

The Queen 101

Chapter 101: Opinions

Chang Wugui did not accept the arrangement. “She is just a student. How can she lodge a complaint or hire a lawyer to sue me so easily?”

“What if she can?”

Cao Yanhua was afraid of the odds. “Didn’t you see that she is more certain than you are. You believe that she has cheated on the exam, but how can you be so sure? You have no evidence!”

Cao Yanhua knocked on the table and made a loud noise. The office was filled with him criticizing Chang Wugui, “Even if her grades have improved incredibly, you still have no evidence that can prove your words! Don’t you see it?”

Chang Wugui flushed immediately as he was ashamed of being scolded.

It was strange that Cao Yanhua believed Chang Wugui’s words at the beginning but now he was angry at him because of Su Cha’s words and attitude.

He had been pressed by her and could not say anything to refute.

How can I, the Director of Education, be taught by a student?

What does it look like?

Cao Yanhua realized it and unleashed his anger on Chang Wugui.

Other teachers gave Chang Wugui a glance. Fortunately, they knew his reason against Su Cha and did not help him much. Otherwise, they would suffer no less than Chang Wugui.

He Qun also sighed and left.

***

Su Cha returned to the classroom. The first class had begun.

The teacher was a little surprised at her return and sent her back to her seat before she could explain.

Le Anqi asked anxiously after Su Cha sat down, “What’s wrong? Why did Teacher He call you out?”

She was a little worried since her classmates said Su Cha might be a fraud.

Although she also felt shocked at her grades at the beginning, she did not believe that Su Cha had cheated. Besides, she had sat next to Su Cha during the exams. Su Cha had written all the answers on her own, nor had she looked in her phone. How could she cheat?

Her grades were true.

Although it seemed unrealistic, Le Anqi found it plausible that after she had been hexed, she might have changed everything...based on Su Cha’s recent behavior.

Su Cha shook her head with a smile, “Nothing.”

But she looked cold as she spoke.

Chang Wugui was aggrieved and would not give up so easily.

Su Cha was not clear about his reason against her though.

As she predicted, the thing did not come to an end.

She did not take exams under the eyes of all teachers, so some teachers distrusted her, especially Chang Wugui. He gossiped about Su Cha and called her a fraud in his class.

The message passed quickly among students. Soon Le Anqi heard the words and told Su Cha that not only students in Class Seven who were taught by Chang Wugui but also a few hard-working students in Class Two gossiped about Su Cha's cheating privately. They did not know how Su Cha had avoided the investigation of teachers, but they didn't think that she was capable of suddenly surpassing them.

That was mainly because Su Cha had got outrageously high grades this time.

Class Two also focused on liberal arts. After Su Cha came in 5th from the whole grade, she had surpassed most students of Class Two. Average students did not bother with it, but one or two students from the top five had opinions against it.

Chapter 102: Oh, This Dress is Gorgeous

Some can endure it, while others cannot.

Some students could concentrate on revision and not be bothered by the problems of others. At the same time, some started idling as innately they were academically inclined. This group of students also enjoyed poking their noses into others' business.

During the morning class, the teacher officially returned the answer sheets to the students. While the Math teacher, Zhao Zhizhong, was going through the questions with the class, they coincidentally stopped at a problem that Su Cha had solved. In Zhao Zhizhong's eyes, the question was a little challenging, and not many students in the class had managed to solve it. However, Su Cha had solved it correctly.

After thinking about it, Zhao Zhizhong instructed Su Cha to explain her method to the class.

The result was beyond his expectation. Su Cha went forward without her test sheet and solved the question perfectly on the whiteboard. There were no errors found in her interpretation and solution.

In other words, if Su Cha had copied her answer, how would she be able to solve it?

Although Zhao Zhizhong was in disbelief, he was also pleasantly surprised. If Su Cha's results were real, the emergence of such an outstanding student would benefit his teaching career.

Not only Zhao Zhizhong, but also the rest of the subject teachers started asking Su Cha to answer the questions after they discovered her vast improvement.

As usual, Su Cha answered the questions correctly in a calm and composed manner.

That came as a surprise for both the students and teachers.

After that, no one suspected Su Cha of cheating.

Su Cha answered all the questions well. If she had cheated during the examinations, how would she be able to copy the answers in such details? How would she be able to write out the interpretations of the questions and thought processes?

However, the rate of Su Cha's improvement was strange. In a short one month, how could she have improved from a mere 400 marks to the current 600 marks?

What's more outrageous was that she had attained a score that made her eligible for the top universities in the country!

Hence, all the students felt a little unsettled in their hearts.

During lunch, Cai Ziya could not help but praised Su Cha, "Su Cha, you are amazing! I have thought about the method you used to solve the math question, but I did not think about it as comprehensively as you did. So, I only managed to get it half right. How did you manage to improve so much in just one month?"

Cai Ziya had no malicious intent. Su Cha thought about it but did not know how to answer. Hence, she said, "I just revise normally, perhaps I got a little smarter."

Cai Ziya: "..."

Le Anqi: "..."

They almost believed her.

During lunch, Su Cha's mobile phone vibrated. She took a glance and saw a notification from the Pet Cat shopping site.

The buyer had received the item, the courier was indeed swift.

Su Cha checked to confirm the delivery receipt. Now, the payment for the goods would be transferred to her bank account over the next few days.

Just as she was about to exit the app, the buyer suddenly sent her a message.

I am a flying pig: Oh my god, the dress is gorgeous, it is stunning!!!! The embroidery is so good!! Store owner, how did you even embroider that!!! It's beautiful!!!

I am a flying pig: I like it, and it looks great when I wear it! Oh my, I love it!

I am a flying pig: Do you have any other similar clothes? I can buy a few more, I have money! Oh my, even if I have to survive on toast, I have to buy more clothes. I will leave you a good review now!

Su Cha: "..."

She had said that she had limited living expenses, but now she talks like a tycoon.

Chapter 103: The Privileged Girl

Although Su Cha felt grateful for her adoration, she had to explain a few things.

Store Owner: The price is based on how complex the embroidered patterns are. I can't be sure now. I haven't had much time to embroider recently. After I finish one, I will upload it to the store and you can check it out.

I am a flying pig: Okayyy.

Then she left a nice comment for Su Cha and uploaded a photo.

She had pixelated her face in the photo but still looked lively and cute in the long T-shirt with short hair.

The embroidery pattern of the kingfisher added a sense of freshness, which reminded people of nature.

It looked so real and proved that Su Cha was a master in embroidery.

And Su Cha had not shown her best techniques because of the limitation of materials.

After receiving a good comment, the store became 100% positive and got a little star.

Each good comment led to a little star. After having received 100 good comments, the store would be upgraded.

But it would take years for Su Cha to sell 100 products at her speed.

After the meal, Su Cha, Le Anqi, and others returned to the classroom to take a nap.

The second class in the afternoon was PE. The high school seniors did not have to concentrate on their studies all day. As they had few chances to relax, the school arranged a few PE classes for them to relieve their exhaustion and burden.

Class Five and Class Two took the same PE class.

The two PE teachers asked their students to run three laps around the playground and freed them while they laughed and chatted aside.

While they ran, Le Anqi and Cai Ziya approached Su Cha.

They did not exercise often and were out of breath soon. But Su Cha had kept exercising these past few days and used Heaven and Earth Origin Qi to strengthen her body, so she behaved very differently than before. After three laps, she didn't blush or gasp.

She ran slowly and steadily. Le Anqi did not notice the difference, but Cai Ziya followed them and gasped while she said, “Su Cha, did you see the student from Class Two?”

Students from Class Two were behind them. Each student had a different speed, as a result, some students of Class Two had got in Class Five’s lines. Su Cha looked back, not knowing which one Cai Ziya was referring to. “Yes, but which one?”

“Min Chen and others!”

Cai Ziya panted, feeling her body out of control. She tried to chat with Su Cha to distract herself, “Don’t tell me that you don’t know her.”

Su Cha nodded, “I’ve heard about her, but I don’t know her.”

That was true. Min Chen was different. She was a popular girl in the school.

Min Chen was good-looking, but not the campus queen. She had more popularity than the campus queen as the Vice Chairman of the Student Union.

Beautiful. Tall. Good in studies. 1st ranker in school each year.

At least for students of her grade, Min Chen was said to be a good student and a mountain lying before them. Allegedly, she was from a wealthy family, and her relative works in the provincial government.

She was a privileged girl.

Chapter 104: Yu Chuai

Of all the girls in school, the majority of them were envious of perfect children like Min Chen. Even notorious students like Yang Nuanru did not dare to find trouble with Min Chen.

Min Chen had outstanding grades for her science subjects, but she ultimately decided to pursue liberal arts and entered Class Two. To date, many teachers bemoaned her decision.

Cai Ziya stared at Min Chen with envious eyes, “When I told you to look at her, I wanted to let you know that the girl beside Min Chen, who is wearing glasses, is currently ranked 6th in our cohort after you took over her place in the examination. Because of that, the people who were around her started spreading some rumors about you...”

Speaking of that, Cai Ziya’s gaze turned delicate.

She knew that it was wrong to complain, but she wanted to let Su Cha understand what was going on.

Cai Ziya had relatively good grades and was part of a few study groups in the cohort. She had inadvertently joined a WeChat study group with Class One and Class Two students. In the WeChat group, Cai Ziya saw how a Class Two female student badmouthed Su Cha.

That happened at noon. As no teacher came forward to explain Su Cha’s incredible improvement in math or accuse her of cheating, many students were displeased and unconvinced.

After the morning classes, Cai Ziya and the rest of the class were confident that Su Cha did not cheat.

Students who cheated would not be as confident as Su Cha when they answer all the questions on the whiteboard.

Su Cha was calm.

After the incident involving the teachers, she knew that it was reasonable to have people doubt her significant improvement.

As long as the private discussions did not directly bother her, Su Cha was not bothered by them.

When the college entrance examination results are released, she would just enroll in the institutions she wanted. By then, the discussions and defamations by others would be like clowns making jokes.

As for the girls Cai Ziya was talking about, even if it was Min Chen, Su Cha would not care about them.

After the run, Cai Ziya and Le Anqi were paralyzed from tiredness. Without any consideration for their appearance, they plopped down on the grass field.

Su Cha stood right next to them. Her tall, slender figure blocked out some sunlight for her peers. Le Anqi and Cai Ziya could only vaguely make out the outline of Su Cha's figure, as she was blocking the sunlight with her body, her facial features were blocked by her own shadow.

At that moment, the duo felt more pressurized as they looked at Su Cha.

Su Cha exudes a natural, powerful aura. As they stared at her, the pressure from her aura felt stronger.

That was strange. After resting for a while, Le Anqi stood up.

"Su Cha, shall we look for a place to rest?"

Right after Su Cha agreed to Le Anqi's suggestion, she saw a girl heading straight towards them.

The field was huge. Although the girl was headed in their direction, she may not necessarily be looking for them. But, Su Cha had an intuition.

Le Anqi and Cai Ziya followed Su Cha's gaze, and they noticed the girl whom they were just talking about.

It was the girl who badmouthed Su Cha in the WeChat group, the one who wore spectacles, who was also sixth in the cohort.

Le Anqi muttered under her breath, "What's her name again?"

Cai Ziya thought hard about it, "I think it's Yu Chuai?"

During their short exchange, Yu Chuai got closer and closer to them. She was headed for them.

As she stood in front of Su Cha and her peers, she lifted her chin slightly. With a reserved yet arrogant tone, she said, “Hello guys.”

She sounded normal. Cai Ziya and Le Anqi glanced at each other in confusion while Su Cha ‘s eyes remained calm.

Chapter 105: Nonsense

Yu Chuai was a little irritated by these three silent girls. She frowned, “Su Cha, I’m here to ask you. How can you surpass hundreds of students and become rank 5 in the whole grade? Do you have any special learning method that we don’t know?”

If she had spoken nicely, Le Anqi and Cai Ziya wouldn’t have doubted it and would have just regarded her as a student asking sincerely for advice.

Su Cha just gave her an indifferent glance, “No.”

Her tone showed that she did not want to answer.

But Yu Chuai did not get it. She smiled at Su Cha’s words, “How come? You don’t have a good learning method but you’ve improved so greatly? Could it be that you have used some unusual methods to get the grades?”

She guessed viciously.

Le Anqi was a little irritated, “What’s wrong with you? You’re here to say that? You’d better have the evidence for it. The teachers haven’t said anything. Why are you so anxious? It’s because you can’t bear to be rank 6 under Su Cha, can you?”

Le Anqi said bluntly and mocked Yu Chuai’s soft spot.

Yu Chuai stared at Le Anqi, “I’m rank 6, but I’m still way ahead of you at the bottom. Besides, you aren’t sure how did she make it to rank 5, are you?”

She raised her brows self-importantly.

She seemed very proud of herself in front of the girls who could not compete with her at study.

Le Anqi wanted to curse her as she was never a good-tempered girl. But she heard Su Cha say gently, “Oh, you think that she doesn’t know better than you do?”

Yu Chuai turned to Su Cha to scoff at her, “They can be stupid but we are not. You treat people like idiots. How can you surpass hundreds of students to become one of the top six in the whole grade if you didn’t cheat?”

Su Cha held her arms and touched her forehead gently, “I can understand that you lost your mind after having been surpassed by me. But you need evidence to say things like that. How dare you say it on my face without any evidence? Do you know why Yang Nuanru stopped going to school?”

Yu Chuai’s face lost color after she spoke.

Le Anqi and Cai Ziya suddenly remembered how Su Cha had carried a stick to beat up those loafers the other day...

How could they forget that Su Cha even dared to beat Yang Nuanru and those unemployed men? Whoever came to show off before Su Cha was just seeking their own deaths.

Yu Chuai had also heard about the news. She was frightened but did not want to give in. She pretended to be easy, “Su Cha, I’ve done nothing to you. You’d better leave me alone. We are at school now! We suspect you on reasonable grounds. We don’t have evidence since we didn’t take the exams with you. Can you prove that you did not cheat?”

She was pestering Su Cha with unreasonable demands.

Whoever suspected had to provide evidence, but she suspected Su Cha and asked her to prove her innocence.

She was just like Chang Wugui.

I suspected that you cheated, and therefore you must have done it! If you say you did not, you have to provide evidence!

Le Anqi and Cai Ziya were amused by her nonsense.

Even if Su Cha did improve her grades greatly, it was unreasonable to accuse her with such nonsense.
