

The Queen 141

Chapter 141: You Have A Boyfriend!

Su Cha immediately found Bo Mui's words strange. Her father might be bad to her, but as her boyfriend, how could Bo Mui ask her to discard her father?

Su Cha looked at Bo Mui and smiled weakly, "How can I discard my own father?"

A dark shadow flashed in Bo Mui's eyes. It looked like he tried to explain something. At last, he just said "Oh."

He had as if declining to comment.

Su Cha thought that he might want to express his feelings by pouting his lips, and found it amusing, "Mui, it's not a big deal. Even if he treats me badly these days, he is still the one who has given me my life and raised me up. I can't just discard him. After the exam, I have to return home. I will tell you if I am leaving for the Imperial Capital. Have you finished your work here?"

Bo Mui nodded, "Almost finished."

He knew that Su Cha had a competition on the 15th, so he did not plan to urge her. He whispered, "But can you move to my house today?"

His voice was low and pitiful.

Su Cha thought for a few seconds and finally nodded, "Alright. But I'll have to pack first at home."

"Great!"

Bo Mui was delighted by Su Cha's agreement. He rubbed Su Cha's neck, held her in his arms and left.

It was almost dark after dinner. Bo Mui asked the driver to send Su Cha back to pack up her necessities.

He had to return to the company first to take care of work. Su Cha would go to his home after packing.

After the exam, Su Cha felt quite relieved. She sorted out the things that she was going to take. While she was packing, she got a call from Le Anqi.

“Su Cha, will you join us since we’ve done the exam?”

It was noisy over her side, which was probably a place with loud music.

“No, Anqi. I can go out in the morning, but not tonight. It’s not convenient.”

She only had time to practice martial arts in the evenings.

“What? How can you be so rigid?”

Le Anqi complained, “It’s extremely normal for young people to go out. Besides, we’ve finished the exam and should relax. I’m singing at a KTV. Are you sure that you won’t come? There are many handsome guys~”

Su Cha was amused at Le Anqi’s smirk, “Anqi, you should think about our situations. We are about to attend the competition. If we got photoed, it would become dirt on us. You have to be careful with it. I will not go to such places. I have a boyfriend and he is quite strict.”

Le Anqi raised her voice immediately, “You have a boyfriend? Why did I never hear about it?”

Le Anqi’s eyes popped. From her point of view, Su Cha was never the kind of girl who would want to have a boyfriend, especially during the crucial stage of the national college entrance exam.

Hard-working was the only right thing to do. It had never occurred to Le Anqi that Su Cha had a boyfriend!

Chapter 142: Keeping It As A Secret

“Yes. It has been a long time.”

Su Cha did not explain and just admitted vaguely, “Alright, I’m still packing. I’m ready to move to the Imperial Capital. When are you gonna leave?”

“It depends on the competition. And you?”

“Same here.”

Su Cha thought that she would definitely move to the Imperial Capital together with Bo Mui, so she did not invite Le Anqi to travel with her.

Le Anqi did not mind it since they could not decide anything before the competition. She just had a short chat with Su Cha before she hung up.

After Su Cha finished packing, she went downstairs and saw an unfamiliar driver coming to pick her up.

She paid little attention to the drivers and just asked in wonder, “Does Mui change his drivers so frequently?”

Each driver only showed up once or twice, except for Bai Kun who had come more often.

This driver looked more ordinary and silent. He did not plan to speak with Su Cha and just glanced at her, “Young Master has many drivers.”

What he had revealed was that Bo Mui the rich guy was even extravagant with drivers.

Su Cha nodded as she thought. She could tell that those drivers were also bodyguards of Bo Mui.

They looked different but shared a cruel demeanor in common, which terrified people.

She stopped asking and looked out of the window.

She was planning about moving. She could not move her sewing machine today, so she would have to come back tomorrow.

After the driver sent Su Cha to Bo Mui's house, he told her respectfully, "Miss Su, if you feel hungry, you can use the house phone to call the maid. Her number is on the telephone. You can call her at any time to order food."

Su Cha nodded in response. Then she carried her things and went upstairs.

She had not observed the environment last time. Now she found that Bo Mui had an extremely large home.

She went to the bedroom on the second floor. It looked the same as the last time. There was a faint smell of the man, which Su Cha felt familiar and also overbearing.

She sorted the closet and put her clothes in. Bo Mui's stuff was organized well and took up most of the space. After she moved them, the closet appeared to be packed with clothes. She hoped Bo Mui would not be upset.

She took the shower first, in case she would feel embarrassed if Bo Mui came back.

Then she started to embroider. She had thought it over. If she wanted to pay the tuition by herself and take part in the contest, she had no time to part-work and part-study. Now she had to do embroideries as much as she could.

Afterwards, she would focus on exercise.

She felt her meridians had become stronger recently. It was possible for her to lift over 100 pounds.

But it was inconvenient to live with Bo Mui since she had to avoid him for some time.

Su Cha found herself filled with puzzles and would take her time to solve all of them. She could not afford to tell Bo Mui now, in case he would start imagining wildly.

She was exercising in bed and suddenly heard someone opening the door with a key. She was alerted and hid in the quilt at once.

Chapter 143: Love Corrupts People

The minute Bo Mui walked in, he saw a lump of quilt on his bed.

“Cha cha, are you asleep?”

He walked to the bed and sat down. She looked petite, curling herself up. Bo Mui was about to reach out his hands when the girl suddenly came out of the quilt and smiled at him.

Bo Mui beamed with pleasure and gave a deep and low laugh as his chest vibrated slightly. He touched Su Cha’s cheek, “No? Naughty girl.”

Su Cha sat up a little and cuddled him, “Not yet. I’ve been waiting for you.”

She had become very intimate with him lately, so Su Cha felt attached to Bo Mui and always wanted to cuddle him.

Bo Mui felt extremely happy and satisfied. He could not express his feelings.

Waiting for you.

His Cha cha said that she had been waiting for him. What a nice girl!

He curled up his lips and held Su Cha in arms, then he kissed her forehead, “Cha cha, my good girl. You can finally have a good rest after the national college entrance exam. You’ve been working too hard.”

“I can’t compare with you.”

The girl nestled in his arms and said leisurely, “You’ve been working harder than me everyday.”

She had just studied diligently, which was simple.

“I can rest now but you have to keep working.”

He was amused by her words and kissed her eyelids again, “Is that right? It seems that you can stay in bed late tomorrow...”

He was indicating and leered at her, “I’ll take a shower first.”

Su Cha watched him getting up and finally came to understand his words. She blushed.

Lustful! Disgusting!

Depraved!

She had a pure heart and few worldly desires in ancient times. Even the prettiest boy could not seduce her. Once she fell in love with someone, she would stop paying attention to others.

She could talk normally with Bo Mui at the beginning, but now she could not.

She huddled under the quilt, listening to the babbling of the water. It continued for over ten minutes and stopped.

Su Cha became a little excited and hot.

She felt ashamed of it.

The door of the bathroom was opened. She felt the dampness and heard his footsteps.

Su Cha dared not to turn over, in case she would see his sexy nude.

“Cha cha...”

But Bo Muiyi called her name and patted her back gently. Su Cha had to turn over. She squeezed her eyes and found Bo Muiyi wearing a robe.

Su Cha was relieved and said, "I..."

Bo Muiyi loosened his belt on the robe.

Su Cha was choked and could hardly say anything.

The man moved slowly and gracefully. His beautiful fingers pulled his clothes slowly and showed his strong body with graceful lines. Before he leaned on Su Cha, she murmured, "How about your work tomorrow...."

"It doesn't matter."

The man leered, "I can get up early."

After a low murmur of voices, Su Cha was taken to the heavenly world by Bo Muiyi.

Chapter 144: The Star Good At Study

When Su Cha woke up, she felt a little exhausted. As if she had been run over by a truck, but not as painful as the last time.

She looked at the clock. It was already 9 o'clock. She had slept for a long time.

She poured herself a glass of water and made a date with Wu He.

After she washed her face and brushed her teeth, she began to choose songs for the competition.

She had to hand in the list to the production crew before the 15th. Every contestant had to prepare at least ten songs for the whole competition held in Yonggu Town, although they might not be able to sing all of them.

Su Cha picked some songs that she felt familiar with and sent them to the production crew.

She left about lunchtime.

She was to meet Wu He at a small cafe. When she arrived, Wu He was already there.

“Come here!” Wu He smiled at Su Cha, “Come and have a seat.”

Su Cha sat down and greeted her, “Sister Wu He.”

Wu He observed Su Cha, finding her totally changed.

The girl’s soft and long hair are placed behind her back. She wears a denim jumpsuit, which fits her well, and looks thinner and taller in it.

Her stiletto sandals are girlish, adding a sense of innocence and loveliness to her.

She appears to be innocent, but her looks have become deeper.

And in the depth of her looks, there is purity.

Wu He found it contradictory.

She seems to have experienced a lot but still remembered her original intention.

“Sister Wu He?”

The girl’s faint smile woke Wu He up. Wu He curled up her lips and smiled, “I haven’t seen you in a while and you’ve become quieter and steadier. It’s good. You’ve finished the national college entrance exam. Which university will you choose? And if you go to university, will it conflict with your competition?”

Dreams in Progress would not end in a summer break.

Su Cha pressed her lips and smiled, “I’ve set a target. I will choose the Department of Acting at the Imperial Capital University.”

“Puff...”

Wu He almost choked herself. She could not believe her ears, “You will go to the Imperial Capital University?”

Then she realized that she might hurt Su Cha’s feelings in this way, and explained, “I’m not suggesting...I just didn’t see it coming. Are you sure of it?”

She cared for Su Cha’s self-respect.

Wu He knew Su Cha’s grades since she had told her before.

It was basically her imagination to be admitted by the Imperial Capital University.

Wu He had said tactfully.

Su Cha did not mind it. She shook her legs leisurely under the table, “Sister Wu He, don’t worry. I have worked hard and got a 600 in the pre-test at school. It is possible for me to be admitted by the Imperial Capital University.”

She did not say affirmatively, in case she scared Wu He.

Wu He was surprised, “Did you pass 600 last time?”

Then she became proud, “Isn’t it good that you’ve learned the importance of study? It will benefit you also if you are going to enter the entertainment industry in the future. There are few stars who are good at study.”

Chapter 145: I Regard You As My Little Sister

Wu He knew that Su Cha had been working hard, but she was not certain how much she had devoted to studying.

She felt at ease after hearing her grades.

But she still frowned at Su Cha's choice, "You've planned to choose the Department of Acting at the Imperial Capital University instead of ImperialArts and the rest?"

ImperialArts and the rest were professional acting academies, which were more specialized in acting than the Imperial Capital University.

"Every department at the Imperial Capital University is good."

Su Cha took a sip of her coffee and put it back as she disliked its bitterness, "Please be assured, Sister Wu He. I will move to the Imperial Capital after the competition, but I will come back to visit you when I am free."

"Right. You are moving to the Imperial Capital."

Wu He was a little upset, "Once you became famous, it would be hard for us to meet. By the way, how about your parents? Will you leave for the Imperial Capital right after the competition or will you go back home first? I remember that they don't live here in Yonggu Town."

Wu He did not know much about Su Cha's family, only that it was complicated.

A gloomy look flashed on Su Cha's face when she heard about her parents, "I will go back. Of course I will sort out my family matters before I leave."

"Ok. I'll leave you with it. You are capable of taking care of it now. And, about your relationship..."

Wu He paused. Su Cha smiled, "We are great."

Wu He could tell that she was not joking.

Her smile was genuine. She had also smiled when mentioning her ex, who was a terrible person, but she had looked sorrowful.

Now her smile was full of happiness.

Wu He stopped worrying about her.

Su Cha paused as she saw Wu He's relief and asked, "Sister Wu He, why do you treat me so well?"

Wu He glanced at her and smiled sorrowfully, "I knew you would ask. Maybe you won't believe it. I do regard you as my little sister. Don't you find it funny that I'm way too old to call you a little sister?"

Su Cha shook her head. She could tell that Wu He remembered the sad past when she said "my little sister".

"It's a long story..."

Wu He was upset. While she spoke, she took a cigarette and started to smoke. After she spit out a smoke ring, she sighed, "I had a little sister before. She was born when I was already 15. I thought my mother was selfish at that time to have given birth to a sibling who would compete for my family inheritance. But once I saw her back at home, I changed my view."

"She was so little and innocent. She would smile at me when she saw me. Her eyes were clear like crystal beads. I fell in love with her the minute I saw her. And I wanted to give her the best of the world."

"I was 15. My mother was very old and unhealthy. So basically it was me who took care of my little sister until I graduated from university. She was my life...."
