

The Queen 1051

Chapter 1051: Wedding

Although she was pregnant, her stomach was still flat after only two months.

Su Cha's figure was still perfect, so she looked unreal in the wedding dress.

The wedding gown was embroidered by Yun Zu.

It was in the Western wedding dress style, but there were many beautiful embroideries unique to the East added into the fabric. With the East and the West combined in it, it was a very elegant wedding dress.

It suited Su Cha.

There were two wedding gowns in total. One was embroidered by Yun Zu, and the other was a traditional Western-style wedding gown specially designed by the head designer of Hiberia when they found out that she was getting married.

At this moment, Su Cha realized that the chief designer was actually best friends with Bo Muyi's grandfather.

No wonder the chief designer praised Su Cha!

She knew that she did not have the ability to conquer this chief designer with just a photo...

"It's too beautiful."

Seeing Su Cha in her wedding dress, Le Anqi and Jin Mou could not help but praise her.

Zuo Zhici was also a bridesmaid, but as Su Cha's sister, she had to help entertain some guests.

Zuo Shaoxin could not forbid her to come. After all, Bo Muyi had asked it himself.

Su Cha did not have many female friends. It did not matter how many bridesmaids she had.

“Our Su Cha is really the most beautiful bride.”

Le Anqi’s mouth seemed to be smeared with honey. Su Cha smiled lightly. “I will also praise you when you get married in the future.”

“We are speaking the truth.”

Jin Mou smiled. “You are the prettiest.”

“Baby, did you hear that? Your mother is the prettiest!”

Le Anqi even moved closer to Su Cha’s stomach and spoke to the child in it. Su Cha did not know whether to laugh or cry. “It hasn’t even been three months. I don’t know if it has formed yet. It can’t hear anything even if you say that.”

“No can do, the prenatal education starts now!”

At this moment, Zuo Zhici ran out with her dress. “Sister, Sister, Sister, are you ready? You have to go out to meet the guests. Almost everyone is here! It’s almost time.”

It had taken a long time for them to decide on the wedding venue. In the end, the old lady made the decision to stay in the Lookout Pavilion. After all, it was a place with a different meaning.

Hence, this was the first time that the Lookout Pavilion was opened to outsiders after so many years. Bo Mui usually did not allow others to come.

If not for the sake of the marriage, many people would not have seen the real appearance of the Lookout Pavilion.

Su Cha nodded. “Yes.”

She had been busy for a long time before the wedding. She woke up early in the morning and took a long time to do her makeup and styling. She also had to prepare for work.

Overall, marriage was a very troublesome thing, but it was only once in a lifetime.

Of course, Su Cha was also sure that she and Bo Mui only had this one marriage.

She had not seen Bo Mui since she woke up in the morning.

The bride and groom could not meet today. Bo Mui was probably still greeting guests outside.

She thought of Bo Mui and could not help but smile. Although they had registered their marriage the day before yesterday, they were really getting married today. Thinking of this, she still felt strange.

Her heart was beating faster than usual. She walked out quickly. Behind her, Jin Mou asked her to slow down. The main reason was that the hem of Su Cha's wedding dress was too long. The bridesmaids had to hold her in case Su Cha accidentally tripped. It was too scary.

Chapter 1052: Will Stay by His Side Forever

In the garden of the Lookout Pavilion, countless luxuriously dressed guests had gathered.

This place was huge. It was so big that people could get lost here.

Of course, no one knew that not far from here was the area of the ferocious beasts...

As it was a special day, the beast section was closed for fear of scaring the guests.

Blue Sky was not released. It could only look over through the fence. It could vaguely see that it was very lively there, but it was very angry that it could not come over.

At this moment, the place was filled with flowers representing marriage. They had been specially arranged and there were also some carefully prepared accessories and props.

The guests sat on white chairs and whispered with their dates to the wedding.

Bo Mui was talking to a few important guests. It was that he was so happy, and his lips were curled up.

His face was as perfect as ever. He was wearing a specially tailored groom suit. His figure was tall and straight, so perfect that no one could find any flaws in him. His aura was also extremely strong. Many big shots who had been in the business world for many years could not suppress Bo Mui's aura.

His deep and ink-like eyes, even if they occasionally flashed with a fierce look, were still so handsome that they made people's hearts beat faster.

There were many young ladies from aristocratic families who came to attend the wedding today. In the early years, they did not pursue Bo Mui because they suspected that he was gay and fierce.

Now that they were attending his wedding, their hearts were breaking.

But it was too late.

Of course, they also wanted to see how beautiful the bride would be today.

"Is she here?"

Tan Jinsui was also wearing a suit. He looked at his watch and saw that it was almost time.

The guests were already in position and were waiting for the bride to appear.

"Coming, coming..."

Some people started to whisper with curiosity in their eyes.

As they discussed, a white figure walked out from the garden.

Su Cha held Zong Yanxiu's arm and walked out slowly.

She was wearing a white wedding dress, which accentuated her beautiful figure. She was like smoke, dreamy and ethereal.

When she walked slowly towards Bo Muyi, it seemed that only the two of them were left in the world.

The man standing there was the man she loved the most in her life.

Many things had happened between them. After going around in circles, they finally had a happy ending.

Under the stunned gazes of the guests, she walked towards him. Every step seemed to be a step towards his heart.

When he saw the girl in the wedding dress walking over, his eyes darkened. At that moment, his heart seemed to be satisfied to the extreme. Joy spread to every corner of his body. He looked at her and could not help but smile.

This was his lover, the only one in his life, Cha Cha.

Su Cha, if there is a next life, it would still only be you for all eternity.

There was no special reason. Perhaps the moment he woke up and saw her, he knew that Su Cha would be his only choice in life.

In his memory, the little girl was flustered the first time she saw him. "Why... why are you crying?"

He would probably never forget the kiss she gave him when he was young.

"Baby, be good. Baby, don't cry..."

At that time, he was wondering how such a cute girl could exist in this world.

Now, this cute girl had become his bride.

She would stay by his side forever.

Chapter 1053: Little Prodigy

After the wedding, it was time for their honeymoon.

Bo Mui had prepared a honeymoon trip that lasted for half a month.

As she had just gotten pregnant and Su Cha had become more sensitive, Bo Mui brought Su Cha to many places.

The two of them were purely out to play. As Su Cha was not even three months pregnant, she could not participate in any dangerous activities.

In half a month, Bo Mui brought Su Cha to several places.

These places were memorable to Bo Mui because his parents had taken him there before.

Now, he brought Su Cha to these places as a form of nostalgia.

However, Su Cha's temper had become strange after she got pregnant. Moreover, she could not control herself.

That feeling was too scary. It was as if she had become a completely different person. She had always been proud of her self-control, but pregnancy was really devastating.

For example, during the trip, Su Cha would suddenly kick Bo Mui awake in the middle of the night. The reason was that his arm was pressing on her hair while she slept.

Bo Mui: "..."

When he used to sleep, he would basically press her hair every day. Su Cha had never said anything.

After she got pregnant, the details were magnified.

Of course, Bo Mui naturally endured it. He knew that Su Cha's bad temper was caused by her pregnancy, so he changed his posture without saying anything. He gathered her hair and said hoarsely, "I won't press on it like this."

"But you won't know after you fall asleep."

Su Cha was still dissatisfied. She could not help but feel irritated. "Don't hug me."

Bo Mui's eyes darkened.

Su Cha was being a little unreasonable now. If it were in the past, Bo Mui would definitely be unhappy. Now that he was woken up by Su Cha, he was probably still sleepy. He stared at Su Cha and retracted his hand.

There was a gap between them.

Su Cha reluctantly fell asleep.

When he heard her even breathing, the man who had his eyes closed slowly placed his hand on her waist and hugged her.

Su Cha did not respond.

Bo Mui fell asleep in satisfaction.

Of course, there were countless such trivial matters. Sometimes, Su Cha knew that she was being unreasonable, and she would sit there broken down and look at Bo Mui with an aggrieved expression. "I also know that I've gone overboard. I just can't control myself. I don't know why."

In the past, she would not have such a big reaction when something happened to her. Bo Mui even found a psychiatrist, but the psychiatrist said that this was normal.

During pregnancy, pregnant women would sometimes feel pressured for no reason. Any small matter would touch off their sensitive nerves.

At this time, her family had to care for her. Otherwise, it could develop into prenatal depression. It was a serious matter.

Bo Mui doted on the unreasonable Su Cha. Naturally, he would not blame Su Cha. Every time Su Cha lost her temper and apologized, he would say, "It's not your fault. It's all the fault of the little baddie in your stomach."

The child's mother had already become like this before it was even born. What would happen when the child was born?

Bo Mui would deal with them after they came out.

After the honeymoon trip, Bo Mui told his grandma about Su Cha's situation. The old lady naturally said that it was understandable since she was pregnant.

Chapter 1054: No Trouble

But Tan Jinsui and the rest could not understand.

Su Cha's behavior was obvious to everyone. Bo Mui was often by her side. He could take it with his temper, but as her grandfather, Zong Bingyi could not.

After Su Cha got pregnant, she would occasionally return to the Zong family home to stay there. Zong Bingyi could not stand it...

He even asked Zong Yanxiu to persuade Su Cha to return to the Lookout Pavilion.

Zong Yanxiu was a little helpless. His daughter was pregnant and her temper had become bad. She could not control it. They just had to endure these next few months.

Hence, before the child in Su Cha's stomach was born, it was given the title of a little master.

They believed that if not for this child, Su Cha would not have become like this.

As Su Cha's stomach grew bigger day by day, her emotions gradually calmed down.

Thinking back to how she was a few months ago, Su Cha found it unbelievable.

She actually changed so much?

Of course, now that she was pregnant, she rarely appeared in public. Occasionally, she would go out for a walk with Bo Mui, then shop at the supermarket and meet Tan Yeluo for tea.

However, ever since Tan Yeluo learned about Su Cha's pregnancy, she kept saying that she was busy whenever they met again...

Even Le Anqi and Zuo Zhici said so.

Fortunately, in the next few months, Su Cha slowly regained her former personality and often went out with Le Anqi and the rest.

Of course, just because she did not appear online, it did not mean that there was no news about her.

Occasionally, there would appear on the news a photo of a pregnant person. It had been half a year.

She did not hide anything, so her pregnancy was more obvious. However, she was only pregnant with a fat belly. Her size did not change much, and even her face did not change.

If not for her stomach, it would be hard to imagine that she was pregnant.

[F*ck, female celebrities nowadays have cheat codes when they are pregnant... Su Cha is pregnant, but it's as if she is not pregnant. She only has a fat belly. This is too ridiculous...]

[Her face is still so exquisite, her legs are still so long, she did not gain any weight...]

[Rich people are indeed different when they are pregnant. I'm so envious that I'm crying.]

[We are both humans, but why is the difference so huge? Isn't this pregnancy figure too good?]

...

Every time her photo was posted, it would attract envy.

After all, it was normal for women to lose their figures when they were pregnant. Many people even became old women when they got pregnant.

It was rare to see someone as beautiful as Su Cha.

Pregnant women like her were usually more disciplined.

Of course, apart from practicing martial arts occasionally, Su Cha did not exercise.

After all, she was cheating...

Other than the pregnancy photos, she did not see any other news. It was really low-key, but Bo Muyi would accompany her every time she went for a checkup.

Bo Muyi was also very responsible during Su Cha's pregnancy. Su Cha did not care about anything now. Bo Muyi was preparing the nursery and the child's future education.

No one told Su Cha what a pregnant woman should do for a child. The old lady said clearly, "It's hard enough for you to be pregnant. Let the father worry about the rest."

The Bo family was grand, so other than the fact that her mood had changed due to her pregnancy, Su Cha spent the rest of her time happily without any worries.

Chapter 1055: Birth

During this period, Su Cha's movie, "He Chun," was scheduled to be released at the end of the year.

In other words, Su Cha did not have much work before giving birth.

"He Chun" was aiming for an award, but it was too late. The awards would be released next year.

It seemed that after she got pregnant, Su Cha was not as enthusiastic as before.

After all, her life was already complete.

In this way, after ten months of pregnancy, Su Cha's child was born.

That day was just a normal day. According to the doctor's estimation, the child would land safely during the expected date of delivery.

It hurt when she gave birth, but Su Cha's body was good and she did not suffer much. After she entered the hospital, she gave birth to the child an hour later.

During the past few days, when she was about to give birth, Bo Muyi had been by her side. After the child landed, the exhausted Su Cha was pushed out. Bo Muyi did not have the time to worry about the child. He went forward and looked at Su Cha worriedly. "Cha Cha, was giving birth especially hard?"

Su Cha was a little weak and her face was still pale. After all, giving birth was a tremendous thing. "It's okay..."

It was not as scary as she'd thought.

Bo Muiyi's expression was not good. He touched Su Cha's cheek and kissed her gently. "We won't have more children in the future."

Bo Muiyi would not want to have a second child who'd make Su Cha suffer so much.

The old lady and Zong Yanxiu, who were all smiles, came over to greet Su Cha. Seeing that Su Cha was going to rest now, they went to see the child.

Bo Muiyi did not follow them. Su Cha was pushed into the VIP ward to rest. She frowned. "I just heard from the doctor that the child seems to be a boy..."

"Hmm..."

Bo Muiyi was not concerned and answered absent-mindedly. Su Cha looked at him. "Aren't you going to take a look?"

"No, Grandma will carry him over when the time comes. I'll accompany you here."

He only had eyes for Su Cha, especially after she had given birth.

The nurse who came to take care of Su Cha could not hide her envy when she saw Bo Muiyi like this.

In the hospital, they had seen too many pregnant women come and go. People went to see the children after the birth. Almost no one cared about the woman lying on the bed. Usually, people would just ask the pregnant woman's family to care for her.

And wealthy families like this tend to be even more cold.

They had never seen anyone like Bo Muiyi, who did not care about the child's birth at all and only cared about his wife.

Moreover, her in-laws were not bad. They only visited the child after they'd seen the mother.

Su Cha must be living happily.

The doctor and nurse could tell that she had married a good person.

No matter what, Su Cha was very lucky to have found a man like Bo Mui.

After a while, as the news of Su Cha's child's birth spread, Le Anqi, Zuo Zhici, Jin Mou, and Jin Duan, as well as Tan Yeluo and the rest, came with gifts. Everyone was quite happy. They came to see Su Cha first before going to see the child.

During this time, Su Cha was busy greeting them. When she woke up, she saw her child.

He was a pink and sticky ball, and he was still a little wrinkled after he was born. The old lady and the rest praised him for being especially good-looking.

It's taken for granted that Bo Mui and Su Cha's genes were definitely not bad. In this child, Su Cha and Bo Mui's traits were unified.

He was just born and was still a little ugly...

Chapter 1056: Pea

His nickname was Pea.

Why was he called Pea? It was because Su Cha liked to eat peas when she was pregnant with him.

His name was Bo Suchen.

The name "Little Prodigy" did indeed suit him.

A few days after he was born, Su Cha also announced the birth of her child to her fans, causing the Weibo trending searches to explode for a few days.

But for the sake of the child's privacy, she did not reveal the child's photo.

There was only a photo of a little finger.

Everyone was happy that the child was born, but before long, Su Cha and Bo Mui could not take it anymore.

If she had raised a child before, she would know that the child would usually make a scene at night.

The Little Prodigy Pea would especially pick the time to make a scene when they were sleeping soundly. Once he made a scene, half the night would be lost.

After eating and drinking, he'd also make a scene. The main thing was that he did not cry and just hummed there. Su Cha and Bo Mui were both light sleepers. They would be woken up by the slightest noise, and then they'd sleep only to be woken up by Pea again...

When Su Cha and Bo Mui continued to sleep, he'd start to hum again.

After a few days, with a gloomy face, Bo Mui hired dozens of nannies.

The old lady originally wanted Su Cha and Bo Mui to take care of the child themselves, but after experiencing the torture of Pea, she let the nannies take care of him.

After feeding the child for a while, Su Cha returned to work.

However, she usually took on jobs in the Imperial Capital and would come back when she could.

Pea did not like strangers, but he was clingy. He was especially clingy to Su Cha and not Bo Mui.

He chuckled when Su Cha hugged him. He was expressionless when Bo Mui hugged him.

Of course, his father was not willing to hug him.

After Tan Jinsui heard about Pea, he could not help but sigh. "I was right when I said that it's going to be a prodigy..."

And the child was a boy too.

Bo Muyi was already unhappy that Su Cha had given birth so early. He reckoned that this child would have a conflict with his father in the future...

Not long after the child was born, Su Cha's new movie, "He Chun," was released.

This was Su Cha's debut on the big screen. She wanted to watch the premiere, but she was pestered by Pea and did not go.

He cried as soon as she left.

Sometimes, his crying would give Su Cha a headache. She hugged the child and sighed when she saw the child's pink and tender face. "Pea, I want to go out to watch a movie. Can't you let me go? Can't you be good and go mess with your father?"

At this time, Pea was less than a month old. As soon as he opened his eyes, he'd display the jet-black eyes that resembled Bo Muyi's. He looked at Su Cha steadily and smacked his lips, revealing a smile.

He mewled like a kitten.

Seeing Pea like this, Su Cha's heart melted. She could not help but touch Pea's little face. At this time, Bo Muyi walked in from outside.

The smile on Pea's face slowly faded. Su Cha wanted to carry the child to Bo Muyi. When Bo Muyi reached out to take him, Pea's expression changed. "Wow..."

Bo Muyi sneered and retracted his hand. Pea immediately retracted his expression and spat.

Su Cha: "..."

This child was only a month old!

Of course, sometimes, children were purely unconscious. If others wanted to hug them, they would make a scene.

However, Bo Muyi felt that this child deserved a beating.

He was too young now and could not be straightened up. When he was older, he could slowly set him straight!

Chapter 1057: Untitled

As Pea slowly grew up, Su Cha started to let him get used to not having her around occasionally.

She would still go out to take on roles.

Perhaps because she got married too early and the characters she chose were from perfect scripts, even if Su Cha continued to act and sing, the netizens started to get used to her work rhythm. There were no gossips or messy scandals. Su Cha's work in the entertainment industry could be said to be unique.

No one pressured her, and she did not act like a big shot. Occasionally, she would interact with her fans. The most common thing she did was to show her child's pictures on Weibo, but she did not show his face.

This was quite infuriating.

Tan Jinsui had two artistes under him. Zou Manni was at home and was not in the mood to work. Su Cha was also quite a Buddhist when she'd take on a job. Even her fans started to learn how to be Buddha-like.

Although Su Cha did not seem to be doing anything earth-shattering and did not often appear on the trending searches after her marriage, the netizens were surprised to find that her acting was getting better and better, and her album quality was also getting better.

When “He Chun” was released, it received unanimous praise from the audience and film critics.

This was a plain story.

With the backdrop of a movie, the story was about the life of a young lady from an ancient family. There was no soul-stirring story, only a detailed description.

It was true that it was not as popular as mainstream commercial films, but the audience who watched it would subconsciously be immersed in it. Su Cha’s performance of He Chun was immersive. They watched her smile or frown in sadness, and when they came back to their senses, they realized that their eyes had become moist.

Hence, although the box office was not too explosive, under the publicity of good reputation, the box office of “He Chun” that was originally estimated to be 100 million gradually reached 200 million.

[He Chun, you give me a flat feeling of wanting to object to the ancient feudal ideals. Although it’s very old-fashioned, I have to say that such an ancient setting surprisingly fits Su Cha. Most importantly, Su Cha gives me the feeling that she’s really like a woman from that era. The difference is that her image of Yu Wan, the evil concubine, is too deep in my heart...]

[If Yu Wan was the evil concubine who brought disaster to the country, He Chun was an innocent young lady from ancient times. She is equivalent to a fair, rich, and beautiful lady who grew up in a greenhouse. She is kind, but she is unwilling to live an ordinary life. Most importantly, the angle of the story is very warm. It is not so aggressive. It gives people the feeling that it was done in one go from beginning to end.]

[I can tell that the production crew was quite serious. Many things in the drama are based on ancient texts. I recommend this film.]

[To be honest, I would rather have more actors like Su Cha. Although she has married a rich husband, I have to say that she is serious about the script. If I were her, I would have drifted off to god knows where...]

[‘He Chun’ is aiming for an award, right? I think it’s rare to see a movie from this angle. She will probably win an award next year, and her acting skills are really good. If she wins the Best Actress award next year, she’d be a 20-year-old Best Actress... How awesome!]

[The production crew was ambitious. It can be seen in everything that they were quite serious and meticulous. Su Cha's acting was excellent.. The male lead role played by Hua Nie was also remarkable. But... why do I feel that the side profile of He Chun's kiss scene doesn't look like Hua Nie's, but Su Cha's husband????]

Chapter 1058: Good Comments

“He Chun” was showered with praises. Although the box office was not shocking, it was a profit to break through 100 million. Especially since, after the final screening, the box office was 300 million.

For a literary film, or even an ancient setting literary film, this box office was already quite amazing.

Especially since Su Cha was the main lead.

Moreover, many people were shocked that Su Cha was willing to star in such a film.

The Most Realistic Movie: “Let's discuss this rationally. In the entertainment industry, is an actress like Su Cha good or bad? She has married a rich husband, so she doesn't have any financial troubles. The projects that she starred in were also different from those chosen by the current female celebrities. They were all films that tested her acting skills. Now that she's won the best supporting actress in the drama award, people in the industry say that if nothing goes wrong, she will most likely succeed in becoming the best female lead next year. In this way, Su Cha will become the youngest movie queen in the entertainment industry...”

“The Golden River nominations have not been announced yet, but there's no need for you to worry about my Cha Niu. I don't dare to think about the Golden River Best Actress award, but thank you for your affirmation of Cha Niu's acting skills!”

“To be honest, I'm also a passerby. Whether Su Cha has married well or not is another matter. At least I think there's nothing wrong with her attitude. Ever since she debuted, whether it's her album or her acting, anything she produced was all right for the masses. Moreover, almost all the actors she worked with praised her. I've never seen anyone speak ill of her. This is enough to prove a person's character. I definitely hope that there will be more such actors. Look at the current actors, those groups of demons that are dancing about...”

“At least there’s nothing wrong with her acting. Her singing and acting are not harsh to the ears or eyes. As for the Golden River award, I think she’s too young. They might not give it to her.”

“If she wins in the Golden River award, she would be the only one in the entertainment industry that no one will dare to obstruct her, right?”

“To be honest, with her status, if she really took the Golden River award, would anyone say that it was a conspiracy...”

“Compared to other celebrities who scour Weibo to delete comments that are detrimental to them, I know that Su Cha doesn’t care about comments about her that anyone posts on Weibo...”

“What shady dealings? Logically speaking, there are a few movies that might be nominated for the Golden River next year. I really don’t think anyone can compete with ‘He Chun.’ The others’ themes are too tacky, and the intentions and genre of ‘He Chun’ are quite rare. If the industry wants to support her, it’s not impossible for Su Cha to win an award. She deserves the support.”

After some bloggers posted about Su Cha, most of the replies were from passersby, but they surprisingly supported Su Cha.

If it were anyone else, they would have been mocked for commenting about her getting the movie queen award from the Golden River. But because of “He Chun,” many passersby supported her.

This situation was beyond Tan Jinsui’s expectations.

However, he quickly understood.

Actually, it was easy to explain. After all, there were too many impetuous people in the industry. People were used to seeing all kinds of actors who were willing to take on shows for money. It was rare to see an actress who was not impetuous, who seriously filmed, and who got married very early. She did not care if her popularity would drop at all and just concentrated on her work.

Most importantly, Su Cha did treat it as a job.

She would take her own matters seriously. After “He Chun” came out, Su Cha thought for a while and decided to continue with her studies. She would continue filming when she was about to graduate.. This way, it would be easier to leave Pea.

Chapter 1059: I Hope Su Cha Will Win the Award

Of course, she would occasionally record a new song or receive a good script. If there was a role that suited her, she would also join a production crew for a period of time to film it as a form of training.

The news about her was also very normal. Occasionally, whenever she appeared anywhere, she would be photographed carrying a child. There were a few times when she was photographed with Bo Mui.

Of course, they did not dare to show his face. This news was posted by the paparazzi. Every time it appeared, it would easily cause a commotion. Su Cha did not care. As a celebrity, this was normal.

Even if there was no news for a long time, she was not afraid that people would forget her.

Who wouldn't pay attention to a female celebrity married to a world-class tycoon?

Many people were looking forward to their divorce.

Although it was not a good idea to rely on her husband for attention, Su Cha never cared about it.

If she cared, she would probably have hidden Bo Mui until she was 30 years old.

As for the child...

“Pea, Pea, say Mom, call me Mom... Mom...”

In the blink of an eye, Pea had aged a few months. He could turn over and barely sit up straight. His facial features had almost grown out, and his eyes were dark. His eyelashes were long and thick, and his eye sockets looked very much like Bo Mui's. When the old lady saw him, she said that this child looked exactly the same as Bo Mui when he was young.

He was too good-looking.

But Pea was more likable than Bo Mui.

Bo Mui did not like to laugh when he was young. Pea would laugh whenever he was teased by Su Cha.

He was more cheerful.

At this time, he was gradually making sounds. He wanted to speak, but he could not say things clearly. Su Cha started to teach him to call her Mom. Pea looked at Su Cha and smiled foolishly. His eyes curved into crescents, but he could not say it.

His smile melted her heart. Su Cha hugged and kissed him a few times before she received a call from Tan Jinsui.

"You've been nominated for the Golden River best female lead award!"

His voice was a little excited. The main reason was that compared to last year's Best Supporting Actress award, this year's Golden River Best Actress award was one of the most important awards in the entertainment industry. Of course, it was not without reason, but compared to many obvious things, this award was much better.

At least, there were a few female celebrities in the A-list who had never won this award.

Moreover, Zou Manni had won several other important awards before.

"I've really been nominated?"

Hearing that she was nominated, Su Cha was surprised. "Who are the nominees for the same season?"

As she was taking care of her child and was studying, she had never paid attention to other outstanding movies in the industry.

She only knew that some box office sales had exploded.

“Currently, it’s ‘Road,’ ‘Dreams,’ ‘Harvest Season,’ and ‘Hanzhong Language.’ There are a total of five movies. Your ‘He Chun’ is the last nominee, but the box office of the other four movies are not as good as your ‘He Chun.’ Moreover, the others have clashed with the previous award-winning movies. If they have the intention to support a new theme this year, there’s a high chance that your ‘He Chun’ will break through the encirclement. Moreover, not only has it been nominated for the Best Female Lead, but we also have the Best Costume nomination. If nothing goes wrong, we will definitely win.”

If Su Cha could win this award, she would really be unique in the entertainment industry.. Tan Jinsui also hoped that Su Cha could win it. Otherwise, would he want others to win it?

Chapter 1060: Untitled

“We can’t be sure. Can we know the results in advance?”

“No, the judges this year are all wily old foxes. They won’t listen to anyone. It’s only during the awards that we’ll know. However, this is also beneficial. No one dares to tamper with it. Whether you can get the award will depend on your ability. After all, the other female celebrities have status in the industry. There’s even a big star among them, but I think her acting is bad. The nomination depends on her acting skills, but her character image is not good.”

Tan Jinsui had the time to comment on others, which made Su Cha feel a little helpless. At this time, Pea probably saw that her mother had been talking on the phone for too long and started to make “yiyaya” sounds. Tan Jinsui heard it and smiled. “Okay, play with Pea. I won’t disturb you.”

After she hung up, Pea chirped happily. Su Cha could not help but rub his cheek.

After news about the nomination of “He Chun” was posted online, some people were quite surprised.

After all, Su Cha was too young. Now that the main lead of “He Chun” had been nominated for the Best Actress in the Golden River awards, if she really won, wouldn’t she directly reach the peak of her life?

Of course, it had not been won yet, but it did not stop people from discussing it online.

There were still two months to the award ceremony. Many people guessed that Su Cha did not have a high chance of winning the award. After all, a big starlet was also nominated this time. In terms of acting skills, she had more experience than Su Cha.

Of course, there were also people who, like Tan Jinsui, pointed out that the role of that leading actress this time was not done well. It was just that her acting skills passed. The judges judged the character based on the character’s wholeness and the actor’s intention. Sometimes, having good acting skills did not mean that any character could be controlled. They said that in terms of the character’s brilliance, that leading actress could not compare to Su Cha’s “He Chun.”

Although they did not say it explicitly, it still made some of that female celebrity’s fans unhappy.

They mocked Su Cha for stepping on her seniors just for getting nominated. What if she really won the award?

Of course, although Su Cha kept a low profile and her fans followed the Buddhist school, she was not someone to be spoken nonsense about.

Soon, most of the commenters were uncovered to be passersby. The role played by that leading lady was already talked about on the Internet. She failed at it, so could she not be criticized?

Su Cha was very popular. After this fight, it was revealed that Su Cha’s fans were extremely strong. At the critical moment, they displayed evidence and data. Soon, they’d shot down all the other female celebrity’s fans. They could only pretend that nothing had happened. They only said that no one could know who would take the Golden River award.

This was a small farce. Before anything could happen, it was extinguished by Su Cha’s fans. Naturally, Su Cha could not be bothered with it.

She did not care if she won the award or not. If she could not, she would continue to film and train herself. One day, she would get it.

She liked acting.

Unexpectedly, that leading lady was worried that her fans' comments would affect Su Cha and called her to apologize.

With her status, she would definitely not apologize to Su Cha, but who asked the person behind Su Cha to be so awesome?

Of course, Su Cha did not know whether to laugh or cry. As long as others did not cause trouble behind her back, she did not care about the fans' comments. After the two of them made things clear, there was no conflict.

That leading lady and Su Cha comforted their fans and let this matter pass.