

The Queen 181

Chapter 181: Rude

Soon a security personnel looked at her with wonder, “Are you Su Cha?”

Su Cha nodded. Then he said, “Oh, the household living in No 301, Entrance 5, Building 2 said you are a guest. You can go in but you have to show your ID card and register.”

A guest?

She did not know whether it was mocking or a reminder.

How pathetic it was to be called a guest in her own father’s home.

But she calmed down quickly and was prepared for it. She nodded and handed her ID card over.

The security personnel was new here. After all, two years had passed by.

He was very young. When he registered, he looked at Su Cha’s picture in her ID card and Su Cha herself who was carrying with her a small suitcase. He was stunned by her delicate and pretty face.

There were plenty of pretty girls coming around the neighborhood. But he had never seen a girl as pretty as Su Cha.

Maybe because she was too beautiful, the strict security personnel let her pass quickly.

She walked straight inside.

She remembered the way. It was a large neighborhood. The landscapes between the buildings were good. And the environment and cleanliness were also good.

Those were the reasons why the housing price here stayed terribly high.

Her father had made the right decision back then, which was rare.

The theft-proof door was locked tight. Su Cha paused for a second and rang the bell.

After a dozen seconds, it opened. Su Cha heard people's laughter and happy voices inside.

There was a woman opening the door. She was not young but still looked good.

She wore an apron and seemed to have been cooking. She was not surprised at all, "You are here. Come inside."

But she also noticed something special as her eyes went up and glanced at Su Cha.

This woman was Su Cha's stepmother, Gu Yanfang.

To be honest, she was good-looking when she was young. And now she looked more graceful because of her age and comfortable life.

She was also a clever woman. Even though she disliked Su Cha, she would never show it to the public. She would only treat her badly when they were alone, waiting to stab her in the back.

In front of her relatives, she would describe Su Cha as a troublesome person although Su Cha was in fact very timid.

She always treated Su Cha politely and indifferently.

Su Cha used to want to get along with her and maybe love her.

But the woman had never wanted Su Cha in her life.

She was successful. And with another push, she would definitely shove Su Cha out of her life.

Su Cha curled up her lips and said nothing. She carried her suitcase and walked inside.

Unconsciously, Gu Yanfang opened the door widely and stepped aside to let Su Cha in.

For a minute, she felt that she was a waitress in a hotel.

And she was disturbed by such a thought.

But soon she calmed down and wondered what had happened to her stepdaughter.

The girl used to call her aunt nicely in the past. But she said nothing today.

Gu Yanfang was unhappy about it.

How rude she is!

Then she closed the door. Pang.

Chapter 182: What Can You Do?

There were many people sitting in the apartment.

It was 130 square meters and had a large living room. It did not seem to be crowded with so many people sitting.

All people fell silent when Su Cha walked in.

It provided a sharp contrast to what Su Cha had heard at the door.

They were all relatives of Gu Yanfang.

Gu Yanfang was born into a nice household. Her parents lived on a shoestring, but her siblings were all skillful. Su Cha used to find this kind of family gathering difficult to bear.

They all lived wealthy lives and raised their children well. Because of Gu Yanfang, they always looked down on Su Cha.

They were true families here. Su Cha could only stay in a corner and watch them laughing and talking. She could never join them.

She had tried to join them.

But now she just wanted to get rid of them as soon as possible.

She used to be nameless. But now her appearance was very stunning.

They knew she was pretty, but they had never found her a stunning presence before.

Su Cha found a chair and sat down. She put the suitcase aside and started to look at her phone.

“You will stay in your brother’s room tonight.”

Gu Yanfang walked to her and tried to push Su Cha’s suitcase, but she was stopped by a slender and white finger. “There’s no need. I will stay at the hotel. I’ve booked a room.”

Gu Yanfang was a little shocked.

She had not expected it.

And Su Cha sounded very cold.

She was emotionless.

But Gu Yanfang did not insist. She pressed her lips and calmed down, “Suit yourself.”

She did not want to look after her stepdaughter at all. It would be useless to try to win her compassion.

A person who disliked Su Cha's tone and said, "Hey! My auntie is speaking to you. How can you be so rude?"

Su Cha looked over. It was a girl in white seersucker dress sitting on the sofa with her bare feet stepping on it. She looked refined and pretty. She was the daughter of Gu Yanfang's sister.

Others also felt disgusted with Su Cha's tone and did not stop the girl.

Gu Yanfang paused and said, "That's ok."

She tried to show her open mind, but she saw Su Cha glanced at the girl with contempt.

It surprised all of them.

The girl was irritated. "What's wrong with you? This is my auntie's home. Why the hell are you here?"

She had crossed the line since the apartment belonged to Su Cha's father.

Gu Yanfang frowned and scolded her gently, "Little You!"

She was not very serious and just wanted to stop her.

Another woman in fine clothes pressed Little You. She was Gu Yanfang's sister.

Su Cha would have let her get away and take all the blame and irony in the past. She would have also accepted that she did not deserve to be here.

But Su Cha sat up, crossing her arms in front of her chest. "This is your auntie's home. But Su Mingzhe is my father. He has bought the apartment with his own public reserve fund and salary. I'm the legitimate daughter of his. Why can't I stay here? Besides, what's wrong with my tone? And what can you do?"

Chapter 183: A Familiar Stranger

It became extremely awkward in the apartment after Su Cha spoke.

Tang You was dumbfounded.

They all looked at Su Cha with great shock as they found it hard to believe that she could say things like this.

"You are ...."

Tang You flushed with anger. But before she could speak, her mother, Gu Yanyun stopped her, "Tang You, don't argue with impolite people!"

While she spoke, she frowned at Su Cha with displeasure.

Tang You listened to her mother and said no more, although she was still angry.

Gu Yanfang also glanced at Su Cha coldly.

But Su Cha suddenly stood up after looking at the time on her phone, "Now that you guys have said everything. Who was the one that has started it? How dare you blame me? You should be ashamed! I don't need to be polite with any of you since I have nothing to do with you at all."

Then she grinned and showed her eight white teeth which were good enough for a toothpaste ad, "Am I right, Aunt?"

She spoke highly and coldly.

She used to be the intimidating Princess Royal before she became the Empress Dowager.

She was born in the palace, where everyone treated her with humble reverence. Long living in such an environment had added to her haughtiness, which could unintentionally display at any time.

Her grin at Gu Yanfang scared her.

Gu Yanfang was startled and enraged after she recovered.

She trembled and looked at Su Cha as if she had committed a crime beyond forgiveness, “What has happened to you? Your father has raised you up through hardships. How could you treat him like this? Those are your aunts and uncles here...”

“Aren’t you clear whether my father has raised me up through hardship or not, aunt?”

Su Cha’s pretty eyes showed her determination, “I’m here to end it today.”

The door was opened after she spoke. Su Mingzhe walked in and was welcomed by the silence.

“What’s wrong?”

Su Mingzhe felt fishy instinctively and found Su Cha standing in the living room.

Su Cha had become so stunning that he could not miss her.

He even felt at a loss at the sight of her.

The humble and timid girl in his memory had become so stunning.

Su Cha saw Su Mingzhe as well. Compared with the man in her memory, he looked older.

He was plain but felt like a leader. He was a kind person. But Su Cha noticed that he found her unfamiliar when he saw her.

She felt at a loss.

Why did she not feel attached to him?

He just felt like a familiar stranger who had lived with her for years.

But the thought passed by quickly and Su Cha did not want to overthink. Gu Yanyan stood up and scolded, “Mingzhe, we treat you as a family, but look at your daughter! She sees us as enemies and has called us ashamed!”

Chapter 184: If You Go To The Imperial Capital, I Will Be Done With You Forever!

She seemed to be very angry. Su Cha looked at her.

Her daughter Tang You cried, “Uncle, Su Cha bullied me!”

Su Mingzhe was not prepared for it. He looked at Su Cha and frowned, “Su Cha, what did you do?”

Su Cha found his tone familiar.

The more she thought about the past, the more Su Cha felt restless. She heard Su Mingzhe’s question and put on a cold look that could almost freeze the air. “Why should you ask me? She’s the villain who complained first. They said I don’t deserve to be here. I just asked them, “Aren’t you the one who has bought the apartment? Am I not your daughter? Can’t I stay here?”

Tang You was agitated and moaned as if she had been wronged, “I didn’t mean it.”

Su Mingzhe could not blame her as the girl appeared to be full of grievance. He saw his wife and other relatives remain cold and angry, and said, “Su Cha, Tang You is younger than you. She is a child. You don’t have to mind her words....”

Su Cha took her suitcase abruptly and said more coldly, “I showed respect to you because you are my father. But if you want to protect others over me, I don’t know how to speak with you again. I’m here just to notify you that I’ve accepted the offer of the Imperial Capital University and I’ll move there by the end of this month.”

“What!?”

Su Mingzhe was dumbfounded. He didn't mind Su Cha calling them others and just shouted, "You are going to the Imperial Capital? You can't!"

He walked to her and tried to pull her suitcase, "Do you think that you've grown up and can leave me?"

But Su Cha put on a serious look before he could reach it, "Stay there!"

Even the air was frozen by her words. Everyone felt the tension.

Su Mingzhe's heart raced up and looked back at Su Cha. He found her eyes terribly cold.

Gu Yanfang became aware of something and had to speak, "Let's sit down and talk nicely."

Su Cha turned over to glance at her.

Gu Yanfang could not express her feelings about the glance.

It was full of contempt. She seemed to be a nobody in Su Cha's eyes.

She was like an ant that did not deserve her attention.

It made Gu Yanfang furious.

Others were also shocked by Su Cha.

They looked into each other's faces and were bewildered. Even Tang You clutched to her mother's clothes out of fear for Su Cha.

They were happy to see the daughter fighting against her father and did not want to stop them.

Gu Yanyun even pulled Gu Yanfang over and asked her not to intervene.

“If you go to the Imperial Capital, I will be done with you forever!”

Su Mingzhe was too angry to say anything, so he threatened Su Cha.

Su Cha grinned instantly, “That would be great, Dad.”

Su Mingzhe almost suffered a stroke because of her words.

Chapter 185: I Would Let Him Down!

Su Mingzhe trembled, “You must have been corrupted by the people outside. You must...”

Otherwise, how could Su Cha have the balls to make this decision to rebel against him? He was her father!

“Don’t pretend, dad. Who has set a bad example? Don’t you know it?”

Their fake father-daughter relationship had become very ridiculous.

“You’ve left me alone in Yonggu Town before I went to high school and said that transferring to a new school would affect my grades. Surely someone else must have put the word into your ears. But I don’t care. You’ve never shown up for my parents’ meetings these years. You’ve never worried about me, a little girl living alone in a city. Now, my grades in the national college entrance exam have been announced, and you did not know it and had to ask me about it. Seriously, sometimes I question whether I’m your daughter or not.”

Finally she said what she had been thinking.

Nobody said anything. Even though the others all hated Su Cha, they felt awkward to speak at this moment.

But Su Cha found her father terrified by her words. Both his body and lips kept trembling violently, and he could not squeeze out a single word.

His reaction was too strange. All the others thought that he might have been enraged by Su Cha's words. But Su Cha felt that Su Mingzhe must have kept something from her. He could not be simply terrified by her rebellion.

What is he scared for?

Su Cha recalled the words she just said and was dumbfounded by what she realized.

It was extremely quiet in the living room. They could even hear the sound of a needle dropping on the floor.

"I..."

Su Cha was also shocked and said slowly, "I'm not your daughter?"

Even she found it hard to believe.

But this terrible thought just came out of the blue.

She saw Su Mingzhe's face losing color. Gu Yanfang and others were all astonished.

Apparently, they did not know it either.

Gu Yanfang looked at her husband and found his forehead covered by sweat and his palms shaking.

He had become a small leader at his work and was always a stable person. But his current behavior was not calm at all.

Seeing that Su Mingzhe was too nervous and scared to say anything, Su Cha confirmed her thoughts.

She could not tell it from Su Mingzhe's expressions in the past.

But after her second life, she understood human minds better and could tell if the person was lying. Su Mingzhe's reaction was too obvious....

Su Cha was at a loss.

Her heartbeat raced and she was about to scream.

But after a while, she calmed down and felt very sedate.

"I'll stay in the hotel tonight."

She said plainly and pushed her suitcase to leave.

After she passed Su Mingzhe and was about to take the elevator, Su Mingzhe ran to her and shouted in the corridor with his whole face covered with sweat, "You can go anywhere else, but not the Imperial Capital! I would let him down if you do!"

I would let him down!

Su Cha was shocked by this sentence and turned back to Su Mingzhe.
