

The Queen 1062

Chapter 1062: Best Actress

Su Cha smiled as she thought about this. The car drove to the venue of the Golden River Awards Ceremony. Tan Jinsui also instructed her about something. “I’ve asked around about the award, but I haven’t found out anything. They’ve kept it very well hidden this year. If you don’t win the award later, remember to congratulate the other party with a perfect smile. Other people will have something on you.”

Su Cha snorted. “I don’t need you to teach me that. I’m mentally prepared.”

“What if she wins the award? Has Classmate Su thought about what to say?”

Fu Mo was very confident in Su Cha and felt that she would definitely win the award.

The results were not recorded on a computer. The judges had voted in person, so she did not know the results.

Su Cha thought for a while and chuckled. “I’ll just speak casually.”

She just had to thank the people she should thank.

Of course, she had not won the award yet. Everything was just empty talk.

The venue of the awards ceremony was dazzling and noisy.

On the red carpet, almost all the big shots in the industry had arrived. Everyone walked on the red carpet, causing a series of screams. They accepted some interviews from the media, took pictures, and then entered the venue of the ceremony.

Su Cha walked the red carpet alone. She lifted her dress and walked naturally.

As soon as she appeared, there was a shocking scream. Her fans gathered in one place and called her name excitedly.

She usually walked very quickly on the red carpet. At this time, she deliberately walked over and reached out to clap hands with a few fans. The fans who were high-fived by her almost fainted from happiness.

Due to time constraints, she could not high-five them one by one. After greeting the fans with a smile, she walked straight in.

There were many familiar faces in the venue. Almost all the celebrities Su Cha had worked with had arrived.

Shao Tianwen, Mu Jiao, Mu Jiandong... etc.

Although some of them were not nominated, they were invited to participate in this ceremony. When they saw Su Cha, everyone greeted her warmly, and Su Cha's seat was next to Mu Jiao.

According to her popularity, she was qualified to sit in the first row.

The first row was filled with top celebrities in the entertainment industry.

After everyone had arrived, the live broadcast started and the award ceremony officially began.

As a film and television celebrity, Su Cha even went on stage to sing a song. It was a relaxed and cheerful song that set off a small climax. Even some celebrities who heard her for the first time could not help but marvel at how perfect she was.

There were almost no flaws.

After the performance, the awards were announced.

After the heavyweight awards were given out, it was finally time for the announcement of the Best Female Lead and Best Male Lead.

The female lead was the first to be announced. When the scene of Su Cha and the other female celebrities being nominated appeared on the big screen, Mu Jiao grabbed Su Cha's wrist nervously. "You have to win an award. I made a bet with the others. I bet on you!"

Su Cha: "..."

In front of the television, a man with deep eyes was carrying an infant. He grabbed his little hand and pointed at Su Cha, who flashed past the camera. "Look, it's Mom."

It was unknown if Pea understood, but he suddenly widened his eyes and let out a sound similar to "MUA."

Bo Muyi raised his eyebrows. "Smart. I'll tell Mom later that called for her."

Pea started to laugh foolishly.

At the same time, on the television, a famous Best Actor announced with a smile, "Best Actress, Su Cha!"

Everyone screamed!