Jinsui knew that even if she did, it was impossible.

He looked at the dazzling woman in front of him leisurely. It was normal for such a person to attract the attention of all kinds of people.

Who would not want to stay by her side forever?

Chapter 1002: Unbalanced

Su Cha's appearance had successfully set off a small eruption. Since the last red carpet show, it had been a while since they'd seen her appear so dazzling.

They were used to seeing her in streetwear. Now that they were seeing Su Cha wearing a formal gown, the live comments of the live broadcast of the awards ceremony exploded.

[Ahhhh, I confess my love to my girl Cha!!!!]

[Empress Dowager Cha's aura is extraordinary, simply extraordinary!!!!]

[Su Cha's aura is too strong. It's a nightmare to appear with her!!]

[My girl Cha is too handsome. My girl Cha is too beautiful. Su Su Su Su Su Su Su Su Su Su.]

[Oh my god, what kind of devilish body is that? Oh my god, that stomach, those swan arms and butterfly bones, just let me die!!!]

[She has such a perfect figure and chest. I'm impressed!!]

[This gown is also explosive. Is it a new Hiberia dress? I've never seen it before.]

...

The live comments were lively, which went without saying.

The media was so excited that they wanted to raise their microphones in front of Su Cha to interview her. Unfortunately, it was still the red carpet segment, and there were many people behind her. Moreover, Su Cha was used to not stopping. She smiled slightly at the media as a response and slowly entered the venue of the awards ceremony.

The venue of the awards ceremony also broadcasted the scene outside, so many celebrities who'd already entered the venue saw Su Cha.

Some older artists could not help but praise Su Cha when they saw her appearance. "The younger generation will surpass us."

"What a beautiful girl."

"I heard that her acting is not bad. Han Yongbing even praised her last time. It's rare for Han Yongbing to praise someone."

"Even Mu Jiandong and Ji Shu said that this girl's acting is extraordinary."

"It's time for a young and talented girl to appear in our entertainment industry."

"Look at all the demons and monsters in the A-list..."

They were older artists to begin with, and many of them had heard from various sources that Su Cha was especially serious when filming. Moreover, her acting skills had won many praises, so naturally, they found her pleasing to the eye.

Of course, some A-list celebrities had different expressions.

Those with high emotional intelligence would naturally not show anything. Even if they did not like her, they would not lose their composure at such an important occasion. On the other hand, when Fang Yumo saw Su Cha walking in wearing a starry evening gown, her dazzling posture making it seem like the entire awards ceremony was for her, her eyes almost spewed out flames of jealousy.

Luckily, the manager beside her was being watchful. Moreover, the camera was facing them, so Fang Yumo did not do anything too directly.

However, she still rolled her eyes.

The manager felt helpless.

“Brother Tan will be coming in later. Be careful. He won’t give other artists any face.”

The manager gestured as he gave this warning. No matter what, Tan Jinsui was a senior. It didn’t matter that Su Cha was Fang Yumo’s junior, Fang Yumo could still not show such an expression.

“How unlucky. I didn’t expect her to wear the same color.”

After Fang Yumo sat down, she cursed under his breath. A female celebrity beside her heard it and felt awkward.

It was not that bad. One was pure white while the other was starry.

However, they still drew comparisons. The main reason was that Su Cha’s figure was too perfect. It was rare for female celebrities in the entertainment industry to be perfect to this extent. Her waist and hips were excellent, and her chest was also good. Most importantly, she was tall. Fang Yumo’s figure was also good, but she was a little short. The comparison would probably make her feel that it was unfair.

Chapter 1003: The Fake She’s Wearing?

It was as if God had showered all the blessings on one person.

Although she did not want to admit it, it was undeniable that Su Cha was such a person.

Moreover, Su Cha's seat was not far from Fang Yumo's. There were already female celebrities discussing.

"Hey, why haven't I seen the dress Su Cha is wearing before?"

"Is it new? The fabric and style are very similar to Hiberia's."

"I follow Hiberia's latest high-end releases. There's no such design, right...? Could it be custom-made?"

"Custom designs also get released in advance. Su Cha's outfit... I don't think it's in Hiberia's usual style."

"Which brand is she wearing?"

This was the topic of conversation between celebrities. Fang Yumo frowned in surprise. "Hey, is she wearing Hiberia's Haute Couture?"

The manager glanced at it. "I think so... yes? She's now Hiberia's spokesperson. What else can she wear but Hiberia?"

The confusion lay in that this style looked like Hiberia's at first glance. However, after careful examination, it seemed to have surpassed Hiberia's style.

Su Cha looked really good in it...

The manager realized this and could not bear to look away.

At this time, Su Cha had already reached a table not far from them. The table was for the main actors of "The Legend of the Crane": Mu Jiao, Shao Tianwen, and Hua Nie.

They looked at Su Cha with warm smiles and gave bright greetings. It was obvious that they had a good relationship.

Su Cha did not put on any airs or have stage fright. She was not intimidated at all in front of big shots. She greeted them all and sat down.

“One can tell that she’s quite well-liked,” the manager observed.

When he felt that something was wrong, he turned around and saw Fang Yumo staring at him.

The manager was scared and quickly comforted her, “I was just saying it casually. Madam, this is the venue of the awards ceremony. You have to control your expression!”

Her manager was sometimes very worried about having such an artist.

The main reason was that other people usually only had their faces to sell. When it came to someone like Su Cha, what peddling was necessary?

The discussions became more and more heated. A few female celebrities even asked fashion editors about it, but they said that they did not hear about any recent high-end releases from Hiberia. Usually, the designers of Hiberia would immediately display the finished product on their official website. Even if the customization personnel asked them to keep it a secret, it would not take long.

Because it was rare for the designers of Hiberia to design a Haute Couture piece for someone, it could be bragged about in the industry for a year and a half.

Not many female celebrities in the industry had received such treatment.

And the legendary chief designer was another matter entirely.

If Su Cha’s dress had already been customized long ago, even if it was a secret, something about it should have been leaked at least two days ago.

She seemed to have worn it from out of nowhere.

Fang Yumo seemed to have thought of something. From the corner of her eye, she glanced at Su Cha, who was chatting happily with Shao Tianwen and the rest. She could not help but elbow the female celebrity next to her. “Hey, Xiao Wei, do you think her Haute Couture is a knockoff of Hiberia? Did she wear the wrong clothes?”

Han Weiwei, who’d been hit by her elbow, had a stiff expression. She did not expect Fang Yumo to find trouble with her. She did not dare to say anything directly. She glanced at Su Cha and said carefully, “I don’t think so. No matter what, will her studio not recognize an imitation from the real one?”

Chapter 1004: Even If It Doesn’t Seem So Fake

“That might not be true. Didn’t something like that happen before?”

Fang Yumo seemed to have thought of something and became more certain. “I’ll get my assistant to check. There’s definitely no such dress online. It must be a knockoff.”

The manager’s face turned pale. “What do you want to do?”

Fang Yumo had asked her assistant to investigate something.

Su Cha naturally saw the twists and turns in her heart. Of course, the scene was too noisy, and with her hearing, she could not hear very clearly. However, even a fool could tell that Fang Yumo was looking at her as she spoke. There was obviously a problem.

And her assistant...

Su Cha curled her lips. Mu Jiao happened to ask curiously, “Su Cha, was this dress designed by Hiberia’s designers for you? I didn’t even hear about it from your studio. Such a beautiful dress should be allowed to shine!”

Mu Jiao’s words were purely out of kindness. Su Cha nodded and did not hide anything. “Sister Mu Jiao, I’ve just received this dress. I was also quite surprised. The thing is... the chief designer designed it for me personally. I didn’t know about this beforehand, so how could I have had the studio announce it in advance?”

“Chief designer?”

Shao Tianwen, Han Yongbing, and the rest widened their eyes.

Then, they looked at Su Cha and sighed. “How awesome...”

“Awesome!”

Other than remark how awesome it was, what else could they say?

Other than the rare ones from the European and American circles, there had never been a superstar who’d had such an honor. This was personally designed by the Chief Designer of Hiberia.

“They hadn’t informed you in advance. Could it be that they have other tricks up their sleeve?”
Shao Tianwen gossiped.

Mu Jiao, who was beside him, gasped in envy. “If I can have something designed by any of Hiberia’s designers, my ancestral tomb will catch fire. I don’t dare to think of getting the chief designer to design something for me.”

They were so excited that they were swearing. One could imagine how inflamed they were.

And it was not just one set!

Su Cha did not dare to confirm it. After all, she had not talked to the other party yet. But what if there really was a next time?

“Didn’t the chief designer say that you are their muse? You have fulfilled your promise.”

Han Yongbing’s words were meaningful. The people around them also understood. Back then, Su Cha could stand out among those from the European and American circles, and she was also called a Goddess Muse by the chief designer.

Now that the chief designer had personally designed a high-quality gown for her, she’d become worthy of this title.

What a muse. Such a dress was designed for Su Cha and it suited her so well.

It was simply perfect.

While they were chatting happily, Fang Yumo's assistant quickly came back. She whispered, "Sister Yumo, you'd guessed right. There is indeed no information on this dress on the official website, but I found a similar piece. It's from last year."

The assistant showed her the phone.

Indeed, it was a design similar to Su Cha's current dress. It was from Hiberia's line last year.

Judging from the style, there seemed to be something different. The manager felt that this information was not very reliable, but Fang Yumo looked like she had grasped something and said firmly, "Okay. It's fine if she's wearing a knockoff, but it's actually an old design from last year. Her manager is so brainless. How dare he let her wear this?"

The manager felt that something was wrong and quickly said, "The style of the waist and the subtle design of the shoulder are different, but the colors are similar. Even if it's a knockoff, it can't be so fake, right?"

Chapter 1005: Best Supporting Actress

"What? Didn't she wear the wrong clothes because she's too proud?"

Fang Yumo did not want to admit it. She felt that Su Cha had worn the wrong clothes.

It was not an issue for Su Cha to wear an old design. But the thing was, Su Cha was now a spokesperson for Hiberia. She was actually wearing an old design—and an imitation at that!

What did this mean?

It meant that Su Cha was not as important to the brand as they all thought.

Otherwise, why had there been no photos of Su Cha meeting the chief designer yet?

Many celebrities who'd entered the fashion industry were proud of being able to take pictures with the chief designer.

If that photo was released, it would bring honor to their ancestors!

On the other hand, other than the normal endorsement, there were no other photos of Su Cha.

It was not just because Su Cha was keeping a low profile and did not want to stand out. She was already a celebrity. Of course she would show off if she had resources. Could it be that she was hiding it?

It was not something to hide!

The more Fang Yumo thought about it, the more pleased she became. She immediately instructed her assistant to prepare for the awards ceremony and started to mess with the marketing account.

The manager wanted to stop her, but after Tan Jinsui came in, he sat next to him. He watched helplessly and did not dare to say anything.

Usually, the marketing account was controlled by their company, but Fang Yumo had a lot of power. She liked to interfere in such matters, so her thoughts could reach far.

The manager felt that something was wrong. Would Tan Jinsui really let Su Cha wear an imitation to show off?

Why did he feel that this was too stupid for even Fang Yumo to have fallen for it!

The ceremony started. Singers and celebrities went up to perform. Since Su Cha was not among them, she did not have to go up.

In the end, the best male lead award was snatched by Shao Tianwen. As for Sister Mu Jiao, she unfortunately lost to the older female lead of another drama.

Mu Jiao did not care. Before she came, she already knew whom she was pitted against. Moreover, she had already won this award before, so it was not a pity if she did not win it.

She was looking forward to Su Cha's turn.

When the Best Supporting Actress nominees were being announced, Mu Jiao could not help but push Su Cha. "It must be Su Cha. It must be Su Cha!"

"...This year's Best Supporting Actress is from 'The Legend of the Crane,' played by Su Cha, Yu Wan!"

After the host made the announcement, there were exclamations all around. They knew that Su Cha had a high chance of winning the award, but she really did win the best supporting actress award with this drama. Moreover, the best male lead was also from this drama. It was a drama on a level that could not be measured.

"Great, great."

Compared to Su Cha's normal reaction as she stood up with a smile and bowed politely to the people around her, Mu Jiao, Shao Tianwen, and the others beside her were even more excited than her. Their claps and smiles were so happy that they could burst out of the screen.

"It seems that My Girl Cha has a good relationship with the production crew. Even Sister Mu Jiao is smiling like this..."

"It seems that we were overthinking. The production crew is on good terms."

"I watched the whole process. People keep expecting drama between Su Cha and Sister Mu Jiao. If there are any such conflicts, I will twist my head off and kick it like a ball!"

[Best supporting actress, our girl Cha is amazing!!!!]

[Best supporting actress, Yu Wan deserves it!!!]

[The Goddess Muse has gone on stage to receive the award. I'm even more excited than if I was watching my child get first place. Her first award after debuting is from a drama. And she's a singer!]

Chapter 1006: Stupidity

Below the stage, Fang Yumo was grinning from ear to ear.

She was here to make an appearance, and it was normal for her not to receive an award.

However, when she saw the other contestant who had already accepted the award and was now leaving the stage in glory, she recalled that she had been in the industry for many years, but other than an empty movie queen award, for her, such formal events were basically just for show.

She felt indignant, but she thought that she had earned enough money.

To be honest, did she really not know at what level her acting was?

Not necessarily.

Fang Yumo definitely knew.

She had given up on herself because she had no talent for acting. But of course, she wanted to earn money.

With fame and status, it did not matter if she did not have acting skills. Her fans would pay for it anyway.

Although she was jealous, she still smiled brightly.

The hottest topic of this award ceremony was indeed Su Cha, who had won an award.

She was in high spirits as she stood on the stage. Her arrogance mixed with calmness made it hard for people to feel disgusted.

After the award ceremony, countless compliments and praises were heard. Even Tan Jinsui was trending.

Ever since he returned, he had been behind Su Cha, dealing with her matters. He seemed to have kept a low profile, but he also showed his face at this award ceremony. Naturally, he also benefited from it.

Seeing that Su Cha, who was led by Tan Jinsui, had officially won the first big award in her life, Zou Manni's fans who had some opinions about Su Cha slowly calmed down.

Although her results were not as good as Zou Manni's, her starting point was the same. It did not disgrace Tan Jinsui's reputation.

As soon as she received the award, Su Cha received congratulatory messages from all directions. Even her father, Zong Yanxiu, who usually did not ask her about the entertainment industry, called her to congratulate her. "Congratulations, daughter. The best supporting actress will be the best female lead next year."

"Thank you, Father!"

Su Cha, who had won the award, was naturally happy, but she informed Bo Muyi as soon as she came down.

Bo Muyi was in a meeting, but he replied to her message, indicating that he had seen the news. He naturally had to know about Su Cha's award as soon as possible.

Su Cha would share this joyous news with him.

The man's heart was filled with sweetness.

Of course, not long after the congratulatory news, controversies about Su Cha's evening gown suddenly appeared online.

[Shocking. A flower with the surname Su is attending an awards ceremony. She's actually wearing an imitation of an old design?]

[Su Cha's gown is not displayed on Hiberia's official website. Did you get the wrong outfit from the studio?]

[Su Cha is wearing the wrong gown. Hiberia has not responded for now.]

[As the spokesperson, she actually made such a big mistake!]

Many netizens who were happily watching the show were soon confused. Sigh, shouldn't they be happy after she won an award?

Why did they mention the gown so quickly?

Everyone did not know much about gowns, but many post-mortem fashion bloggers appeared. After a round of explanations, the netizens quickly found out the seriousness of this matter. It shocked everyone again. Was Su Cha going to fizzle out now?

The consequences of wearing the wrong gown were actually so serious!

However, as soon as the marketing report came out, Tan Jinsui reacted. The first thought he had when he saw the report was that Fang Yumo was really stupid.

Chapter 1007: Get Rid of Brainless People

Small and Tender Fashion Blogger: "The award ceremony was supposed to be a happy one, but I didn't expect such a blunder to happen. Su Cha's studio didn't do it on purpose, right? They gave an old imitation for their celebrity to wear? If so, Su Cha has been ruined by her team themselves. It's been reported that there's a response from Hiberia. Their current designers didn't design this dress... This is a sure sign that she is wearing a knockoff. [Picture] [Picture] [Picture]"

"Oh my god, I can't believe it. I think there's a big difference in the details. Even if it's an imitation, can it be so brainless?"

“I think the fabric Su Cha is wearing is of high quality. It’s the usual fabric work of Hiberia, but the style has changed. Maybe it’s a new designer’s work?”

“She is the Asian spokesperson. I don’t believe that this is her studio’s fault. Her manager is also Tan Jinsui. Are you guys crazy?”

“I’m just afraid that it would be a slap in the face if it was designed by a new designer.”

“It is a slap in the face. It’s said that buyers have gone to verify it. At present, no designer in Hiberia has claimed to have designed this dress. Who is she wearing if it’s not a knockoff?”

“Fang Yumo is wearing from their new line. But as a spokesperson, Su Cha actually wore an imitation...”

“She’s also an embroidery master. Can’t she tell if the clothes are right? I don’t believe this revelation.”

#Su Cha Is Wearing a Knockoff#

This topic quickly became trending, but it was unexpected how big of a commotion it caused.

Of course, the commotion was huge. Later on, someone went to Hiberia’s official website personally. They confirmed that the gown was not displayed on the official website, and it had not been included in any designer’s work for the time being.

Of course, they only said it was temporary.

However, the marketing accounts who had dug up the news quickly went crazy. It was as if they felt that they had drummed up the right rhythm. Hence, Su Cha, who was originally in the limelight at the awards ceremony, became a laughingstock in just one night.

As a spokesperson, she was actually wearing a knockoff?

Could it be that the studio did not distinguish clearly?

Not only did Su Cha's Hiberia endorsement fail, but she also failed in the fashion industry.

Which brand would dare to have a celebrity wearing a fake product endorse them?

And this was a world-class brand like Hiberia.

"I didn't expect you to be right."

When Su Cha saw the report, she was speechless.

She felt that normal people could not be so stupid, but Fang Yumo was so stupid that even Su Cha was surprised.

She did not even think about it. Su Cha was a spokesperson. Could it be that she did not know how to differentiate whether it was a designer's clothes or not? Would she even dare to wear just any gown?

The person in charge of Hiberia in the Chinese region had personally brought the clothes over. There was also a personal letter from the chief designer. Tan Jinsui had verified it immediately. He never made any mistakes.

After asking around, it was not difficult to find this out. She did not expect Fang Yumo to really take the bait.

She had basically slapped herself in the face for Su Cha to gain popularity.

Tan Jinsui sneered when he saw the report. "If you want to trick people, you have to pay the price. You didn't provoke her before, so how could she provoke you? This kind of woman is really brainless. It's good to get rid of her as soon as possible."

He was not much gentler than Su Cha, especially now that Su Cha had been wronged.

Originally, the matter had nothing to do with Fang Yumo. Now that Su Cha was deemed to be wearing a knockoff dress, there was a group of commenters praising Fang Yumo. There were even fans who said that Fang Yumo looked so good in that dress. Why wasn't she the spokesperson?

Yes, they'd have to ask Hiberia.

Chapter 1008: Fang Yumo Group

Tan Jinsui did not respond for the whole night.

The matter became bigger and bigger, making the netizens think that Su Cha's studio was a coward who did not dare to admit that she was wearing a knockoff.

They must still be thinking about how to save her.

Save?

Tan Jinsui did not panic at all. He first started to investigate the backgrounds of the marketing accounts that were spreading the matter in the beginning. Then, the Hiberia officials personally slapped them in the face.

Last night, they'd asked Hiberia about it, and the brand said that they were willing to clarify.

As long as Tan Jinsui made it clear that he was not acting on his own, Hiberia would not watch their chief designer be slandered. To think that the clothes that the chief designer designed would actually be regarded as fake...

The designers from Hiberia did not acknowledge this matter, and it was true that they had not been the ones who'd designed it. After all, the designers did not have the right to ask about the Chief Designer's work.

Now that the news had been spread, of course they would shut them up.

After most of the marketing accounts had been cleared, Hiberia officially posted on Weibo.

Hiberia's Official Chinese Instagram Account: "Our spokesperson, Miss Su, is wearing the 'Starry Muse Goddess' dress personally designed by Hiberia's chief designer, Augusta Fraser. She has appeared at the Chinese Awards ceremony and won the first Best Supporting Actress Award in her life. Let us congratulate Miss Su!"

This was not only posted on Weibo but also on Instagram. It could only raise Su Cha's ranking.

This was to announce to the world that their spokesperson's dress had been personally designed and certified by the chief designer!

Almost everyone in China was dumbfounded.

They had seen people clarify before, but they had never seen someone clarify so violently. This was almost something that had nothing to do with Hiberia. In the end, for a female celebrity, Hiberia actually announced her results directly. It was as if they were announcing to the world that the spokespersons under them were gradually rising, and they were broadcasting every growth process.

Or did you think that just because a Chinese female celebrity won an award, a luxury brand would post on Weibo about it?

Who cares!

The fashion industry was dumbfounded again. How did it become the chief designer's personal design?

Many fashion bloggers quickly deleted their comments and felt their faces burning in pain.

It was too late for those marketing accounts to delete their posts. The screenshots were everywhere. The netizens who had been watching the show the whole night were so excited that they could not stop. They all said that they were still not full. They still had room for more popcorn!

And it was posted on Instagram, which proved Su Cha's importance.

How could this be? This was the treatment you give to a biological daughter!

No matter how many female celebrities gritted their teeth in envy at this moment, it was Fang Yumo who panicked the most.

With the clarification, Tan Jinsui's revenge came.

The marketing accounts touting her name were being run by Fang Yumo's company. It was not just Su Cha this had been done to. Other celebrities who'd been suppressed by Fang Yumo or beaten up with various kinds of issues were uncovered. Now, all the masks had been taken off. There was even a WeChat screenshot of Fang Yumo's assistant personally contacting a marketing account.

This matter would announce what Fang Yumo had done to the world.

It was a public execution.

When the other celebrities first encountered it, they were originally uncertain. Now that they were sure that Fang Yumo had stepped on them, how could they not be angry?

After Su Cha's matter, #Fang Yumo's Marketing Group# was completely lambasted.

Chapter 1009: Who Is She?

[I didn't expect that my favorite celebrity was slandered by Fang Yumo...]

[It's too disgusting. There was a girl who was part of such a beautiful group back then, but she was suppressed by Fang Yumo.]

[Isn't this Fang Yumo too disgusting? Stepping on all the starlets?]

[It's just a matter of fact. In the past, people did not dare to provoke Fang Yumo. Now, Fang Yumo has directly provoked an iron plate. Damn it, even Zhang Sen Media bowed down to the little princess, and Fang Yumo still dared to promote herself while stepping on her? If she doesn't die, who will?]

[The Chief Designer's work was actually said to be a knockoff. I really don't dare to imagine the taste of those fashion bloggers. This batch was also figured out to be marketing accounts under Fang Yumo.]

...

Soon, the truth about Fang Yumo's marketing group was dug out.

It was fine before. After all, there was no evidence. There were many signs of celebrities using fake reviewers. But now, the accounts were being identified one by one, especially by those celebrities who had been stepped on by Fang Yumo in the past. It was disgusting.

“I’ve disliked her for a long time. She obviously had plastic surgery. There’s nothing left about her that she was originally born with. How could she have the nerve to announce that Su Cha should not surpass her?”

“She deserves it this time. I want to see how she will survive in the industry from here on. It’s fine if she offended others, but if she offended Su Cha, how will she still survive?”

“Jin Jiayu and the rest are silent now. Let’s see how long this Fang Yumo can last. I heard that Brother Tan even called to scold her personally. She had been warned after she made that post. But this time, she even slandered others, saying they wore a knockoff. She’s really capable...”

“Other things aside, Su Cha is indeed strong...”

“How can she not be strong? Tan Jinsui has a lot of connections. And behind Su Cha... I heard that he’s the one with the highest status in Imperial Mu...”

...

As this matter gradually fermented, everyone’s gaze had already shifted to Fang Yumo’s marketing group. News of accounts being settled kept popping up like bamboo shoots in autumn. Even if the substantial news did not have much to do with Fang Yumo, most of the announcements about stepping on celebrities were started by her at the beginning, so it was understandable for everyone to take revenge.

Her reputation in the industry was really bad. Even if it used to be bad, it was different from this kind of substantive stink. In the past, it was black and red, but now, it was purely stinky.

Brands had to reconsider the consequences of any endorsement deal they had with her. Even the big brands in her hands had started to be affected by this matter, and they had to face up to her endorsement contract.

There was no need for market capitalists to intervene in this matter. She had offended enough people. Even if the company wanted to protect her, there was no way to reverse the situation. She could still struggle for a while, but even after a long time, there was no chance.

Fang Yumo's side was completely terrified. They did not expect Tan Jinsui to be so thorough. His methods of revenge were so direct. Once he spoke, almost no media dared to stop him. Even if they offended the company behind Fang Yumo, they did not care. They had already offended Zhang Sen Media, so why would they be afraid of Fang Yumo's company?

"Apologize? Sorry?"

When Tan Jinsui transferred Fang Yumo's apology call to Su Cha, Su Cha could not be bothered to pick it up. Fu Mo was putting nail polish on her nails. As she was going to attend an important performance later, Su Cha looked like a pampered Empress Dowager. She could not make any unnecessary movements and just looked up with immense pressure. "No, I don't want to answer. Who is she?"

Chapter 1010: Why Didn't You Think About Today When You Were Being Tyrannical?

From the beginning, Su Cha had been saying that Fang Yumo was seeking her own death. Such a stupid person was not worthy of being an opponent.

Hence, Su Cha did not even scoff at Fang Yumo's apology. She simply did not want to respond.

Seeing that Su Cha had no intention of answering the phone, Tan Jinsui did not force her and dealt with it first.

On the phone, Fang Yumo was crying as she apologized. Her usually domineering voice was filled with resentment. Ordinary men would become gentle when they heard this, but Tan Jinsui's mind was filled with contempt for this brainless woman. Now that he was hearing it, he felt a headache. He felt really impatient and said, "Miss Fang, I'm very busy."

"Brother Tan, don't hang up. What do you think I should do to make you forgive me?"

At this moment, Fang Yumo did not care about her dignity anymore. It was mainly because something had started to go wrong with an endorsement deal that she realized the severity of the problem. In the past, if such a thing had happened, she could pretend that nothing had happened and avoid it. But now, she had also offended Hiberia.

It was said that even the agent and the designer who'd agreed to lend her clothes were punished.

Fang Yumo was dumbfounded.

She did not expect Su Cha to be so capable.

Hiberia was an overseas corporation. Even if Su Cha was their spokesperson, how much trouble could she cause?

Unexpectedly, she really underestimated Su Cha's status in Hiberia.

"Forgive you? Did Miss Fang do something shameful that requires forgiveness?"

Tan Jinsui's words were teasing, but in fact, it was heartbreaking.

Fang Yumo was stunned for a moment before crying loudly, "Brother Tan, I already said that I was wrong. I shouldn't have made that kind of post. I shouldn't have said that Su Cha was wearing a fake. Please let me off, okay? I'm willing to hold a press conference..."

"Come on."

Tan Jinsui did not want to listen to her whining. "Fang Yumo, you know better than me what the consequences will be if you hold a press conference. Your manager can still help you with this matter. From now on, keep a low profile and be a better person. Don't criticize everyone. Do you think you can afford to provoke every person in the industry? You know how you got here. Don't degrade yourself. Su Cha doesn't have time to deal with you. You don't deserve to make her worry. This ends here. How lucky are you to be able to hear as much from someone like me?"

Tan Jinsui hung up without mercy.

Fang Yumo collapsed.

The assistant beside her also turned pale. “Sister Yumo, what should we do?”

What should she do?

“What should we do?” Fang Yumo mumbled to herself. Her face was pale. She suddenly pushed the assistant away in agitation. “How would I know!”

She was going crazy!

And when she heard Tan Jinsui say that Su Cha had no time to deal with her, she became even crazier.

She thought about how others might have thought that she was an idiot from the beginning.

“Why? Why?”

Fang Yumo cried. She could not believe what had happened.

Why did she, Fang Yumo, fall to such a state in just one night?

Why...

The assistant also wanted to say, “Why didn’t you think about today when you were being tyrannical in the past...”